The Address Has Passed By A Big Margin

A Wide Range of Subjects Touched On In Debate.

PRESENTATION OF ESTIMATES

Mr. R. L. Borden Criticizes Mr. Fisher's Montreal Speech and Also Reviewed Some Political Points Raised During Recess—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Replies Most Effectively, the Premier Being In Good Form.

Ottawa, March 13.—With industry, and an obvious effort to serve faithfully the people who sent them here, the House of Commons yesterday entered seriously on its sessional career. The plan was to inaugurate a debate on the address; but, after the mover and seconder, leaders and other giants in debate had spoken, side issues sprang up, including repentances on the indemnity bill, which kept the House going until nearly 1 o'clock in the morning, when the end was reached, and the way paved for other business by the presentation of estimates.

Mr. Knowles and Mr. Chisholm justified their choice to open the debate, the former making breezy comments on the insurance investigation, which he apparently believed would be fruitful of some revelations.

The Opposition Leader.

Mr. Borden spoke for upwards of an hour, in an unusually deliberate and serious vein, reviewing some of the points raised during recess. He criticized Mr. Fisher for saying recently at Montreal that the farmers of Canada do not want a preference in the British market, saying this was in conflict with the resolution of his colleagues at the colonial conference, and called for his resignation. He also complained of the "ungenerous" treatment of Mr. Haultain in his not being called to the Premiership of Saskatchewan. On the insurance question Mr. Borden partially adopted the argument of Mr. W. F. Maclean, and said the House should have been consulted as to the form of inquiry.

The Premier In Good Form.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reply was characterized by brevity and good humor. His attitude reminded old Parliamentarians of some of the successful traits of Sir John Macdonald's leadership. He denied interference with the choice of the Premier in Saskatchewan, and said anyone who knew Governor Forget would know that would not be tolerated. As to Mr. Fisher's speech, Sir Wilfrid jocularly remarked that the Liberals never were supposed to be cast in one groove of thought on all matters, as were the Opposition, but on matters of policy there was give and take, and ultimate agreement. He discussed the Saskatchewan election frauds, and said the duty of prosecuting offenders lay with the Attorney-General of that Province, and not with the Dominion Government. Later Mr. Lake made general charges against the officials, and Mr. Oliver explicitly declared that on proof being given of the crimes alleged any guilty official would be instantly dismissed. The indemnity question came up spontaneously, and drew promises to vote for modifications from the two leaders and several private members.

A large number of bills were presented and read a first time.

Nine Months' Estimates.

The estimates for the nine months ending March 31, 1907, were brought down last night. They total $67,936,547, including $16,342,015 capital account.

The Banwells Will Have To Stand Trial

Both Banwells Committed By the Toronto Magistrate.

AN INCRIMINATING LETTER

In Letter to Brother, Enclosing $1,000 of the Crown Bank's Money, Banwell Tells Him That "I Have Done What I Have Often Threatened to Do"—Another Says "Another Week Would Be Too Late."

Toronto, March 13.—Edwin St. George Banwell and his wife were yesterday sent for trial to answer to the charge of stealing $41,300 from the Crown Bank. They will probably be tried at the present sitting of the general sessions under Judge Winchester. The grand jury will consider the case this week.

The evidence taken before Magistrate Denison went to show that Mrs. Banwell was in the bank on the morning of Dec. 9, the day on which the money was stolen, and that the large purchase of diamonds was made on the afternoon of that date, and by a young woman, whom the salesmen believe to be Mrs. Banwell, but the identification is not positive. The woman came into the stores unaccompanied, and although she spent several hundred dollars in each store, it only took her about five minutes to make her purchases. She paid for them in Crown Bank bills, which she carried loosely in a black leather satchel, which had been bought that afternoon from the Julian Sale Co.

Detective Black and G. de C. O'Grady, Jr., told of finding the money and jewelry in the Banwells' possession in Kingston, Jamaica. Other witnesses, employes of the bank, described how the shortage in the cash was discovered on the 11th, when Banwell failed to put in an appearance at the bank to take up his work.

Received $1,000 With Letter.

Selwyn, a brother of the prisoner, told of receiving $1,000 and the following letter, which, he said, was in the handwriting of his brother:

"Dear Hugh,—Have done what I have often threatened—left home for keeps. Incidentally I have taken some of the bank's money, so will likely be away for some time.

"Nora is with me, but if anyone says she led me to do it, or any such rot, they are liars. It's my own idea, and I would have done it long ago but for Nora.

"As my contribution to the family are now cut off, I enclose some of my pile, which please use for mamma's benefit. But I think it would be better to tell her nothing about it. In fact, you had better not let on you heard from me at all. And for God's sake don't let there be any nonsense about tainted money, or such rot. You need the money, so may as well take it. But go canny about using it. You will probably be suspected and watched, so keep it well out of sight. I have wrapped them up so no one could see what they are by any chance. Destroy this as soon as you read it. You won't hear of me again for some time, I hope, as we intend to vanish completely.

"Jean."

This money he turned over to the manager of the Home Bank, where he is employed.

Premeditated.

Amongst the papers found on Banwell was a portion of a letter in his own handwriting, written to Miss Hector. It shows he had been contemplating looting the bank. It reads thus:

"You must know that I am as anxious as you are. Please make every effort to come to town on Saturday, as I have a shrewd suspicion that it will be too late if we wait another week. Don't tell Mux that you WILL come—that you are——"

On the back of this was a list of the stolen moneys, and also an account of the money spent for the diamonds. In all, $2,170 was paid for the jewelry, and it only took about half an hour to get rid of that amount of money, according to the clerks who sold the goods.

The courtroom was crowded, many present being women. Banwell, during the hearing of the evidence, sat in the dock. His wife was given a seat in front of the dock. She wore a brown suit and kept her vail down, except when asked to raise it for purpose of identification. H. B. Ardagh represented both prisoners. When the evidence was in Mr. Ardagh argued there was no evidence upon which to send Mrs. Banwell for trial, but the magistrate did not agree with him. Crown Attorney Curry conducted the case for the Crown.

Fatal Wreck Near Sudbury.

Montreal, March 13.—Two passengers, supposed to be immigrants, were killed yesterday afternoon on the Soo branch of the C. P. R., just west of Sudbury, according to information received at the head offices of the company here.

One car left the track and caused three or four others to be turned over. A number of passengers were also injured, two badly.

No names have been received here.

Three Deputies Killed.

Five Killed; 15 Injured.

Warsaw, March 13.—Five persons were killed and 15 injured in a fight at Strykoff, government of Plotrkoff, Sunday, between Catholics and Sectarians, who occupied in force a Catholic church.

Actuary Appointed.

Toronto, March 3.—W. S. Andrews, accountant, has been appointed by the Provincial Government as actuary to act with counsel before the insurance commission at Ottawa.

Wide Powers Are Given By The New Bill

In Railway Bill Brought Down In the Legislature.

HAS THE FINAL DECISION

Municipal Board Created by the New Act—Provisions Are Made For the Entrance of Radials Into Municipalities — Powers to Enforce Agreements — Bill Applies to Steam and Street Railways.

Toronto, March 13.—Three important Government measures were brought down during a brief sitting of the Legislature yesterday afternoon—the new county councils bill, the bill appointing a provincial railway commission, and the bill respecting the control of steam, electric and street railways. Several private members also had amendments to various existing statutes.

Hon. Mr. Foy introduced a bill respecting unorganized territories. Mr. Foy said there was some doubt in Parry Sound regarding the validity of the selection of jurors, and the bill would remove it.

County Councils Act.

Hon. Mr. Monteith explained his new county councils bill. It provides that each municipality shall have a representative in the county council. It is also proposed that the unit of representation shall be 1,000. Under the present system there are 510 councillors; this number will be increased to 515. In towns the number of councillors would be increased.

The new act, if passed, will go into effect in 1907. County councils will be constituted as follows: Every town not separated from the county for municipal purposes, and every township and village, shall be represented by the reeve, and in addition, by deputy reeve, as follows: If over 1,000, and not more than 2,000, persons on the voters' list, one deputy reeve; 2,000 to 3,000 names, two deputy reeves; over 3,000 names, three deputy reeves. The number of councillors to be decreased by the number of deputy reeves elected, but this provision shall not apply to towns or villages. Reeves and deputy reeves to be elected by general vote. In the election of wardens, if there be a tie, the reeve or, in his absence, the deputy reeve of the municipality having the greatest assessment shall have a double vote.

Bills Respecting Railways.

Hon. Mr. Hendrie's railway bill was introduced in the Legislature yesterday.

The Minister also brought down his bill to appoint a railway and municipal board. The latter, he said, was based largely on the Dominion Act appointing a railway commission. The Dominion commissioners hold office for ten years, whereas in Ontario they will hold office during good behaviour and may be removed by the Governor-in-Council. The board will consist of three members, and will have power to enforce agreements between railway companies and municipalities on matters of law and decisions of the board will be submitted to appeal, but on matters of fact its decisions would be final. The board would supercede the railway committee of the Legislature. Until the board was appointed the committee had power to act.

The Railway Act.

The railway bill fixes the rate of fares at not exceeding two cents a mile for distances exceeding three miles. This applies to all railways, street or electric, which are subject to the control of the province.

The clause touching the entrance of radial railways provides that where there is now a street railway in a city or town, and there is no provision for the admission of radial roads, and if either the company or the municipality wants the radials to have an entrance, then the radials shall have the right. The right is to be subject to such terms as may be agreed upon between the two companies and the municipalities. If they cannot agree, the board settles the terms of entrance, subject to the following restrictions:

Municipality Controls Agreement.

There shall not, without the consent of the municipality, be any alteration or variation of any agreement between the municipality and the existing street railway. No franchise shall be given to radials for a longer period than the unexpired term of any existing street railway franchise. At the expiration of that time the municipality and the radials may enter into an agreement for a further term not exceeding 25 years. If they cannot agree the board will make the terms. This provision as to renewal shall not interfere with any agreement or order of the board giving the city the right to take over the roadbed, etc., within the limits of the municipality.

Street railway franchises under this act are limited to 25 years. Municipalities may take them over at the end of that time, on giving six months' notice, on the payment of the actual value, to be determined by the board.

In regard to electric railways which are not street railways, municipalities cannot take any part of them over without the written consent of the board.

When the Board Decides.

As to renewal or franchises, where there is disagreement as to terms, the board is to decide, in every respect, and without appeal.

Electric railways will find some trouble ahead if they shirk their obligations. The bill provides that should they cease to operate their lines for 18 months, they shall forfeit their poles, wires and trade to the municipality and lose their charters. This clause, of course, is subject to local agreement.

Companies are to put on to each motor car fenders, guards and such lifesaving appliances as the board may order.

The use of a power equipment is provided for in several clauses. No new railway can be put into operation without an inspection by the board. The board has full control over all rolling stock and appliances. The board can order steam railways, as distinguished from street railways, to stop at any place it sees fit.

Life-Saving Appliances.

Electric cars must be fitted with such fenders or guards, brakes or other lifesaving appliances as the board may order. If the board so orders, companies must allow tests to be made of these appliances.

Account is taken of the importance to the public of securing qualified employes. There must be an examination as to physical fitness and a test re. color-blindness. For their comfort, it is provided that a 18-hour stretch of rest must be given after 24 hours' continuous service, and that proper lavatories and conveniences be granted. They also receive protection in a clause which makes it unlawful for a company to contract itself out of liability for death or injury of an employe.

The Sunday clauses are unchanged. This means that companies not now having the privilege of running cars on Sunday will not be granted it.

Consolidation of Laws.

The title of the measure is "the Ontario Railway Act of 1906," and is a consolidation of all existing Ontario statutes relating to steam, electric and street railways. A street railway is defined as a railway whose tracks are wholly within the boundaries of a city or town and are not continued more than one an a half miles outside such boundaries. Everything else, whether on highway or private right of way, and no matter what the motive power, is known as a railway.

The bill applies to every railway and street railway under provincial jurisdiction now incorporated or to be incorporated and whether now or to be operating.

No section of the bills alters in any way agreements entered into before the passing of the act between a municipality and a railway or street railway operating on a highway.

If in any future act of incorporation it is sought to vary this act it must be plainly set forth in the act of incorporation.

Increase in Capital.

A railway company may hold meetings anywhere in the province, except general annual meetings, which must be held at the head offices. A clause not in the old general act makes provision for preference stocks. The company can also increase their capital stock with the consent of the new railway and municipal board to be appointed by the Government. At present this requires a special act.

All companies operating on their own right of way, no matter what their motive power, have the same powers and subject to the same restrictions. They have practically the same powers and must conform to practically the same regulations as steam railways before this act was passed. They must provide fences, cattle guard, farm gates and crossing warnings at highway crossings. They will have the same powers as to interchange of traffic, running rights with other lines and expropriation of lands as steam railways now have.

Powers of Board.

Power to deal with the railways in the province equal to that enjoyed by the railway committee of the Dominion Government and the Dominion railway commission is by the act vested in the Ontario Railway Board, which is made entirely independent of outside interference. Appeal from a decision of the board is only allowable in a question of jurisdiction or law, when it may go to the Court of Appeal.

The board has power to receive appeals from municipalities and, under existing statutes, to confirm financial bylaws, bylaws regarding public utilities, etc. They can also order telegraph, telephone, electric and power or any company using electricity by wires to protect life by proper appliances.

Annual Reports.

Every railway must report to the board, which must report annually to the Government.

The board is also to act as an arbitration board in case of strikes. If a strike occurs before the board is warned, it must attempt to mediate the differences.

Should a dispute occur between a municipality and a street railway, the board, not the courts, is to give judgment. Should a railway or street railway fail to carry out its agreement, the board will have power to take over the control until properly managed, the company to bear the cost.

Bills Read a First Time.

Mr. Downey—Bill to amend the Pharmacy Act.

Mr. Gamey—Bill respecting company incorporation.

Mr. Cameron—Bill respecting joint stock companies.

Hon. Mr. Graham moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Assessment Act. It raises the $400 exemption to $700. The bill was sent to the assessment committee.

DATE OF COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

Winston Churchill Says That It Is Unsettled.

London, March 13.—(C.A.P.)—In the House of Commons yesterday, in answer to the question of C. P. Trevelyan, Winston Churchill said no date had been fixed for the next colonial conference. The colonial Premiers had been asked if next March would be a suitable date. He had seen the report of Premier Laurier's speech in Toronto, that Canada was content to attend to her own affairs, and had no desire to interfere in Great Britain's controversy over fiscal matters. "Colonial statesmen," said Mr. Churchill, "had maintained a correct attitude in this matter."

Lives With Broken Neck.

Winnipeg, March 13.—John Martin of McGregor, Man., fell off a load of hay last week and broke his neck. He is still alive at the General Hospital, in a very precarious condition, his entire body being paralyzed.

Bad Fire In Wolseley.

Wolseley, N. W. T., March 13.—A disastrous fire visited Wolseley Sunday morning, doing damage to the extent of about $40,000.

The Address Has Passed By A Big Margin

A Wide Range of Subjects Touched On In Debate.

Mr. R. L. Borden Criticizes Mr. Fisher's Montreal Speech and Also Reviewed Some Political Points Raised During Recess—Sir Wilfrid Laurier Replies Most Effectively, the Premier Being In Good Form.

Ottawa, March 13.—With industry, and an obvious effort to serve faithfully the people who sent them here, the House of Commons yesterday entered seriously on its sessional career. The plan was to inaugurate and conclude the debate on the address; but, after the mover and seconder, leaders and other giants in debate had spoken, side issues sprang up, including repentances on the indemnity bill, which kept the House going until nearly 1 o'clock in the morning, when the end was reached, and the way paved for other business by the presentation of estimates.

Mr. Knowles and Mr. Chisholm justified their choice to open the debate, the former making breezy comments on the insurance investigation, which he apparently believed would be fruitful of some revelations.

The Opposition Leader.

Mr. Borden spoke for upwards of an hour, in an unusually deliberate and serious vein, reviewing some of the points raised during recess. He criticized Mr. Fisher for saying recently at Montreal that the farmers of Canada do not want a preference in the British market, saying this was in conflict with the resolution of his colleagues at the colonial conference, and called for his resignation. He also complained of the "ungenerous" treatment of Mr. Haultain in his not being called to the Premiership of Saskatchewan. On the insurance question Mr. Borden partially adopted the argument of Mr. W. F. Maclean, and said the House should have been consulted as to the form of inquiry.

The Premier in Good Form.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reply was characterised by brevity and good humor. His attitude reminded old Parliamentarians of some of the successful traits of Sir John Macdonald's leadership. He denied interference with the choice of the Premier in Saskatchewan, and said anyone who knew Governor Forget would know that would not be tolerated. As to Mr. Fisher's speech, Sir Wilfrid jocularly remarked that the Liberals never were supposed to be cast in one groove of thought on all matters, as were the Opposition, but on matters of policy there was give and take, and ultimate agreement. He discussed the Saskatchewan election frauds, and said the duty of prosecuting offenders lay with the Attorney-General of that Province, and not with the Dominion Government. Later Mr. Lake made general charges against the officials, and Mr. Oliver explicitly declared that on proof being given of the crimes alleged any guilty official would be instantly dismissed. The indemnity question came up spontaneously, and drew promises to vote for modifications from the two leaders and several private members.

A large number of bills were presented and read a first time.

Nine Months' Estimates.

The estimates for the nine months ending March 31, 1907, were brought down last night. They total $67,936,547, including $16,342,015 capital account.

The Banwells Will Have To Stand Trial

Both Banwells Committed By the Toronto Magistrate.

AN INCRIMINATING LETTER

In Letter to Brother, Enclosing $1,000 of the Crown Bank's Money, Banwell Tells Him That "I Have Done What I Have Often Threatened to Do"—Another Says "Another Week Would Be Too Late."

Toronto, March 13.—Edwin St. George Banwell and his wife were yesterday sent for trial to answer to the charge of stealing $41,300 from the Crown Bank. They will probably be tried at the present sitting of the general sessions under Judge Winchester. The grand jury will consider the case this week.

The evidence taken before Magistrate Denison went to show that Mrs. Banwell was in the bank on the morning of Dec. 9, the day on which the money was stolen, and that the large purchase of diamonds was made on the afternoon of that date, and by a young woman, whom the salesmen believe to be Mrs. Banwell, but the identification is not positive. The woman came into the stores unaccompanied, and although she spent several hundred dollars in each store, it only took her about five minutes to make her purchases. She paid for them in Crown Bank bills, which she carried loosely in a black leather satchel, which had been bought that afternoon from the Julian Sale Co.

Detective Black and G. de C. O'Grady, Jr., told of finding the money and jewelry in the Banwells' possession in Kingston, Jamaica. Other witnesses, employes of the bank, described how the shortage in the cash was discovered on the 11th, when Banwell failed to put in an appearance at the bank to take up his work.

Received $1,000 With Letter.

Selwyn, a brother of the prisoner, told of receiving $1,000 and the following letter, which, he said, was in the handwriting of his brother:

"Dear Hugh,—Have done what I have often threatened—left home for keeps. Incidentally I have taken some of the bank's money, so will likely be away for some time.

"Nora is with me, but if anyone says she led me to do it, or any such rot, they are liars. It's my own idea, and I would have done it long ago but for Nora.

"As my contribution to the family are now cut off, I enclose some of my pile, which please use for mamma's benefit. But I think it would be better to tell her nothing about it. In fact, you had better not let on you heard from me at all. And for God's sake don't let there be any nonsense about tainted money, or such rot. You need the money, so may as well take it. But go canny about using it. You will probably be suspected and watched, so keep it well out of sight. I have wrapped them up so no one could see what they are by any chance. Destroy this as soon as you read it. You won't hear of me again for some time, I hope, as we intend to vanish completely.

"Jean."

This money he turned over to the manager of the Home Bank, where he is employed.

Premeditated.

Amongst the papers found on Banwell was a portion of a letter in his own handwriting, written to Miss Hector. It shows he had been contemplating looting the bank. It reads thus:

"You must know that I am as anxious as you are. Please make every effort to come to town on Saturday, as I have a shrewd suspicion that it will be too late if we wait another week. Don't tell Muz that you WILL come—that you are——"

On the back of this was a list of the stolen moneys, and also an account of the money spent for the diamonds. In all, $2,170 was paid for the jewelry, and it only took about half an hour to get rid of that amount of money, according to the clerks who sold the goods.

The courtroom was crowded, many present being women. Banwell, during the hearing of the evidence, sat in the dock. His wife was given a seat in front of the dock. She wore a brown suit and kept her vail down, except when asked to raise it for purpose of identification. H. B. Ardagh represented both prisoners. When the evidence was in Mr. Ardagh argued there was no evidence upon which to send Mrs. Banwell for trial, but the magistrate did not agree with him. Crown Attorney Curry conducted the case for the Crown.

Fatal Wreck Near Sudbury.

Montreal, March 13.—Two passengers, supposed to be immigrants, were killed yesterday afternoon on the Soo branch of the C. P. R., just west of Sudbury, according to information received at the head offices of the company here.

One car left the track and caused three or four others to be turned over. A number of passengers were also injured, two badly.

No names have been received here.

Three Deputies Killed.

Kansas City, Mo., March 13.—In a pitched battle near Vinita, Indian territory, with a gang of Indian outlaws, three United States deputy marshals were killed Sunday night.

Five Killed; 15 Injured.

Warsaw, March 13.—Five persons were killed and 15 injured in a fight at Strykoff, government of Piotrkoff, Sunday, between Catholics and Sectarians, who occupied in force a Catholic church.

Actuary Appointed.

Toronto, March 3.—W. S. Andrews, accountant, has been appointed by the Provincial Government as actuary to act with counsel before the insurance commission at Ottawa.

Wide Powers Are Given By The New Bill

In Railway Bill Brought Down In the Legislature.

HAS THE FINAL DECISION

Municipal Board Created by the New Act—Provisions Are Made For the Entrance of Radials Into Municipalities — Powers to Enforce Agreements — Bill Applies to Steam and Street Railways.

Toronto, March 13.—Three important Government measures were brought down during a brief sitting of the Legislature yesterday afternoon—the new county councils bill, the bill appointing a provincial railway commission, and the bill respecting the control of steam, electric and street railways. Several private members also had amendments to various existing statutes.

Hon. Mr. Foy introduced a bill respecting unorganized territories. Mr. Foy said there was some doubt in Parry Sound regarding the validity of the selection of jurors, and the bill would remove it.

County Councils Act.

Hon. Mr. Monteith explained his new county councils bill. It provides that each municipality shall have a representative in the county council. It is also proposed that the unit of representation shall be 1,000. Under the present system there are 510 councillors; this number will be increased to 815. In towns the number of councillors would be increased.

The new act, if passed, will go into effect in 1907. County councils will be constituted as follows: Every town not separated from the county for municipal purposes, and every township and village, shall be represented by the reeve, and in addition, by deputy reeve, as follows: If over 1,000, and not more than 2,000, persons on the voters' list, one deputy reeve; 2,000 to 3,000 names, two deputy reeves; over 3,000 names, three deputy reeves. The number of councillors to be decreased by the number of deputy reeves elected, but this provision shall not apply to towns or villages. Reeves and deputy reeves to be elected by general vote. In the election of warden, if there be a tie, the reeve or, in his absence, the deputy reeve of the municipality having the greatest assessment shall have a double vote.

Bills Respecting Railways.

Hon. Mr. Hendrie's railway bill was introduced in the Legislature yesterday.

The Minister also brought down his bill to appoint a railway and municipal board. The latter, he said, was based largely on the Dominion Act appointing a railway commission. The Dominion commissioners hold office for ten years, whereas in Ontario they will hold office during good behaviour and may be removed by the Governor-in-Council. The board will consist of three members, and will have power to enforce agreements between railway companies and municipalities on matters of law and decisions of the board will be submitted to appeal, but on matters of fact its decisions would be final. The board would supercede the railway committee of the Legislature. Until the board was appointed the committee had power to act.

The Railway Act.

The railway bill fixes the rate of fares at not exceeding two cents a mile for distances exceeding three miles. This applies to all railways, street or electric, which are subject to the control of the province.

The clause touching the entrance of radial railways provides that where there is now a street railway in a city or town, and there is no provision for the admission of radial roads, and if either the company or the municipality wants the radials to have an entrance, then the radials shall have the right. The right is to be subject to such terms as may be agreed upon between the two companies and the municipalities. If they cannot agree, the board settles the terms of entrance, subject to the following restrictions:

Municipality Controls Agreement.

There shall not, without the consent of the municipality, be any alteration or variation of any agreement between the municipality and the existing street railway. No franchise shall be given to radials for a longer period than the unexpired term of any existing street railway franchise. At the expiration of that time the municipality and the radials may enter into an agreement for a further term not exceeding 25 years. If they cannot agree the board will make the terms. This provision as to renewal shall not interfere with any agreement or order of the board giving the city the right to take over the roadbed, etc., within the limits of the municipality.

Street railway franchises under this act are limited to 25 years. Municipalities may take them over at the end of that time, on giving six months' notice, on the payment of the actual value, to be determined by the board.

In regard to electric railways which are not street railways, municipalities cannot take any part of them over without the written consent of the board.

When the Board Decides.

As to renewal or franchises, where there is disagreement as to terms, the board is to decide, in every respect, and without appeal.

Electric railways will find some trouble ahead if they shirk their obligations. The bill provides that should they cease to operate their lines for 12 months, they shall forfeit their poles, wires and trade to the municipality and lose their charters. This clause, of course, is subject to local agreement.

Companies are to put on to each motor car fenders, guards and such life-saving appliances as the board may order.

The use of a power equipment is provided for in several clauses. No new railway can be put into operation without an inspection by the board. The board has full control over all rolling stock and appliances. The board can order steam railways, as distinguished from street railways, to stop at any place it sees fit.

Life-Saving Appliances.

Electric cars must be fitted with such fenders or guards, brakes or other life-saving appliances as the board may order. If the board so orders, companies must allow tests to be made of these appliances.

Account is taken of the importance to the public of securing qualified employes. There must be an examination as to physical fitness and a test re. color-blindness. For their comfort, it is provided that a 12-hour stretch of rest must be given after 24 hours' continuous service, and that proper lavatories and conveniences be granted. They also receive protection in a clause which makes it unlawful for a company to contract itself out of liability for death or injury of an employe.

The Sunday clauses are unchanged. This means that companies not now having the privilege of running cars on Sunday will not be granted it.

Consolidation of Laws.

The title of the measure is "the Ontario Railway Act of 1906," and is a consolidation of all existing Ontario statutes relating to steam, electric and street railways. A street railway is defined as a railway whose tracks are wholly within the boundaries of a city or town and are not continued more than one an a half miles outside such boundaries. Everything else, whether on highway or private right of way, and no matter what the motive power, is known as a railway.

The bill applies to every railway and street railway under provincial jurisdiction now incorporated or to be incorporated and whether now or to be operating.

No section of the bills alters in any way agreements entered into before the passing of the act between a municipality and a railway or street railway operating on a highway.

If in any future act of incorporation it is sought to vary this act it must be plainly set forth in the act of incorporation.

Increase in Capital.

A railway company may hold meetings anywhere in the province, except general annual meetings, which must be held at the head offices. A clause not in the old general act makes provision for preference stocks. The company can also increase their capital stock with the consent of the new railway and municipal board to be appointed by the Government. At present this requires a special act.

All companies operating on their own right of way, no matter what their motive power, have the same powers and subject to the same restrictions. They have practically the same powers and must conform to practically the same regulations as steam railways before this act was passed. They must provide fences, cattle guard, farm gates and crossing warnings at highway crossings. They will have the same powers as to interchange of traffic, running rights with other lines and expropriation of lands as steam railways now have.

Powers of Board.

Power to deal with the railways in the province equal to that enjoyed by the railway committee of the Dominion Government and the Dominion railway commission is by the act vested in the Ontario Railway Board, which is made entirely independent of outside interference. Appeal from a decision of the board is only allowable in a question of jurisdiction or law, when it may go to the Court of Appeal.

The board has power to receive appeals from municipalities and, under existing statutes, to confirm financial bylaws, bylaws regarding public utilities, etc. They can also order telegraph, telephone, electric and power or any company using electricity by wires to protect life by proper appliances.

Annual Reports.

Every railway must report to the board, which must report annually to the Government.

The board is also to act as an arbitration board in case of strikes. If a strike occurs before the board is warned, it must attempt to mediate the differences.

Should a dispute occur between a municipality and a street railway, the board, not the courts, is to give judgment. Should a railway or street railway fail to carry out its agreement, the board will have power to take over the control until properly managed, the company to bear the cost.

Bills Read a First Time.

Mr. Downey—Bill to amend the Pharmacy Act.

Mr. Gamey—Bill respecting company incorporation.

Mr. Cameron—Bill respecting joint stock companies.

Hon. Mr. Graham moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Assessment Act. It raises the $400 exemption to $700. The bill was sent to the assessment committee.

DATE OF COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

Winston Churchill Says That It Is Unsettled.

London, March 13.—(C.A.P.)—In the House of Commons yesterday, in answer to the question of C. P. Trevelyan, Winston Churchill said no date had been fixed for the next colonial conference. The colonial Premiers had been asked if next March would be a suitable date. He had seen the report of Premier Laurier's speech in Toronto, that Canada was content to attend to her own affairs, and had no desire to interfere in Great Britain's controversy over fiscal matters. "Colonial statesmen," said Mr. Churchill, "had maintained a correct attitude in this matter."

Lives With Broken Neck.

Winnipeg, March 13.—John Martin of McGregor, Man., fell off a load of hay last week and broke his neck. He is still alive at the General Hospital, in a very precarious condition, his entire body being paralyzed.

Bad Fire In Wolseley.

Wolseley, N. W. T., March 13.—A disastrous fire visited Wolseley Sunday morning, doing damage to the extent of about $40,000.

$50.00 PROFIT

ONLY $25.00 INVESTED

Do you want to make $50 profit by investing only $25 in a lot in beautiful Summit Park, Port Arthur, the great lake port town of N. W. Ontario.

Port Arthur is the County Seat of all Thunder Bay District, and is the lake terminal town of the three great transcontinental railroads, which empty their immense quantities of Western freight on ships bound for the East and Europe.

Port Arthur is the only real municipal ownership town in America, and made last year over $28,000 net profit out of its Street Railway, Electric Light and Power, and Telephone Franchises.

Port Arthur has the largest grain elevator in the world.

Port Arthur doubled its population in the last 2 years and we believe it will double again in the next 3 years.

Port Arthur is the gateway between the East and the extensive West, and can have no competitor.

Summit Park is a high, level plateau, furnishing a beautiful view of Thunder Bay, and lots purchased in this park at present prices will bring big profits before many months.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

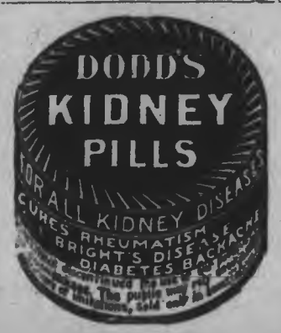
(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior



COMMANDED BY CANADIAN.

Capt. Charles Kingsmill Appointed to the Battleship Dominion.

Toronto, March 13.—Capt. Charles E. Kingsmill, son of the late Judge Kingsmill, and a nephew of Nicol Kingsmill, K. C., has been appointed to the command of His Majesty's battleship Dominion.

A cablegram to this effect was received by Mrs. Kingsmill on Saturday afternoon.

The Dominion, which was launched last summer is one of the largest battleships afloat, and has been in command of Capt. Marks up to the present time. It belongs to the Atlantic fleet, and will be remembered as having conveyed the remains of Hon. Raymond Prefontaine from France.

Capt. Kingsmill has been connected with the royal navy since he was 13 years of age.

Two Cents a Mile Promised.

Boston, March 12.—President Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, at the monthly meeting of the directors here Saturday made the statement that it is his purpose to reduce the passenger tariff to the maximum rate of two cents a mile upon all the company's lines, and that the new tariff be in effect by next October. Mr. Mellen says that the directors have already authorized the reduction on certain lines in Connecticut.

Good Seal Season.

Quebec, March 12.—A despatch from Etang du Nord, Gaspe County, says: Reports received Saturday from various points indicated that 9,000 seals were taken at different points on the Magdalen Islands that day. This is considered a most auspicious opening of seal fishing, and hunters predict the season will show a large catch.

Macassa Makes Toronto.

Toronto, March 12.—Saturday at 1.15 p. m. the Macassa sailed into Toronto, just four hours after leaving Hamilton. Friday she ground through a channel in Burlington Bay and also through several inches of ice from Queen's Wharf here to the Yonge street slip on Saturday. Capt. Cooney get a silk hat for being the first one in.

Million Dollars For Relief.

Rome, March 12.—Premier Sonnino Saturday introduced a bill in the Chamber of Deputies for an appropriation of $1,200,000 for the sufferers from the earthquakes in Calabria, thus completing measures looking to regeneration in the south which are without precedent since the kingdom of the two Sicilies joined united Italy.

London "Subway" Opens.

London, March 12.—The Danter street-Waterloo "Tube," one of the late Charles T. Yerkes' group of railroads, was opened to public traffic Saturday. The new artery, the length of which is 5 1-4 miles, runs north and south. The construction of the road was commenced in 1898.

900 Killed or Wounded.

Manila, March 12.—Associated Press telegrams from Zamboanga say that the attack on Mount Dajo commenced on Monday. There were four days of hard fighting, during which it is estimated that 900 persons were killed or wounded.

Recount In Kinistino.

Regina, March 12.—The recount in Kinistino, applied for by D. R. Shadd (Conservative), has been completed, but the result is unchanged. Sanderson's majority is 552.

Mutineers to Die.

Bobrinisk, Russia, March 12.—Thirteen soldiers of the local garrison have been sentenced to death for mutiny.

USED UP AND TIRED OUT

MEN AT THE OFFICE
WOMEN IN THE HOME
CHILDREN AT SCHOOL

Every day in the week and every week in the year men, women and children feel all used up and tired out.

The strain of business, the cares of home and social life and the task of study cause terrible suffering from heart and nerve troubles. The efforts put forth to keep up to the modern "high pressure" mode of life in this age soon wears out the strongest system, shatters the nerves and weakens the heart.

Thousands find life a burden and others an early grave. The strain on the system causes nervousness, palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faint and dizzy spells, skip beats, weak and irregular pulse, smothering and sinking spells, etc. The blood becomes weak and watery and eventually causes decline.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

are indicated for all diseases arising from a weak and debilitated condition of the heart or of the nerve centres. Mrs. Thos. Hall, Kaldon, Ont., writes: "For the past two or three years I have been troubled with nervousness and heart failure, and the doctors failed to give me any relief. I decided at last to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial, and I would not now be without them if they cost twice as much. I have recommended them to my neighbors and friends.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills 50 cts. per box or 3 for $1.25, all dealers, or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PARTICULARLY CONCILIATORY.

Short Session of Conference on Saturday With Nothing Definite.

Algeciras, Spain, March 12.—The session of the Morocco conference Saturday lasted half an hour, when the proposed Moroccan bank was discussed. Germany suggested that the administrators be chosen by the banks of England, France, Spain, and the Imperial German Bank. The question of partitioning the shares among the powers was left undecided.

The police question was also discussed and referred to the committee of reduction.

Previous to this Germany proposed that an English secretary be added to this committee, which was agreed to. The tone of the deliberations of the delegates Saturday was particularly conciliating.

France Coerced.

London, March 12.—The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Algeciras represents France as having been coerced by the neutral powers into making concessions on the police question, probably as the result of apprehension on the part of the powers that failure of the conference would mean war.

TO KILL BEFORE WEDDING.

Remark of McCraw Which May Help to Hang Him.

Three Rivers, Que., March 12.—"Sclater is weighing heavy on my shoulders, but it won't be long before I get him off."

This is the statement alleged to have been made by McCraw in the evidence of Camille Lafontaine, Saturday in the Grande Anse murder case, which created a decided sensation in the court, corroborating as it did the statements of other witnesses in the same direction.

Lafontaine said he was an old friend of McCraw and Sclater's and had discussed the family troubles of the Sclaters with both, and he said it was in such a conversation that McCraw had made these sinister threats.

Jimmy Maurice gave very similar evidence. He stated that two years before the tragedy he had met McCraw on the road. He said: "Wallace, are you always to be single?" McCraw responded: "Yes"; and the witness then said: "Are you never going to get married?" To this, he said, McCraw replied: "I shall have to kill somebody before I get married."

STEAMER TITIAN BURNED.

Crew of Fourteen Are Picked Up In Southern Seas.

New York, March 12.—Fourteen destitute seamen were brought here Saturday by the steamer Titian from Rio de Janeiro.

They were members of the crew of the sealing schooner Enterprise from Halifax, N. S., which was burned recently while lying in the harbor of the Rio Grande Del Sul.

The seamen were sent from Rio de Janeiro by the British consul.

FATHER'S TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

Ottawa River Farmer Rescued, But Daughter Is Drowned.

Ottawa, March 12.—While crossing the Ottawa River near Sandpoint, Ont., J. B. Armstrong, a farmer, met with a dreadful experience Friday evening.

His team broke through the honeycombed ice, and a little daughter aged 8 years was swept away by the current. The team was also drowned.

Mr. Armstrong clung to an ice floe for an hour before being rescued, and was nearly sinking when taken from his perilous position.

HON. JAMES DOMVILLE HURT.

Fell on Lucania's Deck, Sustaining Compound Fracture.

New York, March 12.—Hon. James Domville, member of the Canadian Senate, who arrived here Saturday on the steamer Lucania, from Liverpool, fell while walking on deck last Wednesday and suffered a compound fracture of his leg. Upon his arrival here he was removed to the Grand Central Station, and resumed his journey homeward.

STEAMER STRIKES ROCKS.

Vessel Wrecked Off Ushant—Crew of 27 Saved.

Brest, France, March 12.—The steamer which struck the rocks northwest of Ushant Saturday morning during a fog has been identified as the British steamer Nelson, 1,173 tons, Capt. Wilkinson, and a crew of 27 men. The crew were saved by fishing boats.

DEATH OF HERR RICHTER.

Bismarck's Old Opponent In the Reichstag Debates Passes.

Berlin, March 12.—Eugen Richter, Radical leader in the Reichstag since its foundation, Bismarck's opponent, and a long time editor of the Freisinnige Zeitung, died at 4 o'clock Saturday morning.

A Steamer Founders.

Halifax, March 12.—The steamer Baines Hawkins foundered about 3 o'clock Saturday morning about two miles off Southern Head, off Morien Bay, C. B. The officers and crew, numbering twelve, all reached shore but one, Cockswain Bowridge. Nothing has been heard of him since though there is still some slight chance that he may reach shore. The men wo escaped had a fearful battle with raging seas.

M. Sarrien French Premier.

Paris, March 12.—Jean Marie Ferdinand Sarrien definitely decided Saturday to form a Ministry and notified President Fallieres of his acceptance of the task. Previously M. Sarrien conferred with MM. Bourgeois and Poincare, the former agreeing to take the portfolio of foreign affairs, and the latter that of finance or of justice.

Banker's Life Threatened.

St. Petersburg, March 12.—Herr Mendeissohn, head of the banking firm of Mendelssohn & Co. of Berlin, has received a number of letters since his arrival here, threatening him with death if he negotiates a loan with Russia. Six detectives have been assigned to guard him.

Miss Anthony Dying.

Rochester, N. Y., March 12.—Miss Susan B. Anthony is very low and is not expected to survive many hours.

CHIEF GOBIZEMBE FINED.

Aftermath of Uprising In Natal—Wanted Taxes Reduced.

Mapumulo, Natal, March 12.—An impressive spectacle was witnessed here Saturday when the chiefs of the district and scores of tribesmen came in to hear the decision of the military commander with regard to the rising of natives in February.

The commander fined Chief Gobizembe and his tribe 1,200 cattle, 3,500 sheep and goats, and dispossessed the tribe from a portion of their territory.

The chiefs admitted that the punishment was just, but requested a lessening of their taxes.

Killing No Murder.

Des Moines, Ia., March 12.—A bill was introduced by Representative Gregory in the lower House of the Legislature Saturday requiring physicians to take human life in cases in which there is great suffering and death is certain to result and also to prevent the rearing of children who are hideously deformed or hopelessly idiotic. Representative Gregory is a physician himself and introduced the bill in all seriousness. "My measure is a humane one," he said. "It may be that it is too revolutionary to pass this Legislature, but the time will surely come—and that, too, within the next twenty years—when some such law will be on our statute books."

Captured by Brigands.

Rome, March 12.—The Tribuna publishes a special despatch from Tangier announcing that Mme. Du Gast, a well-known French sportswoman and automobilist, has been captured in the district of Ceuta by a band under the notorious brigand, El Vallente.

Bursar Appointed.

Woodstock, March 12.—John Ronan of Penetanguishene, bursar of the reformatory, has been appointed bursar of the new hospital for epileptics at Woodstock. A Mr. Spence of Palmerston will take Ronan's place at Penetang.

Fire In "Prohibited" District.

Nakusp, B. C., March 12.—During a raging windstorm Saturday evening, three houses of the prohibited district on Main street were burned to the ground as a result of a defective pipe.

Stentor, from whom we have the word "stentorian," was a Greek herald in the Trojan war, famous for his tremendous voice. Homer says he was "great hearted, brazen voiced, and could shout as loud as fifty men."

Moles.

Moles can swim with great dexterity, their broad fore paws acting as paddles.

Blue Barrels.

Oil barrels are almost invariably painted blue. The reason for this is not apparent to the uninformed, but a manufacturer who makes a specialty of this kind of cooperage says that it is because blue has been found by experience to be more effective for keeping in the oil than any other pigment.

Death Sentence Commuted.

Trenton, N. J., March 10.—The sentence of death imposed upon Mrs. Antoinette Tolla, the Bergen County murderess for the killing of Joseph Sonta, was yesterday commuted to 7 1-2 years imprisonment by the court of pardons.

The Late Unpleasantness Forgotten.

St. Petersburg, March 12.—Dr. Motono, the Japanese Minister to Russia, Saturday called on Count Lamsdorff, the Foreign Minister, who received him cordially. Count Lamsdorff and Dr. Motono are old acquaintances, Dr. Motono once having served as secretary of legation here.

Troops In Readiness.

Moscow, March 12.—A military train with machine guns, is held in constant readiness at the railroad station in case of emergency to suppress troubles in the country and neighboring cities.

Next Meeting In Vancouver.

Ottawa, March 12.—The Canadian Forestry Association has decided to hold a summer meeting in Vancouver, if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the railway companies.

General Strike.

Helsingfors, Finland, March 12.—The Socialists of Finland are agitating for a general strike to show the discontent of the people at the existing conditions.

Going to West.

Kingston, March 12—Hiram Keech, Frontenac street, has left for Winnipeg and western points to act as Federal Government inspector of seeds and binder twine.

FANCIES IN BELTS.

Charming Designs For Girdles and Waistbands—Japanese Effects.

Belts are growing more and more elaborate. The newest are waved and scalloped along the edges to fit the curve of the figure. Many show lines of spangles and of embroidery, while others are printed in gold and in eastern colors upon suede.

Japanese belts are smart to wear with best blouses. They are not bizarre and gorgeous affairs covered with a mass of oriental colors, but are charming and dainty in design. Perhaps the most fascinating of these belts is made of rich, heavy silk ribbon embroidered in a half deep fashion with wee lily pads. Another example is decorated with cherry blossoms. Attached to the belts are handsome buckles that are quite important adjuncts in their way.

The flowered girdle of silk or ribbon is now only worn by the very young girl with her party frock. Long sash ends trim some of these girdles, often heavily embroidered at the ends, where they reach to the bottom of the dress.

To brighten up an otherwise simple gown comes the girdle made of gold or silver ribbon, the soft wide variety that drapes well. It is deep and fits almost like a sheath about the figure. Great care must be taken in its manufacture.

The restaurant frock pictured is of black embroidered net made over white silk. At the bottom of the skirt is a band of black velvet. The fancifully shaped yoke is of Irish lace. About the tiny bolero jacket is an edging of velvet. The sleeves are formed of a small high puff, and the girdle is of black velvet.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Sealed tenders, addressed to the undersigned, marked on the envelope, "Tenders for Construction," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway at Ottawa, until 12 o'clock noon, on Monday, the 19th day of March, 1906, for the work required for the construction, in accordance with the plans, profiles and specifications of said Commissioners, for the following sections of the Transcontinental Railway, for said work to be completed on or before the final day of September, 1907, viz:—

(1) District "F". — From a point designated on the plans of the said Commissioners at or near the City of Winnipeg, to a point known as Peninsula Crossing, near the junction point of the Fort William branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, a distance of about 248 miles.

(2) District "B". — From a point designated on the plans of the said Commissioners, at the north end of the Quebec Bridge and Railway Company's bridge in the vicinity of the City of Quebec, to a point near La Tuque, a distance of about 150 miles.

(3) A steel viaduct about 2,000 feet long across the Cap Rouge Valley, in said District "B", in the vicinity of the City of Quebec, the work to be performed in accordance with the General Specifications of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, and the General Specifications for steel bridges and viaducts of the Department of Railways and Canals, 1904.

Plans, profiles and specifications may be seen in the office of the Chief Engineer of the Commissioners at Ottawa, also in the office of the District Engineer at Kenora, Ontario, for the section of District "F", and for the section of District "B", in the office of the District Engineer at Quebec.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the work in each District.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners, and before submitting any tender bidders should make careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept and agree to be bound by the terms and conditions contained in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tender.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, for the sum of four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) for District "F", and two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars ($225,000) for District "B" and thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000) for steel viaduct in said District "B". Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish the security required by the Commissioners for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms, sign the contract, specifications and other documents required to be signed by said Commissioners; and in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners and to furnish the approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure, and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

"All mechanics, labourers or other persons who perform labour for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the District in which the work is being performed, and, if there is no current rate in such District, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subject to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labour, and which are or shall be applicable to such works."

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work, as far as practicable, use only material, machinery plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, provided the same can be obtained as cheaply and upon as good terms in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

The contractor shall conform to the Fair Wage Regulations adopted by the Commissioners, and also to the Laws and Regulations respecting fire in the different Provinces wherein the work is being performed.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By order,

P. E. RYAN, Secretary.

VARIETIES OF CRAMPS.

One of the curious consequences of the modern division of labor is the cramp that attacks those who constantly use their hands in one particular manner.

Writing cramp was the first to appear, being quite unknown until the introduction of steel pens. It affects men far oftener than the fair sex, and, singularly, those who suffer are not literary men, but copyists. It is almost incurable, and even when the left hand is used the cramp very soon crosses over to it.

Musicians of every kind are attacked. Among pianists it is chiefly ladies ambitious to become professionals who are the victims. Violent pain, weakness and fatigue of the arm make playing an impossibility. Violinists are affected both in the fingers of the left hand and the hand that holds the bow. Clarinet players get cramps of the tongue, and flute players get cramp in the larynx.

Telegraphers suffer very often, and they call it "loss of the grip." Tailors get cramps in legs as well as hands. Smiths and carpenters get what is called "hammer cramp," resulting from the enormous number of blows struck. It is estimated that a forger of knives and scissors strikes 28,000 blows every day.

Drivers get cramps in the hand, especially in the case of those who break in hard mouthed horses. Cigarmakers, watchmakers, photographers, auctioneers, sawyers, billiard players, dentists, turners, stampers, weavers, painters, money counters and ballet dancers—all suffer from their own peculiar cramps and often so severely that they have to exchange their employment for some other.

CRIMINAL BEES.

Honey Gatherers That Have Very Loose Moral Ideas.

Almost every form and variety of human crime is to be found among animals. Cases of theft are noticed among bees. Buchner in his "Psychic Life of Animals" speaks of thievish bees which, in order to save themselves the trouble of working, attack well stocked hives in masses, kill the sentinels and the inhabitants, rob the hives and carry off the provisions. After repeated enterprises of this description they acquire a taste for robbery and violence. They recruit whole companies, which get more and more numerous, and finally they form regular colonies of brigand bees.

But it is a still more curious fact that these brigand bees can be produced artificially by giving working bees a mixture of honey and brandy to drink. The bees soon acquire a taste for this beverage, which has the same disastrous effects upon them as upon men. They become ill disposed and irritable and lose all desire to work, and finally, when they begin to feel hungry, they attack and plunder the well supplied hives.

There is one variety of bees—the sphecodes—which live exclusively upon plunder.

A SHIP WORTH TAKING.

On the 9th of June, 1587, Drake, coming back from "singeing the king of Spain's beard in Cadiz," fell in with a huge vessel, which he captured. She proved to be the San Philipe, an East Indiaman owned by the king of Spain himself and then the largest merchantman afloat.

Her cargo, valued at more than a million sterling of modern money, was in itself the most valuable ever captured, but there was something else even more valuable than the cargo. This consisted of the ship's papers and accounts, which disclosed to the merchant adventurers of England all the methods and mysteries and the boundless possibilities of the East India trade.

Indeed, it would hardly be stretching the facts to say that the morning which saw the capture of the San Philipe saw also the dawn of our Indian empire. The immediate result was the formation of the East India company, which was not only the greatest commercial corporation the world had ever seen, but also the only one that ever commanded its own armies and fleets and wielded powers little less than imperial.—London Spectator.

The Early Astronomers.

The early astronomers were all astrologers and claimed to be able to predict the future careers of various individuals by "casting horoscopes" showing the position of the planets at the time of their birth. The position and movements of the various celestial bodies were not only supposed to control the destinies of men, but were also thought to bring weal or woe, tempest or sunshine, upon the earth itself. A man born when the sun was in the constellation of Scorpio was believed to be naturally bent toward excessive indulgence of the animal passions. One born when the sun was in Pisces was predestined to grovel or be a servant, while one whose earthly career was opened when the great luminary was in Aries would be a great scholar and a man known to the world despite all opposing influences.

Trinidad's Asphalt Lake.

The famous asphalt lake of Trinidad looks like a great black swamp surrounded with a fringe of cocoanut palms. A little railway runs across it, and men stand in it working, some on asphalt firm enough to support them, some on asphalt in which they keep sinking down an inch or two a minute, some on asphalt so soft it is like quicksand. The stuff looks like a cross between black mud and pitch. The lake is 110 acres in size, and its depth is tremendous. The thick asphalt, mixed with water, moves a little, and now and then an old tree comes slowly up from the depths. The men work with pickaxes, digging out the asphalt in lumps the size of pumpkins.

SAVED THE LANDS.

How De Cosmus' Great Speech Happened to Be Delivered.

The longest speech on record is believed to have been that made by Mr. de Cosmus in the legislature of British Columbia when a measure was pending the passage of which would have taken from a great many settlers their lands. De Cosmus was in a minority. The measure had been held back till the eve of the close of the session. Unless action was taken before noon of a given day the act would fall. De Cosmus got the floor at 10 a. m. and began a speech against the bill. Its friends supposed he would be done by 1 o'clock. At 2 o'clock he was saying, "In the second place." At 3 he produced a fearful bundle of evidence and insisted on reading it.

Then the truth dawned. He was going to speak till noon the next day and kill the bill. Then they made merry over it and tried to shout him down, but that gave him time and breathing space. They finally settled down to watch the combat between the strength of will and weakness of body. They gave no mercy, no time for dinner or wetting lips with water and no sitting down. Members went to dine and sleep in squads, but De Cosmus went on. Day dawned.

The speaker was alternately dozing and trying to look wide awake. At last noon came, and a single man was triumphant. Although his voice had sunk to a husky whisper, his eyes were bleared and bloodshot, his legs tottered under him, his baked lips were cracked and smeared with blood, De Cosmus had spoken for twenty-six hours and saved the lands.

THE BANANA PLANT.

Each Tree Produces Only One Bunch of the Fruit.

The banana plant is not properly a tree at all. It has no woody fiber. It is a large, green, fleshy plant, with big leaves six or eight feet long and sometimes two feet broad. It grows to a height of ten to fourteen feet or even more, according to the variety of plant and the soil and climate. Each tree produces one bunch of fruit only, which is really the terminal bud of the plant, just like an ear of wheat or barley. It has no branches, and when the fruit is ready, which is twelve or fifteen months from the date of planting, the tree is cut down and done with.

But while it is growing up and maturing its fruit it is at the same time sending up from its roots other young plants or suckers—perhaps eight or nine of them. Each of these will produce its own bunch in turn, some of them in a couple of months after the parent plant, and there will thus be a regular succession of fruit. Many of these suckers have to be dug up and planted elsewhere, or they would be too thick on the ground.

And there is this peculiarity about the banana: You can plant it at any season, and the fruit ripens all the year round. When once a banana field has been planted out, all that is necessary to be done is to keep it clear of weeds and keep thinning out the multiplying suckers.

A Curious Wooden Watch.

The most curious timekeeper perhaps that has ever been made in this country was the work of one Victor Doriot, who lived at Bristol, Tenn., in the last century. This horological oddity was nothing more or less than a wooden watch. The case was made of brier root, and the inside works—all except three of the main wheels and the springs, which were of metal—were made from a piece of an old boxwood rule. The face, which was polished until it looked like a slab of finest ivory, was made from the shoulder blade of an old cow that had been killed by the cars. "Doriot's queer watch," as it was called, was an open faced affair, with a glass crystal, and was pronounced an elegant piece of workmanship by all the watchmakers in east Tennessee.

A Wonderful Memory.

Hortensius, the great Roman lawyer and orator, had a memory of extraordinary scope and tenacity. After composing a speech or oration he could repeat it word for word exactly as he had prepared it. On one occasion he went to an auction, where the business was carried on during an entire day, and at evening, for a wager, he wrote down a list of the articles that had been sold and the prices, together with the names of the purchasers, in the order in which the purchases had been made.

Linnets In Africa.

Dr. Arthur J. Hayes in his "The Source of the Blue Nile" tells how the linnets come to drink out of the Atbara river: "They come with an undulating rush, and, small as they are, the rushing of the wind as they beat the air makes a noise like thunder, and their numbers darken the sky. The weight of the throngs of them which alight at a time bends down the ends of the overhanging branches and twigs to the level of the water."

How to Rest.

To understand how to rest is of more importance than to know how to work. The latter can be learned easily. The former it takes years to learn, and some people never learn the art of resting. It is simply a change of scenes and activities. Loafing may not be resting; sleeping is not always resting; sitting down for days, with nothing to do, is not restful. A change is needed to bring into play a different set of faculties and to turn the life into a new channel. The man who works hard finds his best rest in playing hard; the man who is burdened with care finds relief in something that is active, yet free from responsibility. Above all, keep good natured and don't abuse your best friend, the stomach.

CHARING CROSS.

History of This Ancient Landmark of London.

In reading English history you will happen across numerous references to Charing Cross, but the chances are you will wonder if the allusion is to a real cross erected as a memorial or simply a crossroad. Charing Cross was formerly one of the noted landmarks of Britain, and its history is as follows: In November of the year 1291 "Good Queen Eleanor," as she was termed by her loyal subjects, was called to join her husband, who was then making an expedition into Scotland. When Eleanor had got as far on her way as Grantham she sickened and died.

The remains must, of course, be buried at Westminster, and the funeral cortege started in that direction.

During the time this royal funeral procession was slowly winding its weary way toward the capital thousands of people flocked to the wayside to get a glimpse of it. It was a great event in the history of the rural districts, and they did everything possible to make the solemn occasion a memorable one. Wherever the procession halted for the night or for other cause the people afterward set up a memorial. One of the longest stops was made at Charing, and subsequently a richly carved memorial cross was erected on the site of the camp. This was the Charing Cross of history. It stood until 1647, when the last vestige of it was destroyed during the civil wars of Charles I., the vandals who destroyed the relic claiming it to be a monument of popish superstition. Charing Cross as seen today was erected by the Southern Railway company in the year 1865.

Ropemaking 2,000 Years B. C.

The name of the first ropemaker and that of the land in which he practiced his art have both been lost to history. Before the beginning of the historical period considerable skill had been acquired in that line. Egyptian sculptures prove that the art was practiced at least 2,000 years before the time of Christ.

Faith

You cannot be expected to have faith in Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, as a cure for Colds, Coughs and all diseases of the air passages, if you have not tried it. We have faith in it, and we guarantee it. If it doesn't cure you it costs you nothing. If it does it costs you 25c. That's fair. Try it to-day.

Shiloh has cured many thousands of the most obstinate cases, and we do not hesitate to say that it will cure any Cold, Cough, Throat or Lung trouble. If we did not believe this we would not guarantee it. Shiloh has had an unbroken record of success for thirty years. It has stood every possible test without failure. Further is found in the many testimonials of those who have tried Shiloh's and been cured. Mrs. Archie Taylor, Asaph, Pa., writes:—"I bought a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure and found it very beneficial. I have two children, and they had a terrible cough. I gave them everything I could think of, but they got no better, until one evening my husband brought a bottle of Shiloh. We gave it to the children before they went to bed, and they slept all night. It cured them completely. I shall always keep it in the house." 69

LA GRIPPE

This distressing and unfortunately very common malady easily takes rank among the very "meanest" of the diseases to which people living in this climate are liable.

La Grippe is no respector of persons; it attacks the young and the old, the rich and the poor with the utmost impartiality.

Except in the cases where Pneumonia develops, La Grippe is seldom directly fatal; the real danger lies in the after effects. Even when the patient has fairly well recovered from an attack (and it is very hard to tell just when he has fully recovered) the muscles are relaxed, the nerves unstrung, the heart and lungs weak, the throat and bronchial tubes irritable and tender and the whole system depressed, run-down and in no condition to resist the attack of any other disease to which it may be exposed.

This condition is fraught with danger and demands instant and intelligent attention, the system must be built up and restored to a normal and healthy condition—advice easy to give, often very hard to follow.

The appetite is liable to be poor and the digestion impaired so that it is almost impossible to consume and digest sufficient ordinary food to do the work quickly and effectively. What is required is a concentrated food, palatable, easy to digest and containing the elements necessary to repair the waste which La Grippe has committed.

Just such a food is found in

a scientifically prepared emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus, palatable, digestible and effective. FERROL contains just what the run down system needs and all it requires. Cod Liver Oil to restore the lost flesh and make what is left firm and healthy, Iron to enrich the impoverished blood and restore elasticity and firmness to the relaxed muscles, Phosphorus to tone the nerve and brain as nothing else will.

Two or three bottles of FERROL, taken after the acute stage of La Grippe has passed, will do more to repair damages than can possibly be accomplished in any other way. Try it and see.

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in prominent Hospitals, Sanatoriums, etc.

AN EMPEROR'S TASTE.

It Was the Origin of a Common Saying In Austria.

An anecdote which was current of Ferdinand I. of Austria at one time greatly delighted his subjects and gave rise to a common saying. One summer day he was hunting in the Syrian mountains and was overtaken by a violent thunderstorm. He sought refuge in a farmhouse whose occupants were just then at dinner, and his fancy was caught by some smoking dumplings made of coarse flour. He tasted them, liked them and asked for more, and when he got to Vienna, to the horror of the royal cooks, he ordered the same dumplings to be served up daily. The courtiers were scandalized that such a coarse dish should figure on the menu, and even his physicians remonstrated against the use of such food.

The emperor had always been the most pliant of men, but he now showed that he had a will of his own and persisted in gratifying his new fancy. Finally the physicians pretended that it was dangerous to his health to believing on dumplings and insisted on his giving them up. The hitherto docile sovereign stamped his foot had declared that he would never sign another official document if his diet were denied him.

"Emperor I am," he shouted, "and dumplings I will have!"

To prevent a stoppage of the government machinery opposition was withdrawn, and his majesty clung tenaciously to his dumplings. Then the imperial phrase became proverbial, and thereafter when any one insisted on gratifying a silly whim some one was sure to say:

"Emperor I am, and dumplings I will have!"

RELATING TO IRON.

Discovery of the Metal, According to Various Authorities.

The Bible speaks of Tubal Cain as the discoverer of iron and the father of smiths. The Egyptians imputed to Hephaestus the same honor, while Pliny mentions it having been discovered by Dactyles on Mount Ida after the forests on the mountain side had been destroyed by lightning. This was about 1,432 years B. C. Jeremiah and Ezekiel both mention iron in their Scriptural writings, the latter specially mentioning two qualities of the metal and calling one bright iron, which was probably steel.

Moses mentions an iron furnace, and Job speaks of it as being taken out of the earth. Thousands of years before the opening of the Christian era the Egyptians used iron in making sickles, knives and such things. Sparta first used iron for money. Britain also used it as a medium of barter and exchange prior to the conquest by the Romans.

The Britons before the time of Christ used to export iron to Gaul, and after the Roman conquest the conquerors established extensive smelting works, which existed at least as late as the Saxon conquest.—St. James' Gazette.

The people in all lines of duty who do the most work are the calmest, most unhurried people in the community. Duties never wildly chase each other in their lives. One task never turns another out nor ever compels hurried, and therefore imperfect, doing. The calm spirit works methodically, doing one thing at a time and doing it well, and it therefore works swiftly, though never appearing to be in haste. —Home Notes.

Hardly That.

Miss Plane—The very day I first met him something told he would eventually fall in love with me. Miss Speitz—Indeed? The "something" wasn't your mirror, dear, was it?

Obeying Orders.

Kind Lady—Ah, if you had only done what your mother told you, you might not be in this situation. Convict—I don't know. She told me to go out into the world and make money.

He is the happiest of whom the world says least, good or bad.—Jefferson.

A RIGHT WAY and A WRONG WAY

Many people have many ways to bring about the same result. Most of them are mistaken ways, but this is not known until the test of time points plainly to the error. Practically there are but two ways to accomplish anything; a right way and a wrong way. Take, for instance, a man with a bad back, there are lots of them, and of various kinds, some with stiches and twitches, others with cricks and twinges; then there's the dull, heavy continuous kind that lasts all day and doesn't sleep at night. They're all bad enough, they're all hard enough to get rid of. Some people rub the back with liniment, others cover it with plasters, either or both means often bring relief, but the pain comes back—it's the wrong way to cure the trouble.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

have a way to cure backache, a way that's all their own—the right way. They're made for the kidneys only. When the kidneys fail in their work of filtering the blood the back aches because they are situated in the small of the back; backache is the kidney's warning of trouble, and every day you let the warning go it brings you nearer to urinary disorders, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, etc.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills and that's why they bring such quick relief from backache. Mr. Fred Gray, Good Corner, N.B., writes: "I was greatly troubled with pain across my back. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received so much benefit from them that I consider them the best remedy for kidney trouble there is. I would not be without them in my house."

Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

SYSTEMS OF WRITING.

The Famous Method Known as the Boustrophedon.

About the year 450 B. C. the Ionians first introduced the system of writing from left to right. Previous to that time all scribes and penmen in general had been in the habit of beginning the line on the right hand side of the page and running it toward the left. The introduction of the left to right mode of writing caused considerable confusion for a time, and from the mixed systems which prevailed during the following century sprang the famed method known as the boustrophedon. Those who used the system last mentioned would begin a line at the left margin of their parchments and run it through to the opposite margin and then drop a space below and run back to the opposite edge of the sheet again. In other words, the boustrophedon mode of writing was a system in which the lines ran alternately from left to right and from right to left. This system did not entirely disappear until about the time of Christ. The ancient Hebrew and Greek languages were written from right to left, but at about the time the Ionians were reforming writing methods the Greek letters were changed in form from the uncial to the cursive, and the system of writing was changed in both cases so as to run from left to right. The following quotation from Franklin illustrates the mixed, or boustrophedon, system of writing:

"When I see a merchant overpolite to a ekat ot meht gnigged ,sremotsuc sih little brandy and throwing his goods on na sah nam taht I skniht ,retnuoc eht ax to grind."

SHOE NAILS.

The Way They Are Made and Why They Are So Cheap.

Three million separate shoe nails are often cast from one ton of metal. Of the smaller sizes 2,000 nails are molded in a single mold, and an expert workman will make eighty molds in an ordinary working day, thus turning out 160,000 separate nails.

When the metal in a liquid state is poured into the mold it runs through the sand in passages provided in the molding process; the whole of the nails are cast together and are, when removed from the sand, connected by a network of iron one with another. In this condition the iron is as brittle as glass, and very little force is required to separate the nails from the network which holds them together.

They then have to undergo the process known as annealing. They are mixed up with hematite iron ore, which is in a powdered state, put into iron pots, and placed in an annealing furnace, a sort of kiln. Here they remain for some days, care being taken to so regulate the heat to which they are subjected that the iron will not be remelted, but brought very nearly to that condition. The action of the raw iron ore upon the brittle casting is marvelous. After cooling, it can be bent without risk of breaking, and it becomes a useful and serviceable article.—London Express.

Buttons.

It is only in comparatively modern times that buttons have been utilized as fasteners. The Greeks and Romans knew nothing of them, and though they presented themselves as ornaments in the fourteenth century buttonholes were still an undreamed of possibility. It was not until nearly the middle of the eighteenth century that the manufacture of steel buttons was entered upon at the Soho works in Birmingham, England. Then, on the accession of George III. the gilt buttons appeared and became quite the vogue. But it was reserved for the artisans of our day to make these useful fasteners in the greatest variety at marvelously low prices and out of all sorts of material, even to the seemingly impossible potato.

An English Superstition.

According to an ancient bit of Sussex folklore, when a bride returns home from church her single friends at once rob her of all the pins in her dress under the impression that every maiden who is lucky enough to possess one will be married during the course of a year.—London Express.

Sometimes vegetable growth is very rapid. The common mushroom attains its full size in less than twenty-four hours.

SOME FAMOUS BARBERS.

Wielders of the Scissors Have Become Great Lawyers, Inventors and Writers of Fame.

It has been the delight of the biographers to show how the printer's devil, the poor farm lad, the street waif and the mechanic's dad, have struggled onward and upward to distinction.

Apparently they have ignored the barber boy's achievements.

Nevertheless, there are numerous instances of barbers who have become celebrities in various fields of human endeavor.

In former times the barber's craft was dignified with the title of profession, be it known. It was conjoined with the art of surgery. In the time of Henry VIII. of England it was enacted that the barbers should confine themselves to the minor operations of blood letting and drawing teeth, while the surgeons were prohibited from barbery or shaving. Later on—about the middle of the eighteenth century—the two callings were entirely separate.

The striped pole in front of shops today is symbolic of former times, suggesting the period when the barber was also a surgeon, and indicating the ribbon for bandaging the arm in bleeding.

It was long after the vocations became distinct that Edward Burtenshaw Sugden rose to eminence. Sugden was the son of a hairdresser in Duke street, Westminster, and was assistant in the shop. When he was 41 years old he was made King's Counsel, and was chosen a bencher of Lincoln's Inn. Under the first administration of Lord Derby he was raised to the peerage as Lord St. Leonards.

It goes without saying that there were not lacking envious persons to twit him with his former occupation, and this story is told: Once, when addressing a crowd in the interest of his own candidacy to Parliament, a man called out to know what soap was worth and how lather was made.

"I am particularly obliged to that gentleman for reminding me of my humble origin," said Sir Edward. "It is true that I am a barber's son, and was once myself a barber. If the gentleman who so politely reminded me of these facts had been a barber he shows here that he would have remained one to the end of his life."

Then there was Charles Abbott, a barber's son, "a scrubby little lad who used to wait on his father with razors and a pewter bowl." Abbott was also made a peer of England.

An English writer has said of a certain inventive Englishman: "While his inventions have conferred infinitely more real benefit on his own country than she could have derived from absolute dominion of Mexico and Peru, they have been universally productive of wealth and enjoyment."

This genius was Sir Richard Arkwright, and his inventions were in the cotton spinning industry. He was born in 1792, turned from wig-making when the trade fell off, became enormously wealthy, was made a peer and died in the sixtieth year of his age.

English literature has been made richer by at least three barbers.

Jeremy Taylor was brought up in his father's shop at Cambridge, Eng. He is perhaps the most famous of all the barbers, his books remaining popular after 250 years. A critic says truthfully that his work is especially literary. Weighty with argument, his sermons and books of devotion are still read among us for their sweet and deep devotion and their rapidly flowing and poetic eloquence. His most important work is "The Liberty of Prophesying."

The greatest English naval poet—Charles Dibdin taking rank as second—was William Falconer. He was a barber in Edinburgh until his poem, "The Shipwreck," not only made him famous, but won him a career in the Royal Navy. This poem, by the way was based on his own experience. When yet young he had a chance to take a voyage on an English vessel bound for Venice. The ship was overtaken by a dreadful storm off Cape Colonna, and was wrecked, only three of the crew being saved. One of these was Falconer, and the incidents of the voyage and its disastrous termination formed the subject of his poem. Strangely enough, the terrors of the sea, which he so eloquently describes, did not deter him from following it, and he was lost in the wreck of another ship a few years later.

Allan Ramsay, the Scottish poet, who died the year before the birth of Burns, is justly celebrated in the literature of England. "The Gentle Shepherd" is especially worthy of remembrance, being a pure, tender and genuine picture of Scottish life and love among the poor in the country. He carried on the song of rural life and love and humor which Burns perfected. Allan Ramsay was at one time a prosperous wig-maker.

INSURANCE.

The Beginnings of This Now Common Mode of Protection.

The practice of insurance was known to the ancients, being in vogue at the beginning of the Christian era.

The insurance of ships was undoubtedly part of the business of the Hanseatic league, which was formed about 1140 by the port towns of Germany to protect themselves against the pirates of Sweden and Denmark.

The custom of drawing out insurance policies originated in Florence in 1523, although a regular chamber of insurance was formed at Bruges early in the fourteenth century, and the practice was in general use in Italy in 1194 and in England in 1500.

Fire and life insurance is of much more recent origin. Some of the ancient guilds provided compensation for any of their members who suffered loss from fire, but the insurance of goods and houses as a distinct branch of business cannot be traced farther back than 1667, the year after the great fire of London.

The first regular company, the Hand-In-Hand, was founded in 1696, and five other companies still existing were started in the quarter of a century which followed. Life insurance was first undertaken by the Amicable in 1706.—London Standard.

Animals That Do Not Grow Thirsty.

There are many different kinds of animals in the world that never in all their lives sip so much as a drop of water. Among these are the llamas of Patagonia and the gazelles of the far east. A parrot lived for fifty-two years in the zoo at London without drinking a drop of water, and many naturalists believe the only moisture imbibed by wild rabbits is derived from green herbage laden with dew. Many reptiles—serpents, lizards and certain batrachians—live and thrive in places entirely devoid of water, and sloths are also said never to drink. An arid district in France has produced a race of nondrinking cows and sheep, and from the milk of the former Roquefort cheese is made. There is a species of mouse which has established itself on the waterless plains of western America and which flourishes notwithstanding the absence of moisture.

Women Angrily Aroused
ALL OVER THE DOMINION

Information from various Provinces of Canada points to the fact that many women have been deceived and induced to use the weak and adulterated package dyes put up by unskilled and unscrupulous manufacturers to imitate the popular DIAMOND DYES.

Our Canadian women, thoroughly aroused, after loss of time and money, and valuable materials, through the use of muddy, blotchy and weak dyes, have directly laid the blame for their losses on the retail merchants who sold them the deceptive dyes.

This action of indignant women, has caused many of our retail and wholesale dealers to back up and return to the manufacturers responsible their worthless and dangerous dyes.

Moral — When ladies decide to do home dyeing work it pays to use the celebrated and popular DIAMOND DYES, which have been the home friends of the ladies for over 25 years. When buying see that each package handed to you bears the words DIAMOND PACKAGE DYES. Users of DIAMOND DYES soon become experts in the fascinating work of home colouring and find that a ten cent package will renew the life of any faded and dingy suit, dress, skirt, blouse, jacket, cape or husband's or son's coat, vest or trousers. Allow no dealer to offer you the something he calls "JUST AS GOOD." No other dyes equal the DIAMOND DYES.

Send your name and address to Wells and Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, P.Q., and you will receive free of cost a new Dye Book, Card of Cloth, Dyed Samples and Booklet in verse entitled "The Longjohn's Trip to the Klondike."

Needless Wear.

Many people wear themselves out needlessly. Their conscience is a tyrant. An exaggerated sense of duty leads a person to anxious, ceaseless activity, to be constantly doing something, overpunctual, never idle a second of time, to scorn rest. Such are in unconscious nerve tension. They say they have no time to rest, they have so much to do, not thinking they are rapidly unfitting themselves for probably what would have been their best and greatest work in after years.

A Short Sermon.

No time or place is sacred to the enthusiastic joker. Ducloz tells in his memoirs how the prince archbishop of Cologne asked license to preach in the royal chapel at Versailles when visiting Louis XIV. himself. All the court assembled. It was April 1. The prince archbishop mounted the pulpit in stately fashion, bowed from side to side and stood a moment as if collecting his thoughts, then shouted "April fools!" picked up his skirts and ran.

Cruel.

"I made these biscuits myself, David," said Mrs. Copperfield, with honest pride.

"They look very nice, Dora," replied David, picking one of them up and making an effort to split it. "And they are still hot. How long ago did you—ah!—cast them?"

A Thoughtful Answer.

"What's the first step toward the digestion of the food?" asked the teacher. Up went the hand of a black haired little fellow, who exclaimed with eagerness: "Bite it off! Bite it off!"

Let us read with method and propose to ourselves an end to which our studies may point. The use of reading is to aid us in thinking.—Edward Gibson.

NEW YORK DAIRY MARKET.

New York, March 12.—Butter, irregular; receipts, 4658; street price extra creamery, 25c to 27½c; official prices creamery, common to extra, 19c to 27c; state dairy, common to extra, 15c to 26c; renovated, common to extra, 12½c to 19½c; western factory, common to firsts, 13c to 16c; western imitation, creamery extras, 24c; do firsts, 17c.

Cheese—Firm; receipts, 712; state full cream, large and small, colored and white fancy, 14c to 14¾c; do. good to prime, 13½c to 13¾c; do. common to fair, 11c to 13c; skims, full to light, 3c to 11¾c.

Eggs—Steady; receipts, 12,453; state, Pennsylvania and nearby fancy selected white, 20c to 21c; do., choice, 18c to 19c; do., mixed, extra, 16½c; western firsts, 14¾c; do., seconds, 14c to 14½c; southerns, 12½c to 14¾c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

London, March 12.—Cattle are quoted at 10¾c to 11¼c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 7¾c per lb.; sheep, dressed, 12¾c to 13½c per lb.; lambs, 14½c, dressed weight.

TORONTO JUNCTION LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 30 car loads, composed of 750 cattle, 2 sheep, 11 calves and 17 horses.

Exporters.

Prices of shipping cattle ranged from $4.75 to $5.25, the latter price being paid for only 2 loads of prime cattle, the bulk selling at $4.90 to $5.15 per cwt. Bulls sold at $3.50 to $4.25.

Butchers.

Taken altogether the quality of butcher cattle was the worst of the season thus far, too many half-finished lots being offered. There was not enough good butcher cattle to supply the demand, and dealers had to get supplies from the export class to supply orders taken.

Veal Calves.

Eleven veal calves sold at $5 to $7 per cwt.

Hogs.

Only a few hogs brought in by farmers were on the market to-day. H. P. Kennedy reports a decline in prices of 25c per cwt. as follows: Selects, $6.75; lights, $6.50 per cwt.

Best lots of butchers' offered sold at $4.50 to $4.75; medium butchers', $4.25 to $4.40; common at $3.85 to $4.20; cows, at $3.50 to $4.25 per cwt.

Milch Cows.

About half a dozen milch cows sold at $35 to $50 each.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, March 12.—(Special.)—Cable advices from Liverpool and London report the market for Canadian cattle steady, at 10½c to 11c. At these prices shippers are loosing from $8 to $12 per head. There is practically no demand for ocean freight space; the best bid obtainable from American shippers for this week's shipment was 20s for Liverpool space, with 25s asked. The exports from Portland and St. John, N.B., last week were 1711 cattle and 1297 sheep. Receipts to-day were 1000 cattle, 200 calves, 75 milch cows, 25 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs.

The butchers were out strong, and there was a good demand for the best cattle, and prices remain unchanged. Prime beeves sold at 4¾c to 5¾c per lb.; pretty good, 3¾c to 4½c, and the common stock at 2½ to 3½c. There were 40 large bulls on the market, and they weighed from 1200 to 2300 lbs., and sold at 3½c to 4½c. There were a number of superior milch cows sold at $50 to $60 each; the others at $25 to $45 each. Calves sold at $2.25 to $10 each, or 3½c to 5c per lb.; sheep sold at 4½c, and lambs at 6c per lb.

There was a firmer undertone to the market for hogs on account of smaller supplies and cooler weather, but prices show no actual advance as compared with those of a week ago, owing to the fact that competition between packers for supplies was no keen, as advices from European sources on Canadian bacon still continue to be discouraging. One or two small lots of choice, selected stock sold at $7.00, but the bulk of the trading was done at $7.50, and lower grades sold at $7.30 to $7.40 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, March 12.—Cattle—Receipts 2850 head; active, 10c higher; prime steers, $5.30 to $5.85; shipping, $4.85 to $5.40; butchers', $4.40 to $5.25; heifers, $3.50 to $5; cows, $3 to $4.50; bulls, $2.75 to $4.65; stockers and feeders, $3.25 to $4.50; stock heifers, $3 to $3.40; fresh cows and springers, steady, or good, slow on common, $18 to $54.

Veals—Receipts, 1600 head; active, 50c lower, $5 to $8.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 14,500 head; fairly active, 5c to 10c lower; heavy and mixed, $6.50 to $6.55, a few $6.60; yorkers, $6.45 to $6.50; pigs, $6.40; roughs, $5.75 at $6; stags, $4 to $4.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 15,400 head; sheep, active; lambs, slow; lambs, $6.25 to $7.35; yearlings, $6 to $6.35; wethers, $5.75 to $6.15; ewes, $5.50 to $5.75; sheep, mixed, $4 to $5.75; western lambs, $6.00 to $7.10.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, March 12.—Beeves—Receipts, 3383; steers, 10c higher, in light supply; bulls, steady to firm; cows, 10c to 15c lower; steers, $4.00; cows, $2 to $4. Shipments to-morrow, 859 cattle and 1024 sheep.

Calves—Receipts, 4163; market firm, but prices lower. Veals, $4 to $8; little calves, $3.50; barnyard calves, $2.50 to $3.50.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 9833; sheep, weak; lambs, 10c to 15c lower; sheep, $4 to $5.50; culls, $3; lambs, $6 to $7.35; few choice, $7.50; culls, $5.

Hogs—Receipts, 12,554; market, lower at $6 to $6.70; choice pigs, $6.75 to $6.90.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, March 12.—Cattle—Receipts, 27,000; market, best steady, others 5c lower; common to prime steers, $3.85 to $6.40; cows, $3.65 to $4.50; heifers, $2.50 to $4; bulls, $2.40 to $4.35; calves, $3 to $7.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 42,000; market 5c to 10c lower; choice to prime, heavy, $6.25 to $6.30; medium to good, heavy, $6.20 to $6.25; butchers' weights, $6.20 to $6.27½; good to choice, heavy, mixed, $6.15 to $6.25; packing, $5.80 to $6.22½.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 20,000; market strong; sheep, $4 to $6.25; yearlings, $5.50 to $6.40; lambs, $6.25 to $7.

KING EDWARD is travelling under an assumed name, but there can be nothing wrong with that, for it is what every married woman does.

WORKS 12 HOURS A DAY.

King Edward in the course of an audience granted last week to the leaders of the Church Army movement in England, who are endeavoring to deal with the difficult problems created by the appalling number of laboring men who are unemployed, and therefore in want, incidentally mentioned that he was obliged to work very hard himself, and that his ordinary working day was not one of eight, but of twelve hours, and that he considered himself fortunate when he accomplished all he had to do in that time. This pronouncement, says the Marquise de Fontenoy, cabled to this country and published in the newspapers, has excited a considerable amount of amazement among those here who have been accustomed to look upon the British monarch as essentially a man of pleasure—indeed as one of the greatest sybarites in Europe, and the question has arisen in connection therewith as to what the labors of the British monarch really were.

It may therefore be as well to explain that the King has hundreds of documents to sign on every day of the year, Sundays included. It must be borne in mind that as a general principle no administrative act by the Government and no act of Parliament is valid in the eyes of the law until it receives the sign manual of the Sovereign. Everything done by the Government of the day in behalf of the state and in the name of the nation is a sovereign act, no matter how trivial it may be, and a sovereign act cannot be complete and therefore valid until it has received the Sovereign's signature. Fifteen years ago it was estimated by competent authorities that the number of documents receiving the signature of Queen Victoria averaged at least sixty thousand a year. That would give about two hundred for each week day throughout the entire twelve months. Since that time documents requiring the sign manual of the British Sovereign have enormously increased, and it is probable that to-day the papers which King Edward is obliged to sign average between four hundred and five hundred a day. Let my readers imagine what this means, especially when it is borne in mind that the royal, or imperial sanction cannot be lightly given, and that neither King Edward nor the German Kaiser nor the rulers of Austria, Italy and Denmark will affix their names to any document without having fully mastered its contents. During the early part of the reign of Queen Victoria she was accustomed to rely entirely upon the discretion and judgment of her Ministers and to sign without reading the papers submitted to her for signature by her constitutional advisers. But one day she was dismayed to find that she had given her royal sanction to a measure of which she most strongly disapproved and which she knew to be wrong. From that time forth she made a point of never signing any paper until she had satisfied herself as to its purpose and probable consequence.

The commission of every officer of the army and navy and the diplomatic corps, from admirals of the fleet, field marshals and ambassadors down to the most youthful subaltern or beardless attache, requires the signature of the King, whose approval is likewise necessary to the draft of every important despatch sent out by the Department of Foreign Affairs. All the more important appointments administrative as well as judicial, must have the Sovereign's written consent. No one can relieve the Sovereign of this particular portion of his work. Any cessation of it would throw out of gear the entire administrative machinery of the Empire. In the first few days that followed the demise of Queen Victoria, King Edward was occupied literally day and night in reading and signing the thousands of documents of one kind and another that had accumulated during the few days of his venerable mother's brief illness.

The giving of these signatures, arduous as is the work entailed when a monarch is conscientious, constitutes but a part of the day's business. The German and Austrian rulers require their Cabinet Ministers to make at least twice a week verbal reports of all important matters concerning their departments, in addition to their written communications. Queen Victoria insisted upon this only in the case of the Foreign Office, but King Edward demands that he should be kept informed about all matters of moment, and he is constantly calling upon this Minister or that Government official to furnish him with special reports. Not a day passes without several Government functionaries being received in audience, and the interview is usually followed by some action on the part of the Sovereign or of the dignitary in question. Then there are interviews to be granted to foreign envoys, to persons connected with the administration of the royal household, as well as to men eminent in art, literature and science. It must be borne in mind that each of these audiences means the discussion of important business, for people are not in the habit of seeking interviews with rulers of nations in order to indulge in mere small talk, immunity from which, indeed, is one of the few advantages enjoyed nowadays by monarch.

Throughout the entire day and oftentimes far into the night there is a constant succession of messages arriving for the Sovereign. In London, as also in Berlin and Vienna, the Minister of Foreign Affairs is under orders to transmit to the monarch immediately on its arrival a copy of every despatch that arrives from abroad, either by telegraph or by mail, and the reading and discussion of these despatches alone constitutes a tax upon royal time and energy.

Advice For Lovers.

One the introduction is over it remains mainly with the man to make the most of his advantages. He will bring her father rare cuttings for his garden, or introduce him to a choice brand of cigars. He will lend her motor books, or teach small Tommy to ride a bicycle. As to the lady of his heart, he will begin by sharing her pursuits only as a means to an end, for when love-making once steps in, other pursuits are neglected. This transition stage requires great tact. He must not startle her by too sudden a development. The average girl likes to have time to enjoy being wooed and won. She basks in the gradual unfolding of his love; she rejoices over each new phase of their courtship.—The Etiquette of Engagement and Marriage (London).

NOCTURNE.

Up to her chamber window
A slight wire trellis goes,
And up this Romeo's ladder
Clambers a bold white rose.

I lounge in the lilex shadows;
I see the lady lean,
Unclasping her silken girdle,
The curtain folds between.

She smiles on her white rose lover;
She reaches out her hand
And helps him in at the window—
I see it where I stand!

To her scarlet lip she holds him
And kisses him many a time—
Ah, me, it was he that won her
Because he dared to climb!

ENGLISH TRAVELING SALESMEN.

"Traveling men in England have special dining rooms, special rates and special lots of things," said E. K. Simmons, of Manchester, England.

"When you go into the lobby of an English hotel you may be surprised to find a great open fire burning in one end of the room. Great comfortable chairs will be found about the lobby and you need not exclaim if you see several salesmen smoking long pipes and reposing their stockinged feet upon large footstools. Empty shoes can be found in many portions of the room.

"The English lobby is a parlor or sitting room, a place of comfort, and in no instance bears the stiff, varnished, emblazoned appearance of your Canadian hostelries. When you go to the dining-room you may be surprised to hear the clerk ask if you are a traveling man. If you are you are ushered into a simply but homely furnished room containing one long table. The apartment is more like a private dining-room, and everybody is everybody else's friend.

"The meal is especially served, the waiters show especial deference, and everything bears a tone of home life. As each man leaves the table he is seen to drop a halfpenny in a little box. This is an unwritten law of the land, and the money thus collected goes to pay for schools and orphanages for the children of traveling salesmen who die without leaving sufficient means for their support. Several of these schools and orphanages are maintained throughout England.

"English traveling salesmen take life easier than do the men following a similar occupation in Canada. They never think of entering a man's store with a lighted cigar, and they would as soon forget to wear a collar or coat as to expect to do business with a man without having their shoes carefully polished. All hotels look to this and a 'boots' gets your shoes each night, marks them with chalk, polishes them and returns them before you are awake the next day."

Municipal Socialism In England.

Our municipal authorities evidently have determined to act the part of universal providers. The new edition of the "Municipal Year Book" gives an amazing record of their activities, says The London Daily Mail.

In many instances the local authorities are now the largest employers of labor. Thus, the London County Council, in one department alone, employs not far short of 4,000 men.

The scope of the activity of the boroughs is amazing. Merthyr Tydfil not only manages a municipal farm, but reports that "a good profit is earned each year." Brighton and Chester both own race courses, to the benefit of the rates. One borough does a good trade in municipal fish manure.

Lincoln proudly boasts that it is part owner of a lunatic asylum. Colchester disposes of over 1,500,000 oysters a year from its municipal fishing beds. Kingston-on-Thames, the ancient borough, is willing to instruct school children in swimming at a penny a lesson. Hull owns a large share of a railway. Several boroughs boast of their municipal Turkish baths.

The up-to-date workman to-day lives in a municipal house, lit by the penny in the slot municipal electric supply. His wife cooks her meals on municipal gas, and makes her tea with municipal water. The baby is reared on municipal sterilized milk and nursed in a municipal creche. The children go to a municipal school. The father rides to his municipal employment in a municipal electric car. He spends his Saturdays on a municipal race course, and has his weekly swim in a municipal bath, the wife at the same time doing her weekly laundry in the municipal washhouse. When they die they are buried in a municipal cemetery.

Does all this municipal activity pay? An analysis of the figures shows a remarkable variation of cost for the same work in different boroughs. London loses heavily by its council lodging houses; Glasgow, with lower rates, makes them yield a reasonable return. Manchester pays over £50,000 a year from its tramway profits for relief of rates, and places a still larger amount for depreciation. Oldham, despite the fact that it allows nothing for depreciation, shows a loss of over £4,000.

London comes out badly in comparison with the great northern and midland boroughs. The estimated "municipal trading" balance sheet of the County Council for the coming year reveals a loss of about £63,000. The Thames steamboats are largely accountable for this. Much of the housing policy of the County Council has been, to say the least, unfortunate. The total loss for the last year on the building schemes of the council is given as £14,566.

New Postoffice Burned.

Alexandria, March 13.—The new postoffice here, just completed last fall by the Government, was burned early yesterday morning. The building was completely burned out, the brick wall alone standing.

A Little Diplomat.

Prince Edward, the eldest son of the Prince of Wales, is a little diplomat. Upon one occasion the young prince was asked by a little girl at a children's party where he lived. "We live near Whiteley's," added the child, proudly. "Ah," replied Prince Edward, with interest, "that's curious. We live near Gorringe's." Another time a gentleman was telling a long and dull anecdote to Prince Edward and his younger brother, Prince Albert. After a time Prince Albert began to show unmistakable signs of weariness and impatience, at which Prince Edward anxiously nudged him, adding as he did so, "Smile, smile."

Racial Discrimination.

A small French-Italian coasting steamer was proceeding on its way. The passengers were of various nationalities—English, American, French, Italian and one large German. Most of the male passengers were gathered in the smoking room when the steward appeared at the door and with a bow announced, "Dinner, it is serve!"

The English and American contingent arose and started toward the dining saloon. The steward, seeing that his announcement had not been understood by all, continued, "Messieurs, c'est servi!" and as a portion of the passengers still remained seated, "Il pranzo e servito!"

The French and Italians followed the English and Americans, leaving the large German in solitary state.

"Himmel!" he muttered hungrily. "Is it dot no German mans gets somethings to eat on dis boat, hein?"

The English of India.

Applying for a post in the police of the central provinces of India, a native wrote: "I have a good long equiline nose, piercing eyelashes on a semy-globular face and a good physique. My family has a history that takes my imagination back to three pedigrees, when my grandfather was a millioner. With the vissicitude and times matter change and my father was driven to the necessity to accept a schoolmastership. Ultimately he enjoyed his well earned pension by the time he gave up his ghost. In case my aspirations turn out a reality I shall as a matter of course be bound to prey God for your long life and prosperity."

Conger Eels.

Conger eels hunt for the octopus and, when found, proceed to browse on its limbs. The octopus tries to hug the slippery, slimy conger tight, but in vain, and, finding its limbs growing less, discharges its ink in the face of the foe and under cover of the turbid water beats a hasty retreat. It is to escape the too pressing attention of its foes that the octopus possesses the power of changing its color to correspond with that of its surroundings.

THE COURRIERES HORROR.

Paris, March 13.—An additional disaster following yesterday upon the terrible calamity that befell the workers in the coal mine at Courrieres on Saturday has cast its shadow over the stricken town. A party said to consist of 17 men, who went into the mine for the purpose of recovering the bodies of those who perished on Saturday, lost their lives in the undertaking. They had descended in spite of the engineers' warnings against making a further effort.

A gang of 25 Westphalian miners who, it is said, were sent to Courrieres at the express desire of Emperor William, arrived there yesterday with special salvage apparatus, but no further work will be permitted until the mines are cleared of gases, which it is expected will take 48 hours.

The mine companies' latest estimate places the number of victims at 1,060.

"Up From Slavery."

Thomas Burt, who has been recently returned to the House of Commons, went to work as a trapper boy in a colliery in Hazewell, in Durham, at practically 20 cents a day. "My home was two or three miles from the pit," he said, in a chapter of autobiography, some years ago. "I had to get up at 4 in the morning to walk the distance, and the work was so hard during the day that I may really say that I spent my whole time absolutely between work and sleep."

What Colds Lead To.

NOT THE LUNGS ONLY, BUT EVERY ORGAN OF THE BODY IN DANGER FROM NEGLECTED COLDS.

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Most people know that such ailments as pneumonia and consumption have their beginning in a cold but all do not realize that other vital organs of the body are almost equally liable.

Not unfrequently colds settle on the liver or kidneys, causing serious disease of these organs.

In other cases colds run on until the system is run down and exhausted and so left in a fit state to fall a prey to contagious diseases.

The only safe way is to speedily get rid of all colds before they become fastened on the system.

This can best be accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

This medicine has come to be considered indispensable in the family as a cure for colds, bronchitis, croup, asthma and whooping cough.

Mr. John Cook, coachman, of Port Hope, Ont., writes: 'Being exposed to all sorts of weather I frequently catch cold. Last winter I was so bad with a cold that I could not speak above a whisper, and had great pains in the chest. At last I feared that it would develop into consumption if I did not succeed in getting proper treatment. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and I began to improve before I had taken half a bottle. One bottle cured my cold, which I believe would have proven to be very serious, if I had not used this medicine."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book athuor, are on every bottle.

Half A Century Of PRESBYTERIANISM IN Township Of Dummer

An Interesting Historical Review of the Progress of This Denomination in That Township —Was Read at Afternoon Session in Warsaw Yesterday by Rev. D. A. Thompson, Clerk of the Presbytery—Its Remarkable Growth and the Present Satisfactory Condition.

At the afternoon session of the special services in connection with the fiftieth anniversary of the Presbytery in Warsaw, Dr. A. Thomson, of Hastings, clerk of the Presbytery of Peterborough, read an interesting and admirably prepared account of the half century life and history of the church. The report, which was prepared by Mr. Thomson, was as follows:

The history of Presbyterianism in Warsaw and vicinity should be interesting to us all, irrespective of denomination. The day of final reckoning alone will declare the value of any church to a community. In the pioneer days churches were few and the good influences and gentle restraints of the gospel of Christ were often sadly needed. Other influences for evil were at work. The Sabbath day was forgotten, and religious services were, like angels' visits, few and far between. It is indeed a marvel to us, as we look back on these days, how godly men and women kept the altar fire burning. This was the general condition of affairs where there were no regular religious services held and we suppose Warsaw and vicinity were no exception to the general rule. It is, therefore, with interest, we learn of an Episcopal church being erected in 1854 and an Presbyterian church the following year. But we can go back among the thirties of last century and find the Presbyterian church doing its best to meet existing wants of its people. The first name is that of Rev. Mr. Colquhoun. We learn that Mr Colquhoun was sent out by the Church of Scotland as an ordained missionary in these parts. He arrived at Cobourg somewhere in the thirties, and we can imagine better than describe his journey through the bush to Cottsloe, where he finally settled. Cottsloe still bears the name of the reverend pioneer, and is known by most of us as "Colquhoun's Corners" His home was there, but that was just the centre of a wide parish, ranging from Warsaw to Keene, and included besides these, Dummer, Norwood, Westwood, Lakefield and Hastings. Hastings was then known as "Crook's Rapids." Such an extensive parish in these days of pioneer work entailed much toilsome travel, over very imperfect roads and even where there were no roads at all.

After Mr. Colquhoun came Dr. McLeish, who seems to have been sent out by the Presbyterian Church of Ireland. The doctor is described as a man tall, strong and stately. Some stories are still told of his physical ability to eject unruly worshippers without much trouble. On one occasion a man began to use rough language in the office of Messrs. Fowlds, Hastings. Dr. McLeish asked the man to stop such language or leave the office, but the man defied the doctor, and presently found himself on the other side of the office door, and quieted down. The doctor was a man of great mental ability, and of spiritual power as well. During Dr. McLeish's time it would appear that as far as the history of Warsaw is concerned, divine service was held at intervals in 1838. The services were then held in a frame mill. From the mill the people moved to a more suitable building known as the Warsaw Temperance Hall in 1830. Information, however, is very scarce concerning the church in these days. Meanwhile, it is evident that Warsaw must have cast the Free Church party at the disruption in 1854. There is nothing definite or reliable, however, till we come down to 1854. In August 29th of that year we find it on record that a grant of land was donated to the Free Church at Warsaw by Zacsheus Burnham. At this time Hon. Isaac Buchannan was offering a gift to all such churches, but there is no record of having received anything from that source. At this time the trustees of the church were Hugh McFee, John Bissett and Walter Douglas. They were apparently empowered to go on and build a suitable church and the contract was given to Thomas Choate, April 5th, 1854. Building operations must have been considerably delayed for the church was not ready for service till August 18th of the following year. The cost of the building is given at £157 or $780. At the time of the church opening the session was composed of Messrs. James McFee, David Smith, Alexander Kidd; John Hendren and Mr. Harper. Yet it would appear from subsequent records that the Warsaw congregation was not erected into a regular charge till 1866. We find it on record that on April 30th of the year the Presbytery of Cobourg met and organized Warsaw and Lakefield into one pastoral charge, with Rev. Jame Thom as minister.

The statistical returns for that year are interesting, as showing that Warsaw congregation had 105 members and 280 names as contributors. They gave $7.98 towards Home Mission Work, and raised for all purposes a total of $207.98. The Sabbath school was then in a flourishing condition, for it has no less than 266 scholars on its roll. It was, however, a Sabbath school of the good old days, when old and young felt alike the need of Bible study. In this important respect the former times were better than these. May we not hope and pray for a revival of such times.

The writer is almost certain that he is personally acquainted with Mr. Thom, the Presbyterian minister of Warsaw and Lakefield at this time. If he is correct, then Mr. Thom is still living and at present residing in Toronto. After serving the Presbyterian cause for some years he joined the Methodist church. His reason for so doing was his belief in an itinerant system. He though three years a long enough pastorate. He has been an honored minister of the Methodist church ever since, and was superannuated only some five years ago.

The Rev. Mr. Bonnar sent out by the Free Church of Scotland to take charge of Norwood and Hastings was interim moderator of Warsaw congregation during the vacancy following Mr. Thom's resignation. The Rev. Mr. Paul ministered for a time during this period, and the rest of the time the pulpit was supplied by students. The vacancy seemed to last beyond the year of the union of all the Presbyterian churches in Canada, and in that year the Presbytery of Cobourg was changed to the Presbytery of Peterborough. About this time Lakefield and North Smith became a pastoral charge, and Warsaw was again attached to South Dummer.

On the 21st of February, 1877, we find the Rev. W. White happily settled as minister of Warsaw and South Dummer. Here Mr. White labored faithfully till May, 1881, when he retired on account of his health from active work of the ministry. Mr. White then made his home in Peterborough, and was much esteemed by all who knew him. During the vacancy which followed Mr. White's retirement the church in Dummer was closed for some time. During that time the hornets took possession of the building. The Presbytery apparently thought the yellow jacket had had possession long enough and authorized the Rev. Nathaniel Clark, minister of Lakefield, to go over and re-open the church. Mr. Clark narrated his experience to the writer something like this: "There was a large nest of hornets we could not see under the pulpit. The heating of the church roused the dormant yellow jacks. They thought summer had come again and they gave us a lively time. They flew in all directions and made most pulpit and pews most uncomfortable. By a supreme effort, but with little comfort, we got through the service without a hitch until it came to the closing psalm. Sandy, the precentor, was near the end of the psalm, when Mr Clark saw a hornet making its progress toward Sandy's neck. He hoped it would not reach its destination before the benediction was pronounced and so it did. Yet up it crawled, and Sandy, all unconscious of the enemy closed the psalm in his usual good style. The benediction, however, was but half way through when Sandy gave a cry of pain and all that was heard of the rest of the benediction was a feeble "Amen."

About a year and a half, Warsaw was vacant until it called Rev. Peter Fleming. Mr. Fleming was settled on Nov. 14, 1882. Mr. Fleming was a good preacher and an energetic worker. He had just come from Scotland, where his fame as a city missionary in Glasgow was well and favorably known. His pastorate here was short for in May, 1885, he accepted a call to Laskey and West King, in the Presbytery of Toronto.

After being two years vacant, the Rev. Richard Hyde was called, and settled in May, 1887. The manse had up to this time been in South Dummer, but it was deemed advisable to have the minister reside at Warsaw. The manse and glebe at South Dummer were then sold, and the present manse built at Warsaw. Mr. Hyde was therefore the first minister to occupy the manse, and reside in Warsaw. After fourteen years as pastor of Warsaw and Dammer, Mr. Hyde resigned his charge at a meeting of Presbytery held in Omphall and September 17, 1901. The session was then composed of Messrs. Alexander Smith, Hugh McFee, Donald McIntosh, W. J. Kidd and Michael Barr. After a comparatively short vacancy you were again pleasantly and happily settled when your present pastor was duly inducted on April 8th, 1902. Rev. W. L. Atkinson and his excellent wife have done good work among you. We all join in wishing restored health and strength to Mrs. Atkinson and years of usefulness among you for your esteemed pastor, Mr. Atkinson. In August, 1902, two more names were added to the roll of session, viz., Messrs John Rose and J. W. Reid.

WARRANT SWORN OUT.

Toronto World Reporter Charged With Serious Theft of a Government Document—The University Bill.

Toronto, March 13—(Globe Special).—Charged with stealing a "document, the property of the Ontario Government, containing certain information," a warrant was yesterday issued for the arrest of C. McIntosh Fisher, a reporter on The Toronto World. Last night the police were looking for Fisher, but were unable to locate him, and at 2 o'clock this morning the warrant had not been executed.

Yesterday morning The World published a lengthy story of what it declared in its headlines was the report of the University Commission. The story was given with great detail and apparent authentication, although it was subsequently repudiated by the secretary of the commission, Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, who said it was not an official report. It was evident, however, that official information had leaked out in some manner, and the members of the commission held an investigation yesterday morning, with the result that the warrant was issued.

The information in the warrant is sworn to by Messrs. Warwick Bros. & Rutter, printers, who have a contract for the Government printing, and who at the time were working upon an important public document, said to be a portion of the bill relating to the University of Toronto, which is shortly to be presented to the Legislature.

INDIA'S FAMINE SUFFERINGS.

Ireland In 1847 Lost Million and a Half Out of Eight.

It has been calculated that more than 2,000 persons starved to death in Spain last summer. The famine was due to the drought. Horrifying as are these figures, the Spanish mortality occupies an unimportant place in the record of the world's great famines.

In the great famine in India in 1769-70, 3,000,000 people are supposed to have perished, and 1,500,000 died in the famine of 1866.

In 1873 the rice crop in the district of Behar, in Northwestern Bengal, yielded only a quarter of the average harvest, and as 15,000,000 people were dependent on this crop for sustenance the Government was obliged to make purchases of rice, chiefly in farther India, and provide means of conveying it to the districts, including the building of a railway forty-five miles long. For a long time 3,000,000 people received daily support, either in alms, in work or in loans. This relief was continued from October, 1873, till December, 1874.

In this way the Government expended $32,000,000. Donations also, amounting to more than $1,000,000, were contributed by private subscription.

In 1876 both of the monsoons failed to bring their due supply of rain, and the season of 1877 was little better. The consequence of this prolonged drought, which extended from the Deccan to Cape Comorin, and subsequently invaded Northern India, was more disastrous than any similar calamity up to that time since the introduction of British rule. Notwithstanding unparalleled importations of grain by sea and rail, and despite the most strenuous exertions of the Government, which expended about $55,000,000 for the purpose, the loss of life from actual starvation and its attendant train of diseases and want in the distressed tracts, in excess of the normal mortality, for two years, 1876-78, is estimated to have raised the death rate by 40 per cent., or 5,250,000.

Great famines have occurred in Persia in recent years and Russia has had many during the past century, but the most terrible famine in recent times was the Irish famine of 1845-47. Ireland had at that time a population of about eight and a half millions, and it was largely dependent upon the potato crop.

The crop of 1845 was a partial failure, and the peasantry, who had no surplus food or former harvests to fall back upon, were compelled to take clothing and household furniture to the pawnshops to purchase food and seed for the next harvest. Unfortunately the crop of 1846 was a total failure and absolute ruin and starvation threatened the whole population. The Government was slow in taking adequate relief measures, and great numbers died for want of food and from disease caused by lack of proper sustenance. Several million dollars were raised by private subscription and the Government contracted a loan of £8,000,000 to supply the wants of the suffering people.

When the full extent of the calamity was realized the British Government and people did everything possible, and large sums of money and shiploads of provisions were sent from this country. At one time 3,000,000 Irish people were receiving rations. A million and a half of people died of starvation and disease.

The Indian famine of 1896-97 was the most severe ever known in that famine afflicted country. The great famine of 1877 affected 257,000 square miles and 58,000,000 people. That of 1897 affected 222,000 square miles and 68,000,000 people. The highest number receiving relief in 1877 was 3,178,000, while in 1897 more than 4,500,000 were being aided during the month of June.

Who Cannot Be an M. P.

The British House of Commons is limited by a statute of 1885 to 670 members, of whom 377 represent counties, 284 represent cities and boroughs, and 9 represent universities. Every male native or fully naturalized subject of the British Empire is eligible for election, provided he is 21 years old.

But there are these exceptions. An English Church clergyman, a minister of the Church of Scotland, or a Roman Catholic priest cannot be elected an M. P. Neither can a sheriff or, returning officer for the district for which he acts. Also debarred are some who have committed felonies, or been declared bankrupts, paupers, or insane.

Judges of the superior courts or of the county courts are ineligible.

Any member, who personally or through being a partner in an unlimited firm holds a Government contract, is liable to very heavy penalties if he sits or votes.

As for Peers of the Realm, they are most of them eligible for seats in the House of Commons. A Peer of England is ineligible. A Peer of Scotland gets into the House of Lords if he is one of the sixteen elected by the Scotch peerage each Parliament, but he cannot get into the House of Commons.

Irish Peers, however, elect twenty-eight of their number as members of the House of Lords for life. The remainder, if not also British Peers, are eligible to represent an English or a Scotch constituency in the House of Commons. That is how a Peer is sometimes also an M. P.

THESE ARE THE CHAMPIONS---THE EIGHT MEN WHO HAVE, BY THEIR SKILL AND GOOD PLAY, BROUGHT FAME TO THE ELECTRIC CITY

A BRILLIANT FUNCTION

---WAS THE BANQUET TO---

PETERBORO' HOCKEY TEAM

A Thoroughly Representative Gathering Was Held Last Night at the Oriental Hotel---Citizens Unite in Their Efforts to Show Appreciation of Work of the Team---Presentations Were Made to Players---Rings From the Citizens.

THE TEAM THAT WAS HONOURED

Goal—W. E. Wasson.
Point—R. M. Glover.
Cover Point—W. Crowley.
Rover—F. Whitcroft. (Capt)
Centre—Harry Morgan.
Right Wing—C. G. Graham.
Substitute—McVille Moore.

This is the team that won the Intermediate O. H. A. Championship. They were "it" in the strictest sense of the word last night at one of the most successful and thoroughly enjoyable banquets in the history of Peterborough—that given by the citizens to the members of the team which brough the honour to the city.

The use of the word successful in this connection is not in the conventional form. It was in reality, and from every standpoint a thoroughly delightful function, one at which the guests and the entertainers were perfectly free and everyone felt at home. It is doubtful if in the history of sport a more spontaneous popular recognition has been given to any team winning the championship in any line than that which was accorded the members of the hockey team. There is no mistaking the fact that the citizens are proud of the achievements of the team. That was demonstrated last night, as was also the fact that the players have a due sense of appreciation of the kindly feeling which the citizens entertain towards them. It was a love-feast of the old fashioned kind. Everybody was in good humour, and they allowed their good humour to find expression, and if the players, the chairman, the speakers — everybody in fact, don't know that "They're Jolly, Good Fellows," it is not because they weren't told so often enough last night. They lived up to their reputation in this respect too.

Good Season's Record.

It was a fitting climax to a season's record which has been one continual round of victories for the local team, and the players will close the season with not only the personal satisfaction that they have proved themselves good sports, but with the knowledge emphatically expressed, that the public know that they have conducted themselves as gentlemen.

The gathering last night was a notable one in a number of respects, not the least of which was the fact that the three executive officers of the O. H. A., D. L. Darroch, President; W. A. Hewitt, Secretary, and A. W. Macpherson, Treasurer, were present and assisted in showing honour to the champions. And the gathering sang "He's a Jolly, Good Fellow," as each of these gentlemen rose to speak just as heartily as if they hadn't been "sore" at their action in ordering the team to play three hard games in a week and travel nearly quarter of the way across the continent to do it. They evidently believe that "all's well that ends well." But, as a matter of fact, they justified their right to be called "jolly, good fellows," last night. Dave Darroch knows a thing or two besides hockey; he knows how to tell a story, and how to tell it well, too. The general impression was that he was a pretty decent sort of chap after all, and his views on the game of hockey and the spirit in which it should be played, if followed out by all the teams in the O.H.A., would result in an elevation of the standard of hockey.

Congratulatory speeches were, of course, the order of the night, and the members of the team heard a good many complimentary things said of themselves.

Presentations.

Three presentations were made. The President of the O.H.A. presented the members of the team with sterling silver medals, in French grey finish with the inscription, "Intermediate O.H.A. Championship, won by Peterborough, 1906," with the name of each player engraved, on behalf of the citizens Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., gave them each a gold ring, also suitably engraved, while Mr. T. E. Bradburn, on behalf of Mr. T. H. Adams, presented them with cushion tops with the word, Peterborough, painted on hockey sticks in the Club's colours, blue and white.

The dining room of the Oriental Hotel, in which the banquet was held was tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion, with flags and bunting, and the Club's colours were prominent in all the decorations. The cuisine service was of the best, and was prepared and served in faultless manner, this popular hotel once more doing itself credit.

In addition to the addresses, of which there were a number, songs and recitations were given. A pleasing feature of the evening was a presentation to the trainer, Mr. W. Breen, to whose untiring efforts the team owes much of its success, of a handsome gold watch from the players, the presentation being made by Mr. H. Morgan.

Those Present.

Those present at the function last night were:—Hon. J. R. Stratton, chairman, and toastmaster; D. L. Darroch, President O.H.A.; W. A. Hewitt, Secretary; A. W. Macpherson, Treasurer; R. R. Hall, M.P.; T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.; F. J. Whitcroft, Captain, hockey team, and Messrs. W. E. Wasson, R. M. Glover, W. Crowley, M. Moore, H. Morgan, W. Cavanah and C. G. Graham, members of the Peterborough hockey team; B. W. Hatley, Orillia; John C. Miller, Orillia; H. C. Brundrette, Port Hope; W. T. McLean, Port Hope; Thos. J. Boyd, F. A. Clarke, Walter Stocker, Max Hamilton, R. H. Bradburn, E. Burtubuise, F. D. Kerr, W. H. Hill, W. G. Morrow, Wm. Pringle, W. W. Armstrong, J. N. Barber, D. C. Gilmour, Jos. Gibson, R. M. Waddell, A. M. COUNCIL GRANTS REQUEST

OF THE SCHOOL BOARD FOR

$35,000 FOR NEW SCHOOL

Members of the Board Waited on the Council in Committee of the Whole Last Night and the Situation Was Thoroughly Explained---Absolute Necessity for Relieving the Congestion of the Schools Was Strongly Emphasized.

The Board of Education last night asked and received authority to go ahead with the erection of a new public school in the south end of the city, and a by-law was passed by the council furnishing the funds necessary for this purpose. The Board waite on the Council, in the Committee of the Whole, and the entire matter was carefully gone through, after which it was decided by the Council at their subsequent meeting, to grant the request of the Board.

There were present at the joint meeting His Worship Mayor Best in the chair. (Ald. Adams, Hicks, Johnston, McIntyre, Elliott, Graham, Duncan, McWilliams and Ball. Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, Wm. Pringle, W. H. Hill, D. W. Dumble, Dr. Morrison, B. F. Ackerman, Robt. Fair and W. G. Morrow, of the Board of Education.

His Worship briefly explained the object of calling the meeting and then asked Mr. Ferguson, chairman of the Board, to open the discussion.

Mr. Ferguson said that to relieve the public schools it was proposed to build a school in the south ward. The best lot located was one owned by the Ontario Bank, under the understanding that George street would be extended that way. That lot was offered for $4,000. The Board thought that the extra space might be used as a park. A twelve-room school, with eight rooms finished, was the plan entered into by the Board. The cost of the school and land would be $35,000, while an eight-room school would cost $30,000, then to extend the latter would cost $8000, so that the cheaper plan would be to build the twelve-room school. The building would be a three storey school with the top storey unfurnished.

Mr. Pringle, the chairman of the Property Committee of the School Board, exhibited the plans for the new building and explained them to the members of the committee.

Mr. Pringle said that the architect had estimated that the school would cost $24,000, the land $4,000, the architect's fees, etc., $2,000, and $5,000 for extending the school.

The schools were never more largely attended. The North Ward and George street schools were full and the Central comfortably filled. The West Ward school, with four rooms, had 194 pupils. The South Central school had over 60 pupils in one room and a total attendance of over 480 pupils. The city was losing money, owing to the crowded schools. Many of the teachers were unable to teach at all.

Out of the South Central and West Ward there could be taken 150 pupils now and at Easter there would be a large influx of pupils. If an eight-room school was built at the beginning of September, six of those rooms would be occupied. Four rooms could be filled to-day and there was little sense in building anything less than a twelve-room school. An eight-room school fill present needs, but a twelve-room building would soon be needed. To build it now would be a big saving to the city.

The site was the best. The Laplante lot was well situated, but the price of it was greater than that of the Ontario Bank. The latter would be of advantage as there was a way for the pupils to get in from George street and Park street.

It was the intention that the third book classes should be taken out of the West Ward School and that building left for the lower grades alone.

The mayor thought it wise to get all plans prepared before asking for money to present only rough estimates had been prepared.

He asked the Board if they wanted the matter put before the people.

Mr. W. H. Hill said that the school had been wanted for years. One year the All Saint's church had been rented and later the Menzie's school had been hired. He pointed out the difficulties encountered by the teachers. The Board considered that grading in at twelve-room school was better than in any other school and there was better work done. The whole idea was centralization of the schools.

With regard to heating, there would be great saving with a twelve-room school. With four small schools there would have to be four sets of heaters. A twelve-room school would not cost more than two four room schools. The saving in salaries would also be great. The twelve-room school was cheaper and better in every way.

The only way to have it prepared by September was for the Council to supply the money. If it had to go to the people it would delay the work, but if the Council gave the money the work could be commenced by April 1st, and would be finished by September 1st. If the Normal School came here the schools would have to be better equipped than at present.

Ald. Adams asked why the Board did not finish the whole thing at once.

Mr. Dumble said that notwithstanding the architect's opinion, he thought that the building could be completed for $35,000. In Winnipeg they were building twelve-room schools, Stratford had five or six schools with from ten to twelve rooms. The schools of Peterborough were no credit to the city. The oldest school in the city was the best. He spoke of the South Ward school as an ugly building, and the West Ward school was built on the street and the children were a nuisance. New York was spending millions to make playgrounds for children. By buying the Ontario Bank lot there would be plenty of room for a playground and also for a little park for the people of the south end of the city. He was strongly in favour of a twelve-room school, and didn't think that the people would object to the expenditure for public school purposes.

The mayor asked what would be done if the citizens were opposed to the expenditure, and if a bylaw was voted down. He asked if the Board had the power to go on when the people opposed it, and was assured that they had.

He assured the Board that their request would receive careful attention and the meeting then adjourned.

When the matter came up at the special meeting of the Council held afterwards, the aldermen were unanimous in the opinion that the request of the Board should be granted. They felt that the school was an absolute necessity and that even if the matter was referred to the people and the latter expressed themselves as opposed to the project the Board could still go ahead with the work.

Ald. Duncan was of the opinion that the Council should recommend that the building should be completed and not left with the upper storey unfinished, as had been suggested by the Board. It was, however, explained that the Council could not dictate to the Board in the matter.

After a short discussion it was moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that the request of the School Board be granted, and that a by-law be prepared for issuing debentures for $35,000 for that purpose. —Carried.

Council Determined

IF POSSIBLE TO PUT A STOP

To The Cigarette Evil

Ald. Ball's By-law to Regulate the Sale by Making Dealers Take Out License Was Introduced Last Night —Matter Was Thoroughly Discussed But Was Left Over Until the Next Meeting—Aldermen are in Sympathy With Spirit of By-law.

One of the features at the special meeting of the council held last night was the introduction of Ald. Ball's by-law to regulate the sale of cigarettes by compelling dealers to take out a license. The bylaw caused a good deal of discussion among the Aldermen who were of the unanimous opinion that it was a step in the right direction. The council as a whole is determined to do something to stop the evil and the only difficulty is arriving at the most feasible plan by which this can be effected. Ald. Ball's bylaw which was seconded by Ald. Duncan, was shelved until the next meeting. In the meantime the subject will receive the attention of the council and it is quite likely that a bylaw which will have a good effect in diminishing the sale of cigarettes to a great extent and particularly to children, will be passed.

The bylaw introduced by Ald. Ball provided that dealers should be compelled to take out a license, and the second clause placed the fee at fifty dollars per year.

In the discussion that followed the reading of the bylaw Ald. Mason thought it better if possible to make it prohibitory to bring in cigarettes at all.

Ald. McWilliams didn't think that it was possible to prevent hotels from handling cigarettes as it was one of their privileges under the License Act.

Ald. Mason again said that he would like to see cigarettes prohibited altogether and to have it made unlawful to bring them into Peterborough.

The Mayor was of the opinion that the Council did not have the power to do this. In putting on a fine he thought that the Council would simply cut off the small dealers and give all the trade to the big tobacco merchants.

Ald. Elliott thought that $50 was far too small a license fee. If it was desired to stop the evil the fee should be made $500.

Ald. Ball said that the danger came from the small stores in the outskirts of the city, not from the big dealers. It was from the corner groceries that the children obtained their cigarettes. Dealers had informed him that they did not desire to handle cigarettes and that they were of no benefit to them.

Some of the aldermen questioned the advisability of cutting off tobacconists and driving the trade into the hotel. It was decided to leave the matter over until the next meeting.

17 1-2 Mills Was The Rate

COUNCIL DECIDED TO

Strike For This Year

Ald. Mason's Motion Went Through Although Strong Opposition Was Offered by Mayor Best—Matter Had to be Decided by The Casting Vote of Ald. McWilliams—$100 Salary For His Honor Judge Weller as Police Commissioner.

A special meeting of the City Council was held last night, at which a considerable amount of business was transacted. Probably the most important matter was the passing of the estimates and the fixing of the rate at 17 1-2 mills on the dollar. Ald. Mason carried his point in regard to the rate, although he encountered considerable opposition from Mayor Best and others of the council, who did not want to see the rate lowered. The matter was voted on, and had to be settled by the casting vote of Ald. McWilliams, who was in the chair at the moment. Other business done was the passing of bylaws providing for the execution of a new agreement with the Water Commissioners; fixing the salary of Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer; and providing for street watering. The Police Commissioners also occupied the attention of the council, and His Honour Judge Weller, was voted a salary of $100 per year.

There were present His Worship Mayor Best, in the chair; Ald. McWilliams, Adams, Duncan, Ball, Graham, Elliott, Mason, Hicks, McIntyre and Johnston.

The minutes of the last meeting were on motion taken as read. Several communications in reference to local improvements were read, after which reports were presented from the Fire, Water and Light Committee and the Committee of the Whole.

Bylaws Passed.

It was moved by Ald. Mason, seconded by Ald. Hicks, that a bylaw be passed, authorizing the execution of an agreement with the Water Commissioners, for the city's water supply. The bylaw was passed.

It was moved by Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. Mason, that a bylaw be passed providing for the watering of certain streets or parts of streets, the cost to be provided for by taxing the assessed real property thereon. This bylaw was passed without opposition.

A bylaw moved by Ald. Mason, and seconded by Ald. Hicks, fixing the salary of Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, at $400 per annum, was passed without delay.

Deciding the Rate.

The chief discussion of the evening arose over the deciding on the rate.

Ald. Mason moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks, that a bylaw be passed auth-

THE SPEECHES.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, who acted as toastmaster, in opening that part of the programme, conveyed the regret of His Worship, the Mayor, at his inability to be present. An important meeting of the City Fathers detained him.

The first toast proposed was that to the king, which was duly honoured.

Hon. Mr. Stratton, referring to the object of the gathering, said that it was the result of the desire of the citizens to show appreciation of the excellent work of the team in landing the Intermediate O. H. A. championship. He spoke of the exemplary conduct of the members composing the team, both on and off the ice, and said they were young men of whom the city had every reason to be proud. The citizens had heard no whining from the players when they were not treated as they should have been, perhaps, and when they brought back with them, after a hard trip, marks of abuse. Hockey was a good game to develop true manhood. It gave men ability to take hard knocks and come up smiling. He was pleased to be able to congratulate them on winning the intermediate championship. He welcomed Mr. Darroch as head of the O. H. A., to Peterborough. This city is now known all over the continent and across the seas as well, and the hockey team had done its share to bring fame to Peterborough. He hoped the example set by the hockey team would be followed by other young men in the city. He concluded by proposing the toast of the Peterborough Hockey Team, which was heartily honoured, and "They're Jolly Good Fellows" enthusiastically sung.

Mr. D. L. Darroch.

Mr. D. L. Darroch, President of the O. H. A., was glad of the opportunity of visiting Peterborough, and of congratulating personally the intermediate champions on their victory. Speaking of the O. H. A. generally, he said that the season was started under difficulties. But after they got fairly under way Jack Frost went back on them. Under the circumstances they had gotten through the season very well. He paid a high tribute to Mr. J. Ross Robertson, who, he said, had done more for the cause of amateur hockey in Ontario than any other man in the province.

Peterborough, he said, had a hockey record which was second to none in Canada, and that record was one of which the citizens should be proud. He strongly opposed the growing tendency to professionalism in hockey, which should be a sport and not a business. The one who made it a business was in a short time incapacated for any other business. He deprecated the ambition to win at any cost, which was becoming so general, and which worked to the disadvantage of the game. He complimented the Peterborough team on the glorious close to its season's record. In spite of the fact that three hard games were played in a week, they had won out. He also praised the spirit in which they had carried through their games of the season. Anyone could be a good winner, he said, but it took good sports to be good losers.

Citizens' Appreciation.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., was the next speaker and added his congratulations to the team. He also complimented the team on the sportsmanlike conduct which had characterized their work during the season. The game was one which developed their manhood. On behalf of the citizens he presented each player with a gold ring, suitably engraved, as recognition of their work during the season.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., also spoke along the same lines, congratulating the winners, and presented the cushion tops given by Mr. T. H. Adams.

Mr. W. A. Hewitt, Secretary O.H.A., gave a short, felicitious speech, and proposed the toast to the Junior champions, the Ontarios, of Port Hope, to which Mr. H. C. Brundrette responded.

Mr. A. W. Macpherson, Treasurer of the O.H.A., was the next speaker, and as usual, his words were much appreciated. He paid a tribute to the work of the team.

The presentation of the gold watch to Mr. W. Breen took place at this stage, Mr. H. Morgan making the presentation on behalf of the team, and in response Mr Breen favoured the company with a solo.

Mr. J. C. Miller, of Orillia, who Mr. W. S. Dawdson, dubbed the next President of the C.L.A., responded to the toast to "Sister Sports."

Mr R. M. Glover was called upon to speak on behalf of the team, and thanked the citizens for their support. He said that there was no place where the team went that they received such good treatment as the visiting teams did in Peterborough.

The last toast proposed was that to Hon. J. R. Stratton, by Mr. D. L. Darroch. It was received enthusiastically and Mr. Stratton responded briefly.

During the evening solos were sung by Messrs. W. McIlroy, John Crane, Robert. Henderson, Alex. Elliott and W Breen. Mr. Geo. Lynch gave a recitation and Mr. Darroch told a number of stories, which showed that he was a past master at this art. Miss Katie Graham played the accompaniment and also rendered a number of instrumental selections during the progress of the banquet.

Mr. R. M. Roy took a flashlight picture of the gathering before the speech-making.

Peterborough Provided For In The Estimates

Despatches from Ottawa to-day give the estimates for the year ending March 31st, 1907, and it will be seen that Peterborough is pretty well provided for in the estimated expenditure.

The items of special interest to this city are: Trent Canal construction, $175,000. Improvements on last branch of Holland River to Newmarket, $100,000. Trent Canal improvements, $15,000.

Under the head of public buildings there are these items: Peterborough Armoury, $20,000. Peterborough public buildings additions and improvements, $4,000.

For dredging the Otonabee River a grant of $7,000 is provided for in the estimates.

Impressive Talk On London Waifs

Given by Rev. Canon Dixon Last Night at St. John's.

A large number assembled in St. John's Sunday School room last night to hear the address of the Rev. Canon Dixon on the "Waifs of London." His discourses have all been of a very interesting and profitable character, are eagerly listened to and produce a permanent effect, and the one delivered by him last night was no exception.

In the absence of Rev. Canon Davidson, the speaker of the evening was introduced by Mr. Jas. Bell.

The address which took the form of a story tracing the lives of two waifs of London, Wops and Tickle, was treated in a very masterly manner by Canon Dixon. It was made more impressive by the addition of stereopticon views which vividly portrayed the pathetic looking persons and scenes on which the story is based. The pictures were under the supervision of the Rev. Mr. Major, Rector of All Saints.

The speaker pointed out the fact that although these homeless and wretched street arabs are deep in poverty yet there is a certain honourable strain among them which is too often lacking in persons of better circumstance. He illustrated this phase of their character by telling of the many sacrifices that Wops made for his pal Tickle. His character sketches were given with such distinctness that he proved himself an apt scolar of human nature. His delivery and articulation evidenced much care and his vocabulary was chosen with the greatest of consideration and appropriately described the melancholy and pathetic scenes with which the story abounded. A humourous strain at times added a pleasing tinge to the lecture, and produced amusement and laughter. The moral of the address also was very prominent, the story demonstrating how impressive song will sometimes lead a person from the paths of wrong.

Intervening the different parts of the lecture hymns were thrown on the canvas and were heartily sung by the audience.

The lecture proved to be so interesting and profitable that the admiration for it among the listener never lagged from beginning to end.

Inspector Visited Preston Property

Official Statement Will be Given This Week.

The Building Committee of the County Council in company with Dr. R. Bruce Smith, Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, were in Lakefield yesterday visiting the Preston Farm, the proposed site for the new House of Refuge.

Although Dr. Smith would not make any statement regarding the acceptance of the Preston property last night, as the House of Refuge site, it is generally conceded that he will approve of the County Council's selection. The official statement will be in the hands of the Warden and Clerk within the next two days.

Dr. Smith also viewed the Braden and Strickland properties and made some favourable comments on them, particularly the former.

A party of sixteen young people drove out to Centreville last night to attend the concert given under the auspices of the Young Peoples' Aid Society in connection with the Presbyterian Church of Centreville. Mrs. P. A. Kerr and Miss Ethel Tully of Peterborough, assisted in the programme by rendering two piano duets, and Mr. Duncan Campbell sang five comic songs, which also formed an interesting part of the programme.

The party report a very pleasant outing, and were cordially welcomed by their Centreville friends.

Jos. Rickerby Was Committed

Charge Preferred Against Him By Metropolitan Manufacturing Company.

M. E. Ketcheson, agent for the Metropolitan Manufacturing Company who had Jos. Rickenby arrested on a charge of disposing of certain articles before he had paid for them, according to contract, gave considerable evidence against the prisoner, and on the strength of his testimony the latter was committed for trial. It appears that Rickerby signed five special contracts in favour of the above company, for goods amounting in all to $56 to be paid in instalments of $1 each. The goods were delivered to Rickerby's residence. Ketcheson said he had been unable to collect any money on the sale at all, and that Rickerby had stood him off continually. Rickerby said he would hand over all the goods with the exception of two beds. He met him on the street last Saturday and told Rickenby that he (witness) was held responsible for the goods and that the last day of grace would expire on that day. Witness thinking the matter had gone far enough, swore out a warrant for Rickerby's arrest. His Worship committed the prisoner for trial. Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared on behalf of Rickerby.

Trewern Factory Annual Meeting

Cheese Factory Patrons Elect Their Officers.

The annual meeting of the patrons of Trewern cheese factory was held on Thursday evening, March 8th, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Mr. G. W. Mann, salesman and secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Gordon Mann and Mr. William Pethick, auditors.

Mr. Jas. Fowler and Mr. T. Milburn, arbitrators.

It was decided that the instructor be engaged as usual. Mr. Chittick's offer to manufacture the cheese on the same terms as last year was accepted.

Mr. Thompson Braden, the retiring salesman, was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for the acceptable manner in which he had performed his duties. The factory will commence operations about the last week of April.

Resignation Was Accepted

Rev. Mr. Campbell Gives Up the Pastorship.

At the meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery in St. Paul's church this morning, the resignatoin of Rev. C. A. Campbell, of Lakefield, was considered and accepted. A deputation from Lakefield was also in attendand testified to Mr. Campbell's efficiency as pastor of the Lakefield Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Mr. Campbell will leave about the first of May for the Northwest.

Lactated Food

Saved a Montreal Baby

A few days trial of Lactated Food will convince any intelligent mother that it is the right form of nourishment for her weak and puny baby. No other food can give such prompt and happy results at a time when the little one is hovering between life and death. A Montreal lady last August wrote as follows: — "My baby was so weak and sickly a few weeks ago that we despaired of her life. We tried nourishment of every kind, but could not get anything to remain on her stomach. We heard of Lactated Food, and commenced its use. There was an improvement the very first week, and to-day our baby is well and strong. Lactated Food saved her life." Sold at all Drug Stores.

Girls' Auxiliary Annual Meeting

Live St. Luke's Society Met and Elected Their Officers.

The annual meeting of St. Luke's Girls' Auxiliary took place last night. Reports of the year's work were presented, which showed much progress and activity on the part of girls' work for the cause of missions. Miss Isabel Hay, the indefatigable recording-secretary, gave a very lucid and highly interesting report of the various events in connection with the work during the past year. Miss Stewart, as treasurer, has done valuable work and her report showed a credit balance of $24.50 on hand. Miss Mary McWha, as dorcas secretary, gave account of her work relating to the clothing sent to the mission field. Mrs. W. Boswell, the president, had to resign her position on account of being president of the Woman's Auxiliary. Though doing it reluctantly, she felt that the interests of the G. A. required a president who could devote all her spare time to it. Mrs. Launderville had been elected by the W. A. as president of the G. A., and she hoped that the girls would give their loyal support to the president.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. J. Launderville.

First Vice-President, Miss Mamie Rogers.

Second Vice-President, Miss Emma Gaskins.

Corresponding Secretary, Miss Alice Dawson.

Recording Secretary, Miss Isabel Hay.

Dorcas Secretary, Miss Mary McWha.

Asst. Dorcas Secretary, Miss Mabel Scott.

Treasurer, Miss Lizzie Stewart.

P.M.C. Convenor, Mrs. W. H. Andrews.

Delegates to Annual, Miss L. Stewart, Miss Isabel Hay.

Here After Lapse Of Forty-five Years

Mr. D. W. Chapman of Brighton, who is present as a delegate to the annual meeting of the Supreme Circle, Order of Canadian Home Circles, is a former resident of Peterborough. He has not seen Peterborough before to-day since he left it forty-five years ago, and he says that so far as recognizing anything of the Peterborough he once knew he might as well have been dumped down in the middle of London. He says that the change and improvement in the city are beyond anything he expected to see. At the conclusion of the Home Circle Convention Mr. Chapman will remain a few days to see Peterborough more thoroughly, and possibly discover some old landmarks which will place him in touch with old conditions as he would remember them.

Had a Bad Leg.

"For twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was something dreadful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching, and healed up the sore." — Mr. Alex. McDougall, postmaster, Broad Cove Marsh, N. S.

ENGLISH AND IRISH WIT

GEMS OF REPARTEE COLLECTED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

Dictionary Will Hardly Cause Appreciation of the Difference Between Wit and Humor, But Good Jokes, Though Flavored With Age, Gives Culture In This Direction — Some Good Irish Bulls.

If we haven't the intuition that instantly recognizes wit and humor, it is vain to consult the dictionary as to the difference between them. We may agree with Locke and Addison that wit and humor consist in finding resemblances in unlike ideas to delight and surprise the hearer, or with the Frenchman, who called wit a fusion of smiles and tears.

Whatever our definitions, we always are ready to appreciate wit and humor, so ready iff fact that we are likely to smile before the witticism has been actually uttered.

Jokes From English Literature.

A certain physician comforted a woman (knowing her to be well past 30) who complained that she was near her thirtieth birthday, with:—"Oh, well do not fret; you'll get farther away from it every day."

It was Swift who warned a friend who was extolling the air of overtaxed Ireland: "Hush! If they hear you say that, they'll certainly tax the air."

"That pea will never come to perfection," remarked a young woman, walking through a garden with Sidney Smith.

"Then let me lead perfection to the pea," and he gallantly offered her his arm.

"Marriage," said Smith, "is like a pair of shears, so joined that they cannot be separated, moving in opposite directions, yet punishing everything that comes between them."

"Charles," asked Coleridge, of his old friend, Lamb, "did you ever hear me preach?"

"I never heard you do anything else," was the answer.

"It's a shame to spoil two good things," said Charles Lamb, when some one spoke of mixing brandy and water.

"Have you sufficient confidence to lend me a guinea?" asked Dibdin, the younger, of Jerrold.

"Oh, yes, I've all the confidence; but I haven't the guinea."

"I hear you can make a pun on any subject," said a woman to the irresistible Fox. "Make one on King."

"King is no subject," promptly replied the joker.

Forever Murdering It.

"I don't see why that tune haunts me constantly?" complained a dull man who was always humming.

"Because you are forever murdering it," came the quick reply from Foote.

"How can the blind be happy?" asked some one in the hearing of Charles Matthews.

"Because they see no reason why not."

Theodore Hook replied to some one who asked him to contribute to a society for the conversion of the heathen: "I have no money, but bring along your heathen, and I'll convert him."

"Have you heard that So-and-So is married?" asked some one, speaking of a political opponent.

"I'm glad to hear it; yet," reflectively, "he never really did me any harm."

It was Hook who watched with interest a friend trying to make a pig out of orange peel, in imitation of one made by his neighbor at table. When the imitator failed to accomplish this he apologized for his lack of skill and the many pieces of orange peel he had scattered on the table.

"Oh, well," said Hook, "you haven't failed. Instead of a pig you have made a litter."

When somebody spoke to him of poverty as a virtue, "That's making a virtue of necessity," he retorted.

These are only a few of the bons mots attributed to the Englishmen mentioned; but enough has been said to show that if the average Englishman is slow in understanding a joke, England has had many wits whose powers are above ordinary.

Some Irish Bulls.

Most modern bulls, correctly or not, are attributed to the Irish, and it must be admitted that the Irish excel in repartee, even though no professedly comic paper has ever flourished at Dublin.

"The only way that a true gentleman will ever look at the faults of a pretty woman is not to see them" is a good example of Irish gallantry and Irish blundering. On the whole, Irish humor is more imaginative than any other, and even in repartee there is little of the play on words, though this of Luttrell's is good:

At a crowded dinner when he was asked, "Please make room, if you can."

"Room must certainly be made," he answered, "for it doesn't exist at this table."

According to our ideas of Irish humor, it might have been at an Hibernian court that the following incident occurred:

"If you go on in that way," said the prisoner to his lawyer, "I know they'll hang me."

"Never mind if they do," was the consoling reply. "I'll make them repent it."

But it wasn't of necessity an Irish second wife who replied to her husband's eulogy of her predecessor: "No one regrets her death more than I do."

We can justifiably doubt a retort like this, just as we may doubt the story of the dying courtier who prayed that he might live until he had paid his debts.

"Then you'll be sure never to die," said the friend who stood near him.

Why He Shouldn't Worry.

"I owe you a grudge," said a man to his enemy.

"Don't worry, I never knew you to pay anything."

Critics may say that the great Italian humorists have passed away, that there have been none since Ariosto, yet it is still true that modern Italy appreciates and produces good bons mots. It must be admitted, however, that much Italian humor turns on the ludicrous incident, rather than on the play of words.

"Here, waiter," said another patron, "take this coffe away; it's cold."

"Oh, no, sir; it's hotter than it looks. I've tried it."

"What! Tasted it!"

"Oh, no, sir, only dipped my fingers in."

A man, bemoaning the scarcity of corn to a peasant, expressed the fear that all the beasts would die.

"Heaven preserve your worship!" responded the other fervently.

This story bears a close resemblance to one told of the King of Portugal. When he met Lieutenant Colonel, the animal painter, he expressed much delight at the introduction. "I am very glad indeed to meet you, for I am so fond of beasts."

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Steamer Struck Tower of Submerged Submarine and Keeled Half Over.

The London Daily Charonicle, just to hand, on the 16th Feb., says:

"The submarine A9 narrowly escaped disaster while out manoeuvring off Plymouth yesterday.

"After a war lecture at the War Course College, some officers proceeded into the Sound in the cruiser Theseus to witness a marine attack on the cruiser by the Devonport submarine flotilla, consisting of five vessels.

"Whilst the submarine A9 was submerged, the coasting steamer Coath, from Penzance, struck her on the conning tower, smashing the front part of the casing binding the periscope, also the sight of the periscope, a small hole being made in the conning tower.

"After she was struck the submarine rapidly assumed her normal surface position and indicated to her consorts that nothing untoward had happened. In the meantime on the Theseus and Torpedo-boat No. 80, on board which were Capt. Lees, inspecting captain of submarines, and Flag Captain Hall of the Forth, the parent ship to submarines, the greatest consternation prevailed. The A9, however, was able to proceed unassisted to her moorings alongside the Forth.

"In an interview a member of the crew of Submarine A9 said that the vessel was proceeding at about 25 feet under water, when her conning tower was struck by the keel of a vessel, which proved to be the Coath, going into Plymouth Sound. The submarine was knocked half over by the impact, and, although perfect coolness prevailed on board, it was feared that the boat was doomed.

"Lieut. Fraser, however, ordered the ballast tank to be blown, whereupon, to the relief of the crew who consisted of two officers and eleven men, the boat rose to the surface.

"Some water got into the conning tower, but this was soon pumped out, and the officers made their exit through the conning tower hatchway. Manoeuvres were taking place at the time.

"It was not deemed advisable for the submarine to use her electric power, and she proceeded into the harbor with the remainder of the flotilla under gasoline. The sea was smooth at the time, with a slight wind blowing off the land.

"The Coath also heeled over several feet as a result of the collision, and the captain was thrown off the bridge on to the deck."

The Grasp of the Hand.

The hand is the link between man and man: it signs the pledge of every social bond, its symbolism plays an important part in all the functions of public life—whether it be as the priestly hand, uplifted in solemn benediction, or as the silent witness to spoken words, when raised on high to testify to the sanctity of an oath. Clasped hands are the emblem of the alliance of nations as of individuals; the frank grasp of the hand is the token of loyal friendship; the reconciliation which puts an end to a bitter life-long feud is attested by the simple action of joining hands. Man's instinctive homage to woman is never better expressed than by the touch of his lips upon her hand—the chivalrous deference to the whole sex is most fittingly symbolized in this simple action. The recognition of its high import has caused numerous proverbial expressions relating to the hand to pass into our daily speech; to go through life "hand in hand" has become synonymous of the most entire union in thought and deed; we speak of those who are unduly influenced by others as having fallen 'into their hands," and the expression "to lend a hand" is equivalent to giving help in any form—not necessarily of a material nature. Above all, the supreme beauty of the hand, its instinctive abhorrence of the touch that contaminates, of all base, unworthy action, its shrinking from aught that might sully its native purity—is not all this admirably summed up in the popular acceptation of "clean hands" as the symbol of unstained honor?—"Carmen Sylva," Queen of Roumania, in Lloyd's London Weekly.

A Curious Custom.

In the old town of Honiton, Devonshire, England, citizens are immune from arrest until sunset one evening, for while the horse fair is in progress the arm of the law is powerless. This is in continuation of a quaint and picturesque ceremonial which has been handed down from the time of Henry III. When the horse fair begins the town crier, in the gorgeous dress of a beadle of the last century, appears, carrying a pole, at the end of which is a large gilt glove decked with flowers. Having rung his hand-bell three times, the crier, in his three-cornered hat, announces, "Oyez, oyez, oyez! The fair is begun; the glove is up; no man can be arrested till the glove is down. God save the King." Each sentence is chorused by the children standing round, and at the conclusion they scramble for nuts. The glove is taken down at sunset.

Balfour In Charge Again.

London, March 13.—Former Premier Balfour returned to the House of Commons yesterday and assumed the leadership of the Opposition.

He was heartily welcomed on all sides.

The Irish members saluted Mr. Balfour with the cry of "Welcome little stranger."

The Tariff Debate.

London, March 13.—The first day of the debate in the House of Commons on the motion of Sir James Kitson, Ministerialist, declaring it to be the determination of Parliament to resist any attempt to institute protective duties proved to be uneventful.

Origin of the Woolsack.

The woolsack, on which the British Lord Chancellor sits, is a large square bag of wool covered with red cloth. It was first used in the time of Edward III., to remind the peers of the great importance of the wool trade to England, and the consequent necessity of keeping friendly with Flanders.

MILLINERY MODES.

Hats of Malines and Chiffon—The Sailor Shape Again in Vogue.

For demi-season wear there are many charming hats in mallines and chiffons made up in the new shapes. Satin hats are popular at this time of the year. A lovely satin chapeau of medium size has a rolled brim curving up a little higher in the back. The crown is wreathed with the most natural looking parma violets, and standing guard over this bed of sweet smelling flowers is a single large La France rose, placed at one side.

Small hats for street wear promise to be the accepted mode this spring. Of course for the women to whom the little hat is unbecoming there will be shapes of more generous proportion.

The sailor hat is to have a period of revival. In most cases it is trimmed with a band of black velvet going around the low crown, fastened at one side with two ostrich pompons, through which quills pointing toward the back are thrust. The sailor is lifted at the back and tilts well forward. The bandeau is ornamented with a flat bow of velvet ribbon.

Some of the best hats of the spring suggest the favorite marquise chapeau. The brim, though, is rather more closely rolled at the sides. It is usually swathed around the crown with silk or velvet drawn through a large buckle that holds the rolled brim. The back of the hat is filled in with flowers.

The evening hat in the cut is made of white lace. The crown is adorned with a loose, graceful roll of white mallines. At one side are a wide ostrich pompon and an aigret.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Lace Accessories to Beautify Dressy Frocks—A Model Gown.

Among the lace accessories are sets of collars and cuffs of Danish embroidery. The collars are made with round yokes and deep cuffs. Another pretty set is made with a small round yoke for the collar and deep cuffs. The material is organdie, with edging and insertion of Irish lace.

A charming gown of willow green henrietta depends upon a creamy lace that has the design elaborated with silk embroidery for its adornment. The skirt is one of those novel princess affairs reaching up to the bust and the fronts displaying the smart tablier effect which gives such an air of slenderness and height. The lace serves as a heading to the circular skirt flounce, and a snappy little bolero is used for outdoor wear to top the gown with.

BLOUSE OF ALICE BLUE.

The cotton substitute for silk will doubtless have an extra run this summer as foundation for the filmy frocks of organdie, swiss, mull and other semi-transparent weaves.

Princess skirts gain rather than wane in favor, and the new effects in this trying mode are launched daily. The importance of good corseting shows nowhere more plainly than in this instance. Fashion demands a slender rounded waist line and a gently sloping hip. To attain this outline, if you have it not, is a matter of correct corseting.

The blouse in the cut is a dainty affair evolved in Alice blue peau de sole. From the round yoke the material is laid in alternate box and side plaits. About the yoke of tucked muslin is a fitted empiecement of old English embroidery. The sleeves have a band of this embroidery at the elbow.

SNAPSHOTS OF FASHION.

Pony Coats For Linen Suits—Henriettas In Charming Tones.

A jaunty little coat has arrived for spring wear—the pony jacket. This smart affair is of the sack type and reaches a little below the waist line. It has a short waisted effect that makes it a cross between the empire and box coat.

The pony coat is to be carried out next summer in linen and when perfectly cut is stunning. The best model is the navy or army man's coat. Make a study of the peculiar short waisted effect in the back of this hero's jacket, and you will be in the "know."

Henrietta cloth is to be extensively used for costumes in which draped effects are in evidence. This cloth may be obtained in a variety of charming shades, and attractive afternoon and evening gowns are worked up with the aid of lace and ribbon.

Directly in contrast with the short waisted styles are the long coats fitting close, as a rule, and revealing severe lines.

Individuality is the slogan of the well dressed woman, and in this effort for personal belongings she never goes to extremes.

The nightdress in the cut is a model of the newest French idea. It is carried out in the finest nainsook. The bolero jacket is a pretty mass of applique work, the center ornamentation being a bowknot in lace stitch. The long, flowing sleeves are trimmed with lace, and the bowknot is repeated at the longest point. JUDIC CHOLLET.

CLIMBING ELEPHANTS.

How They Make Their Way Up and Down Steep Cliffs.

Elephants are able to make their way up and down mountains and through a country of steep cliffs, where mules would not dare to venture and even where men find passage difficult. Their tracks have been found upon the very summit of mountains over 7,000 feet high. In these journeys an elephant is often compelled to descend hills and mountain sides which are almost precipitous. This is the way in which it is done: The elephant's first maneuver is to kneel down close to the declivity. One fore leg is then cautiously passed over the edge and a short way down the slope, and if he finds there is no good spot for a firm foothold he speedily forms one by stamping into the soil if it is moist or kicking out a footing if it is dry. When he is sure of a good foothold, the other fore leg is brought down in the same way. Then he performs the same work over again with his feet, bringing both fore legs a little in advance of the first foothold. This leaves good places all ready made for the hind feet. Now, bracing himself up by his huge, strong fore legs, he draws his hind legs, first one and then the other, carefully over the edge, where they occupy the first places made by the fore feet. This is the way the huge animal proceeds all the way down, zigzag, kneeling every time with the two hind legs while he makes footholds with his fore feet. Thus the center of gravity is preserved and the huge beast prevented from toppling over on his nose.

Black Snakes.

I have never seen black snakes over seven feet long and much doubt if they grow to a greater length. They are not hard to catch, though in an open field they can run about as fast as a man can. When caught, they struggle desperately until they find there is no opportunity to escape, when they will give up fighting and may be handled with impunity. I have never found these snakes to be vicious. They can be handled easily, and their bite is harmless. They can squeeze pretty hard if they get a turn around your waist, but not hard enough to break a bone.—Forest and Stream.

SNAPSHOTS OF DRESS.

Soft Finished Silks For Spring. White Gowns Are Smart.

Soft finished silks and satins are to be much worn in the spring, especially messaline, which is even now being fashioned into fascinating little shirt waist gowns.

White gowns are appropriate and even smart on all formal occasions, and there is nothing so serviceable as a handsome high necked white dress. Very pretty and smart are those of white satin, made with a lace waist having satin band trimmings, the skirt being perfectly plain.

Certain colors make women appear younger, and it is the duty of every woman to study herself in this light. Those shades that hide the defects in the complexion of weight are desirable.

Women are returning to the plain, sober black stocking for everything but evening wear.

Empire wreaths find their way into all sorts of dress effects. The newest trick is making them of foliage and spangles into an ornament for the hair. Besides this, the empire wreaths are employed in embroidery on shimmering evening gowns and are stenciled upon the walls.

There are some good looking shirt waists of velveteen about and some stunning ones of silk made with fine plaitings and box plaits by way of trimming. All the waists match the skirts with which they are worn.

The coat herewith pictured is a combination of the popular directoire and empire modes. It is carried out in a wine red broadcloth. The small turnover collar is of black velvet, as also are the four large buttons at the waist line. The sleeves have cuffs formed of bias bands. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Oddest Patrol Wagon.

Writing of the local patrol wagon, the Penang correspondent of the Straits Times, Singapore, says: "It forcibly calls to mind at first sight a four-wheeled baker's cart, bar the fact it is drawn by about the slowest pair of bullocks in the settlements. There is nothing grim at all about it, for it is commanded by a sleepy Malay constable perched on the box, its roof and sides are formed of white canvas, and it has no door to close at the back, but merely an opening in which another Malay constable half slumbers. Two or three other constables ride inside sitting on the benches with the prisoners, who seem to be too struck with novelty at the ride to make any attempt at escape. I should say that an escape from this prison van would be as easy as falling off a log."

Politeness Overdone.

The thanks of every tired woman are due to the gallant strap-hanger who gives her his seat in the crowded District Railway carriage when he sees her making desperate attempts to keep her balance on her feet. But his gallantry is sometimes a little overdone, or it may be that his apparent politeness covers a hidden sense of bitterness at having to stand when he has paid for a seat. In any case the lady who remonstrated with the young man when he courteously offered her his seat felt that his reply should have been left unsaid "Pray take it," he begged her, impressively; "my legs are younger than yours."—London Chronicle.

Algebra.

The science of algebra is said to have been the invention of Mohammed of Buziana about 850 A. D. The science was introduced into Spain by the Moors. The first treatise on the subject in any European language is believed to have been that by Luca Paccoli in 1494. The first English algebra was written by Robert Recorde, teacher of mathematics, at Cambridge, about 1557. He was the first to use the sign of equality.

A STATESMAN IN OPPOSITION.

The Opposition in the Provincial Legislature, has already shown by the power of trenchant criticism that numbers are not essential to effective influence. A single voice raised against an unwise or questionable measure is sufficient to arouse public opinion and hold a Ministry to the right path Hon. G. W. Ross has shown excellent capacity and unsurpassed versatility as leader of the Opposition, and his resourceful acceptance of the new situation shows the grasp and power of the constructive statesman. That he can be as useful to the province now as when he directed, with the mandate of the people, the course of public affairs, cannot be contended, but he now has a most important, though different sphere of usefulness, rendered doubly necessary by the changing currents on popular opinion. And it is to his credit, as well as to the good fortune of the province, that he renders the same efficient, able and painstaking public service now as when he directly controlled Provincial affairs. In alertness, readiness and all that goes to make an able Parliamentary debater he stands incomparably above the best among the Ministerial forces and he has the further distinction of a clear comprehensionof the principles involved in progressive statesmanship and the public duties that arise with each step of advancement along the way of national development. This makes him not only an able critic of Governmental measures and projects, but a leader and director in the general course of progressive legislation.

Although the Opposition leader's following in the Legislature is comparatively a small contingent, the lack of numbers is more than atoned for by unity and strength of purpose. Hon. Mr. Harcourt, though still a young man, has the distinction of having given the longest continuous service of any member of the Legislature. His long Parliamentary and Ministerial experience as well as his recognized power in debate makes him a tower of strength to the cause of Liberalism. The list of able supporters, equal to the best Cabinet material on the Ministerial side, would be a long one, and it effectually silences all complaints as to the numerical strength of the Opposition. The singleness of purpose and united front presented by the Liberal contingent, are not due to unthinking fidelity to a leader but to a clear conception of Liberal principles and traditions, and a knowledge of their application to every problem that arises. This is the highest and sincerest fidelity that any leader could desire, for it is based on an intelligent understanding of principles and a conscientious regard for the policy which they serve to formulate. The fidelity that is based on a high regard for principles rather than on a submission to the strong will of a leader, will endure through all the accidental cross currents of an uncertain public opinion.

While Hon. G. W. Ross holds his followers by common devotion to a cause which all understand and revere he has in abundance all the forceful and magnetic personal qualities of the born leader of men. A statesman of so much vigour and activity will not rest, nor feel inclined to rest, during the present temporary relief from the active duties of office. Yet the present situation is not without compensating advantages. It will give the leader and his forces an opportunity to build more rapidly than in office a policy of progressive and constructive statesmanship to be carried out when the present reactionary regime shall have run its course.—Globe.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell may forgive, but his memory continues to be in good working order. The "nest of traitors" incident evidently still rankles in his breast. He wants to retire from the leadership in the Senate, and this decision is said to be largely due to the fact that Hon. George E. Foster, who was the chief rib-stabber in the "nest of traitors," is practically leader of the party in the House of Commons. Naturally, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, doesn't care for, as a running mate in the leadership, a man whose past actions render necessary the wearing of a coat of mail over the ribs.

Thinks City Council Is Super-Sensitive

Mr. D. Hughes Charles, President Board of Trade, Writes Regarding Action of Council on Friday Night.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I want to say a few words in reference to the action of the City Council on Friday night last regarding the resolution from the Board of Trade re Memorial to be presented to the Minister of Railways and Canals by the deputation from this city and district. I think the Council are super-sensitive about their dignity as the Board of Trade had no intention whatever of depriving them of any honour or glory to be derived from the promotion of this deputation, in fact there is no member of the Board of Trade but would like the City Council to get everything due to it.

It is recognized by almost everyone that the Memorial which was presented to the Ontario Minister of Education was admirable in every way, being short, clear, and explicit and that Memorial was prepared by the Committee appointed by the City Council, Board of Education and Board of Trade. The question of the Trent Valley waterways is a much larger one than the establishment of the Normal School here and of very much more importance to this city and district, hence the Memorial to be presented at Ottawa should be as perfect in all respects as it is possible to be made, quoting facts and figures, etc., and a joint committee of the City Council and Board of Trade, acting with Mr. Hall, our Member, who has devoted a good deal of time to the study of this question, and is well up on it, is all that the Board of Trade suggested by its resolution.

Yours truly,
D. HUGHES CHARLES,
President Board of Trade.

17 1-2 Mills Was The Rate Struck

orizing the fixing of the rate, the levying of taxes, and the adoption of the assessment rolls of 1905. The whole bylaw, with the exception of the clause relating to the rate, passed without discussion.

Mayor Best did not think it looked like good business to lower the rate. The city was rolling up a tremendous debenture liability, and he thought the council should take more out of the current income. Next year the rate would have to be raised again.

Ald. Mason said that in striking the rate at 17 1-2 mills he thought that all requirements for this year would be met, and while it might be good policy to pay for some local improvements out of the current income, he asked was it just for the people of to-day to have to pay for benefits for their successors; especially when the assessment had been raised to such an extent. If the council had sufficient to meet all requirements he could not see why it was necessary to provide more money for any purpose. If they had to put in bridges the next generation should help to pay for them.

Mayor Best said that if they were sure that the good times would continue they were all right in lowering the rate. The increased debenture liability was out of all proportion to the increased population, and increased assessment. If 18 mills were an excessive rate he would agree to cut it down, but he could not see that one-half mill would be of much benefit.

Ald. McWilliams thought that at 17 1-2 mills the rate provided for liberal expenditure. It meant that the council was going to spend upwards of four thousand more than last year, when $1,200 more than had been calculated upon had been expended. The council could meet the same expenditure as last year with three-quarters of a mill reduction in the rate. The School Board and the City Trust Commissioners were asking for a lower rate.

At this stage it was moved by the Mayor and seconded by Ald. Graham that the rate for general purposes be fixed at 18 mills.

Ald. Mason moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the rate be fixed at 17 1-2 mills.

Before a vote was taken, Ald. Hicks expressed the opinion that reducing the rate was done by means of the surplus carried over from last year. It was simply collecting $4,000 from the people last year and paying them back this year. He thought the surplus should be left and applied to the city's debentures.

In reply Ald. Mason said that he should reduce the rate to 17 mills, so that there would be no surplus. By that rate the council should have made the rate 17 1-2 mills last year. He didn't think it good financing to run so close. A vote was taken and resulted in five votes for 18 mills, and a similar number for 17 1-2 mills. The vote was as follows:

For 18 mills — Mayor Best, Ald. Hicks, Duncan, Ball and Graham.

Ald. McWilliams, who was in the chair, gave the casting vote in favour of 17 1-2 mills.

Police Commissioners.

Ald. Hicks brought up the question of Police Commissioners, and explained that His Honour Judge Weller had declined to act without being recompensed for his services, and the commissioners had never organized. He moved, seconded by Ald. Mason, that his Honour Judge Weller be paid $100 a year as Police Commissioner.

On motion of Ald. Mason, seconded by Ald. Hicks, the Mayor's allowance was increased $100.

This was done in view of the increased expenditure in connection with the Mayor's office.

The council then adjourned.

Special Services At The Tabernacle Began Last Night

Evangelist and Miss Stephens Were Welcomed by a Large Congregation.

The special services at Bethany Tabernacle had a very auspicious beginning last evening. Evangelist and Mrs. Stephens arrived on the evening train and were greeted by a comparatively large congregation for Monday evening. After singing a duet entitled, "I am here on Business for My King," the evangelists spoke in turn on the subject of spiritual leanness, taking their text from Ps. cvi. 15, "And He gave them their request, but sent leanness into their soul." God granted to the people of Israel their desire for the things of Egypt, but with it He gave them "leanness of soul." The Christian who forsakes the fountains of living waters for the riches and pleasures and honours of the world will become lean and mean, and angular and weak and wasted and worthless in the service of the Master. Just as a lingering disease removes the lustre from the eye, and the flush from the cheek, and the music from the voice, so disobedience will sap the life and light, and joy and peace, and purity and power, out of the backslider, until his whole being is repulsive; but the returning backslider will be reinvigorated by God's grace till he shall flourish like the palm tree.

The evangelists will give a Bible reading every afternoon at three, and conduct a Gospel service at 7.45 in the evening.

CREATING BUYERS

The best method of creating buyers is by offering the public great bargains, and the best method of informing the public of great bargains is through the classified pages of The Examiner. Supposing you are willing to sell your house at quite a sacrifice. Who cares? The man in the next block might be just as crazy to buy it at the price you are willing to accept, but he doesn't know you want to sell or the figure you ask. An Examiner classified advertisement, will uncover buyers, promote inquiry and put you in direct communication with the men you want.

Seriously Burned While Saving Boy

Mrs. Geo. Brokenshire, of Lindsay, Had a Very Narrow Escape.

The Lindsay Post says:

About 10.30 this morning Mrs. G. Brokenshire, living west on Russell street, was seriously burned about the left arm, shoulder and chest. A little son secured a match and set fire to a lace curtain, at the same time igniting his clothing. His mother in extinguishing it ignited her own clothing, and ran to a neighbours with her clothing all on fire, and asked Mrs. Teevine to turn the tap on her. When the fire was extinguished after the results above stated, Drs. Gillespie and Shier were called and had her removed to the hospital in the ambulance where they attended to her injuries. At 2 p.m. she was resting more comfortably but suffering considerably from shock.

An Attempted Stabbing Case

Another Italian Roped in by the Law on Serious Charge.

There was a special sitting of the police court yesterday, when two cases came up for hearing. The first was that of Rafaelle Scandapape, an Italian, and as is the wont of many of the hot blooded sons of sunny Italy was, it is alleged, altogether too free with his knife on Friday last when he and Michael Lucano, a fellow-Italian had an altercation at the Italian boarding house on Aylmer street. He did not stab Lucano, who lodged the complaint against him, but it is stated that he endeavoured to do so.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and the case was enlarged until next Thursday morning. Mr. R. F. McWilliams has been retained to defend the prisoner.

The Deputation Was Not Heard

Late this afternoon the Examiner received a despatch from Toronto to the effect that the Peterborough deputation had not been heard by the Private Bills Committee yet.

The Committee is meeting but the Peterborough people had not yet been called.

A Typesetter Was Out Of Business

One of the Examiner's type-setting machines was put out of commission by an accident to-day, and the consequence is that considerable interesting local matter is unavoidably omitted. Our readers will, no doubt, appreciate the position.

Mr. Wilhelmy Will Attend Funeral

Mr. C. Wilhelmy, electrical engineer, received a telegram on Saturday from Montreal acquainting him with the death of his eldest sister there. He left on Saturday night for that city to attend the funeral, which was held yesterday. Mr. Wilhelmy while in Montreal will also look after business in connection with restocking his store.

Hotels Are Badly Crowded

The accommodation at the hotels in the city is taxed to its utmost and the management are having their hands full to find room for those seeking lodging. The presence of the Home Circle delegates, is responsible for the crowding. The members of the I. O. U. Committee Decided

TO PURCHASE FIRE ENGINE

From Waterous People

Offer Made by Mr. Hugh Cameron to Pay Council $1500 for the Present Engine in Part Payment for the New Engine Was Satisfactory to the Fire, Water and Light Committee--Engine Purchased is One of 1000 Gallons Capacity.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night to discuss the fire engine question, and after a short discussion it was decided to purchase the 1,000 U. S. gallon engine manufactured by the Waterous Co., of Brantford. This question has been before the committee for some time, and several different propositions had been submitted by Mr. Hugh Cameron, agent for the Waterous Co., and G. G. Pritchard, of the Canadian Fire Engine Co., and the competition between the two companies has been very keen. The matter it was originally decided to leave in the hands of the chief of the fire brigade and the chairman of the committee. Afterwards the question was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee, which was given the power to purchase an engine.

At last night's meeting there were present Ald. Adams in the chair, Ald. Graham, Duncan, Ball and Elliott, and Mayor Best. It was decided to accept the offer of the Waterous Company as made to the committee on March 3. By this offer the company agreed to give the city the sum of $1,500 for the second-hand fire engine in part payment for the new Waterous engine. At that time Mr. Cameron challenged the Canadian Fire Engine Co. to a test of engines, but the latter did not respond to the challenge. The offer made by the Waterous people was satisfactory so the committee, and they decided to accept it. Mr. Cameron was notified this morning, and one of the conditions involved is that the engine must be delivered at once.

The committee last night also decided to have a 32 candle-power incandescent lamp placed near the corner of King and Water streets.

Special Services Being Considered

Last night a meeting was held in the Charlotte street church for the purpose of considering the advisability of inaugurating a series of special meetings. Nothing was decided last night, but it is probable that another meeting will be held on Wednesday night, when the matter will be decided.

Smiths Falls Here To-morrow

To-morrow night the people of Peterborough will have an opportunity of seeing how the locals compare with the fast Smiths Falls septette, winners of Federal League and Stanley Cup challengers. The team had a fine work out last night and will be in great condition for the big struggle. The ice will be in splendid condition and by all indications the crowd will be a record breaker. The mere fact of Harold Armstrong being on the line up of the Easterners will be sufficient to fill the rink.

The Loss is Fully Covered by Insurance.

A very disastrous fire broke out in the stables of the Peter Hamilton Company, opposite the foundry, about ten minutes past nine this morning. The conflagration had its source, it is assumed, from a spark from a fire in the stove on the ground floor of the building. A cow and calf and a spaniel bitch which were the only living things in the building when the fire started, were saved, as were also some buffalo robes, but outside of these the result of the blaze will be almost a total loss to the owners as the walls of the structure are practically all that are left standing. The hay, oats, straw, a buggy and other articles in the stable were totally destroyed. The flames first issued from the windows on the east side of the building and the hose was vigourously played upon them in the hope of mastering them, but they soon appeared from the other side and roof and the firemen had a hard fight against heavy odds.

A large crowd gathered around in a very short time but it was impossible for them to render any assistance.

The water came pretty slowly when the flames broke out on the west side, and it had gained considerable headway before it was turned upon the fire.

The loss is estimated at about $10,000, and is fully covered by insurance.

Annual Reports Of Supreme Officers Most Encouraging

First Open Meeting of Supreme Circle C. O. H. C. This Afternoon—Mayor Best Welcomed Visitors and Extends Freedom of the City—A Large and Influential Gathering of Fraternalists—Last Year One of Progress—The Order is in Good Financial Standing—Details Are Furnished in Reports.

This afternoon at two o'clock, the 20th annual meeting of the Canadian Order of Home Circles, opened at the court house here. Nearly 400 delegates are in the city in attendance at this meeting, which is the first ever held east of Toronto, and which is expected to be one of the most successful in the history of the Order.

His Worship Mayor Best, delivered an address of welcome to the visiting fraternalists, giving them the freedom of the city, and assured them that their presence in Peterborough gave the citizens pleasure. He expressed the hope that their deliberations would be pleasant and that as a result they would carry away nothing but kindliest feelings for Peterborough. The citizens were proud of the Electric City, and hoped that the visitors would take time during their stay to inspect its many interesting features.

The afternoon session was taken up largely with the reception of the reports of the Credential Committee and those of the various officers. These reports showed that the order had made good progress during the past year and that there was a good cash surplus on hand.

The list of regular and alternate delegates appointed to represent the different Circles at this annual meeting is given in another column. It should be explained that not all of these persons are in attendance at the meetings but the majority are here.

J. L. BUCK, Supreme Leader.

The Reports.

The report of Mr. J. L. Buck, Supreme Leader, was presented, and was an encouraging and inspiring one. It recited the fact that in 21 years over 400 subordinate Circles had been organized, and 27,677 certificates issued; 1,454 members have died and about 17,500 were in good standing at the close of the year. To the beneficiaries of deceased members the immense sum of $2,485,199 has been paid; totally disabled members have received $29,140, and members who have attained their expectancy age have received $18,000.

Since the institution of the Order $46,969 has been paid in Sick Benefit claims.

During 1905 six more Circles were organized and 1297 new certificates written, as compared with 1707 in 1707 in 1904.

Supreme Secretary.

The report of Mr. J. M. Foster, the Supreme Secretary, was perhaps the most interesting giving as it did, details of the progress of the Order. This report gave the names of the new Circles instituted during 1905, with the state of the finances. The statement of assets and liabilities shows that the assets are $303,730.21, and the liabilities $282,607.80 less.

General Fund.

There is a credit balance of $2,168.61 in the General Fund, as compared with $397.68 for the previous year, a gain of $1770.93. The gain is due chiefly to the fact that the expenditure on account of Deputy Organizers, commission to members and prizes was only $5958.02, as compared with $9381.64, for the previous year.

Sick Benefit Fund.

The report states that only five Sick Benefit assessments were collected last year.

The cash balance, $1010.36, is above the average. In this department $2876 was paid in benefits last year.

Benficiary Fund.

In this fund, there is $57,631.56 cash on hand, and $17,950.00 of death claims pending, leaving a balance on hand of $39,681.56.

Deaths.

In 1905 the deaths were considerably less than in 1904; 39 women and 99 men, as compared with 65 women and 104 men. The amount of insurance paid to the former was $53,000 and to the latter $150,500.

Insurance in Force.

The statement of insurance is as follows:

Amount of 17,663 beneficiary certificates, $24,416,000; prepaid in L. E. benefits on certificates still on foot $16,400; prepaid in T. D. benefits on certificates still on foot, $17,530; net amount of insurance in force, December 31st, 1905, $24,384,080.

On the total disability list on Dec. 31st, there were 29 members.

Treasurer's Statement.

Mr. D. R. Foster, Supreme Treasurer, presented his report showing that the several funds of the Order were in a satisfactory condition, the general condition of the Supreme Treasury being far more favourable than at the close of 1904. The general fund income was $118.17 less than the previous year, but the expenses were $3,321.84 less. The general fund closes with a credit balance of $2,168.61, as against a balance of $397.68 at the close of 1904. The mortality rate was much lower this year. The Beneficiary Fund has $57,631.56 to its credit to which will be added $19,978.81, from the Life Expectancy Fund. The Supreme Treasurer expressed the belief that the principle of collecting only as many assessments as necessary to pay the claims and the right to use every dollar in the Life Expectancy Fund over the fixed amount of $200,000 were two of the best features of the Order. The amount at the credit of the Life Expectancy Fund, December 31st, 1904, was $221,811.00. During the year it has been increased by ten per cent. of fourteen Beneficiary Assessments, viz., $23,563.08, and by accrued interest $6,173.76, making the total receipts $254,547.90, from which there has been paid on account of Life Expectancy claims $9,400; city taxes, $59.27; and the sum of $24,811.09 was transferred to the Beneficiary Fund, leaving a credit balance of $220,277.57, December 31st, 1905. There was reported a credit balance of $1,010.36 in the Sick Benefit Fund, being only $112.00 less than in 1904. The Life Expectancy Fund is deposited with financial companies of the highest standing, and with chartered banks.

Medical Examiner.

The report of A. T. Hobbs, Supreme Medical Examiner, states that there were received during the year 1,526 applications, including 14 for re-instatement, 24 for additional insurance and 4 for the Sick Benefit beneficiary. Of the 1,483 applications of new members, 920 were from men and 554 from women. Of this number 1,207 fulfilled all the requirements of the Supreme and Subordinate Circles, and certificates were issued to them. The average age of the new male membership was 31.8 years, and that of the new female membership 32.4 years.

It is noted that diseases of the nervous system were responsible for one-fifth of the deaths among our male membership. The strenuous age in which we live, coupled with excessive strain of competition in business and profession, are potent causes in producing exhaustion of the brain and nervous system, laying the foundation for many diseases of this system that are insidious in their onset and fatal in their termination.

Amendments.

A number of amendments to the laws are proposed, one from Toronto Circle, No. 357, reading:—"No person holding a Grand or Supreme office in any other Beneficiary Order, or who is an agent or officer or stockholder of any Life Insurance Company, shall be eligible to be a Supreme officer of this Order."

The meetings are being continued to-night and to-morrow. They will probably close to-morrow afternoon or evening.

A Rossmount Man Loses A Hundred

Robt. Conkey, of Hope Township, Had $100 Stolen From His Pocket While Asleep—His Trousers Were Cut With a Knife and the Money Extracted—The Incidents Connected With the Loss.

Robt. Conkey is a pretty unfortunate man. Yesterday he came to the city with a roll of $100 in his pocket, and last night it was all gone. Robert doesn't know where. Conkey is a resident of the township of Hope. He lives at Rossmount, with Noble Brown, who keeps the hotel at the above named village, and is the proprietor of a steam threshing outfit. He came to Peterborough yesterday, and was at the Oxford Hotel in the morning. But he had the hundred when he was there.

The story as related to the Examiner is that in the morning Mr. Conkey went to the Oxford House with the $100, and asked to leave the money until later in the day, when he wanted to go to Lakefield. He gave the money to Mrs. Bowman, and in return received an I.O.U. with which he went away.

The statement is made that he was not intoxicated when he left the money, nor when he came about 10 o'clock to get it again. In the meantime, however, he had transferred the I.O.U. to a cousin, Robt. Graham, of the city, and Mrs. Bowman informed him that he would have to return the I.O.U. before he could get the money. At this he went out and "dug up" the paper which would entitle him to the wad. He returned shortly after in company with Robt. Graham and another cousin, Reuben Graham, and the I.O.U. was produced. Mrs. Bowman then counted out the $100, and gave it to Conkey, who left, stating his intention to go to Lakefield, and nothing more was heard of him until about dusk, when he returned to the Oxford House with a tale of woe. According to his story, he had gone up town, and into a hotel, the name of which he professed to have forgotten. He fell asleep, he states, and when he awoke it was to find that someone had, with a knife, apparently, cut his trousers clear across the front, through the pocket and had extracted the roll of bills.

He was advised to report the matter to the police, and went to see Acting Chief Adams to whom he told his story, but he was more definite this time, and said that he was in the Queen's Hotel when he lost the money. His statements to the police were somewhat incoherent, and the latter were unable to locate the guilty person, the plaintiff giving no definite information on which to work.

The work of the person who took the money was cleverly done, at any rate, and the cut so cleanly made that a sharp instrument must have been used. There is mighty small consolation, however, for Mr. Conkey in the knowledge of the fact that the thief was a clever artist. He will go to Rossmount again, a sadder, but wiser man.

City Refused The Right TO PURCHASE SUGAR
Company's Property

That Clause of the City's Private Bill is Rejected by the Private Bills' Committee of the Legislature—Chairman Says It's a Dangerous Precedent—Might Be Ground for Changing the General Law But No Special Legislation.

Special to The Examiner.

Toronto, Ont., March 14. — The Private Bills Committee of the Legislature this morning took up the Peterborough City Bill, consideration of which had been adjourned in connection with the purchase of the old Sugar Company's lands for the purpose of opening a site to a new Company. "The Company wants a free site and we want to give them a free site," said Solicitor Hall of Peterborough. The chairman said the Bill was objectionable from every point of view, and added that if the Committee were wise they would shear out the objectionable clauses as the proposal was a most dangerous precedent. The City argued that it was impossible to get out a large enough vote to carry a bonus bylaw, and the chairman thought there might be ground for changing the general law but not for special legislation. The three clauses were rejected by the Committee. There was a lively discussion of the electric power clauses which, with the housing and drainage and purity of water supply clauses were left over for two weeks.

The defeat of this section of the city's bill means that the agreement with the Stove Company, and with the carpet manufacturers, will not be carried out; at any rate, so far as giving them the Sugar Company's property is concerned. The three clauses referred to in the d[illegible] are, in all probability, that giving the city authority to buy the land, the second to annex it to the city, and the third to fix the assessment on it for manufacturing concerns.

Unless other land can be secured, and another agreement entered into it means that the action of the Provincial Bills Committee, which will, no doubt, be ratified by the Legislature, has blocked the city from securing the two industries.

Hockey Team Gets Rink Free Of Charge

The directors of the Peterborough Hockey Club, Limited, the owners of the Brock street rink, have decided, in recognition of the work of the hockey team, to give them the use of the rink free of charge for the game to-night.

The team has been put to considerable expense this season, and as the gate receipts have been disappointingly small, the finances of the team, as a consequence, are not in a satisfactory condition. The long trips made very heavy inroads into the funds, and in an effort to place the finances in a condition to close the season with a clean sheet the game to-night has been arranged.

The Rink Company deserves credit for its action in so generously giving the team the rink free of charge, particularly in view of the fact that the season, so far as the company is concerned, too, has been much less satisfactory than last year, the mild weather affecting the receipts considerably.

It is to be hoped that since the rink company has set the example for generosity the public will follow that example, and turn out in large numbers to give the team the largest house of the season for this, the final, game.

The team is under a heavy expense in bringing the Smiths' Falls team here, and need all the help that can be given.

Board Of Education Has Enough To Do

Without Being Asked to Deal With Question of Public Library—This is Opinion of Gentleman Associated With Educational Matters.

A gentleman who is closely associated with educational matters in the city called on the Examiner to-day in reference to the question of the proposed new free library. He takes exception to the last sentence in the letter written by "Education," which appeared in Monday's Examiner, which says:

"Certainly the amount at present contributed by this city for the support of the library is a disgrace to a place the size of Peterborough."

The gentleman referred to states that the city of Peterborough does not contribute "one red cent," to the support of the library through the council.

He further suggests that the Board of Education has sufficient work on its hands with the new Collegiate Institute and South Ward School, without having the library thrust on to the already overworked members of the Board of Education. The council also has plenty of work to do, according to this gentleman's opinion, and should not be asked to bother with the question of a library. He suggests that the Board of Trade might take it up, and apply to Mr. Carnegie for a grant.

Buys Timber Lots From Mr. Waddell

Mr. Matthew Doodey Purchases Three Lots.

Mr. Matthew Doodey of Millbrook, was in the city yesterday, and informed the Examiner that he had purchased from Mr. Hugh Waddell three timber lots east of Millbrook. Mr. Doodey recently sold to Mr. McCall the right to purchase all timber between Peterborough and Toronto, and north and south of a line to Port Hope. The lots which he has purchased from Mr. Waddell are situated east of this line, and Mr. Doodey states that he is prepared to buy other timber east of Peterborough.

Champions Will Be Banquetted

Charlotte St. Guild Decides to Honour Their Baseball and Hockey Team.

The Charlotte street Young Men's Guild held a business meeting last night, with the president, Mr. W. Galbraith, in the chair. After the routine business had been transacted the question of banquetting the guild hockey and baseball teams was discussed, and it was decided to hold the affair in the near future. It was thought that the services of the two teams should be recognized in some way. The ball team last summer won the championship of the Guild League, while the hockey team has been successful in carrying off the City League honours.

15th Anniversary Of Wedding Day

The fifteenth anniversary of their wedding day was celebrated last night by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Byers, 356 Sherbrooke street. About 50 guests were present and a pleasant evening was spent in games, cards and dancing. At midnight an inviting luncheon was served on daintily spread tables which formed a delightful part of the evening's amusement.

Mr. and Mrs. Byers were the recipients of a large number of pretty and useful presents as well as congratulations from the assembled guests.

THE SEWING MACHINE FUND

Two more contributions to the fund to purchase a motor to operate a sewing machine for an unfortunate woman who has only one foot, the other having been lost by amputation, are acknowledged: "Cash," $1, and Miss Corcoran, 269 Charlotte street, $1. The fund now amounts to $5, of the required $25 needed to purchase the motor. This is a case well deserving of practical sympathy. The woman in question, who also has a child to support, bravely prefers to earn her living by her work to accepting charity. She has a sewing machine, but, owing to her infirmity, cannot conveniently operate it, and therefore needs a motor for the purpose.

No Taste for it, Indeed!
Ark. Clover Leaves.

THE GREATEST surprise to a girl who gets kissed the first time is there is no taste to it.—Pocahontas (Ark.) Times.

No taste to it? Well, by the hen feathers on Cupid's dart, but the Times man must be colour blind in the palate! They tell us, those who have tried it, that it tastes like the double-distilled essence of honey spread thick on a piece of pumpkin pie. Away back in the dim joyful years ago before we lost our teeth and our cinch on the beauty prize, the prettiest girl in all the world told us with her eyes that it felt like a covey of quail flying out of each year and ended with a sensation like a flock of angels pouring molasses down one's back. No taste to first kiss? Great Scott! It would make a wooden cigar Indian's hair curl and his toe-nails quiver in ecstacy. The Times man must be an ice-house.

Guard Gates To Be Repaired

Water is Lowered in the Canal For That Purpose.

To facilitate the repairing of the guard gates at Nassau and at the Warsaw road bridge the water in that section of the canal has been lowered. The stop logs were raised at the mouth of the creek between Nassau and the golf links last week, and the water is down new over seven feet.

The ice in that part of the canal is about 18 inches in thickness, and since the lowering of the water, has caved in and produces a very picturesque appearance.

Owing to the sudden and severe illness of the very Rev. Dean Smith, of Kingston, it is impossible for Canon Starr to keep his promise to preach in St. John's church this evening.

The church wardens have, however, been fortunate enough to secure the services of the Rev. Oswald Rigby, head master of T. C. S., Port Hope, who has kindly consented to take his place. St. John's seems to be unfortunate in regard to the speakers arranged to deliver Lenten addresses, Rev. Canon Starr being the second in succession to be taken suddenly ill on the eve of his address.

Wide-Awake Warsaw Sets Up A Board Of Trade

Special to The Examiner

Warsaw, March 14th.— A meeting was held at the Morgan House last evening for the purpose of organizing a local Board of Trade. Invitations had been sent to representative citizens of the township to attend and the respone received was very gratifying to the promoters. The earnest enthusiasm displayed by those present showed the progressive spirit, which is essential to organizations of this kind. This being the initial meeting the election of officers was the important feature.

The next meeting will be held in the town hall at 8 p.m., on Tuesday, March 20th.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women.

Doctors generally prescribe their own remedies.

They haven't a good word to say for liquid preparations, and people who know what these preparations contain, don't blame the doctors.

Honest physicians are obliged to admit its merits.

They themselves prescribe many of its ingredients. Some give our Tablets to their patients (see testimony below) knowing that

They Make Healthy Women

After consulting my physician and being told that I was suffering from a run-down condition which accounted for many other ills, with which I was suffering, I was presented with a box of brown tablets. I took them and in less than a week began to improve, and before two weeks had elapsed was so much better that I felt congratulations were due my physician. Upon complimenting him I was honestly informed by him that I had been taking Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women. It is of little consequence how I obtained the medicine, but of one thing I am certain, I have received greater benefit from it than any other medicine I ever used. Keene Items Of Interest

Many Visitors In That Village During Past Week.

Keene, March 13.—Miss Belle Humphries, of Hastings, is visiting at Mr. Robert Humphries.

Mrs. Stewart Fife left Tuesday for the West.

We are pleased to state that Mrs. W. Weir, Sr., of Villiers, who has been seriously ill, is much improved.

Miss Lillian Richards, of Warkworth, is the guest of Miss E. McCrae.

Miss Goulding of Port Hope, spent a few days last week in the village, the guest of Miss Wilson.

Miss Margaret Bryce, soloist, was in Warsaw Monday taking part in the Presbyterian church anniversary entertainment.

Rev. J. Kilpatrick conducted services in the Methodist church last Sunday.

Miss Maude Campbell spent a couple of days last week in Peterborough, the guest of Mrs. W. J. Mein.

The Loss Was Exaggerated

In yesterday's issue of The Examiner there appeared an error that exaggerated very much the estimated loss by fire at the Peter Hamilton Company's stables yesterday. The amount of the loss was added after the paragraph had been set, and read $10,000, whereas the actual estimated loss was $1,000.

Milk Wagon In A Mix-up

There was a lively time on Murray street, near George street, about 11 o'clock this morning, when the horse attached to a farmer's milk wagon took fright at a street car, and got beyond the control of the driver.

The rig was upset and milk cans were scattered over the street. Little damage was done save a few broken straps and a broken shaft.

Saleswomen's Peril

GRAVE DISEASES, DUE TO STANDING

Facts About Miss Merkley's Dangerous Illness and Complete Cure.

Have you ever thought why so many women or girls rather walk an hour than stand still for ten minutes?

Miss Margret Merkley

It is because most women suffer from some derangement of their delicate organism, the discomfort of which is less trying when they are in motion than when standing.

In some states laws compel employers to provide resting places for their female employees.

But no amount of law can regulate the hard tasks of these women. They must get the strength which this work demands or run the risk of serious diseases and the surgeon's knife.

Read about the experience of Miss Margret Merkley, 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis :—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Gradual loss of strength, nervousness, bearing-down pains and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said I had diseased organs and ulceration, and advised an operation if I wanted to get well. I objected to this and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I soon found that all the good things said about this great medicine were true. The ulceration soon healed, backache, headache and nervousness disappeared, and in a short time I was strong, vigorous and perfectly well. I wish every working girl who suffers would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and strengthens the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the cases of other sick women as with Miss Merkley.

Children's Aid Society's Work

Accommodation of the Shelter Taxed to its Capacity.

No person, not familiar with the conditions, can appreciate the splendid work being done through the agency of the Children's Aid Society, which could be much increased if the additional accommodation to meet demands were provided at the Children's Shelter. This now contains its full complement of inmates—eleven—as many as can be effectively accommodated. There are ten more children, in two families—three in one and seven in another—who should be in the Home, but there has been no room for them all.

However, the youngest of the McFadden family, from Galway — Florence McFadden — was removed yesterday afternoon, having been adopted into a good home by Mrs. Robinson, of Douro, about eight miles to the east of the city.

This will permit of the admission of one family of three, and the other family of seven will have to wait its turn.

It seems to be a very commendable agitation for securing some of Mr. Carnegie's money for a free library, but it would perhaps be doing more immediate and more ultimate good to agitate for enlarged facilities in a Children's Shelter for those many destitute children, whose deplorable condition indicates the necessity of measures being taken to rescue them from suffering, and vice. No more charitable work than that of the Children's Aid Society can enlist the energy or sympathy of the true philanthropic spirit.

Cold In Head Cured Deafness

The Port Hope Guide says:—A cold in the head is generally dreaded by the most of people, but Mr. W. A. Russell, of John street, who is just recovering from a severe one, thinks that it is the best thing yet. Mr. Russell has been deaf in one ear for a number of years, and during a spell of sneezing the other day his hearing was restored, and he is the proudest man in town to-day. The explanation for the sudden cure is that by this sneezing the passages leading from the back of the throat to the drum of the ear were opened, and the air passed through to the drum of the ear. Whether cured permanently or not it is difficult to say, but we trust he is. Mr. Russell states that at present he can hear the faintest sounds.

Lindsayite Proposes Independent Deputation

P. Palmer Burrows Writes Letter in Which He Suggests That That Town Join Forces With Northern Towns and Give Peterborough the Go-By—Advocates Letting Peterborough Know That Lindsay Wants Some Money Spent.

To the Editor of the Post:

Soon boats will sail from lake to lake,
And soon we'll have to change the maps—
The Trent Canal at Last is done:
Not yet—but soon—perhaps!

In your columns of Thursday last, Peterborough proposes another monster deputation to visit Ottawa and urge "the rapid completion of the Trent Waterway. I was at the Board of Trade Banquet (with a big B) but was disappointed that even under "Transportation," and although water was the drink, the subject was not practically discussed. I do not wish to adversely criticize, but I do think that a smoking concert (something in the style of a ladies' five o'clock tea, where the cup that cheers would be passed around with a sandwich) would be an imminent, and impromptu speeches as well.

We have had the honour of previous invitations to join and have assisted in securing for Peterborough large grants for her benefit in connection with this scheme, but I do not remember Peterborough at any time asking if there was anything that could be done directly in the interests of Lindsay. I do not wish to think that this may have been from selfishness—it may be that the people of Peterborough are not of the reading or travelling sort; they may not know that we have locks at Lindsay that are only fit for a museum of antiques; and that the Trent waters extend not only to Lindsay, but to Port Perry; they may not know that there is an apology for a lock at Rosedale, that from its small dimensions is an obstacle to, instead of favouring navigation, and that in its neighbourhood the Gull and Burnt rivers "roll unward to the sea." In the case of the Lindsay and Rosedale locks, new and modern locks are a necessity, and the rivers mentioned would welcome the Government dredge, which might also do good work dredging the Scugog in the vicinity of Lindsay. The hermit population of Peterborough may not know that at Bobcaygeon there is a serious leak—it has for years lowered the waters of the Scugog, and has interefered seriously with steamboat communication.

Considering, sir, that these things are so plain that "he who walks may read," is it not time that those who go from Lindsay on these deputations, and benefit by free tickets at our expense, should show some little interest in Lindsay's welfare? It is all we I enough to say "push on the work," but at the same time the people of Peterborough like to make sure of their portion of the expenditure while they agitate. The Minister of Public Works says the canal must by 8 feet—well, if the hydraulic lifts are only 6 feet on the mitre sills it looks as though there might be some delay in completing this big work.

Now, sir, I do think our contingent in the past has been too modest — while they have felt that our interests were being overlooked and neglected, they had not the courage to protest and demand their share. I untend it is high time for us to think and act, and in such a way that we may secure our rights. If Peterborough is not agreeable, I would advocate our withdrawing altogether from this deputation and uniting with those north of us, whose intention of our own, and in our own interests.

It is just about time to let Peterborough understand that Lindsay also has an existence and in this Trent Valley scheme an interest to secure as important to her as any that Peterborough ever had. Peterborough has had its million or million and a half of Government money spent at her very doors—is it unreasonable that Lindsay should now wish for the expenditure of a portion of that amount on much-needed works? We may have this selfish wish and yet declare our sincere desire for a "rapid completion of the Trent Waterway."—I am, sir, yours, etc.,

P. PALMER BURROWS.

HAMILTON MEN want out with a lantern and fooled with benzine. They haven't benzine about the streets since. (This is not a joke, it's a crime.)

Committee Will See Stone Crusher Working

The committee appointed by the Board of Works at a recent meeting to go to Hamilton to witness a demonstration of the Sawyer-Massey and Champion stone-crushing machines, will visit the Ambitious City tomorrow. The committee is composed of Ald. Hicks, chairman of the Board of Works, Mayor Best and Street Commissioner Harry Evans. Ald. Hicks is in Toronto to-day in the interests of the city's private bill, and the other members of the committee left for Toronto this morning.

The committee has practically decided to take one of the two Hamilton machines and after inspecting them both should have no difficulty in making their choice. There is not much difference in the prices and it remains to be seen how much they differ in construction and operation.

SICK HEADACHE

Many varieties of headache exist, those most prevalent being sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, etc.

Headache is an effect of disease, the cry of the suffering body for relief from some oppressing disorder.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed in order to cure the headache permanently. Wrong action of the stomach, liver or bowels is responsible for nine out of ten cases of headache.

In sick headache (a very common form) there is sometimes nausea and vomiting and usually constipation.

In nearly all forms of headache

has proved itself a specific—a medicine that has cured where all others failed.

Keep the stomach, liver and bowels in perfect working order by the use of nature's regulator and tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters, which cures all forms of headache by removing the cause.

Miss L. Smith, Morrisburg, Ont., writes: "I desire to let you know how much good Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled with headaches all the time, and could get no relief, until a friend told me of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking two bottles of it, I can say that I am completely cured."

Peterborough To Benefit By Western Outlet

This is the Opinion Volunteered by Writer in the Cobourg Post —The Question of the Trent Canal Again Revived—C. A. Munson Thinks it Would be Advantageous to Peterboro' to Have Outlet at Port Hope or Cobourg—Reasons For It.

LONGER PERIOD OF NAVIGATION POSSIBLE

The action of the Peterborough Council in organizing a deputation to Ottawa to induce the Government to complete the canal at an early date has evidently awakened considerable interest in the question. This is evidenced by the following letter which appeared in the Cobourg Post from Mr. C. A. Munson, in which he advocates the western outlet as being in the interests of Peterborough:

"The Dominion Government is now considering the relative merits of the different routes for the Trent Valley Canal outlet from Rice Lake to Lake Ontario. In making a choice of routes the Government is bound, in the interests of the people of this country, to choose that route which will be to the advantage of the territory most interested and to this country as a whole.

"That the eastern, or Trenton route, is largely of rock and will entail an enormous additional outlay of money, is an established fact, besides being many miles longer than either the Cobourg or Port Hope route. Rock excavation will not cost much less than two dollars per cubic yard, and I believe that that will be a very conservative estimate. The western routes have little or no rock cuttings and the earth excavation can be made for less than 25 cents per cubic yard, or about one-eighth of the cost of rock excavation.

"The extra cost of maintenance of several railway bridges, which must be paid for by the Government, will be a very large item in the added expense if the eastern route is adopted, while the cost of maintenance of buoys and lighthouses to mark the channel in Rice Lake, will add to the grand total of the outlay. Another most potent factor in favour of the western route, and one that should not be lost sight of, is that navigation to Peterborough from Ontario lake ports via either Cobourg or Port Hope, will be extended from three to five weeks longer than by way of Trenton. The Otonabee River is a fast flowing stream and opens up in the spring much earlier than Rice Lake or the 70 miles of frozen Bay of Quinte, but a channel could easily be broken across Rice Lake from the mouth of the Otonabee, a distance of two or three miles to the canal entrance, whereas it would be utterly impossible to break any kind of a channel through the length of Rice Lake and the Bay of Quinte, a distance altogether of about 100 miles. The canal from Rice Lake to Cobourg could be unwatered in the winter and watered when desired in the spring. The western route would also be of immense value on account of the minimum danger of being frozen in by the shorter route in the fall. Peterborough would most certainly gain immensely by having the shorter route and an added period of navigation at a time of the year when it most needed it in the importation of coal, etc. Besides the reasons given above in favour of the western route is the fact that the outlet on Lake Ontario should be one to which large vessels could come without the dangers of intricate navigation, and which would accommodate vessels of the largest tonnage. This would be impossible were Trenton selected as the outlet, owing both to its situation and its shoal waters.

"I have had an extensive experience with the waters of the Bay of Quinte, having sailed boats yearthere, and also in my business as a dredging contractor, improving that waterway, and have no hesitation in stating that the Bay of Quinte, in foggy weather, is almost impossible to navigate for several days together at different times during the summer. It is to be hoped that the Dominion Government will carefully consider these conditions before making a selection.

"The people demand an immediate completion of this great waterway, and nothing less than an eight-foot channel, as a lesser draught than eight feet would be simply throwing money away. I believe Cobourg should be the Lake Ontario end of this canal, and have good reasons for so believing. But whether Cobourg or Port Hope gets it, the fact remains that the western route will save millions in construction, have a longer period of navigation, will be a much shorter route, and will be able to accommodate vessels of the largest size, besides costing infinitely less for maintenance. No private interests should be considered in the selection of this route, and the fact that capitalists have acquired interests along the Trent River should be no reason why that route should be selected, and the interests of the people of the whole country sacrificed.

Yours, etc.,
C. A. MUNSON."

A Correction.

Suffered for years with Stomach Trouble

Fruit-a-tives" promptly cured her.

Stomach Trouble is usually bowel trouble. The bowels become constipated. Poisonous matter, which should leave the bowels every day, stays in the bowels, two and three days at a time. These poisons paralyze the stomach muscles, prevent the digestive juices from reaching the food, and stop the whole process of digestion.

MRS. F. H. WALLACE, St. Mary's, Ont.: "I have used most of one box of 'Fruit-a-tives,' and found them all right. I have had a good chance to recommend them as I have been in bed for a week with a bilious attack and am getting around fine thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives'."

Doctors talk of dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach when they should talk of Constipation.

Fruit-a-tives or Fruit Liver Tablets

cure Stomach Troubles because they tone, sweeten and stimulate the stomach and they cure the Constipation which is the chief cause of dyspepsia. These concentrated and specially combined fruit juice tablets act directly on the liver—increase the flow of bile—and make the bowels move regularly and naturally every day.

More than that. "Fruit-a-tives" regulate the kidneys—strengthen them—make them excrete more urine—and rid the system of excessive urea and uric acid. They stimulate the glands of the skin to increased action—take away pimples and redness—and keep the skin clear, soft and lovely.

A month's treatment with "Fruit-a-tives" will make you think you had a new stomach.

Warsaw Supper And Concert Was Great Success

Held Under Auspices of Presbyterian Church Last Night—In Connection with Jubilee Anniversary—Large Number Present—Members of Peterborough Presbytery Give Address—Miss Margaret Bryce, of Keene, Assisted in the Musical Part of Programme.

FINANCIAL ISSUE ALSO GRATIFYING

The oyster supper and entertainment given by the members of the Presbyterian church on Monday evening was a decided success. It would seem that the members and friends united unanimously to secure for this section of the Jubilee celebration a place high above any of the same nature which have preceded it. The results of these efforts will be very encouraging to those interested and the event will be one to be remembered and spoken of for years to come. The supper, which was served in the hall, was above the ordinary, perhaps on account of the presence of the delicious bivalves.

At 7.30 p.m., the programme in the church was commenced. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Atkinson, gave a short introductory address dealing with reminiscences of the part taken by music in the local services. The orchestra was heard to advantage in an operatic selection and responded to an encore by rendering the "Scotch Airs." The choir then sang an appropriate anthem. Miss Bryce, of Keene, made her second appearance in Warsaw and retained her former reputation as a vocalist by delighting the audience with Kipling's "Recessional."

Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, delivered an interesting humourous address which formed a pleasant portion of the programme. Mr. A Hendren gave an excellent organ selection which was heartily applauded. Miss Bryce was heard again in a solo, "Fear Not Ye, O Israel," which received its merited approbation by a warm applause. An address was next given by Rev. C. A. Campbell, of Lakefield, and as usual was listened to with much pleasure. The choir then sang an anthem. "Blue Bonnets over the Border" was sang by Miss Bryce in the Scotch dialect and by its reception proved to be one of the most pleasing of her solos. Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings, who was heard in the "History of the Church," in the afternoon, next gave an address. Miss Bryce rendered beautifully two more solos, "Face-to Face," and "Hold Thou My Hand." Her accompanist during the evening was Mr. D. C. King, of Detroit.

Rev. G. Nickle, pastor of the Methodist church, here, then addressed the gathering and the excellent and delightful programme was concluded by another anthem by the choir.

Mr. Jno. Rose moved a vote of thanks to all those who assisted in making the programme such a gratifying success, which was heartily given.

The financial issue of the supper was also very encouraging to the officials of the church, the proceeds amounting to almost $85.00.

John Clarke, a man who has in the past indulged very freely in the flowing bowl, appeared on a charge of vagrancy. After the magistrate had read the charge, he asked the prisoner, "Do you plead guilty to all this?"

"No, sir," was the reply.

"Do you want to go to the Central?"

"No, sir," very emphatically.

"I'll let you go this time, but if you come up before me again I'll send you to the Central," said His Worship.

"Thank you," said Clarke, as he left the dock.

Healthy Blood Best Germicide

YOU CAN PREVENT AS WELL AS CURE DISEASE BY KEEPING THE BLOOD PURE AND RICH WITH

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

"Healthy blood is the most powerful germicide extant," said Sir William Collins recently, in a lecture on "The Man vs. The Microbe."

This well-known authority proceeds to show how much more successfully disease can be combatted by keeping the blood pure and rich than by inoculating into the system one set of poisonous germs to fight the other germs of disease.

And this is what we have been claiming for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and what we have been backing up by the testimony of worthy people in all parts of the country.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food prevents disease as well as cures it because it contains in condensed form the very ingredients which go to form new, rich blood and nerve force.

Especially at this time of year when the system has become run down and the blood weakened the majority of people find it necessary to use some treatment in order to enrich and purify the blood and increase the vigour of the body.

Neglect to assist Nature at this trying time means that you leave yourself liable to attack by all sorts of disease germs. It also means that, instead of accomplishing your work with pleasure and success and enjoying life, you drag yourself about, feel miserable, and by your irritability bring unhappiness to all associated with you.

Some of the most common indications of a run-down system are headaches, sleeplessness, indigestion and a general lack of energy and vitality.

No treatment we know of so thoroughly overcomes these symptoms as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you can prove its remarkable blood-forming, tissue-building qualities by noting your increase in weight while using it.

If you would feel strong and well and avoid all the ills and weakness so common at this season, enrich your blood and revitalize your nerves by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

EVILS OF THE SYSTEM.

With spring at hand, and the birds mating, one is naturally reminded of the lyric, or hymnic fact, that "birds in their little nests agree. We might well invite our Conservative friends to go to the little birds for the lesson they so much need. We have a new trouble at Ottawa over the Conservative leadership, while the Commons leadership has become, so to speak, a chronic bone of contention. We have troubles in the Conservative camp in Ontario, but not over a question of leadership, even if the matter of the manner of leading is involved. Hon. Mr. Whitney is a strong leader—vocally—and at times assumes a brave front of autocratic bearing, but at other times he shows a diplomatic pliancy, which, while it is an amiable trait, leads to little domestic complications. The spoilsmen trouble him, and are the cause of the failure of a great many heroic intentions. Even the demands of the office seekers breed trouble quite beyond the solution of the problem to find places for the "workers" of the party, who are willing to sacrifice themselves upon the altar of the public service. In Hamilton friction arises not only over the filling of places, but the manner in which appointments shall be made is a subject of friction. The local Conservative executive is annoyed because Hon. J. S. Hendrie and H. Carscallen, M.P.P., had Wm. Birrell appointed license inspector, without appointing any member of the executive. A meeting was held a few evenings ago, when protests were made against such action. Herein is seen a part of the evils of the spoils system, introduced — at least, recognized — by the Whitney Government.

The members of the association of a great party, instead of spending their energies over questions that affect the public interest, and fighting for them, are struggling like wolves about a quarry over a petty question of party spoils—or, rather, over the manner in which the feast of fat things of office shall be served.

THE MAKERS OF CANADA.

Canada is a nation in the making, and just now the process is in very active condition. We are reaching out bravely in the way of agricultural and mineral and industrial development, and all elements of our citizenship are working energetically in their respective spheres for the upbuilding of the national edifice. Our least noticable progress seems to be in the fields of art and literature, but in these we are advancing more satisfactorily, perhaps, than is realized, for in these domains progress does not lend itself so readily to the production of tangible evidence. But we are nevertheless moving in the field of literature. Increasing attention is being paid to the sources of our progress and a new and ambitious work is now in process of preparation and production, which deals with notable men who represent the forces that have contributed most largely in the arena of statesmanship and its allied activities to the making of Canada. We have been favoured by an examination of advance pages of the new Parkman edition of the "Makers of Canada," which a number of leading critics speak of as the most important book publishing enterprise that has yet been attempted in Canada. The purpose of this series, which is to be complete in twenty volumes, is to give a connected narrative of the development of the Canadian nation, as seen from the standpoint of the men who founded the nation. The story of what these men did and how they did it is of great present-day interest, and the writers who have been chosen to tell it are well qualified for the trust. Good printing and the most careful manufacturing add greatly to the value of the books, which are thus of interest for their own sake and as an addition to our national literature. The publishers are Messrs. Morang & Co., Toronto, who are now offering a new edition at a popular price.

Help for the Kidneys Through Gin Pills.

A GUARANTEED CURE.

Read this letter. Read it twice. You have never heard such good news before—if your kidneys are sick. It tells how to be free of pain—how to have all your old-time health and vigor.

"I have been for years a sufferer with pain in the back and across the kidneys. There was scarcely a minute, day or night, that I was free of pain, and when I attempted to pass urine, the pain was almost unbearable. A friend of mine in Portage la Prairie, who was similarly afflicted, strongly advised me to try Gin Pills, as they had cured him. I bought a box of Gin Pills, and in less than a week, to my great delight, found myself without pain. I have had to go as often as every 20 minutes to urinate and several times during the night. Since taking Gin Pills, I sleep through the entire night and am not more than ordinarily inconvenienced during the day. I can earnestly recommend Gin Pills to anyone suffering from pain in the back, kidneys or bladder.

Mr. G. O. C. GOWLER, Portage la Prairie."

Your druggist has Gin Pills, or will get them for you. 50c box—6 for $2.50.

If you will send us your name and address and tell us the paper in which you have read this we send you a trial box of Gin Pills absolutely free. You will get such relief that you will gladly continue the treatment until cured. Do it to-day—now—and start to cure yourself.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Hon. Mr. Reaume says that the improvement of the acoustics of the Legislative Chamber is under consideration. A greater improvement would be to subject the acoustic qualities of the legislative hall to less severe strain.

The Whitney Government has followed a great deal of the policy of the late Liberal Government, to the advantage of Provincial interests. They might well extend their adoption of the late Government's policy to the retention of the present County Council system. But possibly the temptation to retrograde movements is too much for ingrained political instincts.

MRS. MARY GREGOVICH

Of Philipsburg, Montana, Tells How She Was Cured of Dandruff.

Mrs. Mary Gregovich of Philipsburg, Montana, under date of Nov. 26, 1899, writes: "I had typhoid fever this summer; consequently was losing my hair terribly, and my head in places was perfectly bald. Newbro's Herpicide had just come into use in Philipsburg, and the doctor strongly recommended it to me. After three or four applications my hair stopped falling out, and is now coming in again quite fast. I used to be troubled greatly with dandruff, of which I am now quite cured." Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide.

A Bouquet For Mr. John Kylie

The March issue of The Canadian Shoe and Leather Journal devotes a page to special reproductions of a dozen different advertisements of retail shoe merchants throughout Canada. These reproductions are facsimiles of the advertisements as they appear in the various newspapers from which they are selected, showing the typographical taste and skill used in the display of the ads. The chief object is to afford advertisers a practical lesson on effective newspaper advertising. Among the number shown which comes in for favourable criticism by the "Shoe Store Advertising" expert of The Shoe and Leather Journal is one of Mr. John Kylie's, of the City Shoe Store, as it appeared in an issue of The Examiner a short time ago. The critic says: "It has a good headline, a good cut, a good list of leaders, good descriptions, a good arrangement, and a good selection of type. A good border would have been just the finishing touch. Nothing adds or subtracts character like a good border, unless it be good cuts."

Fashionable Event At Turnbull Co's

Away with the tiresome garb of winter! Let it give place to the smart new styles of spring. Such reflections came during an interesting visit to the store of Messrs. J. C. Turnbull Company, where unusual preparations are afoot for a grand opening exhibition on Thursday, March 15th. Every section of this leading store is in the blossoming stage, and by Thursday such a forecast of the correct fashions for the coming season will be given as will mark the occasion for the largest gathering of ladies at this fashionable review.

From advance glimpses in the millinery department it was seen that contributions from the best foreign and local artists will be shown in an exhibit conspicuous for advance style models of charming suitability. There is an entire change of styles this season. The increasing business in this department has demanded an increased staff, and three expert milliners have been added this season. These are, Miss Wilson from Barrie, Miss Watson from Stayner, Miss Fry from Norwood.

Increased space has been given for the accommodation of Turnbull's Cloak Department, which has become so popular with Peterborough ladies. The new materials embrace choicest productions of the mills. The popular colours for costumes are greys, greens and navys, with Eton and short sleeve effects. The new models in separate coats are tight-fitting, semi and loose. The new pony coat in the covert cloth is the most popular novelty. Light tweed tourist coats, with contrasting trimmings are also prominent and numerous styles are shown in black coats in best style and finish.

In this feast of fashion, separate skirts receive a goodly share of attention. They are shown in circular, box-pleated and side-pleated patterns, in tweeds, broadcloths, venetians and serges.

Great interest will be taken in the numerous new designs of waists. They embrace embroidered silk and linen, lingerie and soft effects, also dainty wash waists in different patterns.

A new whitewear section has been opened in the cloak department, where the prettiest of spring and summer under muslins will be shown.

Thursday should witness a great turn-out of ladies at Turnbull's. The most exacting will be well repaid. The entire change in styles will make buying compulsory, as old styles cannot be altered to look like the new, no matter how ingenious the skill of woman may be.

Lakefield Gets Cement Contract

At the meeting of the Hamilton city council on Monday night the long-pending controversy regarding the city's supply of cement was settled by the council unanimously accepting the tender of the Lakefield Portland Cement Company. Hamilton is to be congratulated. It gets a first class article of cement and enters into an agreement with a reliable and substantial company.

Cured her Father's Drunkenness by a Simple Remedy.

"It seemed hopeless to keep father from drinking, and we all felt the disgrace. When things were at their worst a friend advised me to try Samaria. I saw that you offered a free sample treatment and that the remedy was tasteless and could be given secretly. I determined to try it, and, have been glad every day since. The full treatment, which I gave him in his tea, cured him, and I am pleased to say he never touches whiskey now. How glad I am that I wrote you and how happy we all are together Father says that he could never have stopped drinking of his own accord."

Big Crowds At Bargain Sale

The crowds that throng the B. Y. Moyes' bargain sale, continue to increase daily, and even the large and efficient staff employed is taxed to its utmost to wait on the numbers attracted by the great bargains offered. A large stock of general dry-goods and ladies' furnishings still remains on hand despite the great inroads that have been made during the five days of the sale. The sale will continue until Saturday, March 17th.

Has Gone To Pacific Coast

Mr. I. J. Rosboro, who has been visiting friends in the city for the past few days, left this morning for Slocum Junction, B.C. Mr. Rosboro has been employed as foreman by the firm of Holgate & Ross, at Turbine, Algoma, and will take a similar position with the company at Slocum. He has been with the firm for five years. Mrs. Rosboro is visiting her mother, Mrs. Bellegham, here, and will join her husband in a month.

MOTHER AND CHILD.

Let the mother take Scott's Emulsion for the two; it never fails to benefit them both. One can eat for two, but nourishing two is a different thing. It calls for a degree of internal strength that the average woman lacks. People of luxury are not very strong by habit; overworked people are weak in some functions from exhaustion or their surroundings. Scott's Emulsion can be depended upon to overcome such conditions. It is a wonderful food for a mother and child.

Home Circle Convention

ONE OF MOST SUCCESSFUL Ever Held In Peterborough

Proposed Changes in the Constitution Were Discussed at Last Evening and This Morning's Session—Few Changes Were Made as the Members Are Satisfied—Election of Officers Taking Place To-day.

The convention of the Order of Canadian Home Circles, is in full swing and is one of the most important ever held in this city. The gathering is a representative one, delegates being pre[illegible] parts of Canada. Deep interest in the affairs of the Home Circle has been displayed. Last night and this morning the chief business transacted was the discussion of proposed amendments to the constitution. This morning the election of officers was commenced and continued this afternoon.

Tuesday's Session.

The evening session was occupied in the discussion of various prepared amendments to the constitution and bylaws. They were numerous, and mostly of minor importance. The status of associate members—members of the order for social reasons, and carrying no insurance—was up for consideration, as was also the prescribed list of occupations, but no change was made in either.

This Morning's Session.

The convention resumed business this morning at ten o'clock with all the Supreme Officers in attendance.

Since the adjournment last night a large number of additional delegates had arrived, and the assembly hall at the court house was crowded when the meeting was called to order. Much difficulty was experienced last night in securing accommodation for the new arrivals.

The convention got down to business in good style this morning.

After the reading of the minutes of last night's meeting the proposed amendments to the constitution were taken up. Few changes were made and the members expressed themselves as being averse to any amendments.

At ten o'clock the election of officers commenced, resulting in the following being elected:

Supreme Leader — Wm. Stark, Toronto.

Supreme Vice Leader — T. R. Young, Walkerton.

This Afternoon's Session.

The election of officers was proceeded with when the convention opened this afternoon. At the time of going to press the following had been elected, in addition to those chosen in the morning:

Supreme Secretary, J. M. Foster, Toronto.

Supreme Treasurer, W. H. Weston, Toronto.

Supreme Chaplain, Rev. R. N. Phalen, Blackstock.

The report of the Trustee Committee was also presented this afternoon. It showed that the scheme decided on last year of placing $100,000 of the life expectancy fund in loan companies instead of in chartered banks had been ver ysuccessful and that the increased interest income was $1,000. The convention favourably considered investing the entire funds of the company in that way. funds of the order in that way.

Greetings From Local Council To The Visitors

Address of Welcome Was Read by Mrs. Anderson at Yesterday's Session.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the O.C.H.C. the following address of welcome from Peterborough Council No. 193 by Mrs. Anderson, past leader, was read:—

In extending a hearty welcome to you, in this, the occasion of your annual meeting, we, the members of Peterborough Circle, No. 193, would have you feel assured that we appreciate the great honour you have conferred upon us, in having selected this city as the place of convention. We know that your coming bears with it a message of encouragement and an incentive to still better work on behalf of the Order; that reports will tell of what has been accomplished by subordinate circles of good records made, and of long strides toward an enviable goal. The meetings about to be held are therefore of exceptional importance to the representatives attending, and we feel that the business to be transacted will be marked by careful and wise deliberation.

On such an occasion as this, indeed, one may be well constrained to say that the star of our Order's destiny will be made clearer to us, by virtue of the higher and more direct view which all must obtain.

Peterborough Circle feels that it can justly contribute to the general note of inspiration. Circle 193 may be said to have been recently resuscitated and to have pressed forward with a success which, in a measure, may atone for a period of inactivity. First organized with a small membership, it struggled onward for a period of some months and then became undemonstrative. In 1903, however, with a visit of Mrs. Walker, organizer, new officers were installed and a new membership started, which grew to such proportions that twice in succession the Circle has secured the prize for the greatest growth in membership.

The Circle is now upon a sound basis and the general good and welfare of the Order is the Watchword of its members and officers. The general progress of the Order, as it has been made known to us, from time to time, strikingly suggests the spirit of loyalty existing everywhere within its borders. As a subordinate circle, we, too, have endeavoured to exemplify in our meetings, the sentiment suggested by the name of Home Circle and to impress the significance of the sacred truths for which it stand.

These, we feel, must not be lost sight of, but must be regarded as contributing inestimably to the grand objects which the Order seeks to fulfill.

Our earnest hope is that you as visitors to Peterborough, as guests of Peterborough Circle, may feel that there are here available all the pleasures and hospitalities of home, that the convention will be enjoyable as we know it will be beneficial, and that you may feel the members of the Peterborough Circle can desire no greater compliment than to find themselves employed exercising towards their guests that fraternity which is so characteristic of the Order.

Signed on behalf of the Peterborough Circle, No. 193,

M. A. ANDERSON, P. L.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I would like to call the attention of the public to the excellent service being given by the Peterborough Radial Railway Co. There are always people who abuse the company when things go wrong and I think that when praise is due it should be as freely given. The cars of the company are running promptly on time. There is no wait at the switches, the cars arriving and departing exactly as per schedule. This fact makes the service a splendid one and those who patronize the cars are loud in their praises of the way they are being run. The company deserves great credit.

Special Services At Tabernacle

"The Forward Movement" Was Subject of Last Night's Address.

The evangelistic services at Bethany Tabernacle are attracting considerable attention. A splendid congregation listened with rapt attention to the stirring address by Evangelist Stephens, and several professed conversion at the close of the service. The subject for last evening was "The Forward Movement," the text being found in Exodus14, 15, "Speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward." Mr. Stephens was closely associated with Messrs. Torrey and Alexander in their recent revival campaign in Toronto, and told many striking incidents of the far-reaching results of the work. He believes with Mr. Torrey that the church must get out of the old rut, and must expect the unusual thing to happen. When the church is awakened from her spiritual lethargy, and moved forward into the advanced stages of the Christian life, the unsaved will follow and fill in the gap. Pastor Steuernagel and the evangelist wish to invite all praying people to intercede with God for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the people of Peterborough. Pastors and people of the various churches who are at liberty to do so are cordially invited to join in the special effort at the tabernacle.

400 Cases of Typhoid Fever.

Winnipeg, March 14.—Dr. Bell of Toronto, provincial health inspector of Ontario, was in Winnipeg yesterday. Last week he was in Fort William investigating the typhoid epidemic, which has probably 400 cases of fever, although he found it impossible to get a report of the number of cases. Prof. Starkie of Montreal has been engaged to take charge of the fight and was being paid $50 per day for his services. "The water supply which the town has been using," said Dr. Bell, "is undoubtedly the cause of the typhoid."

Oil Fire Causes $100,000 Loss.

Sarnia, March 14.—The first serious fire that has occurred at the Imperial Oil Co.'s works since establishing here took place Monday night. The grease plant was entirely wiped out, entailing a loss of well on to $100,000. Thomas Wray, a company employe, was seriously hurt, while working on a hose line.

Chooses Gaspe.

Ottawa, March 14.—Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, who at the last election was returned for both Gaspe and Nicolet, has decided to sit for the former constituency. A new election will, therefore, be held in Nicolet.

Is Willing To Be a Martyr For The Church

In Defending Church French Bishop Makes Declaration.

PRISON, EXILE OR DEATH

France, March 14.—The population of the Town of Coucouron, about fifty miles from here is determined to resist the taking of inventory of the church under the church and state separation law.

The doors are heavily barricaded and strong gratings have been fastened across the windows.

A hundred men, armed with rifles and provisioned for a long siege, are installed inside the building.

A Bishop's Defiance.

Marseilles, March 14.—An exciting scene occurred yesterday at the doors of the cathedral. The local authorities attempted to take an inventory under the church and state separation law, whereupon the bishop, wearing his mitre and surrounded by the congregation chanting, ordered the authorities not to enter the cathedral, and read a declaration denouncing the law as renewing the evils which brought on the revolution and the reign of terror. The bishop added: "Here, before the altar, I announce that I am prepared to suffer imprisonment, exile, or death, in defending the rights of the church."

The authorities withdrew in order to avoid trouble. The cathedral will be closed day and night, and guards who will keep regular watches have been organized to resist the Government inspectors.

Bad Days, Says Pope.

Rome, March 14.—The Vatican has been following the French Cabinet crisis with the keenest interest, but its solution is considered to complete the disaster to the Catholic Church in France.

A prominent prelate exclaimed yesterday: "We have fallen from the frying pan into the fire."

The Vatican authorities received a despatch yesterday saying the composition of the Cabinet will not be officially announced until to-day because of yesterday being the 13th day of the month is considered to be unlucky.

The pontiff smiled sadly when this information was conveyed to him, saying: "Evidently being a free thinker does not exclude superstition. Bad days are preparing for the dear, dear Catholics in France."

Good Hopes For Intercolonial For This Year

Mr. Emmerson's Statement Shows Great Improvement.

ROAD WILL NOT BE SOLD

Management by Commission Characterized at "Rot"—Deficit For First Half of Current Year Reduced to Seventy-One Thousand Dollars—Minister of Railways Demands Fair Play For the Railway.

Ottawa, March 14.—A greatly reduced deficit, with more reforms in progress which would before long bring the Intercolonial Railway to a paying basis, was the cheering note of Hon. H. R. Emmerson's annual budget yesterday. The Minister of Railways delivered probably the best speech he has made since his advent at Ottawa, his two hours' effort showing the extent to which he had been saturated with Intercolonial facts and conditions in the last six months. The idea of a commission he scouted as "rot," and as inconsistent with our conditions, and said he wanted no better expert commission than the Deputy Minister, who had been aiding him of late. The figures quoted showed a deficit of nearly a million and three-quarters in the last fiscal year, under adverse conditions, but in the first half of this year the deficit was only $71,000. The House heard the explanations with a good deal of interest, and adjourned at 6 o'clock before Mr. Haggart had gone very far in his reply.

The Intercolonial's Position.

On motion to go into Committee of Supply on the railway estimates, Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, in his annual statement said the Intercolonial deficit for the year ending June 30, 1905, is $1,725,303, as against the preceding annual deficit of $900,949. Neither deficit takes into account any money expended for capital account, an item which for the last fiscal year amounted to more than $4,000,000. The revenue, however, meanwhile had increased by $450,000. He was satisfied that the road in time would prove a great success. He would never consent to the sale of the road, and submitted that his management was all that could be desired. He had made a tour of inspection. He had talked with managers, superintendents, and also with the humblest employes, trying to enlist their sympathetic co-operation.

Mr. Emmerson admitted that the deficit was appalling, but personally he had no apologies to make. The road was under the same manager and officered and operated by the same men who had operated it for years. He demanded fair play not only from the House but from the press of the country in regard to this deficit in 1905, and the unusual but unavoidable cause that contributed to it. He defended the practice of charging betterments to capital account.

The Intercolonial had its inception, he said, at the Charlottetown conference, which convened Sept. 8, 1864. It was the twin of confederation. Sir John A. Macdonald had predicted that the road could never become of commercial importance, but that it was essential for political union. Sir George Cartier had stated that the Intercolonial should be built as soon as confederation was established. The Intercolonial had done a great work. It had benefited the commerce of Canada.

True, it had cost a great deal, but the canals of Canada had cost more. Vast sums had been given to roads owned by private corporations. The C.P.R., G.T.R. and others had received from Canada, all told, one hundred and twenty-one million dollars in money, and fifty-six million acres of land, now worth from five to ten dollars per acre. The total cost, including all deficits, of the Intercolonial and the Prince Edward County Island Railway combined, total only ninety-four million dollars.

Mr. Emmerson attributed the failure of the Intercolonial to its long and tortuous course, to the sharp competition it suffered from American railroads, and from water routes, both in Canada and the United States. Besides the road had been a "pack horse" for the Government. It carried freight and did many things for which it did not receive a dollar. This service was charged to operating expense and went to swell the deficit.

The Minister then gladdened the House by announcing that under his administration the road had begun to pick up. For the current six months revenues had increased and expenses decreased. His deficit Jan. 1, 1906, was only seventy-one thousand dollars, as compared to four hundred and eighty-two thousand dollars Jan. 1, 1905. He still hoped that the road could and would pay its way soon. The Government had never considered any proposition involving the sale of the road.

Hon. John Haggart's Reply.

Hon. John Haggart, ex-Minister of Railways and Canals, in replying to Mr. Emmerson, called attention to the fact that the burden of loss from the Intercolonial had grown twenty-four million dollars since the Laurier Government came into power. He ridiculed the excuses made by the Minister of the Deficit. He had spoken of the road carrying coal at a loss from the Maritime Provinces to the farmers of the Northwest. God help the farmers if they had to rely upon the Intercolonial for fuel. During the past year it had carried, all told, about 6,000 tons of coal. The past ten years had been years of great prosperity, but the Intercolonial seemed unable to get its share. Between Montreal and Halifax it paralleled the C.P.R, and had the shortest and best route. It run the same number of trains and should have secured the bulk of the trade. Yet out of eighteen thousand passengers carried the Minister's own report showed that his road had secured but fifteen hundred. Utter incompetency had marked his administration.

The speaker was not surprised that Mr. Emmerson preferred to talk about something else. One good thing he had done, however, by rambling from the subject. He had refuted the absurd statement recently made by Sir Richard Cartwright that Sir John was opposed to confederation.

Mine Operators' Statement.

New York, March 14.—The following statement on behalf of the anthracite operators' committee of seven was published yesterday:

"The operators think that they are taking long chances in even offering to continue the present condition for three years longer. This offer was based on the possibility that the business prosperity which characterized the last three years will continue. There is no certainty of this, and in carrying out this contract the operators may be placed at a serious disadvantage."

Abducted By Her Mother.

Walkerville, March 14.—Edie, the 13-year-old adopted daughter of A. B. Keith of this place, was seen talking last evening to a man and woman on the street. The child was induced by them to board the Detroit ferry from here. She did not return. Mr. and Mrs. Keith believe that the girl's mother enticed her away. The girl was adopted when an infant, with her mother's consent.

National Hockey Team Have Creditable Record

Clever Junior Team Have Won Eight Victories Without a Loss This Year—Their Record is Now Twenty-nine Wins Without a Defeat in Three Years' Time—Something About Junior City Champions.

The National hockey team last night disbanded for the year after a most successful season. This aggregation holds the junior championship of the city, and have a record of which any team might be proud. The "kids" in the red and white have played the fastest kind of hockey all season and have a team which is bound to produce material for future championships.

The Nationals, in the three years they have been playing together, have played in all 29 games, and have the unequalled record of not losing a single game. Last year they won 14 consecutive victories, and this year they were victorious in the eight games played. Some of the wins have been over teams heavier than themselves, which makes their unbroken string of triumphs all the more creditable.

Goal, L. Giroux.
Point, F. Laplante.
Cover, K. Pentland (Captain).
Rover, J. Gorman.
Centre, O. Giroux.
Right Wing, C. Conroy.
Left Wing, S. Gorman.

The average age of the team is 16 years. The Nationals have a strong, well-balanced team, the defence being almost impregnable, the forwards remarkably fast for juniors, and shooting and stick-handling with the skill of much older players. They play clever combination also, and this feature of their play has been the means of winning many games for them. They carry the puck right in on the goal, instead of shooting from outside, the fault of most juveniles. The team owes much to the manager, T. McGrath, of the High Lifes, who has looked after the boys for several years.

To-night's Game Will Be The Best This Year

The Formidable Federal League Champions Will Clash With Locals.

The game to-night between the locals and Smith's Fall the Federal League champions is attracting much attention and there is much speculation as to which team will win. While Smith Falls is conceded by everybody to have a remarkably fast septette, yet there are some backers of the home team that think they cannot defeat Peterborough on home ice. They have a very strong team, the players being picked all over Ontario while the home seven is an aggregation of homebrews, three of them, Whitcroft, Morgan and Cavanah, are graduates from junior hockey and Watson, Graham, Glover and Crowley are Peterborough natives. Considering the fact that they have to go up against a team that represents Smith Falls in name only, if they win they will certainly cover themselves with glory. Harold Armstrong's friends and admirers from this city will doubtless be on hand in large numbers to see him do some of his spectacular work for which he is famous throughout Eastern Canada. In the recent Stanley Cup games he was characterized as the fastest individual player on either team. LeSuer the goal tender is reputed to be one of the very best in the business and all the rest of the team are players of the highest calibre. The excellent showing of the Peterborough seven during the winter speaks for itself and with two such septettes battling for the supremacy the contest will probably be the finest ever seen here in the history of the game. F. C. Waghorne will officiate.

The teams will line-up as follows:—

Peterborough.		Smith Falls
Watson	Goal.	LeSuer
Glover	Point	Brown
Crowley	Cover.	Armstrong
	Forwards.
Whitcroft		Scevings
Morgan		May
Graham		Fraser
Cavanah		Ross

Referee—F. C. Waghorne.

Pill Pounders Deserve Credit

Have Not Lost a Game This Season.

The Pill Pounders won their fourth straight game Monday night by putting away the dry goods picked team by the score of 5-2, the half-time total being 4-2, and although they won their game they will have a splendid opportunity of testing the curative powers of some of their tallows in stock, as a number of them received bruises.

Notwithstanding their defeat, the dry goods men put up an excellent sample of hockey and kept their opponents busy from start to finish. The two Todds and Bell were always dangerous, and had it not been for the magnificent work of Quinn, Davidson and Harrison on the defence, they would have run up a larger score.

The work of Art. Mann, the star of the Pill men's forward line, was gilt-edged throughout, and he was instrumental in scoring the greater number of their goals. "Bill" Grose made a very satisfactory referee.

The teams lined up as follows:

Pill Pounders—		Dry Goods Men
Harrison	Goal	Dobson
Davidson	Point	Gillespie
Quinn	Cover	Todd
Mann	Rover	Seymour
Darke	Centre	Bell
Fitzgerald	Right Wing	Darling

Referee, W. Grose.

Whitcroft Was Pick Of Forwards

This is the Opinion of the Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review, speaking of the game in Toronto on Saturday night says —

"Hamber of the Argos and Gee of Barrie made a fast and husky defence for the East, while Carr-Harris of Goderich and Forbes of Stratford played equally as well for the West. Perhaps the latter had a trifle the better of it by comparison, as the Eastern forwards ran away from the Western men in the second half. Carr-Harris used his great weight effectively and stopped the rushes of Hamber and Gee with ease. Twaits was the star of the Western outfit on the line. Edmunds and Kidler were in fast company, and did not shine particularly. Whitcroft, of Peterborough, was the best forward on either team, and his work has not been excelled in the Mutual Street Rink for a long time. The score against the West would have been much larger had it not been for the cool and effective work of Ardagh between the flags. Lou Burns refereed.

Famous Lindsay Curlers Coming

Mr. Flavelle Will Bring His Two Winnipeg Rinks Here on Friday.

Mr. R. O'Neill has received a communication from Mr. Flavello, of Lindsay, one of Canada's king curlers, stating that he will bring two rinks here on Friday next. These will be the same rinks that played in Winnipeg this season and won such great honours in that western town. It is expected that most of the lovers of the game in the city will be present to see these eminent players. Two of the best rinks in the city will be chosen to compete against the Lindsay stars, and there will undoubtedly be some of the most scientific curling that has been seen in Peterborough for a long time. The games will commence at 1 o'clock on Friday afternoon, and already are attracting much interest among the local enthusiasts.

Northern Curlers Were Victorious

The long-delayed curling contest between the North and South Ends was partly played off last night and resulted in a decided victory for the former. The ice was in a perfect condition due to the constant care of Mr. McIntosh and some scientific curling occurred at times. Three rinks only were in operation and in each one the northerners demonstrated their superiority over their southern friends winning by 24 points. The remainder of the series will probably be concluded to-morrow evening.

The following were the scores:—

South.		North.
C James		W J Henry
J Gibson		J Bogue
C E Frost		Dr. Eastwood
C Rutherford, jr.		W J Thompson 14.
A Webb		J Wiley
G B Stevenson		W Isaacs

HOCKEY

The married men challenge the Charlotte Street Guild team in one of the City League to a game of hockey for an oyster supper or for fan, money or marbles. The Benedicts have collected a fast organization and think that they can tie all kinds of knots in the champions. Arrangements can be completed with Carlos Waller, manager of the married seven.

CURLING

In all probability Lindsay and Lakesay and Lakefield will be represented here with a number of rinks on Friday.

BOXING

This is the night of the big Nelson-McGovern fight. The contest is exciting great interest and Nelson is the favourite in the betting. The house has been all sold out and the receipts will total over $18,000.

Charlie Conkle, of Hamilton, defeated Otto Roehm, of Buffalo, at Hamilton last night, obtaining the last two falls in 6.53 and 1.05 minutes respectively. Roehm got the first fall in 34 minutes.

The Wornout Nerves, The Weak Heart, The Tired Brain, The Wasted Strength.

What a multitude of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case. From early morn until late at night they have been on the go, year in and year out, attending to the daily household duties, looking after the wants of her children and spending the rest of her time attending to social and church work. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? The action of the heart becomes weak and palpitating, the nerves become unstrung, the brain feels in a whirl half the time and the usual force of vitality is lacking.

It is at this time a woman should look after herself. If she does not, serious female disorders may set in and often cause weary months and years of helplessness and miserable suffering. What she wants is something to build up her system. For this purpose there is nothing to equal

They are the women's friend in every sense of the word.

They will strengthen the weak heart, tone up the shaky, starved nerves, make the brain clear, and restore the lost vitality.

Mrs. George Lohnes, Stanley Section, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with weak and dizzy spells and was so run down I could not attend to my household duties. I bought two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them I found that my trouble had all passed away. I am now strong and healthy again."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25. If your dealer does not handle them, send direct to The Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

WIND PUMPS

I have much pleasure in thanking the public for their liberal patronage in the past and to state that I am now in a better position than ever to attend to all orders for Pumps, etc. cleaning Wells, etc.

I have been appointed agent for the sale of pumps in Peterborough and vicinity for the Ontario Wind Engine and Pump Co., and will keep a stock of their various Pumps on hand, both wood and iron. The heads of the Wood Pumps are made of British Columbia Cedar, which will not split, check nor taint the water, and last twice as long as pine.

WELLS CLEANED and REPAIRED. CISTERNS CEMENTED. Also Platforms Cemented when desired.

My success in Repairing Pumps where others have failed, should be a guarantee that I am prepared to give satisfaction. References desired.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

Common pills purge the bowels. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new rich blood. Purging pills gallop through the bowels—tearing the tissues, irritating the organs and weakening the whole system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not purge at all. They're tonic pills, soothing pills, strengthening pills, blood-building pills. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. That is why they are the only scientific cure for all blood diseases. That is why they cure headaches and backaches, kidney troubles, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, heart troubles and the special ailments of growing girls and mature women. Purging pills act only on the symptoms of disease; Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go straight to the root of the trouble in the blood—and cure. Mr. John Burke, Elmdale, P.E.I., says "I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine in the world. I had an attack of pneumonia which was followed by extreme nervousness and rheumatism. I tried some of our best doctors but got nothing to help me until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking the pills some weeks I could actually feel the new blood they were making coursing through my veins, and in the course of a few weeks more I was completely restored to health." Remember that it is only Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that can make this new, rich, health-giving blood. Imitations and the so-called "just as good" medicines never cured anyone. Insist on the genuine with the full name, "Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper on each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Be There With The Ribbons

Smith Falls Will be Represented by Their Best Team!

Wear your colours at to-night's game and show your loyalty to the one team in the intermediate O. H. A. that has put the other intermediate teams in the "also ran" class. The team has done remarkably well this season and it's up to you to show your appreciation of the fact by being there with the blue and white ribbons. It encourages a team to see its colours just the same as it does an army to see its flag, and from the form displayed by the wonderful Smith's Falls seven this winter they'll need encouragement to-night if they ever did.

The Easterners will be represented by a distinctly senior team. There will not be any intermediates on the line-up and Peterborough will face the same seven that made such a strong bid for the coveted Stanley Cup and the one that would probably have landed it had the ice been fast all through. It will be the greatest game in years and deserves a house that will make the bricks bulge.

A Serious Loss to the Village of Fenelon Falls

The Sandford Furniture Factory Destroyed by Fire—Started About 6 O'clock P.M.—A Local Industry Which Employed About 85 Hands—Loss Will be a Serious One to the Village—The Loss is $90,000—Insurance $40,000.

Fenelon Falls, March 13, 2 p.m.—This village suffered a serious loss last evening in the destruction of the Sandford furniture factory — our leading industry—by fire. The blaze was discerned by some parties at the Grand Trunk station about ten minutes after the closing of the factory at six o'clock, and the alarm was at once sent up to the village, but there being no efficient fire fighting appliances and the large building being filled with inflammable material, the villagers realized that they were summoned merely to gaze upon a fearsome and costly exhibition of pyrotechnics. The fire spread through the huge building with lightning rapidity, and in the course of an hour everything had been licked up, including a dwelling owned by a citizen named McClory. The G. T. R. warehouse close by was on fire several times but was saved by hard work.

The Sandford furniture factory was established in January, 1904, in a large three-story frame building sheeted with iron, having been erected near the G. T. R. station, about half a mile south of the post office. Later on a number of additions were made. Local capital was at the back of the enterprise, the principal shareholders being Messrs. John Austin, P. McDougall, J. Twomey, Thomas Robson, George Martin, John Howie, F. Sandford, and F. A. McDiarmid. In addition the citizens of the village held $15,0000 of the stock as a municipal venture. The buildings, machinery, stock on hand and in process of manufacture, etc., represented a total value of between $80,000 and $90,000, and the insurance is about $40,000. Eighty five hands had been constantly employed all winter, and had been working time and a quarter, the orders ahead being many. At the outset the promoters of the enterprise had to endure some setbacks owing to the difficulties and losses met with in gaining a footing with the retail trade of the province, but of late it has been smooth sailing, and the outlook for the present year was a rosy one. Under the circumstances the people of the village feel that the loss is a personal misfortune.

Army Immigrants Have Reached Canada

First Steamer Load of the Year Has Arrived at Halifax—A Number of the Men Will be Sent to Peterborough to Fill Places Found for Them by Adjt. Jennings.

Adjt. Jennings, head of the Salvation Army's Immigration Work, in Eastern Ontario, has received word of the arrival in Halifax of the first steamer-load of English settlers.

Flying the Salvation Army flag at her masthead in the bright sunlight of a keen March morning, the steamer Kensington sailed up the Halifax harbour yesterday bearing the first contingent of the 10,000 immigrants who will, within the next three months, come to Canada under Salvation Army auspices. There were in all 1,080 persons, predominately men, there being not more than thirty or forty married couples, and a very limited number of children.

High Status of Party.

The whole aspect of the party was that of good physical condition, self-respect, and cheerful confidence. If the status of the remainder of the contingent is so high as this, the Salvation Army has done Canada a service in bringing them to the country as settlers.

The party came over in charge of Commissioner Cadman of International Headquarters, and General Booth's representative. The 1,080 who arrived yesterday go straight forward to definite destinations and to work.

Commissioner Cadman speaks with prideof the party, and designates the Kensington as a true ship of salvation. "no low spirits, no tears, but all joy and expectation of success in the new country."

A number of these immigrants will be sent to Peterborough and will be placed in positions which Adjt. Jennings has secured for them here. It is expected that they will reach here in the course of a day or two.

"Long" And "Short" Campaign Begins

A New Membership Scheme Inaugurated by the Local Y. M. C. A.—Object is to Increase Membership and to Pay Off Debt on the Association—The Plan of the Campaign—E. E. Lord and J. Hardwicke the Respective Captains.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of members held at the Y.M.C.A. last night, a very unique membership contest was organized. The Y.M.C.A. has had a number of similar contests during the past nine years. "Old inhabitants" will remember the historic red and blue gym. fund contest held in May, 1897, which every citizen of the town knew about, and almost every citizen had a share in.

The "Long and Short" contest, which was successfully launched last evening promises to eclipse all former efforts.

The object of course is to increase the membership and to secure the amount required by the budget from membership fees to help clear the Y.M.C.A. of debt on May 1st.

The contest begins now and closes on Saturday evening, April 28th, at nine o'clock.

I.—Fifteen members on each side act as leaders. They are elected according to size. All 5 feet 7 inches or over are on the "Long" side; and all under 5 feet 7 inches on the "Short." Only senior members are in the competition.

II.—Any member not selected as a leader can work for the side which his height qualifies him to belong to. If he secures one or more members he is entitled to a seat at the function which will mark the close of the contest.

III.—Every dollar secured in fees, either new or renewal, and locker rents, will count a point. No subscriptions will count.

IV.—The secretary and assistant-secretary will not be on either side. Points secured by them will be evenly divided.

V.—The side winning the highest number of points will be tendered a dinner on Friday, May 4th. The losing side will act as waiters and eat "humble pie" and perform other such acts of humility.

Mr. Jack Hardwick was elected captain of the "Shorts," and Mr. E. E. Lord, of the "Longs." The other leaders are as follows, with five on each side yet to be measured up, consequently their names cannot now be given. At present the leaders are:

"Shorts" — Messrs. Hardwicke, Shiner, Godden, Cartar, White, Walters, Walker, Baker, Reid and Donaldson.

"Longs" — Messrs. Lord, Shea, Flowers, Emmerson, Howland, Milburn, Lillie, Bruce and Hodgson.

The help of every member of the Association is earnestly requested in connection with this great membership campaign.

Inland Duty Is Removed

Canadian Exporters to Australia on Better Footing Now.

The secretary of the Board of Trade has received the following letter from Mr. J. S. Lark, commercial agent of the Canadian Government at Australia, which is self-explanatory:

Office of the Commercial Agency of the Government of Canada.
The Exchange, Sydney, N. S. W.,
1st February, 1906.

Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine,
Secretary Board of Trade,
Peterborough, Ontario, Canada.

Dear Sir,—When I met your Board in Canada last fall, some of the members were concerned over the restoration of the duty on inland freight by the Australian Government. This bore heavily upon goods shipped overland to Vancouver from Eastern Canada, and tended to send the trade of the Eastern Provinces by way of New York. I then expressed the hope that as the Australian Government had changed the regulation three years before, when I had been able to show that it was detrimental to Canada, that the new regulation would be also altered if it were shown to be injurious to the Canadian route.

Upon my return to Australia I took up the matter with Sir William Lyne, the Minister of Customs, and I am glad now to be able to inform you that he has decided to accede to the request I made that all goods shipped from Western Canada via. Vancouver, shall have to pay no higher duty than if they had been shipped by way of New York. This removes the undesirability against the port of Vancouver for Eastern shipments. I think it will also support the statement that I made to you that there was not the slightest unfriendliness towards Canada on the part of either the Australian Government or the Australian people. I also venture to hope that this concession, which is a special one to Canada, will be followed by further advantages as the result of negotiations between the two Governments.

Yours very truly,
J. S. LARKE.

Mr. J. S. Larke, Canadian Commercial Agent to Eastern Australia and New Zealand addressed Peterborough Board of Trade on the subject, "Trade Relations between Canada and the Countries I Represent," on the evening of Tuesday, 24th October, 1905.

TORTURED BY ITCHING SCALP

Eczema Broke Out Also on Hands and Limbs—Suffering Intense—Doctors Said Too Old to Be Cured—An Old Soldier of 80 Years Declares:

"CUTICURA TREATMENT IS A BLESSING"

"At all times and to all people I am willing to testify to the merits of Cuticura. It saved me from worse than the tortures of hades, about the year 1900, with itching on my scalp and temples, and afterwards it commenced to break out on my hands. Then it broke out on my limbs. I was advised to use salt and water, which I did, to no effect. I then went to a Surgeon, who commenced treating me with a wash of borax. This treatment did me no good, but rather aggravated the disease. I then told him I would go and see a physician in Erie. The reply was that I could go anywhere, but a case of eczema like mine could not be cured; that I was too old (80). I went to an eminent doctor in the city of Erie and treated with him for six months, with like results. I had read of the Cuticura Remedies often. I was strongly tempted to give them a trial, so I sent for the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent and continued taking the Resolvent until I had taken six bottles, stopping it to take the Pills. I was now getting better. I took two baths a day, and at night I let the lather of the Soap dry on. I used the Ointment with great effect after washing in warm water, to stop the itching at once. I am now cured.

"The Cuticura treatment is a blessing and should be used by every one who has itching of the skin. I can't say any more, and thank God that He has given the world such a curative. MUSIC AND DRAMA

I.O.U.

The presentation of the musical satire, the I. O. U., by the celebrated German comedians Kolb and Dill, attracted a large audience to the Grand Opera House last night. The hearty laughs that for over two hours reigned in the opera house demonstrated the favourable reception given the offering by the appreciative audience. The production centres on the action of the comedians, Klob and Dill, and their humourous conversation on the intricate American Trusts, Corporations and Unions kept the audience in a perpetual state of laughter throughout the performance. Their strenuous exertions to master some of the difficult words of the English language also produced much amusement.

Maxwell M. Dill and C. Wm. Kolb, as Iny Stuntz and Ony Grantz, the two Dutchmen who attempt to "do" the Irishman and afterwards get "done" themselves, made effective hits and fully retained their advanced reputation as excellent comedians. Benjamin T. Dillon in the role of Iky O'Rourke, the Irishman, ably assisted the others and his acting was fully up to the standard of the rest of the cast. Francis Lieb, as Nicholas, the proprietor of the circus, did some good acting, and especially in the song "The Little Tin Pail" did he acquit himself favourably.

The musical numbers were plentiful and some were well received but generally the singing was not up to the usual merit. The production is well satged and the chorus girls as well as their costumes are pretty. The scenery especially in the last act is beautiful.

The entrance of the hockey boys to the box, artistically decked with the colours of the Club and kindly donated by the proprietor, Mr. R. H. Bradburn, produced more applause than any of the succeeding events of the evening.

Presentation To Residents Of Asphodel

On Eve of Their Departure for Swift Current, Sask.—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. King Given Address and Gold Watches—A Pleasant Gathering Was Held Highly Respected Residents Leave This County for the Far West.

DISTRICT DEPUTY MASONIC VISIT

Special to The Examiner.

Norwood, March 7th. — On Friday evening, March 2nd, the many friends and neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. C. King, of Asphodel, assembled at their home to spend a social evening before their departure for Swift Current, Sask. After an oyster supper had been partaken of Mr. and Mrs. King were presented with the following address:

To Mr. and Mrs. Chas. King,—

Dear Friends, — We your neighbours and friends, of whom a goodly number have gathered this evening at your home, the home where your childhood days were spent, have very recently heard that you are about to depart from our midst to those golden fields of the great Northwest, where we trust you will make as many kind and loving friends as you leave behind.

Your kind and generous spirit, your honest and forgiving life, your social and neighbourly ways, have made you many friends, who could not allow you and your estimable wife and young family to go from amongst us without in some way showing you that we honoured you as a friend and loved you as a neighbour, and truly hope that you will accept these gold watches as tokens of our love and esteem, not for their intrinsic value, but to show you and your family that your old friends in Asphodel and vicinity wish you a most prosperous future in your new home. May the Giver of all good things be your Guide, Director and Shelter, that your path may be smooth, your journey through life a pleasure, your new home surrounded by many kind friends, and that you may be spared for a long, useful and prosperous life, and should you ever be desirous of returning to visit your old friends and neighbours, which we trust you may, let us in advance, bid you welcome.

Signed on behalf of your many friends and neighbours,

John Baskin,
G. W. Ford,
W. H. Comstock,
John R. McKelvie.

Mr. D. Ball is in Cobourg for a few days.

Mrs. G. Taylor, who has been visiting her brother, Rev. H. Spence, at Tamworth, returned on Monday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. C. Spence.

Mr. L. H. Kirkpatrick left for the west on Wednesday morning.

Mr. John Weir and Mr. G. Kempt were in Keene on Monday.

On Monday evening, March 5th, the Masonic Lodge held their regular monthly meeting. This was the occasion of the official visit of District Deputy Hull of Lakefield, accompanied by the Worshipful Master of Lakefield Lodge, Mr. Kelly. The Worshipful Master and other members from Havelock, were also present. After spending an enjoyable evening in the Lodge Rooms, the members adjourned to the King's Hotel where a bountiful repast of oysters and other good things was served.

Take A Lesson From Peterboro'

A subscriber to the Lindsay Watchman-Warder writes: What's the matter with Lindsay? We all know that power costs 23 per cent. per horse-power more in our little town than in Peterborough. True, we have a Board of Trade, but what have they done to improve the financial standing of the people? This is the line of talk indulged in, by many of the groups you see along Kent street. I was in Downeyville last week and I saw several loads of grain pass through the village. Did they go to Lindsay? No. All went to Omemee. Can Lindsay live on the bunch of retired farmers we have in our midst and from the agricultural community which surrounds it? Wake up and take a leaf from our new councillor's books, progress and improvement, also cheap power, which is available.

Baby Carriages and Go-Carts.

City Refused The Right TO PURCHASE SUGAR Company's Property

That Clause of the City's Private Bill is Rejected by the Private Bills' Committee of the Legislature—Chairman Says It's a Dangerous Precedent—Might Be Ground for Changing the General Law But No Special Legislation.

Special to The Examiner.

Toronto, Ont., March 14. — The Private Bills Committee of the Legislature this morning took up the Peterborough City Bill, consideration of which had been adjourned in connection with the purchase of the old Sugar Company's lands for the purpose of opening a site to a new Company. "The Company wants a free site and we want to give them a free site," said Solicitor Hall of Peterborough. The chairman said the Bill was objectionable from every point of view, and added that if the Committee were wise they would shear out the objectionable clauses as the proposal was a most dangerous precedent. The City argued that it was impossible to get out a large enough vote to carry a bonus bylaw, and the chairman thought there might be ground for changing the general law but not for special legislation. The three clauses were rejected by the Committee. There was a lively discussion of the electric power clauses which, with the bonusing and drainage and purity of water supply clauses were left over for two weeks.

The defeat of this section of the city's bill means that the agreement with the Stove Company, and with the carpet manufacturers, will not be carried out; at any rate, so far as giving them the Sugar Company's property is concerned. The three clauses referred to in the despatch are, in all probability, that giving the city authority to buy the land, the second to annex it to the city, and the third to fix the assessment on it for manufacturing concerns.

Unless other land can be secured, and another agreement entered into it means that the action of the Provincial Bills Committee, which will, no doubt, be ratified by the Legislature, has blocked the city from securing the two industries.

Army Immigrants Have Reached Canada

First Steamer Load of the Year Has Arrived at Halifax —A Number of the Men Will be Sent to Peterborough to Fill Places Found for Them by Adjt. Jennings.

Adjt. Jennings, head of the Salvation Army's Immigration Work, in Eastern Ontario, has received word of the arrival in Halifax of the first steamer-load of English settlers.

Flying the Salvation Army flag at her masthead in the bright sunlight of a keen March morning, the steamer Kensington sailed up the Halifax harbour yesterday bearing the first contingent of the 10,000 immigrants who will, within the next three months, come to Canada under Salvation Army auspices. There were in all 1,080 persons, predominately men, there being not more than thirty or forty married couples, and a very limited number of children.

High Status of Party.

The whole aspect of the party was that of good physical condition, self-respect, and cheerful confidence. If the status of the remainder of the contingent is so high as this, the Salvation Army has done Canada a service in bringing them to the country as settlers.

The party came over in charge of Commissioner Cadman of International Headquarters, and General Booth's representative. The 1,080 who arrived yesterday go straight forward to definite destinations and to work.

Commissioner Cadman speaks with prideof the party, and designates the Kensington as a true ship of salvation, "no low-spirits, no tears, but all joy and expectation of success in the new country."

A number of these immigrants will be sent to Peterborough and will be placed in positions which Adjt. Jennings has secured for them here. It is expected that they will reach here in the course of a day or two.

Inland Duty Is Removed

Canadian Exporters to Australia on Better Footing Now.

The secretary of the Board of Trade has received the following letter from Mr. J. S. Lark, commercial agent of the Canadian Government at Australia, which is self-explanatory:

Office of the Commercial Agency of the Government of Canada, The Exchange, Sydney, N. S. W., 1st February, 1906.

Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine,
Secretary Board of Trade,
Peterborough, Ontario, Canada.

Dear Sir,—When I met your Board in Canada last fall, some of the members were concerned over the restoration of the duty on inland freight by the Australian Government. This bore heavily upon goods shipped overland to Vancouver from Eastern Canada, and tended to send the trade of the Eastern Provinces by way of New York. I then expressed the hope that as the Australian Government had changed the regulation three years before, when I had been able to show that it was detrimental to Canada, that the new regulation would be also altered if it were shown to be injurious to the Canadian route.

Upon my return to Australia I took up the matter with Sir William Lyne, the Minister of Customs, and I am glad now to be able to inform you that he has decided to accede to the request I made that all goods shipped from Eastern Canada via. Vancouver, shall have to pay no higher duty than if they had been shipped by way of New York. This removes the desirability against the port of Vancouver for Eastern shipments. I think it will also support the statement that I made to you that there was not the slightest unfriendliness towards Canada on the part of either the Australian Government or the Australian people. I also venture to hope that this concession, which is a special one to Canada, will be followed by further advantages as the result of negotiations between the two Governments.

Yours very truly,
J. S. LARKE.

Mr. J. S. Larke, Canadian Commercial Agent to Eastern Australia and New Zealand addressed Peterborough Board of Trade on the subject, "Trade Relations between Canada and the Countries I Represent," on the evening of Tuesday, 24th October, 1905.

Arranging For 57th's Visit

The Dufferin Rifles Will Give Them a Good Time.

The Brantford Expositor says:

No official notification has been received from Peterborough of the acceptance of the invitation here. The exclusive information in last night's Expositor will be acted on by the officers, however, and arrangements made for the visit of the Peterborough regiment. A deputation will be sent from Peterborough to meet the local officers and complete arrangements. Until that is done, very little can be undertaken here. The matter of holding a tattoo will not be gone into until after the Peterborough people have been consulted.

Big Shipment Makes Fun.

THE BIG shipments that Lang & Maher have been getting in lately assisted greatly in the fun last night. A large number of good packing boxes made an excellent bonfire for the boys.

O&A

15th Anniversary Of Wedding Day

The fifteenth anniversary of their wedding day was celebrated last night by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Byers, 356 Sherbrooke street. About 50 guests were present and a pleasant evening was spent in games, cards and dancing. At midnight an inviting luncheon was served on daintily spread tables which formed a delightful part of the evening's amusement.

Mr. and Mrs. Byers were the recipients of a large number of pretty and useful presents as well as congratulations from the assembled guests.

Peterborough Provided For In The Estimates

Tuesday, March 13.

Despatches from Ottawa to-day give the estimates for the year ending March 31st, 1907, and it will be seen that Peterborough is pretty well provided for in the estimated expenditure.

The items of special interest to this city are: Trent Canal construction, $175,000. Improvements on last branch of Holland River to Newmarket, $100,000. Trent Canal improvements, $15,000.

Under the head of public buildings there are these items: Peterborough Armoury, $20,000. Peterborough public buildings additions and improvements, $4,000.

For dredging the Otonabee River a grant of $7,000 is provided for in the estimates.

Guard Gates To Be Repaired

Water is Lowered in the Canal For That Purpose.

To facilitate the repairing of the guard gates at Nassau and at the Warsaw road bridge the water in that section of the canal has been lowered. The stop logs were raised at the mouth of the creek between Nassau and the golf links last week, and the water is down now over seven feet.

The ice in that part of the canal is about 18 inches in thickness, and since the lowering of the water, has caved in and produces a very picturesque appearance.

Owing to the sudden and severe illness of the very Rev. Dean Smith, of Kingston, it is impossible for Canon Starr to keep his promise to preach in St. John's church this evening.

The church wardens have, however, been fortunate enough to secure the services of the Rev. Oswald Rigby, head master of T. C. S., Port Hope, who has kindly consented to take his place. St. John's seems to be unfortunate in regard to the speakers arranged to deliver Lenten addresses, Rev. Canon Starr being the second in succession to be taken suddenly ill on the eve of his address.

No Taste for it, Indeed!

Ark. Clover Leaves.

THE GREATEST surprise to a girl who gets kissed the first time is there is no taste to it.—Pocahontas (Ark.) Times.

No taste to it? Well, by the hen feathers on Cupid's dart, but the Times man must be colour blind in the palate! They tell us, those who have tried it, that it tastes like the double-distilled essence of honey spread thick on a piece of pumpkin pie. Away back in the dim joyful years ago before we lost our teeth and our cinch on the beauty prize, the prettiest girl in all the world told us with her eyes that it felt like a covey of quail flying out of each year and ended with a sensation like a flock of angels pouring molasses down one's back. No taste to first kiss? Great Scott! It would make a wooden cigar Indian's hair curl and his toe-nails quiver in ecstacy. The Times man must be an ice-house.

Inspector Visited Preston Properly

Official Statement Will be Given This Week.

Tuesday, March 13.

The Building Committee of the County Council in company with Dr. R. Bruce Smith, Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, were in Lakefield yesterday visiting the Preston Farm, the proposed site for the new House of Refuge.

Although Dr. Smith would not make any statement regarding the acceptance of the Preston property last night, as the House of Refuge site, it is generally conceded that he will approve of the County Council's selection. The official statement will be in the hands of the Warden and Clerk within the next two days.

Dr. Smith also viewed the Braden and Strickland properties and made some favourable comments on them, particularly the former.

Promotion For Lieut. P. A. Davey

3rd Prince of Wales Dragoon Officer is Now a Captain.

A recent issue of the militia general orders contains the announcement of the promotion of Lieut. P. A. Davey, of the 3rd Dragoons, to the rank of captain.

Captain Davey is connected with "B" squadron, Millbrook, and is a resident of North Monaghan. He is one of the regiment's most popular young officers.

Buys Timber Lots From Mr. Waddell

Mr. Matthew Doodey Purchases Three Lots.

Mr. Matthew Doodey of Millbrook, was in the city yesterday, and informed the Examiner that he had purchased from Mr. Hugh Waddell three timber lots east of Millbrook. Mr. Doodey recently sold to Mr. McCall the right to purchase all timber between Peterborough and Toronto, and north and south of a line to Port Hope. The lots which he has purchased from Mr. Waddell are situated east of this line, and Mr. Doodey states that he is prepared to buy other timber east of Peterborough.

Mr. Jas. Fowler To Open Business

Will Start Jewelry Store in Havelock.

The Havelock Standard this week says: "Mr. Jas. Fowler, of Peterborough, was in town on Monday making arrangements for opening a jewellery store in Andrews' Block, about April 1."

Mr. Fowler is quite well-known in this city. For a number of years he has been on the staff of Messrs. W. A. Sanderson & Co., and has a great many friends here who will entertain nothing but the best wishes for his success in Havelock.

Methodists To Erect A Church

Campbellford Methodists Will Spend $20,000 on New Structure.

The official representatives of the Campbellford Methodist Church have again started a canvas for subscriptions towards the erection of a new church to cost about $20,000. They are meeting with great success, and many have already subscribed liberally to the fund. The present church has become too small for the congregation and especially for the Sunday school. If the officials succeed in getting enough subscribed the church may be erected this summer. The new church will be built on the site where the old one stands.

Committee Decided TO PURCHASE FIRE ENGINE From Waterous People

Tuesday, March 13.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night to discuss the fire engine question, and after a short discussion it was decided to purchase the 1,000 U. S. gallon engine manufactured by the Waterous Co., of Brantford. This question has been before the committee for some time, and several different propositions had been submitted by Mr. Hugh Cameron, agent for the Waterous Co., and G. G. Pritchard, of the Canadian Fire Engine Co., and the competition between the two companies has been very keen. The matter it was originally decided to leave in the hands of the chief of the fire brigade and the chairman of the committee. Afterwards the question was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee, which was given the power to purchase an engine.

At last night's meeting there were present Ald. Adams in the chair, Ald. Graham, Duncan, Ball and Elliott, and Mayor Best. It was decided to accept the offer of the Waterous Company as made to the committee on March 2. By this offer the company agreed to give the city the sum of $1,500 for the second-hand fire engine in part payment for the new Waterous engine. At that time Mr. Cameron challenged the Canadian Fire Engine Co. to a test of engines, but the latter did not respond to the challenge. The offer made by the Waterous people was satisfactory to the committee, and they decided to accept it. Mr. Cameron was notified this morning, and one of the conditions involved is that the engine must be delivered at once.

The committee last night also decided to have a 32 candle-power incandescent lamp placed near the corner of King and Water streets.

Serious Fire At Stables Of The P. Hamilton Co.

The Loss is Fully Covered by Insurance.

Tuesday, March 13.

A very disastrous fire broke out in the stables of the Peter Hamilton Company, opposite the foundry, about ten minutes past nine this morning. The conflagration had its source, it is assumed, from a spark from a fire in the stove on the ground floor of the building. A cow and calf and a spaniel bitch which were the only living things in the building when the fire started, were saved, as were also some buffalo robes, but outside of these the result of the blaze will be almost a total loss to the owners as the walls of the structure are practically all that are left standing. The hay, oats, straw, a buggy and other articles in the stable were totally destroyed. The flames first issued from the windows on the east side of the building and the hose was vigorously played upon them in the hope of mastering them, but they soon appeared from the other side and roof and the firemen had a hard fight against heavy odds.

A large crowd gathered around in a very short time but it was impossible for them to render any assistance.

The water came pretty slowly when the flames broke out on the west side, and it had gained considerable headway before it was turned upon the fire.

The loss is estimated at about $ 7,000, and is fully covered by insurance.

Ferdinand Kleingbill Committed on Charge of Murder.

Special to the Examiner

Belleville, March 13. — Ferdinand Kleingbeil, charged with killing his wife on Monday, March 5th, was today committed for trial at the next assizes. Some corroborative evidence was offered and Alf. Luscombe, the chief witness, was bound over in his own recognizances to appear at the next assizes.

17 1-2 Mills Was The Rate

COUNCIL DECIDED TO Strike For This Year

Ald. Mason's Motion Went Through Although Strong Opposition Was Offered by Mayor Best—Matter Had to be Decided by The Casting Vote of Ald. McWilliams—$100 Salary For His Honor Judge Weller as Police Commissioner.

Tuesday, March 13.

A special meeting of the City Council was held last night, at which a considerable amount of business was transacted. Probably the most important matter was the passing of the estimates, and the fixing of the rate at 17 1-2 mills on the dollar. Ald. Mason carried his point in regard to the rate, although he encountered considerable opposition from Mayor Best and others of the council, who did not want to see the rate lowered. The matter was voted on, and had to be settled by the casting vote of Ald. McWilliams, who was in the chair at the moment. Other business done was the passing of bylaws providing for the execution of a new agreement with the Water Commissioners, fixing the salary of Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, and providing for street watering. The Police Commissioners also occupied the attention of the council, and His Honour Judge Weller, was voted a salary of $100 per year.

There were present His Worship Mayor Best, in the chair, Ald. McWilliams, Adams, Duncan, Hall, Graham, Elliott, Mason, Hicks, McIntyre and Johnston.

The minutes of the last meeting were on motion taken as read. Several communications in reference to local improvements were read, after which reports were presented from the Fire, Water and Light Committee and the Committee of the Whole.

Bylaws Passed.

It was moved by Ald. Mason, seconded by Ald. Hicks, that a bylaw be passed, authorizing the execution of an agreement with the Water Commissioners, for the city's water supply. The bylaw was passed.

It was moved by Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. Mason, that a bylaw be passed providing for the watering of certain streets or parts of streets, the cost to be provided for by taxing the assessed real property thereon. This bylaw was passed without opposition.

A bylaw moved by Ald. Mason, and seconded by Ald. Hicks, fixing the salary of Dr. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, at $400 per annum, was passed without delay.

Deciding the Rate.

The chief discussion of the evening arose over the deciding on the rate.

Ald. Mason moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks, that a bylaw be passed authorizing the fixing of the rate, the levying of taxes, and the adoption of the assessment rolls of 1905. The whole bylaw, with the exception of the clause relating to the rate, passed without discussion.

Mayor Best did not think it looked like good business to lower the rate. The city was going up a tremendous debenture liability, and he thought the council should take more out of the current income. Next year the rate would have to be raised again.

Ald. Mason said that in striking the rate at 17 1-2 mills he thought that all requirements for this year would be met, and while it might be good policy to pay for some local improvements out of the current income, he asked was it just for the people of to-day to have to pay for benefits for their successors; especially when the assessment had been raised to such an extent. If the council had sufficient to meet all requirements he could not see why it was necessary to provide more money for any purpose. If they had to put in bridges the next generation should help to pay for them.

Mayor Best said that if they were sure that the good times would continue they were all right in lowering the rate. The increased debenture liability was out of all proportion to the increased population, and increased assessment. If 18 mills were an excessive rate he would agree to cut it down, but he could not see that one-half mill would be of much benefit.

Ald. McWilliams thought that at 17 1-2 mills the rate provided for liberal expenditure. It meant that the council was going to spend upwards of four thousand more than last year, when $1200 more than had been calculated upon had been expended. The council could meet the same expenditure as last year with three-quarters of a mill reduction in the rate. The School Board and the City Trust Commissioners were asking for a lower rate.

At this stage it was moved by the Mayor and seconded by Ald. Graham that the rate for general purposes be fixed at 18 mills.

Ald. Mason moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that the rate be fixed at 17 1-2 mills.

Before a vote was taken, Ald. Hicks expressed the opinion that reducing the rate was done by means of the surplus carried over from last year. It was simply collecting $4,000 from the people last year and paying them back this year. He thought the surplus should be left and applied to the city's debentures.

In reply Ald. Mason said that he should reduce the rate to 17 mills, so that there would be no surplus. By that rate the council should have made the rate 17 1-2 mills last year. He didn't think it good financing to run so close. A vote was taken and resulted in five votes for 18 mills, and a similar number for 17 1-2 mills. The vote was as follows:

For 18 mills — Mayor Best, Ald. Hicks, Duncan, Hall and Graham.

Ald. McWilliams, who was in the chair, gave the casting vote in favour of 17 1-2 mills.

Police Commissioners.

Ald. Hicks brought up the question of Police Commissioners, and explained that His Honour Judge Weller had declined to act without being recompensed for his services, and the commissioners had never organized. He moved, seconded by Ald. Mason, that his Honour Judge Weller be paid $100 a year as Police Commissioner.

On motion of Ald. Mason, seconded by Ald. Hicks, the Mayor's allowance was increased $100.

This was done in view of the increased expenditure in connection with the Mayor's office.

The council then adjourned.

Girls' Auxiliary Annual Meeting

Live St. Luke's Society Met and Elected Their Officers.

Tuesday, March 13.

The annual meeting of St. Luke's Girls' Auxiliary took place last night. Reports of the year's work were presented, which showed much progress and activity on the part of girls' work for the cause of missions. Miss Isabel Hay, the indefatigable recording-secretary, gave a very lucid and highly interesting report of the various events in connection with the work during the past year. Miss Stewart, as treasurer, has done valuable work and her report showed a credit balance of $24.50 on hand. Miss Mary McWha, as dorcas secretary, gave account of her work relating to the clothing sent to the mission field. Mrs. W. Boswell, the president, had to resign her position on account of being president of the Woman's Auxiliary. Though doing it reluctantly, she felt that the interests of the G. A. required a president who could devote all her spare time to it. Mrs. Launderville had been elected by the W. A. as president of the G. A., and she hoped that the girls would give their loyal support to the president.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. J. Launderville.

First Vice-President, Miss Mamie Rogers.

Second Vice-President, Miss Emma Gaskins.

Corresponding Secretary, Miss Alice Dawson.

Recording Secretary, Miss Isabel Hay.

Dorcas Secretary, Miss Mary McWha.

Asst. Dorcas Secretary, Miss Mabel Scott.

Treasurer, Miss Lizzie Stewart.

P.M.C. Convenor, Mrs. W. H. Andrews.

Delegates to Annual, Miss L. Stewart, Miss Isabel Hay.

Mission Circle's Good Results

At the annual meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of the Murray street Baptist church held on Tuesday afternoon, the following gratifying financial statement was presented:

Amount raised by the Circle for Foreign Missions, $145.11; Home, $69.50; Northwest Indians Mission, $12.80; monthly collections, $5.70; total $233.11.

The Willing Workers, organized in November, reported $6.50.

The Mission Band reported $39.45 for Home, and $41.50 for Foreign Missions.

The total amount raised by the Circle and Bands amounted to $319.45.

Another New Citizen.

—Within a short time Mr. and Mrs. David Wood, of Cavan, will remove to town, occupying the residence on the north side of Homewood avenue, purchased from Mr. Wm. McIlmoyle.

HIS WIFE'S LUNGS BOTH AFFECTED

But the Great Consumptive Preventative brought Health and Happiness to his Home

"Our doctor said there was no cure for my wife as both her lungs were affected," says Mr. L. H. Walter, of Pearl Street, Brockville, Ont. "It was a sad disappointment to us both, just starting out in life, only married a short time. But before she had finished the first bottle of Psychine the pain in her lungs quickly went away, and after taking six bottles Mrs. Walter was a new creature and perfectly well again."

That is just one of the many families into which Psychine has brought hope, health and happiness. It is a living proof that Psychine cures Consumption. But don't wait for Consumption. Cure your LaGrippe, your Cough, your Bronchitis, your Catarrh, or your Pneumonia with the remedy that never fails—

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage —All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Jos. Rickerby Was Committed

Tuesday, March 13.

M. E. Ketcheson, agent for the Metropolitan Manufacturing Company who had Jos. Rickerby arrested on a charge of disposing of certain articles before he had paid for them, according to contract, gave considerable evidence against the prisoner, and on the strength of his testimony the latter was committed for trial. It appears that Rickerby signed five special contracts in favour of the above company, for goods amounting in all to $50 to be paid in instalments of $1 each. The goods were delivered to Rickerby's residence. Ketcheson said he had been unable to collect any money on the sale at all, and that Rickerby had stood him off continually. Rickerby said he would hand over all the goods with the exception of two beds. He met him on the street last Saturday and told Rickerby that he (witness) was held responsible for the goods and that his last day of grace would expire on that day. Witness thinking the matter had gone far enough, swore out a warrant for Rickerby's arrest. His Worship committed the prisoner for trial. Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared on behalf of Rickerby.

Peterboro' Man Has The Contract

For Repairing Pier and Bridge at Young's Point.

Special to The Examiner

Young's Point, March 9th. — The sleighing has gone once more, and the roads are now in very bad condition.

The Government is repairing the pier at the iron bridge below the slide. Mr. Jos. Yelland of Peterborough has the contract and has a number of men employed at the works.

Messrs. Aaron, George and Anderson Davis had a big day's sawing here on Tuesday with a sawing machine. They cut 35 cords of hardwood in one day, which is going some.

Mr. John Kirby, wood ranger for the Rathbun Co, paid us a visit the other day. He reports the camps to be still running up north.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin McManus and Miss Nathan of Douro, spent Sunday at the Lakeview.

Resignation Was Accepted

Rev. Mr. Campbell Gives Up the Pastorship.

Tuesday, March 13.

At the meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery in St. Paul's church this morning, the resignatoin of Rev. C. A. Campbell, of Lakefield, was considered and accepted. A deputation from Lakefield was also in attendand testified to Mr. Campbell's efficiency as pastor of the Lakefield Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Mr. Campbell will leave about the first of May for the Northwest.

Council Determined

IF POSSIBLE TO PUT A STOP To The Cigarette Evil

Ald. Ball's By-law to Regulate the Sale by Making Dealers Take Out License Was Introduced Last Night —Matter Was Thoroughly Discussed But Was Left Over Until the Next Meeting—Aldermen are in Sympathy With Spirit of By-law.

Tuesday, March 13.

One of the features at the special meeting of the council held last night was the introduction of Ald. Ball's bylaw to regulate the sale of cigarettes by compelling dealers to take out a license. The bylaw caused a good deal of discussion among the Aldermen who were of the unanimous opinion that it was a step in the right direction. The council as a whole is determined to do something to stop the evil and the only difficulty is arriving at the most feasible plan by which this can be effected. Ald. Ball's bylaw which was seconded by Ald. Duncan, was shelved until the next meeting. In the meantime the subject will receive the attention of the council and it is quite likely that a bylaw which will have a good effect in diminishing the sale of cigarettes to a great extent and particularly to children, will be passed.

The bylaw introduced by Ald. Ball provided that dealers should be compelled to take out a license, and the second clause placed the fee at fifty dollars per year.

In the discussion that followed the reading of the bylaw Ald. Mason thought it better if possible to make it prohibitory to bring in cigarettes at all.

Ald. McWilliams didn't think that it was possible to prevent hotels from handling cigarettes as it was one of their privileges under the License Act.

Ald. Mason again said that he would like to see cigarettes prohibited altogether and to have it made unlawful to bring them into Peterborough.

The Mayor was of the opinion that the Council did not have the power to do this. In putting on a fine he thought that the Council would simply cut off the small dealers and give all the trade to the big tobacco merchants.

Ald. Elliott thought that $50 was far too small a license fee. If it was desired to stop the evil the fee should be made $500.

Ald. Ball said that the danger came from the small stores in the outskirts of the city, not from the big dealers. It was from the corner groceries that the children obtained their cigarettes. Dealers had informed him that they did not desire to handle cigarettes and that they were of no benefit to them.

Some of the aldermen questioned the advisability of cutting off tobacconists and driving the trade into the hotel. It was decided to leave the matter over until the next meeting.

Serious Fire Narrowly Averted In Norwood Factory

Blaze Was Discovered in J. Finlay and Sons Plant But Was Extinguished Before Any Damage Was Done—Presentations Were Made to Citizens Leaving for the West, and Also to Mr. Roxborough, the Retiring Secretary of the Agricultural Society.

Mr. E. P. Cuffe has engaged Miss Ross as milliner and saleslady for the coming season.

Mr. Thos. Howson is confined to the house with a severe attack of pneumonia.

A few evenings before the Nicol brothers, of Dummer, disposed of their household property previous to their departure for the West, a large number of their neighbours assembled and presented Miss Annie with a gold chain and napkin ring; John with a fountain pen; Andrew, a gold watch guard; Jason and Norman, gold lockets, accompanied by the following address:

To Miss Annie, Messrs. John, Andrew, Jason and Norman Nicol:

It was with deepest regret and sorrow that your many friends learn of your decision to leave the old homestead and to remove to Western Canada. As the days have passed since this decision was made known it seems even more difficult than we had thought it would to say "farewell." The ties which have bound you to this neighbourhood are many and very strong. We have grown up from infancy to manhood and womanhood in the same neighbourhood. Many of us have been your playmates and school mates. In our joys and sorrows we have shared in the same kindly fellowship, and have known the same true sympathy the one towards the other. Your removal from us means a loss which words would fail to express, and creates a void not easily filled.

We follow you, one and all, with loving regards and truest good wishes to your new home in the "land of promise," to which so many from Eastern Canada, as well as other lands, are earnestly looking, and our prayer to our Heavenly Father will ever be that His favour may continually rest upon you, and His richest blessings ever abound; that your life may be happy and useful; that at the end of life's day you may have many stars in your crown of rejoicing and the Master's "Well done."

May these small remembrances ever serve to recall to you the old neighbourhood and its precious memories, and the host of friends whom you are leaving behind you, but who will follow your future career with deepest interest and affection.

Signed on behalf of your many friends.

On Friday evening, March 9, their many friends of the Presbyterian church, Norwood, of which church they were members, gave a social evening and presented them with an address and a handsome mantel clock.

A meeting of the directors of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society was held in the town hall, Norwood, on Friday, March 9, at 1 p.m.

After the transaction of business they proceeded to the home of Mr. W. E. Roxburgh, who, for over 38 years, had been secretary-treasurer of the society, but on account of ill-health was forced to resign last fall, and presented him with a handsomely engraved silver cup on an ebony stand, in recognition of his many years' service. The presentation was accompanied with a beautifully framed address which read as follows:

To W. E. Roxburgh, Esq.,

Secretary-Treasurer of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

Dear Sir,—It is with sincere regret we have received from you the intimation that, owing to the impaired condition of your health, you desire to retire from the office of secretary-treasurer of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

From the organization of the society, now 38 years ago, you have been its friend and benefactor, and the success which has attended its operations have been very largely due to your tireless, intelligent and self-sacrificing service in its behalf.

Your enforced retirement will, we know, be the occasion of as much disappointment to yourself as it is to the society, but we trust that in your own case this will be tempered by the fact that your generosity and public spirit will long continue to be appreciated, and will also long serve as a high example for others.

We beg respectfully to tender you our hearty thanks for your valuable and unremitting labours, and to ask you to be good enough to accept this gift as a slight token of our sincere respect.

Signed on behalf of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

The Isolation Hospital
QUESTION DISCUSSED
By The Joint Meeting

Board of Health and Committee of Whole Met Last Night to Consider the Matter—Necessity of Taking Some Step at Once Was Strongly Emphasized—Matter Was Left in the Hands of a Committee to Investigate.

Saturday, March 10.

A joint meeting of the Board of Health and the Committee of the Whole Council was held last night to consider the question of an isolation hospital. The state of affairs at present existing in Peterborough is so bad that the Board of Health considered it advisable to confer with the council. As matters now stand there is no provision for sheltering those suffering from infectious diseases. Both hospitals have been notified by the Government that they must not take such patients and the result is that ahead is no place where they can be accommodated. In view of this the joint meeting was called last night. The matter was discussed at some length and then left in the hands of a committee. There were present Messrs. Wm. Eyres, in the chair, A. Barker, Geo. Schneider, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Bingham, Dr. McNulty, His Worship Mayor Best, Ald. Mason, Johnston, Hicks, McIntyre, Duncan, Ball, Graham and Elliott.

Mr. Eyres explained the object of calling the meeting and strongly emphasized the need of an isolation hospital in Peterborough. As an example of this he pointed out that Dr. McNulty had been forced to receive a diphtheria patient into his own house. The arrangement had been that diphtheria patients were sent to St Joseph's and scarlet fever patients to Nicholls hospital. These institutions would no longer receive infectious cases. It was necessary to take some step at once and as the council had to provide the money it was for the aldermen to say what kind of a building they would provide.

Dr. Bingham, the Medical Health Officer, agreed with the chairman that the hospital was an absolute necessity and he could not see how the city could do without some building for that purpose. Dr. Burnham concurred in this opinion.

A letter written by Dr. Bingham to the Provincial Secretary in reference to the hospitals being compelled by Dr. R. Bruce Smith, Inspector of Hospitals, to stop receiving infectious cases was read, as was Mr. Hanna's reply to the effect that he had not known anything about the matter and that it would receive his careful attention.

Mayor Best thought that before anything was done they should wait until they heard from the Provincial Secretary again.

Ald. Hicks said that the question was a large one to deal with and suggested that the matter be left in the hands of a committee composed of the chairman of the Board of Health, Dr. Bingham, M.H.O., Dr. Burnham and the Finance Committee. This would give ample time to hear from Mr. Hanna and also to thoroughly investigate the question. The time had come when some steps had to be taken. He did not think that a heavy expenditure would be necessary.

A motion by Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. Johnston, along those lines was carried. Ald. Johnston in seconding the motion said that the matter must be considered as a serious one. He suggested that some of the buildings on the Hilliard property might be utilized for infectious cases until something better was provided.

It was pointed out that a deputation from Peterborough would be in Toronto on Tuesday next in reference to the city's private bill and it was moved by Ald. Elliott, seconded by Ald. Hicks that this deputation be empowered to wait upon the Provincial Secretary in reference to the question of an isolation hospital.

Dr. McNulty, who arrived at this stage of the meeting, said that there had been a radical change in the opinion of the medical profession as regards the efficiency of isolation hospitals. At the annual convention held in England last year it had been unanimously agreed that isolation was a failure. The country was divided into health districts about half of which contained isolation hospitals and the statistics went to show that the mortality and the number of cases was greater in the districts where there were isolation hospitals. The remedy suggested was to isolate the patient at home. It had been found that about 78 per cent. of the cases at home were single cases.

No further action was taken in the matter and the meeting then adjourned.

Bring Down The Water Rates Still Further

Further Lowering of the City Water Rates Demanded in the Public Interest—Commissioners Should Still Better Their Present Excellent Record of Administration—People Entitled to Fullest Return for Their Investment.

A DUTY CONFRONTING THE COMMISSIONERS

The Water Commissioners deserve credit for having established a claim for Peterborough to the reputation of having amongst the lowest water rates in the province. This is satisfactory, so far as it goes, but the Commissioners are called upon to do better even than this. The citizens now get a discount of 25 per cent. for prompt payment.

There is no good reason why this rate of discount should not be increased to a still larger degree, in the interest of the taxpayers, who are more directly interested than the Commissioners, for they have to do the paying. The water works are owned by the people, and the people look to the Commissioners to supply water at as low a rate as possible. The proverb says that "One good turn deserves another." The Water Commissioners have considerably lowered the water rate. Let them try again. There seems to be no good reason why they should not still further increase the discount to water consumers.

It's "up to" the Commissioners to shoe out another stop-log.

Mr. J. J. Lundy Sold His Farm

Messrs. Robinson Brothers Buy His Ops Property.

The Lindsay Post of Friday said: Some thirty-six years ago Messrs George and Thomas Robinson, brothers, rented from the late Wm Lundy, of Peterborough, the 200 acre farm known as lot 1, in the 9th con of Ops, adjoining Manvers boundary Year after year they improved the property, and Mr. Lundy increased the rental very little because of the betterments they were making, and when he passed away his son, Mr J. J. Lundy, followed the same course To-day the farm is one of the best in the district, with fine buildings Last week Mr. Lundy visited the brothers, and as a result Thomas concluded to purchase the farm for which they had paid rent so long, Mr Lundy offering to sell at a reasonable figure George, the other brother, is not in good health, and has decided to retire

Toronto Capitalists Get Stock In Shovel Factory

Saturday, March 10.

Mr. Frederic Nicholls, managing director of the Canadian General Electric Co., and Mr. A. P. Choate, Toronto, have become interested in the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Co., Limited, and have bought considerable stock, the prospects of the company impressing them so favourably that they decided it would be a good stock to pick up. They are now two of the most prominent shareholders in the concern.

Kingston And Belleville Claim Normal School

The Kingston Whig says:

"The prevalent opinion in Toronto, in political circles, is that Belleville and Peterborough are in the front of the race for the new eastern Normal School. But the aforesaid P. 's had not heard the effective presentation of Kingston's superior claims."

The Belleville Intelligencer, in noting the above, says:

"Don't deceive yourself, old man; the new Normal School will be situated just about fifty miles from Kingston."

Timber Case Was Not Disposed Of

Monday, March 12.

The case of Alexander Nott, an Indian, and Guerin, the men who unlawfully cut and carried away timber from the Chemong Reserve, came up this morning in the County Police Court before Magistrate Edmison, but was not disposed of. Nott had disappeared from the Reserve and therefore was not present to answer the charge.

Mr. Daniel O'Connell was present in the interests of the defendant, Guerin, and Crown Attorney Wood for the Crown. No evidence was taken however, and the case was enlarged until next Tuesday at three o'clock, p.m.

An Appeal For A Courageous Woman

Saturday, March 10.

A short time ago subscriptions were asked towards the price of a sewing machine for a woman lately arrived from England. She had suffered the amputation of one leg, and was completely dependent. She was very anxious however not to become a public charge, and felt that if she had a sewing machine she could earn her own living.

In response to the appeal $15 was raised, and with the generosity of Mr. Swift, of the Singer Company, the machine procured, and a balance of $5 now remains in the treasury, which will be used for her benefit. As she has a little child depending on her for support it will be extremely difficult for her to earn a living for herself and her child with a sewing machine, especially since she has but one leg. It is now proposed to purchase a small electric motor to provide the power. The cost will be $25, and the cost of installation small. If $35 is subscribed it can be arranged and she will be placed in a position where she would be independent. An appeal is made for funds for this purpose, and the Examiner will be glad to receive donations.

Since writing the above it has been learned that the police yesterday arrested a total stranger who was collecting for this fund. He had in his possession ten dollars, which he had collected, and the Magistrate directed that it be given to the fund, which leaves now only $15 to be subscribed. Those who gave money to this stranger will have the satisfaction of knowing that their money will be directed to the purpose they intended in giving it

County Councillor Menogue's Explanation

Mr. John Menogue, County Councillor, has written the following letter to The Examiner:

Referring to a letter in The Review some few days ago, I would ask you to place the following before the public.

In the letter signed by "Douro Ratepayer," he states that he was advised by somebody that the ruling of the warden so counted my vote that I was left between the "Devil and the Deep Sea." The party that so informed Mr. Douro Ratepayer could not have been a member of the County Council for they all know me well enough to be satisfied that neither the warden nor any other member can influence me to vote against my convictions. I voted, as I stated to Mr. Buck in the morning, for the Smith site or this Preston property, believing as I said that I considered, after having gone carefully over farm and buildings, it to be the best site I had seen in any locality.

I do not know how "Douro Ratepayer" was led to believe that I had any particular reason why I should vote for a "Douro" site, and would have him plainly understand I was voting for a site that would be in the best interests of the county and for the purpose for which it was intended.

It is not considered wise to pay any attention to letters over an anonymous name, but although I am correcting some wrong impression that he would throw out there, I have nothing but the friendliest of feelings and sympathy for "Douro Ratepayer."

Yours respectfully,
JOHN MENOGUE,
Chandos.

Cobalt Beats Wall Street For Sensations

A Wild Rush to Get Stock in Silver Mine.

A gentleman who has recently returned from Cobalt tells of a sensation which a man from the Michigan Soo named Mann caused in Haileybury Thursday He went up from Cobalt to apply for a lot in Coleman Township, and had an endorsation for his application which few if any ever probated. The collateral in question was a five pound nugget of silver, which he struck from a rock with an axe Speculators got on his track, and he was offered and refused $100,000 for his claim It was a case of who would bid the highest for the property, and Mann had a striking half hour before train time

It was like Wall street, New York, in a burning fever on Thursday and Friday when the Foster mine stock was put on the market for the first time The price was 80 cents, but nothing less than a block of fifty would be sold

The strangers in the Silver City, as well as citizens generally, rushed to get stock in so rich a mine The office, when the stock was sold, was not only packed, but a string of people blocked the street clamoring and waving bunches of bank bills and cheques The sale stopped Saturday morning after 100,000 shares had been disposed of

People absolutely begged to be allowed to buy When the sale closed men refused double what they paid, and there is enough ore ready for shipment to pay a 12 per cent dividend

MOTHER AND BABY.

Every mother who has used Baby's Own Tablets will tell you that they are the best medicine in the world for the cure of constipation, indigestion, diarrhoea, sour stomach, sleeplessness, teething troubles and other ailments of children. You can give these Tablets to a new born baby with absolute safety — they always do good; they cannot possibly do harm. Their use means health for the child and comfort for the mother. Mrs. C. F. Karr, Elgin, Ont., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I ever used for stomach and bowel troubles, and destroying worms. No mother should be without a box of Tablets in the house." Get them at your druggists or by mail from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 25 cents a box.

Have Children For Adoption

Saturday, March 10.

At the present time there are in the Children's Shelter 16 children, from two to eight years of age, whom the officers would like adopted into good homes. These are all bright healthy children and the officers in charge are confident that they would grow up to be a credit to those who adopt them.

The Society also wishes to thank Mrs. Hazlett for a much appreciated gift of flannelette, thread, etc.

Special to The Examiner

Warsaw, March 14th. — A meeting was held at the Morgan House last evening for the purpose of organising a local Board of Trade. Invitations had been sent to representative citizens of the township to attend and the response received was very gratifying to the promoters. The earnest enthusiasm displayed by those present showed the progressive spirit, which is essential to organisations of this kind. This being the initial meeting the election of officers was the important feature.

The next meeting will be held in the town hall at 8 p.m., on Tuesday, March 20th.

Mr. E. Hawthorne, President.
Mr. A. F. Choate, Vice-President.
Mr. J. W. Lynn, Treasurer.
Dr. Douglas, Secretary.

Trewern Factory Annual Meeting

Cheese Factory Patrons Elect Their Officers.

The annual meeting of the patrons of Trewern cheese factory was held on Thursday evening, March 8th, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Mr. G. W. Mann, salesman and secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Gordon Mann and Mr. William Pathick, auditors.

Mr. Jas. Fowler and Mr. T. Milburn, arbitrators.

It was decided that the instructor be engaged as usual. Mr. Chittick's offer to manufacture the cheese on the same terms as last year was accepted.

Mr. Thompson Braden, the retiring salesman, was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for the acceptable manner in which he had performed his duties. The factory will commence operations about the last week of April.

Local Artists At Centreville

Tuesday, March 13.

A party of sixteen young people drove out to Centreville last night to attend the concert given under the auspices of the Young Peoples' Aid Society in connection with the Presbyterian Church of Centreville. Mrs. P. A. Karr and Miss Ethel Tully of Peterborough, assisted in the programme by rendering two piano duets, and Mr. Duncan Campbell sang five comic songs, which also formed an interesting part of the programme.

The party report a very pleasant outing, and were cordially welcomed by their Centreville friends.

Tuesday, March 13.

Mr. D. W. Chapman of Brighton, who is present as a delegate to the annual meeting of the Supreme Circle, Order of Canadian Home Circles, is a former resident of Peterborough. He has not seen Peterborough before to-day since he left it forty-five years ago, and he says that so far as recognising anything of the Peterborough he once knew he might as well have been dumped down in the middle of London. He says that the change and improvement in the city are beyond anything he expected to see. At the conclusion of the Home Circle Convention Mr. Chapman will remain a few days to see Peterborough more thoroughly, and possibly discover some old landmarks which will place him in touch with old conditions as he would remember them.

Seriously Burned While Saving Boy

Mrs. Geo. Brokenshire, of Lindsay, Had a Very Narrow Escape.

The Lindsay Post says:

About 10.30 this morning Mrs. G. Brokenshire, living west on Russell street, was seriously burned about the left arm, shoulder and chest. A little son secured a match and set fire to a lace curtain, at the same time igniting his clothing. His mother in extinguishing it ignited her own clothing, and ran to a neighbours with her clothing all on fire, and asked Mrs. Teeviss to turn the tap on her. When the fire was extinguished after the results above stated, Drs. Gilleagie and Shier were called and had her removed to the hospital in the ambulance where they attended to her injuries. At 2 p.m. she was resting more comfortably but suffering considerably from shock.

Had a Bad Leg.

"For twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was something dreadful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching, and healed up the sore." — Mr. Alex. McDougall, postmaster, Broad Cove Marsh, N. S.

Too Busy.

From the Houston Post.

"OUT OF A JOB, eh? Well, come around to the factory at seven in the morning and I'll put you to work."

Carnegie Library Is Again Proposed

A Citizen, and One Associated With Present Library, is Convinced That a Free Library Should be Established Here—Believes That Carnegie's Offer of a Grant Should be Taken Up—Time Has Come When the Library Should be Free to the Citizens.

Friday, March 9th.

A prominent citizen to-day spoke to the Examiner in reference to the establishment of a free library in Peterborough. He is associated with and has been a prominent member, an officer, in fact, of the present Library Board, and while he believes that the present Board is doing the best it can with the means at its disposal, he is convinced that the time has come when this city should have a new library, and furthermore he is of the opinion that it should be a free library.

He is inclined to favour accepting a grant from John Carnegie, if one can be secured, for the purposes of erecting and equipping a free library.

This gentleman confessed that when the question of applying for a grant to Mr. Carnegie was discussed some time ago, he was not favourable to the proposal, but has since come to see the matter in another light, and is convinced that it would be a wise act to secure the assistance from the Steel King.

Peterborough has reached a stage now, he thinks, when it should have a free library, and while the acceptance of the Carnegie money would mean that the city would have to spend some money, the law provides that the council can levy one-half a mill on the dollar for the support of the library, and in this way with the present revenue, the cost of maintenance could be met easily.

The library already has over 10,000 books, a very respectable number for a city of this size, and if they were housed in a better building, and the privileges made free, the library would become much more popular.

The discussion on the question of the free library was brought about by the mention of the fact that the sixth annual meeting of the Ontario Library Association will be held in the Canadian Institute, 198 College Street, Toronto, Easter Monday and Tuesday, April 16th and 17th. The chief feature of the programme is a study of the new library buildings of Ontario and United States, illustrated by lantern views of exterior and interior of the buildings and floor plans. For library boards contemplating building this will be most helpful. The papers will be: "The One-Room Library and Its Possibilities," by Mrs. F. Edith Jones, Newmarket; "Chess, Checkers and Smoking Room," by D. Forsyth, Berlin; "Treatment of Periodical and Pamphlet Literature," by Miss A. G. Rowsome, O. A. C., Guelph; "The Public Library and the School," by O. J. Stevenson, St. Thomas. The Association is growing in usefulness and serves as a valuable agency in uniting the library workers of the Province. Programmes can be had on application to the Secretary, E. A. Hardy, 65 Carr street, Toronto.

THAT OVER WORKED, PLAYED OUT FEELING AMONG WOMEN

There are thousands of females all over our land who are broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with distress peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young. Often they have pale or sallow complexion, hollow, sunken eyes, with a lifeless look; the flesh has a pinched and haggard appearance; they are weak, weary and trembling, often extremely nervous, starting at every little noise. Many are low-spirited, and some are fretful. Some are constantly troubled with cold hands and feet, while others are troubled by an unequal circulation of the blood, dizziness, and sometimes dimness of vision, loss of memory, and often loss of appetite and sleep, attended with terrible dreams.

Palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, smothering and sinking spells, shortness of breath and the sensation of pins and needles are all indications of a weakened condition of the heart or nervous system, and should any of them be present we would strongly advise the use of

They bring health to the broken down, energy to the weakened constitution, tone up the tired, overstrained nerves, and strengthen the weak heart.

Mrs. Richard Jackson, Malt's Bridge, Ont., writes: "For a year I was greatly troubled with nervousness and loss of appetite, and could neither sleep nor eat. After taking a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I was completely cured and can recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Inspector Smith Meets Council

In Reference to the House of Refuge Question.

This afternoon a special meeting of the Building Committee of the County Council is being held at Lakefield. Dr. R. Bruce Smith, Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, arrived in the city on the 11.38 C.P.R. train, and left for Lakefield with the members of this committee. The meeting is called for the purpose of conferring with Dr. Smith in reference to the selection of the site, and the construction of the building.

Although there is some opposition to the lot selected, it is not probable, according to the opinion of a number of the members of the council, that any action will be taken rescinding the motion by which the Preston lot was selected.

Dr. Smith will be able to give the committee some valuable suggestions on the construction of the building.

County Council Meets

The County Council met this morning at the usual hour, but owing to the absence of a number of the members, the session was a short one. The only business transacted was the reading of the minutes of the last session, and the appointment of the committees.

EVILS OF THE SYSTEM.

With spring at hand, and the birds mating, one is naturally reminded of the lyric, or hymnic fact, that "birds in their little nests agree." We might well invite our Conservative friends to go to the little birds for the lesson they so much need. We have a new trouble at Ottawa over the Conservative leadership, while the Commons leadership has become, so to speak, a chronic bone of contention. We have troubles in the Conservative camp in Ontario, but not over a question of leadership, even if the matter of the manner of leading is involved. Hon. Mr. Whitney is a strong leader—vocally—and at times assumes a brave front of autocratic bearing, but at other times he shows a diplomatic pliancy, which, while it is an amiable trait, leads to little domestic complications. The spoilsmen trouble him and are the cause of the failure of a great many heroic intentions. Even the demands of the office seekers breed trouble quite beyond the solution of the problem to find places for the "workers" of the party, who are willing to sacrifice themselves upon the altar of the public service. In Hamilton friction arises not only over the filling of places, but the manner in which appointments shall be made is a subject of friction. The local Conservative executive is annoyed because Hon. J. S. Hendrie and H. Carscallen, M.P.P., had Wm. Birrell appointed license inspector, without appointing any member of the executive. A meeting was held a few evenings ago, when protests were made against such action. Herein is seen a part of the evils of the spoils system, introduced — at least, recognized — by the Whitney Government.

The members of the association of a great party, instead of spending their energies over questions that affect the public interest, and fighting for them, are struggling like wolves about a quarry over a petty question of party spoils—or, rather, over the manner in which the feast of fat things of office shall be served.

THE MAKERS OF CANADA.

Canada is a nation in the making, and just now the process is in very active condition. We are reaching out bravely in the way of agricultural and mineral and industrial development, and all elements of our citizenship are working energetically in their respective spheres for the upbuilding of the national edifice. Our least noticable progress seems to be in the fields of art and literature, but in these we are advancing more satisfactorily, perhaps, than is realized, for in these domains progress does not lend itself so readily to the production of tangible evidence. But we are nevertheless moving in the field of literature. Increasing attention is being paid to the sources of our progress and a new and ambitious work is now in process of preparation and production, which deals with notable men who represent the forces that have contributed most largely in the arena of statesmanship and its allied activities to the making of Canada. We have been favoured by an examination of advance pages of the new Parkman edition of the "Makers of Canada," which a number of leading critics speak of as the most important book publishing enterprise that has yet been attempted in Canada. The purpose of this series, which is to be completed in twenty volumes, is to give a connected narrative of the development of the Canadian nation, as seen from the standpoint of the men who founded the nation. The story of what these men did and how they did it is of great present-day interest, and the writers who have been chosen to tell it are well qualified for the trust. Good printing and the most careful manufacturing add greatly to the value of the books, which are thus of interest for their own sake and as an addition to our national literature. The publishers are Messrs. Morang & Co., Toronto, who are now offering a new edition at a popular price.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It seems a little paradoxical, but members of the Dominion Parliament can better earn their increased sessional indemnity by doing less work. The longer the session lasts the greater the expense, and the more the members talk — their form of work — the longer the session.

Hon. Mr. Resume says that the improvement of the acoustics of the Legislative Chamber is under consideration. A greater improvement would be to subject the acoustic qualities of the legislative hall to less severe strain.

The Whitney Government has followed a great deal of the policy of the late Liberal Government, to the advantage of Provincial interests. They might well extend their adoption of the late Government's policy to the retention of the present County Council system. But possibly the temptation to retrograde movements is too much for ingrained political instincts.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell may forgive, but his memory continues to be in good working order. The "nest of traitors" incident evidently still rankles in his breast. He wants to retire from the leadership in the Senate, and this decision is said to be largely due to the fact that Hon. George E. Foster, who was the chief rib-stabber in the "nest of traitors," is practically leader of the party in the House of Commons. Naturally, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, doesn't care for, as a running mate in the leadership, a man whose past actions render necessary the wearing of a coat of mail over the ribs.

A STATESMAN IN OPPOSITION

The Opposition in the Provincial Legislature, has already shown by the power of trenchant criticism that numbers are not essential to effective influence. A single voice raised against an unwise or questionable measure is sufficient to arouse public opinion and hold a Ministry to the right path. Hon. G. W. Ross has shown excellent capacity and unsurpassed versatility as leader of the Opposition, and his resourceful acceptance of the new situation shows the grasp and power of the constructive statesman. That he can be as useful to the province now as when he directed, with the mandate of the people, the course of public affairs, cannot be contended, but he now has a most important, though different sphere of usefulness, rendered doubly necessary by the changing currents in popular opinion. And it is to his credit, as well as to the good fortune of the province, that he renders the same efficient, able and painstaking public service now as when he directly controlled Provincial affairs. In alertness, readiness and all that goes to make an able Parliamentary debater he stands incomparably above the best among the Ministerial forces and he has the further distinction of a clear comprehensionof the principles involved in progressive statesmanship and the public duties that arise with each step of advancement along the way of national development. This makes him not only an able critic of Governmental measures and projects, but a leader and director in the general course of progressive legislation.

Although the Opposition leader's following in the Legislature is comparatively a small contingent, the lack of numbers is more than atoned for by unity and strength of purpose. Hon. Mr. Harcourt, though still a young man, has the distinction of having given the longest continuous service of any member of the Legislature. His long Parliamentary and Ministerial experience as well as his recognized power in debate makes him a tower of strength to the cause of Liberalism. The list of able supporters, equal to the best Cabinet material on the Ministerial side, would be a long one, and it effectually silences all complaints as to the numerical strength of the Opposition. The singleness of purpose and united front presented by the Liberal contingent, are not due to unthinking fidelity to a leader but to a clear conception of Liberal principles and traditions, and a knowledge of their application to every problem that arises. This is the highest and sincerest fidelity that any leader could desire, for it is based on an intelligent understanding of principles and a conscientious regard for the policy which they serve to formulate. The fidelity that is based on a high regard for principles rather than on a submission to the strong will of a leader, will endure through all the accidental cross currents of an uncertain public opinion.

While Hon. G. W. Ross holds his followers by common devotion to a cause which all understand and revere he has in abundance all the forceful and magnetic personal qualities of the born leader of men. A statesman of so much vigour and activity will not rest, nor feel inclined to rest, during the present temporary relief from the active duties of office. Yet the present situation is not without compensating advantages. It will give the leader and his forces an opportunity to build more rapidly than in office a policy of progressive and constructive statesmanship to be carried out when the present reactionary regime shall have run its course.—Globe.

THE BEST STOVE CO

The British Columbia Government May Fall

One Rumour Says it May be Summarily Dismissed—The Minority Report of the Kaien Island Investigation Committee Reveals a Grave Scandal in British Columbia Provincial Administration

The fate of the McBride Conservative Government is trembling in the balance. The Kaien Island investigation committee has brought in a whitewashing report, but the minority, consisting of James A. Macdonald, Opposition leader, and T. W. Patterson submitted a minority report which has been published, the Government refusing to permit its submission to the House.

This report is an exhaustive and masterly summing up of facts, and concludes with the following finding:—

(1) That the Provincial reserve, dated the 12th of October, 1891, did not extend to Kaien Island, and was not intended so to do.

(2) That the application, under the land laws of the Province under the South Africa war grant act, and under the mineral act, were not considered by the Government upon their merits, but were rejected under the subterfuge of applying the reserve of 1891 to the said lands, contrary to the purport and intention of the order in Council creating the same.

(3) That the Government did not deal directly with the G. T. R. Railway Company, but, on the contrary, with bold adventurers (male and female) who applied for the said lands for purely speculative purposes to the knowledge of the Government. That the Government had no communication, either verbal or written, with any representative of the Grand Trunk Pacific prior to the passing of the order in Council of May, 1904, and that the telegram of the 29th of April was a mere move in the game to enable the speculators to contend that they could carry out the original intention of procuring the establishment of the Grand Trunk Pacific terminus on these lands, and to give the Government the pretence—a very specious one at that—that they had heard in an indirect way, if not in a direct way, from the G. T. P.

(4) That by orders in Council in May, 1904, the Government placed in the hands of Messrs. Anderson & Larsen one of the most valuable public assets in the Province for barter with the G. T. P., and that Anderson shortly after the passing of the order in Council proceeded to Montreal, where he succeeded in getting an agreement from the G. T. P. to pay himself and Larsen $40,000 for the concession which they had obtained from the Government by the said in order in Council.

(5) That no satisfactory evidence was offered before your committee showing the ultimate fate of this $10,000 agreement.

(6) We find that the Government had no power to make this grant either to Messrs. Anderson & Larsen or to the G. T. P. without the assent of the Legislature, and that the Ministers wrongly advised his Honour the Lieut.-Governor and obtained the order in Council contrary both to the spirit and letter of the law.

(7) That the Government took no steps whatever to ascertain whether the grant in question was in the public interest. That the Ministers had no knowledge upon which to proceed in deciding that question, and beyond making one or two modifications in Mr. Bodwell's original proposal were utterly reckless with the rights of the Province.

(8) That the provision to divide the foreshore into blocks of not less than 1,000 feet was most unwise, and enables the G.T.P. to divide the foreshore into large blocks, and, after the Government has selected its block or blocks, to place its terminals and wharves in such a position as to render almost valueless that portion of the foreshore belonging to the Government.

(9) That by reason of the secrecy maintained by the Government and Messrs. Larsen & Anderson, the said Larsen & Anderson and their immediate associates were enabled to obtain other lands, including North and South Porpoise Islands, contiguous to Kaien Island and the proposed railway line, to the extent of over three thousand acres.

(10) That James Anderson received from his partner Larsen, in settlement of their interests in Kaien Island and other ventures in the immediate neighbourhood, the sum of $10,000, besides salary and expenses. He also received one-sixteenth interest in North and South Porpoise Islands, and in other lands contiguous to Kaien Island, located by him under South Africa war scrip, and also about five square miles of coal lands some distance from the coast.

The Lieut.-Governor has secured copies of these resolutions, and there are all kinds of rumours afloat regarding the probable dismissal of the Government.

Lindsayite Proposes Independent Deputation

P. Palmer Burrows Writes Letter in Which He Suggests That That Town Join Forces With Northern Towns and Give Peterborough the Go-By—Advocates Letting Peterborough Know That Lindsay Wants Some Money Spent.

The Lindsay Post of yesterday contained the following remarkable, and wholly misleading, letter:

To the Editor of the Post:

Soon boats will sail from lake to lake,
And soon we'll have to change the maps—
The Trent Canal at last is done:
Not yet—but soon—perhaps!

In your columns of Thursday last, Peterborough proposes another monster deputation to visit Ottawa and urge "the rapid completion of the Trent Waterway." I was at the Board of Trade Banquet (with a big B) but was disappointed that even under "Transportation," and although water was the drink, the subject was not practically discussed. I do not wish to adversely criticize, but I do think that a smoking concert (something in the style of a ladies' five o'clock tea, where the cup that cheers would be passed around with a sandwich) would be an imment, and impromptu speeches as well.

We have had the honour of previous invitations to join and have assisted in securing for Peterborough large grants for her benefit in connection with this scheme, but I do not remember Peterborough at any time asking if there was anything that could be done directly in the interests of Lindsay. I do not wish to think that this may have been from selfishness—it may be that the people of Peterborough are not of the reading or travelling sort; they may not know that we have locks at Lindsay that are only fit for a museum of antiques; and that the Trent waters extend not only to Lindsay, but to Port Perry; they may not know that there is an apology for a lock at Rosedale, that from its small dimensions is an obstacle to, instead of favouring navigation, and that in its neighbourhood the Gull and Burnt rivers "roll unward to the sea." In the case of the Lindsay and Rosedale locks new and modern locks are a necessity, and the rivers mentioned would welcome the Government dredge, which might also do good work dredging the Scugog in the vicinity of Lindsay. The hermit population of Peterborough may not know that at Pobcaygeon there is a serious leak—it has for years lowered the waters of the Scugog, and has interefered seriously with steamboat communication.

Considering, sir, that these things are so plain that "he who walks may read," is it not time that those who go from Lindsay on these deputations, and benefit by free tickets at our expense, should show some little interest in Lindsay's welfare? It is all well enough to say "push on the work," but at the same time the people of Peterborough like to make sure of their portion of the expenditure while they agitate. The Minister of Public Works says the canal must by 8 feet—well, if the hydraulic lifts are only 6 feet on the mitre sills it looks as though there might be some delay in completing this big work.

Now, sir, I do think our contingent in the past has been too modest — while they have felt that our interests were being overlooked and neglected, they had not the courage to protest and demand their share. I contend it is high time for us to think and act, and in such a way that we may secure our rights. If Peterborough is not agreeable, I would advocate our withdrawing altogether from this deputation and uniting with those north of us, whose interest of our own, and in our own interests.

It is just about time to let Peterborough understand that Lindsay also has an existence and in this Trent Valley scheme an interest to secure as important to her as any that Peterborough ever had. Peterborough has had its million or million and a half of Government money spent at her very doors—is it unreasonable that Lindsay should now wish for the expenditure of a portion of that amount on much-needed works? We may have this selfish wish and yet declare our sincere desire for a "rapid completion of the Trent Waterway."—I am, sir, yours, etc.,

P. PALMER BURROWS.

Discussion On Cement Walks By Havelock Council

Have Agreed That They Shall be Built on Frontage Plan—Belmont Sunday School Association Convene — Addresses Given by Prominent Persons —Many Visitors in the Village —Some Business Changes of Interest.

MRS. RICHARD NOLAN TAKES A RELAPSE

Havelock, March 12th. — The town council met on Monday evening, March 5th; all the members were present, except the new member-elect, Mr. W. T. Curtis.

The collector presented his roll, which was accepted, with the exception of the taxes of a number of citizens, who are to be given a last chance to settle before legal steps are taken to force collection.

Messrs. Chas. Armstrong and H. T. Andrews, addressed the council in reference to the payment of their share of the cement walk which was constructed last year in front of the property. Both gentlemen wanted to know how they would be reimbursed if future councils should decide to pay for additional walks by general tax, instead of the frontage system. After a thorough discussion the council was of the opinion that the walks should be built in the future on the same system as last year, namely the frontage tax, and the clerk was instructed to have a solicitor prepare a bylaw to that effect, and if legal to have a clause inserted making the bylaw remain in force for a period of five years. Under such a bylaw cement walks will be laid on any street providing two-thirds of the property owners on the said street sign a petition, asking for such a walk, and each and every owner of property fronting on said street along which the walk is laid will have to contribute 40 per cent. of the cost of the same, according to their respective frontages, to the village treasurer.

Mr. Houston of the Federal College, addressed the council in reference to the use of the hall for the Reading Club's assembly last week, advocating strongly the claims of the Gravenhurst free hospital for consumptives, in aid of which the affair was promoted. The council decided to collect the usual fee of $10 from the Reading Club but they will donate the same to the hospital, and so help to serve the same worthy object as was intended.

The electric light in front of Mr. Jas. Keene's residence once more came up for discussion and at one stage of the proceedings every member of the council had a different motion concerning it; finally a dead lock was created and the matter shelved. When Campney and Morrisson wanted the electric light company to inforce the motion of Aug. 7, —which motion orders the removal of the light to a point between McKeown's block, and Armstrong's hotel on the south side of the street—and Young and Thompson wanted the original motion rescinded. At the next meeting Curtis will probably decide between the two motions, and so close, or open, this very debatable question as to the proper position for the lamp in question.

The following accounts were presented:

P. Lancaster, printing	$ 5 75
E. Williams, salary	16 66
School Board	175,000
H. T. Andrews, D.R.O.	6 00
P. Phillips, D.R.O.	6 00

The convention of the Belmont Sunday school Association, was held here on Friday evening, March 10, in the Methodist church. The afternoon session began at two o'clock when several very interesting addresses were given by Rev. Thomas Yellowlees, Toronto, secretary of the Ontario S. S. Association, on House to House Visitation and Home Department. Mrs. G. M. Dorland, Mrs. Jas. Freeman, Mr. A. A. Brown, and Rev. Dr. Moss, gave papers, which were much appreciated. The afternoon session closed by singing the hymn, "Jesus Thy Blood and Righteousness." The evening session began at 7.30. Rev. H. Caplan gave an address on "The Holy Spirit in the School." The address given by Rev. Geo. A. MacLellan, field secretary, Norwood, proved to be a most helpful one. The amalgamated choir furnished music during the proceedings; several solos were sung. A very interesting feature of the evening was the singing of the Glory Song by the choir. The meeting closed at 9.20 with the hymn "Hole Lamb, who Thee Confess," and the Benediction.

Miss Bessie Rose left for Toronto on Tuesday to attend a banquet to be held in the Temple Building /Wednesday evening.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Jas. Martin, owing to ill health, had to discontinue presiding at the Presbyterian church organ, which she has played for a number of years. Miss Lottie Chiles of Peterborough, fills the vacancy caused by Mrs. Martin's resignation.

Mr. George Campbell of Perth, who is employed in Mr. R. E. White's tonsorial parlours, is contemplating leaving his position here to take one offered in Western Canada.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Richard Nolan, who has been in the Gravenhurst Hospital for the past two weeks, has again taken a relapse. Mr. Nolan left for Gravenhurst on Friday. We are in hopes that it will not be long ere she is with us again in improved health.

Mr. A. Richards, one of our liverymen, and his brother John, of L'Auble who conducts a general store there have agreed to exchange their respective businesses. Mr. A. Richards expects to leave next week for his new home and Mr. H. Richards intends to take charge of the business here in about two weeks.

The Ennismore Council Endorses Trent Canal

The Second Monthly Meeting Was Held Last Week.

The municipal council of the township of Ennismore met at the town hall, Ennismore, on the 8th day of March. All members were present.

The minutes of the first meeting were read and signed.

Bylaw No. 313 passed its three readings appointing road masters, pound-keepers and fence-viewers for the township of Ennismore for the year 1906.

Higher tariff bill on farm and garden produce was signed by the reeve and clerk in the presence of said council.

A petition signed by the reeve and councillors to repeal section 606 of the Municipal Act, which would relieve municipal corporations from liability for non-feasance, but not liability for mis-feasance or their positive acts occasioning injury to persons.

On motion of Messrs. Perdue and Crough, that John Mahoney be paid the sum of $1.50 for constable on election day.

Moved by Messrs. Perdue and Crough, that John Moloney be paid $1 for Municipal World.

On motion of Messrs. Harrington and Perdue, that James Cadigan be paid the sum of $5 for building culvert.

On motion of Messrs. Kennedy and Harrington that P. J. Scollard be paid $2.53 for nails and stationary.

On motion of Messrs. Harrington and Perdue, that Peter Galvin be paid $2, being poll clerk on election day.

On motion of Messrs. Harrington and Perdue, that Eugene Murphy be paid the sum of $48.85, salary for collecting the taxes of the year 1906.

This council do not find it convenient to go to Ottawa on a deputation this session concerning the Trent Valley Canal, but a letter was sent expressing their strongest wishes to have the section that will connect the city of Peterborough and Lake Ontario completed as soon as possible.

COUNCIL GRANTS REQUEST

OF THE SCHOOL BOARD FOR

$35,000 FOR NEW SCHOOL

Members of the Board Waited on the Council in Committee of the Whole Last Night and the Situation Was Thoroughly Explained--Absolute Necessity for Relieving the Congestion of the Schools Was Strongly Emphasized.

Monday, March 12.

The Board of Education last night asked and received authority to go ahead with the erection of a new public school in the south end of the city, and a by-law was passed by the council furnishing the funds necessary for this purpose. The Board waits on the Council, in the Committee of the Whole, and the entire matter was carefully gone through, after which it was decided by the Council at their subsequent meeting, to grant the request of the Board.

There were present at the joint meeting His Worship Mayor Best in the chair, Ald. Adams, Hicks, Johnston, McIntyre, Elliott, Graham, Duncan, McWilliams and Ball. Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, Wm. Pringle, W. H. Hill, D. W. Dumble, Dr. Morrison, B. F. Ackerman, Robt. Fair and W. G. Morrow, of the Board of Education.

His Worship briefly explained the object of calling the meeting and then asked Mr. Ferguson, chairman of the Board, to open the discussion.

Mr. Ferguson said that to relieve the public schools it was proposed to build a school in the south ward. The best lot located was one owned by the Ontario Bank, under the understanding that George street would be extended that way. That lot was offered for $4,000. The Board thought that the extra space might be used as a park. A twelve-room school, with eight rooms finished, was the plan entered into by the Board. The cost of the school and land would be $35,000, while an eight-room school would cost $30,000, then to extend the latter would cost $8000, so that the cheaper plan would be to build the twelve-room school. The building would be a three storey school with the top storey unfurnished.

Mr. Pringle, the chairman of the Property Committee of the School Board, exhibited the plans for the new building and explained them to the members of the committee.

Mr. Pringle said that the architect had estimated that the school would cost $24,000, the land $4,000, the architect's fees, etc., $2,000, and $5,000 for attending the school.

The schools were never more largely attended. The North Ward and George street schools were full and the Central comfortably filled. The West Ward school, with four rooms, had 194 pupils. The South Central school had over 60 pupils in one room and a total attendance of over 480 pupils. The city was losing money, owing to the crowded schools. Many of the teachers were unable to teach at all.

Out of the South Central and West Ward there could be taken 150 pupils now and at Easter there would be a large influx of pupils. If an eight-room school was built at the beginning of September, six of those rooms would be occupied. Four rooms could be filled to-day and there was little sense in building anything less than a twelve-room school. An eight-room school fill present needs, but a twelve-room building would soon be needed. To build it now would be a big saving to the city.

The site was the best. The Laplante lot was well situated, but the price of it was greater than that of the Ontario Bank. The latter would be of advantage as there was a way for the pupils to get in from George street and Park street.

It was the intention that the third book classes should be taken out of the West Ward School and that building left for the lower grades alone.

The mayor thought it wise to get all plans prepared before asking for money to present only rough estimates had been prepared.

He asked the Board if they wanted the matter put before the people.

Mr. W. H. Hill said that the school had been wanted for years. One year the All Saint's church had been rented and later the Menzie's school had been hired. He pointed out the difficulties encountered by the teachers. The Board considered that grading in a twelve-room school was better than in any other school and there was better work done. The whole idea was centralization of the schools.

With regard to heating, there would be great saving with a twelve-room school. With four small schools there would have to be four sets of heaters. A twelve-room school would not cost more than two four room schools. The saving in salaries would also be great. The twelve-room school was cheaper and better in every way.

The only way to have it prepared by September was for the Council to supply the money. If it had to go to the people it would delay the work, but if the Council gave the money the work could be commenced by April 1st, and would be finished by September 1st, and the Normal School came here the schools would have to be better equipped than at present.

Ald. Adams asked why the Board did not finish the whole thing at once.

Mr. Dumble said that notwithstanding the architect's opinion, he thought that the building could be completed for $35,000. In Winnipeg they were building twelve-room schools. Stratford had five or six schools with from ten to twelve rooms. The schools of Peterborough were no credit to the city. The oldest school in the city was the best. He spoke of the South Ward school as an ugly building, and the West Ward school was built on the street and the children were a nuisance. New York was spending millions to make playgrounds for children. By buying the Ontario Bank lot there would be plenty of room for a playground and also for a little park for the people of the south end of the city. He was strongly in favour of a twelve-room school, and didn't think that the people would object to the expenditure for public school purposes.

The mayor asked what would be done if the citizens were opposed to the expenditure, and if a bylaw was voted down. He asked if the Board had the power to go on when the people opposed it, and was assured that they had.

He assured the Board that their request would receive careful attention and the meeting then adjourned.

When the matter came up at the special meeting of the Council held afterwards, the aldermen were unanimous in the opinion that the request of the Board should be granted. They felt that the school was an absolute necessity and that even if the matter was referred to the people and the latter expressed themselves as opposed to the project the Board could still go ahead with the work.

Ald. Duncan was of the opinion that the Council should recommend that the building should be completed and not left with the upper storey unfinished, as had been suggested by the Board. It was, however, explained that the Council could not dictate to the Board in the matter.

After a short discussion it was moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that the request of the School Board be granted, and that a by-law be prepared for issuing debentures for $35,000 for that purpose —Carried.

Want The North Monaghan Council To Fix Assessment

Sandstone Brick Co. Asked That That Privilege Privilege be Granted to Them--The Central Ontario Power Co. Will be Permission to Erect Poles if They Show Any Indications of Erecting a Plant—Question of Appointing a Township Solicitor Discussed.

MONAGHAN COUNCIL DID MUCH BUSINESS

The Council of the Township of North Monaghan met in the the town hall on Monday, March 12th at 1.30 p. m.

All the members were present. Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Communications were read from Geo. Spencer, Superintendent of C. P. Ry. Co., asking permission to put in a siding to cross Monaghan Road to reach the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy's factory.

Mr. E. S. Clarry, representing the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy and Mr. F. D. Kerr, solicitor, attended the meeting and asked the council to pass a by-law to fix the assessment of the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy's property for a term of years and to submit the same for the approval of the qualified electors.

Mr. Clarry also urged the council to take action at once to permit the railway siding to be built into their property for the purpose of bringing in building material, machinery, etc.

A copy of the bill to confirm the Cavan Drain By-law as presented to the legislature was presented from Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P.

Mr. John Armstrong appeared befor the council and asked permission to cut out and trim the saplings and shrubs growing along the west side of the 1-4 line through lots 6 and 7 in 10th concession as they were injurious to his crop.

The following accounts were handed in and read:—

C. W. Mack, repairing seal, ... $2.52
John Boyde, burying carcass 1.00

These were ordered to be paid.

An application for the office of collector was received from Mr. G. H. May. This application was conditional in the event of the council making a change of their present collector.

A conveyance in duplicate was received from Messrs. Roger & Bennet to be signed by the reeve and clerk transferring the ownership of locks bridge to the Dominion Government. This was signed and directed to be forwarded.

A report of committee meeting in Peterborough on February 17th. was presented and read as follows:—

To the Reeve and Council:

Your committee beg leave to report that after giving due consideration to the application of the Central Ontario Power Coy's and after having heard Mr. W. H. Moore and Mr. A. J. Culverwell in relation to the matter and also having investigated various franchises bearing upon similar cases, hereby recommend that as soon as the Central Ontario Power Coy show tangible evidences of developing the Durleigh Falls Powar by the installation of a plant or otherwise then permission be given them to erect poles, wires, etc., for the transmission of light and power upon such highways in the township as may hereafter be agreed upon and on such other terms as may be reasonable and in the best interests of all parties concerned.

Your committee recommend also that Mr. R. M. Dennistoun be retained as the township solicitor, his advice to be available in regard to all municipal matters affecting the council, any member thereof or any official of the township in connection with the discharge of their duties without extra charge or cost.

Your committee further recommend that the Assessor be instructed to assess the township in accordance with the provisions of the revised assessment Act of 1903 and in as equitable a manner as may be just and according to his declaration of office affecting the same.

Respectfully submitted.

Moved by Messrs. Fowler and Brown that the report be received and adopted. —Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Holmes and Morrow that the application of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for permission to erect a siding or sidings to cross the Monaghan Road and High street to reach the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy's property be granted, subject to certain restrictions as to interfering with or delaying of public traffic upon these highways and a committee of Messrs. Holmes, Brown and the Clerk are hereby appointed to look after the matter in the interests of the municipality.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Holmes and Morrow that the application of the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy. for a fixed assessment of their property for a term of years be referred to a committee of the whole council and the township solicitor for further consideration. —Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Fowler and Brown that the request of Mr. J. Armstrong be granted, subject to his securing a quit claim from the adjacent owners of property to any rights or damages they may have or sustain by the cutting of the trees upon the 1-4 line near his property and fyle the same with the clerk. —Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Fowler that the application of Mr. J. Barnard for the office of collector for 1906, at a salary of $45 be accepted and the clerk is hereby instructed to prepare a by-law to fix the necessary security and to confirm the same.—Carried.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Holmes that Mr. G. H. May be appointed collector at a salary of $45.

The amendment not being seconded the motion was declared carried.

Moved by Messrs. Holmes and Fowler that John Alexander be appointed Sanitary Inspector, and township constable for 1906 at a salary of $35 per year and the clerk is hereby instructed to prepare a by-law to define his duties and to confirm the appointment. —Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Morrow and Brown that the clerk is hereby directed to notify all parties trespassed upon or removing any stone, sand or other material from the township gravel pits will be prosecuted and to collect pay for what has already been taken at the rate of 25 cents per load.—Carried.

By-law No. 563, a by-law to appoint a township solicitor was then introduced giving the necessary considerations and finally passed signed an dsealed.

Council then adjourned until the second Monday in April at 1.30 p. m., in the town hall.

Tuesday, March 13.

This is the team that won the Intermediate O. H. A. Championship. They were "it" in the strictest sense of the word last night at one of the most successful and thoroughly enjoyable banquets in the history of Peterborough—that given by the citizens to the members of the team which brough the honour to the city.

The use of the word successful in this connection is not in the conventional form. It was in reality, and from every standpoint a thoroughly delightful function, one at which the guests and the entertainers were perfectly free and everyone felt at home. It is doubtful if in the history of sport a more spontaneous popular recognition has been given to any team winning the championship in any line than that which was accorded the members of the hockey team. There is no mistaking the fact that the citizens are proud of the achievements of the team. That was demonstrated last night, as was also the fact that the players have a due sense of appreciation of the kindly feeling which the citizens entertain towards them. It was a love-feast of the old fashioned kind. Everybody was in good humour, and they allowed their good humour to find expression, and if the players, the chairman, the speakers — everybody in fact, don't know that "They're Jolly, Good Fellows," it is not because they weren't told so often enough last night. They lived up to their reputation in this respect too.

Good Season's Record.

It was a fitting climax to a season's record which has been one continual round of victories for the local team, and the players will close the season with not only the personal satisfaction that they have proved themselves good sports, but with the knowledge emphatically expressed, that the public know that they have conducted themselves as gentlemen.

The gathering last night was a notable one in a number of respects, not the least of which was the fact that the three executive officers of the O. H. A., D. L. Darroch, President; W. A. Hewitt, Secretary, and A. W. Macpherson, Treasurer, were present and assisted in showing honour to the champions. And the gathering sang "He's a Jolly, Good Fellow," as each of these gentlemen rose to speak just as heartily as if they hadn't been "sore" at their action in ordering the team to play three hard games in a week and travel nearly quarter of the way across the continent to do it. They evidently believe that "all's well that ends well." But, as a matter of fact, they justified their right to be called "jolly, good fellows," last night. Dave Darroch knows a thing or two besides hockey; he knows how to tell a story, and how to tell it well, too. The general impression was that he was a pretty decent sort of chap after all, and his views on the game of hockey and the spirit in which it should be played, if followed out by all the teams in the O.H.A., would result in an elevation of the standard of hockey.

Congratulatory speeches were, of course, the order of the night, and the members of the team heard a good many complimentary things said of themselves.

Presentations.

Three presentations were made. The President of the O.H.A. presented the members of the team with sterling silver medals, in French grey finish with the inscription, "Intermediate O.H.A. Championship, won by Peterborough, 1906," with the name of each player engraved, on behalf of the Association. On behalf of the citizens Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., gave them each a gold ring, also suitably engraved, while Mr. T. E. Bradburn, on behalf of Mr. T. H. Adams, presented them with cushion tops with the word, Peterborough, painted on hockey sticks in the Club's colours, blue and white.

The dining room of the Oriental Hotel, in which the banquet was held was tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion, with flags and bunting, and the Club's colours were prominent in all the decorations. The cuisine service was of the best, and was prepared and served in faultless manner, this popular hotel once more doing itself credit.

In addition to the addresses, of which there were a number, songs and recitations were given. A pleasing feature of the evening was a presentation to the trainer, Mr. W. Breen, to whose untiring efforts the team owes much of its success, of a handsome gold watch from the players, the presentation being made by Mr. H. Morgan.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

Common pills purge the bowels. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new rich blood. Purging pills gallop through the bowels—tearing the tissues, irritating the organs and weakening the whole system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not purge at all. They're tonic pills, soothing pills, strengthening pills, blood-building pills. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. That is why they are the only scientific cure for all blood diseases. That is why they cure headaches and backaches, kidney troubles, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, heart troubles and the special ailments of growing girls and mature women. Purging pills act only on the symptoms of disease; Dr. Williams' Pink Pills go straight to the root of the trouble in the blood—and cure. Mr. John Burke, Elmdale, P.E.I., says "I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best medicine in the world. I had an attack of pneumonia which was followed by extreme nervousness and rheumatism. I tried some of our best doctors but got nothing to help me until I began taking Dr. Williams Pink Pills. After taking the pills some weeks I could actually feel the new blood they were making coursing through my veins, and in the course of a few weeks more I was completely restored to health." Remember that it is only Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that can make this new, rich, health-giving blood. Imitations and the so-called "just as good" medicines never cured anyone. Insist on the genuine with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper on each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Half A Century Of PRESBYTERIANISM IN Township Of Dummer

An Interesting Historical Review of the Progress of This Denomination in That Township —Was Read at Afternoon Session in Warsaw Yesterday by Rev. D. A. Thompson, Clerk of the Presbytery—Its Remarkable Growth and the Present Satisfactory Condition.

At the afternoon session of the special services in connection with the fiftieth anniversary of the Presbytery in Warsaw, Dr. A. Thomson, of Hastings, clerk of the Presbytery of Peterborough, read an interesting and admirably prepared account of the half century, life and history of the church. The report, which was prepared by Mr. Thomson, was as follows:

The history of Presbyterianism in Warsaw and vicinity should be interesting to us all, irrespective of denomination. The day of final reckoning alone will declare the value of any church to a community. In the pioneer days churches were few and the good influences and gentle restraints of the gospel of Christ were often sadly needed. Other influences for evil were at work. The Sabbath day was forgotten, and religious services were, like angels' visits, few and far between. It is indeed a marvel to us, as we look back on these days, how godly men and women kept the altar fire burning. This was the general condition of affairs where there were no regular religious services held and we suppose Warsaw and vicinity were no exception to the general rule. It is, therefore, with interest, we learn of an Episcopal church being erected in 1854 and an Presbyterian church the following year. But we can go back among the thirties of last century and find the Presbyterian church doing its best to meet existing wants of its people. The first name is that of Rev. Mr. Colquhoun. We learn that Mr Colquhoun was sent out by the Church of Scotland as an ordained missionary in these parts. He arrived at Cobourg somewhere in the thirties, and we can imagine better than describe his journey through the bush to Cottsloe, where he finally settled. Cottsloe still bears the name of the reverend pioneer, and is known by most of us as "Colquhoun's Corners" His home was there, but that was just the centre of a wide parish, ranging from Warsaw to Keene, and included besides these, Dummer, Norwood, Westwood, Lakefield and Hastings. Hastings was then known as "Crook's Rapids." Such an extensive parish in these days of pioneer work entailed much toilsome travel, over very imperfect roads and even where there were no roads at all.

After Mr. Colquhoun came Dr. McLeish, who seems to have been sent out by the Presbyterian Church of Ireland. The doctor is described as a man tall, strong and stately. Some stories are still told of his physical ability to eject unruly worshippers without much trouble. On one occasion a man began to use rough language in the office of Messrs. Fowlds, Hastings. Dr. McLeish asked the man to stop such language or leave the office, but the man defied the doctor, and presently found himself on the other side of the office door, and quicted down. The doctor was a man of great mental ability, and of spiritual power as well. During Dr. McLeish's time it would appear that as far as the history of Warsaw is concerned, divine service was held at intervals in 1838. The services were then held in a frame mill. From the mill the people moved to a more suitable building known as the Warsaw Temperance Hall in 1839. Information, however, is very scarce concerning the church in these days. Meanwhile, it is evident that Warsaw must have cast the Free Church party at the disruption in 1854. There is nothing definite or reliable, however, till we come down to 1854. In August 29th of that year we find it on record that a grant of land was donated to the Free Church at Warsaw by Zaccheus Burnham. At this time Hon. Isaac Buchanan was offering a gift to all such churches, but there is no record of having received anything from that source. At this time the trustees of the church were Hugh McFee, John Bissett and Walter Douglas. They were apparently empowered to go on and build a suitable church and the contract was given to Thomas Choate, April 5th, 1854. Building operations must have been considerably delayed for the church was not ready for service till August 16th of the following year. The cost of the building is given at $157 or $786. At the time of the church opening the session was composed of Messrs. James McFee, David Smith, Alexander Kidd, John Hendren and Mr. Harper. Yet it would appear from subsequent records that the Warsaw congregation was not erected into a regular charge till 1866. We find it on record that on April 30th of the year the Presbytery of Cobourg met and organized Warsaw and Lakefield into one pastoral charge, with Rev. James Thom as minister.

The statistical returns for that year are interesting, as showing that Warsaw congregation had 105 members and 200 names as contributors. They gave $7.98 towards Home Mission Work, and raised for all purposes a total of $207.98. The Sabbath school was then in a flourishing condition, for it has no less than 066 scholars on its roll. It was, however, a Sabbath school of the good old days, when old and young felt alike the need of Bible study. In this important respect the former times were better than these. May we not hope and pray for a revival of such times?

The writer is almost certain that he is personally acquainted with Mr. Thom, the Presbyterian minister of Warsaw and Lakefield at this time. If he is correct, then Mr. Thom is still living and at present residing in Toronto. After serving the Presbyterian cause for some years he joined the Medthodist church. His reason for so doing was his belief in an itinerant system. He thought three years a long enough pastorate. He has been an honored minister of the Methodist church ever since, and was superannuated only some five years ago.

The Rev. Mr. Bowie, sent out by the Free Church of Scotland to take charge of Norwood and Hastings, was interim moderator of Warsaw congregation during the vacancy following Mr. Thom's resignation. The Rev. Mr. Paul ministered for a time during this period, and the rest of the time the pulpit was supplied by students. The vacancy seemed to last beyond the year of the union of all the Presbyterian churches in Canada, and in that year the Presbytery of Cobourg was changed to the Presbytery of Peterborough. About this time Lakefield and North Smith became a pastoral charge, and Warsaw was again attached to South Dummer.

On the 21st of February, 1877, we find the Rev. W. White happily settled as minister of Warsaw and South Dummer. Here Mr. White labored faithfully till May, 1881, when he retired on account of his health from active work of the ministry. Mr. White then made his home in Peterborough, and was much esteemed by all who knew him. During the vacancy which followed Mr. White's retirement the church in Dummer was closed for some time. During that time the hornets took possession of the building. The Presbytery apparently thought the yellow jackets had had possession long enough and authorized the Rev. Nathaniel Clark, minister of Lakefield, to go over and re-open the church. Mr. Clark narrated his experience to the writer something like this: "There was a large nest of hornets we could not see under the pulpit. The heating of the church roused the dormant yellow jacks. They thought summer had come again and they gave us a lively time. They flew in all directions and made most pulpit and pews most uncomfortable. By a supreme effort, but with little comfort, we got through the service without a hitch until it came to the closing psalm. Sandy, the precentor, was near the end of the psalm, when Mr. Clark saw a hornet making its progress toward Sandy's neck. He hoped it would not reach its destination before the benediction was pronounced. Yet up it crawled and Sandy, all unconscious of the enemy, closed the psalm in his usual good style. The benediction, however, was but half way through when Sandy gave a cry of pain and all that was heard of the rest of the benediction was a feeble "Amen."

About a year and a half, Warsaw was vacant until it called Rev. Peter Fleming. Mr. Fleming was settled on Nov. 14, 1882. Mr. Fleming was a good preacher and an energetic worker. He had just come from Scotland, where his fame as a city missionary in Glasgow was well and favorably known. His pastorate here was short for in May 1885, he accepted a call to Laskey and West King, in the Presbytery of Toronto.

After being two years vacant, the Rev. Richard Hyde was called, and settled in May, 1887. The manse had up to this time been in South Dummer, but it was deemed advisible to have the minister reside at Warsaw. The manse and glebe at South Dummer were then sold, and the present manse built at Warsaw. Mr. Hyde was therefore the first minister to occupy the manse, and reside in Warsaw. After fourteen years as pastor of Warsaw and Dummer, Mr. Hyde resigned his charge at a meeting of Presbytery held in Campbellford September 17, 1901. The session was then composed of Messrs. Alexander Smith, Hugh McFee, Donald McIntosh, W. J. Kidd and Michael Barr. After a comparatively short vacancy you were again pleasantly and happily settled when your present pastor was duly inducted on April 8th, 1902. Rev. W. L. Atkinson and his excellent wife have done good work among you. We all join in wishing restored health and strength to Mrs. Atkinson and years of usefulness among you for your esteemed pastor, Mr. Atkinson. In August, 1902, two more names were added to the roll of session, viz., Messrs John Rose and J. W. Reid.

Honoured By Old Bensfort Friends

Mr. and Mrs. John Riddell Presented With an Address and Easy Chairs.

Saturday, March 10.

On Tuesday night, March 6th, the School Hall, Bensfort, was the scene of a very happy gathering which will be held in pleasant remembrance by many, especially Mr. and Mrs. John Riddell, who contemplated leaving the township and becoming residents of the City of Peterborough, and were given a hearty "send off."

The officers and teachers of the Bensfort Union, undenominational, Sunday School invited Mr. and Mrs. Riddell to the Sunday School Hall, where they met a large attendance of their old friends and neighbours.

The gathering was brought to order by Mr. D. N. Dodds, the coming superintendent, taking the chair.

Following this was a very pleasant musical programme presented. This programme consisted of excellent solos sung by the Misses Waterman, and choruses by the Sunday School children under the direction of the public school teacher, Miss Kerr, who also acted as accompanist.

At the conclusion of the entertainment Mr. and Mrs. Riddell were invited to the platform where they were presented with an address read by Mr. Dodds, on behalf of the Sunday School and teachers and officers expressive of the general regret at their departure from the vicinity, and of hearty good wishes for happiness and prosperity in their new home.

The address was accompanied by the presentation to Mrs. Riddell, by Miss Dodds, Mrs. Freeman Thompson and Miss Verna Morrison, of an elegant rocking chair, and the presentation to Mr. Riddell, by Mr. Harry Kerr and Mr. Richmond Morrison, of a luxurious easy chair.

Mr. Riddell made an effective and affecting reply to the address on behalf of Mrs. Riddell and for himself. He returned thanks for the expressions of neighbourly appreciation and good will it contained and stated that his associations with the Sunday School had been a source of genuine pleasure.

Mr. Riddell has been connected with the Union Sunday School at Bensfort, in the capacity of pupil, officer and superintendent ever since its organization, over half a century ago. During that time he has occupied at one time or another every office connected with the school, and for 28 years the position of superintendent.

At the conclusion of the presentation ceremony the formal meeting came to a close with the singing of the National Anthem, Mr. and Mrs. Riddell taking advantage of the opportunity to say a personal good-bye to their old friends. Last Sunday afternoon Mr. Riddell said good-bye to the assembled Sunday School.

Next week Mr. and Mrs. Riddell will remove to the city, and will take residence in their new home, Homewood avenue, west of Walton street.

Annual Reports Of Supreme Officers Most Encouraging

First Open Meeting of Supreme Circle C. O. H. C. This Afternoon—Mayor Best Welcomed Visitors and Extends Freedom of the City—A Large and Influential Gathering of Fraternalists—Last Year One of Progress—The Order is in Good Financial Standing—Details Are Furnished in Reports.

Tuesday, March 13.

This afternoon at two o'clock, the 20th annual meeting of the Canadian Order of Home Circles, opened at the court house here. Nearly 400 delegates are in the city in attendance at this meeting, which is the first ever held east of Toronto, and which is expected to be one of the most successful in the history of the Order.

His Worship Mayor Best, delivered an address of welcome to the visiting fraternalists, giving them the freedom of the city, and assured them that their presence in Peterborough gave the citizens pleasure. He expressed the hope that their deliberations would be pleasant and that as a result they would carry away nothing but kindliest feelings for Peterborough. The citizens were proud of the Electric City, and hoped that the visitors would take time during their stay to inspect its many interesting features.

The afternoon session was taken up largely with the reception of the reports of the Credential Committee and those of the various officers. These reports showed that the order had made good progress during the past year, and that there was a good cash surplus on hand.

The list of regular and alternate delegates appointed to represent the different Circles at this annual meeting is given in another column. It should be explained that not all of these persons are in attendance at the meetings but the majority are here.

The Reports.

The report of Mr. J. L. Buck, Supreme Leader, was presented, and was an encouraging and inspiring one. It recited the fact that in 21 years over 400 subordinate Circles had been organized, and 27,677 certificates issued; 1,454 members have died and about 17,500 were in good standing at the close of the year. To the beneficiaries of deceased members the immense sum of $2,485,199 has been paid; totally disabled members have received $29,140, and members who have attained their expectancy age have received $18,600.

Since the institution of the Order $46,900 has been paid in Sick Benefit claims.

During 1905 six more Circles were organized, and 1297 new certificates written, as compared with 1707 in 1707 in 1904.

Supreme Secretary.

The report of Mr. J. M. Foster, the Supreme Secretary, was perhaps the most interesting giving as it did, details of the progress of the Order. This report gave the names of the new Circles instituted during 1905, with the state of the finances. The statement of assets and liabilities shows that the assets are $303,730.21, and the liabilities $282,607.80 less.

General Fund.

There is a credit balance of $2,-168.61 in the General Fund, as compared with $397.68 for the previous year, a gain of $1770.93. The gain is due chiefly to the fact that the expenditure on account of Deputy Organisers, commission to members and prizes was only $5068.92, as compared with $9361.64 for the previous year.

Sick Benefit Fund.

The report states that only five Sick Benefit assessments were collected last year.

The cash balance, $1010.36, is above the average. In this department $9876 was paid in benefits last year.

Benficiary Fund.

In this fund, there is $57,631.56 cash on hand, and $17,950.00 of death claims pending, leaving a balance on hand of $39,681.56.

Deaths.

In 1905 the deaths were considerably less than in 1904; 39 women and 99 men, as compared with 65 women and 104 men. The amount of insurance paid to the former was $53,000 and to the latter $159,500.

Insurance in Force.

The statement of insurance is as follows:

Amount of 17,563 beneficiary certificates, $24,418,000; prepaid in L. E. benefits on certificates still on foot $16,400; prepaid in T. D. benefits on certificates still on foot, $17,530; net amount of insurance in force, December 31st, 1905, $24,384,080.

On the total disability list on Dec. 31st, there were 29 members.

Treasurer's Statement.

Mr. D. R. Foster, Supreme Treasurer, presented his report showing that the several funds of the Order were in a satisfactory condition, the general condition of the Supreme Treasury being far more favourable than at the close of 1904. The general fund income was $118.17 less than the previous year, but the expenses were $3,321.84 less. The general fund closes with a credit balance of $2,-168.61, as against a balance of $397.68 at the close of 1904. The mortality rate was much lower this year. The Beneficiary Fund has $57,631.56 to its credit to which will be added $19,-978.81, from the Life Expectancy Fund. The Supreme Treasurer expressed the belief that the principle of collecting only as many assessments as necessary to pay the claims and the right to use every dollar in the Life Expectancy Fund over the fixed amount of $200,000 were two of the best features of the Order. The amount at the credit of the Life Expectancy Fund, December 31st, 1904, was $224,811.00. During the year it has been increased by ten per cent. of fourteen Beneficiary Assessments, viz., $23,563.06, and by accrued interest $6,173.78, making the total receipts $254,547.90, from which there has been paid on account of Life Expectancy claims $9,400; city taxes, $59.27; and the sum of $24,811.06 was transferred to the Beneficiary Fund, leaving a credit balance of $220,277.57, December 31st, 1905. There was reported a credit balance of $1,-010.36 in the Sick Benefit Fund, being only $112.90 less than in 1904. The Life Expectancy Fund is deposited with finncial companies of the highest standing, and with chartered banks.

Medical Examiner.

The report of A. T. Holbs, Supreme Medical Examiner, states that there were received during the year 1,525 applications, including 14 for re-instatement, 24 for additional insurance and 4 for the Sick Benefit beneficiary. Of the 1,483 applications of new members, 929 were from men and 554 from women. Of this number 1,297 fulfilled all the requirements of the Supreme and Subordinate Circles, and certificates were issued to them. The average age of the new male membership was 31.8 years, and that of the new female membership 32.4 years.

It is noted that diseases of the nervous system were responsible for one-fifth of the deaths among our male membership. The strenuous age in which we live, coupled with excessive strain of competition in business and profession, are potent causes in producing exhaustion of the brain and nervous system, laying the foundation for many diseases of this system that are insidious in their onset and fatal in their termination.

Amendments.

A number of amendments to the laws are proposed, one from Toronto Circle, No. 357, reading:—"No person holding a Grand or Supreme office in any other Beneficiary Order, or who is an agent or officer or stockholder of any Life Insurance Company, shall be eligible to be a Supreme officer of this Order."

Tuesday's Session.

The evening session was occupied in the discussion of various prepared amendments to the constitution and bylaws. They were numerous, and mostly of minor importance. The status of associate members—members of the order for social reasons, and carrying no insurance—was up for consideration, as was also the prescribed list of occupations, but no change was made in either.

This Morning's Session.

Wednesday, March 14.

The convention resumed business this morning at ten o'clock with all the Supreme Officers in attendance.

Since the adjournment last night a large number of additional delegates had arrived, and the assembly hall at the court house was crowded when the meeting was called to order. Much difficulty was experienced last night in securing accommodation for the new arrivals.

The convention got down to business in good style this morning.

After the reading of the minutes of last night's meeting the proposed amendments to the constitution were taken up. Few changes were made and the members expressed themselves as being averse to any amendments.

At ten o'clock the election of officers commenced, resulting in the following being elected:

Supreme Leader — Wm. Stark, Toronto.

Supreme Vice Leader — T. R. Young, Walkerton.

This Afternoon's Session.

Wednesday, March 14.

The election of officers was proceeded with when the convention opened this afternoon. At the time of going to press the following had been elected, in addition to those chosen in the morning:

Supreme Secretary, J. M. Foster, Toronto.

Supreme Treasurer, W. H. Weston, Toronto.

Supreme Chaplain, Rev. R. N. Phalen, Blackstock.

The report of the Trustee Committee was also presented this afternoon. It showed that the scheme decided on last year of placing $100,000 of the life expectancy fund in loin companies instead of in chartered banks had been very successful and that the increased interest income was $1,000. The convention favourably considered investing the entire funds of the company in that way. funds of the order in that way.

Greetings From Local Council To The Visitors

Address of Welcome Was Read by Mrs. Anderson at Yesterday's Session.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the O.C.H.C. the following address of welcome from Peterborough Council No. 193 by Mrs. Anderson, past leader, was read:—

In extending a hearty welcome to you, in this, the occasion of your annual meeting, we, the members of Peterborough Circle, No. 193, would have you feel assured that we appreciate the great honour you have conferred upon us, in having selected this city as the place of convention. We know that your coming bears with it a message of encouragement and an incentive to still better work on behalf of the Order; that reports will tell of what has been accomplished by subordinate circles of good records made, and of long strides toward an enviable goal. The meetings about to be held are therefore of exceptional importance to the representatives attending, and we feel that the business to be transacted will be marked by careful and wise deliberation.

On such an occasion as this, indeed, one may be well constrained to say that the star of our Order's destiny will be made clearer to us, by virtue of the higher and more direct view which all must obtain.

Peterborough Circle feels that it can justly contribute to the general note of inspiration, Circle 193 may be said to have been recently resuscitated and to have pressed forward with a success which, in a measure, may atone for a period of inactivity. First organized with a small membership, it struggled onward for a period of some months and then became undemonstrative. In 1903, however, with a visit of Mr. Walker, organizer, new officers were installed and a new membership started which grew to such proportions that twice in succession the Circle has secured the prize for the greatest growth in membership.

The Circle is now upon a sound basis and the general good and welfare of the Order is the watchword of its members and officers. The general progress of the Order, as it has been made known to us, from time to time, strikingly suggests the spirit of loyalty existing everywhere within its borders. As a subordinate circle, we, too, have endeavoured to exemplify in our meetings, the sentiment suggested by the name of Home Circle and to impress the significance of the sacred truths for which it stands.

These, we feel, must not be lost sight of, but must be regarded as contributing inestimably to the grand objects which the Order seeks to fulfill.

Our earnest hope is that you as visitors to Peterborough, as guests of Peterborough Circle, may feel that there are here available all the pleasures and hospitalities of home, that the convention will be enjoyable as we know it will be beneficial, and that you may feel the members of the Peterborough Circle can desire no greater compliment than to find themselves employed exercising towards their guests that fraternity which is so characteristic of the Order.

Signed on behalf of the Peterborough Circle, No. 193.

LIVE STOCK, PRODUCE AND GRAIN MARKET

Record Breaking Price For Hogs

218 Brought to the Market Tuesday.

Seven dollars per cwt. live weight, the present price of hogs, has produced throughout the country unbounded satisfaction among the farmers. Hogs have been coming in in greater numbers than ever was known before. Yesterday 218 were brought to the market, totalling 40,000 pounds of pork, live weight. Such a number has never before been brought in on one day. To-day the number was considerably smaller, yet much above the average. Stabler & Sons are the chief purchasers, buying for the Geo. Matthews Co.

Hogs Rise To $7 Per Hundred

Oats Have Fallen to 34c. Per Bushel.

Two features stand out prominently in this week's market, which make it one of the most important of the season. One is the soaring in the price of hogs up to $7 per cwt. live weight; the other, the decrease in the value of oats from 35c to 34 per bushel. As a result of the former the farmer this week is wearing the smile that won't vacate the premises on one side of the face, but on account of the latter there is a visible drooping on the other side.

On Tuesday there were 218 representatives of the hog tribe on the market, making a net weight of 40,000 pounds. This is an unprecedented case in the history of one day's hog market. Stabler & Sons were the chief purchasers, buying for the Geo. Matthews Co. It is not expected that they will continue to rise any further. Dressed hogs have now reached $8.50 to $9.50 per cwt., as compared with $8 and $9 of last week.

The drop in the price of oats to 34c is probably due to the large shipments from the Northwest. The delivery of all the grains has been very slack during the past season.

Eggs are still on the downward run in price. Last Saturday they were generally offered at 15c per dozen. The quantity is steadily increasing at the market.

Beef still remains firm, although it is expected to rise in price soon.

Mr. Robt. Howden & Son shipped a carload of cattle to Toronto yesterday.

Eggs Continue To Decline In Price

Saturday, March 10.

So seldom is it that such bright, clear weather, as is experienced today, occurs, that a greater number than usual was present at this morning's market.

Communities within radii of over fifteen miles from the city, were represented, and the country roads today all appeared to lead to the market.

Although there were many varieties of commodities the buying was generally brisk, and large quantities of produce were rapidly disposed of.

Eggs are still on the decline in price and sold to-day at 16c and 17c per dozen.

Butter remains firm in price and also in condition, notwithstanding the mildness of the weather. It was offered to-day at 25c per lb.; some creamery butter sold at 27c.

Chickens were in abundance to-day again, and sold at the reliable price of from 80c to $1 per pair.

Turkeys sold from $1.50 to $2 each, according to size.

There was some very nice pork on the market, which quickly changed ownership at from 9 to 10c for fore and 10 and 11c for hind quarters.

Beef, too, was rather plentiful selling at 5 and 6c for front and hind quarters respectively.

Vegetables, particularly potatoes and carrots, were much in evidence as there was no danger of them being frozen.

Sweet apples and Russets were offered at $1 per bag to-day; Spies, from $1.30 to $1.50.

The following were the prevailing quotations at to-day's market:

Butter, per lb	25	to	27

Warsaw Supper And Concert Was Great Success

Held Under Auspices of Presbyterian Church Last Night— In Connection with Jubilee Anniversary—Large Number Present— Members of Peterborough Presbytery Gave Address—Miss Margaret Bryce, of Keene, Assisted in the Musical Part of Programme.

FINANCIAL ISSUE ALSO GRATIFYING

The oyster supper and entertainment given by the members of the Presbyterian church on Monday evening was a decided success. It would seem that the members and friends united unanimously to secure for this section of the Jubilee celebration a place high above any of the same nature which have preceded it. The results of these efforts will be very encouraging to those interested and the event will be one to be remembered and spoken of for years to come. The supper, which was served in the hall, was above the ordinary, perhaps on account of the presence of the delicious bivalves.

At 7.30 p.m., the programme in the church was commenced. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Atkinson, gave a short introductory address dealing with reminiscences of the part taken by music in the local services. The orchestra was heard to advantage in an operatic selection and responded to an encore by rendering the "Scotch Airs." The choir then sang an appropriate anthem. Miss Bryce, of Keene, made her second appearance in Warsaw and retained her former reputation as a soloist by delighting the audience with Kipling's "Recessional."

Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, delivered an interesting humourous address which formed a pleasant portion of the programme. Mr. A Hendren gave an excellent organ selection which was heartily applauded. Miss Bryce was heard again in a solo, "Fear Not Ye, O Israel!" which received its merited approbation by a warm applause. An address was next given by Rev. C. A. Campbell, of Lakefield, and as usual was listened to with much pleasure. The choir then sang an antuem. "Blue Bonnets over the Border" was sung by Miss Bryce in the Scotch dialect and by its reception proved to be one of the most pleasing of her solos. Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings, who was heard in the "History of the Church," in the afternoon, next gave an address. Miss Bryce rendered beautifully two more solos, "Face to Face," and "Hold Thou My Hand." Her accompanist during the evening was Mr. D. C. King, of Detroit.

Rev. C. Nickle, pastor of the Methodist church, here, then addressed the gathering and the excellent and delightful programme was concluded by another anthem by the choir.

Mr. Jno. Rose moved a vote of thanks to all those who assisted in making the programme such a gratifying success, which was heartily given.

The financial issue of the supper was also very encouraging to the officials of the church, the proceeds amounting to almost $85.00.

Feeders and Stockers.

Mr. Murby reports stockers and feeders scarce to-day, especially the feeders, as owing to the shortage in butchers', feeders with any flesh on them sold at prices too high for feeding purposes. Mr. Murby reports the following prices: best feeders, 1100 to 1200 lbs., at $4.30 to $4.60; medium feeders, 1100 to 1200 lbs., at $4.20 to $4.35; best feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs., at $4.10 to $4.30; medium feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs., at $3.90 to $4.10; best feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs., at $3.75 to $4.10; medium feeders, 900 to 1000 lbs., at $3.60 to $3.90; best stockers, 750 to 800 lbs., at $3.50 to $3.75; medium stockers, 750 to 800 lbs., at $3.15 to $3.50; good stock heifers, 600 to 650 lbs., at $3 to $3.25; common stockers, $2.75 to $3. Mr. Murby shipped out seven loads to clients.

Milch Cows.

About 30 milch cows and springers sold at $30 to $60 each.

Veal Calves.

The demand for choice quality veal calves was as goods as ever, with prices firm, but the inferior to common calves by drovers, ganging from $4.65 to $6.75 per cwt. f.o.b. cars.

Dealers from Collingwood, Kingston, Hamilton and orders were received from Halifax and several other places for cattle, which caused a busy market at firm prices.

Phillips Gets Order.

Toronto, March 14.—J. E. Jones, counsel for Joseph Phillips, accused of conspiracy, obtained permission at Osgoode Hall to make an application of a writ of certiorari and an order prohibiting Magistrate Denison from trying the case until more particulars are at hand. The motion will be heard this morning. In consequence of this action the proceedings in the police court yesterday were of short duration.

Party of Three Injured.

Goderich, March 14.—A serious accident occurred on the Grand Trunk overhead bridge yesterday afternoon. As Rev. Mr. Gischler and his wife, accompanied by Miss Morhing were driving over the bridge a Grand Trunk locomotive approached without warning, and the horse took fright. They were thrown out of the buggy, and sustained serious injury. The buggy was badly smashed, and the horse injured.

Board Of Education Has Enough To Do

Without Being Asked to Deal With Question of Public Library—This is Opinion of Gentleman Associated With Educational Matters.

Wednesday, March 14.

A gentleman who is closely associated with educational matters in the city called on the Examiner to-day in reference to the question of the proposed new free library. He takes exception to the last sentence in the letter written by "Education," which appeared in Monday's Examiner, which says:

"Certainly the amount at present contributed by this city for the support of the library is a disgrace to a place the size of Peterborough."

The gentleman referred to states that the city of Peterborough does not contribute "one red cent," to the support of the library through the council.

He further suggests that the Board of Education has sufficient work on its hands with the new Collegiate Institute and South Ward School, without having the library thrust on to the already overworked members of the Board of Education. The council also has plenty of work to do, according to this gentleman's opinion, and should not be asked to bother with the question of a library. He suggests that the Board of Trade might take it up, and apply to Mr. Carnegie for a grant.

A Rossmount Man Loses A Hundred

Robt. Conkey, of Hope Township, Had $100 Stolen From His Pocket While Asleep—His Trousers Were Cut With a Knife and the Money Extracted—The Incidents Connected With the Loss.

Wednesday, March 14.

Robt. Conkey is a pretty unfortunate man. Yesterday he came to this city with a roll of $100 in his pocket, and last night it was all gone. Robert doesn't know where. Conkey is a resident of the township of Hope. He lives at Rossmount, with Noble Brown, who keeps the hotel at the above named village, and is the proprietor of a steam threshing outfit. He came to Peterborough yesterday, and was at the Oxford Hotel in the morning. But he had the hundred when he was there.

The story as related to the Examiner is that in the morning Mr. Conkey went to the Oxford House with the $100, and asked to leave the money until later in the day, when he wanted to go to Lakefield. He gave the money to Mrs. Bowman, and in return received an I.O.U. with which he went away.

The statement is made that he was not intoxicated when he left the money, nor when he came about 10 o'clock to get it again. In the meantime, however, he had transferred the I.O.U. to a cousin, Robt. Graham, of the city, and Mrs. Bowman informed him that he would have to return the I.O.U. before he could get the money. At this he went out and "dug up" the paper which would entitle him to the $100. He returned shortly after in company with Robt. Graham and another cousin, Reuben Graham, and the I.O.U. was produced. Mrs. Bowman then counted out the $100, and gave it to Conkey, who left, stating his intention to go to Lakefield, and nothing more was heard of him until about dusk, when he returned to the Oxford House with a tale of woe. According to his story, he had gone up town, and into a hotel, the name of which he professed to have forgotten. He fell asleep, he states, and when he awoke it was to find that someone had, with a knife, apparently, cut his trousers clear across the front, through the pocket and had extracted the roll of bills.

He was advised to report the matter to the police, and went to see Acting Chief Adams to whom he told his story, but he was more definite this time, and said that he was in the Queen's Hotel when he lost the money. His statements to the police were somewhat incoherent, and the latter were unable to locate the guilty person, the plaintiff giving no definite information on which to work.

The work of the person who took the money was cleverly done, at any rate, and the cut so cleanly made that a sharp instrument must have been used. There is mighty small consolation, however, for Mr. Conkey in the knowledge of the fact that the thief was a clever artist. He will go to Rossmount again, a sadder, but wiser man.

Fine Team Bought By G. W. Green

One of the best matched team of horses that ever came out of Ennismore was purchased by Mr. G. Walter Green, of the Ontario Foundry and Pump Works, a few days ago. They are a well matched pair of bays, rising 4 and 5 years, and weigh 2,200 pounds. The team was bought from Mr. Edward Corkery, who prized both horses so highly that it took a good round sum to induce him to part with them.

The Sunnyside Women's Auxiliary

The Annual Meeting Was Held Yesterday Afternoon.

Friday, March 9th.

The annual meeting of the Sunnyside branch of the W. A. in connection with St. Luke's church, was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Albert Curtis, Douro Road. Miss Ada Curtis presented a most interesting report of the year's work. A sale had been sent to the Day Star Reserve containing clothing, etc., valued at $69.00, besides money pledges had been paid to various missionary fund. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt and Mrs. W. Boswell, President of St. Luke's Branch, and several other members were also present.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Chas. Curtis.
Vice-President — Mrs. John Michels.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. Albert Curtis.
Delegate to annual—Miss Ada Curtis.

After the meeting those present were hospitably entertained to tea by Mrs. Albert Curtis.

Chief Roszel Is Truant Officer

A "Citizen" Writes Letter on This Subject.

Peterborough,
Mar 8, 1906.

Editor Post Card Column:

As there has been considerable talk about town as to who is Truant Officer would you permit me to say that Chief Roszel is our present Truant Officer, and that his term of office never runs out and that he has been doing his duty faithfully and fearlessly. As his business is private permit me to say that is the reason a great many people do not know his affairs. In conclusion, Mr. Editor, would you be so kind to state in your columns if the above is not the facts in order to quiet some of the public in the dark.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

THE GOLD WATCH WAS RECOVERED

A short time ago the loss of a lady's gold watch was announced in these columns, and an advertisement, asking for its return, was inserted. Within 24 hours the watch was returned to this office and is still here. The lady who lost it has evidently not much faith in the value of advertising, for she has not yet called to ask for her property. If she will call at this office she will be given her watch. Too many people advertise for articles lost and then forget all about it. They seem to forget that advertising, especially in The Examiner, brings results.

OBITUARY.

ADA JACKSON.

Special to The Examiner.

Warsaw, March 10. — The death occurred this morning here, after two years' illness, of Miss Ada Jackson, at the age of 20 years.

The late Miss Jackson had been a sufferer from lung trouble, and, for the period mentioned, has been gradually sinking. She leaves to mourn her loss her sorrowing parents and three sisters, two of whom reside in Peterborough. They are Mrs. Ed. McDonald, Mrs. Robert Tighe and Miss Gertrude, the latter being in Buffalo, N.Y.

The funeral will take place in Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family residence to St. Mark's cemetery, Warsaw, where interment will take place.

MINNIE WRIGHT.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon of Minnie Wright, wife of Mr. William Guy, Mark street, East City. The deceased lady was 38 years of age and had been ill for about five weeks with heart disease. She had lived in Peterborough nearly all her life.

Her husband is at present in Parry Harbour and two daughters survive. Mr. Guy has been notified and will be here for the funeral, which will likely be held on Monday to Little Lake Cemetery.

MARY E. SHAW.

The death is announced of Mrs. Mary E. Shaw, relict of the late George E. Shaw, for many years the manager of the Ontario Bank, in Peterborough. Mrs. Shaw, whose maiden name was Miss Mary E. Thompson, was a daughter of the late Sir David Thompson, and whose connection with the Northwestern Company is well known; and as a surveyor he opened up the Northwest country for the Canadian Pacific Railway. He received the honour of Knighthood at the hands of the late Queen. Mrs. Shaw had reached the advanced age of 79 years, and for several years had resided with her daughters, Charlotte E., and Mary Louise, at Oakville, where she died.

Those surviving of the family are Miss Charlotte E. Shaw, Mrs. Sheldrake, Mrs. T. B. Tate, and Mr. Chas. S. Shaw, Chicago, who is now in town. The remains were brought to Peterborough for interment in the family plot in the Little Lake cemetery and reached here by the morning train, the funeral being private, and from the station. The services at the chapel were conducted by Rev. Mr. Wallace, Anglican, of Oakville, who accompanied Mr. Shaw here.

MARY ANN HISCUTT.

Thursday, March 8.

The death occurred at four o'clock this morning at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Charles F. McIntyre, 171 Percy street, of Mary Ann Hiscutt.

The deceased, who was in her 82nd year, had been an invalid for some years with a complication of diseases. She was born in Prince Edward county, and lived for some time in Lakefield, moving to Peterborough sixteen years ago. She was twice married, her second husband predeceasing her eight years.

Two children survive by her first husband, Samuel Delong, of Havelock, and Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald, Medicine Hat. Mrs. C. F. McIntyre is the only surviving child by the second marriage.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of Mr. McIntyre to the Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Dr. Crothers will conduct the services.

The deceased was a member of the George street Methodist church.

DAVID BAXTER.

Thursday, March 8.

David Baxter, one of the best known residents of the district, passed away at noon to-day at his residence, East City. The deceased lived nearly all his life near Millbrook, on what is known as Baxter Creeks, removing to Ashburnham several years ago. He is survived by a wife, three daughters and one son. The deceased was an Anglican in religion, and in politics a Conservative.

JOHN KINDRED.

Thursday, March 8.

One of the oldest of Otonabee's residents died this morning in the person of Mr. John Kindred, Sr. The death occurrred at 8.30 o'clock and was due to heart failure which the deceased has been suffering from during the last six months. Mr. Kindred was 86 years, 6 months old, and was one of the most highly respected of Otonabee's residents and his death will be regretted by a host of friends. In nationality Mr. Kindred was a Manx man being born on the Isle of Man and came to Canada 66 years ago. For a number of years he lived in Cavan township and since then was a much honoured farmer of Otonabee until he retired 23 years ago and has resided in Keene. Mr. Kindred was a staunch Liberal in politics and was a subscriber to the Examiner for over 30 years. His wife and five children survive him. These are, Mrs. Vivian, of Midland; Wm. A. and Ottis, of Peterborough; Thos., of Montana, and James, of Texas.

The body will be taken to the Keene Methodist Church on Sunday where the funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Keene, and afterwards will be taken to the Keene Cemetery for interment.

ALICE RICHARDS.

Thursday, March 8.

The death occurred at Nicholls Hospital last night of Alice Richards, an infant child of Mrs. Richards, an English lady, who was passing through Peterborough on her way to Ridgetown. The child was taken ill on the train and had to be removed to the hospital. The funeral will take place at Ridgetown, where the remains have been sent.

WEDDING BELLS

WESTLAKE—MANN.

Thursday, March 8.

A wedding of much local interest took place at the residence of Mr. Thos. Young, Smith, it being the occasion of the marriage of Miss Annie Melrose, eldest daughter of Mr. Philip Westlake, to Mr. James A. Mann. Exactly at five o'clock the bride entered the drawing room, leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Mildred Mann, sister of the groom. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Isabelle and the groom, by his brother, Robert, of Toronto. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. J. W. Bigner, of Newtonville. The bride was gowned in cream crepe de chine, beautifully trimmed with all over lace, and carrried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in cream lustre and carried a bouquet of pink roses. After the wedding ceremony the guests to the number of about sixty, sat down to the usual wedding supper. The presents were numerous and costly and were a distinct recognition of the high esteem in which the contracting parties were held. Among the presents was a handsome fur coat, the gift of the bride's father. The groom's gift to the bride and bridesmaid was a pretty gold brooch.

The bride was an active member of the Bridgenorth Methodist church, and her absence will be greatly felt. Both parties are members of the same community and very highly respected, and carry with them the heartiest and best wishes of a large circle of friends. They leave on March 13th for their home in Elgin, Man., going by way of Chicago and St. Paul. The groom is a prosperous farmer in Manitoba and operates a large farm at Elgin.

DICKSON—MARTIN.

Thursday, March 8.

Yesterday evening at the parsonage of Rev. Dr. Torrance, a very quiet wedding took place when Miss Jennie Martin, of Peterborough, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. O. Dickson, of Otonabee. The Rev. Dr. Torrance officiated. Mr. and Dickson will reside in Otonabee.

EVANS—RENWICK.

Thursday, March 8.

The residence of Mr. Jno. Renwick of Lang, Otonabee, was yesterday evening the scene of a charming wedding, when Mr. Renwick's daughter, Miss Annie, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Evans, also of Otonabee. The Rev. D. D. McDonald, of the Keene Presbyterian church, conducted the ceremony. The bride was handsomely gowned in a pretty navy blue silk costume adorned with beautiful lace. The flower girl, little Miss Annie Girvin, was dowtumed in white organdie. The bride and groom were unattended. The numerous beautiful and useful presents testified to the high esteem in which the contrabting parties were held. Mr. and Mrs. Evans will leave next Monday for the Northwest, where thye will reside.

MASSON—O'CONNOR

Thursday, March 8.

St. Mary's church, on March 6th, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding, the contracting parties being Mr. Edward Masson, son of Mr. John Masson, and Miss Margaret O'Connor, daughter of Mr. Thos. O'Connor, all of Lindsay. The ceremony was performed by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, none but the immediate friends being present. The bride, who looked very pretty in a navy blue gown, and carried a prayer book and beads, was attended by her sister, Miss Minnie, who looked smart and pretty in a navy blue suit, with hat to match. The groom was ably supported by his nephew, Master Jas. Hutton, who performed the duties like a veteran.

After the ceremony the happy couple drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs Frank Hutton, Caroline street, where about 30 of their friends had assembled to give them a little surprise, Mrs. Hutton being a sister of the groom. A pleasant evening was spent with music and games, after which a sumptuous supper was served, to which all did ample justice. After wishing the young couple God speed on their journey through life all dispersed to their homes, well pleased with the pleasures the evening had afforded. The presents to the bride was a handsome and useful, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. They will reside in Lindsay.

Peterborough To Benefit By Western Outlet

This is the Opinion Volunteered by Writer in the Cobourg Post—The Question of the Trent Canal Again Revived—C. A. Munson Thinks it Would be Advantageous to Peterboro' to Have Outlet at Port Hope or Cobourg—Reasons For It.

LONGER PERIOD OF NAVIGATION POSSIBLE

Wednesday, March 14.

The action of the Peterborough Council in organizing a deputation to Ottawa to induce the Government to complete the canal at an early date has evidently awakened considerable interest in the question. This is evidenced by the following letter which appeared in the Cobourg Post from Mr. C. A. Munson, in which he advocates the western outlet as being in the interests of Peterborough:

"The Dominion Government is now considering the relative merits of the different routes for the Trent Valley Canal outlet from Rice Lake to Lake Ontario. In making a choice of routes the Government is bound, in the interests of the people of this country, to choose that route which will be to the advantage of the territory most interested and to this country as a whole.

"That the eastern, or Trenton route, is largely of rock and will entail an enormous additional outlay of money, is an established fact, besides being many miles longer than either the Cobourg or Port Hope route. Rock excavation will not cost much less than two dollars per cubic yard, and I believe that that will be a very conservative estimate. The western routes have little or no rock cuttings and the earth excavation can be made for less than 25 cents per cubic yard, or about one-eighth of the cost of rock excavation.

"The extra cost of maintenance of several railway bridges, which must be paid for by the Government, will be a very large item in the added expense if the eastern route is adopted, while the cost of maintenance of buoys and lighthouses to mark the channel in Rice Lake, will add to the grand total of the outlay. Another most potent factor in favour of the western route, and one that should not be lost sight of, is that navigation to Peterborough from Ontario lake ports via either Cobourg or Port Hope, will be extended from three to five weeks longer than by way of Trenton. The Otonabee River is a fast flowing stream and opens up in the spring much earlier than Rice Lake or the 70 miles of frozen Bay of Quinte, but a channel could easily be broken across Rice Lake from the mouth of the Otonabee, a distance of two or three miles to the canal entrance, whereas it would be utterly impossible to break any kind of a channel through the length of Rice Lake and the Bay of Quinte, a distance altogether of about 100 miles. The canal from Rice Lake to Cobourg could be unwatered in the winter and watered when desired in the spring. The western route would also be of immense value on account of the minimum danger of being frozen in by the shorter route in the fall. Peterborough would most certainly gain immensely by having the shorter route and an added period of navigation at a time of the year when it most needed it in the importation of coal, etc. Besides the reasons given above in favour of the west'n route is the fact that the outlet on Lake Ontario should be one to which large vessels could come without the dangers of intricate navigation, and which would accommodate vessels of the largest tonnage. This would be impossible were Trenton selected as the outlet, owing both to its situation and its shoal waters.

"I have had an extensive experience with the waters of the Bay of Quinte, having sailed boats years there, and also in my business as a dredging contractor, improving that waterway, and have no hesitation in stating that the Bay of Quinte, in foggy weather, is almost impossible to navigate for several days together at different times during the summer. It is to be hoped that the Dominion Government will carefully consider these conditions before making a selection.

"The people demand an immediate completion of this great waterway, and nothing less than an eight-foot channel, as a lesser draught than eight feet would be simply throwing money away. I believe Cobourg should be the Lake Ontario end of this canal, and have good reasons for so believing. But whether Cobourg or Port Hope gets it, the fact remains that the western route will save millions in construction, have a longer period of navigation, will be a much shorter route, and will be able to accommodate vessels of the largest size, besides costing infinitely less for maintenance. No private interests should be considered in the selection of this route, and the fact that capitalists have acquired interests along the Trent River should be no reason why that route should be selected, and the interests of the people of the whole country sacrificed.

Yours, etc.,
C. A. MUNSON."

Three Children Taken To Shelter

Saturday, March 10.

Three Nicholls children were taken to the Shelter yesterday by Mr. Cochrane, agent of the Children's Aid Society. Their mother lives at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. Crouter, Sherbrooke street, and was unable to support them. Mr. Nicholls left Peterborough over two years ago and has not been heard of since. The children were eight, five and two years old respectively.

A Bouquet For Mr. John Kylie

Wednesday, March 14.

The March issue of The Canadian Shoe and Leather Journal devotes a page to special reproductions of a dozen different advertisements of retail shoe merchants throughout Canada. These reproductions are facsimiles of the advertisements as they appear in the various newspapers from which they are selected, showing the typographical taste and skill used in the display of the ads. The chief object is to afford advertisers a practical lesson on effective newspaper advertising. Among the number shown which comes in for favourable criticism by the "Shoe Store Advertising" expert of The Shoe and Leather Journal is one of Mr. John Kylie's, of the City Shoe Store, as it appeared in an issue of The Examiner a short time ago. The critic says: "It has a good headline, a good cut, a good list of leaders, good descriptions, a good arrangement, and a good selection of type. A good border would have been just the finishing touch. Nothing adds or subtracts character like a good border, unless it be good cuts."

HAVELOCK PEOPLE

—WHILE OUT DEER HUNTING—

DISCOVER A MINE

A Remarkable Story Comes From That Village of Rich Silver Deposits in Belmont Township.

A Havelock Man Named McMullen Stumbled Across It Last Fall—Said to be Very Rich.

A Rush of Prospectors Expected — Lucky Discoverer Keeps the Location a Dark Secret.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Havelock, March 10.—There is considerable suppressed excitement in Havelock over a discovery of silver made in the township of Belmont, some months ago by a resident of this town, named McMillen. The prospector who made this discovery is exceedingly reticent on the matter, and positively refuses to divulge the location of the silver deposit, which he discovered. He states, however, that it is in the township of Belmont, and that it is quite close to the town. He has let a few of the men in the town into his secret, and one of them stated to the Examiner that the find was an exceedingly valuable one, and that once it was made public there would be a great rush of mining prospectors into the district.

The circumstances connected with his discovery of the silver are rather remarkable. It appears that he made it last fall while on a deer hunting trip. He became separated from the other members of the party, and lost the trail. He wandered around for some hours, and passed the particular spot where he found the silver, no less than three times in his wanderings. The last time he threw himself on the ground and was scraping the snow away to lie down to rest when he saw a piece of metal which proved to be almost pure silver, about a foot long and three inches in diameter.

Mr. McMillen knows silver when he sees it, and as soon as he picked up the metal referred to, saw that it was exceedingly rich. He at once began to make some further investigations and found evidences of a considerable quantity of silver ore. He left the spot, after marking it well, and soon found the other members of his party, to whom he showed the specimen, and they were as enthusiastic over it as he was. They have kept their counsels well through the winter, however, and are jealously guarding their secret. They have never given the slightest hint as to the location of the silver deposit, but those who have seen the metal say that there is no doubt as to its richness.

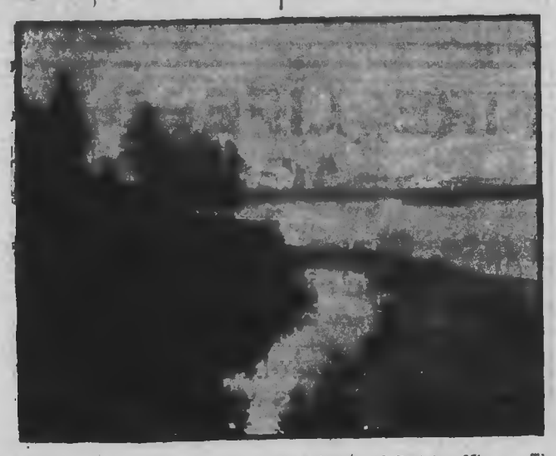
Since this find has leaked out, a number of persons have been quietly prospecting in the township, but, so far, it is said, they have not found the secret place of the silver deposit. The few who are on the inside state that as soon as the location is made public there will be a great rush to the district.

In the meantime the people are "lying low," and waiting for spring to start in to work the property. The persons interested profess great confidence in the future prospects for mining in Belmont. They say that the silver deposits rival those of the Cobalt district, a statement which will strike the majority of people as somewhat visionary, but which, in their opinion is feasible.

Iron Prospects.

The mining question is one which is creating considerable interest in this vicinity at the present time. The recent success of the electric smelting process at the Soo has revived the question of re-opening the Blairton Iron Mines. It is understood that already negotiations have been entered into between the Pearce Company, the present owners of the property, and capitalists who are interested in the electric smelting business.

The close proximity of Healey Falls, four miles from the mines, gives rise to the possibility of applying electricity to smelting the ore at Blairton. There is no question as to the quantity of iron at this really wonderful mine. There are hundreds of thousands of tons in sight, but the presence of sulphur in the ore has hitherto, made it unprofitable to smelt by the old method, but with the perfecting of the electric smelting process this difficulty will be overcome, and it would not be surprising to see Blairton the centre of an active mining camp in the course of a short time.



The above cut shows a view of the abandoned Blairton Mines. The hill to the left of the picture is of solid iron ore, and there are thousands of tons of it. Crow Lake is in the background, and the centre of the picture refers to the scene of former operations. The hole now filled with water, was once filled with ore. There is talk of the mines being re-opened.

Electric Smelting Of Iron Ore Practicable

Dr. Haanel's Success at the Soo Not Over-stated--Success of Process Means Great Future for Canadian Iron Industry.

Ottawa, March 7.—Dr. Haanel, Superintendent of Mines, returned this morning from Sault Ste. Marie, where he carried out experiments which successfully demonstrated that Canadian magnetic iron ores can be successfully smelted by the electric process. Dr. Haanel is suffering from the mental and physical strain consequent upon the prolonged attention which he had to give to the experiments, but it is hoped that he will be thoroughly restored by a short period of rest. He is overwhelmed with invitations to deliver addresses upon electric smelting and with requests from various companies and corporations for detailed information with respect to the process. The Canadian Club of Toronto has invited Dr. Haanel by telegraph to deliver an address on Monday, but whether he will be able to do so is at present in doubt.

Understated The Facts.

The Superintendent of Mines refuses to say anything for publication until he has seen the Minister of Mines. It is believed, however, that his telegram to Hon. Frank Oliver understates rather than overstates the facts. Not only was pig iron of the purest quality being produced in the electric furnace at Sault Ste. Marie from magnetite, but a very fine quality of nickel pig was obtained from roasted pyrrotite. For this, it is believed, there will be a great demand in Europe. As to the cost of producing pig iron the exact data is not yet forthcoming. The cost per horse power of electric energy in this locality has been estimated at $6; in Sault Ste. Marie the cost was taken at about $9 or $10 per horse power. Accepting this figure, pig iron could be manufactured by the electric process for $3 less per ton than in the blast furnace. The great outstanding fact, however, is that ores which by reason of a large sulphur content could not be handled in the ordinary blast furnace and were literally valueless can now be treated by electricity, the sulphur and phosphorous eliminated and a splendid grade of iron turned out.

Will Electrify Plants.

The Algoma Steel Company are said to be making arrangements to purchase the electrical plant erected by the Government. It is believed the company will electrify their iron and steel plants, and as soon as possible begin the manufacture of pig iron, nickel pig and steel by electric process.

Canada has gained a tremendous scientific achievement and attracted the attention of the world by the expenditure of a few thousand dollars. In comparison with the result obtained, the expenditure, had it been on a much greater scale, would have been insignificant. As it is, there will be a balance on hand.

ELOPMENT OF A CORDOVA COUPLE AND ITS SEQUEL

An Interesting Romance Which Reached Climax in Havelock.

Irate Father of the Girl Followed Them to That Village.

He Came Too Late, However, to Prevent Wedding Ceremony.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Havelock, March 10.—This town was the scene of an interesting little romance this week. A Cordova couple, the girl 16 years of age, and her companion some years older, drove into town and went to the Methodist parsonage, where they were made man and wife. They decided to remain in Havelock until morning, and then drive back home. Accordingly, they registered at one of the hotels.

They were, however, not to be allowed to enjoy their married bliss undisturbed for long. The girl's father, who, it appears, was opposed to the attentions which the young man was paying his daughter, and who became alarmed at her sudden disappearance from home, followed the pair to town and located them at the hotel. He went to their room and demanded admittance, which was granted, and then instructed his daughter to return home with him. When he was confronted with his daughter's husband, who produced the marriage certificate, which, to a certain extent, calmed his father-in-law's anger.

The latter, however, continued to protest against her action in marrying the man whom he characterized as useless.

The father, after seeing that his daughter was determined to remain with her husband, retired downstairs with the latter, and they made friends over the flowing bowl, until the last trace of bitterness had disappeared, and the father took his departure for home, followed in the morning by his daughter and her husband.

Mr. D. H. Charles Spoke At Board Of Trade Banquet

At Lindsay on Thursday—President of Local Board Spoke of Importance of Booming Town.

The Board of Trade Banquet held in Lindsay on Thursday night was a great success. Mr. D. Hughes Charles of the local Board of Trade, responded to the "Visitors' Toast." The Post says:

"With the toast to 'Our Visitors' was coupled the names of Messrs. D. Hughes Charles and W. C. Moore, residents of Peterborough and Bobaygeon Boards. The first named in rising, to respond, was given a hearty reception. He was glad to know that there was a live Board of Trade in Lindsay — the effect would be speedily made manifest in improved conditions generally. He had been surprised to learn from one of the previous speakers that the county of Victoria was one of the best in the province—if it wasn't quite that it was the best thing to preach and talk anyway; and the citizens should hold up their town as one of the best on earth—or as good as Peterborough. (Laughter.) Unless they were going ahead, however slowly, they were going behind. The speaker also referred to the proposed monster deputation from Trent Valley points to urge upon the Government the speedy completion of the waterway, which would benefit the country at large and prove particularly beneficial to Lindsay and other points on the system."

Cobourg Offers Site And Grant

Mr. F. M. Field, barrister of Cobourg, who was in Toronto on business last week, told a Globe reporter that Cobourg had decided to offer a free site and a contribution towards the cost of the building in case one of the proposed new normal schools was established there. A Cobourg deputation recently waited on Hon. Dr. Pyne and asked for one of the schools.

A FATAL INJURY ALMOST RESULTED FROM ACCIDENT

Finlay James Forsyth Seriously Hurt in Warsaw Yesterday.

Was Engaged in Taking Down Old Store When Timber Fell.

He Sustained Some Serious Internal Injuries --Narrow Escape.

Special to The Examiner.

Warsaw, March 10.—An accident, which only by the merest chance resulte other than fatally, occurred here yesterday While Mr. Finlay James Forsythe, a grandson of Mr David Forsythe, was engaged in taking down an old building in this village, a store which was erected many years ago, when Warsaw was in its heyday, one of the heavy timbers fell, striking him on the head, and glancing off to his shoulder, knocked him over, dropping on his chest It was feared at first that he was fatally injured, and the services of Dr Douglas were at once procured It was found on examination that no bones were broken, but he had sustained some rather serious internal injuries, and his lungs were affected He was sufficiently recovered last night to be taken to his home, which is about five miles south of Warsaw, in the township of Douro His recovery is now looked for all

Grafton & Co. Buy Another Store

A special from Brantford, dated March 2, says: "A big real estate deal was closed here this afternoon by which the Grafton syndicate purchased the large store occupied by Andrew McFarlane, clothier, Colborne street." Grafton & Co. conduct one of their largest branch stores in Brantford, and own the building they occupy. This more recent purchase, following so soon after the Woodstock purchase a week or two ago, gives them control of another valuable addition to their store property, all of which have followed their first successful venture in this line in Peterborough.

PETERBOROUGH WATER CONSUMERS' LOW RATES; ONLY 3 TOWNS LOWER

Out of 35 Towns and Cities in This Province, 31 Charge Higher Rates Than Peterborough—The Net Rate Here is $11.25 Compared With $27.30 in Kenora—Three Cheaper Places Are Sarnia, Walkerville and Parry Sound---Some Interesting Comparisons for Water Consumers of This City.

Peterborough water consumers are in a pretty satisfactory position. Of thirty-five towns and cities in the Province of Ontario there are only three in which the net water rate per year is lower than that of Peterborough. These three towns are Sarnia, Parry Sound and Walkerville. Of the other thirty-two one at least charges more than twice as much as the water consumers of this city are called upon to pay. While the others vary from $1 to $10 per year net more than the Peterborough water consumers.

Mr. T. F. Matthews, chairman of the Peterborough Water Commissioners, has received from Mr. S. G. Robertson, secretary-treasurer of the Walkerville Water Company, Limited, who compiled a "tabulation of water rates," prepared by him, and the information given by it is of such an interesting character to the people of Peterborough, the very great majority of whom are water consumers, that the Examiner was given the privilege of publishing it. The rates follow :—

17½ MILLS IS RATE

—COUNCIL DECIDES SHALL BE—

STRUCK FOR YEAR

Finance Minister Mason Presented His Statement of Estimated Revenue and Expenditure.

Mayor Best Objected to Rate Being Lowered at Present Time When Conditions Are Prosperous.

Appropriation for Board of Works This Year $16,700, Largest Grant Yet Made to That Department.

Saturday, March 10.

The Committee of the Whole Council held a meeting last night in the Clerk's office. The principal feature of the meeting was the presentation by Ald. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, of the estimated expenditure and revenue for the year. The figures, a summary of which follow, are very interesting. It will be seen that the rate this year is 17 1-2 mills, which is 1-2 a mill less than that of last year. The total expenditure is estimated at $67,124.02 and the receipts at $15,175.00. The appropriation for the Board of Works for 1906 is, as will be noticed, $16,700.00, the largest ever made for that purpose, although last year while the grant made was not as large, yet the amount expended was as much as the appropriation this year. Several new items appear in the expenditures including $700 for building concrete crossings, $1200 for a stone crusher, $150 for advertising the city and other extra expenses. Following are the estimates :—

Ald. Mason also gave the following statement which shows that Peterborough compares very favourably with other towns and cities in the province :—

In the discussion following the reading of the estimates, Mayor Best objected to the rate being lowered on the ground that it would be better now, that times are good, to keep up the assessment in the interest of the labouring classes and then when bad times came a lower rate could be struck. Any accruing surplus might be used for local improvements.

Ald. Hicks also expressed himself as being against the lowering of the rate.

Ald. Mason's argument was to the effect that the increase in the rate and assessment last year affected the middle and working classes principally. An increased rate is not felt by large industries with a fixed assessment half as much as small property owners. The reduction in the rate had been made in the interests of the working man. Ald. Mason did not approve of making the present generation pay the whole cost of improvements that would be of benefit to generations to come.

Wanted a Rebate.

Mr. Richardson, a fish peddler, waited on the council to state that he thought $40 was too high a license fee and asked for a rebate.

On motion of Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. Elliott, the matter was referred to the Finance Committee, who will report on Monday night. The Aldermen generally seemed to think that the fee was too high when applied to a resident of the city, and it is likely that if it is at all possible that Mr. Richardson may have his request granted.

A letter was read from the Toronto Savings and Loan Co., claiming a portion of land in the southern part of the city, known as the Kelly property, and asking that it be formally transferred to them. The matter was referred to the City Solicitor.

Street Watering Rate.

The chairman of the Board of Works, Ald. Hicks, submitted the estimates for street watering which is paid by frontage tax. The whole assessment value is $4,643,433, and the total cost of the work is estimated at $2,021.71. The cost is divided as follows :—

Eastern district	$ 300 00
Western	324 00
Southern	350 00
Northern	379 00
Central	338 00
	$1691 25
Repairs	330 46
Total	$2021 71

To provide for the work one-half mill will have to be taxed on assessable property.

Ald. Hicks moved that a bylaw to cover this be prepared for Monday night's meeting.

The Committee then adjourned.

The "North Star" To Be Rebuilt

Saturday, March 10.

Mr. Thos. Harris, proprietor of Harris' Hotel, Gore's Landing, and his brother, Mr. Edwin Harris, merchant, were in town to-day on business. From them it was learned that preparations are now under way by Messrs. Wilbert Harris and Dan McAllister to re-build the favourite steamer, North Star, which was destroyed by fire over a year ago at her wharf in Gore's Landing. It has not yet been decided whether a regular daily service with Peterborough will be renewed, but it is certain that a North Star will again navigate the Otonabee River and Rice Lake.

Funeral Was Largeld Attended

Remains of Late Geo. Armstrong Were Laid at Rest Rest To-day.

Saturday, March 10.

The funeral of the late George Armstrong took place this morning at 9 o'clock and was largely attended, showing the esteem in which the deceased gentleman was held by all who knew him. A large number of friends gathered at St. Luke's Church where the funeral services were conducted by the rector, his text being "God is not the God of the dead, but of the living." The pall bearers were Messrs. Henderson, Nesbitt, Wm. Gibbs, John Stimerson, R. Mein, J. J. Turner, Sr., and Alex. Fitzgerald.

Sunday School Workers
HELD TWO PROFITABLE AND Well Attended Sessions

Institute Met Yesterday in the Y. M. C. A.—Messrs. E. A. Hardy, B.A., and Thomas Yellowlees, of the S. S. Association, Were the Special Speakers—General Discussion on Various Topics Was of Great Benefit to Those Present.

The Sunday School Institute held two very interesting and profitable sessions in the Y.M.C.A. Hall yesterday. Both were well attended by the Sunday School workers of the city and could not fail to be of benefit to all present as discussion on some of the topics was of a general nature. The speakers were Mr. E. A. Hardy, B. A., Toronto, the Teacher Training Secretary of the Ontario Sunday School Association, and Mr. Thomas Yellowlees, of Toronto, Extension Secretary of the Association. Both have a wide, practical knowledge of Sunday School matters and their addresses at both afternoon and evening sessions were appreciated by the audience to whom the suggestions given were of great value.

Afternoon Session.

The various Sunday Schools of the city were well represented at the afternoon session, about forty teachers being present. Rev. J. G. Potter acted as chairman and the meeting opened with devotional exercises by Rev. J. G. Lewis.

Mr. Thomas Yellowlees was the first speaker, his subject being "The Home Department." He briefly explained the aim of the department which he said was to bring the Bible more into the home life. It afforded an opportunity for those who could not come to Sunday School to become acquainted with the lesson. The opportunity offered to do good in this way was a glorious one, and society might be revolutionized by active work.

Those present were invited to participate in discussing various topics in connection with the home department and responded to the invitation in a satisfactory manner, the resulting discussion being most profitable to all concerned. Among the questions considered were the following: 'For what class of people is the Home Department intended?' "How should the Home Department officers and visitors be selected?" "What are the duties of a Home Department Superintendent?" "What can the pastor do for the Home Department?" "Is the Home Department worth the time, thought and energy necessary to organize and operate it?"

Mr. E. A. Hardy followed with an address on the "Preparation of the Lesson," which was full of valuable suggestions which if carried out would greatly benefit the Sunday School.

Another subject that created much helpful discussion amongst the audience was the address on "House to House Visitation," conducted by Mr. Yellowlees. The meeting closed with the Doxology.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening meeting was very interesting, and Mr. Yellowlees and Mr. Hardy gave two very interesting and helpful discourses. Mr. Yellowlees, the first speaker, whose subject was "The Forward Movement," referred to the great work the association was doing in aid of the Sunday school work. He said there was still room, however, for much improvement. The cleverest and greatest men and women in the country are those engaged in Sunday school work, men and women who will press forward for the very best the world offers. The temperance cause is one that deserves greater attention than it receives, and, in Mr. Yellowlees' opinion, every Sunday school should have a pledge. He himself took the pledge many years ago, and abstinence from liquor, he said, has saved him from many a snare and pitfall in life. A cradle roll is also another thing that has proven very beneficial wherever used. As soon as a child is born its name is placed upon this roll, and as it grown older has the comforting knowledge that the church is taking an interest in his or her spiritual welfare. The object for which the Sunday school is labouring is to bring the children to Christ. The speaker spoke at some length on the benefit of a house to house visitation. This method in aid of Sunday school work has been adopted and carried on successfully all through the Province and its beneficial results are very perceptible. Thousands of people, the speaker said, are lost for the want of a helping word. By a visitation of the different houses greater interest could be aroused in Sunday school work. Such a plan of campaign would be a great blessing. Mr. Yellowlees stated, for a city like Peterborough, and he urged that the matter be given most serious consideration. The association was under a heavy expense, he added, and while he did not wish to give the impression that he was begging, he and his brother worker, Mr. Hardy, having come here of their own accord for the furtherance of the great work, at the same time he stated that any aid would be gratefully received and much appreciated.

Rev. Mr. Potter, who occupied the chair, spoke in favour of the house to house visitation method, and said that he was sure all present had been greatly helped by, and were grateful for, Mr. Yellowlees' address. He said that he did not think the movement for house to house visitation was ready to be carried out this year.

Col. F. B. Edwards was of a different opinion, however, and a motion made by him as to whether or not those present were in favour of having the visitation carried on in the near future, resulted in a show of hands in favour of the proposed movement being commenced early.

Report Presented.

Mr. A. J. Johnston, secretary-treasurer of the Peterborough Sunday School Association, presented his reports for the past year.

The following officers were elected for 1906:

President, Mr. R. Lees.

First Vice-President, Col. E. B. Edwards.

Second Vice-President, Mr. M. W. Matchett.

Secretary, Mr. G. G. Pratley.

Corresponding Secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. J. Johnston.

Superintendent of Primary Department, Miss Agnes Williamson.

Executive Committee—Messrs. Morrison, Cunningham, Rev. J. G. Lewis, D. Spence, D. Hughes Charles, T. H. Hooper, M. W. Matchett, Anderson, R. J. Kidd, G. W. Powell, S. Simpson, W. Madill, Sheriff Hall, Miss M. Mann, Col. E. B. Edwards, Harry Stock and R. C. Braund.

Teacher Training.

Mr. Hardy spoke very interestingly on teacher training, after the election of officers had taken place. The three prominent points in connection with this important work are: What it is, what it is for, and will it work? During his able argument in favour of the teacher training courses he satisfactorily proved that it was most desirable that every Sunday school teacher should take a teacher training course. The Bible is the only text book for the teacher. Other aids were all right to be used by the teacher for home study, but the Bible was the only text that should be used on Sunday. Mr. Hardy gave a description of some of the course of study for teachers. The Sunday school, he said, is among the greatest institutions of the world. The very choicest people are engaged in its work and exert a most beneficial influence upon the young. Great progress is being made in Sunday school work, but the results are very much impaired by inefficiency on the part of the instructors. The speaker, to bear out the truth of this latter remark, cited several examples that had come under his personal supervision. The teachers don't really, in most cases, lack ability, but they have not mastered the art of imparting their knowledge to their pupils. Teaching is one of the first arts. It is infinitely more important to have an adequate teacher in a Sunday school than in a day school, because, in the first case, the instruction is for the improvement of the mind, in the latter for the development of the soul. The teacher training course is obtaining a hold all over the Province, and the speaker strongly recommended its adoption in Peterborough.

Rev. Mr. Potter complimented Mr. Hardy on his address, and seconded him in the recognition of the value of teacher training.

Fair to the Company.

New York Tribune.

THE CONDUCTOR on a little Southern railway took the fare and counted it, and then carefully he put part of it in his coat pocket and the rest in the hip pocket of his pantaloons.

"Why," said the passenger, "do you divide the money that way?"

The conductor, with a frown, replied, "The company's got to get something, ain't it?"

South American Nervine

begins at the beginning to prevent and eradicate disease—it acts on the nerves that control the vital organs of the body, gives strength to the whole nervous system, fills the blood with that richness and purity that is so essential to health—because, remember this, that when these nerves become weakened and exhausted it means indigestion, torpid liver, stagnant kidneys, the heart flutters and becomes irregular and weak, the lungs fail to have the nourishment and weaken, and the climax, naturally enough, is debility—and the next stage may be consumption. All such dire consequences may be saved by the wonderful potency of South American Nervine.

Women

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets Hit the Right Spot.

When a woman gets all run down, feels tired and out of sorts it is pretty hard to tell what part of her peculiar organism is causing the trouble.

She takes different medicines, but they do her little good. They don't hit the right spot.

It is useless, for example, taking a stimulant to heal inflammation or correct an irregularity.

Whit the exception of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women, no compound remedy for the female sex exists to-day. By compound remedy we mean one containing the alterative and tonic medical ingredients necessary to regulate and strengthen every organ of the female system.

And that is just what these tablets do.

In taking the ordinary remedies you may miss the very ingredients your system requires. These tablets contain every ingredient. They go to the weak spot wherever it may be.

It is not necessary to guess at the cause of the trouble and perhaps take the wrong medicine half a dozen times. It is not necessary to even know exactly the cause of the trouble.

Dr. Hugo's remedy contains something for every organ of the female system; something for the stomach to help indigestion—for the bowels to cure constipation—for the nervous system to tone up the nerves—for the liver and kidneys to make them active in carrying off impurities—something for the uterine system to stop all drains, allay inflammation and make women regular.

The tablets are sure to go to the right spot and get there the first time.

The remedy is now recognized beyond doubt or question as the best adapted to the special needs of sick and run-down women, no matter what the cause.

Bensfort Friends Said Farewell To Mr. and Mrs. Kerr

Popular Residents of That Section Were Honoured by Their Neighbours.

Saturday, March 10.

A very pleasant gathering was held at the residence of Mr. Isaac Kerr, Bensfort, last night, when a large number of friends assembled to bid farewell to Mr. Kerr and his family who leave on Monday to take up their residence in the Northwest.

About ninety guests were present and the evening was a most enjoyable one, although it signified the departure of those who had been most popular with their fellow citizens. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr proved ideal hosts and everything possible was done for the comfort and amusement of their guests. Dancing was the form of entertainment most in vogue, and excellent music for the purpose was provided by Messrs J. Chambers and Wm. Smith.

At an appropriate stage in the proceedings, Mr. S. Blakley, on behalf of the gathering, presented Mr. Kerr with a handsome fur coat, while Mrs Blakley gave a pair of fur gauntlets and a fur cap to Mrs. Kerr.

Mr. Robert Fisher read an address on behalf of the company.

Mr. Kerr replied on behalf of himself and his family expressing his regret at having to leave Bensfort, and thanking his neighbours for the many kindnesses shown.

Stole Fifty Dollars From Lindsay Firm

Saturday, March 10.

Chief Nevison of Lindsay, this afternoon wired the local police to arrest William Eaton, 16 years of age, an English emigrant boy, who speaks with a decided English accent, on a charge of having stolen from his employers, the Lindsay Lumber Company, the sum of $50. The firm by which he was employed, gave him a cheque for $50 on the Ontario Bank, Lindsay, this morning, for the boy to cash. He received the money from the bank teller, and after receiving it left for Peterborough on the 11 o'clock train from Lindsay, buying his ticket at the railway station.

When the cheque was cashed the boy was given seven $5 bills, all of the Ontario Bank, and ten $1 bills, and $5 in silver. He is short and chunky, wears a dark grey suit, dark grey cap and short trousers. He has large eyes and rosy cheeks. Any merchant or other person who sees a boy in the city answering to the description given above, will please communicate with the police.

Royal Welcome Given TO VICTORIOUS
Hockey Champions

O. H. A. Winners Were Met at the Station by Thousands of Wildly Excited People--Greatest Reception in the History of Peterborough Was Accorded--Big Procession --Fireworks and Bon Fires Were Among the Features.

Never before in the history of the city, has there been such a demonstration, or such a spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm, as that which greeted the champion Peterborough hockey team on their arrival home from Goderich last night. It was thought that the celebration on Mafeking night, was something out of the ordinary, as indeed it was, but last night's reception surpassed anything of the kind ever seen in Peterborough before. The city simply went wild with delight over the victory of the team, and it seemed as if every one was on hand to welcome the champions. Fully eight thousand people gathered at the station and on George street, and the scene was such as would stir the most sedate citizen to lose sight of his dignity and join with the crowd that assembled to do honour to the boys, who had so successfully represented the city this season. As a noise-producer the crowd was a record-breaker. Everything that it was possible to make a noise with was pressed into service, and the result was a continuous din such as has rarely been heard here. Foghorns, bugles, tin pans, megaphones, and everything else that the ingenuity of the crowd could devise, were used, and the clamour was ear-splitting. Bon-fires blazed at the street corners, and fog-horn bands paraded the streets for hours. The old battle song:

Hurrah, hurrah, we're champions again,
Hurrah, hurrah, bring on some better men;
We're not afraid to beard the lion in his den.
Hurrah, hurrah, we're champions again.

Was sung hundreds of times during the evening, and was the one most frequently heard from the assembled thousands, and from those who took part in the procession and the after-demonstration.

The scene at the C. P. R. station, as the local from Toronto pulled in, with the team on board, was one that will never be forgotten by those who witnessed it. The station platform and the large square behind, were crowded with thousands of people, and the crowds extended up George street. Such a crowd it is probable, had never been seen at the station before, and it seemed as if the whole of Peterborough had gathered to welcome the champions.

As the train pulled in sight the 57th Band struck up a triumphal air and the crowd gave round after round of cheers, which almost drowned the playing of the band. To add to the clamour the whistles of all the nearby factories began to toot jubilantly, and as the team issued from the train they were greeted with an ovation such as has never before probably been given Peterborough citizens.

The champions were calerly pounced on by the crowd, and on the willing shoulders of some of their admirers were carried to the cabs in waiting for them at the rear of the station. The procession was then quickly formed and, headed by the 57th band, moved triumphantly up George street.

The order of the procession was as follows:

57th Band, in uniform.
Fire Brigade.
Players and officers of the club, in carriages.
City Council, in cabs.
Peterborough Press Club, in bus.
Canadian Chorus, C. G. E., tool room, in bus.
Kazoo Band, in bus.
George Stevens' Rough Riders — mounted.
Citizens in carriages.

The spectacle presented as the jubilant parade advanced up George street, was indeed a stirring one. The pavement was packed with people who greeted the players with a tremendous outburst of cheering. The band played gay music in front, and from the carriages came an almost continuous shower of fireworks. The gaily decorated buggies with blue and white prominently displayed everywhere, and the flags and bunting with which George street was adorned, and the excited multitudes that thronged the pavements, or followed the carriages, presented a scene such as is not easily forgotten.

The procession passed up George street to Hunter, and down that street to the Oriental, where the champions were the guests of Mr. G. N. Graham at a very enjoyable and informal supper. A pleasant time was spent, and the hospitality of Mr. Graham, than whom the team has no better friend, was greatly appreciated by the players.

The procession disbanded after reaching the Oriental, but the fun was not yet over—in fact it had hardly begun. For hours afterwards the noise was kept up and the enthusiasm displayed was intense. In a few minutes after the players had arrived at the Oriental bon-fires were blazing in front of the hotel, and at other points on the main street, and the crowd proceeded to celebrate the victory in a good-natured, although noisy, manner. Fog-born and tin pan bands were formed and paraded up and down George street, while cheer after cheer rent the night air. Until ten o'clock the excitement was kept up, and the streets remained thronged with merry-makers until that hour. The din was simply deafening, and when at the conclusion of the supper at the Oriental, the team was driven around the front streets, the uproar might have been heard for miles. It was certainly a great ovation, but not a bit too good for the boys who have won so glorious a victory.

To every one that aided in the procession is great credit for the success of the demonstration is due, and especially to those who contributed rigs, and other features of the occasion. The reception showed that the people of Peterborough possessed the right spirit and that they properly recognized the fine record achieved by the hockey team.

The business men of the city showed that they were in sympathy with the team by the manner in which they decorated their stores. Nearly every store on George street was decorated in some manner or other, and the street presented a very gay appearance. Peterbroough's colours, the good old blue and white, were of course the predominant feature in the decorations although many flags were used. Stretched across the street from F. A. Clarke's store hung a line of blue and white lights, while a streamer underneath bore the inscription "Peterborough is proud of her Hockey Boys." J. J. Turner & Sons, had their factory gaily decorated and other business places elaborately decorated were R. Hall & Sons, T. Hooper, M. Connors, Thos. Barrie, Grafton & Co., Ormond and Walsh's, Bank of Ottawa, Crown Hotel, Commercial House, Examiner Office, Munro House, and many others. Blue and white were displayed everywhere, on the street cars and on the delivery and cab horses during the afternoon, and nearly every citizen wore the team's colours.

Mr. Fitzgerald's Illness Very Much Regretted

Lindsay Cheese Board Passed Resolution of Condolence.

The annual meeting of the Lindsay Cheese Board was held in the Council Chamber Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Last year's officers were re-elected as follows:

President—Mr. Thos. Robertson.
1st Vice-President—Mr. John Kennedy.
2nd Vice-President — Mr. John Staples.
Secretary—Mr. E. E. Shyne.
Treasurer—Mr. Geo. E. Rea.

President Robertson in his opening remarks stated that at this, the eighth annual meeting, of the Board, he was pleased to report that the quality of the cheese sold on the Board for the past season had given good satisfaction. The price received was good, although not quite as high as the prices obtained on the Peterborough Board. Fifteen factories had boarded 16,020 cheese, which at 80 lbs. per cheese totalled 1,281,600 lbs., and at 10 7-16c per lb. equalled $133,767.00, which does not include perhaps 200 cheese boarded at Red Rock. Messrs. Flavelle, Fitzgerald and Brown had bought all the cheese, Mr. Cook being at the meetings only once, and as there were only 611 cheese boarded at that sale he did not bid at all. In closing, President Robertson said he was very sorry to learn of the sad affliction of Mr. Fitzgerald, who had been a buyer on the Board for the last seven years.

A resolution of condolence will be forwarded to Mr. Fitzgerald.

Nervous Diseases No Longer a Fad

ALL CLASSES NOW SUFFER FROM EXHAUSTED NERVES—SPLENDID RESULTS OBTAINED FROM THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

"The breakdown of the nervous system is no mere society craze from which it is fashionable to suffer, but is becoming a national calamity which bids fair to rob our descendants of many of those qualities which have done so much to make this empire what it is," writes Dr. Guthrie Rankin, an eminent London physician.

The keen competition of life is now felt in all grades of society, and as the result prostration, paralysis and insanity are becoming more and more common as the natural outcome of exhausted nerves.

Sleeplessness, irritability, indigestion, headache and general lack of energy and ambition are among the early indications of nervous troubles, and with women the result is not infrequently derangements and irregularities of the feminine organism.

If a committee of experts on diseases of the nerves were to prescribe for you they would give you just such a formula as that of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for this medicine is composed of the most powerful nerve restoratives known to medical science.

This is no idle boast, as we shall be pleased to prove to you if you will have your physician call at these offices and examine the formula.

What we consider as better proof of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will do for you is to be found in the letters of recommendation published from time to time in Dr. Chase's Almanac and in the newspapers of this country.

Naturally and gradually this great food cure forms new, rich blood, the substance from which the brain creates new nerve force. This is the only means by which diseases of the nerves can be actually cured. Stimulants and narcotics give temporary relief, but with great expense to the nervous system. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food slowly but certainly revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and by filling the body with vitality overcomes weakness, sickness and disease.

A favourite means of proving this is by noting your increase in weight while using this medicine. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 1

Some Trent Canal

STATISTICS FURNISHED

By Dept. Blue Book

About 160 Miles of Direct and Lateral Navigation--The Project of a Canal From Bay of Quinte to Lake Huron Proposed Many Years Ago--First Started in 1837 by Imperial Government--The Progress of the Work--Only Small Portion Remains to be Completed.

The Superintendent of Railways and Canals has issued a blue book giving the the canal statistics for the year 1904. In the appendix some information in reference to the Trent Canal is given. It says:—

The term "Trent Canal" is applied to a series of water stretches, which do not, however, form a connected system of navigation, and which, in their present condition, are efficient only for local use. By various works this local use has been extended, and by others, now in progress and contemplation, this will become a through route between Lake Ontario and Lake Huron.

The series is composed of a chain of lakes and rivers, extending from Trenton, at the mouth of the River Trent, on the Bay of Quinte, Lake Ontario, to Lake Huron.

Many years ago the utilizing of these waters for the purpose of through water communication between Lake Huron and Lake Ontario was projected. The course, as originally contemplated and modified, is as follows:—

Through the River Trent, Rice Lake, the River Otonabee and Lakes Clear, Stony, Loveslck, Deer, Buckhorn, Chemong, Pigeon, Sturgeon and Cameron to Lake Balsam, the summit water, about 165 miles from Trenton; from Lake Balsam by a canal and the River Talbot to Lake Simcoe; thence by the River Severn to Georgian Bay, Lake Huron; the total distance being about 200 miles, of which only about 15 or 20 miles will be artificial canal.

The full execution of the scheme, commenced by the Imperial Government in 1837, was deferred. By certain works, however, below specified, sections of these waters have been made practicable for navigation, and the whole scheme is now being carried out. A branch of the main route, extending from Sturgeon Lake south, affords communication with the town of Lindsay, and, through Lake Scugog to Port Perry, a distance of 190 miles from Toronto.

	Navigable Miles.	Unnavigable Miles.
From Trenton, Bay of Quinte, to Nine Mile Rapids ...	—	9
Nine Mile Rapids to Percy Landing	15 1-2	—
Percy Landing to Herley's Falls dam	—	14 1-2
Hesley's Falls dam to Peterborough	51 3-4	—
Peterborough to Lakefield	—	9
Lakefield to a point across Balsam Lake	61	—
	127 1-4	32 3-4
From Sturgeon Point on Sturgeon Lake, 48 3-4 miles from Lakefield, the branch through the town of Lindsay to Port Perry at the head of Lake Scugog		27

The works by which the Trent navigation has been improved comprise canals with locks and bridges, at Young's Point, Burleigh Rapids, Lovesick, Buckhorn Rapids, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls and Rosedale; also dams at Lakefield, Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Lovesick Buckhorn, Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls. By these works there is afforded communication between Lakefield, 91-2 miles from Peterborough, and Balsam Lake, the headwaters of the system; opening up a total of about 160 miles of direct and lateral navigation.

At Lakefield, 91-2 miles from Peterborough, the dam at the head of the Nine Mile rapids on the River Otonabee, maintains navigation on Lake Katchewannoo up to Young's Point.

At Young's Point, 5 miles from Lakefield the dam between Lake Katchewannoo and Clear Lake controls the water level through Clear and Stony lakes up to the foot of the Burleigh canal. The lock here, it should be observed, is (was) controlled by the Provincial government.

At Burleigh Rapids, 10 miles from Young's Point, a canal about 21-4 miles in length, passes the Burleigh and Lovesick rapids, and gives communication between Stony Lake and Deer Bay.

At Buckhorn rapids, 7 miles from Burleigh Rapids, there is a canal about one-fourth of a mile long.

At Bobcaygeon, 15 3-4 miles from Buckhorn rapids, a dam, 553 feet long, controls the water level up to Fenelon Falls.

At Fenelon Falls, 13 miles from Bobcaygeon, a canal about one-third of a mile in length connects Sturgeon Lake with Cameron Lake.

The following is a list of the locks with their dimensions:—

1.—Lock at Rosedale, (maintained by the Ontario Government) 100 feet by 30 feet by 4 feet 6 inches to 6 feet 6 inches depth water on mitre sill.

2.—Locks at Fenelon Falls, 134 feet by 33 feet by 5 feet to 7 feet 6 inches depth water on mitre sill.

1.—Locks at Lindsay, 154 feet by 33 feet by 5 feet to 7 feet 6 inches depth water on mitre sill.

1.—Locks at Bobcaygeon, 134 feet by 33 feet by 5 feet 8 inches to 7 feet, depth of water on mitre sill.

1.—Locks at Buckhorn, 134 feet by 33 feet by 5 feet to 9 feet depth of water on mitre sill.

1.—Locks at Lovesick, 134 feet by 33 feet by 5 feet to 9 feet 4 inches, depth of water on mitre sill.

2.—Locks at Burleigh, 134 feet by 33 feet by 6 feet to 8 feet, depth of water on mitre sill.

1.—Locks at Young's Point, (a Provincial Government work) 134 feet by 33 feet by 5 feet to 14 feet depth water on mitre sill.

1.—Locks at Peterborough, 134 feet by 33 feet by 5 feet to 10 feet depth water on mitre sill.

1.—Locks at Hastings, 134 feet by 33 feet by 7 feet 10 to 16 feet 6 inches, depth of water on mitre sill.

1.—Locks at Chemolms, 134 feet by 33 feet by 5 feet to 8 feet 6 inches, depth of water on mitre sill.

To Operate Gates.

—Mr. Alex. Richardson, of Peterborough, has been in the village during the past week, placing in position an appliance for the purpose of raising and lowering the guard gate at the entrance to the canal.—Lakefield News.

Body Was Disinterred After Many Years

Interesting Story in Connection With the Death of a Former Cobourg Resident--Is Revived by Death of Franklin House, Which Occurred in Toronto Monday.

Lying on a truck on one of the platforms at the Union Station yesterday afternoon was a rough box, on which was fastened a card bearing the following inscription:—"This box contains the remains of Sophia House, born September 17th, 1785; died Feb. 10th, 1864." The box was addressed to Bennington, Vermont, and was being sent from a Cobourg undertaking establishment.

Upon inquiry it was found that the remains were those of the mother of the late Franklin House, Cobourg. Mr. House died on Monday last at the home of a cousin on College street, and the two bodies were being taken to Bennington, Vermont, the former home of Mrs. House and the birthplace of Mr. Franklin House, to be interred together.

Mr. House was born on August 26th 1825, and was in his 81st year. He was for sixty years in the banking and brokerage business in Cobourg, being well known not only in that vicinity but in Toronto as well. He retired from business about seven years ago, but continued to live in Cobourg until quite recently.

Nearly 58 years ago his mother, Sophia House, had come from her native town of Bennington, Vermont, to live with her son in Cobourg. After residing in Cobourg for about 16 years, she died at the age of 78 years, and her body was interred at Cobourg. It had, however, always been the intention of Mr. House to have the mother's remains removed to her native town in Vermont, and he had decided that this should be done this spring.

Died in Toronto.

At Christmas he came to Toronto for a visit to his cousin, intending to go from here to Vermont as soon as the warm weather came. While here, however, he contracted an illness, from which he at length became aware he could never recover. He accordingly gave strict orders that the body of his mother should be at once exhumed, and that at his death, his own and his mother's bodies should be taken to Bennington, Vermont, and interred together in a plot which he purchased there two years ago. Yesterday the long-deferred mission was fulfilled. The body of the mother, who departed this life over 40 years ago, was accompanied by that of her son to their final resting place in the little Vermont town.

An interesting feature is the fact that the body of Mrs. House when exhumed was almost as perfectly preserved as though it had been interred only the week previous. Even the clothing, it is said, was in perfect condition.

House Of Refuge Question Re-opened

County Councillor Moloney Asks the Warden to Do So—Says He Was Misinformed as to Quality of Soil on Preston Lot—Finds it is Unsuitable for the Purpose of House of Refuge—Wants an Opportunity to Remedy Matter.

The question of the County House of Refuge site will be re-opened in all probability. County Councillor Moloney calls upon the Warden to re-open it. He writes a letter to the Examiner in which he states that he was incorrectly informed as to the quality of soil on the Preston farm, the one selected by the Council as the site for the new institution, and is now of the opinion that it is unsuitable for the purpose.

Mr. Moloney does not accuse anyone of wilfully misinforming, but states that there was misrepresentation, and he wants an opportunity of remedying it. The letter, which fully explains his position is as follows:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I find since giving my vote in favour of the Preston site for the House of Refuge, that I was misinformed as to the nature and depth of the soil and other matters. It was impossible for myself or any of my fellow-Councillors to arrive at a correct conclusion in this respect at this time of the year, the ground being frozen and partly covered with snow, and when I gave my vote in favour of this site I was misguided by statements made, but on inquiry from reliable authority I find that these statements were not correct.

Representing a large section of the ratepayers of the County, I wish to put myself right in this matter before it is too late. And must ask the Warden to bring the question of the site up for further consideration of the Council.

Mr. Editor, I don't wish for a moment, that you, or the public should think I accuse any one, of intentionally misinforming me, but the fact remains that I was incorrectly informed, and in the interest of the County, at large, I am compelled to take this course.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your valuable paper, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,
D. MOLONEY.

North Monaghan Farmer Fell From His Waggon

Wm. Whitfield Was Somewhat Badly Injured on Tuesday Night--Horses Shied and Threw Him Out.

William Whitfield, a farmer residing in North Monaghan, was somewhat badly injured by falling out of his wagon on his way home from the city on Tuesday evening. It is supposed that the team shied at something and threw Whitfield out of the wagon. He was severely cut about the face and head and badly shaken up. The injured man was carried into the residence of Mrs. Johnston in North Monaghan, near whose place the accident occurred. Afterwards he was removed to the Nicholls Hospital, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Eastwood. He was able to leave the hospital to-day.

COULD NOT INFLICT THE TORTURE WOMEN SUFFER FROM HEADACHES

Headache is not in itself a disease, but a symptom or accompaniment of other diseases, principally those of the stomach, liver and bowels, such as Constipation, Dyspepsia, Liver Trouble, Bad Blood, Female Complaints, General Debility and Weakness. Headache is common to both sexes, but more frequently affects females.

The varieties of headache most common are sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, debility or indigestion, periodical and spasmodic headache. Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be had.

removes the cause of the headache, and not only does this but it also restores the entire system to healthy action and buoyant vigor.

"I was troubled with headache for a number of years, but could get nothing to help me. I procured a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and finding it was doing me so much good, I got two more. I am now fully cured and think there is nothing in the world like Burdock Blood Bitters for headache."

Smoke Testing Machine Wanted

Sanitary Inspector Called Attention of Board of Health to the Law.

Saturday, March 10.

The Board of Health held a short meeting last night prior to the joint session with the city council. There were present Messrs. Wm. Eyres, in the chair, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Bingham and Jas. Schneider.

The Sanitary Inspector, M. P. Thompson, was heard in reference to the purchasing of a smoke-testing machine, which he said was needed. The Board decided that the matter was one that should be dealt with by the council and therefore took no action in the matter.

Strong Plea For Higher Ideals At St. Louis

Rev. Canon Davidson's First Sermon in Missouri City as Reported by the Post-Democrat—Bishop Tuttle is Warmly Praised—Peterboro' Clergyman in the South is Well Received—Consecrated Christian Lives the Theme.

LENTEN SERVICES OPENED ON SUNDAY

The St. Louis Post-Democrat of Monday has the following reference to the first sermon preached in that city on Sunday by Rev. Canon Davidson, who went there in connection with the Lenten services:

Words of warm friendship and praise for Bishop Tuttle were spoken as his first utterance in St. Louis yesterday by the Canadian canon, J. C. Davidson, of Peterborough, Ontario, who has come to St. Louis to conduct the noonday services of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. He preached yesterday morning at Christ Church Cathedral, and, after modestly introducing himself as a clergyman of the Anglican church, whose first duty while here would be obedience to the rules of the diocese of Missouri and to the authority of Bishop Tuttle, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church, Canon Davidson continued:

"I must further express the gratitude on my part that I am once more privileged to come in contact with him who is indeed a prince of the church of God; whose name is known throughout the Anglican communion, and whose personality is loved everywhere he has gone."

The sermon was on the subject of yielding to holy influences, especially as shown in the church. A Scripture text was taken, representing man as cast into a mould, there to form the pattern of Jesus Christ, and he mould was explained as typifying religion and the church. "So beautiful, so divinely effective is the mould when we look into it," said the preacher, "that we are impelled to ask 'How is it that the mould does not do better work?' The answer lies in the character and disposition of many members of the very great multitude of members of our church."

Here the minister described the attitude of certain persons whose pride of self prevents their "yielding themselves to God," and whose attitude, even in the house of God, seems a challenge. "My message to you this morning is, now that you have assembled in the house of God to yield yourself to these holy influences, forgetting the world, forgetting that cugged independence in which you have taken pride. Yield yourselves, so that you may fall easily into every part of the great mould which lies before you.

"Yield yourselves in this season of Lent. Do we not sometimes think our whole duty is done in Lent when we say, 'I will give up this pleasure' or 'I will attend some extra service?' How can Lent do its work under such circumstances? Let us all resolve that we will wholly give ourselves for the balance of the forty days to the influences of the church, and let us welcome one of the greatest opportunities which comes to us in the whole Christian year with open arms."

Gin Pills Cure Kidney Troubles.

OR YOUR MONEY BACK.

Read this letter from Mrs. Gargill. Has it not the ring of truth? Does it not describe your own sufferings? And does it not point the way to quick relief?

"For three years I suffered more than I can tell with terrible pains in the small of my back. When I stooped over, it seemed as though I would never be able to straighten up. I tried Kidney Pills for a year and a half, but was getting worse all the time, until advised by my neighbor to try "Gin Pills," as she had been almost similarly affected, and had been completely cured by them. I took three boxes of Gin Pills, and almost from the first dose I began to feel better. Now I am pleased to say I can do as good a day's work as ever in my life without feeling tired out. Before getting Gin Pills I had to have a girl to do my housework, but now I can do it all myself, including the washing. I will always recommend Gin Pills for kidney trouble.

"Mrs. Gargill, Winnipeg, Man."

Don't suffer the agonizing tortures of Kidney Trouble. Don't let it run into dreaded Bright's Disease. Cure yourself now with Gin Pills—the pills that cure. Sold at all druggists with a positive guarantee that they cure or you get your money back. 50c box—6 for $2.50.

If you will write asking for it and tell us the paper in which you saw this we will send you a trial box of Gin Pills absolutely free. The Dale Drug Co., Winnipeg.

Question Now Is What Will The Miners Do

Anthracite Coal Operators Refuse Miners' Demands.

WILL THE MINERS STRIKE

Operators Ask For a Three-Year Renewal Agreement on Basis of the Anthracite Coal Strike Settlement by Commission—President John Mitchell of United Mine Workers Has Nothing to Say.

New York, March 12.—The propositions of the United Mine Workers of America for a readjustment of wages and conditions in the anthracite coal fields, as a whole, have been denied by the committee representing the anthracite operators. As a counter proposition, the operators suggest that the awards made by the anthracite coal strike commission on the principles upon which they were established by the commission, and the methods established for carrying out their findings and awards, shall be continued for a further term of three years from the first day of April, 1906. The present agreement terminates March 31 of this year.

Announcement of the anthracite operators decision and their counter proposition was made last night in a long, formal statement. In every instance the contention is made by the operators, either that conditions in the coal fields do not warrant the changes proposed by the miners, or that the question at issue already have been passed upon by the strike commission.

In conclusion, the statement says: "It is not to the interest of employers or employes, nor of the public, to have the mining business as well as the general business and comfort of the people, seriously disturbed by these yearly contentions."

Mitchell is Silent.

President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America left yesterday for Indianapolis, where he goes to prepare for the convention of the mine workers March 15. Mr. Mitchell declined to say anything regarding the reply of the operators refusing the demands of the miners. None of the other members of the miners' committee would talk. Prior to Mr. Mitchell's departure there was a lengthy meeting of the miners' committee.

CORRESPONDENCE LARGE.

Public Fully Interested in the Coming Insurance Investigation.

Ottawa, March 13.—Public interest in the forthcoming investigation respecting life insurance is indicated by the volume of correspondence being received by Henry T. Ross, secretary to the commission.

The prevailing wish expressed is that the commissioners probe fully into the workings of the different companies and their methods of doing business, and it is understood that some information considered to be of use in that connection is being volunteered.

The commission is fitting up permanent offices in this city, and the desire is that, so far as possible, the sitting should be held here.

However, Montreal and Toronto, where the head offices of several companies are located, will have to be visited, representations having been made that only by going there personally can the commission readily get at the facts.

The enquiry commences on Wednesday.

BURNED MOTHER MOURNS BABY.

Two-Year-Old Girl Pulled Oil Lamp to the Floor.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 13.—The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Mess of No. 1,320 Pierce avenue is dead, and Mrs. Mess was badly burned Saturday night. The little one pulled the tablecloth and upset a lamp. The oil splashed all over the child and ignited from the burning wick.

The mother heard the little one scream and rushed to its assistance. Before she succeeded in smothering the flames the child had been fatally burned, and the mother was horribly burned about the arms and face. The child died Sunday, and the mother is in a serious condition from shock and burns.

The interior of the house was badly damaged by the fire.

Leg Severed by a Train.

East Toronto, March 12.—A shocking accident occurred in the G. T. R. yards here at an early hour yesterday morning, by which Albert Dunn, of Mount Albert, received such injuries that he may not survive. A G. T. R. employe came upon the unfortunate man with one leg almost severed from the body and the other badly injured. Late yesterday afternoon Dr. Garratt amputated the right leg below the knee and three toes from the left foot. During the afternoon Dunn regained consciousness, but could give no information as to how the accident occurred. He was in the employ of Mr. Daniel Mann.

Boy Fatally Hurt.

Flesherton, March 13.—Friday afternoon a runaway team, driven by Robert Thompson, collided with a telegraph pole and became separated. One horse continued running down the sidewalk of the main street, and struck James, the 6-year-old son of Mr. Mark Wilson, butcher, crushing in and terribly fracturing the child's skull. His chances of recovery are slight.

Building Collapses in Montreal.

Montreal, March 12.—Through the collapse of an unfinished building at the new Dominion Park, Longue Pointe, on Saturday, a party of workmen had a narrow escape from death, and several of them were badly injured.

DOMINION PERMANENT LOAN COMPANY.

The 15th annual meeting of the dominion Permanent Loan Company was held in Toronto on Wednesday, March 7, a large number of shareholders being present. The report presented showed that after payment of dividends amounting to $69,427.40, writing $1,058.85 off office furniture, and transferring $40,000 to the reserve fund of the company, which makes the total reserve $200,000, there was a balance of profits of $19,099.89 left for further distribution. The president, in presenting the report, dwelt upon the satisfactory demand for loans experienced by the company during the past year, the great prosperity of the Dominion, as evidenced by great activities in financial, industrial and general enterprises, creating a constant growth in population and a consequent greater demand for moneys, from which he gathered that the future years of the company's existence would prove even more successful than the past. The following directors were elected: Hon. J. R. Stratton, D. W. Karn, Woodstock; O. Klesofer, Guelph; Wm. Finlay, Winnipeg, and George H. Cowan, K.C., Vancouver. At a subsequent meeting of the directors, Hon. J. R. Stratton was elected president, and Mr. D. W. Karn, vice-president.

NEED OF THE CANAL.

The lake navigation returns show that 11,025,845 bushels of wheat were shipped out of Fort William and Port Arthur during the season of 1905. More than 29,000,000 bushels were carried by Canadian vessels, and less than 12,000,000 bushels by foreign vessels. Some 27,254,342 bushels were carried to Canadian ports and 13,771,503 bushels to American ports. Buffalo got 11,295,499 bushels of this Canadian wheat. Depot Harbour came next with 8,887,163 bushels, Montreal 6,581,955, Owen Sound 2,474,175, Midland 2,731,714, Point Edward 2,273,846, Goderich 1,895,710, and Kingston 965,625 bushels, while Meaford, Port Colborne and Thorold received smaller consignments. The fact that a third of the shipments went through American channels shows that there is still room for improvement in Canadian transportation facilities, which circumstance emphasizes the necessity for improving our canal system by the completion of the Trent. Great strides have been made in two or three years, and still greater will be made in the next two or three. Lake port facilities will be increased, and the railways will be in a position to handle the grain traffic more efficiently east of the great lakes, but the greatest strides of the decade, or indeed, of the century, will be the introduction of the finished Trent Canal.

TWISTING THE DRAGON'S TAIL

Our Yankee neighbours, must, it seems, have an object for their mania for tail twisting. The British lion was for a long time the object of this national pastime, and the dignified old beast paid but indifferent attention so that the exercise was comparatively harmless. Now China comes in for a little spread eagleism, and a little twisting of the dragon's tail. The United States has excluded Chinese citizens from its borders, and Chinese goods by a Chinese tariff wall. In recognition of these attentions the Chinese people decided to boycott Yankee goods—won't buy American cotton even if treated with China clay. The boycott became so serious a matter that the United States becomes alarmed, and now it seems is adopting a policy of bluster, threatening war to compel the Chinese to buy American goods. The Yankees by tariff arrangement compels their own citizens to buy goods at a higher price than other countries would supply them. China naturally declines to be coerced, and American bluster, it appears, does not seriously frighten them. The New York World speaks plainly of the effect of the American attitude in influencing the Chinese against foreigners. The World says:—

If the United States had expressly sought to inflame the Chinese mind against foreigners it could hardly have gone about it more effectively. The General Staff works out the plan of an invasion of China by an American army. Secretary Taft sends his recommendations to Congress, and follows them up by appearing before a House Committee to urge an appropriation. When he gets little encouragement he publicly expresses his disappointment. The newspapers are bold in Washington that this or that General will command the expedition if it starts; that this and that regiment are being sent to the Philippines to be in readiness; that the Government is negotiating with steamship-owners for transports. Even eminent strategists like Gen Funston are permitted to give out interviews about the necessity of the campaign and a large force.

Reports of all these official sayings and doings reach the Chinese people, and the Imperial Government finds itself embarrassed in allaying popular resentment. An imperial edict is published in Pekin declaring that the reports are circulated by traitors who hope to separate China from her friends. Yet it is in official circles at Washington that they originated. They have been kept going and growing there and in China by the cynical tactlessness of spokesmen of the Administration. Senator Hale does well to protest that the declaration of war must lie not with the General Staff or the War Department, but with Congress.

We speak with contempt of the Chinese people because they are a weak nation, because they submit to foreign bullying and display no sense of patriotism. Yet when they grow restless under provocation we magnify local disturbances into national outrages and even think of nothing to do but invading their territory with armed forces because they are not more passive under threats of violence than we should be ourselves.

LEADERSHIPS.

It may be possibly a little disheartening to Hon. Mr. Ross, Leader of the Ontario Opposition, to confront a strong and arrogant Government side of the House, at the head of so small a band of followers. But he knows that they are a Spartan band — full of courage and of fight, faithful and loyal to his leadership, and heartily united. But it must be intensely disheartening for Hon. Mr. Borden, leader of the Dominion Opposition, to face the House with so small a band of followers, and to know that among his nominal following, small as it is, there are several candidates for the consular agency first represented by Judas, that an uneasy hand steals often towards the handle of the knife, and especially that the hoary leader of the Conservative party in thee grave and reverend Senate, repudiates his leadership, and refuses to respond to the caucus call. As an able and high-minded gentleman, Mr. Borden is entitled to sympathy, the more because the fault is not his. How can a leader lead who is not the leader of a party that can be led. The party as a whole would doubtless follow Mr. Borden — but afar off, seeing that the loaves and fishes are far away — but the ambition or insubordination of several leading cranks of the party create conditions that no leader can cope with. Sir John Macdonald himself could not have done so. And he wouldn't have tried. He would simply kill the mutinous element, and rule over a united party, or know the reason why.

NO WALK-OVER.

The Opposition in the Ontario Legislature is something like a game bantam cock, small, but full of fight, and the Government benches with their numerical superiority, can be given many a bad quarter of an hour, and be made very uncomfortable unless they keep somewhat near the correct line. The Liberal opposition is like a well skilled hockey team, say, like the champion Peterboroughs; they put on a fine combination, and make the Government goal defender keep his feet close together, and both eyes open. On Tuesday last the Opposition stirred up a lively little hornet's nest, in which the Minister of Crown Lands, the Premier, and the Minister of Education, got not a few stings. In one sense, it makes little difference what party name a Government bears. The Whitney Government should govern Ontario beneficially, which it promises to do in some ways, by following the successful practices and policy of its Liberal predecessors, especially when kept to the mark by a well-organised Opposition. The Whitney Government gave promise of a good regime, till it surrendered to the spoilsmen — something that many of its most ardent supporters condemn as a vicious and dangerous introduction of Yankee methods.

CANADA'S RAILWAY STANDING

There is no higher material test of the advanced civilisation of a country, than the approximate perfection of its transportation facilities, and no stronger evidence of advancement can be offered than that afforded by advance in transportation matters. Judged by this standard Canada is going forward rapidly. The advance in railway mileage, and the associated conditions, is something to be grateful for. In 1851, six years before Confederation, Canada possessed but 1,800 miles of railway, with a paid-up capital of $38,278,986. Those lines carried 1,825,000 passengers, handled 1,459,446 tons of freight, and earned a net sum of $1,046,316, the aggregate earnings being $6,722,666. On June 30th last there were 20,601 miles of completed railway in the Dominion, an increase of 990 miles over the previous year, besides 3,632 miles of sidings. The paid-up capital amounted to $1,248,666,414; there were 25,288,723 passengers carried, and the freight traffic was represented by 50,893,957 tons. The gross earnings amounted to $106,467,199, and the net earnings to $26,489,625. Comparing the two periods, it will be seen what enormous strides Canada has made in 44 years; and this and the next few succeeding years will show a still greater advance, and go a long way towards putting our railway mileage at the 25,000 mark.

VACCINATION.

The members of the Toronto Board of Education have voted against vaccination, an action which medical men regard as a display of ignorance of the crudest type. Among the best of our medical men who have paid special attention to the subject, vaccination is accepted as an effective prophylactic against smallpox, one of the most loathsome of diseases—perhaps next to leprosy, the most to be dreaded. If vaccination, as a general thing, protects us against this disease, then it is desirable, and, as the doctors would say, "indicated." True, there are instances of vaccination being followed by disastrous results, but it is probable that these are not due to vaccination properly performed with pure lymph—but to careless vaccination with impure lymph, and upon patients with, perhaps, constitutional weakness and inclination to disease. No doubt a strong case can be made against vaccination, and many instances can be given of its having led to undesirable results, but mountains of testimony can be piled up to show the benefits of vaccination properly performed. It is best, in case of the doubt that is created to trust to medical science. The probability is that it is in the right in upholding vaccination. Medical science has made great advances and done much to alleviate the sufferings of humanity, and is generally entitled to public confidence, and generally anxious to heal or prevent disease. The medical profession is doubtless honest in its advocacy of vaccination, deeming it the best protection available against smallpox.

THE ATTRACTION.

In Peterborough where we have schools and churches in abundance we, to a sad extent fail to appreciate the advantages they represent. Parents permit their children to absent themselves from school, while by common consent thousands of persons easily make the sacrifice of not attending church. But whether we make use of them or not we put value upon these conveniences — we point to Peterborough as a desirable place of residence because of the number of churches and schools. In this connection the importance of the social conditions expressed by the presence of schools and churches is demonstrated in the Northwest of Canada, to which thousands of American farmers are flocking from Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Michigan. Apart from the fertility of the soil a high official of a great railway company says, that the immense actual and prospective traffic of American farmers over his railway to the Northwest, chiefly composed of well-to-do farmers, is due very greatly to the conditions prevailing at many places in the Northwest, even in new communities, where are found good schools and churches. Many of these so-called American immigrants to the Northwest, are returning Canadians, who from past experience have a larger appreciation of the privileges they, in many cases, left behind them when they went to the United States to better their material condition. Thus it is seen that from the merely sordid and material point of view it pays to be good, that is, that thousands of persons whose daily lives are not perhaps practically guided by moral considerations, are at heart influenced, perhaps unconsciously, to themselves, by these considerations.

WHEN CREDIT IS DUE.

Every day accumulates evidence of the wisdom of the course of the late Ross Government in coming to the aid of the languishing, dormant industries of the "Soo" by guaranteeing a loan of two million dollars. Mr. Whitney and the Opposition said that the money might as well be thrown into the lake. The Government, with faith in the resources of the Province tributary to these enterprises, contended that there was no risk that the loan, which would put the industries on their feet, would be repaid promptly, and that the Province would not lose a cent. This has all come true—the Province has not lost a cent, nor will it, for the loan is practically repaid out of earnings of the revived industries. Not only that, but the money which "might as well have been thrown into the lake" has worked a miracle of manufacturing activity. A despatch to the Mail and Empire, which denounced the aid to the "Soo" industries with a veritable madness of intensity, states that Mr. C. D. Warren, president of the reorganized "Soo" industries, received word last night that the steel works there had yesterday surpassed all records in the history of steel-making in Canada. Eight hundred and two tons were rolled in one day under their contract with the C.P.R. The normal capacity of the works was supposed to be about 500 to 600 tons per day, but has been greatly increased. Eight hundred and two tons represents about 2,500 rails. The credit of this rests primarily and chiefly with the Liberal Government of Ontario. But for its prompt and timely help the "Soo" would be dead and we should not now have millions of capital giving life to an immense industry and employment to thousands of hands, and not have Ontario the pioneer steel-rail producing Province of the Dominion. The people saw fit in a moment of pique to overthrow the Ross Government, but in the conditions cited the country has a great deal to thank the late Government for. The party represented by the present Government opposed these things and cannot take any credit for the great industrial results reached.

WHITNEY'S BLUFF.

The Hon. Mr. Whitney, when addressing the Legislature since the opening of the House, is reported to have said, in reply to the Hon. G. W. Ross, in connection with the dismissal of Justices of the Peace, that "EVERY MAN WHOSE FACULTIES WERE SOUND AND PHYSICAL CAPACITY FIT, WAS RETAINED."

The following are the names of the Justices of the Peace of the County of Peterborough, who have been removed from office. The people in the county, who know these gentlemen, will be best able to characterize Mr. Whitney's bluff:—

Peterborough—Wm Hastie, Otonabee; Robert Harrison, Peterborough; Thomas Johnston, Otonabee; Wm Johnston, Havelock; John Lang, ex-M. EDITORIAL NOTES

The Globe states that the demand for normal schools is active—normal, so to speak.

The ways of the diplomatic politician are hard. Now, Premier Roblin of Manitoba, is accused by the Orange element represented by the Orange organ, with truckling to the Roman Catholics. Whatever truth or otherwise there may be in this charge it shows that the course of the Roblin Government is being closely watched.

The Globe recalls the curious fact that several of the most helpful expositors of the British constitution have been foreigners — principally Frenchmen. This, in turn, recalls the fact, that the most helpful, if not the only considerable expositor of the Canadian constitution, was a Frenchman, by descent, at least — Sir J. G. Bourinot, author of "The Constitution of Canada."

Political stumpers will perhaps sooner learn to be moderate in their statements by taking to heart the lesson given to Mr. W. H. Bennet, M.P., who has been mulcted in $100 damages and costs for slander of a Midland livery man, Mr. W. H. Wilson. Mr. Bennet is a lawyer, and doubtless more than one witness who has suffered from the abuse privileged lawyers are inclined to practice in their attitude to witnesses in the box, will be rather pleased, than otherwise, to note that one lawyer has been taught that there is a limit to what may be safely said in criticism of decent people.

The proposition to enlarge the jurisdiction of the Division Court, to include amounts of $100, in suits for damages, $200 in suits on open accounts, and $400 when the amount is known, is regarded by many as a move in the right direction, inasmuch as a larger opportunity is given to litigants of moderate means to make an attempt to get justice at a minimum of costs, that is, if there is such a thing as a minimum in connection with law costs. Yet, on reflection, is this a benefit? Does not the experience of most men with litigation suggest the idea that if law expenses were made so great as to deter the people generally from going to law no very great calamity would follow?

The Minister of Education is inclined, to use the language of the street, to "go it blind." He told a press interviewer that he intended to make institutions for the blind, "schools, not prisons." There is nothing in the present conditions to warrant the insinuations of the Minister that children at the Institute for the Blind, are kept in cells. The Institution for the Blind at Brantford is a school, pure and simple, and the pupils are, and always have been, well treated in every way. Hon. Dr. Pyne has subjected himself to the suspicion that he is willing to stretch a point to discredit his predecessors and to glorify himself.

"Behind the Speaker," in the Globe, has the following: "Hon. G. W. Ross makes an excellent leader of the Opposition, alert, keen, critical and, at the same time, good natured. The dreary duty of criticizing the estimates, so necessary at the outset of what promises to be an era of extravagance, is faithfully performed. The ex-Premier shows in this a versatility that was scarcely expected after years of attention to the larger problems of public affairs. The strength of an Opposition does not lie in numbers, as anyone will discover who counts the forces to the left of the Speaker. But in that compact organization, there is the power that holds the majority to the straight path."

The decay of Great Britain is a rather deliberate process. Croakers have been prophesying the commercial decadence of Great Britain for years and years, yet the tough old kingdom refuses to decay. The total British imports for February were £47,028,835, an increase of £1,683,698 over February, 1905. The exports were 28,781,124, an increase of £3,512,080 over February, 1905. This is not a bad showing for a moribund kingdom. But Britain is renewing her youth. She is taking a leaf out of the book of the colonies, and has decided to give members of Parliament an indemnity of $1500. After the members taste this little tid-bit they may rise to the level of the Ottawa legislators by adding another thousand.

Will Speak At St. Patrick's Society Banquet

A High Tribute to Worth of Well Known Local Barrister.

A flattering recognition of the ability of Mr. D. O'Connell, the eloquent Peterborough barrister, has been paid him by the St. Patrick's Society of Montreal, a city which is the metropolis of Canada, and one of the leading literary centres of the Dominion, in selecting that gentleman to reply to the toast of Ireland, which will be proposed by Mr. Geo. McInerney, K.C., a clever barrister of St. John's, N.B., at the annual banquet of the society on the 17th of March next, commemorating its 50th anniversary. The occasion is always graced by the elite of Canada's Irish literary men and orators, and Mr. O'Connell is very highly honoured in being chosen to respond to the leading toast of this patriotic assembly, the most noteworthy held in honour of Ireland's national day, the 17th of March. Wit and eloquence always mark the gathering, and many of the speeches delivered are veritable gems, expressed with the inimitable grace and humour of the sons of the Emerald Isle.

Not only is Mr. O'Connell honoured by being asked to speak at this most important function, but Peterborough as well may feel proud that one of her citizens is so highly favoured.

The event is invariably a very brilliant one, and Canada's most representative Irishmen assemble each year around the festive board on these occasions. The celebration will be held at Windsor Hall, Montreal, and special efforts are being made to have this gathering the most memorable in the history of the society.

Conspicuous among the invited guests are Hon. Sir Alexander Lacoste, Chief Justice of the King's Bench, Quebec; Sir Melville Tait, of the Superior Court, Montreal.

The toast to Ireland is invariably proposed and responded to by distinguished and gifted gentlemen. Other toasts, prominent among which are the "King," also are honoured, and clever speech-making, that has characterized the assemblies, is a feature of the meetings of St. Patrick's Society.

The last edition of the Utica Saturday Globe contains a splendid cut of Mr. O'Connell, and refers to him as a "widely known and a brilliant young lawyer and speaker." The same paper also contains the following complimentary despatch from Ottawa:

Ottawa, March 8.—Daniel O'Connell, barrister of Peterborough, is to be the principal speaker at the St. Patrick's Society banquet in Montreal on St. Patrick's Day. He is to respond to the toast "Ireland," and those who have had an opportunity to hear this brilliant young lawyer speak in public, are looking forward to a great treat.

Mr. O'Connell was born in the Cape of Good Hope, Africa. He studied in Toronto University from which he graduated in arts. Afterwards he took up law and is a member of the Bar of Ontario.

The Home Circle Order Attains Its Majority

Annual Meeting to be Held Here Next Week—300 Delegates Will be in Attendance—Membership of the Order Has Reached 17,500—Has Paid Out $2,485,000 in Death Benefits—No Rate Agitation in the Order.

A SURPLUS OF $275,000 REACHED

Saturday, March 10.

The annual meeting of the Supreme Circle of the Order of Canadian Home Circles will be held in the court house Peterborough, this week, beginning at 2 p.m. on Tuesday. There will probably be about 300 delegates in attendance, as there are about 375 lodges extending from Halifax to Vancouver and each lodge is entitled to a delegate.

The order has just closed its 21st year, and this is the first time the Supreme Circle meeting has been held east of Toronto. The Supreme officers of the order are as follows:

John S. Dench, Past Supreme Leader, Trenton.

J. L. Buck, Supreme Leader, Port Rowan.

Wm. Stark, Supreme Vice-Leader, Toronto.

J. M. Foster, B.A., Supreme Secretary, Toronto.

W. H. Weston, Supreme Treasurer, Toronto.

Rev. R. M. Phalon, Supreme Chaplain, Blackstock.

John R. Brown, Supreme Marshal, Sault Ste. Marie.

W. A. Trueman, Supreme Warden, Campbellton, N.B.

E. C. Phelan, Supreme Guard, Amherst, N.S.

John Wilson, Supreme Sentinel, Alliston.

W. A. Dowler, B.A., K.C., Supreme Solicitor, Tilsonburg.

P. M. Pattison, Supreme Organizer, Toronto.

A. T. Hobbs, Supreme Medical Examiner, Guelph.

A. M. Tobin, A. R. Thompson, Supreme Auditors.

Elias Clouse, M.D.; T. R. Young, M. B. Graham, Supreme Trustees.

C. H. Denton, Dent Dalton, Jas. S. Scarff, Supreme Finance Committee.

T. Paradine, M. Y. Keating, S. Devlin, Supreme Committee on Laws.

Mrs. A. E. Cameron, R. W. Hawkins, R. R. Mowbray, Supreme Committee on Appeals.

Rev. E. B. Stevenson, Hon. R. Harcourt, John S. Dench, Board of Past Supreme Leaders.

In the 21 years of the existence of the order it has attained a membership of over 17,500, and it has paid $2,485,000 in death benefits, over $829,000 in Total Disability Benefits, and about $20,000 in old age or Life Expectancy Benefits, besides $45,000 to those who have been temporarily disabled by sickness or accident.

The Home Circle is one of the societies that has no rate question agitating the membership, because it has adhered to its original plan and has collected the number of assessments required each year to pay its claims and accumulate a surplus of about $275,000. Instead of raising the rates this order has raised the number of assessments as required. In 1904 16 assessments were collected, being the highest in the history of the order. In 1905 only 14 assessments were collected and about $20,000 was added to the surplus.

The meeting will likely last two days.

Bell Business Has Gone Ahead

Great Growth in Peterborough During the Past Two Years.

It is interesting to note the effect which the granting of a second telephone franchise in Peterborough has had upon the business of the Bell Telephone Company in this city.

The Peterborough council granted the Canadian Machine Telephone Company a franchise in May, 1904. At that time there were 520 Bell subscribers in Peterborough. Although the rates of the latter company have not been lowered it has, in less than two years, increased the number of its subscribers nearly 35 per cent., or to over 700. During the same period the long distance revenue of the Bell Company at Peterborough has increased nearly 25 per cent.

In addition to the development within the city limits, the Bell Company has greatly extended its rural party line service. Many outlying points have been thus connected with the Bell's Peterborough exchange, and the large farming community tributary to the city given the advantage of both exchange and long distance connection. Nearby points, which have been connected in this way with Peterborough are Indian River, Conroy's Corners, Best's Station, Springville, Ida and Fraserville.

Of course there has been little real competition in Peterborough, but these results in spite of prospective competition, are interesting. Then too, by thus refusing the Bell Company an exclusive franchise Peterborough is losing annually the $400 and five free telephones offered by the Bell Company.

Are you a success as a bread-maker? Is your cake and pastry complimented by your friends?

If not, whose fault is it—yours or the miller's. If you are successful in other lines, your reputation as a cook is vindicated, and it is plainly the fault of the flour.

Look up the good bread and pastry makers of your acquaintance and get their flour experience.

You will find that most of them are using

Choral Society At Springville

Held Very Successful Concert There on Tuesday Night.

Springville, March 8th.—(Special)—The concert under the auspices of the Springville Choral Society, held in the village on Wednesday night, was one of the most successful ever held here. The hall was well filled with an appreciative audience. Mr. Albert Sanderson occupied the chair in his usual efficient manner. The following was the programme rendered:

Chorus, by class, "The Broken Pitcher"
Solo... ... ...Mrs. Millar
Duet...Miss White and Mr. James Fowler
Recitation... ... ...Mr. Howden
Violin solo... ... ...Miss G. Miller
Male quartette, "The Cooper's Song" Mr. Fowler, Mr. Baptie, Mr. Ruth, Mr. Wilson.
Solo... ... ...Miss Kidd
Recitation... ... Miss Edith Preston
Anthem...Choir of the Presbyterian Church
Organ solo... ... ...Miss Morrow
Solo... ... ...Mr. Thomas Ruth
Reading... ... ...Miss Howden
Chorus, "The Violet and the Bee," Choral Class
Recitation... ... ...Miss Howden
Violin solo... ... ...Miss Miller
Vocal solo... ... ...Miss Kidd
Male chorus, "Fishing"... ... ...
Duet, ...Mrs. Miller, Miss Kidd
Recitation... ... ...Miss Howden
Chorus, "Good Night"... ... ...

Miss Miller's violin solos were very much enjoyed, and she was forced to respond. The solos of Miss Kidd were also favourites of the programme and were very much appreciated. Miss Howden's readings were also well received. Great praise is due Mrs. Miller, conductor of the Choral Society, who was instrumental in arranging the programme. She easily proved her ability as a conductor and entertainer, and the class speak very highly of her.

Mr. G. F. Clarke, who has lately become a benedict was honoured on Tuesday night by a midnight serenade. Tin horns and pans formed the band and a delightful evening was the outcome.

Miss Clark of Peterborough, is visiting her son here.

Mr. Jonathan Smith left the village this week for Peterborough where he has retired. He will reside on Bolivar street.

Record Of Peterborough HOCKEY CLUB IS LONG And Creditable One

Short History of Hockey in Peterborough—This City Has Always Been Noted for its Fast Hockey Team and Has Nearly Every Season Been Represented by a Good Team--Something About Championships Already Won.

Thursday, March 8.

The Peterborough hockey club has had a long and glorious record in the O.H.A., one that doubtless has not been equalled by any other team in that organization. They have won in all five championships, three junior and two intermediate and have been on two other occasions in the finals for the junior honours. For over sixteen years Peterborough has been noted as a hockey town and every season has seen Peterborough represented by a team which, if it did not win out has at least made a most creditable showing. What is more Peterborough is known as always having a strictly amateur team, made up of home-brews, playing the game for love instead of for money. Never in their long service in the O.H.A. has there been the faintest breath of suspicion against the amateur standing of the club, and no better proof of this can be offered than that Peterborough has never been called upon to defend a protest. Such a record is one of which every citizen of Peterborough should be justly proud and makes their victory this season all the more creditable.

Hockey in Peterborough has had a long and eventful history and the older fans have many tales to tell of the famous struggles that took place in the early nineties. Most of the players that were the stars then have have long since quit the game, although in Ernie Wasson the veteran goal-keeper, this year's championship team contains a player who started in 1890. In the early history of the O. H. A. Peterborough was renowned for its junior team. In those days there was no age limit for the junior series and the so-called juniors of that period would astonish the present-day fans by their size and age. Peterborough won the junior O.H.A. championship in 1893 by defeating Toronto Granites 11—0 and in 1895 they won again from the Granites by 7—6. In 1896 the same teams were in the finals, but the result was different, the Granites winning out by 7—3.

In 1897 Peterborough's senior O. H. A. team came to the front and although no championships were won the seven gained the reputation of being a very fast team. Montgomery, Hollingshead, Roger Davidson, Ironsides Kemp and Walter Phelan were some of the stars of that period. At this time or a little after Chris Graham, W. Crowley and Roddie Glover of the present team broke into the game. The memorable struggle with Queen's University, who were defeated here for the first time in years by the locals by a score of 5-4 is still fresh in the minds of many citizens, who also recall the games with the Toronto Wellingtons, and the notable occasion on which Peterborough, after being defeated here by Varsity, went to Toronto and administered a defeat to the collegians on their own ice.

In 1899 the famous Colts, that were destined to win much renown for Peterborough, first came into prominence. From this team have graduated Harry Morgan and Fred. Whitworth, of this year's champions, and Harold Armstrong, now one of the best known players in Ontario. The Colts were fairly successful in 1899, being defeated in the semi-finals by Upper Canada College. In 1900 they went one step farther and reached the semi-finals, only to be beaten by the Stratford juniors in a series of home and home games by 12-9. The next year Peterborough had their revenge. The Colts travelled through the series with scarcely a defeat and again reached the finals with Stratford. The first game was played here, the locals winning by 12-0. Elmer Smith, of the local forward line, was taken ill on the way to Stratford, and the game was played with Peterborough one man short. They managed to hold the score down to 7-0, and won the round by 12-7.

In 1902 the intermediate team was prominent. It was composed of Harald Armstrong, Roy Armstrong, Whitworth and Morgan, of the Colts, and Wasson, Glover and Graham, of the intermediates. The team were defeated by 5-4 at Lindsay in extra time in the first game, and [illegible] did not lose another game [illegible] son. Port Hope, Lindsay, R.M.C., Newmarket and Galt were defeated in turn. The fight with the latter team in the finals was a bitter one, Peterborough winning at home by 4-3, and tieing Galt at Galt by 3-3.

The success of the team in 1902 so aroused the enthusiasm of the citizens that it was decided to build a new rink, and the present structure on Brock street was erected. The first year in the new rink was a disastrous one to the team, and they went down in the first round, losing to Port Hope and Belleville on their own ice.

In 1903-04 Peterborough had undoubtedly the strongest team that has ever worn the local colours. They, however, failed to win out their districts. They lost at Picton by 6-3 and at Belleville by 2-1, and won their home games by 15-7 and 7-4, respectively. Late in the season Peterborough defeated the Marlboros of Toronto by 20-4 and the St. George's by 15-3.

Last year's team, composed almost entirely of this year's players, reached the semi-finals and lost to Berlin. The record of last year is too fresh to need recalling.

From this brief sketch it will be seen that Peterborough has a record as a hockey town of which any place might be justified in feeling proud.

Mr. S. A. Oke Was Robbed Last Night

Thief Broke Into Store by Removing Pane of Glass in Back Door.

Thursday, March 8.

A robbery was committed last night at Mr. S. A. Oke's fruit store, apparently by a juvenile. An entrance was effected some time after 10 o'clock, when the store was locked up for the night. A pane of glass 12x16 inches was removed from the back window which looks out into the lane, by which a back entrance to the store from Simcoe street is made.

A small sum of money which Mr. Oke left in his office drawer in a tin box, was taken, and probably some small articles such as candy and fruit. Nothing in the store was broken or destroyed. The affair has been reported to the police, who are at present working on the case. There is no clue as to the identity of the thief.

Canada Life's Banner Year

The Policy Holders' Profits Amounted to $1,200,000.

Saturday, March 10.

There is a "monotony of success" in the Canada Life's Annual reports which is far from uninteresting. The published statement appearing in these columns shows 1905 to have been a "banner year." That 1906 is not going to fall behind seems already assured, for more new business has been written during January and February than in the corresponding months of even 1905. The paid-for new business of the past year was $12,215,000, this being more than $1,000,000 over that for 1904. The total business of the company is shown as being now well on to $108,000,000.

Policyholders received from the Company in 1905 no less than $3,272,000, of which about $1,200,000 consisted of dividends upon policies. In this connection a statement of the President in his annual address is not without bearing. The records show that in affording its millions upon millions of insurance protection, the Canada Life has already paid or credited to policyholders $114.50 for every $100 received as premiums. There is evidence here of unusual and continued skill in the handling and investing of the great fund entrusted to the Company's charge.

Estimates For Current Year Were Presented

Separate School Board Held a Regular Meeting Last Night.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held last night there being present, Messrs. Goselin, chairman; Henry, Primeau, Burns, Carveth, Hourigan, Lynch, Murty, Lane and Hickey.

The minutes of the meetings of the 3rd of January and 7th February, were read and confirmed.

Accounts were received from the A. McDonald estate for $35.50; and T. Corkery, repairs, $3.30. The accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

The reports of attendance for February showed that at the Lake Street school, there were 170 on the roll, with an average attendance of 136; at the Central School, there were 246 scholars enrolled, with an average attendance of 227.

Supplies were asked for the Murray street school. The matter was referred to the Property Committee.

T. Mahoney applied for the position of caretaker of the new school.—Received.

On motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Carveth, Miss Coleman was appointed associate examiner on the Board of Entrance Examiners for the current year.

A statement of the estimates for 1906 was presented, and on motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Hickey, the secretary was instructed to make a demand for $6,000 from the City Treasurer.—Carried.

The chairman of the Property Committee was instructed to have ordered a supply of wood and coal which may be required.

The Board then adjourned.

Local Curlers At Bobcaygeon

Thursday, March 8.

Peterborough was represented in Bobcaygeon yesterday by two rinks and although they were defeated 12 points yet they had a very pleasant outing and report the Caygeon curlers as right jolly good fellows. Two games were played in the afternoon and two in the evening.

The ice was very sticky and was not conducive to scientific curling yet the jolly time spent more than compensated for their defeat.

After the evening games the Peterborough boys were tendered an oyster supper at the Rockland House. Speeches replete with witticisms were given by all the members of the two clubs who were present which added greatly to the evening's enjoyment.

The following were the games and results:—

Trent Canal Contractors Lose Case In Court

Messrs. Corry and Laverdure Defeated by Their Solicitors.

On Tuesday morning W. L. Scott, Ottawa, Master in Chancery, gave judgment in the case of Charles Murphy and Harold Fisher vs. Corry & Lavendure, contractors. They sued for a balance of $1,227, alleged to be due for legal services.

The Master gave judgment for the full amount and costs. The case has been in the courts for some time.

When Corry & Lavendure contracted to do large construction work on the Trent Canal for the Dominion Government in May 7, 1896, the first price mentioned was $275,000. On account of many changes, more work to be done, etc., the price reached was $653,893. Murphy and Fisher were solicitors for the contractors in their negotiations with the Government and it is claimed that largely through their efforts the contractors got more for their work than the figure first mentioned.

Their charge was $3,500, and of this $2,273 was paid; the balance, $1,227, was disputed, and Corry and Laverdure claimed the Ottawa lawyers has been paid sufficient.

They differed with them and went to law about the matter. In course of time the point at issue was referred to the Master and he gave judgment in Murphy and Fisher's favour, contending that their charges were not excessive, that the work required special care and great attention and that the claim was a just and fair one.

Mr. Wm. Preston Defends Choice Of His Property

Believes That the Protest of "Douro Ratepayer" is Unwarranted—Says His Farm is Well Adapted to the Uses of a House of Refuge—Says Results Will Show That Farm is a Good One—Quotes Figures to Show Its Value.

SOME INFORMATION OF PUBLIC INTEREST

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—In reference to an anonymous letter that appeared in the Review some days ago over the signature "Douro Ratepayer" I ask respectfully space for the following:—

He says that the soil on my farm is not good, that it is not more than twenty feet above "Lakefield Marshes" at the highest point. It is not necessary for me to contradict that, for it is well known to everybody acquainted with the facts, that such is incorrect. He states that he would like to see the "County Money" invested in a farm that would give good results. I might say for the information of that gentleman that I do not know who he is, but I would like to compare results as to the returns from his farm and mine. My father raised ten children on the same farm and I have been working it since his death and met all of the current expenses besides unforseen expenditures such as that in connection with sickness of long duration, etc., and also have expended $1,700.00 outside of my own time on out-buildings recently, that would cost labour included to-day at least $1,600.00. I have not yet sold any of last year's crop and if "Douro Ratepayer" knows any gentleman or perhaps himself, that requires some money on a loan, I will accommodate him if the proper security is given. I just mention the above over my own name to show to the public the wrong impression thrown out by "Douro Ratepayer". It was generally conceded by the public until after the council had decided to buy not less than 100 acres, that Mr. Braden's farm would be selected and you will remember the letter that appeared with reference to his farm, also one of the best farms in the county.

You will notice that two or three sites in the vicinity of Lakefield have been attacked and I was just thinking that the third site has escaped and that the owner is very lucky in not having his property spoken of as a probable site and escaped being falsely represented.

The last report I read in one of the Peterborough papers of "News Items" from Lakefield read like this:—"The people of the vicinity of Lakefield are highly satisfied with the selection of the Preston property as a location for the House of Refuge. Now would "Douro Ratepayer" tell us what site he would choose.

Assuring "Douro Ratepayer" that I have nothing but the friendliest feelings and sympathy for him, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

WM. PRESTON.

Smallpox Situation In Bowmanville

Friday, March 9th.

A special to The Examiner to-day from Bowmanville states that smallpox, which broke out in that town a few days ago in a mild form, has developed into a more virulent form. Captain W. C. King, one of the best shots in Canada, and a member for years of the Canadian Bisley team, and the man chosen this year as adjutant, is one of the latest victims, and the statement is made that his attack is a serious one. The Bowmanville News, in its last issue, says: Since our last issue two cases of smallpox have developed in town. The Board of Health met on Saturday and decided to close the public schools, as pupils from both the infected houses had been attending each school. The household of each place has been quarantined and every effort is being put forth to prevent the disease spreading. One case has been traced to Newcastle and the other to Oshawa. There seems to be a diversity of opinion as to whether it is the proper thing to shut an entire household up in the same house with a case of smallpox, or to remove the patient to a suitable place and have one doctor and a proper nurse isolated with the patient. There have been several cases outside the town, and already three different doctors have been mixed up in attendance on those and the two town cases. The disease seems to be of a very mild type, and the patients, none of them are sick

Spring Ice Shove On The Otonabee

Descriptive Article on the Subject in To-day's Globe.

Saturday, March 10.

In the Magazine Section of to-day's Globe appears an excellent article on "The Spring Ice Shove on the Otonabee River", written by Bonnycastle Dale.

Mr. Dale is an eminent naturalist with a wide knowledge of the Otonabee district and his descriptions are exceedingly interesting.

There are a number of photos in connection with the above article taken by the author.

Burleigh Falls Power Wanted At Bowmanville

Mr. J. A. Culverwell Promises to Supply Peterboro' and Towns Along the Front With Electric Power From Burleigh Falls—Is After the Lighting Business in These Towns—Construction Work to be Started by Middle of April.

HEALEY FALLS FOR EASTERN TOWNS

The Bowmanville Statesman says: Mr. J. A. Culverwell, managing director of the Central Ontario Power Co., was in Bowmanville a few days ago. He stated that obstruction that had been in the way of the successful operations of the company were now removed and he was satisfied that before the middle of April work of construction would be started at Burleigh Falls. In the meantime he asked the citizens not to sign any new contracts with the local electric light and telephone companies for incandescent lighting and thereby shut out his company from doing business. He did not notice that the local company were giving any better service than before, and did not see that citizens should rely on promises.

Burleigh Falls power would be transmitted to Peterborough, Bowmanville and Oshawa, and as it is plain to everyone what benefit electric power is for the individual progress of the community, he looked for the support of citizens. He stated it was not the intention of the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., of which he is also managing director, to come farther west than Cobourg and Port Hope. Healey Falls would supply the east, and Burleigh Falls would supply Peterborough and the western lake front.

Cobourg, Port Hope, Colborne and Brighton citizens generally, and Pittsburg capitalists (summer residents of Cobourg) were stockholders in the Healey Falls Company. The people in that district were determined to secure electric power to bring factories. The least he expected Bowmanville citizens to do for Burleigh Falls power was to support them by giving them the lighting business. He was not asking bonuses as manufacturers do — but cheap electric power would attract factories, and therefore invited support of citizens.

HERE IS THE LATEST automobile story:—A physician started a model insane asylum and set apart one ward especially for crazy motorists and and chauffeurs. Taking a friend through the building, he pointed out with particular pride the automobile ward and called attention to its elegant furnishings and equipment.

"But," said the friend "the place is empty; I don't see any patients."

"Oh, they are all under the cots fixing the slats," explained the physician.

Nothing Relieved His Kidneys Until He Tried Bu-Ju

MARKHAM, Ont., Dec. 1, 1903

"I had suffered for seven years with kidney trouble. Could scarcely walk and was unable to attend to my farm. Saw "Bu-Ju" advertised, and after taking the first few pills, felt much relieved. After taking half a box, was able to do a full day's work. I know one box of "Bu-Ju" saved me $40.00 doctor bills.

If You Suffer

From Germ Troubles, Please Learn What Liquozone Can Do.

Thousands who were sick—like you, perhaps—are well to-day because of Liquosone. Many had doctored long. Many were discouraged because other treatments had failed. But they were treating germ diseases with remedies which do not kill germs.

We offered to buy them a bottle of Liquosone—just as we offer you. They did with it what other remedies failed to accomplish. And those countless cured ones — scattered everywhere — are now telling others what Liquozone has done.

Kills Disease Germs.

Contact with Liquozone kills any form of disease germ, because germs are of vegetable origin. Yet to the body Liquozone is not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poisons when taken internally. That is why medicine has been so helpless in a germ disease. Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalising, purifying; yet no disease germ can exist in it.

The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gases. They are generated from the best producers of oxygen, sulphur dioxide and other germicidal gases. The process of making requires large apparatus, and from 8 to 14 days' time. The object is to so fix the gases, and to combine them, as to carry into the system a powerful tonic-germicide.

We purchased the American rights to Liquozone after thousands of tests had been made with it. Its power had been proved, again and again, in the most difficult germ diseases. Then we offered to supply the first bottle free in every disease that required it. And over one million dollars have been spent to announce and fulfill this offer.

The result is that 11,000,000 bottles have been used, mostly in the past two years. To-day there are countless cured ones, scattered everywhere, to tell what Liquozone has done.

But so many others need it that this offer is published still. In the last few years, science has traced scores of diseases to germ attacks. Old remedies do not apply to them. We wish to show those sick ones—at our cost—what Liquozone can do.

Where It Applies.

These are the diseases in which Liquozone has been most employed. In these it has earned its widest reputation. In all of these troubles we supply the first bottle free. And in all—no matter how difficult—we offer each user a two months' further test without the risk of a penny.

Canada Life
Assurance Company

Address at the Annual Meeting by Hon. Geo. A. Cox

At the Annual Meeting of the Above Company, Held on Feb. 28th, the President Spoke as Follows:

In business and financial circles there seems very general approval of the Government's Insurance Commission. Unbiased opinion favours its personnel as well as its scope and the hope is expressed on all sides that within a very short time definite results will be attained. If there are abuses to be corrected the coming session of Parliament will doubtless make the necessary changes in existing laws. The local insurance men—both fire and life—seem especially relieved that matters connected with their business are to be definitely looked into. They do not appear to dread the ordeal for their companies. The more strict and searching the investigation, the better, apparently, they will be pleased. Not only the agents of the various companies, but the heads as well seem unanimous in approving of Government investigation. Statements have appeared from the managements of several companies referring specifically to the matter. Perhaps no other utterance of the kind has attracted more attention than the frank statement of Senator Cox, President of the Canada Life, at that Company's recent annual meeting.

Asked for Investigation.

In referring to the desire of that company for an official examination, he said:

On the 25th of May last we invited the Commissioner of the State of Ohio to join with the Commissioner for Michigan in making the usual periodical examination of the Company. We also intimated to the officers of the Canadian Insurance Department at Ottawa that we should be glad to have them join in this investigation, but the Canadian Superintendent, having only a few months before made his usual examination, did not then think it necessary to make a further one. The Commissioner for Ohio also had such confidence in the ability and integrity of the Commissioner for Michigan that he considered it unnecessary to join in the examination, which was duly made by the officials of the latter department.

Again, in the month of September of last year, when the public mind was a good deal agitated over the investigation in New York, we renewed the request of the Canadian Superintendent of Insurance that we should be glad if he would make such further examination of all our affairs as he might deem necessary. We were, however, officially informed that the accounts for the year 1901 had all been verified and the securities examined, and that any further examination would be made at the Superintendent's regular approaching examination. This latter is referred to in the Directors' report.

In the month of November last, during the session of the Armstrong Commission in New York, we offered to send our officers with official documents to New York to give evidence before that Committee appointed by the State of New York, where we also transact business. Not only did we offer to give evidence in New York, but we invited the Armstrong Commission to send their experts to our Head Office and make an examination of our affairs here.

You will thus see that we have made two requests to the Canadian Superintendent of Insurance for a special examination, one request to the Commissioner for Ohio, one to the Commissioner for Michigan, and two offers to the Armstrong Committee of the New York Legislature. The directors and officers of this Company submit that the foregoing statement of facts will satisfy any fair-minded person that the Company has shown a disposition to submit its affairs for examination to any recognized existing authority.

Capital and Charter.

In referring to the relations existing between the shareholders and policy-holders, Senator Cox gave the following explanation:

The company was, as you know, organized in August, 1847, and was incorporated by an act of the Legislature of the late Province of Canada, in April, 1849, with an authorized capital of £50,000. By section xxiii. of the Charter, authority was given the shareholders to increase the capital to a sum not exceeding £250,000. This authority was exercised in 1855-6 and payments were made on account of subscribed capital in various years following until 1864, the amount paid up was $795,000.00, at which it remained until 1899, when it was decided, after careful consideration by the shareholders, to require payment in full for the shares. Every dollar of this amount, $875,000.00, was paid in cash to the company by the shareholders, and this, as you know, was completed in 1904, the company now having a paid up capital of $1,000,000.00, of which 94 per cent. was paid in, actual cash, and the balance of 6 per cent. by bonus out of profits during the early years of the company—1849 to 1865—when little or no cash dividends were paid to shareholders. From this you will see that the oft-repeated story of only $4,000 having been paid by the shareholders on account of the $125,000 of capital, is entirely without foundation.

In the early history of the Company the Act of Incorporation provided that profits arising from the business should be divided in the proportion of 25 per cent. to the shareholders and 75 per cent. to the policy holders. It remained in that way until the year 1879, when the shareholders made application for legislation providing that only 10 per cent. of the profits should be allotted to the shareholders, and not less than 90 per cent. to the policyholders. In order to get this change made, each individual shareholder had to give his consent before Parliament would interfere with his vested rights. The shareholders thus, of their own accord, voluntarily surrendered to the policyholders three-fifths of the profits to which they were entitled. The 10 per cent. to which they are still entitled is not increased, decreased, or in any way affected, by the amount of paid-up capital, whether it be $125,000.00 as it was, or $1,000,000.00, as it now is; in either case, under agreement ratified by Act of Parliament in 1879, the shareholders are entitled to one-tenth of the profits. When the amount paid-up was $125,000.00 the shareholders received for many years a dividend and bonus at the rate of 30 per cent per annum. They were liable to be called upon at any time for $875,000.00, or 87 1-2 per cent. of the amount of their subscribed capital.

I will ask you to bear in mind that the $1,000,000.00 paid in by the shareholders earns at the average rate of the company's invested funds $40,200.00, leaving only $30,800.00 per year from the profits of the company to make up the 8 per cent. which they receive as dividends; it took practically the same amount to pay 30 per cent. on the $125,000.00 prior to 1900. That this stock dividend is no hardship upon the policyholders is evidenced from the fact that when spread over the $107,000,000.00 of business in force, this dividend, (over and above the interest earned,) costs the policyholders only about 30 cents per $1,000 of insurance per year, and for this they have not only the guarantee of $1,000,000.00 additional security, but a continuity of management and an assurance that it is in the shareholders' interest to make as large profits for policyholders as possible.

Investments.

A printed list is laid upon the table showing in detail every dollar of our Assets, aggregating over $30,000,000. Mr. Alex. Bruce, K. C, Chairman of the Investment Committee, and Mr. H. L. Watt, the Treasurer of the company, will give to any policyholder who may desire it—at the close of this meeting—the fullest information as to where, when, at what price, and from whom these various securities were purchased. Every transaction in the Investment Department is carried out upon the recommendation of the Treasurer to the Investment Committee, composed of Messrs. A. Bruce, K.C., B. E. Walker, J. W. Flavelle, Hon. W. Gibson, Dr. John Hoskin, K.C., Mr. E. R. Wood, the General Manager and the President, and each transaction is then reported to the full Board, which meets every two weeks. The securities of the company are worth a good deal more than their face value, and a good many thousands of dollars more than the price at which they stand in the books.

Strengthening of Our Reserves.

The strengthening of the Canada Life's policy reserves has received a good deal of discussion. Senator Cox explained the situation as follows:

The Act of 1899 required all companies to compute their reserves at 3 1-2 per cent. upon all business issued on and after the first of January, 1900, and to change all business then on their books to 4 per cent. before the end of 1910, and to 3 1-2 per cent. before the end of 1915. The shareholders, directors and officers of the company, after prolonged and careful consideration, and after consultation with our own actuary as well as the most eminent British and American actuaries, with a number of the most prominent financiers in Canada, and a number of our policyholders, came to the conclusion that it was in the best interests of the company to proceed with as little delay as possible to comply with the law, rather than take the full time that had been allowed by the Government at the request of some companies who thought that they would find it impossible to make the change at an earlier date. We believed then, and we as firmly believe now, that the course decided upon was the correct one in the interests of the policyholders as a whole. The sum of over $2,500,000.00, which had been added to our Reserves somewhat sooner than required by law, has not been lost or diverted from the policyholders any more than has the $10,000,000.00 of Reserve Fund held by the Bank of Montreal been diverted from its shareholders; indeed, there is added security to the policyholders, in that the portion of this sum represented by his policy is credited direct to his policy account. The amount has been carefully invested, providing additional security for policyholders and earning additional interest, which will increase their future profits.

As many persons do not understand the nature and function of a Reserve in life insurance, I may say that it is entirely different from the term Reserve in a Bank or ordinary joint stock company. In a life company the Reserve grows out of the idea of a level premium, for while the level premium is greater than is required to cover the mortality risk in the earlier years of the policy, it is less than would be required for the later years. This overpayment, with interest thereon constitutes the Reserve, and is a distinct liability, and absolutely necessary to enable the company to carry out its contracts. Without this accumulated Reserve, a level premium company would soon become insolvent. From another point of view the reserve is the sum which one company would have to hand over to another company to assume its contracts. Hence it is often called the Re-insurance Fund.

We have the most conclusive evidence that a very large majority of our policyholders are entirely in accord with the strong and safe policy that has been carried out, even though it did temporarily reduce the amount of surplus available for distribution as profits. The steady increase in our new business, a good percentage of which is additional insurance upon our present policyholders and new insurance upon the members of their families, testifies to the fact that we have a contented and satisfied body of policyholders, and well they may be satisfied. I have no hesitation in making the statement that no other company doing business in this country, Canadian, British or American, stock or mutual has given better security or better results to its policyholders — spread over a long term of years — than has the the Canada Life, and in these years I include our last two quinquennial distributions that have fallen somewhat below the previous distributions because of the strengthening of our Reserves.

The Minimum System.

These low-premium contracts, which it is stated were withdrawn in 1896, have come in for a good deal of discussion by holders who do not bear in mind the terms under which they were issued. Senator Cox explained that they are the equivalent of other contracts issued by the Canada Life at the same time, their distinguishing feature being a very low premium owing to the immediate application towards premium reduction of future profits. The policies specified that if the actual rate of profit earned was less than that assumed in advance the difference would be charged up against the policy. This, it was explained, was merely a measure of justice between minimum and full-profit policies.

How low the minimum premiums were is shown by the comparison with other plans made by Senator Cox:

WHOLE LIFE RATES.

Age	Full Profit 1876	Non-Profit 1876	Minimum Profit 1876	Present Profit Rates 1905
21	$30 00	$25 00	$19 80	$19 00
25	19 00	17 30	14 70	21 00
30	22 30	20 10	17 50	24 25
40	30 60	27 60	26 70	33 00
50	42 00	39 00	35 70	47 00

To further illustrate the working of this Minimum System let me give you the following example: On a $10,000.00 policy, issued in 1876, at age 35, where the premium was $204.00:

At the division of profits in 1880 the amount added to the policy was	$325 00
At the division in 1885 the amount added to the policy was	647 50
At the division in 1890 the amount added to the policy was	675 00
At the division in 1895 the amount added to the policy was	275 00
At the division in 1900 the amount deducted from the policy was	250 00
At the division in 1905 the amount deducted from the policy was	125 00

Showing that the policy now stands at $11,997.50

The Expense Ratio.

The expense ratios of all life companies have of late been criticised, and that of the Canada Life was very fully discussed by its president. He adds:

We have, in common with all other companies, been criticized because of our increased Expense Ratio, but the very keen competition has made it more expensive to obtain business; and, even with the largely increased commission which all companies are obliged to pay, the field men are not in many cases sufficiently well paid, because of the prevailing abuse that has in recent years crept into the business, whereby many agents are forced, through stress of competition and the importunities of assurers, to vie with each other to see who can give the largest rebate. The result is that the assurers received by way of rebate a very large proportion of the commissions on new premiums supposed to have been paid to the agents in Canada in 1905, and on account of which the companies are blamed for increased Expense Ratios. It is to be hoped, in the interest of the agents, the companies and the assured, that through some better understanding between the companies, through legislation or in some other way, this evil may be effectually eradicated from the business.

In respect to our own Expense Ratio, it is to a large extent the outcome of a well-considered policy that the directors deliberately entered upon when it was decided to extend our business to the United Kingdom and to further extend it in the United States.

It will be seen by reference to the records that our new paid-for business for the year 1905 was $30,371,943.00, whereas for 1903 it was $13,014,146.43. The total amount of business in force as at the 31st December, 1905, was $107,681,883.00; of this amount $42,464,931.00 has been placed on the books since January 1st, 1900, or say 40 per cent. of the total amount for the last six years, as against 60 per cent. for the previous fifty-three years of the company's history. This has been accomplished by the extension of our business to the United Kingdom, by opening additional Branches in the United States and by improved organization at home.

The opening up of new territory, the planting of new agencies and the rapid increase of new business are invariably and unavoidably accompanied by an increased Expense Ratio. While cordially and unanimously supported by my co-directors in the adoption of this policy, I, personally, take the full responsibility of having advised it, and I have no doubt whatever in my own mind that it will ultimately be of very great benefit to the Company and to the country. If it had been done fifteen years earlier we should by this time have had $100,000,000 of money invested in Canada to assist in the development of the country, instead of only $30,000,000, as we have at present; in other words, we are trying to bring back to Canada a portion of the many millions that foreign insurance companies have been taking out of this country for the past fifty years.

Perhaps the supreme test of a life company is not its Expense Ratio, which may properly vary with changing conditions, but what the company has done for its policyholders. In this regard the Canada Life can challenge a comparison with the best companies of the world. Here is its record as read by Senator Cox:

Returns to Policy Holders.

Shortly after the close of the year 1904 we proceeded to calculate and allot the profits due as at that date and other amounts due in April, 1905. From the Directors' Report you will see that we have, during the past year, paid out in profits to policyholders or applied to purchase bonus additions to policyholders nearly $1,200,000.00. When I say that after completing, during the last quinquennial period, the transfer to the new reserve basis, we were able besides to allot to policyholders during the last year $1,200,000.00, I do not think that this Company or its Directors or agents have any reason to be ashamed of the records, especially when that record was accomplished at a time when we were rapidly extending our agencies to new territories at a considerable initial outlay.

I would like to place before you briefly a statement of the profit account between the Company and its policyholders since its commencement up to the end of 1905. It is often difficult for one not intimately acquainted with our total record to realize just how well the Directors of this company in the past 59 years have managed the great trust committed to their care.

From its organization to the end of 1905 the Company has received in premiums from policyholders	$52,630,923
Paid Policyholders and Beneficiaries	$30,911,307
Credited to Policyholders	29,329,367
Total paid or credited	$60,240,674
Ratio of amounts paid or credited to policyholders to premiums received from policyholders	114.5

In other words, during the past 59 years the Company has paid or credited to policyholders on the average, the sum of $114.50 for each $100.00 received in premiums from policyholders.

Further, of the amount received from premiums, while the larger part is for "with profit" policies, yet a considerable portion is also in connection with non-participating and annuity policies, and it may interest you to know that we have paid or allotted in profits to policyholders over $11,000,000.00, or over 20 per cent. of all premiums (both with and without profits) received from policyholders, and that, too, exclusive of the large amounts transferred at different periods from the surplus to strengthen the policyholders' Reserve, owing to the fall in the rate of interests from time to time. If we exclude the non-participating premiums and considerations received for annuities, the ratio of profit allotted to premiums received is approximately 25 per cent.

If a uniform bonus of 2 per cent. per annum or $20.00 per thousand had been allotted to the policyholders for every year since the Company came into existence, that would have been an exceptionally good record and we should have been able to strengthen our Reserves and a 3 1-2 per cent. basis without making any reduction whatever in the profits, but for many years the bonus additions to the policies were $25.00 and $26.25 per thousand per annum. This rate of bonus, which was quite too liberal for the years between 1885 and 1890, could not be maintained when the average rate of interest earned by the company on its investments fell at least 2 per cent. per annum. It was easier to obtain 6 1-2 per cent. per annum during that time than it is now, on equally good security, to earn 4 1-2 per cent. If you compute the difference of 2 per cent. per annum on our present assets of $30,000,000.00, you will see the loss in interest amounts to $600,000.00 per annum, or $3,000,000.00 for each quinquennial period of distribution. To overcome that difference in our interest earnings, to comply with the Government requirements in the strengthening of our Reserves, and to pursue, as we have done, a progressive policy in the extension of our business to the United Kingdom, will satisfy any fair-minded man that the attacks which have been made upon the Company and used by our competitors in distant fields, are unpatriotic, disloyal and false.

Policy Holders' Directors.

Two of the Policyholders' Directors, Mr. J. W. Flavelle and Hon. Wm. Gibson, spoke at some length upon the points touched upon in the Canada Life's annual report, and the president's address. Mr. Flavelle expressed himself as personally greatly pleased that the Government had issued a Commission, and as hoping the examination would be thorough, fearless and searching. He admitted frankly that it was hardly possible that the findings would endorse the judgment of the Directors, of any or all life insurance companies, Canadian, British or American, in all their methods of doing business or securing investments. He hoped, however, that it would establish the good faith and honour of the men who sat on the respective boards. For himself and his fellow directors he felt he could say without reservation that any possible errors were due to limitations of their human judgment and were of the same inadvertant character as the errors all men make at some time or other in their business affairs. Of one thing he was sure, and as policyholders' director wished to emphasize, that at no time had any director or board of directors attempted to secure advantages for Canada Life shareholders as against policyholders.

Hon. Mr. Gibson said in the course of his remarks:

Every gentleman upon this board, whether he be policyholders' director, or shareholders' director, does what he can to uphold the best interests of the company. I want to say here in the presence of these gentlemen who have done so much for the policyholders of this company, that the question of the shareholders is never considered at this table — only the best interests of the Canada Life and its policyholders. Never for the ten years that I have had a seat on this Board have the claims of the shareholders been discussed against the interests of the policyholders. I do not know that I could make it stronger, but I join word for word, if I could make it more emphatic, with the statement made by Mr. Flavelle that neither one case nor another during the whole ten years that I have been on this board has had one dollar placed to his advantage directly or indirectly by any recommendation made by this board. All the investments of the company are most carefully and honestly considered, and if found wanting are cast aside, and if one man on the Board says that any particular investment should not go through, that particular investment won't go through, and that settles it.

Abounding Prosperity
OF THE NORTHWEST IS
Mr. R. R. Hall's Theme

Member for West Peterborough Has Just Returned From Trip to Pacific Coast—Lumbering Industry, Along With Every Other Branch of Business, is Prospering—Export Trade Grows—The Fruit Business in British Columbia Becoming an Important Branch—Great Growth of the West—Mining Industry in Good Condition.

Saturday, March 10.

Mr R. R. Hall, M.P., returned yesterday after a six weeks' absence, during which time he has been in British Columbia on a trip of inspection of the operations of the Big Bend Lumber Co, Limited, Arrowhead, B.C., and the Pacific Coast Lumber Co, Limited, Vancouver, B. C, in both of which companies he is interested as a shareholder and director. Mr. Hall has made a number of trips to the coast, and on each succeeding trip great improvement in condition of the western country is noticed, but this time the rate of progress evidenced is greater than that of any previous occasion. All along the line from Winnipeg to the coast great improvements are noticed. Towns and cities are growing rapidly, and tracts of country which a few years ago were uninhabited are being settled.

The cities of Winnipeg and Vancouver are growing faster than any other two places in Canada. On every hand prosperity is being given evidence of every line of industry is flourishing, that in which Mr Hall is interested, lumbering, particularly so.

he Lumber Industry

Speaking with reference to the Big Bend Lumber Company, Mr Hall said that the plant had recently been enlarged by the installation of a double cutting band saw, which will increase the capacity of the mills to 100,000 feet a day, and the dry kiln and planing mill capacity is sufficient to handle the entire output.

Speaking generally, he said that the lumber business in British Columbia was prosperous. There was a good export demand and the prices are advancing. The demand from China, Japan, Manchuria and South Africa is taking the output of the coast mills, and the mills of the interior are busy supplying the trade of the Northwest Provinces, where building operations are very active, the many new settlers requiring great quantities of lumber, while the growth of the towns and cities also contributes to the demand.

In reference to the mining industry in the Pacific Province, Mr Hall was most optimistic. The wildcat speculative element has been eliminated, and the mining business is now being conducted along hard-headed business methods, with a very material benefit to the industry as a whole. The immense deposits of rich gold, silver, copper and lead areas are attracting capital, and the mines are being profitably operated. An evidence of the substantial condition of the industry is furnished by the fact that the Granby smelter in one of the largest and most successful smelters in the world.

The Fruit Industry.

Another branch of industry and one which is rapidly developing into an important one, is that of fruit culture. The value of fruit grown in British Columbia last year was upwards of $1,000,000. The belief that Ontario is the only place in Canada where fruit can be grown successfully, can be easily disproved by a visit to the Rocky Mountain fruit valleys. Fruit grown there took first prize in England last year, and is equal in colour, size and flavour to that grown anywhere. The average price of land suitable for fruit farming is $100 to $200 an acre, and the farms run from 10 to 20 acres each, the profit from a 10-acre farm averaging $2000 to $3000 a year.

Labour Conditions.

The scarcity of labour works to the disadvantage of the industries of British Columbia, but this is a condition which will remedy itself in time. In the woods the wages run from $60 to $80 a month with board, while mechanics get much higher wages. Bricklayers get from $5 to $7.50 a day, and carpenters from $3 to $7.

The remarkable railway development which has taken place in the West in recent years is marvellous. At the present time the G.T.P. has under contract one thousand miles from Winnipeg to Edmonton, and the C.P.R. and C.N.R. have also under contract sufficient to reach from Chicago to the waters of the Atlantic.

On the whole the prospects for the West are of the brightest, and Mr. Hall is very enthusiastic over the prosperity which is being experienced there.

He leaves on Monday night to attend the sessions of the Dominion Parliament.

The University Report Ready For Presentation

Recommendations of Commission Embodied in a Bill.

NEW BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Will Exercise Powers Now Exercised by Crown Except Where Expressly Reserved—Senate the Same as Now—Caput Will Enforce Discipline—President's Position as Chief Executive Officer Is Improved.

Toronto, March 12.—Since the year 1827, when the first university charter was granted by the crown, the cause of higher education has advanced along lines well adapted to result in the final establishment of Toronto as the educational centre of Ontario. To accomplish that desirable end there needed to be eliminated all points of sectarian difference and a free and elastic constitution fitted to further the federation and affiliation of other universities and colleges originating to meet special requirements, yet at one in their desire to promote the highest type of general culture. The act of 1901, which in a measure recast and embodied the best features of previous statutes, proved to be in some respects deficient, and the time at last arrived for the preparation of a statute of a act, condifying the whole legislation relating to university education with such improvements and extensions as experience has found to be necessary and advisable.

In September last the Provincial Government appointed a commission for the purpose of reporting upon the present administration of the university and the nature of the act, which should now be passed. The commission is composed of Chancellor Meredith, chairman; Professor Goldwin Smith, Rev. Canon Cody, J. W. Flavelle, Byron E. Walker and the Rev. D. Bruce-Macdonald—A. H. U. Colquhoun being secretary. Although it has not yet formally reported, its recommendations have evidently been made known to the Government, and a bill has been prepared which will in all probability pass the Legislative Assembly during its present session.

New Board of Governors.

A leading feature is the constitution of a new board of governors, which will be accorded the whole powers over the university and University College, which are or may be now exercised by the crown—except so far as expressly reserved. The special powers conferred are of the widest description, but a check is afforded by the provision that the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may remove any of the elected members. The board will consist of the chancellor and president of the university, who are the only ex-officio members, and of thirteen other members appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

The Senate.

The composition of the senate has been altered to some extent, and its powers and duties revised and extended, but it remains substantially as it now exists. A similar remark applies to convocation, but a new departure is made by the constitution of a "Council of the Faculty of Arts," with power to fix and determine the courses of study in arts subject to the approval of the senate. Like councils are also to be created for each faculty of the university and a council for University College. The object of these provisions is no doubt to secure equality in the courses and the maintenance of a proper standard of instuction.

Enforcing Discipline.

Enforcement of discipline is placed in the hands of the Caput, a committee composed of the president of the university, the principal of University College, the heads of the federated universities and colleges, and the deans of the faculties of the university. The Caput will, in addition, fix the time-tables for lectures and other instruction, and deal with all matters assigned to it by the governing board or the senate.

The position of the president as chief executive officer is improved and strengthened, and he is given power to suspend any member of the teaching staff of the university and of University College—reporting his action to the board, with his reasons. He will also recommend all appointments, promotions and dismissals. Similar powers are given the principal of University College who will, however, report his reason for action to the president.

Revenue.

It is understood that the Government have in contemplation, the setting apart of certain areas of crown land as part of the endowment of the university, and as a further provision to pay to the board a percentage of the receipts coming from the provincial succession duties.

cession duties. Another interesting item is that the board may facilitate the removal of Trinity College to Queen's Park. The bill also unites the School of Practical Science to the university, and constitutes it the faculty of applied science and engineering. A new college affiliated with the university is the Western Canada College of Calgary.

The bill, which will extend to 150 clauses or so, makes many minor amendments on the present governing acts, and it is safe upon the provincial statute book.

LORD MASHAM TELLS HIS LIFE STORY

Great Inventor of the Last Century Relates Early Struggles.

Lord Masham, one of the greatest inventors of the last century, has published a handsomely bound and interesting volume telling the story of his struggles and his triumphs in Yorkshire, and in Manningham particularly, where the very name of Masham is revered, for his colossal schemes have meant food for thousands.

Wool combing and silk combing were the special studies of Lord Masham, who, with his brother, commenced business in 1838 as worsted spinners and manufacturers under the name of J. and S. C. Lister.

The inventive genius of the man speedily asserted itself, and in 1844 he took out his first patent for the fringing of shawls. Many disappointments attended his early efforts to improve wool combing. He took out patents for washing and preparing long and short wool, and in 1853 finished his research in this direction by patenting a process for the treating of soapsuds.

"For many years," he says, "I used to boast that I kept my house out of my drain, as it made me several thousands a year. In ten years, from 1843 to 1853, I had left nothing much for any one else to do except to improve upon what I had done."

The silk comb was the result of purchasing the silk waste. "It looked to me to be nothing but rubbish" at a halfpenny per pound. Experiments with it meant a great expenditure, and Lord Masham tells an interesting story of the burden which he had taken upon himself. He wanted assistance and the governor of the Bank of England sent for him, and with great kindness and consideration asked him questions with a view to affording him help. Finally came the question as to whether he thought he could pay his way. Lord Masham says his pride rose in a moment, and, with color in his face, he said he thought he could. "We are delighted to hear it," said the governor. "Good morning," and the visitor was bowed out.

When in the street he saw his folly. "It would have saved me a world of trouble and immense loss if I had only pocketed my pride," he writes, "and asked for assistance." Disaster followed, and the year 1857 ended in a loss of £150,000 ($750,000).

In 1864, at the age of fifty, he had to begin life's battle over again, and then fortune smiled again. "The special comb proved a god send."

There was immense value in the level, regular silver that the comb produced, and "one memorable year we had orders for all the yarn we could make at twenty-three shilling ($5 75) a pound, and we were only paying for the rubbish from sixpence to a shilling."

The celebrated Manningham plush loom was the result of the joint labors of Lord Masham and Mr. Reizach, and mainly through its use the profits of the business for several years were £200,000 ($1,000,000) a year.

Why Men Wear Mustaches.

The Gaulois of Paris has been investigating that grave question, "Why do men wear mustaches?" About 100 men answered the question. Six replied that it was too much trouble to shave, one declared that it was to hide his teeth, another that his long nose, without it, gave him a bad appearance, and three that it avoided colds. Three others maintained that it improved the air they breathed, and seven were of the opinion that a mustache was necessary to health. Seventeen men were content to state that they did it to please themselves, while only two said it was to please their wives. About sixty gave the reason that women do not like clean shaven men.

HAMILTON'S INQUIRY.

Secretary Davies Describes Methods of the Plumbers' Combine.

Hamilton, Ont., March 9.—The trial of W. J. Walsh, of the alleged plumbers' combine, was continued yesterday morning. Mr. Thos. Davies, secretary, was on the stand for three hours. He told of the way the members tendered for the work. All who tendered were to supply him with the figures. Averages were struck, and the nearest to it was instructed to tender at the average.

If the lowest tenders did not receive the job the unsuccessful tenderer had to pay him the difference in tenders, besides 5 per cent. of the contract price to the Association.

Divided $27,000.

The sum of $27,000 was divided among the 19 members last April. There was $500 on hand when the Association disbanded after the prosecution in Toronto. The books were burned by him on the orders of the executive committee. President Clark protested against the action.

Coal Strike In Alberta.

Lethbridge, Alberta, March 9.—Miners employed in the Galt coal mines here, at a meeting yesterday, decided to strike at once, as the company had not conceded their demands, which include a minimum wage of $3 a day, eight hours a day under ground, and recognition of the union. There are about 500 men affected.

Headed For Canada.

Winnipeg, March 9.—Fifty carloads of settlers were loaded in Illinois alone yesterday for shipment to Canada, said C. Wesley Speers, superintendent of immigration, last night.

Bought 100,000 Acres.

Montreal, March 10.—One hundred thousand acres of land in Saskatchewan has been bought by the Scottish Co-operative Wholesale Society, which will bring out its own farmers, artisans and laborers generally to people the tract.

Seals Plentiful.

Halifax, N.S., March 10.—A despatch from Meat Cove, C. B., says good harp seals were taken at Magdalen Islands Thursday and a large catch for the season is predicted.

Is the worst kind of poverty. However rich a woman may be, if her health is "poor" she is poor indeed. She has no appetite for food and the choicest dishes cannot tempt her. She turns and tosses through a restless night on a couch which might woo an empress to slumber. She has no strength for household cares, no delight in social pleasure. She sits "perked up in a glistering grief wearing a golden sorrow." She is a wife and mother. But she has no happiness in either relation. She knows her husband's life is set in tune and time to the minor music of her own misery. If her child laughs or cries her nerves quiver with pain.

Ask such a woman if she would like to be well; to be her husband's comrade, her child's playmate. Could there be but one answer?

Such a woman can get well if she will. All her symptoms indicate a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organism. Cure that condition and the woman will be lifted up to the full enjoyment of health.

In ninety-eight cases out of every hundred Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure womanly diseases, will restore the womanly health. It has cured tens of thousands of women many of whom had been given up by physicians and friends. It is essentially a medicine for woman's ills. It dries enfeebling drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration. It cures female weakness and bearing down pains. It tranquilizes the nerves, restores the appetite and gives refreshing sleep.

"Favorite Prescription" differs from almost all other medicines put up for woman's use in that it contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is in the truest sense of the term a temperance medicine.

A Constant Sufferer.

"I had been a constant sufferer from uterine disease for five years," writes J. A. Steorts, of Yankee Dam, Clay Co., West Virginia, "and for six months previous to taking your medicine I was not out of my room. Could not walk or stand, as there was such pain and drawing in left side and bearing down weight in region of uterus, accompanied with soreness. I suffered constantly with headache, pain in back, shoulders, arms and chest; had palpitation, nervous prostration, constipation, dizziness, ringing in ears; could not sleep, and breathing was so difficult at times I could not lie down. Words fail to describe my sufferings when I wrote to you for advice. In a short time I received a kind letter from you telling me I would be greatly benefited, if not entirely cured, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I had taken one bottle of the 'Prescription,' together with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and the local treatment which you advised, I could walk (with the support of a cane), the drawing and pain in side and bearing down weight were not so bad, and when I had taken three bottles of the medicine the periods were regulated, I was not so nervous, could sleep well, and the pain in side and bearing down had vanished. I have taken six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of 'Pellets,' and my health is better at this time than it has been in five years.

"With grateful thanks for your kind advice, and with best wishes."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a most effective laxative for women. They cure biliousness and sick headache.

An Appalling Mine Horror In French Colliery

Over One Thousand Die in Mine Disaster in France.

700 RESCUED OUT OF 1,800

Flames So Fierce After the Explosion That Bodies Are Incinerated — Leon Cerf a Rescued Miner, Gives Graphic Description of Awful Experience — Agonizing Scenes Among the Families of Dead.

Paris, March 12.—The worst fears as to the enormity of the mine disaster in the Courrieres district of the Pas-de-Calais Saturday morning have been realized. The death list numbers 1,100, and the whole of the region stands appalled at the terrible tragedy which has brought sorrow to 6,000 mothers, wives and children.

The last great mine disaster in France occurred in 1885, when 293 persons were killed and 80 injured, but that and all others sink into insignificance before Courrieres. The vast mortuary camp is under military guard, 400 soldiers having arrived there to assist in holding in check the crowds of distracted mourners. For a time hope had been held out to the people that tappings on pipes by the imprisoned men had been heard, but gradually this hope vanished, and the people demanded admission to see the bodies, and even threatened to break through the cordon of troops, who had the greatest difficulty in keeping the crowds from the pit.

One man named Sylvestre succeeded in entering the mine, but he never returned. It is believed he grouped about inside until he was overcome by the gasses and perished. It is reported that a rescue party numbering 40 had been cut off by the caving in of one of the galleries.

Relief Measure.

Minister of Public Works Gauthier, Minister of the Interior Dubief, and the secretary of President Fallieres remain on the ground endeavoring to comfort the distressed families of the miners.

President Fallieres has given $2,000 to aid in relief measures. The Ministry will add a further sum to this, and the Chamber of Deputies will be asked to vote $100,000 for the purpose of alleviating distress.

Ministers Gauthier and Dubief have received complete details of the catastrophe from M. Lavaurs, the director of the mine.

"Of 1,800 miners who were down in the pits when the explosion occurred," he said, "673 were working in pit No. 4; 483 were in pit No. 3; 571 in pit No. 2, and the remainder in pit No. 10. Those taken out were as follows: From pit No. 4, 190; from pit No. 3, 15 escaped through pit No. 11; 490 came up from pit No. 2, and 74 from pit No. 10. A number of these were injured and some of them have since died. At the present moment over 1,000 men remain imprisoned."

Another director declared that the imprisoned men numbered 1,100.

All Dead.

Minister Dubief enquired: "Have you still any hope?"

To this the director replied: "No, I believe all of them are dead."

This was whispered into the ear of the Minister, in order that his words might not be overheard by the pale-faced miners who stood anxiously about the mine building waiting for an official view on the state of affairs.

Then the Ministers listened to a graphic description of the scene in the mine by Leon Cerf, one of the men rescued and who is still suffering from the terrible effects of his experience.

"I was working with a gang when the explosion occurred. The foreman immediately shouted for us to follow him, and dashing into a recess in the gallery we were followed by a blast of poisonous gasses which rushed by, however, without effecting us. We remained there for eight hours when, feeling that suffocation was gradually coming upon us, we attempted to escape. We crawled in single file toward the shaft, but several of the men dropped dead on the way, including my son and the foreman. I carried my nephew on my back for 40 minutes and succeeded in saving him. It took us eight hours to reach the shaft."

For the time being the mine building has been transformed into mortuary chamber, and all about in it, lie the carbonized and almost unrecognizable bodies of miners which were taken there as brought up from the mines.

Heartrending Scenes.

Heartrending scenes are witnessed. The women with children in their arms attempt to break through the cordon of troops which form a lane through which the body-bearers proceed to the mortuary chamber.

Some times the burden consists of a mere heap of burnt flesh, and in nearly every case the body is terribly lacerated. Only one-half of the bodies recovered have been identified.

Despite the danger incurred, the volunteers, who include a number of those who were successful in escaping at the time of the explosion, do not hesitate to descend the shaft. Some of them have been down more than a dozen times.

One of them, after having brought up 14 bodies, was suffocated on his 15th attempt, and it is feared that other fatalities among the volunteers will follow, as the air in the mines is still impregnated with noxious gasses.

Replying to an inquiry as to whether hope remained for the finding of more men alive in the mine, an engineer who had been down the shaft, said: "It is scarcely possible. The state of the galleries is such that clearing them will be a difficult task, while the flames were so fierce that many of the victims must be reduced to ashes."

One Life Was Lost.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 12.—The tugboat Thomas Lysle was suddenly sunk Saturday evening by striking a rock in the Monongahela River. Christine Dempsey, a chambermaid, said to be a sister of Jack Dempsey, the pugilist, was drowned, and Capt. [illegible] Brown sustained a broken [illegible] endeavoring to save [illegible] who jumped overboard immediately following the accident. Twelve other members of the crew had narrow escapes from drowning.

New York State Investigating Committee Hears "Big Three Presidents.

Albany, N. Y., March 10.—For many dreary hours yesterday, until nearly midnight last night, the joint special legislative insurance investigating committee listened to arguments of insurance president, actuaries and agents against some of the most important and far-reaching provisions of the bills amending the state insurance law and embodying the recommendations of that committee as the results of its protracted and sensational investigations of the conditions of the life insurance business in this state.

The hearing was in striking contrast with the investigation itself, and was a marked disappointment to those who had expected either a bitter onslaught upon the bills or an occasion of sensational utterances. With few exceptions the speeches were of an extremely technical character.

An interesting feature of the hearing was the presence and speeches of three new presidents of the "Big Three" life companies of the New York City. Paul Morton, ex-Secretary of the Navy, who succeeded James W. Alexander at the head of the Equitable; Alexander E. Orr, successor to the late John A. McCall, as president of the New York Life, and Charles A. Peabody, successor to Richard A. McCurdy, as president of the Mutual Life.

The hearing was adjourned at about 11.30 p. m., until next Thursday at 2 p. m., when it will be resumed and continued Friday as long as may be necessary.

Kentucky Reforms.

The Kentucky House of Representatives has by unanimous vote, passed a bill providing for an annual accounting and distribution to policyholders by all insurance companies doing business in Kentucky.

In House of Lords Also.

London, March 10.—The Earl of Onslow, Conservative, gave notice in the House of Lords yesterday of his intention to question the Government as to whether, in view of the disclosures made regarding certain American insurance companies, it proposes to compel foreign companies doing business in Great Britain to keep in this country a sufficient proportion of their securities to cover the claims of British policyholders. The matter will come up in the House next week.

KLEINGBEIL MURDER CASE.

During Daughter's Evidence Old Man Broke Down and Cried.

Belleville, March 10.—The preliminary investigation into the Kleingbell murder case began in the police court here before Magistrate Flint yesterday afternoon. Intense interest is manifested in the case, and the court room was crowded.

William Little told of his discovery of the crime, and how he had informed the authorities. Dr. Yeomans, who was first called to the injured woman, told of how he had visited her and how old Kleingbell had said he pounded her with his fists because she was "sassy"; he also told that they had quarreled over their son, Herman, who, the old fellow said, was not his son.

Drs. Gibson and Boyce, who conducted the postmortem, gave technical descriptions of the woman's injuries, which, they said, caused death and could not have been self inflicted.

Mrs. Dulmage, daughter of the Kleingbells', was the object of much sympathy as she gave her testimony. She sobbed all the time, and the old prisoner broke down and cried as his daughter told of finding her mother in a dying condition. Her father told her that he and her mother quarreled, her mother was saucy and he beat her. Drink, he said, was the cause of it. He also spoke of her brother Herman.

Herman Kleingbell was a new witness. He testified that before he left home, years ago, he had known his father to abuse his mother, both with his tongue and his fists.

The old man grew excited as his son gave this testimony, and afterwards denied it to the police magistrate.

At 4.30 the hearing was adjourned till Tuesday morning next. Very little sympathy is expressed for Kleingbell, especially among those who know him

TERRIBLE ECZEMA ON LITTLE BOY

Mouth and Eyes Covered With Crusts—Face Itched Most Fearfully—Hands Pinned Down to Prevent Scratching.

MIRACULOUS CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my little boy was six months old, he had eczema. The sores extended so quickly over the whole body that we at once called in the doctor. We then went to another doctor, but he could not help him, and in our despair we went to a third one. Matters became so bad that he had regular holes in his cheeks, large enough to put a finger into. The food had to be given with a spoon, for his mouth was covered with crusts as thick as a finger, and whenever he opened the mouth they began to bleed and suppurate, as did also his eyes. Hands, arms, chest, and back, in short the whole body, was covered over and over. We had no rest by day or night. Whenever he was laid in his bed, we had to pin his hands down; otherwise he would scratch his face, and make an open sore. I think his face must have itched most fearfully.

ALFONSO HOHRATH.

"We finally thought nothing could help, and I had made up my mind to send my wife with the child to Europe, hoping that the sea air might cure him, otherwise he was to be put under good medical care there. But, Lord be blessed, matters came differently, and we soon saw a miracle. A friend of ours spoke about Cuticura. We made a trial with Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and within ten days or two weeks we noticed a decided improvement. Just as quickly as the sickness had appeared it also began to disappear, and within ten weeks the child was absolutely well, and his skin was smooth and white as never before." F. Difficulties Of Pioneer Life

How the Pioneer Settlers in Ontario Made Their First Homes.

If the immigrants of to-day were forced to undergo the same experiences as the Canadian settlers of a hundred years ago, the Department of Interior would probably be deluged with complaints. When the Loyalists came to primitive Ontario, for instance, they faced the rudest conditions. The story of this early immigration is interestingly told in Duncan Campbell Scott's Life of Governor Simcoe, the latest volume in the Makers of Canada series, which is being published by Morang & Co., Toronto. This is Mr. Scott's picture of the first Loyalist settlers:

"The Government gave them a little flour and pork and a few hoes and axes, and with these they were to dispossess those ancient tenants who had for ages held undisputed possession. They drew lots for their lands. The lucky ones obtained the farms near the posts or where some advantage of water, springs, groves or soil made the situation desirable. When they were located began the great work of providing shelter. While the trees were felled, and the rude hut was taking shape, the family slept under the stars upon the ground, huddled together for warmth or protection from the dew and rain. Blankets they had none; their clothes were tattered, and as the chill nights of September came upon them, thus exposed, they suffered from cold. With dull axes, which they could not sharpen, they made their clearances, and when they were made they had no seed, or but a handful, so sown between the stumps upon the rich loam which was ready to yield them an hundred-fold. Their single implement was the hoe, with which they chopped roots, turned the soil, covered the little seed. With toil in the clear air they sharpened hunger that could not be assuaged from the small supply of food which they were compelled to hoard against the length of the winter. Their staples were flour and pork, but to these could be added fish, that were in such plenty that a hooked stick was all that was required to take them from the streams, and wild fowl that could be captured with the most primitive snare."

Did You Lose This?

ABOUT TWENTY YEARS ago a pocketbook containing a snug sum of money was found on Front street in Campbellford. It was advertised in the Campbellford Herald, but the finder failed to return it to the owner. Now, after the lapse of all these years, the finder is anxious to discover the person who lost it, in order that he may make restitution. He has sent the money to Mr. J. T. Vosper, and with it a letter promising to pay interest on the amount from the time it was lost up to the present. The interest alone will reach the sum of $32.

Suggest That Board Of Education Act

"Education" Endorses Proposal to Ask Mr. Carnegie to Furnish Peterborough With a Free Library—Board of Education Should Take the Matter up With Mr. Carnegie.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I have read with much interest the recent letters that have appeared in the Examiner favouring the proposal to ask Mr. Carnegie for a library for Peterborough. I trust that there are many others in this city sufficiently alive to the advantages of a free good public library, to encourage the project and to keep the matter in discussion until something tangible is accomplished. Indifference and inactivity on the part of those who would be benefitted by such an institution, will most certainly result in nothing being accomplished until it is too late to secure the donation, and Peterborough is left behind those other enterprising cities that have already accepted Mr. Carnegie's gifts. Such an opportunity can not remain open for many more years and it seems to me that any city is indeed foolish to allow trifling sentimental considerations to stand in the way of profiting by Mr. Carnegie's generosity. Now, writing letters to the papers, while useful in keeping the subject alive, will be of little use if nothing more be done, and therefore, I beg to offer a practical suggestion. If any one can propose a more feasible scheme by which the Library can be secured it will receive my hearty support. As the Public Schools—the pupils and the teachers—will probably be the chief beneficiaries of a free public library, I suggest that the Board of Education take the matter in hand and write to Mr. Carnegie, first ascertaining whether he would be willing to make such a gift to Peterborough on the same terms as to other cities. If the board feels doubtful as to whether such a move would meet with popular support, let them invite several of the school children to circulate papers advocating the scheme and see how many names can be procured in support of the project. I feel sure that not one member of the board—whose chief duty is to aid free, liberal education in every practical way—will be found to raise his voice against any legitimate plan for enlarging the opportunities of rising generations. I believe that this city can make no more platable or more paying investment than that required by Mr. Carnegie, as a condition necessary to his donating a library: namely, the annual grant by the city of the funds necessary for its support and maintenance. Certainly the amount at present contributed by this city for the support of the library is a disgrace to a place the size of Peterborough.

Presbyterianism Reigns Fifty Years In Warsaw

Jubilee Anniversary Commemorated Yesterday—Large Congregations at Three Sessions—Rev. A. C. Reeves, of Campbellford, Conducted the Services—An Interesting Talk to the Children—Members of the Presbytery Delivered Addresses This Afternoon—Progress Very Encouraging.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Monday, March 12th.

The jubilee anniversary of the Presbyterian church of Warsaw was celebrated yesterday. The services were held in the same building which accommodated the first Presbyterian congregation on March 3rd, 1850. During the past fifty years Presbyterianism in Warsaw advanced so rapidly that at the present time the followers of John Knox in that village have greatly increased, and the membership of the church now is very gratifying to the Presbytery of Peterborough.

The congregations yesterday morning and evening were so large that extra seating capacity had to be arranged to accommodate all.

Special music was prearranged for the occasion, and two appropriate anthems, "Father, we Come," and "Sweet is the Work," were excellently rendered by the choir.

Rev. A. C. Reeves, pastor of the Campbellford Presbyterian church, conducted the anniversary services in the morning afternoon and evening, and rendered impressive and profitable addresses on all three occasions. The Rev. W. L. Atkinson, pastor of the Campbellford church, conducted the Campbellford services in the absence of Rev. Mr. Reeves.

Morning Session.

Rev. Mr. Reeves took his theme from the third chapter of I. Cor., the 11th, 12th and 13th verses: "For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble; Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is."

These words, which are a portion of St. Paul's letter to the people of Corinth, are very appropriate to the individual, the congregation, as well as to the church at large. The subject of a true foundation to the Christian, is one that should certainly have a prominent position in every mind. If we have any regard for the extension of the word of Jesus Christ throughout the world, we should know what this truth is. If we build on false foundations, no matter how ardent we may be, the work will not be successful. Just the same as a good foundation is essential to the stability of it, so a true commencement of a Christian life is of intrinsic value.

There are oftentimes many rumours drifting about, which, although they may appear to be authentic, have no foundation. So it is in human life. Many persons profess to be Christians who are far from actors of Christian lives, because they have not built upon the true foundation, Jesus Christ, for it is written "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away."

Just as there is a difference in value of earthly property, there is a difference in Christians. Some, in the sight of God are of the value of gold, silver, precious stones; others of wood, hay and stubble; and it is for each individual to decide the value of his Christianity.

At the Judgment Day there will be a test to each life, and there will undoubtedly be many changes and many surprises to man. But no trial, no sorrow, no temptation, can finally separate us from the true foundation if our faith is strong strong in Christ.

Afternoon Meeting.

At 2.30 in the afternoon the children's service was held. A large attendance of adults as well as children, was present to hear Mr. Reeves. The service consisted of the singing of children's hymns, Scripture reading and a most interesting address, in which the speaker told the story of "The Wonderful Lantern," to illustrate the Bible.

Evening Meeting.

Mr. Reeves took as the subject for the evening discourse Gen. xxxii, 24, "And Jacob was left alone."

These words, the speaker said, refer to a very important time in the life of the patriarch Jacob. It was twenty years before this that he had stolen the birthright from his father that rightly belonged to his elder brother Esau. He had deceived his father and was forced to flee from home. During the twenty years he was absent he lived with his uncle, and prospered greatly, but once more on account of underhand dealing he had to leave his uncle's roof, and so commenced his journey to his old home. His heart was filled with apprehension and dread forebodings, at the thought of meeting his brother whom he had wronged. His former self appeared before him, and to make Esau more lenient with him, he sent on before everything he owned. With his thoughts upon the past and future he was left alone with his God. There was a great struggle in his soul between his own will and that of God, but finally the divine conquered and deceitful Jacob resigned his will to God. Blessed is the man who, left alone, sees himself as the Almighty sees him, for then he will change.

The continuation of the anniversary services will be held this afternoon, at which Rev. Mr. Camp of Havelock, Moderator of the Presbytery; Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. D. A. Thompson of Hastings, and Rev. D. D. McDonald, of Keene, will give addresses. In the evening a tea and concert will be held which will include the commemoration of the fiftieth birthday of Presbyterianism in Warsaw.

The new Russian customs tariff, as amended by treaties, will come into force on March 1. Goods which have not been cleared through the customs before that date will not be allowed to benefit by the existing tariff.

Havelock Has Cinched

---ACCORDING TO THEIR OPINION---

The Branch Terminals

Belief is General in That Town That the Terminal Point of the Georgian Bay-Peterborough Line Will be Located There—Railway Matters of Interest From the Railway Town—Many Belmont Farmers Will Remove to the West This Spring—Some Business Changes—Prospects for Labour are Good.

(Special Staff Correspondence)

Havelock, March 9th.—The question of the divisional point, and terminus of the new Georgian Bay-Peterborough C. P. R line, and its diverging point from the main line, are sore points with the people of this town. That the company would for a moment think of making Peterborough the divisional point, at any place, other than their town, is not entertained by the Havelock people, who naturally think their town the best adapted for this purpose, and feel that its location here is practically assured now.

Whether the diverging point will be at Peterborough or at Havelock, is a matter which they profess to care very little about, but should any other town attempt to claim the shops and divisional point, there will be trouble.

The C. P. R. is the pride of the people of this town, and that they should feel a peculiar interest in it, and its concerns, is not to be wondered at, since, without it, Havelock would be a minus quantity. The company is reported to contemplate spending a considerable sum of money in this vicinity this summer. They have already spent considerable—a new machine shop has been erected and the round house enlarged. This summer the company is said to have completed plans to cut ten miles off the line to Smith's Falls. The road will be straightened, and Madoc and Marmora will be placed on the line. Central Ontario Junction will be cut off by the divergence of the line, the work on which will be done this summer, it is said.

The work will require a large number of men, and they are already here, waiting to start work, as soon as spring opens. This work will entail the expenditure of a large sum of money, from the expenditure of which Havelock will derive considerable benefit.

At the present time well on to 300 men are on the pay roll of the company here. There are 43 train crews, comprising a total of 215 men, and, in addition to this number there are 60 on the mechanics, staff, carrepairers, locomotive fitters, boilermakers, etc. Then the station and operating staff brings the number up to the 300 mark."

General Conditions.

The past winter has been a hard one for labouring men in Havelock, and the opening of spring will be warmly welcomed by this class. The lack of snow has prevented farmers from taking out timber, and, as a consequence, many men who in other years have found employment at this work have been idle.

The prospects for the coming season, however, are reported by men who are in touch with such matters, to be very bright. The Examiner was informed that there would be a very large amount of building done this season, and in fact, at the present time a number of houses are seen in the course of construction—carpenters were working outdoors—bareheaded—and construction work was in full swing.

Judging by the number of auction sale bills seen in the hotel sitting-room the farmers of this vicinity are not particularly satisfied with their lot. This spring will see the largest number of farmers' sales in years, and the rather peculiar fact is noted that invariably the reason assigned for the sale is that the one selling put is "going to the West."

Business Changes.

It appears, too, that those selling out and leaving for the West are not confined to farmers. A number of business changes have taken place here recently, and in the majority of cases the late proprietors are going to the West, too. One of these changes is that of Mr. H. T. Andrews, general store, who, on the 1st of March, transferred his general stock and good will to Mr. J. W. Bryans, town clerk, who will in fact conduct the business, in addition to his many other business enterprises. Miss M. Johnston will have charge of the store and will be assisted by Mr. Bryans' daughter and son. With his wide acquaintance and his business ability, Mr. Bryans is certain to make a success of the business.

Mr. Bryans is the Havelock manager for Swift & Co., and has charge of their large icehouse here. It has just been stocked with ice for the coming season, 6,000 tons being here stored, a considerable increase over that of 1905, the increase made necessary by the larger number of cars supplied with ice here. The present number is about 50 cars a day.

A new jewellery store is to be opened in Havelock in a few weeks. Mr. Jas. Fowler, of Peterborough, will come here and open a business for which there is a good field. He also has taken the store premises of a man who expects to go to the West or to Cobalt.

Electric Lighting.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Havelock Electric Light Company will be held on the 15th of this month, and in all probability the meeting will be an interesting one. The president and general manager of the company is Dr. I. H. Holderoft, and the secretary Mr. John Rose, the other directors being Messrs. George Young, W. Fairman and W. Webb. There are 63 shareholders in the company, and it is understood that an effort will be made by the majority of the shareholders, who, however, are holders of a minority of the stock, to issue more stock. The authorized capital is $20,000, but it is understood that only about $12,000 of this has been issued. There is a debt of about $11,000 on the property, which is an exceedingly valuable one and yields a good net revenue each year, about $2,500 being the profit for 1905, it is said. Some of the shareholders, so report goes, and, it happens, those who hold the majority of the stock want to use the profits to reduce the indebtedness, while the remaining shareholders want the balance of the stock issued and dividends paid out of profits. The prospects for the company are said to be very bright. The profits at the present time are sufficient to pay good dividends while the number of persons using light is steadily on the increase, and the smaller shareholders, with big dividends in sight, want a slice of the unissued stock.

The Settlers Condemn The Hounding Of Deer

A bill in the legislature to prevent the hounding of deer may be regarded as the settlers' retort against the general tendency to frame game laws in the interest of sports from the cities. The settlers have naturally regarded the game as their own, and have been inclined to grumble at restraints that preserve the deer for the men from the cities. The early open season has been designed for those who shrink from the hardships of the advancing winter, and the short season is specially the privilege of the city man. The situation is complicated by the generosity of the city sport in hiring the settler dog a guide, paying a large board bill without complaint, and buying two deer at a fancy price to attach to his coupons. But the settler feels that he is not getting the full benefits of his position, and consequently favours the bill to prevent hounding.

Without the aid of hounds the average city sport would spend many seasons in the woods before he would kill a deer. If he can watch on the runway and shoot the hunted deer during a frightened pause he is doing well indeed. But still-hunting is an art that is acquired only by years of experience in the bush. It requires a training of the eye that cannot be retained in city life. An experienced woodsman can tell the novice by his noise long before he comes in sight. To call his efforts "still-hunting" would be a joke. His eagerness to shoot at every moving object makes him much more dangerous to other hunters than to the deer that are warned of his approach. The bill to abolish hounding will be sustained by all humane considerations. It will also give the settlers an advantage that few would like to deprive them of. The proposed change is in the direction of all recent changes, as it aims at greater restrictions in preserving the big game of the province.—Globe.

"Pete's" Inquiry Is Answered

"Chicago" Says He Can Start on $500, All Right.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The following is clipped from your paper:—

Dear Sir, — I have read with interest the various letters in your valuable paper on the $16-a-week question, but what I would like to know is: Can a man furnish a house, say, three bedrooms, parlour, dining room, kitchen and halls, comfortably, for $500—not taking into consideration a piano? Kindly express your opinion, and oblige, yours truly,

PETE.

I am sure it must be from the "gifted pen" of my "old college chum" "Pete" Corbett. Please don't say that I am wrong. To "Pete" that by all means he can furnish a house on less than $500.00. Of course he will not wade knee-deep in Turkish rugs and when he is through furnishing the house with the $500 advise him not to live too riotously on the balance left over. Whatever you do, encourage him. Why not try the plan $1.00 down and $1.00 per month.

There is another young (?) man in Peterborough, who should be encouraged. "I'll mention no names" but he is prominently connected with a Simcoe street manufacturing institution.

Lloyds Inspector Passed Away

Capt. Webster Agustus Married Peterborough Lady Who Is a Widow.

Special to The Examiner

Kingston, March 16.—Captain Webster Augustus, inland Lloyds inspector, died during the night, aged 63 years. He was born in Wellington, Ont., and sailed all his life. He knew the lake and river like a book. He had been inspector for four years. A widow, formerly Miss Grundy, of Peterborough, survives.

An Infernal Machine Sent

Canada is fortunately free from the operations of the Black Hand, the Mafia and the dynamitors. But the Examiner has experienced a gruesome exception. This morning an innocent-looking box, similar to that in which chunks of wedding cake are sent out, was received by post, and its contents proved much more dangerous than wedding cake, which is saying a good deal. When the box was opened the horrifying discovery was made that it contained a live wasp with his business extremity in full operation, which was evidently the point of the joke. The animal was, however, anchored by a thread and a brass paper fastener to prevent its escape, so that the malice of the not of sending was thereby converted into an anonymous tribute to the early advent of spring.

FOR SPECIAL FUNCTIONS

Gentlemen Can Secure a Frock Coat Finished-to-Measure in One Hour.

The entry of the Semi-ready Company into the full dress field of clothing was so successful that it was followed up by the introduction of the "finished-to-measure" idea in all the special garments required for functions and affairs. Frock coats are made in plain black vicunas, and dinner jackets in the new straight fronts with the corners slightly rounded appear in the Semi-ready styles this year in the newest creations of the sartorial art. The double-breasted dress vest, with pointed corners and the buttons arranged slightly wedge-shaped, is also one of fashion's decrees which is illustrated in the Semi-ready styles.

Stock Shipments Are Plentiful

A shipment of eighteen fat cattle went to Montreal yesterday. They were purchased by Mr. Thompson of Cobourg, from Mr. George Webber of North Monaghan, and were as fine a herd as has been weighed on the market square this winter. The total weight was 25,500 lbs., an average of over 1400 lbs. What Mr. Webber doesn't know about buying and feeding stock ain't very valuable knowledge.

Norris and Brown sent their usual shipment to Montreal to-day.

A Railway Collision On Rio Grande and Denver With Terrible Results

Between Forty and Fifty Passengers Were Killed or Roasted Alive—Two Passenger Trains Collided in Blinding Snow Storm—The Accident Occurred 140 Miles From Denver, Colorado.

Special Wire to The Examiner.

Denver, Colorado, March 16th. — From forty to fifty passengers were killed or roasted alive after a collision between two passenger trains on the Denver and Rio Grande Railway at two o'clock this morning. The trains, one of them a double header, met on a curve near Florence, in the Arkansas Valley, 140 miles from Denver. Immediately after the collision the wreckage took fire, and the injured, who were pinned down, were slowly roasted to death, while the bodies of those to whom death had been more merciful, were cremated beside them. Fifteen passengers escaped. One of the trains was a local passenger made up at Leadville, and the other was the Utah-California express, which left Denver at 8 o'clock last night. The trains were both behind time and met on a curve in a blinding snow storm. A heavy snow storm now impedes the work of the rescuers. It is reported that the crews of both trains are missing.

Denver, Col., March 16.—Later.—At the general offices of the Denver and Rio Grande in this city today, an official statement was made that the number of persons killed by the collision this morning is not more than 15, and that not more than 20 were injured. Some of the victims were pinioned under wreckage and burned alive before help could reach them.

Ashpodel Man Drops Dead In His Field

Special to The Examiner.

Norwood, March 16.—This town was shocked last night to learn of the sudden death from heart failure of Mr. Henry Murphy, one of the most highly respected farmers of Asphodel township. Mr. Murphy was in Norwood yesterday afternoon and left for home in apparent good health about 6 o'clock. He lived about two miles from town, and after tea Mrs. Murphy and deceased started out to pay a visit to Stark s, a family living nearby. They were crossing the fields, when, without a moment's warning, Mr. Murphy dropped dead. His wife was, of course, greatly alarmed, and ran to the nearest house for help. Dr. Ford was hastily sent for, and the neighbours conveyed the body to his home. When the physician arrived he found that life was extinct, and pronounced that death was due to heart failure.

The late Mr. Murphy was 57 years of age and lived on lot 19 con. 11, Asphodel. He was one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of that township, and his death will be deeply regretted. He leaves no family, but is survived by his wife and one brother, John, of Dummer.

The funeral will take place on Saturday, at 2.30 p.m. from the late residence to the Norwood cemetery.

Trent Canal Deputation Will Be Very Large One

The deputation that will go to Ottawa on March 29 to urge upon the Government the necessity of the early completion of the Trent Valley Canal will be one of the largest that ever waited on the Government. All towns along the route of the canal will be represented, and Ald. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, which has the matter in charge, is a very busy man. It is the intention to have the northwest towns, Lindsay, Orillia, Barrie, etc., send their representatives to Peterborough, and go on with the local deputation. The delegates from Port Hope, Cobourg, Trenton, etc., will likely travel along the lake front.

It is expected that a large number of Peterborough citizens will accompany the deputation, as a very cheap rate has been secured.

Ald. Mason has received word to the effect that the rate over the G.T.R., good for two days, is $3.80. The rate over the G.T.R. has not yet been received. This rate is very low, and doubtless a very large number of citizens will take advantage of it.

A JOINT INSTALLATION OF LOCAL ODDFELLOWS

A joint meeting of the two Oddfellows' Lodges was held last night when it was decided to give a grand joint installation on Wednesday, March 28th, when visiting members of the Order from Havelock, Lakefield, Pontypool, Norwood and probably Hastings, will be present, and the new paraphernalia, which was recently purchased at a cost of nearly $1000, will be used for the first time. This will be one of the most notable Oddfellows' gatherings in the history of the Order in Peterborough, and an enjoyable time is anticipated.

Mission Work In Northwest

Rev. J. G. Potter on Committee to Consider the Work.

Rev. J. G. Potter returned last night from Toronto, where he was attending the meetings of the Home Missionary Committee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in Canada. The principal business considered by this committee was that of supplying students for the mission fields of the church and making the appropriations for the prosecution of the work.

The progress of the work of the church in the West was, of course, an important consideration in the meetings, and it was stated that some considerable difficulty was experienced in procuring sufficient men to fill the places vacant. So great is the demand that it has been decided to send to England for a number of young men, who will be sent to the Northwest.

One Ingredient of

Zutoo

Is soda—just old-fashioned soda, that our grandmothers took to settle the stomach.

The principal ingredient—the one that stops the headache, is a vegetable ingredient, imported for us from Japan. It wont hurt you any more than will the soda.

The other ingredients of Zutoo are just as harmless.

If you knew what the drug cures contain, and their ultimate effect on the system, you would discard them at once and take Zutoo, which is harmless as Soda.

Health of Canadian Women

A Subject Much Discussed At Women's Clubs—The Future of a Country Depends on the Health of its Women.

At the New York State Assembly of Mothers a prominent New York doctor told the 500 women present that healthy women were so rare as to be almost extinct.

This seems to be a sweeping statement of the condition of women. Yet how many do you know who are perfectly well and do not have some trouble arising from a derangement of the female organism which manifests itself in headaches, backaches, nervousness, that bearing-down feeling, painful or irregular periods, pelvic catarrh, displacement of the female organs, indigestion or sleeplessness? There is a tried and true remedy for all these ailments. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more Canadian women to health than all other remedies in the world. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism, as nothing else can. For thirty years it has been curing the worst forms of female complaints.

Such testimony as the following should be convincing.

Mrs. Anna McKay of 326 Spadina Avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Being a mother of five children, I had had experience with the general troubles of my sex. I was lacerated when one of my children was born, and from that hour I date all of my afflictions. I found that within a few months my health was impaired, I had female weakness and serious inflammation. I became weak and dizzy, but kept on my feet, dragging through my work without life or pleasure. A neighbor who had been helped by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound insisted that I take at least one bottle. I did so and felt so much better that I kept on the treatment and it made me a strong and well woman. The few dollars I spent for the medicine cannot begin to pay what it was worth to me."

Miss Helena McKinnon of Sand Bay, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the best medicine in the world for a woman sick and weak from exhaustion, irregularities and overwork. I have found from personal experience that it is all and more than it is recommended to be. I only wish that every sick woman would try it, for it cured me of suppressed periods and irregularity, and has cured many of my friends of the same difficulty, in fact all who have used it have nothing but good to say of its efficacy. Please accept a grateful woman's thanks for all it has accomplished in my case."

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, pelvic catarrh, displacements, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating, (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. No other medicine in the world has received such unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Superintendent Presents His First Report

Mr. J. H. McClellan Tells of the Operations of the Canal for Period of Year Since His Appointment to January 30th, 1905—Depth of Water Maintained Was Excellent—Not Much Damage Done by Spring Freshet—Satisfactory Work on the Canal Maintenance and Operation.

DETAILS OF REPAIRS WORK DURING YEAR

The annual report of the Minister of Railways and Canals contains the first annual report of Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Canal for the period from May 2, 1905, to the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905. The report states that navigation opened on April 28, 1905. The depth of water maintained at the various levels since the opening of navigation was excellent, no trouble or delay on account of low water for navigation having occurred anywhere, and the lumbermen, although bringing out larger drives than usual, have passed through in much shorter time, and the different power plants on the rivers have in no way made any complaints, but on the contrary have expressed their greatest satisfaction.

On account of the holding back of the water in the reservoir lakes, the spring freshet this year has not done nearly as much damage as usual at the part of the canal below Peterborough. At one of these lakes (Stony Lake) where there are numerous island cottages, the owners have complained of their small temporary wharfs being partly submerged on this account, but the cost to which they have been put has been merely trifling, and this slight cost will make these wharfs suitable for all future use. Hence all the requirements of an industrial nature have been more than satisfactorily served by the holding back of the water and in this way making our lakes into reservoirs.

Further, if the Dominion Government had control of the many back lakes now controlled by the Ontario Government and which feed into the Trent Canal and used them also as reservoirs, it seems clear that there would be ample water for all purposes of navigation, lumbering and power along the canal when completed.

The following repairs were made:

Peterborough.

The lowering of the lock sills at Peterborough lock, below Little Lake, has been completed. Two dump scows were also completed this spring and are now in use. The dredge Trent was thoroughly overhauled. The lift lock chambers inside and under water were thoroughly scraped and painted afresh. There was a bad leak in the east bank of the reach above this lock which we repaired at a very considerable cost.

Between Peterborough and Lakefield all the dams and locks were thoroughly overhauled and repaired.

Lakefield.

At the lock at Lakefield we put the lock gates in order and also had to replank the timber sluices in the dam.

Young's Point.

The entrance to Young's Point lock on the north side was dredged so as to give eight feet of water and also we dredged below this lock in Katchewannooka Lake.

Burleigh.

At Burleigh we repaired the lock gates which also entailed very considerable expenditure.

Lovesick.

At Lovesick we repaired the platform of the entrance pier on the northeast side an also put new stoplogs in the dam.

Buckhorn.

At Buckhorn we replaced with oak the timber of the lock gates at the east-iron quoin castings. At the dam we also rebuilt a sluice pier which was broken and carried away by the ice in the spring.

Operations of the Canal.

The lift lock of Peterborough has worked perfectly satisfactorily, never having caused the slightest delay. The average time of lockages is nine minutes. The average number of lockages per day for this season is seven.

The lock at Peterborough below the city has given the steamboat men very great satisfaction since the sills were lowered.

It is very gratifying to be able to say that along the whole line of the canal the operation and care have given perfect satisfaction to all this year, and thus the employees of the department are leaving no room for any complaints of negligence or delay whatever.

The report is dated August 28, 1905, and is signed by Mr. J. H. McClellan.

Interest Increases In This Revival

Successful Meetings Being Held in Bethany Tabernacle.

The attendance and interest in the revival services at Bethany Tabernacle are still on the increase. A real revival spirit seems to pervade the services. The services yesterday were of special interest and helpfulness. In the afternoon the evangelist spoke on "Kadesh-Barnea, or the Crises in the Christian Life." Every believer comes sooner or later to the dividing of the ways, and he will be forced to choose between entering the fully surrendered life, or turning back into the wilderness of wretchedness and failure. The evangelist described at length the very interesting story of how he met his Waterloo and the most encouraging result. At the close of the service many presented themselves for the fuller blessings under deep emotions. In the evening the evangelist spoke on "Seven Reasons for Becoming a Christian." The fact of Christ's death for us was given as the primary reason. Our influence with others was especially emphasized. No man lives for himself. A strong appeal was made to mothers to consecrate their lives to God for the sake of winning their children for Christ. One of Mr. Alexander's favourite selections entitled "Why Not Say Yes to the Saviour," was sung by the pastor and the evangelist. Mrs. Stephens sang "The Pilot Song." The meeting continued with unabating interest till after 10 o'clock. There will be a service to-night and to-morrow night at the usual hour, but none in the afternoon to-morrow.—Com.

Local Preacher Removing Here

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thistlethwaite Removing From Asphodel to Peterborough.

On Friday evening a large number of the members and friends of the Hastings Methodist church assembled in the Sunay school room to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thistlethwaite, who are about to leave their farm in Asphodel township to live in Peterborough. Mr. Thistlethwaite has, during all his life, been connected with the Methodist church, and for many years has been a local preacher. He has on many occasions occupied the pulpit of the Hastings Methodist church, preaching here at least once a month. His departure will make a vacancy that will be hard to fill.—Star.

First Of Salvation ARMY IMMIGRANTS Have Arrived In City

Train Load From the Kensington Passed Through Peterborough Yesterday—Ten of the Home-Seekers Were for This District—They are an Intelligent, Bright Lot, and to an Examiner Reporter Expressed Their Entire Willingness to Work.

The first of the 10,000 immigrants, who will, within the next three weeks, come to Canada under the auspices of the Salvation Army, passed through Peterborough by special C. P. R. train at 4.00 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Of the large number on board, ten left the train at the local station, and of these the greater part will be employed by near-by farmers. The party was not expected to arrive until 5.40, and the local officers were not at the station to meet them. The new arrivals found their way to the barracks, however, where Adjutant Jennings and Staff-Capt. McAmmond took charge of them.

Played "Auld Lang Syne."

An incident worth recording took place at the station as the train was about to pull out. One of the party who stopped off at Peterborough was a bandsman, and seizing his euphonium, he struck up "Auld Lang Syne," and the little party on the station platform joined in the refrain of the familiar old song. The immigrants on board answered the farewell with a ringing British cheer that made the car windows rattle. Then amid the waving of handkerchiefs, and cries of 'God Bless you," and "Good Luck," the train load of Canada's newest citizens moved away leaving the little group of immigrants on the platform, strangers in a strange land, but in a country where they will doubtless establish happy homes as their predecessors have done.

Fine Bearing.

An Examiner reporter found the new-comers at the barracks, half an hour afterwards, and was at once impressed with the fact that, as far as outward appearances went, they should make desirable citizens. The whole party looked strong and hearty and fully capable of looking after themselves. They were fast making themselves at home, and all had the cheerful confidence that they would soon find employment. Adjutant Jennings, who is in charge of the Army's immigration work in Eastern Ontario, was a very busy man, as he had to look after most of the new arrivals.

Another Bandsman.

Two of them had letters of introduction to Staff-Captain McAmmond, asking that officer to do what he could for them. Both came from St. Albans, near London, and are bricklayers by trade. One of them, Bandsman Choate, is a very fine euphonium player, and will be a decided acquisition to the Army's already efficient band. Sergt. Luck, the other arrival for Peterborough, will also be a source of strength to the local corps.

Most of the other immigrants had already been assigned to places, but were unable to be sent to them last night. A married couple, with their one child, were destined for Bonsfort; one young man was for a Otonabee farmer, and another for a place in North Monaghan. One bright, intelligent looking young man, named Higgerson, is a carpenter and joiner by trade, and, if possible would like to secure employment in the city.

Ready for Work.

The Examiner man conversed with most of the party, and found them all eager to go to work. "We don't care what it is," one of them said, "we have come out to work. We 'ave 'ad enough of play at 'ome."

One of the immigrants had been in Canada before. "I could get a job in an hour if I were out west," he said; "I don't know much about your east." This man has been engaged by an Otonabee farmer.

The Voyage.

Discussing the voyage with the reporter, one of the men, hailing from Eccles, said that the trip was a a rough one. The man who had been in Canada before, said that the voyage was very enjoyable, and a perfectly friendly argument arose.

"Why the waves were a-washin' 'igh over the ship!" said the Eccles man.

"Ah, that was honly spray," retorted the old-stager, with a laugh.

Bandsman Choate produced a photograph taken from the middle deck of the Kensington last Sunday that almost made the reporter seasick to look at it. The scene was certainly wild enough to bear out the Eccles man's statement that the voyage was rough.

Their first experience of Canada was not one that would make a very favourable impression. A blinding snowstorm held the steamer for a day outside of Halifax. "Our first taste of Canada was not very pleasant," remarked one man to the reporter; "we like it better now."

Wanted Information.

The scribe was impressed with the new-comers' evident desire for work. They seemed most eager for employment, and the reporter who was introduced to the circle by the Staff-Captain, was bombarded with questions as to the chances for workingmen in Canada, and as to the wages.

"We're ready for anything," one young fellow said, "farming, or anything else; of course I 'ave a few shillings in my pocket, but I've got to get work soon."

A Smith farmer was on the scene before the reporter, but the man he was looking for had not arrived. He, too, was besieged with enquiries, as to the wages paid to farm labourers. One of the new arrivals expressed himself all being prepared to hire with him, and will likely go out on Saturday. "I know 'ow to milk," said the applicant.

"What I want is a man who will do what he is told, and not be too sassy," remarked the farmer as he shook hands with the young man before taking his departure.

Adjutant Jennings took care of the little party and conducted them to a near-by hotel, where they were sheltered last night, and were sent to their various destinations this morning. Before leaving the barracks the Eccles man mentioned above asked permission to pray, and the little knot of home seekers dropped to their knees, while he thanked God for their safe voyage, and asked for His blessing in their new situations.

Last night the new comers were all present at the service in the barracks, and were warmly welcomed by their fellow soldiers.

Expenditure On Trent CANAL HAS REACHED Sum Of $5,056,043.34

The Report of Minister of Railways and Canals Gives Interesting Information in Reference to the Progress of the Work—The Amount Spent Last Year on Canal Was $62,910.06—The Work Yet to be Completed.

The annual report of the Minister of Railways and Canals has just been presented and is a most interesting document. The Trent Canal is referred to and reported on. In the report of the Chief Engineer of the Department a statement of the expenditure made on the construction of this canal from its commencement up to October, 1905, is given as follows:

Expended prior to June 30, 1897..... ... ...$	309,371 31
Expended subsequent to June 30, 1897, and June 30, 1894 (date of works contracted for).....	782,584 88
Expended from June 30, 1894, to June 30, 1904...	3,512,435 81
Total expenditure up to June 30, 1904	$4,624,392 00
Expended from June 30, 1904 to June 30, 1905...	333,261 75
Total expenditure up to June 30, 1905	$4,957,653 75
Expended from July 1, to October 1, 1905	98,389 59
Total expenditure up to October 1, 1905...	$5,056,043 34

Maintenance.

Under this head some figures are given on the cost of repairs during the year ending, June 30th, 1905. They are as follows:—

Ordinary repairs under the head of staff and repairs	$26,056 78
Special repairs under the head of income:—
Complete west entrance pier, Peterborough	$1,441 04
Complete west entrance pier, Burleigh.....	1,425 39
Blasting and dredging, Lakefield.....	2,621 72
Dredging at Katchawanooe Lake.....	3,621 73

Geo. Matthews & Co., damages.....	600 00
Lower floor of sill of lock, Peterborough	9,892 79
Total	$62,910 06

Progress of the Work.

The report, continuing gives some official information as to the amount of work yet to be done on the Canal the reference to which in connection with the Balsom-Lake Simcoe division is as follows:—

For section No. 1 Mr. Andrew Onderdonk was the contractor. He completed his contract some time ago, but as it is only a section of the division, it is only occasionally used, and has not been formally opened for public traffic. It is about six miles in length.

Section No. 2 is completed with the exception of the extra work in connection with the raising of a road along the fourth concession of the township of Eldon. The concrete of the high level bridge is completed and the work of raising the road is well advanced and will be completed this season.

Section No. 3.—The contract for this section was awarded to Messrs. Brown & Aylmer on September 6, 1900. The work consists of constructing five concrete locks, three dams, three swing bridges, the necessary excavation, dredging, protection lining, culverts, etc., and is well advanced. All the concrete work with the exception of the closures in Nos. 1, 2 and 3 dams and a few other small items is completed. There is yet considerable excavation, both dry and dredging, to be done, also a considerable length of protection lining to lay, but the end of this season or the middle of next season all the work should be completed.

To complete this canal, which is designed to extend from the Georgian Bay to the waters of Lake Ontario, there remains to be placed under contract the section from Lake Simcoe to Georgian Bay and the work between Healey's Falls and Lake Ontario waters.

Croup Comes Suddenly

THENCE THE WISDOM OF KEEPING IN THE HOUSE THE MOST EFFECTIVE CURE.

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Slight hoarseness in the evening is the only warning of croup.

About midnight the child awakes coughing—that peculiar, metallic cough called croupy, and which strikes terror to the mother's heart.

Then begins the struggle for breath, and if relief is to be obtained treatment must be prompt and effective.

Anyone who has tested Dr Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a cure for croup will not hesitate to pronounce it an unqualified success.

It is wonderfully prompt in loosening the cough, clearing the air passages of the head, and soothing the excited nerves.

People who realize the suddenness with which croup comes on, and the danger which accompanies it, usually keep some of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house for use in case of emergency.

For bronchitis, whooping cough, asthma, and every form of throat and bronchial trouble, this great family medicine is a quick and certain cure.

Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure."

There are imitations of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Be sure you see the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, on the bottle you buy; 25 cents a bottle; family size, three times as much, 60 cts.; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mr. Gillespie's Machine Leads

Won in a Milk Skimming Contest at Harwood Recently.

Special to the Examiner

Harwood, March 12.—Mr. Glendenning, organizer for the I.O.F., has been working in this district for the last few days and has succeeded in adding quite a number of names to the list of members.

A skimming contest, in which a number of different makes of hand separators were entered, took place at Mr. A. Campbell's last Tuesday. The "Simplex" machine run by Mr. G. A. Gillespie, of Peterborough, proved itself to be the best skimmer by a good substantial lead, despite the fact that the milk allotted to it was nearly a week old, and consequently in poor condition for skimming, while the milk run through most of the other machines was new.

Mr. R. S. Southworth has all the material on the ground for the new creamery, and intends rushing it ahead as soon as the weather permits.

Traffic has been resumed on the ice on Rice Lake, which for a time was not safe to travel on.

A dairymen's meeting is to be held here on Thursday evening, March 15. Among other good speakers, Mr. J. W. Mitchell, of Kingston, will be present and delivered one of those popular addresses of his.

Lever's Y-Z (Wise Head) Disinfectant Soap Powder dusted in the bath, softens the water and disinfects. 3

NOURISH the body, don't dose it with medicine. Scott's Emulsion is the best nourishment in existence. It is more than a food; you may doubt it, but it digests perfectly easy and at the same time gets the digestive functions in a condition so that ordinary food can be easily digested. Try it if you are run down and your food doesn't nourish you.

Commissioners Should Get Busy

Why Is Something Not Done About P. C. Miller's Uniform.

Now that an agreement has been reached between the city council and His Honour Judge Weller, in reference to the latter's acting as police commissioner, a meeting of the commission should be called at once as several matters have been awaiting the organization of the Board. For instance, Police Constable Miller should be provided with a uniform at once. It is absurd that a man who has been engaged to act as policeman should be forced to do patrol work in civilian clothing without even so much as a badge to show his authority.

THE BEST IS CHEAPEST

"Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind) is the purest and best form in which Ozone is put up. Each bottle of it contains a coupon entitling you to a package of "Celery King", the well known laxative which should always be used with Ozone.

By buying "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" you get Ozone in its most efficient form and you get about twice as much of it for your money as of other brands. You also get the package of "Celery King" without charge.

No other brand of Ozone offers this advantage because no other firm can give you the "Celery King." This is the only way to procure the full value of your Ozone purchase

"Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" is fifty cents and one dollar at your druggists, and if he hasn't it the Public Drug Co., Bridgeburg Ont., will see that you are supplied. Sold by W. B. WARNE. 12

FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1906.

FROM COAST TO COAST.

On Wednesday the constituency of North Bretom and Victoria elected A. C. Ross, Liberal, by a majority of almost a thousand. Exactly a week previously the City of Victoria chose Hon. Wm. Templeman as its representative in Parliament. Situated as these constituencies are in the extreme eastern and western parts of the Dominion the results of the by-elections show that whether east or west the people of Canada are emphatic in their endorsation of the policy of the Laurier Government.

Wednesday's verdict in the Nova Scotia constituency in which is located the prosperous city of Sydney, the centre of the great steel industry of Canada, indicates that the electorate have not been slow to appreciate the encouragement the present Government has given the production of iron and steel in the Dominion by the payment of bounties. Without the bounty it is doubtful if a plant consisting of four blast furnaces, a rod mill and a steel mill would to-day be in full operation in Sydney, giving employment to thousands of men and forming one of the most flourishing industries to be found in the whole American continent.

The member-elect for North Cape Breton and Victoria will be a distinct acquisition to Parliament, and being thoroughly conversant with the needs of the steel industry his advice will be welcomed by a Government which aims to make Canada a great industrial nation.—Ottawa Free Press.

SNIPE SHOT.

Dr. P. Palmer Burrows wrote a letter to the Lindsay Post, which letter was reproduced in the Examiner of Wednesday, in which he grows sarcastic over the proposal of Peterborough to organize a deputation to Ottawa, to urge the completion of the Trent Canal, and asserts that Peterborough is only taking this action in pursuit of its own selfish interests. Dr. Burrows goes on to say that there are antiquated locks at Lindsay and Rosedale, which need Government attention, and should enlist the activity of Lindsay delegates to look after these affairs, and suggests an independent Lindsay deputation. To show how broad a view this gentleman takes of a national work, and how much he knows what he is talking about, a little reminder may not be amiss. The locks and dams at Lindsay and Rosedale have but now come under Dominion jurisdiction, having previously been under the Provincial Government. When application was made to the Ontario Government to consent to the placing of these works and others similarly situated upon the system under Dominion control, Lindsay was the only place in the district which sent a deputation to Toronto to oppose the application. These works are now under Dominion control, and in due course will receive attention. Lindsay cannot afford — no place in the district can afford — to withdraw from united action to bring the completion of the canal within the sphere of accomplishment. There is nothing sectional about the undertaking. It is a national enterprise and, as such, must be urged. Whatever local advantages may incidentally result from completing the canal will be shared by every section in proportion to the extent to which natural conditions affect these local advantages. Lindsay will get her share, and Peterborough will get no more than her share. Lindsay selfishly, and unwisely, opposed the placing of her waters under the only jurisdiction which could be expected to undertake the improvements, which it now clamours for.

The Rale Ould Sod Shamrock Here

Mr. J. E. Belcher, who would have considerable difficulty in disproving a charge of being an Irishman, has received from Ireland several plants of real Irish shamrock with its delicate foliage—not the exuberant oxalis which frequently does duty for shamrock. Mr. Belcher has committed his precious plants to Messrs. Jordan Bros., florists, for resuscitation and growth.

Many other persons have received similar consignments of shamrock plants, which gives a special significance to the near approach of Ireland's national day. Next to a handful of Irish earth, a shamrock grown in Irish soil is dear to the heart of the exile from Erin, who is still an exile though living in a happy land like Canada.

St. Patrick's Day In Ennismore

St. Patrick's Day will be observed in Ennismore by the production, in the evening, of Edmund Falconer's celebrated Irish drama, in four acts "Eileen Oge."

The entertainment will be given again on Monday evening, March 19. This is by far the most interesting and most difficult play the young people have ever undertaken, and it remains to be seen with what success their efforts may be crowned.

A BALD NEWSPAPER MAN

Getting a New Crop of Hair, and Has No More Dandruff.

Everybody in the Northwest knows Colonel Daniel Searles, the veteran journalist and publicist of Butte. On January 10, 1900, the colonel writes: "I used a couple of bottles of Newbro's Herpicide with marvellous results. The dandruff disappeared; a new crop of hair has taken root, and the bald spot is rapidly being covered." Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ that digs up the scalp in scales as it burrows its way to the root of the hair, where it destroys the vitality of the hair, causing the hair to fall out. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide.

Sold by leading druggists. Send ten cents in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

The C. P. R. Survey To Take Two Months Yet

Officials of That Road Promise to go as Near Omemee as Possible—Want to Get Grade Down—Will Not Accept Bonus.

A deputation from the Omemee Council waited on Mr. J. W. Leonard, Superintendent of the C.P.R., recently, in reference to the branch line of the railway touching that village. The minutes of the council in reporting the conference says:—

After speaking for a time on railway business, Mr. Leonard opened up a map of Emily Township and showed us all the hills, valleys, streams and bridges. He was more familiar with the township than the deputation, and explained that the grade the C.P.R. was after was 12 ft. to the mile; the G.T.R. was 53 to the mile. They wish the road when built to draw 65 cars to the main line; at present the G.T.R. was drawing 28 with two engines. The survey will not be completed for two months. The intention is to locate as near Omemee as possible. No inducement by way of bonus would be accepted, as the line will be a freight line as direct as possible. They have deputations from Fenelon Falls, Orillia, etc., but could not see his way clear to call. In answer to a question as to how near the station would be to Omemee, he pointed out that the hill at T. Fee's was 900 of an elevation and Omemee was 800. The question was to get down that 100 feet.

He told the deputation that they would call as near any town as possible to get the freight, providing same was over $10,000 yearly. Any town where a steep grade exists they have to employ a pusher to help up grade; a pusher costs $15,000 to keep in running order; one heavy grade spoils a road.

The C.P.R. would swing 10 miles to miss a heavy grade, as the cost of building was nothing if they got the level track, and the only place they would not go through was a cemetery.

He thanked the deputation for calling, and assured us that the station would be in our vicinity, and as near our town as they possibly could.

Mr. Culverwell Now Has Railway Proposal

Wants to Build an Electric Line From Campbellford to Cobourg—To Connect With the C. P. R.—Asks Town of Campbellford for 500 Horse Power Free.

The Campbellford Despatch gives a report of Mr. J. A. Culverwell's latest proposition, that of an electric railway line. The Despatch says:

"Messrs. J. A. Culverwell and Mayor D. Ewing of Cobourg, were in town on Friday last on business in connection with the proposed new electric railway between the C. P. R. and Cobourg, via Campbellford. Mr. Culverwell had an interview with Reeve W. J. Doxsee and made a proposition to him which he does not consider very favourably. He asks that the town build the new dam and install the plant, and give as a bonus 500 horse power to the railway. The interest on the money invested in the plant to be paid by the railway company. On condition that the town agrees to this proposition he offers to sell them the Denmark property and relinquish all claim to the Campbell property, the ownership of which is now in dispute and soon to be settled by the court."

OBITUARY.

PETER PRESTON.

One of the most respected farmers of Smith township passed away on Monday last in the person of Mr. Peter Preston. Mr. Preston had been ill for a considerable time with rheumatism and a general derangement of the system, and although it was thought some time ago that he would recover, death was due to that cause. He was a prominent member of the Presbyterian church of Selwyn, and in politics was a lifelong Conservative. Deceased also belonged to the Foresters of Selwyn, which order attended to the burial.

He was 50 years of age and had been married over 30 years. Besides his sorrowing wife, he leaves to mourn his loss four daughters, Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Turnbull, and Eva and Carry at home, and one son, Aldus, of Peterborough. He has one surviving brother, Gavin, of Smith Northwest, and Gavin, of Smith, and one sister, Mrs. E. Fitzgerald.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, the remains being interred in the Lakefield cemetery.

An Illustrated Lecture To-night

Handsome Team Of Keswicks

A handsome team of Keswicks has been recently purchased by Mr. J. A. Lawless, of the National House, from Mr. John Morrison, of Otonabee. Each horse is five years of age and they are a fast pair of fancy steppers. The purchase price was $400. The present owner has also purchased a handsome pneumatic tire bike, from Aggot & Stocker Charlotte street, agents for A. B. Greer, the London manufacturer.

Another Resident Who Saw Meteor

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In reading over the columns of your paper last evening I noticed that a resident of Ennismore saw a meteor shoot from the sky about eight o'clock Wednesday evening. I might state that I saw the same light come from the direction of the heavens about five minutes to eight. It had what looked to me like a tail on it, and seemed to be about three inches in diameter. When it was falling it burst and opened up like a sky rocket. It appeared to fall around the vicinity of the Coldage Company buildings.

Stony Lake Man Sighted Spotted Fawn In His Yard

One of the most unusual sights that has been witnessed around McCracken's Landing for a considerable time was a pretty spotted fawn.

Mr. W. R. McCracken was in the city yesterday and states that last week he discovered the beautiful animal alon, with his cattle in the farm yard. In attempting to capture the coveted prize he succeeded in lassoing the fawn, which immediately made a most ceremonious exodus, throwing Mr. McCracken violently to the ground. The animal quickly disappeared in the forest, and Mr. McCracken's rope met with the same fate. It is a very singular occurrence to see a fawn so far south, and in such close proximity to habitations. Mr. McCracken suggested to the Examiner that it had been driven down by the dogs last fall, and having strayed away from the rest of the antlered tribe, was forced to hibernate in southern, and civilized parts.

Many of the inhabitants around the landing have had glimpses of the timid creature, and state that it still carries the hempen rope, which has now commenced to unravel.

Ladies' Aid Of St. Andrew's At-Home

Greeted a Large Number in the Manse Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon between three and six o'clock Mrs. (Rev.) Potter, assisted by the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's church, gave a very pleasant At Home to the ladies of the congregation. The enjoyable affair was held in the manse with a large representation from the different families of the congregation. The nature of the At Home partook chiefly of a conversational character with a view to having the ladies become better acquainted with each other.

During the afternoon several piano selections were beautifully rendered by Miss E. Tully, Mrs. T. C. Elliott and Miss Brightman.

Refreshments were also dispensed among the guests by Mrs. Potter and her assistants. The acting officers of the Ladies' Aid are Mrs. T. C. Elliott, President; Mrs. McMillan, Secretary, and Mrs. Jno. Anderson, Jr., Treasurer, and to these ladies together with Mrs. Potter, the success of the At Home was chiefly due.

Corroboration Of The Meteor Story

The Ennismore gentleman who saw the meteor on Wednesday night, was not the only one who saw the same thing. But he was a little out in his distances. It did not drop two miles south of Ennismore, as he thought. A number of people in this city were also witnesses to the flight of the meteor, and the Examiner received a number of telephone messages last night on the matter. The first to send word was a lady, who stated that she had noticed it, in company with two other ladies. A young man was on his way to church at St. Luke's, when he saw the flash as he was crossing the Hunter street bridge. Dr. Burnham and Mr. Attrill were walking down town, and saw it when they were near the post office. Mr. D. H. Moore was also a witness of the meteor. He was driving from Keene to the station, and saw the the flash there. A number of other persons were also witnesses of the phenomenon.

Asphodel Man Penalized For Stealing Whiskey

County Magistrate Edmison was at Norwood yesterday settling up a theft case. Patrick Heffernan, the prisoner, was charged with stealing a bottle of whisky from the McGregor House, of which Mr. T. Smith is the proprietor. Heffernan is an Asphodel farmer and is an old offender.

His father had given instructions that the hotel keepers give him no liquor, but never-the-less he generally managed to imbibe a considerable quantity of the "morning dew". Last week, however, he happened to be in the bar of the above-named public house alone and reaching over the bar he succeeded in putting his hands on a bottle of stimulants and stowed it in his pocket. Mr. Scott the Norwood constable was right on the job and his quick eye caught the finishing touches of Heffernan and Mr. Smith had him arrested. The prisoner, however, was oblivious of the fact that he had taken the bottle and pleaded not guilty. Nevertheless, evidence was against him and was found guilty of theft by Magistrate Edmison and fined $10 and costs, which were paid by a friend and 21 days in the common gaol. To give the offeender a chance to reform and sober up the magistrate was lenient and ordered that the latter penalty be not inflicted until further orders.

Was Bound Over To Keep Peace For One Year

Raffaele Scardarpano was Found Guilty of Attempting to Wound Michael Lucano—An Italian Case in Which Much Evidence Was Taken—The Bonds Were Fixed by His Worship at Two Sureties of $200 Each.

ITALIANS AGAIN IN STABBING ROW

Raffaele Scardapano was accused of attempting to wound Michael Lucano on Friday, March 9. He pleaded not guilty and selected to be tried summarily. The first witness was Michael Lucano, who laid the charge against Scardapano. He said the attempted wounding took place on Friday last at Mr. Schear's boarding-house, Aylmer street. Scardapano came into the house accompanied by Camillo Di Piero, ohbt being drunk. As soon as he came in he raised a noise in the house. He went to put Di Piero, who was very drunk, to bed, out of kindness, he claimed, and as he was taking him to the stairs he stumbled over a chair. The prisoner, who had followed him up, then struck him behind the ear. He retaliated, not knowing why he had been struck, by hitting the prisoner in the eye. The prisoner then drew his knife, saying, "You hit me in the eye and I'm going to kill you." Mr. and Mrs. Schear and others interfered. Witness then went up to bed and prisoner followed him to his room. Prisoner put his hand in his pocket and went to draw his knife. Witness shoved him back. A young boy who was in the room exclaimed, "Look, Mike, he has a knife and is going to stab you!" The people in the house took him downstairs again. Prisoner said his son would be out this week, and that either he or his son would have Lucano's life.

John Schear was in the house at the time of the row and said that prisoner vowed that someone would be dropped dead that night. Prisoner tried to open a trunk to get out revolver, and witness threw him down stairs. Prisoner had been as a boarder at his house for some time before the row, but was not at the time of the affray. The knife prisoner had had a blade of probably four or five inches in length.

Mrs. Schear saw the prisoner attempting to wound Lucano with a knife. Peter Grant, a lad about fifteen or sixteen, and a son of Mrs. Schear, saw prisoner pulling knife from his pocket. Saw Lucano strike prisoner.

Johnnie Grant, a brother of the first witness, saw the row upstairs, and saw the prisoner with knife in hand trying to wound Lucano. He warned Lucano to look out. Johnnie was very young but a very willing and intelligent witness.

Frank Merreno didn't see Lucano use a knife.

Raeffle Scardapano then went into the box himself and flatly denied the story of the witnesses for the prosecution in nearly every particular; he said that he was not drunk, that he didn't have a knife on him at the time. He admitted using his fists in a scrap with Lucano and said the cause of the trouble was a dispute during a game of cards in which about ten people participated. A dispute about Di Piero began the row.

The defence stated that the row occurred about supper time and the accused stated it was about 9.30 when the trouble took place. He had a couple of glasses of beer in the house but didn't get drunk.

The next two witnesses gave evidence very favourable to the prisoner but it was of a negative character and Camille De Piero, over whom the trouble commenced, could remember nothing that occurred he was so drunk at the time.

The last witness wasn't at the scene of trouble on Friday night, so couldn't throw any light on the matter.

The prisoner was bound over to keep the peace for a year on two sureties of $200 each. The sureties were not forthcoming in court and he was held pending their being provided.

Mr. R. H. Leary Leaves For West

Mr. R. H. Leary was to have left yesterday for the Northwest, but was prevented from going by some business negotiations which were in progress. He will probably go on Monday, and will first go to Calgary, returning to Alameda, Sask., where he will sell his carload of horses. He will afterwards go to Calgary again, where he will complete arrangements for taking prospective land purchasers to see the irrigated lands of the Canadian Pacific Irrigation and Colonization Co.

He received a telegram from Mr. Elliott from Alameda stating that he had just arrived with the horses.

A Permanent Loan The Arm Of The Treasurer

Hon. Mr. Matheson Makes An Important Statement.

A PORTION FOR CANADIANS

Temiskaming Bond Issue Is Arranged by the Provincial Treasurer — Issue Price Is 98 1-2, With Interest at 3 1-2 Per Cent. Payable Half-Yearly—Remarks of Hon. Mr. Harcourt —Agricultural Estimates Pass.

Toronto, March 16.—At an issue price of 98 1-2, with interest at 3.1-2 per cent., payable half-yearly, on July 1 and Jan. 1, the Government have arranged for the issue of a permanent loan with the Bank of Montreal on Ontario inscribed stock for £1,200,000, to redeem the Treasury bills falling due on May 15 next in connection with the Temiskaming Railway. The stock will fall due in 1946. Mon. Mr. Matheson, the Provincial Treasurer, made the announcement in the Legislature yesterday afternoon. The House rose before 6, after having passed all the agricultural estimates.

The New Permanent Loan.

Hon. Mr. Matheson announced that he had a statement to make to the House which was of some importance. It referred to the Temiskaming Railway loan. He said:

"The treasury bills to the amount of £1,200,000 sterling were issued in November, 1904, and renewed in May and November, 1905, falling due on 15th May, 1906. The Government have arranged with the Bank of Montreal for the issue of a permanent loan on Ontario inscribed stock in London, England, for the same amount £1,200,000 sterling to redeem these treasury bills. The stock will fall due on Jan. 1st, 1946, and interest will be payable half-yearly at the rate of 3 1-2 per cent. per annum on July 1 and Jan. 1.

"The issue price will be 98 1-2 and An arrangement has been made with the bank by which the province will pay interest in July next only from May 15 (nine shillings per £100). This practically means getting accrued interest (applause).

"It being desirable that a portion of the loan should be offered for sale in Canada, it has been decided that the remaining amount authorized $1,200,000, and any amounts which may in the future be required will be payable both principal and interest in Canada.

Net Result.

"In 1903, the then commissioners for the construction of the T. & N. O. Railway attempted to float a loan guaranteed by the province, receiving some offers which were not accepted. In November, 1904, the Government again proposed to issue a similar loan, but on account of the state of the market were advised to issue treasury bills, which was done, the loan not being advertised. The net result of the present issue to the province will be $350,000 in excess of the rate offered for the loan proposed in 1903, and will be over $50,000 in excess of any offers made in 1905, and slightly in excess of any other offer received during the present year. (Applause.)

"The loan will be announced this afternoon in London and advertised tomorrow morning.

"I may say," went on the Provincial Treasurer, "that the usual position in London is to advertise only for a few days, say through four or five. The honorable gentlemen opposite will understand the necessity of any discussion being postponed till at least next Thursday, when we hope to be ready to deal with the matter very fully."

Not Unprecedented.

Mr. Horcourt asked leave to say a word. No one would be more delighted than he to hear that the securities had been well sold. He hoped the Provincial Treasurer's statement just read would be transcribed and sent to him so that he might study it. There had been sales to our own people of our annuities at three and a quarter per cent., so that the present sale was not marvellously nor unprecedentedly good. He had hoped during the past two years that as good a rate as had been obtained in the case of the annuities might have now been obtained, and he thought

USED UP AND TIRED OUT

MEN AT THE OFFICE WOMEN IN THE HOME CHILDREN AT SCHOOL

Every day in the week and every week in the year men, women and children feel all used up and tired out.

The strain of business, the cares of home and social life and the task of study cause terrible suffering from heart and nerve troubles. The efforts put forth to keep up to the modern "high pressure" mode of life in this age soon wears out the strongest system, shatters the nerves and weakens the heart.

Thousands find life a burden and others an early grave. The strain on the system causes nervousness, palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faint and dizzy spells, skip beats, weak and irregular pulse, smothering and sinking spells, etc. The blood becomes weak and watery and eventually causes decline.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

are indicated for all diseases arising from a weak and debilitated condition of the heart or of the nerve centres. Mrs. Thos. Hall, Kaldon, Ont., writes: "For the past two or three years I have been troubled with nervousness and heart failure, and the doctors failed to give me any relief. I decided at last to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial, and I would not now be without them if they cost twice as much. I have recommended them to my neighbors and friends.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills 50 cts. per box or 3 for $1.25, all dealers, or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

our own people would have done well to purchase these securities at a better rate than three and a half. It would be found when the costs of the sale were deducted there would be a considerable diminution in the price realized, so that the interest yield would be more than three and a half. He agreed that it was not the time to enter into such an intricate financial question.

Mr. Matheson: As to expense charges, they are the lowest made on the London Stock Exchange, considerably less than on other bonds.

He reminded Mr. Harcourt that he was referring to rates obtained on $100,000 and $200,000 worth of stock, while on this occasion there was being sold $6,000,000 worth.

"True, but $6,000,000 always sells better than $60,000," returned Mr. Harcourt.

Murdered In A Collingwood Bar Room

Three Witnesses Present At Stabbing of Fred Lewis.

VICTIM WAS A TORONTO MAN

Bartelle, the Perpetrator, Is Supposed to Have Been Goaded by the Victim, Who Was Somewhat of a Character —Former Ran Away, But Was Later Captured in Some Grand Trunk Timber Piles.

Collingwood, March 16.—A tragedy was the result of a fracas which occurred in the Grand Central Hotel last night. It was at one of the best hotels in the city, which is patronized by many commercial men and the best business men who come here.

Louis Bartelle stabbed Fred Lewis, in the barroom, at about 5 o'clock, and Lewis died three hours later.

The weapon used was a pocket knife and the cut was made near the heart, severing a main artery and leaving but little hope for Lewis to live, and the injured man lingered in agony for the three hours.

All available assistance of the finest kind was supplied by Drs. Faul, Arthur and Schlicther, and if Lewis' life could have been saved they would have saved it. The dead man has for some time been a "character" around Collingwood, with a teasing disposition that would jar upon a man with a few drinks, but so far it is not affirmed that either of the men had been drinking when the murder occurred, and only a couple of men witnessed the trouble.

It was all of short duration, and Bartelle, who is the accused, got away through the back door of the hotel. But a chase was made, headed by G. Eldon, and the fugitive was caught in the Grand Trunk yards in some timber piles by ex-Chief of Police Cheeseman of Stayner.

Lewis was until lately a bartender in Midland, and he promoted himself to the position of a bill-poster not long ago. His mother is said to live in Toronto, at Markham and College streets. He died at 8.30, from the effects of the wound.

Louis Bartelle, the man who did the deed, is a Frenchman with a good word coming to him from a host of acquaintances. He hails from Tonawanda, N. Y., and is well thought of in the town generally.

Toronto, March 16.—Enquiries made at the house of J. D. Lewis, 315 Markham street, a few yards from College street corner, late last night were cordially met, but Mr. Lewis said it must be some mistake. He did not know the murdered man

For An Honest Ballot Object The Change

Mr. Fitzpatrick Favors Changes In the Election Law.

A FREE AND A PURE VOTE

Several Proposed Amendments — Man Who Regards His Vote as Merchandise May Lose It—Question of Compulsory Voting—Sympathy For Russian Jews In Massacre—Sir Wilfrid on Our Rights.

Ottawa, March 16.—The Minister of Justice yesterday indicated in an expression of his personal views the probability of important and somewhat drastic changes in the election law.

Mr. Fitzpatrick concurred in Mr. Borden's proposition for the appointment of a committee to consider the whole question, and intimated that it was the desire of the Government to secure a free vote, a pure vote and an honest ballot, all of which were essential requisites to the maintenance of our free institutions.

He suggested that a return might perhaps be made to the system in practice before 1885, of appointing Sheriffs and Registrars as returning officers; and while not declaring himself in favor of the principle of compulsory voting, suggested that the committee might consider how long the individual who failed to exercise the sacred trust of the franchise entrusted to him might be left in possession of it. He emphasized the opinion that the franchise should not be regarded as a piece of merchandise.

With regard to the pernicious practice of "sawing-off" elections, the application of the criminal code against compounding a felony was suggested as a remedy.

A rounding-up of the sharp edges of the election act, the appointment of public prosecutors and the investigation of recent difficulties in connection with the voters' lists in Manitoba were viewed with favor by Mr. Fitzpatrick, who deprecated unfair attacks upon the judiciary.

The horrors of the massacres of Jews in Russia were brought to the attention of the House by Mr. Claude Macdonell yesterday afternoon.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, while sympathising deeply with the sufferings of the people of that race during the recent troubles in Russia, suggested that the House proceed with caution in what might be regarded as interference with the domestic affairs of a foreign nation. The Premier pointed out that Canada, while having full autonomous power, had not full plenary power and had no voice in the diplomatic service of the empire.

This view was concurred in by the leader of the Opposition, and the debate was adjourned.

Canadian Jews and Sunday.

Many representative Jewish-Canadians were received by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Minister of Justice at noon yesterday. Their views were clearly stated in a memorial read by Mr. Goldstein. They desired to protest against the bill as introduced by Mr. Fitzpatrick for the better observance of the Lord's Day, and asked for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the entire subject of Sunday legislation. One of the speakers said the law, if enacted, would force many Jews to abandon their religion or to become a charge upon the community. Sir Wilfrid said that personally he was anxious to meet the views of the deputation, and he would present them to the Cabinet. At present he could not promise that a special committee would be appointed; he could only assure them that nothing would be done without full consideration.

$50.00 PROFIT

ONLY $25.00 INVESTED

Do you want to make 50 per cent. profit by investing only $25 in a lot in beautiful Summit Park, Port Arthur, the great lake port town of N. W. Ontario.

Port Arthur is the County Seat of the Thunder Bay District, and is the lake terminal town of the two great transcontinental railroads, which carry immense quantities of Western products on ships bound for the East and Europe.

Port Arthur is the only real municipal ownership town in America, and made last year over $32,000 net profit out of its Street Railway, Electric Light and Power, and Telephone Franchises.

Port Arthur has the largest grain elevator in the world.

Port Arthur doubled its population in the last 2 years and we believe it will double again in the next 2 years.

Port Arthur is the gateway between the East and the extensive West, and can have no competitor.

Summit Park is a high, level plateau, furnishing a beautiful view of Thunder Bay, and lots purchased in this park at present prices will bring big profits before many months.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Dredging, Midland, Ont.," will be received at this office until the 23rd day of March, 1906, inclusively, for dredging in the Harbour of Midland, Ont., according to a plan and combined specification and form of tender to be seen at the office of J. G. Sing, Esq., Resident Engineer, Confederation Life Building, Toronto, on application to the Postmaster at Midland, Ont., and at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for seven thousand dollars ($7,000.00), which will be forfeited if the person tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fails to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,

FRED. GELINAS,

Secretary.

Department of Public Works.

Latest News Of Winter Sports

The Toronto News Says

PETERBOROUGH HAS GREAT Team Of Hockey Players

Believes it is About the Best in the O. H. A. -What Mr. Robinson Has to Say of the Local Aggregation of Players—Is Superior to the Smiths Falls Team.

Mr. Burnside Robinson, one of the sporting writers on the Toronto News was a spectator at the Smith's Falls-Peterborough game here on Wednesday night, and last night's news has a report of the game and some general references to the Peterborough team under the heading "Peterborough will play Senior Hockey next season. By defeating Smith's Falls in a score of 9-4 the Intermediate Champions are stamped as about the best all round team in the O.H.A."

Mr. Robinson indulges in some romancing on the fact that Peterborough was allowed to play Intermediate this season and says:

No one could doubt, after witnessing the kind of hockey served up here last evening to the Smith's Falls team, that Peterborough should never have been permitted to play in the intermediate series of the Ontario Hockey Association. Playing as they did on his occasion, there were few teams on the senior series the past season that could have more than held their own. Certainly Peterborough gold-bricked the Ontario Hockey Association in dropping in just when they did. Men here point out that the distance the Peterboroughs would have had to travel had much to do in inducing them to play intermediate, but if there is any virtue in the various classes at all, such a thing as a slightly longer journey should not be permitted by the Ontario Hockey Association to weigh in determining the series any given club should enter. Peterborough will be in the senior ranks next year, mainly because, with such a collection of players, it could scarcely be anywhere else, provided justice is to be done other towns less fortunately situated.

Both the Smith's Falls and Peterborough teams were in the pink of condition last evening. What Stanley Cup players were present—and there were four of these—showed no visible indications of the two gruelling contests through which they had last week passed. Leseur, the great goal-keeper, who work in front of the nets, evoked the enthusiastic approbation of the entire eastern press, was unfortunately not able to be present, and his place was acceptably taken, though scarcely adequately filled, by a midget termed Mercau. Those who are conversant with the work of both Brown, the regular point player, and Hummell, who substituted for him, say that the latter is quite the equal of the former, so that, as a matter of fact, Smith's Falls merely suffered by slightly inferior goal-keeping. Otherwise the team was intact. Peterborough played the same seven with which they landed the intermediate championship.

No faster playing has been done anywhere this season. There was no cessation to the lightening-like rushes of the forwards on both sides, assisted at times by brilliant dashes on the part of Armstrong and Crowley. The players all over the ice seemingly did not know what it was to grow tired. Throughout the entire period of play they cavorted about with a vim that only the finest physical condition could have rendered possible. The Peterborough forwards had slightly the advantage of those from Smith's Falls, because they checked back more persistently than their opponents. Neither line had anything on the other in point of skating ability, and so it transpired that all that Peterborough players did to prevent what seemed to be sure scores, was to stick to their checks like glue. Many times Smith's Falls players got the puck down near their opponents goal only to find themselves, when it came time to shoot, effectually sidetracked in the corners back of the nets. Had Smith's Falls forwards rendered their defence the same support the score might have been much smaller.

Peterborough's defence was fully as strong as that of Smith's Falls. At point, Hummell and Glover were very evenly matched. Hummell is a very effective player, clearing his goal many times in an extremely dexterous fashion. Glover played better than he has done all season, which is saying considerable. Taken on the whole, Armstrong, at cover point, is a better player than Crowley, sharing the honours of the evening, as he did, with Whitcroft. It was delightful to see these two making spectacular rushes by turns. Whitcroft's work, in this respect, while not so finished, was more provocative of practical results and after all, it is results that tell. While Armstrong is a faster man on the ice than Crowley, he is not able to block half so well. The manner in which Crowley took the puck away from the Smith's Falls forwards was one of the features of a game abounding in dazzling work.

Both lines, as has been intimated, were well matched. Whitcroft, of course, had Ross beaten at every stage in the game, as rover, while, on the other hand, Fraser was considerably better than Morgan, in the centre position. The latter is too much given to loafing off-side, but his deficiency in this respect is fully compensated by his ability to shoot. Morgan has a particularly wicked shot. Graham played a strong and resourceful game. His vis-a-vis, May, on the right wing, was the the weak spot on the Smith's Falls line. Cavanah and Serviss are equally capable on the left wing.

Well! Waghorne Should Know

When He Says Peterboro' Played Fastest Game He Ever Saw.

The Toronto Telegram of yesterday says:—

Referee F. C. Waghorne returned from Peterborough this morning. He stated that the game last night was the fastest he ever saw anywhere, and that the Peterborough team simply played masterly hockey, the forwards putting up a lightning fast two-man combination, and checking back so closely that Smith's Falls forwards were smoothered playing the individual style that belongs to them. It was a revelation to him and even to the Peterborough enthusiasts. Whitcroft was all over the ice, and was ably assisted by the other three men on the line. The defence had an easy time with their forwards, heading off the Federal champions as they did. Armstrong was the pick of the Falls team, and did some marvellous rushing, but his forward line did not support him, smothered as they were, and with a weak man in May.

Way says that on last night's showing LeSueur in goal might have made some difference, but the Peterborough seven were playing too much the better hockey to be staved off. As they played last night few senior O.H.A. teams could have handled the intermediate champions.

HOCKEY

The Shovel Company hereby challenge the winners of the Pill Pounders and Best's Happy Thoughts game. The Shovel output would also like to arrange a match with the Lock Works team.

• • • •

The sporting writers in Toronto are beginning to think that after all the Peterborough hockey team does amount to a little of something. This is what the versatile Telegram man says:—

"Other things happened in hockey last night besides the downfall of the Ottawas. You'll remember those Smith's Falls chaps who nearly scared Ottawas into a fit. They were duly proclaimed as a great hockey team by all the most enlightened hockey critics in the east. They won the Federal series without losing a game. Oh! they were a great team. But last night they happened up to Peterborough and bumped into a team of O.H.A. intermediates who inhabit those parts. Of course, you'll say, Smith's Falls just ate 'em up. But not so, my simple friend. The O.H.A. intermediates just took those eastern seniors into camp as if they had been the most ordinary products of western Ontario. Yes, they beat them, and did it so well that nobody can doubt which is the better team. And all that is left is for the east to again repeat those historic words, "Exhibition games don't count".

• • • •

Lindsay Post:—Congratulations, Peterborough! Now, as the fastest bunch of players west of the Montreal-Ottawa line undoubtedly live in this district, and as you have outclassed everything you have played this winter, and as the Lindsay Midgets have not struck anything outside of a swimming match which kept the spectators in doubt for a minute as to the result, hadn't we better get together and see which of us shall have the right to ask for dates next January for the Stanley Cup?

• • • •

Peterborough convinced Smith's Falls that O. H. A. intermediate hockey is just twice as fast as the game played in its senior forms of the Federal League.—Toronto Star.

• • • •

From all indications there will be good ice Saturday night. If this is the case Peterborough's chances to win will be fifty per cent better than if they had to struggle in the slush. The locals have a husky bunch that play well on any ice but it's on the glass surface that they get in their splendid combination work and that goes a good way towards winning the game for them.

• • • •

A Toronto journal says the Wanderers made the Ottawa bunch look like intermediates. Considering how badly the Senators were trimmed, how would it be to say the Montreal bunch made their opponents look like "seniors", for one or two intermediate teams in Ontario, anyway, are about as fast as "some" seniors. Yes.

• • • •

A splendid cut of Captain Whitcroft and Rollie Glover appeared in last night's Toronto Star under the head of "stars of Peterborough team last night."

• • • •

The team Peterborough will buck up against Saturday night will be a good deal stronger than the one that represented the All Star East seven last Saturday night.

• • • •

There would be more satisfaction if the locals could arrange a game with Berlin than if they got on a match with any other team playing the game. It would be worth a good deal to convince the Western Dutchmen that they have the second best team in the O.H.A.

• • • •

Some Smith's Falls sports were pretty sore with the result of the game Wednesday night. One individual in particular, who lost a few long greens, was particularly noticeable for his "soreness". He used language that would lift a ton weight and stamped around like a chaffing buffalo. He saw the easterners were up against it and he didn't like it a bit.

CURLING

Four close and interesting games were played at the curling rink last night on keen ice. The following were the skips and scores:—

J Connal, sk. 8.	R. Neill, sk. 8.

BLOTCHES
FLESHWORMS
HUMORS

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unseemly Blotches, Pimples, Eruptions, Fleshworms and Humors, and various other blood diseases.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted, as well as pain and regret to their friends.

Many a cheek and brow—cast in the mould of grace and beauty—have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and their possessor rendered unhappy for years.

Why, then, consent to rest under this cloud of embarrassment?

There is an effectual remedy for all these defects, it is,

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

Miss Annie Robin, Madoc, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending your Burdock Blood Bitters to any one who may be troubled with pimples on the face. I paid out money to doctors, but could not get cured, and was almost discouraged, and despaired of ever getting rid of them. I thought I would give B.B.B. a trial, so got two bottles, and before I had taken them I was completely cured and have had no sign of pimples since."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, for over 30 years, and has cured thousands in that time. Do not accept a substitute which unscrupulous dealers say is "just as good." "It can't be."

PILES Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and guaranteed cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles. See testimonials in the press and ask your neighbors about it. Judgment Was Reserved In

CHARGE OF SELLING ON SUNDAY

In The Allen Liquor Case

Detective Corcoran Testifies for the Crown—Said He Bought Drinks at C. P. R. Hotel Last Sunday—Andrew Schear, an Italian Boarding House Keeper, Fined $70 and $8.45 Costs for Selling Liquor Without a License.

The case of James Allen, charged with selling liquor on Sunday afternoon, was heard at the session of the police court yesterday afternoon, and, as in the Cavanagh case, judgment was reserved until Saturday next. The only witness who testified for the prosecution was David Corcoran, the Government detective, who gave evidence in the case. He said he obtained two beers at the C.P.R. Hotel on Sunday at 10.15 and 11.30. A big, tall fellow they called Dan served him. On both occasions there were others in the treat. He could not swear what they took. He produced a book in which was marked down the number of times he bought liquor and the exact time. Corcoran identified two men, Vanderwater and Yorke, by name, as participating in the treats bought by him. He was put through a searching cross-examination by Mr. G. W. Hatton, counsel for the defence. Vanderwater said he saw first witness in hall of hotel on Sunday. Had no drinks or cigars with him there on Sunday. Detective was known as Murphy. Whisky was drunk in George Brusso's room from a black bottle. Didn't know where bottle came from.

Elton Yorke boards at the C. P. R. Hotel. Knew Corcoran as Murphy. Saw him in front hall on Sunday. Didn't see him in the bar. He and Vanderwater and detective were refused liquor. This was between 10 and 11 Sunday morning. They had cigars. The bartender, Asselstine, went behind the bar to get them.

Mr. Hatton argued that no case had been made out, and told His Worship that he thought it would be unnecessarily taking up his time by reviewing the evidence.

Mr. Wood spoke at some length in presenting the case for the Crown and urged that the evidence of Corcoran be given consideration. He was a man, he said, employed by the Government for the particular purpose of securing convictions against hotelkeepers who violated the law, and had given his evidence in a straightforward manner, being very definite in all the details. Judgment was reserved until Saturday morning.

Andrew Schear appeared on a charge of selling liquor at his residence, an Italian boarding-house, 294 Aylmer street, next the Montreal House, without a license. Mr. D. M. Minuccolo acted as interpreter.

The first witnessed examined was Raffell Scardapane, who swore that he was in Schear's house on Friday last. Schear, he said, sells beer. He has seen him selling it and being paid for it. The defendant was accused of selling the liquor between the 14th of February and the 14th of March, and between these dates witness said he has seen it sold at the house in question. It is bought in kegs and sold for five cents a glass. Witness has obtained beer, paid for it, and drank it in Schear's house. He had a row there on Friday last and was ordered out by the proprietor. He was playing cards there and it was over the game that the trouble started. He went there with a companion and they had two or three drinks before they reached the house, at Tooley's hotel. Witness said he was not drunk. Asked as to the condition of his companion, he seemed uncertain as to how he was, and at first said he was not very drunk and finally stated he was just right. He was in the habit of going to Schear's several times a month. He pointed out Mr. Jas. Drain, the bookkeeper of the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Co., as the man from whom defendant obtained his beer. Mr. Drain produced one of his books in court which showed that Schear had received several kegs of beer from the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Co. at different times. Ed. Fredenberg, the driver, swore that he delivered beer on many occasions to Schear's boarding-house, 294 Aylmer street, and had collected money for it. Frank Nerreno was at Schear's Friday night and was given a glass of beer by Mr. Schear. He didn't pay anything for it.

C. De Piero bought beer at Schear's Friday night at five cents a glass. Several other witnesses were called, and Schear ultimately acknowledged his guilt.

His Worship, in delivering judgment, characterized the house as being very bad, and imposed a fine of $70 and $8.45 costs, making a total of $78.45.

Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for the defence and in the absence of Mr. Wood, Mr. E. H. D. Hall conducted the prosecution.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Speaking of the Summers Stock Co., which will be at the Grand all next week, the Kingston Whig says: The second appearance of the George H. Summers Big Stock Company at the Grand Opera House last evening was an decided success. The beautiful melo-drama of "Why Women Divorce" was presented. Belle Stevenson in the leading role of Florence Grantley, the faithful but dethroned wife in the affections of her husband, touched a sympathetic chord in the hearts of those present by the ability she displayed in her difficult part. Miss Ward, as Blanche Sterling, the accomplished adventurer and renegade wife, won favour by the able manner in which she acted. "Kitty Aryman, the romantic kitchen maid, caused much laughter by her declaration of love for Mortimer Theopilus Muggs," G. H. Summers, the hungry rag-bag, who was always looking for hash, who kept the audience convulsed with laughter by his antics, which finally landed him in Sing Sing. R. F. Rupp, as Harry Grantley, the deluded husband, has a difficult tangle to unravel, but won wife and happiness in the end. The balance of the company ably assisted in the success of the performance.

The specialties alone were worth more than the price of admission. The Valpros rendered some beautiful selections on the bells. Tot Young the eccentric coloured comedian and banjo expert, was very amusing. Una Pelham sang charmingly, while O. Roberts, in his illustrated songs, was all that could be desired.

Endorse Action Of County Council

Lakefield, March 16th.—A regular meeting of the town council was held in the town hall on Monday evening last. The members present were, Reeve Moore in the chair and Councillors Burgess, Cornish, Croter, and Duff.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and confirmed.

Mr. O. A. Langley appeared before the council on behalf of the Dickson Co., who objected to the closing of Dublin street, from Concession street to the westerly limit of the property of the Portland Cement Co., as advertised in the Lakefield News, January 31st, 1906. The Dickson Company would raise no objection if the said street was closed entirely to the Otonabee River, but otherwise they would object.

Moved by Messrs Burgess and Carter that the request of the Dickson Company, of Peterborough, asking that the matter of closing Dublin street from Concession street to westerly limit of the property of the Portland Cement Company, be laid over till Friday night for further consideration, and to enable the Dickson Company to be present.—Carried.

A petition was received from M. Fischer and seventeen others asking that a cement crossing be put down on Queen street from east to west at Bate's store or Fischer's tailor shop.

Moved by Messrs. Burgess and Carter, that the petition asking for a crossing to be put down from corner M. Fischer's to Bickell's shop be referred to the street and sidewalk committee.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Duff and Cornish, that this council place on record their appreciation of the action of the County Council in their choice of the Preston property as a site for the House of Refuge, and that they regret that "Douro Ratepayer" should so maliciously attack the action of so honourable a body.—Carried.

A Good Team In Port Hope

This is the Prospect for Baseball This Year.

The Port Hope baseball club held their annual meeting at the Hotel St. Lawrence on Wednesday evening and there was quite a large attendance. From present indications baseball will flourish here this season, and the local management expects to be in a position to place a championship nine in the field. Several first-class players are desirous of locating here. So if you chance to see several strange chaps about shortly you will know they are players.—Guide.

Mr. Darroch Was Mobbed By Barrie Youths

President of O.H.A. Had Exciting Time at That Town Monday.

Those who saw President Darroch of the O.H.A. at the banquet here on Monday night, had little idea that just about six hours before he had been the target for a goodly number of mature eggs thrown by some over-enthusiastic Barrie youngsters, who were sore over his action in the celebrated Rowe case. He was tough, and the story is told in the Toronto evening papers as follows:

Barrie, Ont., March 15.—Mr. D. L. Darroch, President of the Ontario Hockey Association, came to Barrie Monday morning and spent the greater part of the forenoon making business calls. His presence in town had been noised about, and it was learned that he intended going northward on the noon train. In the meantime a gang of small boys had organized an attack and while Mr. Darroch was proceeding along Elizabeth street, in the vicinity of "Five Points," he was unexpectedly greeted with a volley of hoots and stale eggs.

Three or four of the missiles found their mark, striking Mr. Darroch on the back, neck and shoulder, and his overcoat presented unmistakable evidence of youthful indignation.

Jeered and Hooted.

Deeming discretion the better part of valour, he made his way rapidly via Dunlop street to the Queen's, being jeered and hooted along the route. He afterwards emerged from the hotel and started for the depot, and when opposite the post office was met by Mr. Alex. Habbick, of the local hockey club, who escorted him into the building.

Meanwhile the gang had assembled on the station platform just a few yards distant, and lay in wait for their quarry. However, by a flank movement Mr. Habbick succeeded in eluding the vigilance of the crowd and quickly assisted Mr. Darroch to the rear step of the Meaford train, which was just pulling out for Allandale.

Mercantile Championship

The Happy Thoughts and Pill Pounders play between 10 and 11 to-night for the mercantile championship. Both teams provided a pretty fair article of hockey and the game will probably be quite interesting. Mr. Ira Moore will referee. The Happy Thoughts line-up will be:—

Goal, G. Archibald; point, E. M. Best; cover point, A. Weeks; rover, J. McNern; centre, E. Reid; right wing, Ray Best; left wing, Charles Folly.

Referee—Ira. Moore.

Barrie hockey enthusiasts are "bad eggs".

Lindsay Curlers Are Here To-day

The curling games between the two Lindsay rinks that participated in the Winnipeg Bonspiel are in the city today and gave the locals a game. A large number of onlookers were present this afternoon to see the sweepers that won such renown in the west. The play commenced at 1.30 and at the time of going to press was not concluded. The ice was never in a better condition and the individual plays are of a scientific variety. At the time of writing Mr. Flavelle's rink was in the lead but Mr. Macintosh's was short a few points. The following are the rinks competing:—

The Actuary Gave Evidence To Commission

The Insurance Commission Is Not Wasting Time.

MR. HELLMUTH'S PROTEST

Promised Opportunity to Cross-Examine Later—Wants to Take Each Witness in Order—Mr. Blackadar's Duties—Actuary Explains His Duties and His Part in Inspecting the Insurance Companies.

Ottawa, March 17.—At the opening of the insurance investigation yesterday Mr. Tilley was about to begin his examination of Mr. Blackader, the chief clerk of the Insurance Department, when Mr. Hellmuth, counsel for the policyholders of Ontario, rose and protested. He objected vigorously to the taking away of Mr. Fitzgerald until he he (Mr. Hellmuth) had an opportunity of examining him.

"I submit," said Mr. Hellmuth, "that it is a very unusual course to have a witness examined for two days on behalf of the Crown or the Dominion and then to withdraw that witness and substitute another one for him. It is certainly not according to any procedure that would be allowed in any court. It will be impossible to do justice to the matters arising out of Mr. Fitzgerald's evidence if other parties are to be examined in the meantime. It is a very serious question whether the proper elucidation of this subject can be had if Mr. Fitzgerald's examination on these points is not concluded. We want to know what portion of the inspection is actually performed by Mr. Fitzgerald and what knowledge he brought to bear upon the matters entrusted to him. It is very material to find out what knowledge he possessed prior to this investigation and not what he may acquire during the course of this inquiry, and especially from the evidence of Mr. Blackader, an expert actuary."

Will Have Another Chance.

Mr. Tilley replied briefly that the examining counsel also wanted to examine Mr. Fitzgerald at greater length on many points arising from his evidence, but that he had been instructed to procure certain correspondence and documents from the department, and to save time counsel thought it well to proceed with the evidence of Mr. Blackader.

Mr. Hellmuth replied briefly, reiterating his arguments that it was not fair to examine the superintendent after he has had a chance to supplement his knowledge from the evidence of experts. Policyholders had a right to know just what knowledge he had prior to the inquiry.

After a little more cross-firing the chairman of the commission overruled Mr. Hellmuth's objection. He said that it appeared fair to the commissioners to allow examining counsel all reasonable latitude and instructed Mr. Tilley to proceed.

Mr. Blackadar's Duties.

In answer to questions witness stated his qualifications as an actuary, length of service in the Insurance Branch, and the duties he performed. He assisted Mr. Fitzgerald in the inspection of companies; this began in February and lasted about five months. Witness said the work of the department had greatly increased in recent years, though the staff had only increased by one. In making an inspection of a company's books he went through the journal and ledger carefully, and asked for an explanation of any suspicious-looking items. In this work he relied on the company for clerical assistance. In regard to real estate he sought only to find that the property was worth the amount of the valuation, not to see if it was worth more. He would need considerable assistance to examine all the loans on real estate or to make an audit of the books.

"Do you start with the assumption that work of the auditor has been properly done?" asked Mr. Tilley. "Yes," was the reply, with the further admission that the auditors are men appointed by the company.

Witness cited the case of the Sun Life, where the inspection was suspended until the end of November, 1905, and in the meantime the blue book appeared. The reason of the suspension was because he desired to consult with the superintendent regarding the entry in the ledger of profits on securities sold.

Some Errors Were Found.

In almost all the statements of the companies he had found a few errors, such as charging interest due, but unpaid, as interest paid. Before the annual blue book is issued the various companies are furnished with a proof of the report concerning itself, and asked to state any objections they may have to the statement. No comment was made by the department in the report if the value of any bonds held as investment have shrunk materially between the 31st December and the issue of the report.

Taking up the report of securities held by the Canada Life, Mr. Blackadar said he had not checked over the market value given, and it would not probably have been checked had not this discussion occurred.

It was pointed out by Mr. Leighton McCarthy that the total cost of the municipal debentures held by that company had been $1,618,000 and the market value was placed at $1,642,000.

Mr. Hellmuth said the total cost to the company of the stock and bonds it held was $17,349,000 and the market value was shown to be $17,642,000, a difference of $460,000 only, which Mr. Langmuir suggested was very small.

He Had No Authority.

In the course of examination as to the methods of inspection, witness said that where he found an increase in an item of expenses he called attention to it, and usually a reason was given for the expenditure. Witness made no inquiry as to the propriety of the expenditure beyond that, and the explanation was satisfactory in that it furnished an explanation, but he had no authority to criticise the payments. He had reported cases where subscriptions had been made to sanitariums, and Mr. Fitzgerald had corresponded with companies on the matter. Reports could be produced where he had called the attention of Mr. Fitzgerald to the fact that companies had invested in securities not authorized by the act.

Mr. Blackadar gave a technical definition of the reserve which the insurance companies are required to hold. Mr. Tilley translated the evidence of the witness to mean that the reserve on a policy was different between the future liability of the company on the policy and the worth of the policy to the company, the future and the net premiums to be received both computed at present time.

The Expenses Varied.

With reference to the expenses of life insurance companies, Mr. Blackadar said that for an old company doing no new business the expenses might be as low as 5 or 10 per cent., but with an active company doing a large amount of new business the percentage would be much higher, probably 20 per cent., but when asked by Mr. Tilley he would not commit himself to 30 per cent. Reserve funds had a benefit from the excess of interest and savings in mortality. The average rate of interest earned by companies on investments was 4 4-5 per cent. instead of 3 1-2, the nominal rate. The larger rate received could be attributed in part to the larger powers given to insurance companies with regard to investments. A large number of loans at a high rate in the northwest had also been a factor.

The further examination of Mr. Blackadar was postponed until next sitting on Tuesday next.

DECISION OF MINE WORKERS.

Endorse Resolution to Meet Again With the Employers.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 17.—At yesterday's session of the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, the scale committee reported as follows: Whereas, the president of the United States has requested President Mitchell to make another effort to avert a strike of the coal miners of the country.

And, whereas, President Mitchell has called a convention as per request of the president of the United States; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we heartily indorse the policy and action of President Mitchell in this matter, and now hold ourselves in readiness to meet our employers for the purpose of endeavoring to effect a satisfactory settlement of the wage question."

The report was adopted.

James Blee offered an amendment to provide for a specific scale, but this was defeated.

Inverness, C.B., March 17.—About 100 men in the Inverness Railway and Coal Co. mines struck yesterday because of the introduction of the dockage system.

Halifax, N. S., March 17.—The North German Lloyd steamer Konigin Luise, on passage from New York to Italy, put in here Thursday with her rudder shaft broken. She has 350 passengers. The accident occurred in a tempestuous sea on Tuesday.

Refuses to Plead.

Boise, Idaho, March 17.—Harry Orchard, who is alleged to have confessed that he killed former Governor Steuenberg, Thursday refused to plead, and a plea of not guilty was entered by order of the court. No time was set for trial.

Two Steamers Burn.

St. John, N. B., March 17.—The St. John River steamers, Beatrice Waring and Springfield, were totally destroyed by fire Thursday. The Waring was practically a new boat and cost in the vicinity of $40,000.

The Permanent Style and Shape of Semi-ready Garments

Everyone wants style in his clothes. Some men say they don't, but they are mistaken.

Almost all ready-made clothing has style in it. In fact, it is style that sells half the ordinary ready-made clothes.

But there are two kinds of style—surface style and through-and-through tailored style. There is as much difference between them as there is between a wooden house painted to look like stone and a solid stone house.

Surface-style is created principally in the pressing room—put in with the hot iron—it pleases you when you try it on, but after a couple of weeks wear it looks as if it had been drawn through a knot-hole.

Our styles are designed by the acknowledged best clothing designer in America. Semi-ready styles are right—then we tailor them permanently.

Semi-ready style is built from the foundation out. Every step in the construction is in the hands of expert tailors. The shoulders are permanently stitch-moulded into shape (see the illustration), not pressed and shrunk by a hot iron only to sag out of shape after a little wear.

Every part of every Semi-ready garment is stitched into permanent shape. If the least unevenness shows it is ripped and re-stitched, not smoothed over with a hot iron. Every garment is passed by an expert as perfect in shape before it goes to the pressers.

Semi-ready fit is a certainty. Our plan of physique types cover every class of figure. Short stouts and tall stouts, sloping shoulders and over-erect, all variations of figure are provided for in the Semi-ready plan.

These points give you style, fit and comfort——now for wear.

Every piece of cloth that comes into our tailorey has been selected at the mill by our cloth experts; before it is placed in stock it is tested by the most severe tests. Some cloth men say we are too severe, but we think not, for we put our reputation back of every thread of it when we sew the Semi-ready label in a garment.

The silk-sewn seams, the carefully selected linings, the perfectly made button-holes, every little detail is carefully watched so as to make Semi-ready tailoring the best produced.

You can see the style, fit and fitness of a Semi-ready garment when you try it on—there is no guess work—and our guarantee covers any possible development.

Next time you are thinking of clothes drop in and see us—in justice to yourself, you should investigate our claims.

Yesterday's Doings In The Local House

Legislature In Committee On Mr. Hoyle's Company Bill.

LICENSE BILL ON TUESDAY

Important Assessment Act Amendment Proposed—Townships to Have Sidewalk Building Privileges—Officials Appointed by the Present Government—Ice at $2 a Ton This Year, Cost Only 20c. in 1905.

Toronto, March 17.—In the consideration in Committee of the Whole House yesterday in the Legislature of Mr. Hoyle's bill respecting prospectuses issued by companies, Mr. A. G. MacKay once more demonstrated the alertness and judgment of the Opposition in calling attention to the clause which would make it a legal act to induce a person to purchase stock by offering him a consideration. The clause in the bill was allowed to stand for further consideration.

The Provincial Secretary stated that the Government liquor license bill would be introduced next Tuesday.

New Business Tax.

Mr. McNaught introduced a bill which asked that the business tax on manufacturing businesses be levied on a proportion of 50 per cent. of the real estate value of the premises occupied, instead of being 60 per cent. as at present.

Dr. Nixon submitted a bill to amend the municipal act so as to give townships the same privileges in building sidewalks as towns and villages.

A bill introduced by Mr. Patterson is intended to relieve municipalities from the burden of maintaining consumptive patients able to contribute to their support. It provides for the keep of indigent consumptives only.

The following bills were also read a first time:

Mr. Nixon: To amend the Municipal Act.

Mr. Morrison: To authorize the construction of sewers in the City of Belleville.

Got Government Jobs.

Hon. Mr. Hanna said in reply to Mr. McDougall that 32 officials had been appointed by the Government in East and West Nipissing.

Hon. Mr. Hanna gave Mr. Hoyle the particulars of the incorporation of the Trust Valley, Sugar, Provision and Cold Storage Co. The Government had not endorsed the authorized capital or any bonds or debentures; had promised no financial aid towards the erection of the proposed cold storage plant, and the company had not made its annual returns in compliance with the Companies' Act.

Replying to Mr. May, the Provincial Secretary said McGee, Walton & Co., had the contract for supplying tea to the Hamilton asylum in 1904, and Dewey & O'Heir in 1905. The price per ton in 1904 was $1.08, and in 1905, 90 cents. McGee, Walton & Co. had the contract for 1906 at $2 a ton, the contract having been made on Feb. 20, 1906. Mr. Hanna added that prices were got from all sources and this was the best.

The License Inspectors.

Mr. McMillan was granted an order for a return showing the names and particulars of all license inspectors appointed since the first day of February, 1905.

Mr MacKay moved for a return showing the number of various class teachers' certificates obtained at the examinations of 1900-01-02-03-04-05.

Mr. Smyth asked for a return of all correspondence with a copy of any order-in-council in the matter of granting certificates to the Home Guard, who served in the Fenian Raid of 1866. His view that they should receive grants was shared by Mr. Preston of Brant, who pointed out that the Guard had bought their own outfits and uniforms.

Mr. Ferguson's license amendment, which proposed that no shop licenses be issued in places under 2,000 inhabitants, was withdrawn.

House in Committee.

The House went into committee on Mr. Hoyle's bill respecting prospectuses issued by companies.

In answer to various points raised by members, it was pointed out by Mr. Hoyle that all this would appear in the prospectus. This bill was for the purpose of exposing fraudulent practices.

"It means," suggested the Premier, "that that which has been done in the dark must be done in the open light of day."

Mr. MacKay argued that if a practice was wrong it ought to be stopped. It was not enough to expose the transaction.

Municipalities and Niagara Power.

Galt, March 17.—Yesterday arrangements were effected for a meeting of representatives of the boards of trade and citizens of the following towns, to be held in Galt Friday afternoon next: Galt, Berlin, Waterloo, Hespeler, Preston, Hamburg, Tillsonburg, St. George, Milton, Paris, Ayr and Brampton. At this meeting joint action will be taken towards promoting the object Hon. Adam Beck has in view, namely, to induce the Government to take the power generated by the private company at the falls and distribute it to the municipalities which ask for it.

The Adventurers

By H. B. MARRIOTT WATSON

COPYRIGHT, 1898, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

Sheppard rose and when the man returned he offered him with some ceremony to the table. "A chair for Mr. Hood," he said. "Where will you sit, Mr. Hood—by the captain? That's right. Please make yourself comfortable. We have just enjoyed an excellent dinner very well served, Mr. Hood, but I fear you are too late. Montgomery, a glass of wine for Mr. Hood. Business is business, and I never conduct a piece without the usual sherry."

If this elaborate irony disturbed Sercombe, as it seemed to do, it had no effect upon Hood.

"Thank you, sir. I will stand, sir. No wine, thank you, sir." Such was his brief reception of the courtesies.

He assumed a place at the back of the captain, commanding a view of the table. Sercombe spread his hands upon the table.

"Gentlemen, let us show our cards," he said.

There was a momentary silence, and then I was conscious of a slight bustle of excitement that stirred the room into sound. Sheppard looked at me, and Montgomery's gaze was riveted upon the captain. Sheppard coughed gently and sipped his wine.

"That is a very proper demand, Captain Sercombe," I said, "seeing that it is what we are here for, but I hardly yet see my way clear to table all my tricks. Let us understand one another better."

The captain did not color, as he might well have colored under this implicit distrust. As I have said, he was singular in the partial hold he kept upon his gentility. Instead he laughed, but somewhat awkwardly.

"I see," he answered and looked down at his hands, appearing to consider. He lifted a big and somewhat clumsy hand and scratched his swollen cheek, smoothing a long wisp of red hair across his naked crown. "I cannot pretend to misunderstand you," he declared at last and shot a glance aside at Hood, who had fallen slightly away from the table and stood intently watching the scene. "But I think it is somewhat unnecessary, Mr. Greatorex," he said, again very awkwardly, and he laughed shortly, and again his eyes flew to Hood, directing at him, as it seemed to me in that light, a glance of warning, of appeal, even of fear.

"No doubt," said I in return, "but you must remember that I have already had experience of your possibilities. But come; we shall get no further unless we can strike a compromise. If you will produce your fragment of the document"—

"You assume that I have it," he broke in, with his discordant laugh. "You are taking a good deal for granted."

"I assume nothing," said I. "Do not let us bandy words."

Sercombe lifted the decanter which stood at his elbow and filled his glass with a hand that shook. He drained it at a draft and turned to Hood. The innkeeper glided to his chair, and something passed from hand to hand. Sercombe put the torn fragment upon the table before him. He looked at me, as if inviting me to a similar demonstration. We were to proceed by moves, then.

"I have no evidence that this is the document," I objected.

"Nor I, in your case," he retorted.

"Very well," I assented. "We will take it point by point, but I fear we shall find it a tedious job."

I drew the paper from my pocket and laid it before me. At the other end of the table I could see Sercombe's green eyes bulging in his head as they fastened upon the white thing under my hand. His mouth dropped, and a portion of the glow receded from his face. Montgomery stared. A tense feeling stiffened the attention of all. I felt my heart throb in the silence, and then suddenly there was a sharp exclamation from Sheppard, and the next moment I was conscious of a clatter and two figures struggling beside me. The affair lasted but a few seconds, and then Hood was hurled deftly back against the window, and Sheppard flung upon the floor with a crash a long Spanish dagger.

A hush fell on the room. Sercombe turned pale, and his eyes shifted uneasily. Had it been murder that was intended? If so, I could have sworn that Sercombe was no party to it.

"It appears that we can't do quite without the law," said Sheppard, placing his heel upon the weapon. Hood, breathing deeply, remained in the shadows of the window.

"What does this mean?" I asked.

Hood, black and lean, but immovable as to feature, stepped from his corner. "I beg your pardon, sir," he explained, "but I suppose the gentleman objects to my wearing it. It isn't a pretty weapon, sir, exactly, but I have found it useful, sir. I thought there would be no objection. Mr. Greatorex, sir, more especially as the gentleman here carries a revolver." He indicated Montgomery, who grew red and stammered:

"I beg your pardon. Awfully sorry. I—I—here it is," and extracting a Colt from under his waistcoat he threw it on the table in front of me.

Sheppard and I exchanged glances.

"Come, sir," said Sercombe's voice, rising in an imperative key, "but this remarkable scene requires an explanation. Why may not Mr. Hood wear what weapon he likes?"

"Was there anything?" I asked of Sheppard in a whisper.

He frowned in embarrassment. "To have waited for anything would have been too late," he answered in the same tone. "I had to forestall. I guessed, but I'll swear I guessed right. I can't prove it. I caught the gleam." Then he turned quickly from me and picking up the dagger offered it to Hood. "I am sorry for this misunderstanding, Mr. Hood," he said sweetly. "If I had stopped to think I should have known that a man like yourself would only carry a weapon for some good purpose. But I am a creature of impulse, full of mistakes, but of a warm heart below all, and I offer you the dagger back in token of my trust in you," with which he sat himself down in his seat and ostentatiously played with Montgomery's revolver for the rest of the interview.

"Come, come. That is well said and well ended," said the captain genially, and he was evidently very much relieved at the conclusion of this scene. "And now, Mr. Greatorex, and to show that it is not both sides that are so unnecessarily suspicious, if you will be so good as to take this paper from me I will trust you to read out the whole document."

This proposal, coming on the top of what had happened between us, astounded us all, as you may suppose. But Sercombe was merely at a loss for some amazing movement, and he knew well enough that he was perfectly safe with me, whereas he was also aware that I knew I was absolutely unsafe with him. Therefore he assumed a golden air of courtesy and lofty faith, as between gentlemen. But these reflections are not to the point, for there was I, with the two parts of the precious document in my hands and four pairs of bright eyes burning upon my face with their eager interrogation. You may conjecture my emotions and the way my pulse ran. I spread the paper I had received from Sercombe upon the other, smoothed it with the back of a knife and, forthwith deciphering the following composition, read it slowly aloud to the company:

"I, Sir Ralph Vyvian, being now in my thirtieth year and upon the eve of exile through the malicious treachery of friends, this 15th day of April, in the year of our Lord 1646, do hereby, as follows hereunder, give and proclaim to all or any of my descendants, lawfully begotten, or their heirs, the ensuing information. It being in the twentieth year of the reign of our beloved sovereign his gracious majesty and in the fifth of the lamentable and abominable strife with the disloyal houses, I was besieged in Ivor castle by one Colonel Morgan, attached to the army of the houses and more particularly to the notorious traitor Sir Thomas Fairfax. I held this castle for the king for three days and three nights, but upon the fourth day, this said 15th day of April, through the accursed act of traitors, the enemy hath gained entrance by the towers and even now is pressing upon the garrison. And thus I set down these several facts here upon the instant of the final essay—to wit, that I, being the custodian of divers cases of treasure, gold pieces, jewels and the like, destined for his majesty's uses, having taken counsel with my steward and my friend Sir John Clunes, have concealed this great treasure in a privy place within the castle precincts and do hereby deposit this said writing also in a secret hiding place. And to whomsoever of my descendants or their lawful heirs this shall fall, in the event of my death or exile, I charge them to deliver the same unto his gracious majesty King Charles or unto his heirs, the sovereign kings of this realm, as a dutiful subject, being held in trust for that purpose.

"And here is how ye shall find the treasure: If ye will descend by the stairway in the guard room within the northern tower ye will find a gallery among the donjons of the basement. Keep upon this, feeling upon the walls, until ye shall touch the corner where the castle turneth to the south"—

Now I paused for a moment, for here the document which Sercombe had given me was ended. I cast a glance at the others as I laid it aside and took up the other portion. Sercombe's face was appalling in its marks of greed. The vulture shone from Hood's eyes. I resumed:

"Turning this corner, it is necessary to proceed upon the western side of the castle for the space of thirty footsteps, and at the close thereof to pause and survey the walls. If ye will then determine a height of five feet from the footway, there will be hereupon disclosed a small knobbe, the which revolving will give access to a large cupboard within the wall. Observe diligently upon the back of the cupboard and where the oaken lining adjoins the stone. Here will be a spring, the which pushing, a doorway shall open behind the cupboard, and ye shall find entrance to an interior vault. A flight of stairway leadeth"—

At this point, as you will remember,

As I rose a man grappled with me.

now the whole document of the late Mr. Kesteven in your possession I wish you joy of it."

"There is one word more," said I sternly. "The man who stole this piece of paper from its owner is morally guilty of his death."

"Fish!" he exclaimed lightly. "We can't make an omelet without breaking eggs, Mr. Greatorex. And now I must reluctantly wish you goodby. I owe you an excellent dinner, and if fortune favors me I shall look forward to returning it. There is no need to part on bad terms."

He held out his hand, but ere I could accept or refuse it Sheppard sprang forward. "Allow me, captain," he said.

"Ah," smiled Sercombe, in no way abashed by my hesitation, "it is a pity you and I are not cast for companions, Mr. Sheppard."

"At least," said Sheppard, "as scoundrels we can respect each other."

Sercombe broke out laughing, and with one glance at Hood, in which, as I thought, he appeared to offer a question, he marched out of the room. The innkeeper followed, and Sheppard went after them, full of geniality to the last and calling for Captain Sercombe's cloak. Out of the window I saw them pass under the dim light of the oil lamp before the doorway, and Sheppard was still ushering them across the courtyard to the gateway of the castle.

Suddenly I heard my name called in a loud voice, and Montgomery started to his feet and threw open the window. This gave upon the courtyard from the northerly side of the castle. In an instant I recognized the cry of Sheppard, piercing shrilly through the noise and clatter of a struggle. Shouting to Montgomery to follow me, I dashed out of the room and down the staircase, almost falling upon the slippery cobble of the courtyard in my haste. As I rose a man grappled with me; but, being now strung to fighting pitch by my excited anticipations, I flung him heavily to the stones, where he lay inert, and I leaped over his body to the assistance of Sheppard.

CHAPTER IX.

YOU will remember, if I have been explicit enough, that the entrance to the castle lay across the drawbridge and by way of a great stone archway running through the width of the easterly wing. This passage, which was not more than ten feet across, was in effect a vault twenty feet high and thirty feet long. It was here that the noise attracted me, and into this narrow channel I ran, breaking tumultuously upon the aggregated knot of men that seemed to struggle in the uncertain light. Stars illumined the sky very faintly, but in that passage the gloom was heavy, and I could perceive very little. As I was casting about, tossing among the swaying bodies, I saw immediately to my right the fair head of Sheppard rise, struck with the evening glow from without. Forthwith I dashed the body nearest me to the ground and with my fist dislodged another man in front of me. Then I heard Sercombe's voice raised in angry remonstrance. I gathered nothing, neither words nor sense, from it, but, occupied merely with the physical lust of battle, drove right through the press of the melee to Sheppard. It seemed to me then that there were dozens of people crowded within those narrow walls, but I believe, as a matter of fact, that there were only some eight of us. Sheppard rose and fell and rose again.

"Ned! Ned!" he called, and at the sound, plunging upon human bodies, I lurched and went under. A stampede of feet seemed to rush over me. I felt battered and bruised; the wind was all out of my lungs; but, slowly edging on my stomach toward the wall, I drew out of the press. As I did so I heard a great dull noise, thud, thud, intervening upon the sounds of the struggle, and presently, my eyes being now accustomed to the darkness, I caught sight of Montgomery's tall form, his arms uplifted and wielding a heavy bar of iron.

"Bravo!" I cried and, struggling to my feet, pushed toward him.

"Turn, you fools! Curse you, turn!" said Sercombe's voice.

I was conscious then of white teeth and a grotesque screw neck that rose up before me, and even while I put up my hands to choke it I felt the warm sting of a knife in my shoulder blade. By some magical thought, dawning at the moment, I recalled Montgomery's revolver, which I carried in my breast pocket, and, producing it, fired at the bestial form before me. There was a sharp cry, the enemy appeared to recoil, and then Montgomery's flail descended in a pitiless shower of blows. Of Sheppard there was no sign.

Seeing that the affray was turning in our favor, I sprang to the side, and, opening a small doorway in the southerly drum tower, rushed up the stairs. It was fortunate that I had made so complete a study of the castle. I found the crank I wanted and turned the wheel, putting forward all the strength I had in my muscles. Slowly the mighty portcullis descended, shrieking as it fell, but this, as I had hoped, following upon the report of my revolver and accompanied as it was with Montgomery's continuous and powerful blows, proved the turning point for our enemies. As the groaning gate descended there were cries uttered in a foreign tongue, and a rush ensued for the gateway. Leaving the machine to revolve by its own impetus, I flew down into the archway. Sercombe stood in the light expostulating. Montgomery's weapon stretched some one flat upon the stones as I entered, and the

What We Claim for Ferrol

FERROL is an Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, and if it were nothing more it would take front rank because of the quality and quantity of the oil used and the scientific method of preparation. But FERROL has special claims which take it out of the ordinary class of Emulsion altogether. For instance:

FERROL combines Iron and Phosphorus with the oil, and no other emulsion contains these ingredients, although it is well known that they should always be administered together, as each is the complement of the other.

FERROL is so scientifically prepared that the first processes of digestion are actually performed in the process of manufacture, and the emulsion is ready for instant absorption into the blood. This is of the utmost importance to persons with delicate stomachs.

unlike other emulsions, is positively palatable, and not one in a thousand find any difficulty in taking it.

FERROL contains the three essentials of life, viz.: Fat, Iron, and Phosphorus—they have never been combined before.

FERROL holds the record for increasing the weight.

FERROL has received more endorsations from medical men than any other preparation on the market.

FERROL will cure any case of Consumption that is capable of cure.

FERROL is an absolute specific for Colds, Croup, Bronchitis and all kindred troubles.

FERROL is an unfailing remedy for nervous prostration, Chronic Rheumatism and Neuralgia.

Finally, the formula is freely published, and in taking FERROL you "Know what you take."

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in the prominent Hospitals, Sanitoriums, etc.

man crawled off. I fired another chamber of the revolver aimlessly, and the flash lit up the passage while the sound reverberated dully from the groined vault. The portcullis fell lower and Sercombe was driven across the drawbridge by his retreating allies.

"Dead or living, they shall have him," said some one in my ear, and I beheld Sheppard, his face smeared with blood, dragging a body in his arms. Together we thrust it forth, and it lay halfway across the threshold. The portcullis dropped inexorably and was now within a foot of the ground. The man lay under the range of its iron spikes. The wheels creaked above, and the distance shortened. Montgomery ran forward and shoved the body outward. But it still hung halfway. And then Sercombe came rapidly back and, stooping, by a swift movement drew the inanimate form from beneath the iron spikes of the drawbridge. He said no word, but merely glanced at us as we stood behind the grille.

As Sercombe's figure faded blackly into the night I turned and peered into the gloom of the archway where my companion stood.

Sheppard struck a match, and the tiny flame cast a precarious light upon the three of us. Two streaks of blood crossed Sheppard's forehead.

"First blood and first honors," he said.

Montgomery breathed like a blacksmith.

"It was a mean trick," he observed.

An acute pain struck suddenly through my shoulder. "The foreigners use their knives aptly," I remarked.

"They do that," said Montgomery fiercely. "One devil has pierced my stomach through."

"Let us go back to the house," I said and, setting the example, turned. Sheppard's light went out, and as the flame vanished the blue-black darkness fell like a pall again. We walked back into the castle.

"What about this wound, Montgomery?" I asked anxiously.

The boy stood up straight, his well cut face severe and immobile.

"It's no wound," he rejoined. "A pin prick."

"Oh, well, let us see," I said carelessly.

He stripped off his shirt and coat, and a great red bulging spot met my eye below the breast. Sheppard put his fingers on it.

"That wants a bandage," he said, and, meeting my eye—"no, there's nothing much in it. A nasty place, but merely superficial."

"We'll have old Toms over tomorrow," I said.

"The doctor?" queried Sheppard. "But what about"—

"Oh, I dare say we can compose some sort of lie. Besides, as a medical man, our confidences are sacred."

"That's true," said Sheppard, and a little silence fell between us. "Well," he resumed presently, "can we sleep, do you think?"

"I think we are likely to have a lively night," I answered. "And for me, I am in no mood for bed."

"Nor I," declared Montgomery.

"Very good," says Sheppard. "Then what about this treasure?"

"Precisely what I was thinking," I said.

"Let us see the papers," said he.

"Oh, I have them burning in my mind," I answered. "And if all are agreeable, we may take a lantern. They won't trouble us just yet."

Montgomery wrenched at the knob.

But just at that moment came a knock at the door, and Mrs. Main showed in the open doorway, wearing a face of alarm.

"Mr. Montgomery's pistol went off by accident," said Sheppard promptly. Mrs. Main apologised and retired.

"I think we shall have to square the old lady or get rid of her," I observed.

"Leave that to me," says Sheppard cheerfully.

"Well, come along," said I, and, seizing the lantern, I stepped out into the courtyard and made for the entrance to the northerly drum tower.

Sheppard broke a jest or two at the entrance as we stumbled up the stairs, but once we were in the passage and had descended into the basement a deep silence enveloped us. The corridor rang with our feet, and the great slabs of stones were damp, to be felt even through our boots. As we proceeded on the way I noticed that now and then a narrow passage branched off to the right, and on each occasion, at the farther end, I caught the soft glow of the external lights of the night. From this I gathered that the chambers we were passing (whatever was the use to which they had been put) were cut off by exiguous channels to the outer wall of the castle and breasted by gratings on the moat. One of these passages explored, and by peering through the grating, set with heavy iron bars, we were able to perceive that the floor of the sepulchral corridor was buried some feet below the level of the moat itself, for the gratings stood high above our heads and were only reached by climbing. I assumed that they stood just above the proper level of the water.

We were now, we judged, upon the western face of the castle—that is to say, upon the back parts which looked upon the park of trees and the brook behind, where the hill (or pitch, as it was called) rose in a thicket to its uttermost summit. We had twice turned at right angles and, pausing, consulted the document once again for the sake of certainty. We had now to proceed some thirty paces. Suddenly I stopped.

"The wall," said Sheppard, who had the paper by heart as well as myself, and forthwith set to fingering upon the right hand.

"There is no doorway here," he observed in a low voice, "and yet this should be a chamber such as we have passed already."

"Five feet from the ground," I said in equally low tones; "that is what it says."

"Is it here?" he whispered.

Sheppard gave vent to an exclamation. "Got it," he said sharply. "Throw the light this way."

I moved the lantern forward, and sure enough there under Sheppard's hand stood out a round iron knob or handle in the huge masonry.

"Press," said I.

"No; turn," said he.

Nothing ensued upon his action. "Let Montgomery try," I suggested.

The boy stepped forward and wrenched at the knob.

"It's stiff with rust of centuries, but it's set in iron," said Sheppard. "We shall want oil."

"Oil be hanged!" said Montgomery. "I'll do this or die."

He swung, doubling on himself, and the veins jumped in his forehead.

"You will move your wound," I protested. Montgomery said nothing, but renewed his exertions, and with a creak the knob turned and a gap grew in the wall.

"Hurrah!" said Sheppard, his voice ricochetting down the musty corridor.

"Hush!" I enjoined. "Pull it open." The two tore back the cupboard door, and my lantern flashed on an appalling space of blackness.

"There is nothing here," said Montgomery.

"We're not finished, you duffer," said Sheppard eagerly. "Feel along the back wall. Here, let me. Oh, the devil! I'm too short!"

Thrusting the lantern into Sheppard's hands, I sprang at the wall, and with a leap seated myself on the floor of the cupboard.

"The back is wooden," I said. My fingers ran swiftly across the oaken surface and presently stopped. "The lantern," I called to him.

Sheppard let the lantern fall in his excitement, and in a moment we were plunged in darkness. At the same time there arose a sound on the grim silence of the corridor. I drew in my breath, and I think every one did the same. I felt rather than heard Montgomery fumbling with his revolver. Ten, twenty, thirty seconds passed, and then Sheppard struck a match.

"It's the infernal wind," he exclaimed.

The light flared in his face as he relit the lantern, and I noticed that it was wild and burning. With tremulous fingers he handed me the lantern, and the light shone on a bit of steel I held under my thumb. I pressed, and with a jerk the oaken screen fell back. I put out a hand and encountered nothing.

"I'm going through," I said in a whisper. "Follow me. I'll leave the lantern here. Heaven knows what we shall find."

I let myself softly down below, and my feet struck the stone of the floor once more. Sheppard and Montgomery followed. We cast the light about us. We were in a dungeon closed within absolutely blank walls. In the corner some rags and paper lay heaped. I pushed them aside, and they crumbled at the touch of my foot.

"It's not here," said Sheppard. "Throw the light this way. Ah, I thought so!"

Ere he had finished he was halfway up a flight of stone steps, and we followed pellmell. A door of heavy oak barred the way at the top.

"We wanted oil after all," said Sheppard impatiently. Montgomery flung his weight against it, and with a crash it opened.

Montgomery, overbalanced with his effort, staggered and fell upon the threshold, but Sheppard, who was next to him, paid no attention and, turning, looked at me. The light made no way upon the great darkness.

"Do you know where we are?" whispered Sheppard. "This is below the keep. Shall we go in?"

THEY ARE THE BEST

"Certainly," I said, "get Montgomery up." He pulled the lad to his feet, and slowly we shoved back the huge creaking door.

The chamber into which we were now come was small and square and, like that below, barred by solid masonry and unrelieved by window or grating. I found later by calculation that this must be in the very heart of the keep itself and, so wholly disparted from the rest of the castle that the noise of ordnance would scarce have penetrated its deep and dismal recesses. My eyes were drawn as by a magnet to the farther corner of the barren cell, in which I could perceive some formidable shadows wavering beneath the dull, uncertain light of my lantern.

Sheppard also had descried them and, plunging forward with a cry, flung himself upon his knees.

"They are here right enough," he called. And at his words Montgomery and I approached him. I held the light above his head, throwing the faint beams across his shoulder. There were three large oaken cases standing upon legs and simply carved upon the face. The dust lay deep on them, as upon the floor of that interior dungeon. Sheppard brushed the dust away and seized the lock. The hinge fell back to his touch, and slowly he lifted the massive lid.

The light shone still upon dark shadows, but, stooping a little lower, I thrust it into the mouth of the aperture, and our noses hung over the sides of the box together.

The treasure was there for certain. There it lay spread before our greedy faces, the gold and the silver and the precious stones that had been destined to save one king from death and another from exile. I let the pieces slip through my fingers—guineas, moidores, circlets of gold and silver, amulets and all the material gems of the market.

"How much is there?" asked Montgomery.

Sheppard seemed to ponder, measuring rudely with his finger and computing the superficial area of the boxes.

"No one can say offhand," said he, "for there are the jewels, for one thing, among which are rubies. Now, rubies of that size"—and he pounced upon one—"are worth little short of a thousand pounds."

Montgomery gaped and whistled. "Let us make a rough shot and put the box at £50,000. Come; I'll take a bet that it's under the mark."

"Then there are the other two," said I.

"True," said Sheppard. We all looked at one another.

"Come, boys," I said, rising; "let us get out of this. We know our way, and the treasure cannot take itself wings."

Reluctantly they obeyed, and we retraced our steps through the cupboard into the corridor and thence upward through the courtyard and into the living rooms. The dawn was brightening the eastern skies. I pulled out my watch.

"After 3," I said. "You'd better go to bed. There will be nothing happen now."

"Three o'clock!" echoed Sheppard indignantly. "Why, it is the very time for attacks and surprises. No; I'll see it out now."

"Very well," I assented. "We've got to arrange our defense, and as you are all determined not to go to bed we may as well hold a council of war."

"Agreed," said they, and we sat down to the job without further ado. We were agreed to consider 5 in the morning as the break of day for our purposes, and we were hardly exposed to an assault before 8 in the evening. The sky was still luminous at that hour. It was therefore plain that we must set a guard upon those intermediate and nocturnal hours. From 8 till 5 was a space of nine hours. That was to determine for us a watch of three. So far we settled the preliminaries of our defenses. But we had now to consider further. The drum towers commanded the slopes of the valley like two tall sentinels, and from the embrasure of the windows a watch might be kept upon the nether parts of the Gwent. But from one so stationed the back of the park and the crown of the hill behind were quite concealed. In this connection it appeared that the keep would best serve us, more particularly as the upper chambers were readily gained from the inhabited wing of the castle, whereas the towers reared their formidable heads in isolation and led only to the corridors of the basement and to the battlements above. It was in the keep, then, that our sentinel must hold his silent watch. The highest chamber in the keep rose immediately above the level of the battlements and was pierced by narrow slits in the masonry. This was a convenient station, or, better still, the roof of the tower, with which a flight of stairs connected the chamber.

We explored the keep thoroughly ere we had settled this point, and by that time it was 4 o'clock.

"Now, you had better go and lie down," said I to the others; "otherwise you will be nodding on your watches tonight. For my part, there is an hour yet to the time of safety, and I take first watch."

Sheppard expostulated with me for what he termed unnecessary precaution, but I held to my point, and presently they left me.

OLD TWILIGHT'S MUSINGS.

"Always Something Rotten Somewhere," Says "The Khan's" Sage.

"I've been down in the suller sortin' over the apples, an' they's beginning to rot bad," said Old Twilight, who smelt like a cross betwen a cider mill and a mince pie.

"This is the one time o' year fer them to spile," said Aunt Lucy, comfortingly.

"That's it," agreed Old Twilight—"that's it 'sactly. Every day in the year something or other is in season to rot. If it ain't apples it's turmots; if it ain't turmots, it's some other blame thing. Dang! Whenever I take my walks abroad what rotten things I see! Turn where I will, I see something spiled or spilin'. Every fambly has a skeleton in the cupboard, and something rotten in the back yard. I upset a barrel of apples this afternoon, an' one out of every three was only fit for the hogs to eat."

"Why wasn't they fed to the hawgs when they was sound?" snapped Aunt Lucy. "Durn you, Willyum, anyway! you're jes' like the rest of the world, you never give away anything till its rotten.

"Thur's Missus Jones. She'll make a mince pie or angle cake, and she'll put it by in a cupboard, she's that close an' mean there it'll stay till it's blue moulded an' not fit for a body to eat, an' then she up'n and put it on the table—help yourselves!

"Missus Meany, she'll buy a piece of dress goods, and she'll cram it away in some old closet till it's moth-eaten, and then she'll make a present of the measly thing to her darter-in-law, and stay with her two months on the head of it.

"Folks wait till yer dead, and then go round sayin' what a good feller—what a smart pusson he was. That's rotten. Burns died hungry and poor, and before he was stiff the jackasses began to bray 'He was the greatest poet of them all,' an' now they are buildin' monyments over a man who never heard tell of himself when he was alive."

"That was certainly rotten," said Old Twilight.

"Ef you've got any apples to give away, give 'em away when they're sound and sweet, and they'll do some good. Ef you've got any kind words to say, say'm when they'll help, an' not wait till the ears that would have drunk them in with delight kin hear them no more.

"Mos' everybody is throwing away rotten apples, or giving fruit to the hawgs that might have made thousands of homes happy. An obituary notice and a funeral service are both on 'em rotten apples. Some people die of a broken heart, an' melancholy, jes' because they think nobody appreciates them. Say, Willyum, it's enough to make a body cry to hear a preacher get up an' let whang for an hour about his good qualities an' all that, and the poor peeler's boxed up in front an' can't hear a word to save his soul."

"Thur's something funny in that, though, that's human, that is," mused Old Twilight.—The Khan.

Undigested Food
When any portion of food remains in the stomach and refuses to digest, it causes the torments of indigestion. This undigested food rapidly ferments, irritating the sensitive coating of the stomach, while other parts of the body, particularly the head, suffer in consequence.
So long as this undigested food remains in the stomach, the discomfort continues. A few doses of

RADIUM HAS ALL GONE.

Supply of Precious Element Almost Ceased—Prohibitive Prices.

The London Express says: The supply of radium has practically ceased, and the price of this wonderful substance has become almost prohibitive.

"We would very much like to obtain more for our experiments, but we cannot afford it," said a consulting surgeon at a large hospital recently. "The discovery of radium is so important and revolutionary that efforts are being made both in America and this country to obtain efficient radio-active substances from other sources than pitch-blende."

A physicist who has provided many institutions with radium of various qualities said that he was now unable to obtain any more from the great centre in Brunswick.

"It was from the Brunswick centre that Prof. Giesel's pure preparation was obtained," he said. "There were, in fact, only two centres—Paris, where the discoverer's preparation, the Curie radium, was obtained, and Brunswick.

"The fact that the Austrian Government prohibited the export of radium is, of course, the reason of its present price.

"About three years ago it was possible to obtain the highly active radium at £5 for ten milligrammes, or one-fifty thousandth part of a pound.

"Then the price crept up to £7, £11, £13, £25 and now a fair price for this mere speck of the element would be £70.

"The process of extracting these specks of radium from tons of ore is so costly and tedious that it only pays to extract it in its highest and most active form. In this form it is found only in Bohemia. Hence the present difficulty.

Liszt was the most wonderful pianist in musical history. He had prodigious strength of arm and wrist, which enabled him to achieve astounding results, but his delicacy of touch was very remarkable. When learning the piano he was often known to practice from fourteen to eighteen hours a day.

Her Guardian

By FRANK H. SWEET

Copyright, 1905, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

"Then you think you have everything you will need, may need?"

"Everything? Oh, Mr. Barclay!" The girl's eyes were misty with tears. "What makes you so thoughtful of me? At school there was no other girl who had such beautiful and dainty things. And it was not money, for many of them were wealthy. They said I had such exquisite taste, and it was not I at all, but you who procured them and who influenced me into the way of wanting such things, and it used to be the same before I went to school and has been so since I graduated and came home. You are always influencing me toward what is most beautiful in life and then bestowing it on me, so lavishly."

Mr. Barclay's hand moved uneasily among the papers.

"I promised your father"— he began, when she interrupted him with an imperious motion of her hand.

"Yes, yes, I know, but most guardians would have been satisfied with keeping a general oversight and paying the bills. You have been my most intimate friend from the time my father died, when I was only twelve. Why," laughing, and her voice quavering a little, "I have told you my secrets and love affairs as few of the girls I know tell their own mothers. It has seemed perfectly natural. You were interested in them, or appeared to be, and never requested me to keep away from the boys. Indeed, I think you always favored my going with them, only you were careful to inquire about their habits."

She was in a reminiscent mood, and, though her eyes were still moist and tender, her lips were half parted in amused recollection.

"What a lot of boys I must have told you about, Mr. Barclay," she went on, "all those of my early school days, then the ones I met at college and now the young men who have been calling on me during my six months here. You know about the ones I like best and those I just tolerate."

"I am afraid you are a sad flirt, Elinor," he said.

"Yes, I am afraid I am," she agreed readily, her face becoming clouded. "But what can I do? The boys seem nice, and I like them, but some way when I come to know them better they all fall a little short, and I have to let them go. I have felt awfully sorry for some of them, but there was no other way. Two or three who are coming here now are really talented and will make successful men, I am sure, but I have a premonition what my verdict will be. They almost reach my ideal," the lurking mischief again returning to her eyes, "but not quite."

"Perhaps your ideal is too high."

"Perhaps," demurely, "but you fixed it for me, and you have made it so much of my being that I cannot stoop to a lower one now."

"Well! I am glad. The ideal will come along some day, and then there will be no mistake. Are your trunks all packed?"

"Yes. I can get ready in a few minutes, and there is over an hour. That is why I came down to have a—a last talk with you, Mr. Barclay."

He winced ever so slightly. She had always called him uncle until the past few months. Now it was Mr. Barclay. She was older, of course, and was growing away from him. And she would be absent for two whole years. What would it be like when she returned?

"Yes," he said, his voice a little dreary with the thought, "I was waiting for you to come down. It will be a long, delightful two years for you, and I hope you will enjoy them thoroughly. Mrs. Carruth has the reputation of being the best chaperon in the country. She will take you everywhere, and you will meet nice people. I will give you letters to some I wish you to know. Dr. Laurens is going abroad on the same steamer, I hear, so you will have a chance to meet him after all. I was sorry for his peremptory summons to the hospital that day I invited him here, but of course his professional duties should come first. I shall ask him to look you up and request Mrs. Carruth to present him. Dr. Laurens is one of the most brilliant and noble men I know and is making himself an enviable reputation, and he is only three years older than you are, Elinor."

"Don't, Mr. Barclay!" she implored, with sudden pain in her voice. "Please do not talk that way. You mean well, but I—I do not like it just now. This is the only home I remember much about, and I am going away for a long, long time. Let us not talk of other people. When I left college I looked forward to coming home and living quietly, as we did before I went away, when we read books and played chess and talked over things. But you thought I should go into society and meet people, so you left your books and took me everywhere and introduced me to everybody. I think I must have met all the noted people, especially the young men, in the whole city and surrounding country. And now I am to go abroad to meet people and people and people! I suppose it is for the best and my good, but I am not brilliant enough to appreciate it. I—I should have liked the chess and books so much better."

His face was turned away from her now, but his voice was steady.

"Yes, it is for the best, Elinor. It is right for a girl to marry, and she should know men before she is ready to make a choice. Some girls are acquainted with only a few, and the best of these is her standard of manliness. Perhaps just outside her limited area there are a hundred who are stronger and nobler in every way. This girl has been cheated. I do not want your life like that. I have done the best for you in the way of an education. As a conscientious guardian could I do less for the rest of your life? It is not that I want you to go, Elinor; it is not that I have any inclination to be a matchmaker. It is because—because I can do nothing else, being myself." He looked at his watch abruptly. "Twenty minutes," he suggested.

"So late? Well, I will go and get ready."

At the door she paused, looking back.

"You must excuse my talk about your liberality, Mr. Barclay," she said wistfully. "But—but I could not go away without saying something."

Halfway up the stairs she paused again. She had forgotten the letters of introduction, and it would be more convenient to put them in her bag before starting.

When she re-entered the library Mr. Barclay's face was buried in his arms upon the desk. He was tired, she thought, and perhaps grieving a little at her going away.

It was not until she reached the desk and was about to pick up the letters that he noticed her presence and raised his head with a quick, surprised motion. His eyes were frank, unguarded, his lips trembling.

She gazed at him a moment; then her womanly instinct in a flash comprehended.

"Oh, Mr. Barclay—Robert—do you"—

But he had controlled himself by a great effort.

"Forget this, Elinor, forever," he interrupted harshly. "I was weak for a moment. I thought I was alone, and you misunderstood."

But her face was radiant.

"I have been misunderstanding you for months, Robert," she said softly, "but not now. It was all in your eyes. Have you never thought why I was unable to find my ideal? I didn't know my own heart then, but I always compared the boys and the young men with you, and they fell short. I know now that I have loved you for years, since I first went to college, but I have not fully realised it until within the past few months, and, Robert, I have been so—so unhappy at your—thoughtfulness of me."

"It was the only thing I could do," he groaned. "I was afraid of myself, and—and I am so old, Elinor."

"Only fifteen years older than I am," she said happily. "I shall unpack my trunks."

Once more he tried to command himself, to summon the mask to his face, but he was too weak. He held out his arms.

THE GRANDEST LODGE.

There is a lodge we all may join—
The rich, the high, the low;
The grandest that was ever formed
For mortals here below.
There are no black balls, fines nor dues,
With Adam it began;
The greatest lodge there is on earth—
The Brotherhood of Man.

Its doors are open to mankind,
Its membership is free;
Then come and make the ties more strong
That bindeth you and me.
Extend your hand in fellowship,
And join it while you can;
The only thing that's asked of you
Is simply be a Man.

Go tell your neighbor you have joined,
Go grasp him by the hand;
Go tell him you have found the truth
And spread it o'er the land;
That all men are our brothers—
The white, the black, the tan—
That all are welcome in our cause—
The Brotherhood of Man.

Fought With Bows and Arrows.

The last European battle in which bows and arrows were used was that of Leipsic, in October, 1813, when the French were defeated by the allies. The Russians brought into the field some Tartars whose only weapons were bows and arrows, and a French general was wounded by an arrow in the battle.

WORKLESS AFRICAN SOLDIERS.

Hundreds of Boer War Veterans Tramping in England.

Many soldiers who were invalided out of the army after the Boer war are now on the tramp, the casual wards of Britain's workhouses being their only home.

The majority are disabled, and the remainder find it impossible to get work. Never before have ex-soldiers had so much difficulty in obtaining employment, even when they are in the best of health and have left the army with papers testifying to unblemished character.

"It has become a very serious matter," declared the secretary of the National Society for the Employment of Ex-Soldiers. "For instance, 140 men who have just left the service with the highest possible character applied here for work this morning. On the other hand, only three employers sent for help.

"The same tale is told at each of our 114 branches, and the condition of things is rapidly becoming worse.

"The reason of this difficulty in finding ex-soldiers employment is, in my opinion, due to the energy which is being devoted to finding work for the unemployed civilian. An ex-soldier who does not know a trade is, however, a much better man than a civilian without a trade. In the first place, he is more cleanly in his habits, and is used to thorough obedience. Then his wits have been brightened and his intelligence developed, especially under the new order of things.

"It is generally forgotten that a certificate of unblemished character means much more in the case of a soldier than a civilian. For whereas the military man is watched night and day, and the least peccadillo is recorded against him, the civilian has only to behave properly during working hours—what happens afterwards is his own business."

MOTHER AND BABY.

Every mother who has used Baby's Own Tablets will tell you that they are the best medicine in the world for the cure of constipation, indigestion, diarrhoea, sour stomach, sleeplessness, teething troubles and other ailments of children. You can give these Tablets to a new born baby with absolute safety — they always do good; they cannot possibly do harm. Their use means health for the child and comfort for the mother. Mrs. C. F. Kerr, Elgin, Ont., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I ever used for stomach and bowel troubles, and destroying worms. No mother should be without a box of Tablets in the house." Get them at your druggists or by mail from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 25 cents a box.

How He Was Elected.

Henry Labouchere tells how he was elected to the British Parliament in 1866: "I had to kiss the babies, pay compliments to their mothers and explain the beauties of Liberalism to their fathers, who never could be got to say how they would vote. On the day of the election everything turned on about half a dozen votes. I remember one Tory went out to fish in a punt, and the boatman who accompanied him was induced to keep him well out in the middle of the river until the polling hour had passed. Another aged and decrepit Tory was kept in his house by having cabs run at him whenever he tried to issue from his door. Finally the Liberals won the day."

Buried Boer Treasure.

While playing in the grounds of a Dutch church at Kroonstad, South Africa, two Boer children made an interesting discovery. With small spades they were digging a hole, and just below the surface several gold coins were unearthed. They continued to dig, gradually adding to their precious store. The youngsters soon had a pile of English gold sovereigns. The sexton then joined the search, and it was not long before treasure to the value of nearly $5,000 in gold and silver coins was brought to light. During the war the church was used as a hospital and for housing refugees, and it is surmised that the treasure must have been buried by some one who is now dead.

A Silent Author.

J. M. Barrie, the author, is not at all fond of talking, but is silent and reserved with strangers. It is related of him that at a public dinner he turned to his neighbor and remarked, "Do you feel like talking?" "No," was the brief reply, says Home Chat.

"Neither do I," said Barrie, and forthwith they gave one another the cold shoulder.

$50.00 PROFIT

ONLY $25.00 INVESTED

Do you want to make $50 profit by investing only $25 in a lot in beautiful Summit Park, Port Arthur, the great lake port town of N. W. Ontario.

Port Arthur is the County Seat of all Thunder Bay District, and is the lake terminal town of the three great transcontinental railroads, which empty their immense quantities of Western freight on ships bound for the East and Europe.

Port Arthur is the only real municipal ownership town in America, and made last year over $25,000 net profit out of its Street Railway, Electric Light and Power, and Telephone Franchises.

Port Arthur has the largest grain elevator in the world.

Port Arthur doubled its population in the last 3 years and we believe it will double again in the next 3 years.

Port Arthur is the gateway between the East and the extensive West, and can have no competitor.

Summit Park is a high, level plateau, furnishing a beautiful view of Thunder Bay, and lots purchased in this park at present prices will bring big profits before many months.

Want The North Monaghan Council To Fix Assessment

Sandstone Brick Co. Asked That That Privilege Privilege be Granted to Them--The Central Ontario Power Co. Will be Permission to Erect Poles if They Show Any Indications of Erecting a Plant—Question of Appointing a Township Solicitor Discussed.

MONAGHAN COUNCIL DID MUCH BUSINESS

The Council of the Township of North Monaghan met in the the town hall on Monday, March 12th at 1.30 p. m.

All the members were present. Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Communications were read from Geo. Spencer, Superintendent of C. P. Ry. Co., asking permission to put in a siding to cross Monaghan Road to reach the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy's factory.

Mr. E. S. Clarry, representing the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy and Mr. F. D. Kerr, solicitor, attended the meeting and asked the council to pass a by-law to fix the assessment of the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy's property for a term of years and to submit the same for the approval of the qualified electors.

Mr. Clarry also urged the council to take action at once to permit the railway siding to be built into their property for the purpose of bringing in building material, machinery, etc.

A copy of the bill to confirm the Cavan Drain By-law as presented to the legislature was presented from Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P.

Mr. John Armstrong appeared befor the council and asked permission to cut out and trim the saplings and shrubs growing along the west side of the 1-4 line through lots 6 and 7 in 10th concession as they were injurious to his crop.

The following accounts were handed in and read:—

C. W. Mack, repairing seal, ... $2.53
John Boyde, burying carcass 1.00

These were ordered to be paid.

An application for the office of collector was received from Mr. G. H. May. This application was conditional in the event of the council making a change of their present collector.

A conveyance in duplicate was received from Messrs. Roger & Bennet to be signed by the reeve and clerk transferring the ownership of locks bridge to the Dominion Government. This was signed and directed to be forwarded.

A report of committee meeting in Peterborough on February 17th, was presented and read as follows:—

To the Reeve and Council:

Your committee beg leave to report that after giving due consideration to the application of the Central Ontario Power Coy's and after having heard Mr. W. H. Moore and Mr. A. J. Culverwell in relation to the matter and also having investigated various franchises bearing upon similar cases, hereby recommend that as soon as the Central Ontario Power Coy show tangible evidences of developing the Burleigh Falls Power by the installation of a plant or otherwise then permission be given them to erect poles, wires, etc., for the transmission of light and power upon such highways in the township as may hereafter be agreed upon and on such other terms as may be reasonable and in the best interests of all parties concerned.

Your committee recommend also that Mr. R. M. Dennistoun be retained as the township solicitor, his advice to be available in regard to all municipal matters affecting the council, any member thereof or any official of the township in connection with the discharge of their duties without extra charge or cost.

Your committee further recommend that the Assessor be instructed to assess the township in accordance with the provisions of the revised assessment Act of 1903 and in as equitable a manner as may be just and according to his declaration of office affecting the same.

Respectfully submitted.

Moved by Messrs. Fowler and Brown that the report be received and adopted.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Holmes and Morrow that the application of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for permission to erect a siding or sidings to cross the Monaghan Road and High street to reach the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy's property be granted, subject to certain restrictions as to interfering with or delaying of public traffic upon these highways and a committee of Messrs. Holmes, Brown and the Clerk are hereby appointed to look after the matter in the interests of the municipality.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Holmes and Morrow that the application of the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Coy. for a fixed assessment of their property for a term of years be referred to a committee of the whole council and the township solicitor for further consideration. —Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Fowler and Brown that the request of Mr. J. Armstrong be granted, subject to his securing a quit claim from the adjacent owners of property to any rights or damages they may have or sustain by the cutting of the trees upon the 1-4 line near his property and fyle the same with the clerk. —Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Fowler that the application of Mr. J. Barnard for the office of collector for 1906, at a salary of $45 be accepted and the clerk is hereby instructed to prepare a by-law to fix the necessary security and to confirm the same.—Carried.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Holmes that Mr. G. H. May be appointed collector at a salary of $45.

The amendment not being seconded the motion was declared carried.

Moved by Messrs. Holmes and Fowler that John Alexander be appointed Sanitary Inspector, and township constable for 1906 at a salary of $25 per year and the clerk is hereby instructed to prepare a by-law to define his duties and to confirm the appointment. —Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Morrow and Brown that the clerk is hereby directed to notify all parties trespassed upon or removing any stone, sand or other material from the township gravel pits will be prosecuted and to collect pay for what has already been taken at the rate of 25 cents per load.—Carried.

By-law No. 563, a by-law to appoint a township solicitor was then introduced giving the necessary considerations and finally passed signed an dsealed.

Council then adjourned until the second Monday in April at 1.30 p. m, in the town hall.

In the "Voyages of Captain Cook" there is a statement to the effect that in New Zealand the towns of the natives were all protected by stockades. In some cases these were formed of double or triple rows of trees, the spaces between being latticed with wickerwork and filled with earth.

THE ALBERTA ASSEMBLY.

Opening Ceremonies of First Session Held in the Big Skating Rink—Lt.-Gov. Bulyea's Speech.

Edmonton, March 16.—Alberta's first Legislature convened yesterday and if the surroundings were of rather an informal sort, there was due pomp and ceremony in connection with the opening ceremonies. The big skating rink was converted into quite a presentable amphitheatre and it was here that Lieut.-Governor Bulyea read his first speech from the throne.

The bountiful harvest, the early visit of Prince Arthur of Connaught, the influx of settlers, the growth of agricultural industries, were referred to. An active policy for the improvement of live stock and agriculture generally was promised. Increased public grants toward exhibitions would be asked. The early organization of the province on constitutional lines would be undertaken.

The growing necessity of commercial and social activity in the province required that telephonic communication between different sections of the province should be rendered as inexpensive and effective as possible and careful attention would therefore be needed in consideration of providing means towards that end. At present the law with relation to mechanics' liens, their registration and enforcement was found in every respect to bear heavily upon laboring classes, a measure would be submitted for approval providing means whereby rights enjoyed by all mechanics or laborers under present law might be rendered capable of enforcement in a simple and inexpensive way.

Laws governing public health and sanitation and bills providing for the registration of titles of land in the province, making provision for the establishment of at such time as the growth of the province warrants of a provincial university, for appointment of coroner, justice of the peace, sheriffs and clerk of court to be submitted. The present law relating to regulation of coal mines and inspection of coal mines and inspection of steamboilers being inadequate in practice, legislation in this regard would also be brought forward.

The sessions of the Legislature will be held in the Mackay avenue public school.

PLUMBERS AT HAMILTON.

Not So Bad As Toronto Ones and $400 Covers Lucky Thirteen.

Hamilton, March 16.—The plumbers decided last evening to end the suspense and hear what the court had to say about them. W. J. Walsh was found guilty Tuesday, and twelve of the other members of the combine pleaded guilty before Judge Mabee last evening. The case against Henry Harding was not pressed and he was discharged.

W. J. Walsh was fined $400, and the remaining twelve were allowed to go with sentence deferred, upon entering into recognizances that they would appear when called on for sentence.

The lowest fine provided by the statutes for the offence is $200, and the judge decided that their offence did not merit such a heavy penalty, so that he fined one $400 on the understanding that this amount was to be borne by the whole thirteen. The judge said the plumbers were not criminals in the ordinary sense of the word, and that their offence was technical. He said they were not nearly as bad as the Toronto plumbers or he would not have let them off so easily.

Case Against Grocers.

The case against the members of the Dominion Wholesale Grocers' Guild was resumed at Police Court yesterday morning. The Crown Attorney stated that what he was going to try to prove against the grocers was: "We will endeavor to show that there was a sugar agreement; that there were other agreements, for any breach of which some of those who agreed to them were fined. We will endeavor to show that this organization, which began in an agreement with the sugar refiners several years ago, has spread throughout the wholesale grocery trade in the Dominion, embracing about 95 per cent of it, and that the grocers have obtained hard and fast contracts with the sugar refiners. Other contracts have been signed with the tobacco manufacturers, makers of woodenware, and a score of other things. The object was to bring into combination all those manufacturers."

HOW BANWELLS ARE HELD

Three Counts Against Him; Still Held For Receiving.

Toronto, March 16.—After three hours' consideration the grand jury in the general sessions brought in no bill against Mrs. Nora Hector Banwell for theft, but included it in a charge of receiving money knowing it to be stolen.

Banwell had a true bill brought in against him on three counts: Stealing the money, stealing the money as a bank officer, and receiving the money knowing it to be stolen. These are the three counts on which the jury found no bill against Mrs. Banwell.

Sends In His Resignation.

Victoria, B. C., March 16.—Attorney-General Charles Wilson has sent in his resignation as a member of the McBride Government. Mr. Wilson is at present in Ottawa. Hon. Mr. Fulton, Provincial Secretary, takes temporary charge of the Attorney-General's department.

Held Hand on Red Hot Stove.

Toronto, March 16.—Richard Pugh was sentenced by Magistrate Denison at the Police Court yesterday to nine months in the Central Prison on the charge of wounding Russell O'Neill, a child aged two years, at his house, No. 1 Eastern place, by holding the child's hand against a red hot stove. Pugh was also sentenced to 12 months in the same institution for going through a bigamous form of marriage with Mary O'Neill, whilst being married to Mrs. O'Brien, after two previous matrimonial experiences, all the ladies being alive.

Mine Workers' Convention.

Indianapolis, March 16.—Little was accomplished yesterday by the special convention of mine workers beyond organization and appointment of committees. President Mitchell delivered his address, in which he explained the reasons for calling the meeting, and counselled conservative proceeding in the efforts to preserve peace in the coal mining industry.

GOLD MINE CAVES IN.

Four Miners Lose Their Lives — One Body Recovered.

Halifax, N. S., March 16.—A cave-in occurred at the gold mine at Middlefield, fifteen miles from Liverpool, N. S., early yesterday morning, burying four men. Their names are George Crouse of Baker's Settlement, Slaughenwhite of Chelsea and two named Taul of Molega, all Queen's County men.

The body of one of the Tauls has been recovered but the work of digging out the other three had to be abandoned, for the pit started to cave in again. Crouse and Slaughenwhite were single, but the Tauls were married and leave families.

Great Coon-Hunter Killed.

Newmarket, March 16.—Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock Christopher Stong of Woodbridge met with a fatal accident while on coon hunting in company with Roy Watson of this place. On the farm of W. J. Patterson, Second Street, he had climbed a large elm tree by means of climbers and rope which was attached to a belt. When he was over 50 feet from the ground the rope became loosened from fastening of the belt, letting him fall, lighting on a stump. Death was almost instantaneous. Coroner Wesley of Newmarket was called and considered an inquest unnecessary.

Don't Neglect a Cough or Cold

IT CAN HAVE BUT ONE RESULT. IT LEAVES THE THROAT or LUNGS, OR BOTH, AFFECTED,

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP IS THE MEDICINE YOU NEED. . . . . .

It is without an equal as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Pain in the Chest, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Quinsy and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

A single dose of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs, the healing properties of the Norway Pine Tree will proclaim its great virtue by promptly eradicating the bad effects, and a persistent use of the remedy cannot fail to bring about a complete cure.

Do not be humbugged into buying so-called Norway Pine Syrups, but be sure and insist on having Dr. Wood's. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and price 25 cts.

Mrs. Henry Seabrook, Hepworth, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup in our family for the past three years and I consider it the best remedy known for the cure of colds. It has cured all my children and myself."

THE INSURANCE INQUIRY.

One Insurance Company Ignored the Superintendent and Refused Information—His Powers Are Limited.

Ottawa, March 16.—The second day of Mr. Fitzgerald's examination before the Insurance Commission served to demonstrate that the insurance act needs amendment, and that the superintendent views his powers under the act as somewhat restricted.

At times when asked why he did not extend his investigations farther into the affairs of the companies, Mr. Fitzgerald replied that he was not authorized by the act to do so. In some instances this is undoubtedly true, and the existing ambiguity will therefore have to give way to such definite and specific instructions as will accomplish the desired object.

In other respects, however, it seemed to the legal gentlemen present that the law was wide enough, and that in drawing a line beyond which he did not care to pass Mr. Fitzgerald was unnecessarily cautious.

No wrong-doing on the part of the companies has yet been shown, but it is open to doubt whether the existing system of supervision is sufficiently searching to bring exposure if dishonest or improper practices were resorted to. In the case of the bonds held by a company, for example, it ought to be shown from whom the securities were obtained, and how they got into the company's possession.

One of the features of the day's proceedings was the refusal of the manager of the Standard Life Co. to furnish the statement asked for by the Superintendent of Insurance, showing the directors, officers and agents in receipt of more than $2,000 per annum. Other companies expressed reluctance to give the information if publication was contemplated.

Mr. Fitzgerald's examination will be proceeded with to-day, and at the close of the day's sitting an adjournment will take place until Tuesday. When the examination in chief of Mr. Fitzgerald terminates, Mr. Hellmuth, one of the counsel for Ontario, will undertake a cross-examination. Messrs. Blackadar and Grant, the departmental actuaries, will succeed Mr. Fitzgerald on the witness stand.

Judge Hamilton's Invective.

Albany, March 16.—Yesterday Judge Hamilton before the insurance investigation committee defended the late John A. McCall, and characterized many of the officers of the New York Life Co. as curs and traitors who knew what he was doing for them and who were responsible for all his acts. He poured forth a flood of invective and denunciation of the board of trustees many of whom were present.

CANADA AND UNCLE SAM.

United States Takes the Lead in Arranging For the Settlement of Some Important Matters.

Washington, March 16.—Chandler P. Anderson of New York has been selected by Secretary of State Root to prepare for the active state of negotiation a number of issues between the United States and Canada left unsettled by the joint high commission which met at Washington in the winter of 1898-1899.

These relate to the delimitation of boundaries and fishery rights, the railroads ing privileges on Canadian the fur seal entering the United States, controversy, and which has taken Correspondence official basis between place on a the United States and the officials given ground for the hope Canada has least of these issues which that some threatened the good relations of the Dominion with the United States may be quickly and satisfactorily settled by direct negotiations.

To save time in effecting the exchanges, it is expected that the Canadian Government will designate some person to come to Washington and assist Sir Mortimer Durand in an expert capacity in the presentation of the British side of the case. Mr. Anderson was secretary for the American members of the joint high commission, and acted in a similar capacity for the American representatives of the Behring Sea and the Alaskan boundary affairs.

Still Sways the Money Market.

Berlin, March 16.—The delay in arriving at an agreement at Algeciras causes a recurrence of mild pessimism which was evident on the bourse yesterday. Imperial threes declined and the money market was slightly affected as the French are indisposed to lend money freely until the Moroccan question is settled.

Plans Sold to Foreign Power.

St. Petersburg, March 16.—A big scandal has developed in the Ministry of Marine owing to the discovery that the plans of the construction of Russian submarine boats have been sold to agents of a foreign power.

M. P. P.'s Get Bonus of $200 Each.

Winnipeg, March 16.—The labors of the members of the Legislature this session are to be rewarded by an addition to the indemnity of $200 apiece. No announcement of the increase was made in the House, but when the supplemental estimates were considered in committee of the whole it was found that $6,200 had been added to the bill as originally printed to provide $100 additional remuneration each for the clerk of the House and the sergeant-at-arms and $200 for the members.

Georgian Bay Fisheries.

Toronto, March 16.—The evidence received by the Georgian Bay commissioners yesterday afternoon was given by O. B. Sheppard, Prof. W. J. Loudon, Dr. Arthur Bensley, connected with the biological building, at Go Home Bay, and Dr. F. McKenzie. All advocated better protection, for the fish and a stricter enforcement of the law, but were not altogether in favor of imposing a license fee of $10 a rod on Americans fishing in the bay.

Natives Almost Annihilated.

London, March 16.—A despatch from Zungaru, Northern Nigeria to the Daily Mail yesterday reports that the British punitive expedition has crushed the Sokoto revolt after heavy fighting in which the rebels twice charged the British square and were almost annihilated. The town of Satirk, which was held by the rebels in force was bombarded and then captured at the point of the bayonet. Over 300 rebels were killed.

IN FASHION'S REALM; OF INTEREST TO LADIES

SPRING COSTUMES.

NEW STYLES ARE REVIVALS OF THE LONG AGO.

Natty Little Short Jackets, Pony Coats and Bolero High in Fashion's Favor—Princess Models in Smooth Finished Cloth Very Smart.

Of course every one knows that novelty is dead, although it has been impossible to lay her ghost. Ever since novelty's death couturieres have had a hard time to evolve new things out of the old. The smart spring fashions bear evidence of how assiduously they have organized search parties in her honor. One of their finds has been the ever though natty little short jackets that are to be found among the novelties.

In this category, for instance, is the new pony coat, that looks for all the world like a feminine cadet's jacket. The military air is preserved in the pinched in, short waisted effect in the back, in the high collar about the throat and in the braid trimmings. Then there are stunning boleros curved gracefully above the waist line, with cape protections over the shoulders. Indeed, the sleeves are often formed of a little flowing cape cut off at the elbow. But perhaps the most original of the new coats are the models that are short waisted in front and terminate in a narrow tailed effect in the back. It will be understood that the coats described are made up in coat and skirt suits.

As a separate wrap for afternoon wear there is a short, jaunty sack affair, a fluffy mass of lace, ribbon and fancy buttons with a foundation of light silk. In skirts all the old ideas have been worked over and improved. The two piece circular skirt, with its belt fullness laid in tucks or plaits, is perhaps first favorite. Princess and corselet princess effects, topped by a tiny jacket of the gown material, will have great vogue. The illustration shows a smart example of this style carried out in dark blue satin cloth. The trimming at the foot of the princess skirt is of taffeta, which also makes the embroidered bolero and revers. The white silk waistcoat is embroidered in colors and adorned with fancy buttons. Cuffs of white silk edged with cream table lace, a plastron of batiste and cravat of lace complete the picture.

The new dress materials are all smooth finished, and for the nonce homespuns and rough cheviots are out of the running. Gray and fawn mixtures and invisible checks in two tones are much in evidence.

Gray green cloth will be a leading spring shade, and the girl's costume pictured is evolved in that color. The skirt that just clears the ground is laid in groups of plaits. Buttons of passementerie adorn the bands of braid, and embroidery surrounds the decollete, which is filled in with a tucked batiste plastron incrusted with motifs of lace.

AMY VARNUM.

Dainty Lingerie.

Now that the Lenten season is so near at hand one should lay in the necessary supply of fine cambric, batiste and lace for the construction of the summer wardrobe. Lent is an unrivaled time of the year for dressmaking and sewing of all kinds, for while resting from social gayety there is afforded a splendid opportunity for the hands to be busy, and how better could they be employed than in the fashioning of dainty lingerie, which is so much more attractive when handmade?

The illustration shows a corset waist of fine linen batiste, trimmed with tucks and ruffles and medallions of lace. This model is fastened in front with tiny buttons and buttonholes, but if desired small buttonholes may be worked near the edge of the waist, through which to run narrow ribbon, or, again, a fine lace beading may be placed below the lace edging instead of the tucks. Quite evidently, however, this model is not intended for ribbon trimming. It should be fitted the correct size about the waist, the material being drawn into the cluster of tucks in the center, so as to keep all the fullness well forward. Four medallions of the valenciennes lace trim each side of the front of the cover. The lace edging about the hem of the waist is not absolutely necessary, but it certainly makes an attractive finish and requires but little lace.

Lining Veils.

The fashion of lining fancy veils with a becoming shade of chiffon is increasing. One girl was seen wearing a new and extremely becoming veil of the finest tulle in a fetching shade of marron. Delicate scrolls of chenille wandered over the hem, and there was a powdering of large and small dots over the rest of the surface. It was worn with a small sable toque, drawn neatly over the face. It was crossed at the back and tied in an immense bow under the chin, the ends being tucked in the front of the jacket. This shade of marron is wonderfully becoming to a clear complexion, and especially with its cobweb lining of chiffon in pale blush rose tint. Very few women realise that pale blue tulle makes a stunning lining for the winter veil, particularly when combined with silver gray net, as it adds a delicate bloom to fresh cheeks, and, if spotted with white, the effect is quite fairylike.

SHIRT WAIST NEWS.

Tailor Made Effects in Pique Linen Belts and Stocks.

The sartorial question uppermost in the minds of many women is how to make the spring and summer shirt waists. For the benefit of those wrestling with this puzzling problem some ideas gleaned from a smart maker of these indispensable articles of the up to date woman's wardrobe may be found helpful.

He was most emphatic in declaring that the tailor made waist of fine though not sheer linen will be built on the lines of a man's negligee shirt. Fine tucks will run from neck to waist, with a single box plait down the center, fastened with medium sized pearl buttons. The moderate sleeves are finished with narrow rounded cuffs made for links.

With these shirts are worn a turndown embroidered linen collar and a tiny silk tie. So small is this tie that it takes some experience to get it into proper form. And a word as to belts worn with the stiff shirt waists. The linen varieties, both plain and embroidered, will be seen, but the newest belts are made of elastic silk webbing—the old fashioned kind that belles of long ago wound around their hourglass waists.

The lingerie blouses, instead of the fine trimmings we have been wearing of late, show stunning little bolero jacket effects, formed with rows of narrow lace. In one advanced model two wide embroidered ruffles go from the waist over the shoulders, bretelle fashion, giving a broad effect, which is very desirable in a thin person.

The evening blouse illustrated is a charming little model carried out with rows of German val lace. Under the edge of each ruffle is a ribbon of pale blue velvet ribbon. The girdle of blue velvet, one end draped up on the decollete and finishing with a small bow drawn through a rhinestone buckle, a spray of pale pink chiffon roses is a exquisite touch on one shoulder.

HATS AND PARASOLS.

Fewer Rakish Angles Seen in the Smart Models—Flower Toques.

The new hats that the milliners are presenting at what might well seem out of their season are far less freakish then were their predecessors. There are fewer rakish tilts, extreme angles and trimmings pointing at once every which way for Sunday. Indeed, a much more sober mood seems to have taken possession of the designers, with the result that the new showing is eminently more becoming to the average woman—and it is for her that the designer plans—and the selection of a becoming chapeau promises to be a thing of considerably less difficulty than attended the choice of the winter hat.

There are some extremely smart little turban shapes developed in straw, both of the pressed shape and the mode hat variety. Ribbons with a modicum of flowers are the preferred trimming for those, and for a chapeau that shall do duty alike with tailor made and dressy gown there are but few if any designs on the market to beat it.

The fetching little tailored hat seen in the cut is a good example of this genre. It is carried out in pale yellow straw, bent into a becoming shape and trimmed simply with a couple of quills and a few pink roses at the back. A fold of black velvet outlines the brim on the inner side, and a bandeau of black velvet raises the hat in front. The flower hats and the flower toque must not be omitted from the schedule of fashionable fads for southern resorts. Sometimes the little toque is altogether of flowers, but somewhat more pleasing are those that have a crown in malines and the border in flowers, the blossoms being repeated with the trimming of the bandeau at the side.

Variety is the note of the new parasols, for they range from the airiest and fluffiest chiffon creations to the plain silk en tout cas. The latter is extremely fashionable, and lovers of bright color will rejoice to hear that it will be seen in emerald green, scarlet and royal blue as well as mauve, pale blue and many other delicate shades to harmonize with the light summer gowns.

The only ornamentation for the modish tout en cas is a closely gathered puffing of silk about three inches deep around the parasol and a roselike ruche or bow to match tied around the stick.

Slightly frivolous are the plain colored silk parasols trimmed with six narrow pinked frills set close together at the edge.

A charming sunshade of maize colored silk has a wide band of olive green silk at the edge covered with a trellis pattern of maize button roses.

A white silk sunshade has a wide band of black lisse, the edges embroidered in white. It is very chic.

Apropos of sunshades the tiny parasol will be revived next summer for driving and outdoor fetes. It is a boon and a blessing, neither obstructing the view nor endangering the eyes of one's neighbor.

The only new shapes to be seen this season in parasols are the dome and regular flat Chinese forms.

POOR PACKAGE DYES MAKE Women Miserable and Cross

Diamond Dyes

Have Made Millions of Wives Mothers and Daughters Happy and Contented.

Women who buy and use any of the adulterated, weak and worthless package dyes put up in imitation of the reliable and never-failing DIAMOND DYES, must expect to meet with sad trials and disappointments in the home.

Crude package dyes with only fancy names to recommend them, and sold by some dealers for the sake of large profits, are the direct cause of much of the feminine bad temper and irritableness manifested in many homes.

If our women and girls would avoid trouble, loss of goods and hard cash, they must insist upon getting the DIAMOND DYES whenever home dyeing work is to be done. One ten-cent package of the time-tried DIAMOND DYES will always colour more goods than will two packages of other dyes. They give brighter, fuller, more brilliant and more lasting shades. Once used, DIAMOND DYES become the chosen dyes for all well-regulated homes.

Send your name and address to Wells & Richardson Co. Limited, Montreal, P.Q., and you will receive free of cost new Dye Book, "Dyed Cloth Samples and Booklet in verse, entitled "The Longjohns' Trip to the Klondike."

A Fighting Humming Bird.

There is a species of humming bird in Carrucca, east India, that is about twice the size of a pigeon. It is very vicious, and the natives say it subsists almost entirely upon a hard shelled nut, which it breaks open with a blow of its wings, all the while humming loudly.

The House of Abbassides.

The proudest imperial house in the world was that of the Abbassides, who in the course of their history furnished no less than fifty-two caliphs.

Insects in the Ear.

To remove insects from the ear pour warm water or warm lard oil into the ear, and the bug will float to the surface; then throw the head over and let it all run out. Don't go picking round with a probe or you will ruin the drum of the ear.

For Family Colds.

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.

It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safer, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. Once used, my customers will have no other."—L. Elder, Massawippa, Que.

If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure, you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? 25c. is the price. All dealers in medicine sell it.

ANIMAL PARTIES.

A Delightful Form of Amusement For Small Children.

Many mothers are at a loss for amusements when arranging a party for their small children. Something novel is sought for and not always found. Here is a suggestion that is sure to meet with the approval of the wee folks. The animal party, if carried out according to the following directions, is bound to be a success.

Invitation cards are sent out for "an animal party," and each card bears on it some picture of a bird or animal. The nursery is gaily decorated with pictures of wild animals, bows, arrows and toy guns, Indian weapons and brightly colored blankets.

The party commences with the animal game. The children form a circle with one child blindfolded in the middle; the children hold hands and go round until the "blind man" calls "Stop!" He then touches some one in the circle with a toy whip he holds, and whoever is touched must imitate the cry of an animal, which if the blind man fails to guess he must remain in the circle until he guesses right, and the child caught becomes blind man.

A less noisy game is the tailless fox. A large sheet is hung on the wall, on which has been sketched the figure of a tailless fox. Each child is given a fox tail made of wadding, with a pin in the end, and, blindfolded, he tries to pin the tail on to where he thinks it belongs. The child who gets nearest the spot receives a prize of an animal full of sweets.

Another circle game is wolf and lamb. The ring represents the fold and a child, as lamb, in the middle. The wolf is outside and tries to break through the circle and reach the lamb. Should he succeed, the two children through whom he broke in become respectively the wolf and the lamb.

Supper is a great feature in the animal party. Children are so fond of Injuns and wild animals that the table is often decorated with toy buffaloes and Indian dolls, while at each place are a toy revolver and an American flag. Tiny tots, too, delight in the family table. The center is occupied by a large toy bear and the little cubs, while at intervals down the table appear families of animals made of china, the kind that were so much in demand some time ago. The sets can be given to the little guests afterward.

The evening ends with a wild animal hunt, which takes place in another room, where various toy animals have been hidden in odd places. There should be enough toys for each child; otherwise there will be many heartburnings. The children come into the room and are told to imagine it a large forest, where wild animals are hiding. The hunt begins, and each child captures a hidden wild beast. The name of a child is written on each animal, and the hunt goes on until the children have discovered the gifts intended for them. When they find an animal with another child's name upon it, it is buried once more and the search continued. The animal party means a very jolly afternoon, and the children will go home saying, "Well, we've had a dandy time."

Don't Tell.

Don't tell any one your children's faults, even to their relatives. If you need advice get it privately. Mortifying children creates bitterness in their untrained hearts and estranges them from you, says Woman's Life.

Don't tell your own age or ask for figures concerning others.

Don't tell your neighbor that you disapprove of his or her ideas. By so doing you will find how soon you will be forgotten by them.

Cured of Drunkenness

How a Montreal lady cured her husband of drunkenness with a secret home remedy.

"I want to tell you that tasteless Samaria Prescription has entirely cured my husband of drunkenness quickly and simply that I am astonished. How glad I am that enclosed in you sent words for your free sample package. The sample tablets I got from you checked his drinking, and before I had passed the full treatment he was permanently cured. I gave him the remedy in his tea, and as it had no taste or smell, he never knew he was taking it. I want others to know; so you can use this letter, but please not my name yet. I may say that my husband's health is better in every way than for years."

Details Give List of Killed In Collision

Appalling Passenger Train Wreck In Colorado.

DEATH LIST IS OVER FORTY

Many Bodies Incinerated In the Fire That Followed—Score of Victims Burned Beyond Identification—Wreck Was Due to Undelivered Orders From a Variety of Climatic Causes—For Northwest.

Pueblo, Col., March 17.—Some two score lives were crushed out early yesterday in a head-on collision of two passenger trains near Adobe, Col., on the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, and more than a score of the victims were incinerated beyond identification by a fire that destroyed the wrecked coaches.

Many others were injured, but all probably will recover.

The wreck was due to undelivered orders, heavy mountain grades, a blinding snowstorm, a sharp curve and the slippery condition of the rails.

Many of the dead were homeseekers bound for the Northwest.

TRAPPED ON BRIDGE.

Man and Girl Killed By 70-Foot Fall Near St. George.

St. George, March 17.—Almost within sight of the home of her parents, whom she had not seen for a year or so, during which time they have been residents of this town, Ruth Hinchcliffe, aged 16, was fatally injured, and Stephen Cox, aged 22, in an attempt to save her, was instantly killed by falling 70 feet from the railway bridge here at noon yesterday. The girl's brother, Willie, and a friend named Withers, by running, avoided the freight train which hurled their companions to their death. The four were of the Salvation Army immigrant partly recently arrived in Canada.

They were walking from Harrisburg to St. George. The girl and Cox were about the centre of the 700 foot G. T. R. bridge when a freight train came along. The other two were in advance.

The girl became frightened and was unable to move. Cox gallantly stayed with her and essayed to hold her at the side of the rails. The bridge, however, is only some ten feet in width, and the passing train jolted the unfortunate couple into space.

They fell a distance of 70 feet, alighting between the river and the road. Cox was underneath and died instantly from a fractured skull. The girl lingered until last evening, when she succumbed from shock and internal injuries.

Hinchcliffe and Withers had not advanced so far on the bridge, and were able to reach the end of the bridge in time to save their lives.

Dr. Addison, who attended the girl, will recommend that an inquest be held.

Montreal, March 17.—McCraw, charged with the murder of Sclater near Three Rivers, was found guilty by the jury late yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Sclater, as an accomplice, will be placed on trial on the 26th. Judge Cannon charged strongly against the prisoner.

New Attorney-General.

Victoria, B. C., March 17.—Hon. Mr. Fulton was yesterday sworn in as Attorney-General, in succession to Chas. Wilson.

Nervous Diseases No Longer a Fad

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

"The breakdown of the nervous system is no mere society craze from which it is fashionable to suffer, but is becoming a national calamity which bids fair to rob our descendants of many of those qualities which have done so much to make this empire what it is," writes Dr. Guthrie Rankin, an eminent London physician.

The keen competition of life is now felt in all grades of society, and as the result prostration, paralysis and insanity are becoming more and more common as the natural outcome of exhausted nerves.

Sleeplessness, irritability, indigestion, headache and general lack of energy and ambition are among the early indications of nervous troubles, and with women the result is not infrequently derangements and irregularities of the feminine organism.

If a committee of experts on diseases of the nerves were to prescribe for you they would give you just such a formula as that of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for this medicine is composed of the most powerful nerve restoratives known to medical science.

This is no idle boast, as we shall be pleased to prove to you if you will have your physician call at these offices and examine the formula.

What we consider as better proof of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will do for you is to be found in the letters of recommendation published from time to time in Dr. Chase's Almanac and in the newspapers of this country.

Naturally and gradually this great food cure forms new, rich blood, the substance from which the brain creates new nerve force. This is the only means by which diseases of the nerves can be actually cured. Stimulants and narcotics give temporary relief, but with great expense to the nervous system. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food slowly but certainly revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and by filling the body with vitality overcomes weakness, sickness and disease.

A favourite means of proving this is by noting your increase in weight while using this medicine. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

FIVE GOLDEN RULES.

First—Eat only 3 meals a day, 5 hours apart.

It requires 4 to 4½ hours to digest a meal. This leaves ½ to 1 hour for the stomach to rest.

Second—Eat nothing between meals.

If anything is taken into the stomach while digestion is going on, digestion stops and may not start again for an hour.

Third—Eat slowly and chew food thoroughly.

This insures food being well mixed with saliva and partially digested before it reaches the stomach.

Fourth—Drink little fluid with meals.

The stomach gives out about a pint of gastric juice to digest each meal. If you take another pint of tea, wine or water, then the digestive juices are too diluted to properly digest the food.

Fifth—Take one "Fruit-a-tives" tablet about twenty minutes before meals. "Fruit-a-tives" tone up and sweeten the stomach — insure an abundant flow of digestive juices—and cure Dyspepsia. Follow these directions for a month and see how much better you are in every way.

CREATED A SENSATION.

Russian Girl Who Attempted to Kill Governor Abused by Police.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—The daughter of Gen. Izmailovich, who was condemned to death on March 2, her sentence later being commuted to imprisonment for life has created a sensation similar to that caused by Mme. Spiridonove, the 17-year-old girl who shot at M. Luzhenoffsky, chief of the secret police of Tombaff, who smuggled a letter out of her prison describing the manner in which she had been treated. Mme. Izmailovich has also succeeded in sending out a letter from her prison. It was published yesterday and described her horrible treatment after the attempt to kill the governor of Minsk, as a result of which her accomplice, Ivan Kulikoff, was executed at Minsk, March 14. Mme. Izmailovich says the police kicked her into insensibility and subsequently at the police station tore off her clothes, subjected her to indignities, cursed her, spat on her face and struck her with such force on the side of her head that an ear-drum was broken.

A local paper yesterday printed statistics showing that 397 executions occurred in Russia during the month of January.

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID.

Dying Message of Ontario Girl Who Suicides In Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 17.—Ida Dixon, a domestic, committed suicide early yesterday morning by taking carbolic acid.

A sheet of paper was found on the table in her room, on which was written the words "Tired of life; no one to blame."

The girl's parents reside at Barwick, Ont. It is said that she had been worried at not hearing from them for a couple of months. She resided with the Bunnel family for four years, and came with them from Toronto.

She bore a good reputation and was a regular church attendant.

Manslaughter.

Collingwood, March 17.—Coroner McFaul's jury, after three hours consideration last evening, brought in a verdict of felonious wounding, or manslaughter, against Louis Bartelle. Evidence went to show that Lewis had irritated Bartelle and provoked an encounter by slapping his face. The stabbing was done while the two were grappling and no one saw the blow struck. Barthelle will appear before the magistrate to-day.

THE CABINET CHANGES.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Defends Appointing Public Men to Office—Debate on the Intercolonial.

Ottawa, March 17.—In his promised statement regarding Ministerial changes yesterday the Premier justified the appointment of men in public life to offices on the ground of Imperial precedents, which he quoted, and because of the fitness acquired by the training which service in Parliament gave. The leader of the Opposition, while admitting the force of the argument advanced by the Premier, suggested that the principle was carried to the extreme when members sat in Parliament with promises of preferment to office in their pockets.

The Intercolonial.

The Intercolonial Railway held the attention of the House for the greater part of the day's sitting. Hon. John Haggart continued his criticism of the management of the Intercolonial, which he declared never would pay so long as it was made a political pack hack. He charged that the Minister of Railways had been misinstructed when he informed the House that the system of charging items of expenditure on the Intercolonial was the same as on other railways, and characterized the statement as glaringly false. Incapacity and stupidity had in his opinion marked the administration of the road.

Mr. Hance J. Logan approved of the Minister's action in reforming the administration of the road, but contended that it should never be expected to pay dividends.

Mr. Geo. Fowler promised that it would be proved in the Public Accounts Committee that $400,000 or $500,000 too much was being paid in wages at Moncton, where four men were employed to do one man's work.

In supply a number of items were voted.

A supplementary estimate of $20,000 for the insurance commission was brought down.

To Repeal Salary Grab.

W. F. Maclean (South York) gave notice last night of a bill to repeal the act of last session increasing indemnities to members and Senators, and to repeal all pensions to Privy Councillors.

THE GROCERS' COMBINE.

How Screws Were Put On to Bring a Firm Into the Fold.

Hamilton, March 17.—How George Robertson & Sons of Kingston were brought into the fold would seem an appropriate verbal garment with which to clothe what was disclosed in yesterday's investigation of the conspiracy charges against the Dominion Wholesale Grocers' Guild. This firm was a most refractory one, it is shown, and for a long time hung out against the overtures of organization, preferring to sell and to buy as best suited them. They became a thorn in the guild's side, a thorn which caused a voluminous correspondence, and Crown Attorney Washington occupied nearly all the sitting in reading it. Robertson & Sons finally "came into the fold," as more than one letter expressed it, but not until "the screws were put on," as Mr. Washington observed. The methods used to embarrass the firm's trade and to force them to "bend the knee" formed interesting evidence yesterday.

ORDERED JEWS TO LEAVE.

Vladivostock to Be Free of Them Within Three Days.

Vladivostock, Russia, March 17.—The Jews here have been ordered to leave the city in three days.

Levroff Dismissed.

St. Petersburg, March 17.—The author of the anti-Jewish circulars was M. Levroff, an employe of the Ministry of the Interior, holding a rank in the official hierarchy equivalent to councillors of state. He is the leader of the League of the Russian People and has been dismissed from the service and arrested, and will be prosecuted.

THE MOROCCAN CONFERENCE.

Delegates Hope That Germany and France Will Reach Basis.

Algeciras, March 17.—Postponement of the plenary conference on Moroccan reforms until March 20 arouses among the delegates hopes that Germany and France meantime will reach a basis of accord.

Fire at St. Mary's.

St. Mary's, March 17.—Fire broke out yesterday in the upper storey of the Beattie storage building and did considerable damage. Mrs. Beattie loses several thousand dollars on the building. Harrison & Lamont, furniture dealers, are also heavy losers. Mrs. Agnes Gillie loses $1,000 on her furniture temporarily stored. A. E. Teskey loses $1,000 on his stored furniture. C. Richardson & Co. loses about $500 in manufactured dairy supply goods stored in the building. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Baby Will Become a Joy In The Home If Fed On

LACTATED FOOD.

There should be no difficulties, no jars, no heart sorrows about baby, if you are willing to be guided by the wisdom of able physicians and experienced mothers. If the little one is sickly and delicate it should be nourished at once on Lactated Food, a food which combines all the properties of healthy breast milk.

Lactated Food, now so universally used is a perfect substitute for mother's milk. It is predigested; it does produce irritation as prepared foods do; it never fails to subdue inflammation of the stomach and intestines, and is always retained on the weakest stomach.

There is absolutely no trouble, dear mother, when you baby is fed on Lactated Food; it becomes happy, contented and bright. Give Lactated Food a trial; once used you will have no other. All druggists sell it.

12 Feet of Snow.

Fresno, Cali., March 17.—A storm of unprecedented severity has been raging for sixty hours and the region between the San Joaquin and Kings Rivers is threatened with the greatest flood in years. The fall of snow in the mountains exceeds all records. Telephone advices from Pineridge, which is at an altitude of 5,000 feet, say 12 feet of snow have fallen and at the summit of the mountains the depth is 21 feet. Both the Kings and San Joaquin Rivers are above the danger line. Both the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific report numerous washouts and train service demoralized.

The Toronto Tournament.

Toronto, March 17.—The committee has named the dates for the ninth semi-annual boxing tournament of the city of Toronto, March 29, 30 and 31, in the Mutual street rink, entries closing on March 26.

BABY'S AWFUL SKIN HUMOUR

Doctors and Hospitals Called it Chronic Eczema and Said Sores Never Could Be Healed — Child Was Getting So Bad Mother Didn't Know What To Do.

CURED BY CUTICURA AT A SMALL EXPENSE

"Words cannot express my gratitude for what Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent have done for my son, who when two years old had eczema as bad as any child could have it. I had several doctors, but when they stopped treating him his head would begin to get sore again, almost the next day. It got so bad I really didn't know what to do. At last we took him to the hospital, where the doctors said he had chronic eczema. They gave me a wash for it, but said it was foolish to think of it ever being cured.

"The child was failing so I thought I must do something, and reading about Cuticura, I went to the nearest drug store and purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies. I used half of them and found some relief and improvement, but thought the change for the better was only temporary, as it had been with all the other medicines ordered by the doctors. But by the time I had used one and a half boxes of Ointment, one small bottle of Resolvent, and one cake of Soap, the cure was complete and permanent, with not a sign of a sore from that day to this,—over two years. I shall never be without Cuticura Soap, I find it so good for the toilet and for the children.—Mrs. J. Schepperle, 218 Frost St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 9, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humour, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent (also in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, in vials of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

Serious Fire Narrowly Averted In Norwood Factory

Blaze Was Discovered in J. Finlay and Sons Plant But Was Extinguished Before Any Damage Was Done—Presentations Were Made to Citizens Leaving for the West, and Also to Mr. Roxborough, the Retiring Secretary of the Agricultural Society.

PERSONAL NOTES FROM DUMMER CAPITAL

Special to The Examiner.

Norwood, March 12.—Mr. John Finlay, M.P., left last week for Ottawa to attend the opening of Parliament. He was accompanied by Mrs. Finlay and his two daughters, Mrs. I. N. Ackerman, of town, and Mrs. A. J. Fitzgerald, of Tweed.

Miss Beatrice Tucker spent Thursday in Peterborough.

Mr. C. W. Waters was in Toronto last week on business.

Miss M. Morrison is spending a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. J. B. Craig, of Havelock, was a guest of Mrs. W. A. Richardson last week.

Miss Grace Foster is visiting in Peterborough at the home of Mr. H. Bertram.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McNichol, of Campbellford, were in town for a few days last week.

Mr. D. N. King, of Lindsay, was in Norwood on Thursday.

Mr. Roger Fraser spend Saturday and Sunday at his home in Lakefield.

Miss Lou Scott has accepted a position in the millinery department of Messrs. John Catto & Co., of Toronto.

Mr. Wm. Birt, who has spent the last couple of months here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Birt, left on Monday for Pense, Assa.

Messrs. J. Finlay and Son's factory had a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire on Saturday morning about 6.15. The night watchman smelt smoke at midnight, and spent most of the night endeavouring to find out where it was, but was unsuccessful until a little after 6 in the morning, when he saw it gushing out from between the partitions near the paint shop. As it was impossible for any spark or match to reach the place where the fire originated, it is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. However, as soon as it was discovered an immediate alarm was given and the fire was extinguished before any serious harm was done.

Messrs. A. Helps and Fred. Rollo, of Warsaw, were in town on Saturday.

Mr. J. Thompson spent Wednesday and Thursday at his home near Springbrook.

Mrs. Robt. McMillon and Mrs. Harold Howson attended the funeral of their grandfather, the late Mr. John Kindred, which took place at Keene on Sunday, March 11.

Mr. M. Kennedy, of Douro, has accepted a position as junior clerk in the Union Bank here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cuffe were in Toronto on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carlray spent Sunday near Roseneath, at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burkell.

Mr. Orsil Johnston, of Tweed, spent Sunday at his home here.

Miss Brooks, of Percy, is a guest of Mrs. Edwin C. Squire.

Messrs. K. G. Thomson and H. L. Walker spent Sunday in Warkworth.

Dr. Wildon is spending a few days in Lindsay.

Mr. Ivison Tucker, of Havelock, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tucker, on Sunday.

Mr. H. L. Walker has disposed of his hardware business on Colborne street to Mr. Thos. Rahal, of Norwood.

Miss Annie Burkell, who has spent the last two months with her sister, Mrs. W. Carlray, left on Monday for Toronto.

The funeral of Mrs. John Doherty took place from her late residence, Hastings road, on Monday, March 12, and proceeded to St. Paul's church, where service was held, thence to the R. C. cemetery. Mrs. Doherty was a daughter of the late John Grady, of Douro. She leaves besides her husband, five children, three sons and two daughters to mourn her loss.

Mr. J. A. Crowe, of Douro, spent Saturday with Mr. Fred. Anderson.

Mrs. Moffat, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. J. B. Pearce for the past few weeks, left for her home in Toronto on Saturday.

Mr. E. P. Cuffe has engaged Miss Ross as milliner and saleslady for the coming season.

Mr. Thos. Howson is confined to the house with a severe attack of pneumonia.

A few evenings before the Nicol brothers, of Dummer, disposed of their household property previous to their departure for the West, a large number of their neighbours assembled and presented Miss Annie with a gold chain and napkin ring; John with a fountain pen; Andrew, a gold watch guard; Jason and Norman, gold lockets, accompanied by the following address:

To Miss Annie, Messrs. John, Andrew, Jason and Norman Nicol:

It was with deepest regret and sorrow that your many friends learn of your decision to leave the old homestead and to remove to Western Canada. As the days have passed since this decision was made known it seems even more difficult than we had thought it would to say "farewell." The ties which have bound you to this neighbourhood are many, and very strong. We have grown up from infancy to manhood and womanhood in the same neighbourhood. Many of us have been your playmates and school mates. In our joys and sorrows we have shared in the same kindly fellowship, and have known the same true sympathy the one towards the other. Your removal from us means a loss which words would fail to express, and creates a void not easily filled.

We follow you, one and all, with loving regards and truest good wishes to your new home in the "land of promise," to which so many from Eastern Canada, as well as other lands, are earnestly looking, and our prayer to our Heavenly Father will ever be that His favour may continually rest upon you, and His richest blessings ever abound; that your lives may be happy and useful; that at the end of life's day you may have many stars in your crown of rejoicing and the Master's "Well done."

May these small remembrances ever serve to recall to you the old neighbourhood and its precious memories, and the host of friends whom you are leaving behind you, but who will follow your future career with deepest interest and affection.

Signed on behalf of your many friends.

On Friday evening, March 9, their many friends of the Presbyterian church, Norwood, of which church they were members, gave a social evening and presented them with an address and a handsome mantel clock.

A meeting of the directors of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society was held in the town hall, Norwood, on Friday, March 9, at 1 p.m.

After the transaction of business they proceeded to the home of Mr. W. E. Roxburgh, who, for over 38 years, had been secretary-treasurer of the society, but on account of ill-health was forced to resign last fall, and presented him with a handsomely engraved silver cup on an ebony stand, in recognition of his many years' service. The presentation was accompanied with a beautifully framed address which read as follows:

To W. E. Roxburgh, Esq.,
Secretary-Treasurer of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

Dear Sir,—It is with sincere regret we have received from you the intimation that, owing to the impaired condition of your health, you desire to retire from the office of secretary-treasurer of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

From the organization of the society, now 38 years ago, you have been its friend and benefactor, and the success which has attended its operations have been very largely due to your tireless, intelligent and self-sacrificing service in its behalf.

Your enforced retirement will, we know, be the occasion of as much disappointment to yourself as it is to the society, but we trust that in your own case this will be tempered by the fact that your generosity and public spirit will long continue to be appreciated, and will also long serve as a high example for others.

We beg respectfully to tender you our hearty thanks for your valuable and unremitting labours, and to ask you to be good enough to accept this gift as a slight token of our sincere respect.

Signed on behalf of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

A TORONTO MAN TRIES

SOMETHING NEW AND IS DELIGHTED. FEELS LIKE A BOY.

MR. M. N. DAFOE

Mr. M. N. Dafoe, Manager The Dustless Brush Co., 29 Colborne St., Toronto, is telling his friends how he found health after years of illness and pain. He says:

"I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for many years. I have been treated by local doctors and have taken nearly all the advertised remedies with only temporary relief, if any at all but since using Anti-Pill I can eat any thing, the same as when a boy. I have been taking one Anti-Pill at bedtime for the past three months, and find they regulate both stomach and bowels. My old time vigor has returned, so that my spirits are buoyant and temper normal. As a result of this unhoped for experience I am on duty bound to give all credit to this wonderful remedy, Anti-Pill."

Every druggist sells Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, or a sample will be sent free by The Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

The remedy that cured Mr. Dafoe so completely is surely worth a trial. 502

Fred Nicholls and the Cars.

Our Street Railway Co. is no respector of persons, not even its own officers, says The Toronto Star.

The friends of Mr. Frederic Nicholls, vice president of the company, are poking fun at him about an experience he had the other morning. He came into town on the early train from Montreal and went to his home in Sherbourne street, depending on the car service to get him back to the station in time to catch the train for Niagara Falls, where he has large Power Company interests. He left himself half an hour to go from his home to the station, but he began to get nervous when the Belt Line car dashed past him at his usual getting-on place. He waited for another and a third, but the flying motorman in turn waved him off with a disrespectful jerk of the thumb over the shoulder to an imaginary car bringing up the rear, with more time than they.

Swallowing his chagrin as best he could, Mr. Nicholls ran rather than walked down to Carlton street, calculating that at the crossing point the cars would have to stop up. But when he now cast his eyes north and east there was not a car in sight.

In desperation by this time, Mr. Nicholls clambered on to the first vehicle in sight, which happened to be an old express wagon drawn by a horse that had seen better days.

"Three dollars if you get me to the station in time to catch my train," he exclaimed, and forthwith there was the picturesque sight of the vice-president of the street railway flying through the streets mounted on a rickety express wagon and lashing a poor bag of bones called by courtesy a horse.

He caught his train.

Discussion On Cement Walks By Havelock Council

Have Agreed That They Shall be Built on Frontage Plan—Belmont Sunday School Association Convene — Addresses Given by Prominent Persons —Many Visitors in the Village —Some Business Changes of Interest.

MRS. RICHARD NOLAN TAKES A RELAPSE

Havelock, March 12th. — The town council met on Monday evening, March 5th; all the members were present, except the new member-elect, Mr. W. T. Curtis.

The collector presented his roll, which was accepted, with the exception of the taxes of a number of citizens, who are to be given a last chance to settle before legal steps are taken to force collection.

Messrs. Chas. Armstrong and H. T. Andrews, addressed the council in reference to the payment of their share of the cement walk which was constructed last year in front of their property. Both gentlemen wanted to know how they would be reimbursed if future councils should decide to pay for additional walks by general tax, instead of the frontage system. After a thorough discussion the council was of the opinion that the walks should be built in the future on the same system as last year, namely the frontage tax, and the clerk was instructed to have a solicitor prepare a bylaw to that effect, and if legal to have a clause inserted making the bylaw remain in force for a period of five years. Under such a bylaw cement walks will be laid on any street providing two-thirds of the property owners on the said street sign a petition, asking for such a walk, and each and every owner of property fronting on said street along which the walk is laid will have to contribute 40 per cent. of the cost of the same, according to their respective frontages, to the village treasurer.

Mr. Houston of the Federal College, addressed the council in reference to the use of the hall for the Reading Club's assembly last week, advocating strongly the claims of the Gravenhurst free hospital for consumptives, in aid of which the affair was promoted. The council decided to collect the usual fee of $10 from the Reading Club but they will donate the same to the hospital, and so help to serve the same worthy object as was intended.

The electric light in front of Mr. Jas. Keene's residence once more came up for discussion and at one stage of the proceedings every member of the council had a different motion concerning it; finally a deadlock was created and the matter shelved. When Campney and Morrisson wanted the electric light company to inforce the motion of Aug. 7, —which motion orders the removal of the light to a point between McKeown's block, and Armstrong's hotel on the south side of the street—and Young and Thompson wanted the original motion rescinded. At the next meeting Curtis will probably decide between the two motions, and so close, or open, this very debatable question as to the proper position for the lamp in question.

The following accounts were presented:

P. Lancaster, printing	$ 5 75
E. Williams, salary	16 66
School Board	175 00
H. T. Andrews, D.R.O.	6 00
P. Phillips, D.R.O.	6 00

The convention of the Belmont Sunday school Association, was held here on Friday evening, March 10, in the Methodist church. The afternoon session began at two o'clock when several very interesting addresses were given by Rev. Thomas Yellowlees, Toronto, secretary of the Ontario S. S. Association, on House Visitation and Home Department. Mrs. G. M. Dorland, Mrs. Jas. Freeman, Mr. A. A. Brown, and Rev. Dr. Moss, gave papers, which were much appreciated. The afternoon session closed by singing the hymn, "Jesus Thy Blood and Righteousness." The evening session began at 7.30. Rev. H. Caplan gave an address on "The Holy Spirit in the School." The address given by Rev. Geo. A. MacLachlan, field secretary, Norwood, proved to be a most helpful one. The amalgamated choir furnished music during the proceedings; several solos were sung. A very interesting feature of the evening was the singing of the Glory Song by the choir. The meeting closed at 9.20 with the hymn "Holy Lamb, who Thee Confess," and the Benediction.

Miss Bessie Rose left for Toronto on Tuesday to attend a banquet to be held in the Temple Building Wednesday evening.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Jas. Martin, owing to ill health, had to discontinue presiding at the Presbyterian church organ, which she has played for a number of years. Miss Lottie Chiles of Peterborough, fills the vacancy caused by Mrs. Martin's resignation.

Mr. George Campbell of Perth, who is employed in Mr. R. E. White's tonsorial parlours, is contemplating leaving his position here to take one offered in Western Canada.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Richard Nolan, who has been in the Gravenhurst Hospital for the past two weeks, has again taken a relapse. Mr. Nolan left for Gravenhurst on Friday. We are in hopes that it will not be long ere she is with us again in improved health.

Mr. A. Richards, one of our liverymen, and his brother John, of Lakefield, who conducts a general store there have agreed to exchange their respective businesses. Mr. A. Richards expects to leave next week for his new home and Mr. H. Richards intends to take charge of the business here in about two weeks.

SOME TOPICS FOR —TAX PAYERS TO PUT UNDER THEIR— THINKING CAPS

Is the Good City of Peterboro Taking Too Rapid a Financial Pace?

Our Debenture Indebtedness Within Sight of Million Dollar Mark.

The Rate of Taxation and Rate to Water Consumers Might Both be Reduced.

This is an age of intense activity, and Peterborough advances so rapidly, and the panorama of events passes so quickly—one thing treading on the heels of another—that citizens, as a rule, do not appreciate as fully as might be done, the significance of events that affect their interests very closely. This especially applies to the actions of our representative bodies. On Monday night at a conference of the School Board and the City Council the latter endorsed the proposition of the Board to grant $35,000 for the purchase of a site—the Ontario Bank lot—for the erection of a new public school building in the south part of the city. It is not the intention of the Council to submit the proposition to the ratepayers, but to take advantage of the power permitted by the statute to issue debentures without the consent of the ratepayers. While the law gives this permission, it is natural to assume that the spirit of the law is that this power should be used by the Council only in cases where there is no popular dissatisfaction. Here, However, we have the case of the City Council undertaking the investment of $35,000 of the people's money on the erection of a school in a locality, in which such a large expenditure does not seem to be justified by the educational requirements of that part of the city. There is reason to believe that a large proportion of the citizens do not approve of this action and would not approve of it if they had an opportunity to vote upon the question, or if they gave sufficient attention to appreciate what it really means in relation to the general financial situation of the city, and their own tax bills.

Consider the Conditions.

The unquestionably large amount of $35,000 for site and building for public school purposes in the section of the city named is excessive, in view of the fact that a school costing $20,000 would meet the requirements of the district for many years. It behooves the City Council to consider the accompanying circumstances which might very prudently be permitted to modify the conditions and induce them to hasten gently in adding to the city's indebtedness, even for the purpose of providing additional public school accommodation, which everybody admits is necessary and should form a defensible reason for a defensibly moderate outlay for the purpose.

City Debt Prospects.

While it is admitted that we need more public school accommodation, the wisdom of adding $35,000 to our municipal indebtedness is open to question. We have now a debenture indebtedness of over $700,000, which will within the next few years have to be increased to the extent of some $100,000 to erect a new waterworks dam and filtering basin. This must be done, for, cost what it may, the people must have pure water. Then a new High School, costing in the neighbourhood of $75,000, is an absolute necessity, not only to meet the requirements of the Government, but to release needed public school accommodation now used by the Collegiate Institute. If the Government makes a demand and insists upon it, that demand will have to be met. High School Inspector Seath recommended an expenditure of $20,000 for repairs to the High School building in Woodstock, and a civic deputation waited upon the Government on Thursday to beg the latter to not insist upon the repairs being made at once, as the city had just completed waterworks improvements of the cost of $50,000. Then we shall have to consider improvements in connection with the other public schools which will cost much money—something in the neighbourhood of $15,000. We are now paying for our extensive pavement extensions, and these, with additional extensions as well as sewer extensions call for additions

A PROMINENT CITIZEN

The Great West Life Company

A Splendid Record Made In Thirteen Years of Business.

The Great-West Life say in their annual report, a synopsis of which appears in this issue, that every dollar of dividends so far paid to shareholders, has been actually earned by the capital stock and its accumulations, and that every dollar of profits made from policy-holders' premiums has been either paid to them or set aside to the credit of accumulation policies. This condition of affairs should surely satisfy the most exacting critic or policyholder. The further statement that they have earned 7 per cent. interest on their investments, without losing a dollar of interest or principal probably explains how they have been able to pay the estimates of profits in full on all matured policies. To organize a company and place over $24,000,000 of insurance in force, in thirteen years, maintain the above record and still show a surplus to policy-holders at over $612,000 is a record of which the company and its officers may well be proud. The personnel of the company's local staff of efficient and practical insurance workers, is Mr. H. P. Lindsay, who manages the local office, and is also inspector for Eastern Ontario. He has associated with him five active assistants who cover the whole of the territory in East and West Peterborough. These in their respective fields devote their entire attention to the Great-West Life, and with gratifying results.

CURRENT TOPICS ---MUNICIPAL--- OF THE CITY

This has been an "off" week with the Aldermen. That is they've been off on a trip most of the time. In the first place they went to Toronto on Tuesday, at least a number of them did, to help the member for West Peterborough convince the Private Bills Committee that it would be a good thing to pass the City's Bill. They failed in this particular, as the citizens know. But that was not because they did not try hard. Then the other branch of the Council went on to Hamilton to look at road crushers. They saw them, but did not purchase any. The companies visited, of course, each had the best crusher on earth, but they didn't sell the City of Peterborough any—not yet.

Ald. Mason will be a busy man for the rest of this month making preparations for the big deputation to Ottawa to tell Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. H. R. Emmerson that they just have to get busy and finish up the canal. The aim is to make this the biggest deputation that ever went to the capital.

That was a body blow to the chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee to see two of the prospective industries, one of them practically assured, lost to the city because Mr. Carscallen didn't see that it was a legitimate and a desirable thing to buy the Sugar Company land and pile of concrete walls and give part of it to the Carpet and Stove Works. But those carpet people have an idea that Peterborough would be a pretty nice name to put on their letterheads as their Canadian headquarters, and yesterday Mr. Preen and Mr. Whitehead turned up in the city again, and they spent a busy half day, with what result will be seen later.

The members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee are slapping each other on the back these days telling each other what a good bargain they made when they accepted Hugh Camergn's offer of $1,500 for the old steam fire engine in part pay for a brand new engine, that will throw water anywhere. The chances are that Hugh Cameron is not quite so well pleased as the majority of salesmen are when they make a $6,000 sale, either. It doesn't do to ask Hugh too much about old engines now. That's rather a sore point with him these days.

Ald. Ball deserves a vote of thanks from the tobacco dealers of the City. His Bill to license cigarette dealers and the discussion incidental to it has had the effect, the dealers state, of increasing the sale of cigars. One dealer told the Topics man that there was a marked decrease in the number of cigarettes sold during the last few weeks, and a corresponding increase in the cigar business, all of which is quite satisfactory to the tobacco men.

WILL PETERBOROUGH LOSE THE MILITARY CAMP AFTER ALL?

Dispatch From Cobourg Which Says Prospects Are Good For Its Location in That Town--Col. Gordon Said to Have Recommended Cobourg--Land Stated to Have Been Secured For Purpose.

A Cobourg despatch says:

The probabilities of Cobourg becoming the camping ground for Military District No. 3 seem to be exceedingly good.

It was proposed to utilize the House farm, east of the Kingston Crossing, but the town was unable to rent it. Col. Gordon of Kingston, D. O. C. for this district, was in town this week, and was prepared to close the deal with the town, fixing Cobourg as the camp for the year 1906, but being unable to obtain the land he returned to Kingston on Monday.

After his return home, Lt.-Col. W. Floyd and Councillor Mitchell, endeavoured to secured a suitable ground, and we learn have obtained 125 acres of good level land northeast of the railway track and east of Cottesmore avenue, and which will be highly suitable for the camp. The town has agreed to give a lease of this land. Should the camp come to Cobourg it will mean an outlay of $40,000 in the town. There will be about 4,000 men under canvas, comprising six regiments of infantry, try, four companies of artillery, two squadrons of cavalry, Army Service Corps, Army Medical Corps, etc.

Colonel Gordon, it is understood, recommended Cobourg as the place for holding the camp of 1906.

The Cavanagh and Allen Liquor Cases Dismissed

The Charges Not Proven, Said His Worship—Testimony of the "Whiskey Detectives" Contradicted.

The cases against Jas. Allen and T. Cavanagh, charged with selling liquor on Sunday, march 11th were not proven, said His Worship Police Magistrate Dumble at this morning's session of the police court. In the case of Allen there was no evidence to support a conviction, said His Worship, that of Corcoran, the whiskey detective, the sole witness for the prosecution, not being strong enough to warrant him finding the defendant guilty. Corcoran identified two men as having drunk with him and their evidence was very contradictory to that offered by the detective. He was much impressed with the bearing of these men, both of whom claimed to drink no liquor. On the strength of the evidence there was nothing to do but to dismiss the case.

In the Cavanagh case the evidence of Corcoran might be left out, as it was of no value, and that of Dordino, the other detective, was emphatically denied by both father and son. There was a conflict of testimony. Corcoran had no record of the drinking at 1230, mentioned by Dordino, and Dordino's evidence was contradicted by many witnesses. On such evidence as the prosecution gave it was impossible to register a conviction. Both charges were therefore dismissed.

Howard Innis and E. Taylor were charged with being disorderly. Innis was the only one of the defendants to put in an appearance. He pleaded guilty. The trouble commenced, he said, over Taylor tearing the papers of a chum of Innis'. Innis resented the "tearing" and struck Taylor. The latter naturally retaliated and a lively mix-up ensued. Mr. John Hayes caught hold of Taylor and proceeded to take him to the police station. Officer Stewart came along and relieved Mr. Hayes of his charge. Taylor was not locked up, but was told to appear at the police court this morning. He did not arrive, however, until the court was adjourned. His worship discharged the case, warning Innis to mind his business in the future.

At this morning's police court His Worship made a formal committal and Bradburn appeared before the County Judge at 11 o'clock. He elected to be tried by his Honour, and the date of the trial was fixed for Wednesday, March 28.

Send Deputations To Gain Newest Ideas

Ald. Hicks believes that those in charge of the City's streets should be sent to other cities on a trip two or three times a year, in order to see what they are doing in the way of permanent improvements to the streets. The larger cities are continually making experiments and if we were able to keep in touch with the modern methods of street maintenance, etc., the city would be able to save considerable money by the adoption of those methods. The City of Toronto yesterday sent three men to the Eastern States for the purpose of gaining information in reference to some particular point in connection with municipal matters, and other cities make a practice of sending men around to gather up the newest ideas, a practice which appears to have been followed by good results. At any rate it is being entertained, and the results seem so warrant it.

Board Of Trade Setting Rates

The Board of Trade is now in communication with the G.T.R. authorities in connection with securing low rates from that Company for the deputation to Ottawa on March 29th, on Trent Canal matters. They expect to hear from them in a short time, quoting rates from points on that line.

Plenty Of Snow At Bethany

An exception to the old proverb, slightly transposed, that "rain falls on the just as well as on the unjust," has occurred out in Bethany, a few miles west of the city. Mr. Wm. Reid, a well known Otonabee farmer, was driving in that district a few days ago, and he states that the sleighing in that locality is very fair. "It's funny the difference a few miles make."

Mr. O'Connell Off For Montreal

Mr. D. O'Connell left on the midnight train last night for Montreal, where he will to-night attend a banquet in honour of St. Patrick, Ireland's Patron Saint, and to Mr. O'Connell has fallen the honour of responding to the toast to "Ireland," an honour which is no inconsiderable one.

Grand Officers Paid Official Visit To Masons

Last Night a Red-Letter One for Corinthian Lodges—Rt. Wor. Bro. J. H. Burritt, of Pembroke, Grand Master, and Rt. Wor. Bro. John Hull, of Lakefield, District Deputy Grand Master, were Present—Enjoyable Banquet Closed the Evenings's Event.

SPEECHES WERE GREATLY ENJOYED

Last night was a red letter one for Corinthian Lodge, No. 101, A.F. and A. M. Most Worshipful Brother Jas. H. Burritt, of Pembroke, Grandmaster, and Right Worshipful John Hull, of Lakefield, District Deputy Grand Master of Otonabee District, No. 20, last night paid their official visit to the local lodge, and as usual the occasion was a noteworthy one.

After the official business had been transacted a very enjoyable banquet was held. The collation served was a delicious one and ample justice was done to the good things provided. The toast list provided was one of the most appreciated events of the evening.

The toast to the King was honoured in the usual manner, after which the toast to the Grand Master was proposed by Bro. R. E. Wood, in an appropriate speech. M. W. Bro. Burritt made a neat response.

The toast to the Grand Lodge came next, being proposed by Worshipful Bro. Dr. M. A. Morrison. Effective replies were made by Rt. Wor. Bro. John Hull, and Rt. Wor. Bro. Wasson. The visiting brethren were next honoured, the toast being proposed by Bro. J. A. Fife, and responded to by Wor. Bro. Hodgson and Wor. Bro. Kidd, of Wabsaw. Wor. Bro. Dr. McCulloch gave the toast to the ladies, and Bro. F. D. Kerr in reply, paid a graceful tribute to the fair sex. The Junior Wardens' toast was next honoured, bringing the list to a close.

The occasion was one long to be remembered by the members of Corinthian Lodge.

Message From A Mechanic

CARPET FACTORY —WITH LOCAL CAPITALISTS— MAY BE SECURED

A New Proposition is on Foot by Which Messrs. Brintons Will Locate in This City.

Senator Cox Understood to be Interested in the Effort to Bring Factory Here.

The Methods Which Will be Made use Of--Property Will Probably be Purchased.

The carpet factory is not altogether lost to Peterborough yet, at least there is a hope which may develop into a certainty that the company may decide to locate here. It was recognized that the action of the Private Bills Committee in rejecting the clauses of the City's Bill, relating to the purchase of the Bagan Company's property practically meant that so far as the city was concerned nothing could be done this year.

But with the defeat of that plan other means suggested themselves, and to-day the matter is being considered by a member of the city's business men. There is a very strong desire to secure this industry for the city, because those who have given the matter consideration are convinced that the industry is one which will develop into a most desirable one for the city, and that every effort should be made to secure it.

It is understood that the proposal which is now being worked out, is that the property shall be purchased by a syndicate of local capitalists, and that it should be given to the Carpet Company under conditions. In case the land purchased is outside the corporation, the Council will be asked to annex it under an agreement similar to that adopted by the Hamilton City Council, viz., that the rate of taxation shall not be higher than the present township rate for a period of years.

Senator Cox, it is understood, is interested in the proposal, while a number of other local capitalists are taking an active part in the negotiations and are making efforts to complete arrangements by which the industry may be secured to the city. The representative of the Company to-day gave out the following official statement:

"Some gentlemen, citizens of Peterborough, are wanting to arrange to get the new Carpet Company to be known as The Brinton Carpet Company of Canada, to locate in Peterborough, and to that end they are trying to secure a piece of land suitable for their requirement. Nothing is settled up to the present time, but they are hoping for an early settlement.

Messrs. Preen and Whitehead are in the city to-day, and are this afternoon meeting the capitalists who are interested in the project.

If they succeed in coming to an agreement, it will mean that Peterborough will have one of the most promising industries in Canada, one with an established business in England, and one which will start with a good reputation already made.

ALDERMAN'S DEATH

THE LATE ALD. THOS. KELLY.

Ald. Thos. Kelly Passed Away This Afternoon

One of Peterborough's Most Highly Respected Citizens Deceased.

At 2.30 this afternoon the death occurred of Ald. Thos. Kelly, after an illness of several months' duration, during which time he suffered from laryngitis. No man who has ever occupied a public position in Peterborough was more highly respected than the late Mr. Kelly, and there will be universal regret at his demise. He was 63 years of age.

He was elected to a seat as alderman last January, after several years of private life, but attended very few meetings of the Council.

A fuller reference will be made to his life on Monday.

Dumb Animals Must Be Cared For

Dr. Poole Will Look After all Neglections.

Cruelty to dumb animals appears to be gaining ground in this city. This morning a local liveryman and wood-dealer went out a half-starved and poorly shod horse attached to a conveyance containing over half a cord of wood. The animal which looked as if it might have been fed on sawdust for the past half century stumbled and fell on Water street.

Dr. Poole, the Water street veterinary surgeon, who is making it his business to look after all such cases, has warned the owner and should a similar instance occur, action will be at once taken in the matter.

Dr. Poole stated that neglect in feeding and stabling horses is becoming too universal in this city, and is constantly on the look out for any infractions of the law in that respect.

An Acquisition To Optical Ranks

Pharmaceutical Journal's Reference to Local Druggists.

The Canadian Pharmaceutical Journal for March, just to hand to-day, contains the following items of interest locally:

Mr. A. A. Fowler, who has opened an optical department in connection with Nugent's drug store in Peterborough, is a decided acquisition to the optical ranks, being an enthusiast and has already been successful in acquiring a nice little optical connection.

Mr. R. Harrison of Peterborough, is contemplating moving to the Northwest early in the spring and embarking in the combined lines of optics and pharmacy.

Will The Ratepayers ---LIKE HAND IN FIRE--- Engine Purchase?

Petition Will Probably be Presented to the Council Asking for a Competition Test of the Two Engines—President of Canadian Fire Engine Company in the City—What His Presence Here Means.

The question of the fire engine purchase is not settled yet, at least, not if the statements which have been made are correct. It is understood that a movement is on foot to ask the council to re-open the matter, and with this in view a petition will in all probability be circulated among the citizens asking that the Waterous and London engines be tested before a purchase is finally decided on. Mr. Prichard, the President of the Canadian Fire Engine Company, is in the city to-day, and will remain here for a few days. The outcome of his visit will probably be seen in a short time.

He feels that his company has not been given a fair deal by the council, and states that he wants a test of the engines made, not so much that he wants to sell his engine as that he wants to sustain the Company's reputation.

He was asked by the Examiner if he had talked to many ratepayers on the question, and his significant answer was that he had his friends in the city.

Mr. Pritchard was in consultation with Mr. James Hogue at the Oriental last night and again to-day. He will remain here over Sunday, and the probability is that in the course of a short time there will be a petition circulated.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Are the Up-to-Date Remedy.

Medicines, like clothes, are made from different materials now than they were twenty-five years ago. Some of the materials used in making Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women had not been discovered then. You cannot get these new ingredients in the old time remedies. And yet these ingredients are used now in diseases of women by all the world's greatest physicians.

Progresive women—thinking women keep up-to-date in the matter of medicines as well as clothes. They are buying Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets, the twentieth century preparation for women, and the one now recognized beyond doubt or question as the one best adapted to their special needs.

They make healthy women.

Colleen Bawn Cleverly Played By St. Peter's T.A.S.

The Romantic Irish Comedy-Drama Was Presented to a Crowded House at the Grand Last Night—Every Member of the Company Was Most Successful—Musical Specialties of a High Class Order Added to the Enjoyment.

HOCKEY CLUB WERE GUESTS OF SOCIETY

One of the largest audiences of the season greeted the grand presentation of the Irish comedy-drama, "The Colleen Bawn," under the auspices of teh dramatic section of St. Peter's T.A.S., at the Grand last night. The production was in every way worthy of the big house, and although played by amateurs there was little of the amateur in any part of the performance. The presentation was carried out without the slightest hitch and none of the awkward stage presence that is so usually apparent in such affairs was in evidence last night. As a result the audience fully enjoyed the play, and many were the expressions of appreciation heard among the crowd as it passed out of the house. The weeks of careful rehearsal had their reward in the distinct triumph that was scored, to which no greater praise can be given than to say that in point of excellence it surpassed all previous entertainments under the same auspices. The T.A.S. has a very high reputation in this regard and it was fully sustained by the excellent work done last night at the annual St. Patrick's Day concert which has come to be looked forward to as one of the premier events of the season.

Of the play itself there need little be said, "The Colleen Bawn," with its romantic Irish scenes and characters, and the tangled stream of love running through, is too well known to the average theatre-goer to necessitate an explanation of the plot. It may be said, however, it was an excellent article upon which to display the histrionic ability of some of Peterborough's young people. The drama has some very effective climaxes, the best of these being the sensational rescue of the Colleen Bawn from drowning.

St. Peter's T.A.S. is to be congratulated at having among its members such clever entertainers. Their work throughout the entire play last night was very brilliant and they gave energy and a realistic earnestness to their acting that is rarely found with amateur performers and sometimes not with those whom the footlights nightly greet. The characters were well interpreted, the stage-presence of those taking part was perfectly natural and no nervousness, although it may have been felt, was made manifest to the audience. The drama was presented in three acts and thirteen scenes. The stage fittings were of a character in keeping with the high order of the production and in addition the costumes worn were most effective.

Miss Levina Hallihan in the title role made a charming little Irish girl and her finished acting added greatly to the effectiveness of the affair. She has a fine voice and acted her somewhat difficult role with graceful ease. Miss Fanny Holmes as Noreen Brady, the heiress, was one of the most successful of those taking part. Her acting, especially in the lighter passages, was most realistic. The part of Mrs. Cregan was taken with grace by Miss Nellie McCabe, who displayed great ability in the interpretation of this role in which dignity of bearing and dramatic talent are necessary to achieve success.

To Mr. George Lynch, as Myles Na Coppaleen, the happy-go-lucky, right-hearted and brave Irish boy, fell most of the comedy, and it is but faint praise to say that he handled it well. His acting was free from all restraint, and he entered heartily into the spirit of the part, his brogue running the audience from the first. Mr. John McCabe, as Hardress Cregan, husband of the Colleen Bawn, showed himself fully capable of the part and Mr. Jas. Dorris as Kyrle Daly, was also most successful.

Mr. T. J. Begley, as Danny Mann, had one of the heaviest parts in the play, but his work was most happy especially in the death-bed scene in the last act. The other parts were taken by capable artists, who gave the principals capable support.

Not the least enjoyable feature of the evening were the musical specialties which were introduced during the play. Miss Lavina Hallihan's sweet soprano voice was heard to great advantage in two songs, "I Like Your Way" and "When You Were Sweet Sixteen," the latter being illustrated. Miss Nellie Hallihan also made a big hit in her song. Mr. Geo. Lynch also contributed two numbers in fine voice, "Why Did They Sell Killarney" being warmly applauded. The catchiest song of the evening was probably the illustrated number, "Kate Kearney," sung by Mr. C. Donovan. Mr. Begley also rendered a pretty little Irish song that was well received. Mr. Houlihan gave a step-dance in clever fashion.

A pleasing effect was introduced in the finale, the entire company singing a lively chorus.

The members of the Peterborough Hockey Club were the guests of the T. A. S., and occupied boxes with the club's colours, the good old blue and white.

Following is the cast of characters:

Myles Na Coppaleen—Mr. George Lynch.

Eily O'Connor (Colleen Bawn)—Miss Lavina Hallihan.

Hardress Cregan—Mr. John McCabe.

Mrs. Cregan—Miss Nellie McCabe.

Miss McCabe, Musical Director.

To Mr. Begley, as director, much of the credit for the success of the presentation is due. He, Mr. George Lynch and Mr. John McCabe deserve especial credit for the effectiveness of the stage arrangements. St. Peter's T. A. S. is to be congratulated on the triumph achieved by its members last night.

THE GREAT-WEST LIFE

Assurance Company.

President, - - A. MACDONALD

Managing Director, J. H. BROCK

REPORT FOR 1905.

The Thirteenth Annual Report of The Great-West Life Assurance Company is a record of prosperity, as well as progress, as evidenced by the following results:

	1904.	1905.
New insurance (issued and taken)	$ 5,103,473.00	$ 6,033,333.00
Total insurance in force	20,611,399.00	24,216,082.00
Premium income	662,947.25	791,483.00
Interest income	163,302.35	171,102.00
Assets	2,559,983.00	3,149,229.74
Liabilities	2,017,296.58	2,537,146.29
Surplus for Policyholders	540,692.41	612,212.45

The following extracts are from the Directors' Report, and Addresses presented at the Annual Meeting, held at the Head Office of the Company in Winnipeg:—

"We have paid to Policyholders during the year for Claims, Surrender Values, Annuities and Profits on Policies, $132,624.94, and have set aside $494,496.24, to cover additions to Reserve and future payments under Instalment Policies and Profits declared in reduction of future premiums.

"Notwithstanding the more than ample provision for all Liabilities, our Surplus of Policyholders amounts to the handsome sum of $612,212.45, being an increase of $71,521.01 over 1904. This steady increasing addition to our Surplus annually is a gratifying feature of our business, and has enabled us to continue to give most satisfactory returns to our Policyholders."

"The low death rate proves conclusively that our Medical Board and Examiners have not sacrificed quality for quantity, but that the greatest care in selecting the best classes of business has been the motto from the first.

"The high interest earned, and the fact that we have not lost one dollar on our investments since the inception of the Company, speaks well for our valuators, inspectors, and especially for your Executive Committee.

"As a result of the excellent investment of our funds, and economy of management, we are paying larger profits to our policyholders than any other company doing business in the Dominion."

"As the dividend paid to Shareholders by Life Insurance Companies is so frequently misrepresented by interested parties, and those who are not informed on the subject, it is just as well to state that the Dividend paid by the Great West to its Shareholders is entirely from the Interest Earnings of the Capital paid in by Shareholders, and the Interest accumulations during the first seven years' operation of the Company, when no Dividends were paid because the money was required to organize the business. The statement, therefore, that the Shareholders' Dividend, or any part of it, is paid out of Profits that would go to a Mutual Company's Policyholders, is untrue.

"It is well, also, to make it quite clear that the Dividend is paid only on the Paid-up Capital, and, although the Shareholders are liable for three times the amount of the Paid-up Capital, this additional security to Policyholders is without cost to them and is something the Policyholders in a Mutual Company are without, as those who manage and control a Mutual Company do so by proxies of the Policyholders, and without being liable for a dollar to anyone.

"Every dollar of Profits earned by the Great West has been paid out in Profits to Policyholders, or set aside as Surplus, for division ass the policy profit period arrive."

THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY has never lost a dollar of principal or interest; has never shown a dollar's worth of Real Estate under foreclosure; has paid in full every estimate of profits on policies that have matured, and gives the security of a million dollars' capital without cost to the Policyholders.

THE INTEREST EARNINGS FOR 1905 AVERAGED OVER 7 PER CENT. OF TOTAL LEDGER ASSETS.

The Three Features of the Great-West Life Are { LOWER PREMIUMS / HIGHER GUARANTEES / GREATER PROFITS } To Policyholders

Some Topics For Tax Payers

to our debenture indebtedness, so that we are in a fair way, to increasing our debenture debt to a round million of dollars within a comparatively few years.

Get Value for Expenditure.

The City Council should carefully provide before undertaking any considerable expenditures that they represent good value and are of a permanent character. If the taxes are made much more excessive, property holders will find themselves saddled with a burden that cannot be shaken off. The assessment of the city has been increased by nearly a million of dollars—$931,237—yet with this large increase there has only been a reduction of half a mill on the dollar instead of, as it might have been, two mills. The more money we intrust to our Aldermen the more will be spent; that is only human nature. In illustration it may be pointed out that there has been not only thousands but tens of thousands of dollars wasted upon our streets in work of temporary character. George street is a disgrace to the city—worse than many of our back streets, and the question of permanently paving our main thoroughfare, involving another large addition to our indebtedness, will demand early attention, and any money spent should be of a permanent character. The Council might have well reduced the rate this year, or otherwise should have provided for undertaking permanent street improvements. Our taxes are not light now, and with an immensely increased assessment, keeping up the tax rate so closely to the figure required under the old assessment, is like burning the candle at both ends.

Reduce Water Rate.

While the Aldermen might have lowered the rate of taxation there is another payment equivalent to a tax, that might, with justice to the ratepayers, who are water users, be considerably reduced. The Water Commissioners should reduce the rate. It is manifestly unfair to the present users of water to tax them to the full extent of the rates that are now imposed. If the existing rate is maintained, the present users of water will not only be compelled to pay the interest and sinking fund involved to meet the cost of a new dam and filtering basin, but any excess above such requirements will be taken from the pockets of the present contributors to the water rates. There is no good reason why the present generation should burden themselves with payments for conveniences from which future generations will derive the greater part of the advantage.

Food for Thought.

All these things taken into consideration may well afford subjects of serious thoughts for the ratepayers. It is only the part of common prudence for the ratepayers to keep a close watch upon the course of their representatives and to see that our expenditures for necessary conveniences are judiciously made and not in excess of the public requirements, and the public ability to pay without undue inconvenience. The sum of $35,000, for a South Ward public school, is, by itself, a small matter for a city of the size of Peterborough, but there are numerous other considerations which should be taken into account. The Examiner is not and never has been opposed to progress, but progress bracketted with prudence is a good combination. We want the best possible value for the expenditure of the taxes we pay, and the people will only get such value when they take an intelligent interest in the proceedings of our representative bodies whether they be the Board of Aldermen or the School Board. These bodies should take the people more intimately into their confidence. The ratepayers are, as a rule, reasonable, and will, if treated with the deference and consideration due those who pay the money, provide any reasonable amount that may be required for needed public conveniences.

Quotations For To-days Market

Eggs and Pork are Becoming More Plentiful.

About the busiest spot in the city this morning was the market. The bright and clear day brought a large number of marketers from the surrounding country and their produce found ready buyers.

The Sarsaparilla man was there again with his phonograph and was the centre of a large circle of spectators.

There were no particular changes in the market quotations to-day. Eggs sold at last week's prices 15 and 16 cents per dozen of which there was an unusually large quantity. Butter was offered again at 25c per lb. Very few turkeys and no geese or ducks were offered. Chickens sold at from 90 cents to $1.00 per pair, the usual price for the past month.

On the market square pork took the lead in quantity. There were some very nice samples present, the fore-quarter selling at 10c and the hind at 11c per lb. Some beef was offered but was generally scarce. The prevailing prices were 6½-2 and 6½-2 for fore and hind respectively. Veal sold for 8 and 9. Timothy Hay was much in evidence selling at $10.00 per ton. Vegetables were also very plentiful. The following were the prevailing prices:—

Butter, per lb.	23	to	26
Eggs, per doz	15	to	16
Chickens, per pair	90	to	1 00
Turkeys, each	1 50	to	2 00
Beef, per lb.	05½	to	06½
Pork, per lb. front	9	to	10

A FACT PROVEN

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six week's time.

It must be apparent to any person, therefore, that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ that causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Accept no substitute. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

Mr. Stockdale District Supt.

Appointed to That Position for London Life Insurance Company.

Mr. E. L. Stockdale of Ottawa, has arrived in the city to take over the business of the London Life Insurance Company, and to assume the position of District Superintendent. His district will include the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland, Durham and Ontario, and local agents will be appointed at once in all the towns in these counties. It is probable that two agents will be appointed for the city of Peterborough, and one for each of the towns. Mr. R. N. Bates, late of the New York Life, and at present General Superintendent of the London Company, was here in connection with opening the district office. Mr. Stockdale expects to have about 35 branch agents in the course of a few months. The London Life is one of the most substantial companies doing business in Canada, the president being Mr. John McClary.

Mr. Stockdale is an Ottawa Old Boy. He is greatly pleased with Peterborough, which he believes to be one of the best little cities in Ontario.

CANADA'S MELLOW EAST.

The Old Chateau and its Memories—A Bi-Centennial Celebration—A Valuable Society.

That country which has no history may be happy, as the phrasemaker says, but it can never inspire the patriotism that has its roots in the glories of the past not less than in the promise of the future. Canada is a young country, but her history is venerable, and strikes back hundreds of years into the traditions of two races. The West may be new and raw, but the East is mellow with memories of a lustrous but vanished regime. Some of its landmarks remain, lustrous no longer, even mean by comparison with modern luxuriousness in architecture, but dear alike to the antiquarian and to the Canadian who thrills at the mention of some of the historic personages and epoch-making events with which they are associated. Such a landmark is the Chateau de Ramesay, a famous old house in Montreal, once the very heart of life in Canada, now shabby in old age, and cold with the chill of a museum—a shell emptied of its kernel a hundred years ago, standing as a monitor of the transience of man and the permanence of his works.

A Bi-Centennial Celebration.

The chateau has passed its two hundredth year, and recently the people of Montreal fittingly commemorated the anniversary by permitting their minds to be turned back over the lapse of years to review some of the events connected with the venerable building. The guide-books of modern days baldly describe the chateau as a "long, low, cottage-built building of shabby mien, standing behind an old stone fence." It stands opposite the City Hall, and the two present a contrast stimulating to the imagination. It was built in 1705 by Claude de Ramezay, a Governor, whose name has been chiefly remembered by his son, who surrendered Quebec when further defence of the citadel was impossible. Later on the chateau fell into the hands of the Compagnie des Indies Occidentales, and became the headquarters of the French fur trade for many years. After the conquest it was used by the English Governors. A tablet in the wall of the chateau proclaims these facts, that are repeated by the guide-books.

Franklin's Canadian Office.

Another tablet refers to the events of 1775, when the Americans held the city, and established themselves in the official residence. Here came Franklin, Samuel Chase and Charles Carroll to confer with Benedict Arnold and discuss means whereby the Canadians could be induced to join with the other colonists in revolt against British connection. In the council chamber where now the tourist loiters the American commissioners sat in secret conclave and considered weighty matters. Hither Ben Franklin brought a printing press and set it up, the weapon he deemed mightier than the guns and bayonets of his soldier colleagues. The first newspaper in Montreal was printed in the cellar of the Chateau de Ramezay, and at Franklin's instigation, for he fetched from Philadelphia one Fleury Mesplet, a printer, who issued a little weekly pamphlet, printed in French its avowed purpose was to make the French-Canadians discontented with English rule and persuade them to enter the Union as a separate State. After a while both the English and French languages were used in the paper, and then English only. The paper thus begun has grown to be one of the greatest journals of Canada, and for 130 years it has not changed its name—The Gazette, of Montreal.

Two Hundred Years Ago.

The Gazette, therefore, might reasonably claim to be the supreme authority on all matters pertaining to the old Chateau de Ramezay, and it was only natural that at the present time it should be rich in the lore of its first home. We cannot do better than quote from an article in The Gazette: "Those who may be privileged by being present will see in the museum, galleries and library of the chateau hundreds of connecting links between the Montreal of two centuries ago and the Montreal of to-day. There is, in the jugements et deliberations du Conseil Superieur du Quebec the record of an altercation that took place, in the very year of the chateau's foundation (1705), between the Sieur Rocbert de la Morandiere, garde des magazins de Montreal, and a soldier servant of M. de Ramezay, named La Marine, in the course of which the latter (who was the assailant) lost his life. In due time the case was submitted to His Majesty Louis XIV., and the unhappy slayer of La Marine was released from prison. The reader will find all the particulars in the fifth volume of the Jugements, etc. (pages 464-471 inclusive). M. Pierre Georges Roy has reproduced the account of the quarrel and the King's pardon in his history of La Famille Rocbert de la Morandiere.

A Valuable Society.

Originally the residence of a Governor, who built it because he could find in Montreal no fitting place to house himself, the chateau, as has been intimated, saw many strange scenes, acknowledged in turn French, American and English conquerors. It has been court house, publishing office, college, Normal school and court house again, the home of French and Scotch private gentlemen, but Government property since 1774, when its owner, William Grant, after ten years' residence, leased it. Now, it is a show place and the haunt of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, that is well qualified to be its custodian, and under whose auspices, on Wednesday evening Earl Grey and many distinguished citizens of Montreal met to commemmorate the record of the old grey walls and the stout oak beams. The Gazette pays a tribute in passing to the labors of the society, and recalls other celebrations that it has inaugurated. It led the way among our learned bodies in honoring the memory of William Caxton, and the introduction of printing in England, and held a magnificent exhibition of books, manuscript and printed. More than once it has held loan portrait exhibitions of unusual interest. It is chiefly through the exertions of this society that the old chateau has been preserved to Canadians as a memento of a time that is past, and of a chivalry that left a deep mark upon the pages of our history.

Snakes' Eyes.

The serpent is perfectly liable, crawling as it does on the ground in sandy and dusty localities, to injuries of the eye, and this organ is therefore protected by being placed under the skin or outer epidermis. When a snake sheds its skin, which it does three or four times a year, the skin of the eye comes off with the rest.

Quill Pens.

Quill pens are prepared for use by sorting them, drying them in hot sand, scraping them so as to remove the outer skin, then hardening them in diluted nitric acid.

ELECTRIC SMELTING.

Dr. Haanel's Message That it Has Proved a Great Success.

Canada is on the eve of remarkable developments in the smelting of magnetite ores, the manufacture of steel and the production of nickel pig by the electric system. This is proved beyond all doubt by a telegram which Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, received from Dr. Eugene Haanel, Superintendent of Mines. The telegram in question reads as follows: "Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Feb. 24. To Hon. Frank Oliver, Ottawa: Successful demonstration of all points stated in my memorandum on electric smelting of Canadian iron ores requiring investigation Output greater than figure adopted by Harbord in report of commission. Successful smelting of magnetite and desulphurization of pig. Successful substitution of charcoal, and therefore of peat for coke. Consumption of electrode insignificant. Production of nickel pig of fine quality from roasted pyrrhotite. Forty tons of pig have so far been produced. Process admits of immediate commercial application. Experiments will be completed in about two weeks. (Signed) Eugene Haanel, Superintendent of Mines."

History of the Experiments.

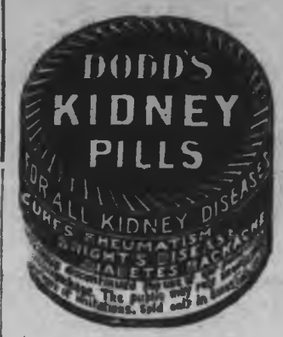
The movement which has resulted in such complete success at Sault Ste. Marie began about three years ago, when Hon. Clifford Sifton sent a commission to Europe, headed by Dr. Haanel, to investigate the system of smelting iron ores and making steel by electricity. The system was found to be in successful operation at Gysinge, in Sweden, and at Livet and La Praz, in France. Samples of the steel produced were submitted to Prof. Harbord, a noted metallurgist, in England, and after being tested at Woolwich reported on favorably. The electric process was thus shown to be a sound and commercial one, but apparently the cost of manufacture was not brought down below that of production by the blast furnace. The ore employed in France was hematite, and it still remained to be seen whether the Canadian magnetite ores could be successfully treated, and at a lower cost than when coke was used. Dr. Heroult of La Praz, France, the inventor of a system of electric smelting, thought he could demonstrate the commercial feasibility of smelting magnetite by electricity, and Dr. Haanel recommended that he be given a chance. Hon. Mr. Oliver approved of the experiments, and it was decided that they should take place at Sault Ste. Marie, where the Algoma Steel Co. offered a site and a supply of electricity free of charge for six months.

Dr. Heroult's Work.

Last fall Dr. Heroult arrived in Canada and, immediately went to work at Sault Ste. Marie. Electric furnaces of special design were constructed and electrical appliances of the finest kind obtained from the Westinghouse Co. and from Sweden. The apparatus was a long time coming, and all sorts of unexpected delays occurred. The greatest possible care had to be taken in installing and adjusting the electrical machinery, for nothing could be left to chance. The preliminary experiments took place in a small furnace, and resulted in the successful production of pig iron from hematite ore, and of nickel pig from nickeliferous pyrrhotite. A larger furnace, the fittings of which were invented by the scientists employed in the experiments, was afterwards erected. It is in this furnace that pig iron, steel and nickel pig have been produced on a large scale.

Importance to the Dominion.

It is impossible to overrate the important consequences to Canada bound to follow from these successful experiments. With vast deposits of iron ore existing throughout Ontario and Quebec, and contiguous to them large water powers for the cheap production of electrical energy, it does not need much thinking to see that iron and steel industries free from the smoke nuisance will speedily be established. The successful production of nickel pig is also a wonderful achievement. In the Sudbury district the supply of ore is almost inexhaustible, and for the finished product there is an immense and ever-growing demand. Further particulars of the scientific triumphs at the Soo will be eagerly awaited, but enough has been learned to prove that Canada will be one of the greatest iron, steel and nickel producing countries in the world.



Pirates Loot on Canadian Soil.

Millions of treasure, captured by a gut-throat crew of a vessel, the Jolly Roger, cached on an island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and the place of concealment kept a secret for 75 years, and now in the possession of a Boston woman, are flitting before the eyes of half a dozen Bostonians, and there is a possibility that they will finance an expedition to go and get the treasure. There are said to be more than $2,000,000 of it, and all that is lacking is somebody with money to guarantee the expedition.

A woman who signs herself Sadie J. Mason now holds the secret. She has advertised for backers. Miss Mason says she can convince the right persons of the truth of her assertions that there are millions in silver, gold and jewels waiting only to be taken away, and her main concern seems to be to prevent the Canadian Government from getting part of the wealth.

"I am not ready to give all the details of the story," said Miss Mason, "but I am absolutely sure that the wealth is to be had for the journey, and I am trying to get means to finance the trip now. I don't care to say just where the wealth is hidden. I am afraid that if the exact location were made public the Canadian Government would learn of it."

Immense Concrete Monolith.

The Concrete Pole Co. has successfully completed the erection of an immense reinforced concrete pole for the Lincoln Electric Light and Power Co. to carry their power lines over the old Welland Canal.

This pole is one hundred and fifty feet in height, making it the highest monolith ever erected, being over twice the height of the famous Cleopatra's needle. The pole is eleven inches square at the top, thirty-one inches at the bottom and weighs forty-five tons.

It is designed to stand a horizontal pull at the top of two thousand pounds, in addition to the wind pressure.

The Home of Cholera.

The marshy ground of the Ganges delta, with its vast masses of vegetation decaying under a tropical sun, is the native home of the cholera. In that pestilential region the cholera and plague are found every year and all the year round. Every cholera epidemic which has desolated Europe, every visitation of the plague, is believed to have started from the mouth of the Ganges.

Egyptian Pencils.

The Egyptians used pencils of colored chalk, and several of these ancient crayons have been found in their tombs.

Irritating Drugs.

Irritating drugs, such as salts of arsenic, copper, zinc and iron, should usually be given after food, except where local conditions require their administration in small doses before eating.

Buddhist Temples.

An endless number of curious things are found about Buddhist temples. Among others there are little wooden gods for babies' diseases, around which children's bibs are tied, and there are other gods which are supposed to help babies in teething. There are some which are good for stomach ache and others which will cure sore eyes.

In the matter of the estate of Susan Andrews, late of the City of Peterborough, widow, deceased.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

THE INTERCOLONIAL

Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals has shown himself to be the man for the position. His is no perfunctory discharge of duty. He takes great pains to make himself personally familiar with the conditions necessary to an intelligent understanding of the requirements of our great public works, of which, we, in Peterborough have had proof in his visit to this district to see for himself, the Trent Canal environment. He carries the same thoroughness into every detail of his Departmental activity. He has succeeded into giving a more hopeful out-look for the future of the Intercolonial railway. On Tuesday in Parliament Hon. Mr. Emmerson dealt lucidly with the subject of the Intercolonial Railway, which has been a nightmare for Ministers for nearly forty years. Deficit after deficit has been piled up. Mr. Emmerson has only been in charge since January, 1901, but he has improved his time. He has studied the International, and is able to point the way to putting it upon a paying basis. He showed that there were reasons, quite apart from the question of efficiency of management, why the road did not pay, these being water competition, long route and low rates, the latter being the chief cause. The Intercolonial has been operated in the interests of the public and if low rates have conduced to deficits, the people have had the benefit and interprovincial trade has been developed, thus contributing to national solidarity, the principal reason for the construction of the line—a condition of Confederation. If Mr. Emmerson should advance the rates at the expense, perhaps, of some of the interests concerned, he could make the deficits disappear. His statement was that if the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific reduced their rates to Intercolonial level, they would have had similar deficits. It is really only since August last that Mr. Emmerson has been in a position to give the Intercolonial the attention it deserves. He has had official pre-occupations and unusually protracted parliamentary sessions interfering. Last August Mr. Emmerson secured the valuable assistance, as deputy, of Mr. M. J. Butler, a man of unique efficiency as an expert in the line of his duties, and the two went industriously into the matter of the Government line, with a view of inaugurating reforms, which have been put into partial operation as far as time has permitted, with promising results, which may be briefly summarized in the statement that for the six months of 1905-6 the deficit in comparison with the corresponding period of last year, has been reduced by nearly half a million—by $411,500. Thorough reorganization of methods are in view, passenger and freight rates will be advanced and other measures taken to place the Intercolonial upon a commercial, and, consequently, it is confidently hoped, paying basis. There is every prospect that under Mr. Emmerson's energetic management the future of the Intercolonial will be very much more satisfactory than its past. At any rate a real beginning has been made in improving the conditions of the railway with a view of improving its revenue production without impairing efficency of service.

St. Patrick's Day In Ennismore

St. Patrick's Day will be observed in Ennismore by the production, in the evening, of Edmund Falconer's celebrated Irish drama, in four acts, "Eileen Oge."

The entertainment will be given again on Monday evening, March 19. This is by far the most interesting and most difficult play the young people have ever undertaken, and it remains to be seen with what success their efforts may be crowned.

Was Committed For Trial

ON CHARGE OF ABDUCTING Lottie Sullivan Last Friday

S. R. Bradburn Goes Before a Judge—The Evidence of Lottie Sullivan and John Rickerby Was Very Conflicting—According to the Former Bradburn Had Concocted an Elaborate Plot to Secure Money on Farm Deed and go With Her to Northwest.

The case of S. R. Bradburn, charged with abducting Lottie Sullivan, on Friday, the 9th inst., and which has come up for a hearing twice before, was proceeded with yesterday, and resulted in the prisoner being sent up for trial.

John Rickerby was the first witness called, and said he saw Bradburn on the evening of Thursday, the 8th of March. They had no conversation about Lottie Sullivan or a deed of land at any time. Had no conversation about Bradburn and Lottie Sullivan getting married.

Lottie Sullivan said that she was a daughter of Dennis Sullivan, and that she lived with her mother at 612 Stewart street. Had been employed by Mr. George Mather; saw Sid. Bradburn on the evening of Thursday, March 8th; she met him when she was in company with Gladys Forsythe, at the corner of Brock and George streets. Bradburn had another young fellow with him named George Rickerby. He introduced her to Rickerby, and the three of them walked from George street towards Aylmer. She had been keeping company wtih Bradburn for about a month. The other girl walked up George street. Bradburn said that he had an uncle in the country that promised him a farm when he married. He told witness that his uncle had been in town that day and had given Rickerby an introduction to her uncle as Jack Fairfax, his brother-in-law. He told his uncle that he had been married two years, the ceremony being performed in Montreal. Witness was to pass as Bradburn's wife, and Jack Rickerby's (Fairfax's) sister, and were to go to Bradburn's uncle's Friday morning. Rickerby heard the conversation. Bradburn asked her if she could cook, and to pretend to his uncle that she was a housekeeper. He said to buy cakes if she couldn't bake, and take them out to the farm, and place them in the oven, and take them out of the oven sometime when his uncle was coming into the house; this would give the impression, of course, that she was a good cook. Bradburn stated that it wouldn't do to have no wedding ring. Rickerby said that he would get the ring. By Bradburn going out to his uncle's farm, and witness posing as his wife, he was to get the deed of the promised farm. She was to remain on were to go to Montana. Bradburn and Rickerby were to come to the city on Monday. Bradburn was to get on the deed all the farm was worth. Rickerby was to go out to the farm for her on Tuesday, and and take the train from here to Port Hope, where they were to meet Mrs. Rickerby and Bradburn, and all four were to go to Montana. Bradburn expected to realize from the deed enough money to keep him for a couple of years. Marriage was never mentioned. Bradburn was to call at her residence at 9.30 on Friday morning to take her to the country. Rickerby said that he wouldn't be ready till 10 o'clock. Bradburn told her to tell her parents she was going to Toronto to see her sister. Both men were under the influence of liquor on Thursday night. She told Gladys Forsythe that she was going away. On Friday morning Gladys rolled up her night gown and a blouse at witness' request. Bradburn came up for her in a buggy. Witness was dressing and she sent Gladys Forsythe out, and the latter went for a drive with Bradburn around a couple of blocks; she had no coat or hat on; she put on both when they came back, and both got into the buggy. They drove around the city and went to the C. P. R. Hotel. Bradburn got out and went into the hotel. He told them to go for a drive and come back in about five minutes. When they did return he said he had to get some money witness thought; he instructed them to come back again. They again came back some minutes afterwards, and Bradburn got into the buggy. At the corner of Sherbrooke and Park streets Gladys got out of the buggy. They then drove out Sherbrooke street, as Bradburn said it was the road to his uncle's. They passed Fowler's Corners. Bradburn was not sober. He said they were not on the right road to his uncle's, and they drove back to Fowler's Corners. Bradburn asked a man at the blacksmith shop how far it was to Cavan; she thought it was Cavan he said, and the man said twelve miles. Bradburn said he would return to Peterborough. He gave no reason for coming back. They got back to the town about a quarter to one o'clock. Nothing wrong took place between them. She was left at her own home. Bradburn said his uncle was a widower, and when witness went out to the farm, his housekeeper would be sent away. She had never received the wedding ring. There had never been any familiarity between Bradburn and her. She went to Toronto, from which place she was brought last night by P. C. Miller after she had been served with a subpoena, because she did not want to appear in the police court. She obtained the money to go to Toronto from her employer, Mr. George Mather. She sent a note to him by Clara Forsythe. She told Mr. Mather she was going away and wanted the money. Witness said that she was 14 years old the 16th of last November. While she and Bradburn were out driving the former was so drunk that she had to guide the horse.

John Rickerby was again called into the witness box, and said he had heard the story of the conversation that the girl said she had had with Bradburn, and that it was false.

Dr. Wood knew Bradburn's uncle, Thomas, in Cavan, whose wife had dropped dead. Said that Bradburn had often told his uncle jokingly that he was married. He knew of no deed Bradburn was promised to property by the uncle when Bradburn got married.

The accused was committed for trial, although Mr. McWilliams, who conducted the defence tried to have the charge withdrawn. His Worship, however, would not consider this. His bail still remains at $400. Lottie Sullivan had also to give security for her appearance at the trial in two sureties of $100 each. The case was heard behind closed doors.

The Turnbull Company's Forward Strides in Completeness of Spring Stocks.

With the advent of March, the dry goods stores put on their spring array, and, with each week, the exhibits of the fashionable and desirable in goods and garments, become an interesting theme for the ladies.

Naturally, The Turnbull Company looked for large numbers to turn out to their advance spring event, which occurred this week; but the crowds that came and applauded their efforts far exceeded their expectations. The public interest, and the splendid sales reported by this firm have not been surpassed on any similar occasion. Being large buyers and distributors, the moderate profits at which they can sell result in values that have taught customers to be confident of obtaining splendid return for their money.

Completeness of Stocks.

Ladies who were curious to know what were to be the reigning favourites in dress goods, were gratified. Generous assortments were features in all grades of fabrics. The new stuffs from foreign and domestic looms were displayed in the most pleasing and artistic manner. Dozens of entirely new designs were there for inspection; and if the volume of buyers measures up to the merit of the styles and values, Turnbull's will have a dashing business to record. Grey is now universally accepted as the leading colour in fashionable spring wear.

Dressmakers were busy upstairs, early as it was; and when it is remembered that Easter Sunday is only four weeks away, it can be imagined how even this large staff of dressmakers will be rushed before the orders are all filled.

The new spring models of glove-fitting corsets, show the superior beauty and graceful outlines of the artistic makes displayed.

Novelty Silks. — Almost all kinds and colours are represented. — silks for trimmings, waists, gowns, children's dresses, fancy work, lining, etc. Those knowing little people, the Japs, are adepts at silk weaving. So are the French and Swiss weavers. The refined colourings and exclusive designs shown in this store, will be appreciated by tasteful dressers.

Especially with women, spring means millinery; and in millinery, Turnbull's store is demonstrating millinery a la mode for the spring of 1906. The collection is not quite complete because the milliners who have returned from the city emporiums are busily preparing for the grand opening event next week; when the show rooms will be all in bloom with the newest conceptions of the season.

Speculation as to what will be fashionable this spring in ladies' tailor-made suits, skirts, shirt waists, and rain coats, is now replaced with a degree of certainty. To see the new creations in these lines at Turnbull's is to become well informed as to what the leaders of styles have evolved. Many of the richly-gowned visitors who crowded the rooms, came as if they came for first choice, rather than for mere looking. The new models in separate coats are tight-fitting, semi- and loose. The new pony coat in the covert cloth is the most popular novelty. Light tweed tourist coats, with contrasting trimmings, are also prominent, and numerous styles are shown in black coats in best style and finish.

In this feast of fashion, separate skirts receive a goodly share of attention. They are shown in circular, box-pleated and side-pleated patterns, in tweeds, broadcloths, venetians and serges.

Great interest was taken in the numerous new designs of waists. They embrace embroidered silk and linen, lingerie and soft effects; also dainty wash waists in different patterns.

A new whitewear section has been opened in the cloak department, where the prettiest of spring and summer under muslins are shown.

Increased space has been given for the accommodation of Turnbull's Cloak Department, which has become so popular with Peterborough ladies. The new materials embrace choicest productions of the mills. The popular colours for costumes are greys, greens and navys, with Eton and short sleeve effects.

A raincoat is like an umbrella—a good thing to have always at hand, ready for any emergency. Turnbull's raincoats will make smart travelling coats. Advance spring models are shown in a variety of styles and prices, of cravenette cloths, in grays, tans, and other pleasing shades.

Admirable Store Methods.

The Turnbull Company intend that no store shall match them in liberality of dealing, which means that no store shall be as quick to right any wrongs as they are. It is their constant endeavour to provide the best merchandise, money, great care in its selection and planning. Its arrangement and sale in such a manner as will bring the highest degree of satisfaction to their patrons, from the view point of quality, price and economy.

Civilization But Not Happiness

As Former Advances Latter Decreases, Say Debaters.

The Baracca Bible Class held an interesting literary entertainment last night in the Murray street Baptist church. There was a good attendance and a delightful evening was spent. Mr. W. Shiner, the president of the class, occupied the chair. The subject of the evening's programme was a debate on the subject, "Resolved, — That as civilization advances happiness decreases." The affirmative was taken by W. Shiner and J. Hardwicke, while Mr. Lillie and Miss Webber upheld the negative. The judges were Messrs. (Armstrong, Hooker and Heron, and they rendered their decision in favour of the affirmative.

Mr. Shiner gave a reading which was much enjoyed, and this, with some musical numbers composed the evening's programme.

Were Presented With Gold Pieces

Otonabee Residents Honoured by Friends and Neighbors.

A large gathering was present last night at the residence of Miss Georgina Stewart, River Road, Otonabee, to bid farewell to her, and her three brothers, Frank, Walter and Charlie, and to honour them by an address and presentation. Each were given a twenty dollar gold piece by the neighbors and friends as a token of the high esteem in which they are considered by them.

After the presentation a lengthy programme was presented by the chairman, Mr. George Robertson. Over twenty numbers in all were given, composed of solos, recitations readings and congratulatory addresses. Supper was served about midnight, and the gathering broke up in the early hours of the morning.

Miss Stewart and her three brothers will leave next Tuesday for the Northwest, where they intend pursuing the farming industry. They leave Otonabee with the sincerest wishes for future prosperity, and the regrets of all for their departure from that township.

Go to the Brock St. Rink tonight. The progress of the game in Toronto between Peterborough and the Picked Team will be given by special wire in the rink. The ice is good.

Canon Dixon's Appointment

Messrs. E. Trent, C. A. Carter, C. H. Beavis, lay delegates, and George Stagg, Sr., and C. R. Cooper, churchwardens, waited upon his Lordship the Bishop of Toronto yesterday morning, and asked him to make the appointment of Canon Dixon to the rectorate of Trinity East Church. His Lordship did so, the appointment to date from May 1st. The members of the congregation are much pleased over the securing of Canon Dixon as their pastor.

Had a Bad Leg.
"For twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was something dreadful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching, and healed up the sore." — Mr. Alex. McDougall, postmaster, Broad Cove Marsh, N. S.

Will Preach In Windy City

Rev. Canon Davidson is not expected home until next Friday. He made such a success in St. Louis that he has been invited to remain over in Chicago, and will preach there on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

No Meeting Of Board Of Works

They Will Receive Depulation on Tuesday However.

A meeting of the Board of Works was called for last night, but it was not held. The members of the Committee did not turn out in sufficient numbers to secure a quorum. The only members present were the chairman, Ald. Hicks, and Ald. Graham. No business whatever was transacted, and at 8.45 the chairman decided to call the meeting off. It will be held on Tuesday night, when the deputation from the Trades and Labour Council will wait on the Board in reference to day work in the construction of sewers, which that body is an advocate of, and which they will ask the Board to adopt.

Special Services For To-morrow

Special revival services, conducted by Evangelist Stephens, morning afternoon and evening. In the morning and evening a converted gambler from the Torrey-Alexander meetings in Toronto, will be present and relate the remarkable story of his recent conversion. In the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the evangelist will address the boys and girls of the Bible school, though everybody will be welcomed. The young men are especially invited to the evening service. Everybody welcome. Hearty singing. All seats free.

OBITUARY.

MRS. JAMES MUIR.

The death occurred suddenly in Millbrook yesterday of Mrs. James Muir, at the age of 86 years, one of the oldest residents of that vicinity. The deceased, whose maiden name was Jane Griffith, was a native of County Cavan, Ireland, and came to this country fifty-six years ago and has resided in the vicinity of Millbrook ever since. She is survived by her husband, who has reached the age of 99 years. The funeral will take place on Monday at 2 p.m., from the family residence, Millbrook to Gardener's Cemetery.

The deceased was an aunt of Mr. E. S. Clarry, of Peterborough, who will attend the funeral on Monday.

MARGARET ARNOTT.

The death occurred at 14 Ann street, Edinburgh, on March 2nd, of Margaret Oswald Arnott, widow of Surgeon-General Alexander Wright, Bombay Army, and niece of Surgeon Archibald Arnott, of Kirconnee Hall, Ecclefichan, N.B., one of the Emperor Napoleon's physicians at St. Helena, in her 80th year. The deceased's late husband was a brother of the late Mrs. Savigny, of Otonabee, and of the late Mrs. Robt. Lane of Springville.

Good Lecture Last Evening

The lecture given in the Sons of England Hall, on Dr. Law's Viavi System of Treatment, or Viaopathy, as some medical writers term it, was well attended last night, and an interesting hour was spent. The speaker made clear that the Viavi Movement has been steadily advancing and being headed by one of the most celebrated physicians in America, has drawn to its ranks many of the profession, as well as the most enlightened people of twenty-four countries of the world. It has been shown that Viavi is not a drug, but a medical food, and that its great work is to feed nerves, enrich the blood and give the body the nutriment with which to carry on its creative work.

We understand that Viavi Hygiene, a 600-page cloth-bound book, can be obtained or borrowed on application. A card addressed "Viavi Company," Toronto, is sufficient.

Machine Telephone Co. Makes Good Progress

Proceeding Steadily With Installation of Telephones—Satisfactory Service is Being Given—Subscribers are Pleased With the Operation of the 'Phone—Additional Subscribers to the System—Directory Will Shortly be Issued.

The aditional telephones recently installed by the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, as designated in the appended list, gives evidence to the fact that the company is making excellent progress in the work of installing new machines and of perfecting the service. Events have proven that the policy of the company in proceeding carefully and slowly with the work and perfecting the equipment as it went along was a wise one, and among those who are using the 'phone, general satisfaction is being expressed with the service given. But notwithstanding the present satisfactory character of the service given, the company promises that it will continue to improved.

That the subscribers are using their telephones and that they are popular is evidenced by a visit to the central office, where the click, click accompaniment to the calls is heard almost incessantly, and the promptness and dependability of the service given seem to please the users of the telephones.

There will be general gratification on the part of the citizens of Peterborough at the satisfactory progress that this company is making. Peterborough has a peculiar interest in the success of the system, especially in view of the fact that this is the first place in which the system was installed for commercial use.

Inquiry of those who have the machine telephone in use elicits the information that the service is good, and this is all the more pleasing in view of the difficulties which are invariably met with in undertakings of this kind. In this connection perhaps personal knowledge counts for most, and The Examiner office has had one of these 'phones in use almost since the inception of the service, and the experience with its use is that it is satisfactory, the service is rapid, the connection sure, and talking clear, while the other special feature of the system, that of privacy, is a peculiar advantage from the standpoint of efficient service.

The list below shows the additions of subscribers, and new 'phones are being installed every few days. In the course of a few days a new directory will be issued.

Badly Hurt By Heavy Fall

Mr. Peter Clancy Met With a Painful Injury Last Night.

Mr. Peter Clancy, East City, was badly injured last night through a fall on Hunter street, near the Munro House corner. He slipped on the icy pavement and fell, nearly fracturing his hip. The Dan Spence Ambulance made a record run to the scene and the injured man was quickly conveyed to his home. Dr. McGrath was called and attended to his injuries. This morning Mr. Clancy was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where his condition to-day is as favourable as can be expected.

Park St. Concert Decided Success

The attendance at the anniversary tea and concert of the Park street Baptist church last night was the largest on record. Refreshments were served to the members of the Sunday school from 6 to 8 o'clock. A lengthy and delightful programme was presented by the Rev. A. H. Brace, who acted as chairman for the evening. The different numbers consisted of drills, dialogues, recitations and solos, and were of a very interesting character.

The financial issue of the concert was very gratifying to the officials of the church. The superintendent, Miss Mann, at the conclusion of the event, presented the trustees with almost $100, the result of a silver collection and the sale of tickets, assisting in the erection of the new church.

The Isolation Hospital Again

Let Government Own Fisheries.

Toronto, March 17.—The Georgian Bay commission yesterday concluded their sittings for the hearing of evidence regarding the causes of the great diminution of game fish and the best methods that should be adopted for protecting the same. Only one witness, Edward Harris, was examined, and he gave many reasons for the diminution and many suggestions as to the best way to protect the fish. Mr. Harris, who is about 30 years of age, has been an experienced fisherman for fifty years, and he said he firmly believed in Government ownership of these waters. A better patrol system, if Government ownership was not adopted, with a well paid inspector and efficient overseers, were considered by Mr. Harris the only other means of preserving the fish. The commission leave for Collingwood to-day.

Dairy Experts For Canada.

London, March 17.—The Canadian Associated Press is informed that the Danish Government is sending a commission consisting of three agricultural dairy expert to tour Canada for the purpose of making reports upon the handling and shipment of produce.

THAT STAB-LIKE PAIN IN THE SMALL OF THE BACK COMES FROM THE KIDNEYS

AND CAN BE CURED BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

It is not the back that is aching, but the kidneys which are situated beneath the small of the back.

Therefore, dull pain in the back, or sharp, quick twinges, are warnings of sick kidneys—warnings of kidney trouble. Plasters and liniments will not cure a bad back, for they cannot reach the kidneys which cause it. Doan's Kidney Pills reach the kidneys. That is what they are for and that only. So, if you would be free from backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, frequent or suppressed urine, painful sensation when urinating, specks floating before the eyes, frequent thirst, brick-dust deposit in the urine, or anything wrong with the urinary organs or bladder, you must keep your kidneys well. Help them to work freely, and help them to flush off all the body's waste and impurities.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made from the purest roots and herbs, and have a remarkable healing and toning effect on the kidneys. Mrs. Barting, 20 Locomotive Street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled considerably with my kidneys, using many remedies, but finding no relief. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to act directly on the kidneys, and making them strong again."

Price 50 cents per box, three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Tragedy In Thackeray's Life.

On the 20th of Aug., 1836, at the British embassy in Paris, Thackeray married Isabella Shawe of Doneralle, County Cork. Three daughters were born of this marriage, and after the birth of the third, May 28, 1840, Thackeray took a trip to Belgium, having arranged for the publication of a short book of travels. He had left his wife "nearly well," but returned to find her in a strange state of languor and mental inactivity, which became gradually more pronounced. For a long time there were gleams of hope. Thackeray himself attended to her exclusively for a time. He took her to her mother's in Ireland and afterwards to Paris. There she had to be placed in a maison de sante. Thackeray taking lodgings close by and seeing her as frequently as he could. A year later, as he wrote to FitzGerald, then very intimate with him, he thought her "all but well." He was then with her at a hydropathic establishment in Germany, where she seemed to be improving for a short time. The case, however, had become almost hopeless when in 1842 he went to Ireland. Yet he continued to write letters to her as late at 1844, hoping that she might understand them. She had finally to be placed with a trustworthy attendant. She was placid and gentle, though unfitted for any active duty and with little knowledge of anything around her. She survived till 1894.

Once Brilliant Surgeon.

Sir Patrick Heron Watson, who has just retired from the presidency of the Edinburgh Royal College of Surgeons, has also largely retired from active practice. He was at one time one of the most brilliant surgeons in Europe and has done a great deal for surgical science. His professional career began just about the time of the Crimean war, in which he was actively engaged as an assistant surgeon. He had the misfortune to be invalided home, and was so ill, indeed, that his life was despaired of. A return to the bracing air of his native city, however, restored him completely to good health, and he soon became engaged in active practice. He was the first surgeon to remove the thyroid gland for the condition known as goitre, so common among the natives of Derbyshire, and also of Switzerland. He was also the first to perform the operation for removal of the larynx for malignant disease, which operation, it will be remembered, the late Montagu Williams underwent. He is Surgeon in Ordinary to King Edward in Scotland, and in 1873 was attache to the special embassy sent to Spain on the marriage of the late King. Although considerably over seventy, Sir Patrick Watson bears his years lightly and few would be able to guess his age.

Stove 150 Years Old.

The London Sphere prints a letter from a farmer in the Canadian Northwest, which will interest the curious: "I was on a business trip this fall in the northeast part of Saskatchewan," he says, "and saw a box-stove of what I thought a new design. On inquiring where the man got it, he said it was his great-grandfather's, and that it was made by the Carron Co. 150 years ago. It belongs to the family that came out with Lord Selkirk."

DUALIN EXPLODES IN WELL.

Blast Went Off Before Man Had Reached the Surface.

Belleville, March 17.—Benjamin Cooney of Rawdon was brought to the hospital here yesterday.

He was engaged in sinking a well, and was using dualin as the explosive for blasting. He had placed the explosive in the hole and had applied the match, but had only reached the surface when the blast went off.

Cooney received the full shock, and as a result both his hands were badly lacerated, one leg considerably cut and some pieces of stone were embedded in the man's cheek, besides internal injuries.

It is not thought his injuries are fatal.

Girl's Scalp Torn.

Belleville, March 17.—On Monday a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCoy, near Hazzard's Corners, met with a terribly painful accident. In some way her hair caught in the machinery of the windmill, and to save her from being drawn in her father had to hold her while her scalp was literally torn off. The injuries are serious, but the doctor says the little sufferer will recover.

Child Burns to Death.

Esterhazy, Man., March 17.—The little daughter of George Bergiund was fatally burned while playing around a stove.

Electrocuted in Mid-Air.

St. John, N. B., March 17.—Harley Cole of Dorchester, 20 years old, met a terrible death at Moncton yesterday afternoon, being instantly killed while fixing wires at the top of an electric light post in the I. C. R. yards. More than 2,300 volts passed through the body, and for 20 minutes the rigid body hung, with hands clutching two live wires, while flames and sparks flashed forth and hundreds viewed the gruesome spectacle.

Gored By a Bull.

Ottawa, March 17.—Samuel Todd, councillor of Richmond Village, is at his home, not expected to live, as the result of being gored by a bull. He had the animal to the fair and was tying it in the stall before returning in the evening when it attacked him.

GIVES TWO REAL GOOD REASONS

For Believing Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure all Kidney Ailments.

Cured His Backache of Twenty-five Years Standing and Satisfied Everyone he Recommended them to.

Economy Point, N. S., March 16. — (Special.) — George S. McLaughlin, of this place, gives two splendid reasons for the belief that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one remedy for Kidney Ailments. Here are the two reasons in his own words:

"I was troubled with lame back for 25 years or more, sometimes so severe that I could not turn my body in bed. One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, and I have had no return of the trouble since.

"I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to a number of persons, who had kidney trouble. All who have used them have been benefitted or cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills not only relieves all Kidney Diseases, from from Backache to Bright's Disease, but they absolutely cure them. But sometimes when one or two boxes relieve it takes more to effect a cure.

OVER MUCH OF LEARNING.

Fancied Knowledge Kindles Discontent With Humbler and Happier Walks.

Let education have its full due. But let common sense have its due also. Let education be real, so far as it goes; not superficial teaching of subjects which will never be of practical use, the study of which will never be pursued, and fancied knowledge of which can serve only to kindle restless ambition and discontent with the humble but happier walks of life. On unwise and unsuitable education English farmers in part lay the blame of that desertion of the country for the town, which is leaving rural England without hands to hold the plough. Some terms must be kept even with natural justice, though its strict claims may be set aside when public necessity commands. It is the natural duty of every man to provide education, as well as food and clothing, for the children whom, by his own act, he brings into the world; and to tax one man for the education of another's children, while there may be urgent reasons for it, is a departure from natural justice, especially when the man who is taxed prefers, as many now do, and for substantial reasons, himself to perform his parental duty.

Crowded Professions.

"Formerly," says Lecky, "the best workman was usually content to remain in his class, and to bring up his children in it. He took a pride in his work, and by doing so he greatly raised its standard and character. His first desire is now, much more frequently, to leave it, or at least, to educate his children in the tastes and habits of a class which he considers a little higher than his own. That a man born in the humbler stages of society, who possesses the power of playing a considerable part in the world, should be helped to do so very desirable; but it is by no means desirable that the flower of the working class, or their children, should learn to despise manual labor and the simple, inexpensive habits of their parents, in order to become very commonplace doctors, attorneys, clerks, or newspaper writers. This is what is continually happening, and while it deprives the working classes of their best elements, it is one great cause of the exaggerated competition which now falls with crushing weight on the lower levels of the intellectual profession."—Goldwin Smith in Weekly Sun.

Anti-Vaccinationists Win.

The opponents of compulsory vaccination in the schools were victorious by practically a unanimous vote in the the Toronto Board of Education at a recent meeting. The motion to strike out the requirement of a vaccination certificate for admission to the schools was, after considerable debate carried by a vote of 10 to 6.

JAPAN'S BIG PLANS.

Will Nationalize the Railways at a Cost of $250,000,000.

Tokio, March 17.—The railway nationalization bill passed the House of Representatives yesterday without amendment by 243 to 109.

The cost of the purchase of home railways is estimated at $250,000,000.

The Minister of Finance is confident that the purchase can be effected within five years without disturbing the market.

Toronto, March 17.—Chancellor Boyd handed out judgment sustaining the prosecution in the case against Joseph Phillips of the York County Loan. The chancellor holds that the hearing before Magistrate Denison is not a trial, and the magistrate has power to extend the scope of the investigation to any limit required for his purpose.

MINISTERS OF THE GOSPEL SPEAK OUT

TELL THE PUBLIC OF THE GREAT WORK PSYCHINE IS DOING.

Psychine in its great work of healing those diseases that lead to consumption, and even consumption itself, has naturally come under the notice of a large number of the clergy, and many of them have felt it their duty to let the public know what splendid results come from its use. Here are a few instances of what clergymen say:

REV. JOS. ODERY, formerly of Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto.

"I have found Psychine to be one of the best remedies for throat and chest trouble that I know. It is prompt, efficacious and reliable."

Rev. Wm. H. Stevens, Paisley, Ont.

"Psychine seemed just the stimulant my system needed. I shall add my testimony as to its efficacy at every opportunity."

Rev. R. M. Browne, Amherst Head, N. S.

"I have often recommended Psychine since taking it myself, for I believe it is a cure for the troubles you specify."

Rev. J. J. Rice, 51 Walker Ave., Toronto.

"My wife suffered two very severe attacks of La Grippe, one of which threatened rapid consumption, there being a hereditary tendency in that direction. They were speedily corrected by Psychine, leaving no trace of the disease."

Rev. Chas. Stirling, Bath, N. B.

"I have used Psychine in my family; the results were marvelous. I have visited people who state they never used its equal. I have no hesitation in recommending it."

Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, Markdale, Ont.

"I have taken two bottles of Psychine, and am pleased to say that I am greatly improved in health. I was troubled with my throat, but now I find it about restored to its normal condition. I find my work very much less taxing. I have reason to believe Psychine is all that is claimed for it."

Where sickness is there the minister of the gospel is found. His is the opportunity to note how the sufferer got relief, what furnished the relief, and what caused the cure. Large numbers of the clergy of Canada recommend Psychine. They know, out of their experience, that it is the greatest preventive of consumption, the greatest builder-up of weak men and women, science has given to the world. Psychine is 50c per bottle. Larger sizes $1 and $2. At all druggists.

GREAT CATCH OF FUR.

Traders Bring From North 38 Packs, Worth $30,000.

E. C. Roberts, a partner of Fletcher F. Bredin in the fur trading business in the north, and F. E. Maroney, arrived at Edmonton from Lesser Slave Lake on Feb. 13 with one of the most valuable consignments of fur that have so far been brought down this winter. Between the two they had 38 packs altogether, valued approximately at $30,000. Mr. Bredin stated that the fur would probably be sold in Toronto, but so far no arrangements have been made for their disposition.

E. C. Roberts, who has been up north all season and has had an excellent opportunity to observe, says that this year will go on record as a phenomenal one in the fur trade. There is more fur in the north, around the Lesser Slave Lake, where he is operating than he has ever seen before in all his experience and he states that reports brought in from away down the Mackenzie assure them that the same is true right to the Arctic Ocean. So far, Mr. Roberts says, the rabbits have lived through the winter very well and there is a probability that the fur plentitude will last into another year. By far the greater part of the value of the furs that they brought down is in lynx skins and as long as the rabbits last in their present number there will be plenty of lynx. The coyotes and timber wolves are getting very numerous, however, and are creating terrible havoc among the game and fur-bearing animals. The coyotes kill and drive out the foxes, and already they have made certain districts unprofitable that were last year and early this year good trapping grounds for foxes. Over toward the Peace River, in the moose country, the timber wolves are creating terrible havoc among the moose, and there will be few of the calves live through the winter. Next winter, Mr. Roberts thinks there will be destitution among these Indians.

For the present, however, the Indians all over the north, with the one exception of the Reindeer Indians who live away to the east of the Athabasca and Lesser Slave, are enjoying a season of unusual plenty, and are indulging in more flour at $7 a sack and more luxuries than ever before.

These Indians, who are the lonely exception to the general prosperity in the north, live in the Reindeer country, way to the east of the regular line of travel from Edmonton, northward. The country inhabited by these Indians is the regular winter stamping grounds of the reindeer, and it is on them that the Indians depend for their winter food. These little animals, which legend has always endowed with wonderful traveling capacities, amply justify the traditions in the Canadian north. In the summer time they graze in the extreme far north, around the mouth of the Coppermine River, and each fall they start—usually about the middle of September—for the south, migrating a total distance of about eight or nine hundred miles in straight line, or, as they would have to travel, more like 1,500 miles. Every once in a while the snow in the north country comes earlier or deeper than usual and then the reindeer are unable to get to their usual winter feeding grounds, and when these seasons occur there is always destitution among the Indians who are waiting away down south for their arrival. This is what has happened in that country this winter, and before spring, unless the reindeer make their way through, there may be considerable starvation among the Indians

The Locals Will Play Marlboros To-night In Toronto

Peterborough Will Face a Very Formidable Line-up.

The ice in Toronto will be very fast to-night for the game between Peterborough and the Marlboros, who will be reinforced by Gee. Armstrong and Young at point, cover and rover respectively. Gee is said to be one of the fastest defence men playing the game and Young is the star who did such brilliant work on the Marlboros line last year. As for Armstrong, his work needs no comment. He is too well known here for that and is conceded to be about the best in the Federal League. Peterborough will be represented by their regular team and the fact that F. C. Waghorne will referee is an assurance that the game will be clean and fast. If Peterborough wins, the prestige of the home team in Ontario hockey circles will be firmly established. They are up against a hard proposition but are nevertheless confident of their ability to land on top. The match will be a clinker and the blue and white seven, whether they win or lose will doubtless show the Toronto fans some gilt edged hockey.

Pill Pounders Defeated The Happy Thoughts

Decisively Won the Championship of the Mercantile League.

The hitherto invincible Happy Thoughts were transferred into "gruesome recollections" by the fast Pill Pounders last night between 10 and 11 at the Brock street rink in a game that was very fast and interesting throughout. At half time the winners led by 2-1 and added two more to their string in the second period to the Happy Thoughts zero making the final tally 4-1 in favour of the dope mixers who had a marked advantage over their opponents all through. The medicine men were in the very best of form and deserved to win. The game was rather rough and quite a number were penalized by referee Ira Moore, who gave good satisfaction. Mann, Quinn, Miller and Grose shone for the winners while Weeks, Foley and Archibald were the best the stove lifters had. The Pill Pounders scored first and the Happy Thoughts evened up. The winners then netted three straight.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Returns Of Game At Brock Street

At the Brock Street Rink to-night the progress of the game will be bulletined. The management has made special arrangements for a telegraphic service direct from the Mutual Street Rink to the rink here. This will be the only place in the city, where a report of the game will be received. As each goal is scored it will be telegraphed to the rink here. The ice to-night will be in good shape, and the prospects are that there will be one of the largest crowds of the season at the rink.

HOCKEY

Peterborough defeated Smith's Fal's by superior play and the easterners let themselves out to the last link to win. If Smith Falls had overwhelmed the locals, though, it would have signified the inferiority of Peterborough and would have caused much comment in a whole lot of sporting columns that now have to praise the team because there is no room for a knock; and so when its vice versa what shouldn't the result signify? Somebody answer that.

The London Advertiser says that exhibition games don't count and states that the Marlboros once defeated Kenora, to bear out the strength of its argument. What the Marlboros did to Kenora is immaterial.

CURLING

Any curlers wishing to go to Lindsay on Tuesday are asked to report at the rink on Monday night.

Owing to unforseen circumstances the Y Pop has been cancelled and the last one the 8th. will be held to-night and close the very successful series.

Mr. Richard Lees, M. A., will give his interesting lecture on "Forestry" illustrated by stereopticon views. Mr. H. W. Morphet will sing and Col. E. B. Edwards will preside. Silver collection at door.

Lindsay Curlers Play Good Game

Defeated Locals in the Afternoon but Lost in the Evening.

The curling games between the celebrated Lindsayites and the locals yesterday resulted in a victory for the visitors of a total of 8 points in the afternoon games but lost to the locals in the evening by 6.

The advance notices of their visit to the city attracted a large and interested crowd of spectators to the rink who thoroughly enjoyed the excellent games.

Flavelle the famous skip who won such renown in the West, demonstrated his great ability as a curler in the afternoon game by defeating Neill by 7 up in an eighteen-end game. However, in the evening he appeared to be off colour and Connal won by 7 up. The ice was in a perfect condition and conducive to good curling.

The afternoon game commenced at 1.30 and interest never lagged till the conclusion of the lengthy play.

Phonograph At Curling Rink

Curlers last night were entertained by a number of edifying phonographic selections given by Mr. J. T. Barrie, agent for the Columbia machines. The instrument is a most wonderfully clear-toned one and the curlers were highly delighted with the different numbers. Mr. Barrie has the machines on exhibition at the Snowden House parlours, Charlotte street.

Str. Majestic To Be Overhauled

Mr. Fred Young, the popular engineer of the steamer Majestic, of Young's Point, was in the city today. He states that the above steamer is being overhauled and painted in view of the coming season, and will be launched in about two weeks time.

The season this year promises to be the best on record, as the upper lakes are constantly becoming more popular than ever.

St. Peter's New School

WILL BE READY FOR

Occupancy By Easter

Scholars Will Have One of the Finest Schools in the Province—Some Information About the New Structure Which Should be of Interest—In Ventilation and Lighting Facilities the School Will be Unsurpassed.

The new St. Peter's school is almost completed now, and will be ready for use after the Easter holidays. The building is a splendid one and should fully satisfy the demands to be made upon it. The class rooms are large and commodious and every arrangement has been made for the comfort and convenience of the pupils.

Mr. E. W. Argus, the architect, deserves great credit for the fine school he has provided.

The building is pronounced to be one of the best separate schools in the Province, and in fact few schools of any description surpass it in the Dominion.

The landscape will form one of the most picturesque pieces of peoperty in the city. The lower section of the lot is filled in some six or eight feet and held back in position by a concrete retaining wall, all neatly panelled, representing a cut-stone effect. The wall has a neatly moulded coping, and on top of this stands a very appropriate iron fence which encloses nearly the whole grounds. An eight-foot sidewalk surrounds the entire building, with a 14-foot approach on the north side and a 12-foot approach at the front entrance. The front section of the ground will be left all neatly sodded for a lawn effect, innerlaid with beautiful flower beds. The rear section, from the school back to Downie street, will be reserved for children's playground. This playground has a natural grading of some four and a half-foot fall, which will give the surface water a grand opportunity to run off immediately after every shower.

The stone work is built from heavy bed Longford stone. At the lower point the use of 12 feet of stone work gives the foundation a very strong and massive appearance.

The brick work is built of a good, rich colour of red, and red mortar, with neatly beaded joints. All stacks and ventilating shafts have neat panelling of fancy brick on all sides. The main arch, which is built from common stock brick, has a neat artistic and massive appearance. The floors of the building are all supported on massive steel beams, all floors being doubled with heavy fireproofing between the same. The floors of the building throughout are first quality maple.

The lathing and plastering has been the first of its kind used in Peterborough. The entire building has been lathed in expanded metal lath, and plastered with asbestos wall plaster, making a very hard and fireproof finish.

The roof is a very substantial part of the building, being carried principally on very heavy trusses, having one layer of fire-proof asbestos paper underneath the shingles. The shingles are the best the market affords and have been dipped from nine inches to 12 inches in creosote, before laying.

The interior finish is of plain and neat design, being of southern pine in its natural state, making it one of the most complete and neatest finishes in the city of Peterborough. All class rooms have four square feet of glass to each scholar, and the air changed between three and four times per hour, giving the scholars an extra bright, cheerful and airy room for work.

The building is equipped with a complete fire, electric and telephone system, affording excellent facilities for fire drills, etc.

The doors throughout the entire building are smaller than are used in the average school house. This enables the smallest child going to school to open and shut all doors with ease.

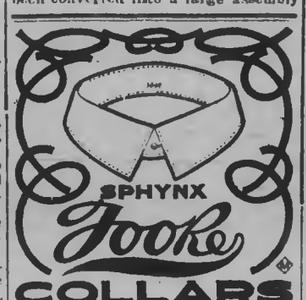
The lighting system of the building is divided into two sections. The entire lower section of the building with the exception of the hall is operated from a switch box in the reception room. The hall and stage are operated from a switch board on the stage. The proscenium arch is decorated with a series of coloured lamps set in pateras.

The steam system is one of the best heating plants in Canada, today. It is of the one pipe gravity, direct indirect system, and in some of the most severe tests in drying out plaster the system was more than able to hold its own, considering that there were a great many openings which were constantly kept open during working hours.

The school is well provided for teachers' rooms, lavatories, reception room, halls, with large library on second floor, drinking fountains, and fire hose connection on all landing. Each class room is provided with a well-equipped cloak room.

The upper floor of the building has been converted into a large assembly hall, with a stage 30 feet square, and three dressing rooms. The opening night of the new hall was more than gratifying to the promoters of this structure, as there were in the neighbourhood of 1,000 people in the hall and not a creak or quivor in the building. The ventilation of the hall is all that can be desired, having a neat dome in the centre. The double line of stairways makes the exits capable of emptying the hall in about two or three minutes' time. The stage, which has two sets of scenery, has a cheerful and cosy appearance, with ample accommodation for carrying off any home talent or school play. The seat for the first night, being 110 boys, with ample room to perform.

This building is rated as being one of the best fire risks in the city, as it is as near a fire-proof construction as one could possibly get without making it of marble and steel.



Are made to withstand the roughest laundry usage, and will retain their appearance longer than any other make.

Each Collar is individually inspected before it leaves our factory.

We guarantee the workmanship of the highest class.

HE TOOK HIS WIFE'S ADVICE

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Cured the Stomach Trouble that Confined Henry A. Coles to His Bed.

One of the unpleasant features of Indigestion and Dyspepsia is that it always keeps getting worse. Take the case of Henry A. Coles, of St. Mary's River, Guysboro, Co., N. S. He says:—

"I had stomach trouble for about five years more or less, and at last I was taken to my bed and the doctor called in. He did me no good. I was was suffering a great deal and did not know what to do."

Everyone must admit that Mr. Coles was in a bad way. But that's what indigestion leads to if you neglect it. But if Mr. Coles did not know what to do his wife did. She said, "Try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets." Like a wise man he took his wife's advice, and of the result he says:

"I took seven boxes and I have not felt any of the trouble since. I heartily recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to any sufferer from Stomach Trouble. They cured me."

Twenty-five Years Married

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. McKee Were Honoured by Their Friends.

Last evening was the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. McKee, 782 Water street, and they were treated to a surprise when a number of their friends waited upon them at their home and presented them with a beautiful silver nut bowl, suitably engraved, also a silver sugar bowl and cream pitcher, and a eulogistic address expressing congratulations and wishing them many more years of happy wedded life together.

Mr. McKee, although taken completely by surprise, made a suitable reply, thanking his friends most heartily.

Mr. McKee had evidently not forgotten the days of his youth, for after leaving the room for a few moments, he returned with a handsome pearl brooch which he, too, had for a surprise, and presented it to his bride of 25 years ago.

The gathering broke up in the wee small hours, after having spent a very pleasant evening.

A ST. PATRICK DAY SYMPOSIUM

The Opinions of Local Writers on Ireland's Patron Saint and His Influence on the Irish Nation.

In recognition of an anniversary, honoured with especial earnestness, if not enthusiasm, by a large and important ethnic element of our complex population, The Examiner, to vary the character of the literature usually published in connection with the Seventeenth of March, has invited contributions of opinion. The gentlemen who have contributed to this symposium are known for their interest in literature, and their large ideas of citizenship. The general subject they were invited to write upon was "The Place of Saint Patrick in History, and His Influence upon Ireland and the World." How closely this subject has been followed is shown by the subjoined contributions, arranged in order of length, which will be found well worth careful perusal:

Intensity Of St. Patrick's Faith

Our thoughts of St. Patrick and of the shamrock are so closely allied that to separate them would be to enact an unnatural divorce. The little green leaf with its three equal divisions was used originally by the Saint to illustrate the mysterious doctrine of three, equal and distinct Divine persons in one God. To-day Irishmen revere it not as commemorative of an individual dogma but rather as a symbol of the whole body of doctrine taught by the Saint. And so the influence of St. Patrick is one with the influence of the national emblem.

It is not the austerity of his life, nor the zeal of his apostolic labours nor the nobility of his personality which has left so vivid an impression upon his followers as has the intensity of the faith which he has inculcated on the Irish people and which, in the vicissitudes of an unhappy race, has never relaxed in force and constancy. Where the spirit of St. Patrick exerts its strong and healthy influence, Irishmen strive to emulate this fervour of their forefathers by preserving and propagating the faith taught by St. Patrick. To all such sincere votaries he gives a help of which the busy, commercial world thinks too little. It is the help procured from a kind Master by the prayers of a good and faithful servant. The influence of St. Patrick began on earth and is consummated in Heaven.

PATRICK J. KELLY.

Ireland Converted By His Efforts

"Saint Patrick was a gentleman."
—Old Song.

The question of influence is a somewhat subtle one. When momentous events occur in the history of a people, preceded by or accompanying, the appearance of some remarkable, or eminent, man, it is nearly always difficult, and sometimes impossible, to determine to what extent the individual is the cause, or the effect, of the general movement. In the case of St. Patrick, while the ascertained facts in regard to his life and work, are so few as to render it difficult to fix the exact value of his influence, there can be little doubt that the conversion of pagan Ireland in his day was wholly due to his efforts, and that the similar work in Scotland and the north of England at a later date, was largely a result of his earlier work. He was evidently a man of commanding genius and intense zeal, and possessed, withal, of a large measure of sanctified common sense, and the methods adopted by him in his mission amongst the Irish were such as were calculated to have, and did have, a lasting effect. Like the great Scottish reformer of a later age, and the other great Scottish missionary of modern days to India, St. Patrick early recognized the value of education in giving permanence to his work, and accordingly much of his energy was devoted to the establishment of schools as well as churches. His work was prosecuted with almost apostolic zeal, in face of difficulties that to most men would have appeared insurmountable.

How far the work carried on later by St. Columba, St. Rentiergen Aidan, and others, amongst the pagan English, owed its inspiration to St. Patrick, it is difficult to say, and I must confess to a deplorable ignorance of church history. Bede tells us that "Many of these Scots came daily into Britain, and with great devotion preached the word to those provinces of the English. Many churches were built, and the people joyfully flocked to hear. The English, great and small, were by their Scottish masters instructed." It can be fairly assumed that to the example, at least, if not to the direct influence of St. Patrick, was due the establishment of the schools at Iona, from whence these missionaries came, men who made the name of Scot and Ireland famous throughout Europe.

I have always had a soft spot in my heart for the Irish. Almost my earliest recollection are of the old Irish nurse who filled my head and heart with her inexhaustible fund of Irish folk lore and fairy tales. Most of the servants in the old home, both male and female, were Irish, straight from the "old sod," uncontaminated by intercourse with the "bloody Saxon," and from them I think I have learned something of the real Irish character. Honest, in in regard to both property and service, faithful, and strongly attached, to their employers, and, without exception, courteous and careful, both in word and action, to avoid anything that would wound the feelings or sensitiveness of others. It has occurred to me that perhaps in this respect the influence, remote and traditionary, though it be, of their patron saint, may still be felt to some extent, for have we not the above excellent authority for saying that:

"Saint Patrick was a gentleman."

J. A. HALL.

Interwoven With National Life

Whatever may be urged as to the benefits of the Reformation movement, we cannot but deplore the loss to the separated bodies by the break in the continuity of their spiritual life. Among other things, the result of this is seen in the slight respect paid by Protestants generally to the illustrious line of Saints and Martyrs who have adorned the past history of the Church. This, though to some extent true of the Church of England, is not so true of that communion as of those in countries in which the movement was of a very different nature.

To Roman Catholics, the Saints are very real—a fact which cannot fail to exercise a most favourable influence on the formation of character. Among the Saints who are regarded as national, it seems to me that no other is quite so real or so closely interwoven with the national life as the Patron Saint of Ireland. Wherever he may have been born, we always think of him as thoroughly Irish, and there can be no doubt that the veneration paid to him has done much to deepen and intensify the national characteristics.

I do not wonder that the hearts of Irishmen of all creeds warm at the mention of the name of St. Patrick.

BARTON EARLE.

St. Patrick's Day, March 17, 1906.

Ireland And St. Patrick

The early history of Ireland is the early history of every country on the globe—one wild and pagan people subduing and dispossessing another. In Ireland the previous inhabitants were conquered and dispossessed by the Celts who came into Europe from the East with the great western migration which overlaid the continent with a population of that race. The original settlers vanished everywhere before this advancing and warlike people and were with few exceptions slain or absorbed by them. The Celts, were, in turn, forced forward by the later-coming Teutonic hordes and ultimately found themselves at the farthest limit of migration in Ireland, Britain, Western France and the south and west of Spain.

In order that we may have before our mind's eye a true picture of Ireland at the time of St. Patrick, we must remember that it had within itself no reasonable means of transportation or communication whatever. There was an entire absence of roads leading from one part of the country to another and in this respect the Emerald Isle was just so much worse off than Britain, where the Romans had followed conquest by road-building.

But great forests, extensive undrained swamps and bogs and the lack of highways made Ireland the freebooters' paradise and while Britain suffered conquest at the hands of the Saxon, of the Dane and afterwards of the Norman, Ireland was able to resist with greater effect and to prolong her agony even to this day. It was to such a country in such a condition of disunion and defiance that St. Patrick came. Born, as it is said, in Scotland, he was carried to Ireland as a slave, but escaped to Gaul and became a missionary. Returning to preach Christianity to pagan Ireland his success was instant from the moment of his landing. The new faith was embraced with surprising unanimity and fervour. The great apostle followed up his success by establishing monasteries and churches. But his fame rests upon the inspiration which he imparted to his immediate followers who, roused to a high pitch of enthusiasm, journeyed into foreign countries preaching the Gospel of Christ. The highlands of Scotland the lowlands of England, the coasts of the Baltic Sea, Western Germany and Northern Italy all were visited by Irish missionaries whose piety and zeal have never been excelled in Christendom. From the most distant countries students came to receive spiritual education in Irish monasteries. At one time it looked as if Celtic rather than Latin Christianity was to exercise a predominant influence in Europe. But, outside the monasteries and religious houses, the spirit of rivalry in clan and sept left Ireland in nearly as unhappy a state as ever. That she would have recovered from this condition and have followed ultimately the spiritual lead of St. Patrick and his great successor is scarcely to be doubted. But the era of enlightenment was brought to an end by the invasions of Northmen, Danes and Scottish adventurers. These men destroyed cathedrals, monasteries and alms houses, wherever found, and slew without mercy all who lived in or near them. Round towers were in vain built by the Irish for their defence. Subsequent visitations, such as those made by the catholic Normans at a later date, added to the general disorder and whilst with the Celtic victims of the Saxon and with the Saxon victims of the Scandinavian in England, the Irish can sympathize, they cannot like them be brought to forget. The age of St. Patrick was like to have been the golden age of Ireland and we can only wish that it had been permitted to have been so. A pure and holy man he was of the highest human type of the faith which he professed. The 17th of March is consecrated to his memory.

HAMPDEN BURNHAM.

St. Patrick And His Work

To appreciate the worth of this saint and the reason for his adoption as the patron saint of Ireland, one must have a fair idea of the age in which he lived, the conditions of the ing bands and carried to Ireland, where he spent six years in hard slavery, herding cattle, until, taking advantage of a close-by shipping station, he escaped to Britain.

At this time Ireland was a wooded country, with great forests, bogs and lakes. There was plenty of game and fine fishing. The climate was milder than England, and there was considerable fertile soil. All these made an inviting home for tens of thousands of free-booters, who for many years came in colonies to her shores from Greece, Spain, Denmark and Scandinavia. These people, as the custom was, secured the seas, robbing and plundering, and settling down where there were fair women and inviting conditions. Ireland was largely settled in this way. The people were, as might be expected in that age, coarse, rude and quarrelsome. Only strong men ventured out to foreign shores in quest of adventure and pillage, and these rovers, intermarrying, gave Ireland a population vigourous and stalwart, able to hold their own, and in time they, too, went out and foraged on the neighbouring shores of England, Scotland and Wales, and here they, too, planted colonies. They lived in tribes and clans, having their own chiefs, whom they followed to the death. Amongst the strongest and most dominant of these tribes were the Scoti, or Scots. They settled in the north of Ireland and in Scotland, and of these was the father of Patrick, who, born a Scot in Scotland, may be fairly called a Scotchman.

On reaching England, the young man, now 23, found his own people, and, having always a religious disposition, he studied for the priesthood, having a good desire to go back to Ireland to convert the people to Christianity. This he did, and after having, as he related, several times heard a voice inviting him to go over and live with the people he had been with during his captivity, he went to Ireland in A.D. 425, and in A.D. 460 he was created a bishop.

Bishop Patrick could not have been a learned man, owing to the circumstances of his early life, but he was a devout man, zealous and very energetic, and of great and skilful organizing power. Before his time Ireland had some religious teaching by missionaries, but it was only in spots. There was no church establishment, and the people were heathen and pagan. St. Patrick skilfully captured many of the chiefs of the clans. These surrendered to him and to the church their authority and their temporal interests, the rank and file followed their chiefs. Thus, while part of the people remained pagan, a large proportion of them became Christians; of course, they would be rough and crude Christians, but it was a great work and time wrought many wondrous changes, for St. Patrick thoroughly organized and established the church. In a little time Ireland became religious and learned. Her schools were famous, and from the outside world men flocked to Ireland's fine educational and religious schools, and her clergy and learned men went all over Europe as teachers. She established great religious and educational houses in Scotland and England, and stood at the very front of the religion and education of the day.

Of St. Patrick there are many strange stories, but it was a day of myth, of legend, and of story, and the wandering minstrels with vivid imagination, and amongst a devout and credulous people, were never at a loss to complete or add to a subject of such great interest. The fact is, there were three Bishops St. Patrick, and there is much confusion of story — it being generally thought that our St. Patrick got more than his share of the good things of the three. The others, however, have never complained. 'Tis said, St. Patrick banished the snakes out of Ireland. I don't know about that, but it may safely be said if he did not banish that old snake who was so troublesome in Eden, and no doubt was recognized in Ireland, he at least scotched him. I think I have heard he has a slight footing there yet—especially around Belfast.

Without believing all that tradition and fable ascribes to St. Patrick, there is enough historically vouched for to entitle him to the great honour of being taken as the apostle and patron saint of Ireland, and it is a credit to the Irish people that they adopted for their patron saint a man of whom only good is told, for in so doing they make their ideal of the virtues which they ascribe to him. The good old saint if he had his way, would much rather the people he loved should honour the virtues than the man, and this, no doubt, they do, for they ascribe to him more virtues and wonderful works of well-doing than would well fit any man born of a woman.

D. W. DUMBLE.

THE DEATH OF PATRICK.

Now Patrick's end was come, and fain would he Rest from his labours, for his weary frame
Weighted by many years, was worn quite
With generous toiling in the fields of God,
Vigils and fasts and preaching of the Word.
Nigh Dunum's Foot he paused one day and sat
Surrounded by a chosen company;
Disciples all, and chief among the crowd
The virgins Brigid and Ethembria,
Saints of the Lord. There as he sat he spoke
Of Heaven and the wonders of God's love;
The splendors of that new Jerusalem
Passing the thoughts of man. And as he spoke
Of Heaven and the wonders of God's love,
The splendors of that new Jerusalem
Passing the thoughts of man. And as he spoke
Looking, they saw within a graveyard near
A brilliant light that played like molten fire
Above a certain spot; they questioned him
And turning where St, Brigid stood alone
He ordered her the mystery to explain,
When she: the shining vision signifies
"That in that spot era long shall buried lie
"The body of a glorious Saint of God."
Then sweetly Ethembria; "and his name?"
Patrick, a name the fallen angels dread
"Ierne's glory till the end of time,
"And would sweet Sister I had brought the shroud
"That my own hands have woven for this hour
"To wrap his body. Then for that he knew
What secret things they said, the Man of God
Immediate spoke, "I pray you turn and go
"Back to your convent, and the blessed shroud
"In haste bring hither, for my end is near;
"Feeble my limbs and misty grow mine eyes
"Oh, Sister, quick I pray." And Brigid went
Returning with the shroud her hands had wove
Thro' tears and fasting and a thousand prayers.
They journeyed then to Saul, where Patrick died,
And after death the blessed shroud embraced
His holy limbs—and signs and prodigies
Shook all the Isle,—while from his flesh exhaled
Celestial fragrance. Twelve long days and nights
O'er all the North a flaming lustre shone,
And harmonies divine—seraphic harps
And chants angelic filled the mourning vales.

GLOWING TRIBUTE TO ST. PATRICK

Eloquent Sermon Preached This Morning at St. Peter's Cathedral—Rev. Father Kelly Refers to the Beautiful Life of Patron Saint.

To-day, St. Patrick's Day, is being celebrated in the usual way in St. Peter's Cathedral. Two masses were held, the first at 8 o'clock, at which His Lordship Bishop O'Connor officiated, and the second, a high mass at 9 o'clock, sung by Rev. Father McColl, His Lordship also being present. The attendance at both masses was large.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Father Kelly, and his text was "Be ye followers of me, as I also am of Christ;" I. Corinthians, xi, 1.

In introducing his subject, the Rev. Father said that there were men who, in their passage through life and after death, have a following. It is not their material virtues and talent which command men, but their fidelity in making themselves other Christs. They lived as our Lord lived, and ask us to imitate them as true representations of the life of Christ. "Be ye followers of me as I also am of Christ." I. Cor. xi, 1.

In comparing the life of St. Patrick with that of Christ, the speaker said that our divine Lord devoted His life to teaching His truth and established a church to continue His work, while St. Patrick devoted his life to teaching the Irish people, and left a church to preserve and propagate the doctrine he taught.

The Son of God, in obedience to His Father's will, descended below the angels and became a baby in the stable of Bethlehem. His life so begun, in obedience to His mission to teach and save, was so continued in obedience even unto death. His life was given to the fulfillment of his mission to teach.

Before death He established a church against which the gates of hell would not prevail. This church was to continue to teach God's truth. It began with Christ, it saw the destruction of the temple, it survived pagan Rome, and saw the inception of all the prevailing forms of Government. Against it as against its master much opposition was raised. Out of every struggle it has come forth victorious. It has suffered much, but its wonderful vitality and its divine promise of preservation will bear it through triumphant to the consumation of the world.

St. Patrick, in obedience to his vocation, left a home of happiness to teach the Irish people. His life of austerity, his spirit of prayer, his charity towards his former master, and his many, penances show how completely he sacrificed himself to the work of converting the Irish. He lived to teach and save the Irish people.

There survived St. Patrick a church which has preserved his doctrine and propagated it through the world. His followers, as devoted priests or sisters, have spread the truth of Christ beyond the confines of Ireland into many lands. The people of Ireland as a race remained constant in their many trials. The invasions of unbelieving hordes in the earlier ages, the false ambition of kings and the unnumbered trials of so unhappy a race have only fed the intensity of their faith. Ireland had been true to her apostle, and her fidelity in the past, coupled with the intercessory protection of St. Patrick is a sufficient warrant of her perpetual fidelity.

In conclusion, Rev. Father Kelly pointed out that Christ lived to spread his truth. St. Patrick devoted himself to a similar task. Irishmen should then imitate their master and their saint by knowing and living the truth taught them so well.

Sudden Death From Apoplexy

Mr. D. J. Keagan Died In Hastings on Saturday.

Special to The Examiner.

Hastings, March 19. — Mr. D. J. Keagan, one of the most prominent and most highly respected residents of this town, died very suddenly on Saturday. Mr. Keagan was in apparent good health, and was in fact so well that he was making preparations to leave to-day for the North-west on a trip, and had purchased his ticket. He went home to dinner about noon and had only been in the house for a few minutes when he fell off the chair, dead. A doctor was called, and death was pronounced due to apoplexy. Deceased was 44 years old, and was a retired farmer. During recent years he had conducted a general store in Hastings but had disposed of it, and was thinking of going to the Northwest to live. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss. Deceased was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters, in which order he was insured.

The funeral, which was under Catholic Order of Foresters auspices, took place this morning.

Alex. Haddow Addressed Men

At the Y.M.C.A. Gospel Meeting Yesterday Afternoon.

At one of the largest Men's Meetings in the Y.M.C.A. this year, held on Sunday afternoon, Mr. Alex. Haddow was the speaker. Among those present was a large number of mechanics and strangers also.

Mr. Haddow possesses the gift of presenting truth in a simple, clear and forceful way. Keen interest marked the delivery of the address from start to finish.

He spoke on the subject of the "Power of God," from Romans, 1; 16. The lesson was read by Mr. J. Naysmith, one of Toronto's prominent business men.

Mr. R. Freund sang "The Prodical Son" and "The Pilot Song," as solos, and also took the solo part in one of the Revival Songs. He sings with feeling expression and splendid effect.

The Straggers' Fellowship Club will have charge of the meeting next Sunday. The subject will be "The Story of a Runaway Slave."

THE WORLD'S PROGRESS

Methods Which Have Been in Vogue for Centuries Give Way to the Modern Spirit of Progress.

"Our only real competitors are the artist tailors in the cities, the tailors who can get $40 and $50 for making suits which they must candidly acknowledge are not superior to our finished-to-measure suits at $25 and $30." The head salesman in the Semi-ready store emphasized his remarks by showing one of the beautiful English worsted suits which he had just received from the Semi-ready tailoring shop in Montreal, an establishment where clothes are made on a scientific principle which is revolutionising the tailoring industry. The labourious and cruder methods of the old-time tailor must give place to the newer ideas.

Death And Funeral Of Ald. Thomas Kelly

One of the Oldest and Most Highly Esteemed of Peterborough-Born Citizens Passes Away—The Funeral Furnishes Evidence of Great Respect in Which the Deceased Was Held.

The death of Alderman Thomas Kelly, which occurred at the family residence, 252 Simcoe street, on Saturday afternoon, March 17th, at 2.30 o'clock, represents another breach in the ranks of the earliest generation of native-born residents of Peterborough.

The late Mr. Kelly, son of the late Patrick Kelly, a pioneer resident, was born in Peterborough on May 24—the birthday of the late Queen—1843, and was therefore 63 years of age at the time of his death, which was due to laryngitis supervening upon general debility. About four years ago Mr. Kelly suffered from an attack of pleurisy, from which he did not completely recover. About the middle of last January he was attacked with laryngitis and seemed to become convalescent, but his vital forces were too much exhausted to overcome his malady. Just a month ago yesterday the late Mr. Alfred McDonald, with whom Mr. Kelly had his last business relations, spent the day with Mr. Kelly, and now both have passed away. Mr. Kelly's death was a real euthanasia—he was quite conscious to the last moment and was surrounded by his entire family, including his son, Rev. Father P. J. Kelly, who, in the last extremity, was able to give the spiritual comfort this holy office permitted him, and the dying man was given strength to say farewell, and to give his dying injunctions to his children to lead virtuous and upright lives.

Mr. Kelly was educated in the public schools of the town, and later in the Separate School. At an early age he entered upon mercantile pursuits, in the employ of the late Patrick Ryan, who at that time owned all the property on George street, from the present site of the Grand Central Apartment building to Charlotte street. Later, Mr. Kelly, at the age of between 18 and 20, entered the wholesale dry goods house of Marty Bros., Kingston, uncles of Hon. Wm. Harty, and after spending 10 years in acquiring knowledge of the business, spent five or six years in Port Hope. Returning to Peterborough, he spent several years in the establishment of the late Wm. Fairweather, and in 1882 entered into the dry goods business on his own account. He conducted a successful business for 12 or 13 years. In 1895 the wave of commercial depression which overflowed the country brought commercial reverse—among many others—to Mr. Kelly. The sterling honesty and integrity, which were, all his life, a feature of Mr. Kelly's character, were brought out in this crisis. In arranging with his creditors, he surrendered everything — even the life insurance policies placed for the benefit of his family, and also his home. For six years afterwards Mr. Kelly was in the employ of the Dominion Government in connection with the construction of the hydraulic lift lock and the Peterborough section of the Trent Canal. Later and up to the beginning of his last illness, he was in the office of Mr. Alfred McDonald.

During the whole period of his life in Peterborough, Mr. Kelly occupied an honoured and honourable position as a citizen. In 1860 he entered the Town Council, and for 15 years had the honour of creditably and satisfactorily representing the important business section of the town—No. 2 Ward—being always—when not by acclamation—elected by handsome majorities. He retired from the Council in 1895, and although frequently urged to re-enter Council, he did not do so, until the last municipal elections, when he was elected by a large majority, but owing to his illness was able only to attend one or two meetings. Mr. Kelly also was for many terms a member of the Separate School Board and several times chairman. He was a prominent member of St. Peter's Cathedral, and an active and trusted promoter of the church's interests. He was also a member and president of the C.M.B.A., and also a member of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society. In all these varied associations he showed qualities of character, which won for him the highest respect and confidence of his fellowmen.

In 1875 Mr. Kelly was united in marriage with Mary Farrell Simons, daughter of the late Peter Simons, who was among the very earliest settlers of the city, about 1830. To this marriage were born nine children, all living. The daughters of the family are Misses May, Susie, Estelle, Hilda, Loretta and Annie. The sons are Rev. Patrick J. Kelly, of the Cathedral, clergy; Thomas, of the Bank of Toronto, and Egbert P. Kelly. Mr. Kelly leaves one sister, Mrs. E. Martin, who, only a year ago, came to Peterborough—to be near her only brother—from Oil City, Pa.

Mr. Kelly's domestic virtues were in keeping with his interest in public affairs. In spite of his devotion to the latter, his heart was centred in his home and family, separation from which seemed to be for him the chief bitterness of death. In Mr. Kelly's passing, the city loses one of its best citizens, against whose life record in the city one has yet to hear of a dishonourable or unworthy action in his relations to his fellowmen. He dies universally esteemed and equally regretted.

The Funeral.

The funeral took place from the family residence to St. Peter's Cathedral, where a large number of friends gathered to pay their last respects to the deceased. Solemn requiem mass was celebrated by the son of the deceased, Rev. Father Kelly. The funeral cortege was a large one, and contained representatives of the C.M.B.A. and T.A.S., of which society the late Mr. Kelly was a prominent member. The City Council and officials also attended the funeral. The pall-bearers were Messrs. John Kelly, H. LeBrun and Jas. Dolan, of the C.M.B.A., and Messrs. Edward O'Brien, James O'Brien and John O'Brien, of the T.A.S. Rev. Father Phelan and Rev. Father O'Sullivan, of Lindsay, were in the city for the funeral.

Mr G. Rickerby Not Connected With The Case

An Error Appeared in Saturday's Examiner That Does Him Injustice.

The name of George Rickerby was mentioned in Saturday's Examiner in connection with the case of S. R. Bradburn, charged with abduction of Lottie Sullivan. The mention of George Rickerby's name was an unfortunate typographical error, and as he was in no way connected with the case that his name should be mentioned in the report of it, does him an unjustice. The Examiner regrets the mistake.

Start Crusade Against Sin

Every night this week, except Saturday, Evangelists Black, of Trenton, and Pearson, of Massachusetts, will conduct special evangelistic meetings in the Gospel Hall. They will be assisted by Mr. W. P. Douglas, of this city, and Mr. John Gilchrist, of Bancroft. These four brethren intend making a special crusade against sin in Peterborough, and hope to have the prayers of every child of God in the city. They take no collections, and all they ask is support by prayer that God may save the lost.—Com.

Peterborough A Progressive City

Visitors From Qu'Appelle Are Delighted With It.

Mr. F. Brown and sister, of Qu'Appelle, Sask., have returned to the city after an extended visit at Belleville, Cobourg, Port Hope and other southern points. They are now spending a short time with their uncle and aunt at 617 Rubidge street and 269 Water street, prior to their departure for their home in the West. They are delighted with their first visit to this progressive and enterprising young city of Peterborough. Mr. Brown, with his father, moved from Western Ontario to Qu'Appelle 18 years ago, and, according to indications, have been very successful. They work 1,280 acres of land, and while it is not all under cultivation, there is a considerable portion broken. They threshed over 20,000 bushels of grain last season, and are very enthusiastic over the brilliant future of the great West.

A Distinctive Name.

THE REV. J. J. CURRAN, treasurer of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, was talking in Wilkesbarre about St. Patrick's Day. From this subject, turning naturally to the subject of bulls, he said:

"An Englishmen was once travelling in the south of Ireland when he came to a village called Skibbereen.

"The name struck him as very peculiar and odd, and he asked a villager why the town was so called.

"'Sure,' the villager replied, 'I thought even an Englishman could have seen the reason for that. It's called Skibbereen to distinguish it it from other places of the same name.'"

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From this Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, pelvic catarrh, dizziness, flatulency, displacements or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the trouble may make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Mrs. Robert Glenn, of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I suffered untold agonies from serious female troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the lumen bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Just as surely as Mrs. Glenn was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from female troubles, inflammation, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who suffer for free advice. She is a daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Algoma Survey Work Progressing

Mr. H. S. Wood of That District is Home on a Holiday.

Mr. Herbert Wood, who for the past ten months has been in Northern Algoma in the District D. party on the Transcontinental Railway Survey, is home on a few weeks' visit.

The party commenced surveying operations on the Ground Hog River, Algoma, and at the present time are working over 70 miles further west at what is known as the Missinabie River. The latter point is situated 150 miles north of the C.P.R. line in a forest district in which abound plenty of moose and caribou.

The operations, Mr. Wood states, are progressing very favourably and a great advance has been made since the work first commenced. In the District D. party there are 26.

Mr. Wood is healthy and robust in appearance and enjoys the work in which he is engaged in the north country. He will rejoin his party in two weeks' time.

Edward Greer Was Remanded

On Charge of Stealing a Gold Watch and $2 From John Sheehan.

Edward Greer was charged with stealing on the 4th day of November, from John Sheehan one gold watch and twenty dollars in money. The prisoner pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by His Worship. As the man from whom, it is alleged, he stole the watch and money, could not appear to give evidence against him, as he is now working in a lumber camp, the prisoner was remanded for a week.

Charles Clarke and H. Raymond pleaded not guilty to stealing from Mr. A. R. Kidd one pair of sheets, one blanket, two pairs of rubbers, one shirt and one peice of carpet. Both elected to be tried summarily. The prisoners are engaged in the junk business. The prosecutor was not ready to go on with the case, and the prisoners were remanded until Wednesday, the 21st. Clarke asked the court if they would be allowed their liberty until the case came up again, and was informed they would be if suitable sureties were forthcoming. The figure named, however, was too high, and Clarke concluded to go to gaol.

Harwood Farmers Organize New Creamery Co.

Mr. Robert Watson Elected President — Profitable Address Given on Dairy Lines by Mr. Mitchell, Superintendent of the Kingston Dairy School—Much Enthusiasm Shown in Meeting—Mr. Clark, M.P.P., Also Spoke.

LARGE NUMBER WERE PRESENT

Special to The Examiner.

A meeting was held in the town hall, Harwood, on Thursday afternoon last to organize a creamery company. The officers of this enterprise, which will undoubtedly be a great success, were elected. Mr. Robert Watson was elected president of the new company. A number of important speakers were present and some very profitable knowledge was imparted to the patrons.

Judging from the men appointed to the different offices and the enthusiasm shown at the first meeting, Mr. Southworth, the proprietor of the creamery, will have good results for his trouble. Mr. Mitchell, superintendent of the Kingston Dairy School, was present, and gave a practical talk to the patrons.

It afforded him great pleasure, he said, to be present at the first meeting and see such a large number of the patrons out and to see such enthusiasm taken in the creamery. While it was somewhat of a new system of creamery in that district it was no experiment, as the cream gathered creameries are fast displacing the whole-milk system. The strong point in their favour is that they can serve a larger section of the country on account of less expense in hauling, and the milk is in ideal condition for feeding to young calves and pigs. The dairy business to-day is an important industry, amounting in the past season to almost $100,000,000, including cheese, butter and bacon.

The dairy business enables the farmers to keep up the fertility of his land a great deal better than by growing grain. The farmer must look to the cheaper production of milk feed, a balanced ration of bulky food, such as clover, hay, alfalfa, corn ensilage, and roots, such as mangels, carrots, sugar beets, grain and bran. He strongly recommended that no turnips be fed to the milking cows.

The profitable dairy cow should give a good flow of milk during a long period. They should be well wintered; a supply of green food for summer feeding should be supplied, say to sow a mixture of peas and oats, one bushel of peas to two bushels of oats; sow at different periods, and have green all through the dry season. In the fall protect the cows from cold nights and keep milk supply up. Last season two lessons were learned by the conditions of the season. The pasture was green all through, and the fall almost summer conditions. He would aim to grade up the herd and aim to have each cow produce 6,000 pounds of milk, or 250 pounds of butter. The average for Ontario to-day would not exceed 3,000 pounds. I would have some cows freshen in the fall, as it is claimed by some that four cows freshening in the fall are equal to five cowcing in the spring. It also distributes the work over the whole season. It takes 60 per cent. of the food to keep up the vitality of the cow, and the balance of the food given will yield a profit. By this system a double responsibility is placed on the patron. Where the cream is gathered three times a week it must be cooled down to 50 per cent or below. To do this one will require a supply of ice. The time has come when all patrons of cheese and butter factories must cool their milk and cream to a low temperature. The cream must be sweet and clean in flavour when it leaves the farm. It should be gathered in properly isolated cans. Warm cream should not be mixed with the cool cream, and a thermometer should be used which will always give correct results. One ton of ice per cow should be put up for cooling cream. A convenient plan is to use a tank in a lean-to beside an ice-house to hold the cans of cream in.

He advocated the use of a cream separator, as, under ordinary conditions, one-quarter of the butter fat is lost by gravity system, and under the best possible conditions, one pound in 12. It is better to set separator on a solid floor and not on the ground floor, as milk is apt to be spilt and cause a bad smell. The separator should be used intelligently and run at proper speed. One may have a varied cream test from one month to another, but should not be hasty and blame anyone until he has considered conditions. In running a separator there are a few things which will change the per cent. of cream, namely, to turn at a greater speed to reduce the inflow of milk, and a person may easily see that this must be done intelligently. He gave a few records of tests made at the school along the line of different speeds in turning. By turning five revolutions of crank faster it will make a difference of 10 per cent. greater cream test. He advocated a 30 per cent cream.

In closing, he said that all should work hand in hand and make the creamery as grand a success as possible.

Mr. Clark, M.P.P., was also present and gave an address.

Lunch was served after the addresses and the meeting was adjourned until the evening, when an enjoyable programme was presented.

The Lecture On "Forestery" Much Enjoyed

Mr. Rich. Lees Gave Illustrated Lecture at the Y. M. C. A.

The closing pop. of the successful series of eight, in connection with the Y.M.C.A., was held on Saturday evening in the hall.

Mr. Richard Lees, M.A., I.P.S. for Peterborough county, gave a decidedly interesting and instructive lecture on "Forestry." The lecturer showed a complete grasp of his subject as the result of special study. He was introduced by Colonel E. B. Edwards in a well-worded speech. Mr. H. W. Merphet sang an Irish song, which was well received.

Mr. Lees began with a statement of the resources of the province in its forests, and the present agitation to preserve and foster the same.

Some sixty stereopticon views were then in turn thrown upon the canvas, and illustrated the lecture. These comprised views of different kinds of trees under different conditions, presenting the structure of the trees and, in fact, every detail of growth, until they were sent to the mills. A number of excellent views of a large lumber camp were also presented.

Mr. Lees was tendered a very hearty vote of thanks moved by Mr. Roy, and seconded by Mr. Shiner.

The lantern was skilfully operated by Mr. J. A. Fife, science master of the Collegiate Institute.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES

To Overhaul The Majestic

Mr. Geo. Hickey, one of our well known boat builders of that name, left this morning for Young's Point where he has gone for the purpose of thoroughly overhauling the steamer Majestic for Mr. P. P. Young. the work will be completed in time for the coming season of navigation, when the Majestic will repeat the popularity she has won in her past career.

No Difference.

No distinction is made as to the kind of piles that Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid cures.

The names, Internal, External, Bleeding, Blind, Itching, Suppurating, etc., are simply the names of the different stages through which every case will pass if it continues long enough.

Piles are caused by congestion or stagnation of blood in the lower bowel, and it takes an internal remedy to remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is a tablet taken internally.

It is a permanent cure, and no case of piles has ever been found it failed to cure. Money back if it does.

That Clause In The City Bill

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I notice the clause in the city bill re the diversion of waterways is still under consideration. I would like, sir, to ask who, outside of those property owners to be benefited by this local improvement, are asking to have this work done. I understand it will cost from four to five thousand dollars a sum that would enable us to secure for this city a first-class industry, something we are more in need of than paying for local improvements. The property owners benefitted by the Park street drain are paying for that work entirely and justly so; but it seems there is an easier way to have local improvements done and that is by putting into the city council and lobbying through your bill. The Park street drain is entirely on the highway, while the Ashburnham, or 5th Ward, drain is nearly all through private property.

Presentation To Mr. D. H. Curtis

Was Honoured Before His Departure for Saskatoon, Sask.

Before leaving for Saskatoon, Sask., Mr. D. H. Curtis, was visited by a deputation from St. Luke's Sunday School, which gave him quite a surprise. The following address was read to him by the Superintendent, Mr. David Spence.

Dear Mr. Curtis,

We have learned with much regret that you are about leaving our city, and that thus you will have to sever your connection with our church and Sunday School. For many years you have been a faithful and devoted teacher in our Sunday School, and we have never in vain appealed to your support and interest in our school. Before you leave us, will you allow us to represent you with a token of our respect for you and appreciation of your faithful services, and thus accept from us the accompanying picture of St. Luke's Church and rectory, which we hope will ever remind you of your pleasant associations with our church life and work.

We remain, on behalf of St. Luke's Church and Sunday School.

Sincerely yours,
DAVID SPENCE,
Superintendent.
E. A. LANGFELDT,
Rector.
T. H. ADAMS,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. H. Adams made the presentation of the picture, a beautiful enlargement of the church and rectory, framed in oak.

Mr. Curtis expressed his great appreciation of such a suitable present which would ever keep before him the dear church which to worship in had always been a pleasure to him.

Mr. Curtis will leave for Saskatoon, Sask., to-morrow morning. Mrs. Curtis will remain at present with her parents in Cavan, but expects to join her husband in June.

To Rebuild The Body

WHEN IT IS WEAK AND WASTED BY OVERWORK OR DISEASE YOU CAN USE

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

"Our bodies," says Huxley, "may be likened to an eddy in the river, which retains its shape for a while, though every instant each particle of water is changing."

The tissues of the body, composed of millions of tiny cells, are being constantly broken down and wasted away by the process of life and especially by overwork and disease.

In order to reconstruct these wasted tissues there are necessary such elements as iron, sulphur, magnesia, glutash, etc., and when these are not supplied in sufficient quantities in the food we eat it is necessary to aid Nature by the use of some restorative preparations.

Especially during the winter season foods are unusually artificial and as a result the spring finds the body in a weak and run-down condition.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is particularly effective under such circumstances because it is composed of the very elements of nature which go to form new, rich blood, create new nerve cells and rebuild wasted tissues.

This great food cure is radically different to the medicines that are usually used for nervous diseases, for while they stimulate tired nerves to overexertion or by narcotic influence soothe and deaden them, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food revitalizes the wasted nerve cells and so accomplishes lastingly beneficial results.

While modern and scientific in composition and preparation, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been on the market sufficiently long to prove in thousands of cases its extraordinary restorative and reconstructive power.

For men who are suffering from headaches, indigestion and sleeplessness, for women who besides these symptoms suffer from weaknesses and irregularities of the delicate feminine organism, for children who are pale, weak and puny, there is, we believe, no preparation extant which will bring about such satisfactory results as the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 7

PREACHING AND PRACTICE.

The Chicago preacher who, on Sunday last attempted to make his congregation believe that the poor were happier than the rich, would probably, not hasten to exchange a comfortable pastorate for the grinding poverty that never knows whence is to come the next meal for toiling wife and half-starved squad of little ones. Some theories sound very consoling, but they fill no stomachs. If one were to offer this reverend kite-flyer a mission in the northern part of Peterborough, at a salary of $200 a year, to include the keeping of a horse, he would mighty soon reverse his sentiments as to the blessings of poverty as compared to competence. If preachers would preach the gospel instead of such irrelevant rubbish, which is neither gospel nor sense, then would people take religion and pulpit-preaching far more seriously.

BE CONSISTENT.

A novel St. Patrick's day will be that which the city of Quebec will observe. The celebration, instead of being enjoyed by the Roman Catholic Irishmen alone, will be joined in by their Protestant neighbours. Shoulder to shoulder Protestants and Catholics will walk in honour of the patron saint of the glorious Green Isle. This is as it should be. St. Patrick is to Ireland what St. George is to England, St. Andrew to Scotland and St. David to Wales. He is the embodiment of the national idea.—Mail and Empire.

These be brave words, and sensible and patriotic words. But the Mail and Empire forgets to express the sentiments they involve when it is leading the pack in full cry in a race and religious onslaught.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

La Presse professes to know that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was offered a seat in the House of Lords in 1902. Sir Wilfrid, if he received the offer, could have had no hesitation in refusing it. If the time ever comes, which is doubtful, when Canada will be officially represented in the British Parliament, her delegates, the London Advertiser thinks, will have seats in the popular chamber.

It is not honourable of a contemporary to make it appear that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is lacking in sympathy for the oppressed Russian Jews, because he declined to accept a motion which might embarrass the British Government in its relations with the Russian Government. Sir Wilfrid's position was endorsed by Mr. Borden, a fact which is concealed. The Premier recently addressed a Jewish meeting in Ottawa, as a citizen of Canada, in which he denounced the atrocities in Russia, and extended his heartfelt sympathy to the Jewish race.

The most deadly symptom of revolt in the Conservative party comes in the form of the following bolt from the blue, appearing in the Ottawa Citizen, which describes Hon. Mr. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, as having "exhibited more capability in improving the earning power of the national road (Intercolonial) than any of his predecessors." This departure from fidelity to Conservative traditions will naturally incur the condemnation of the Mail and Empire, which cannot understand a party organ commending two mortal sins—speaking the truth in regard to a Liberal Minister, and, in the process approving of a political opponent at the expense of the great party leaders.

The Fountain Pen of Satisfaction.

Make no mistake, have no misgivings — "Stratton's Special" fountain pen is the pen of satisfaction. You can buy higher priced pens, but none that we can guarantee to be as good for a dollar. It's the fastest selling pen we ever handled. One special feature is that the cap fits down on the shoulder of the pen in such a way that it protects the point. Remember, fine, medium, coarse or stub nibs, in 14 karat gold, for only one dollar. A. H. Stratton & Co.

The Dickson Company Has Successful Season

Mr. Creswell, superintendent of the Dickson Company, was in Bobcaygeon Saturday and reported a very successful season. He has on the river bank 249,000 logs, running between 15 and 17 million feet. There has been six camps in operation all winter and this week Mr. Creswell closes three of them. The other three will remain cutting till the drive commences. Seventy horses have been busy drawing logs, and this week 30 teams will come out. Not a horse died during the heavy operation, which is unusual for many seasons. The loss of several horses is a common occurrence. The camps are all in good, clean condition, and everything is being prepared for the drive as soon as the ice leaves. The Ajax has been engaged to do the towing. Mr. Creswell has experienced many difficulties this season with not much snow, and sickness of some of the men, but nevertheless the season's cut will be a great deal better than in previous years.

A Citizen Of Prominence

That Mr. J. J. McBain is a pretty well known man in Peterborough was evidenced on Saturday, when his picture, taken a number of number of years ago, was published in the "Prominent Citizen" series. This picture by the way, has a history. The photograph from which it was made, was found on the street by a prominent merchant 25 years ago, and was accidentally refound in his office desk recently and turned over to the Examiner. A large number of citizens identified him among them being W. B. Armstrong, G. H. Williamson, Webber Turner, W. Lang, W. J. Walton, D. Bellechem, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, H. Pucha, Miss Lillian Grady, T. E. Pratt, Ald. Johnston, J. F. Thornton, Ald. McIntyre, Miss May Courtney, P. Alexander, Miss Bradd, H. P. Kennedy, J. H. Sawers, Dr. Burnham, Mrs. (Dr.) Morrison and Mr. D. H. Moore.

Cheese Factories Will Open Early

Mr. Gillespie, of the White & Gillespie firm, was in Picton, Trenton and other southern points on a business trip. He reports that the cheese factories in that section will open on the first of April this year. This is unusually early for commencing cheese-making, the general time being on or after the first of May.

Mr. Gillespie is installing a number of power agitators for the mixing of curd in some factories in that district on account of the scarcity of help. Mr. Gillespie placed four sets of agitators in one factory near Trenton.

New Fire Engine Has Arrived

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man's usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your head is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the hair—it will kill the germ and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send ten cents in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Hector Baker Discharged

Permitted to go by His Worship With a Warning.

The police are getting after the malefactors of Peterborough in grand style, and this morning there were no less than five prisoners who faced the magistrate on various charges.

Hector Baker was charged with non-support of his family. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried summarily. Mr. Finch Miller, local relief officer, was the only witness who gave material evidence for the prosecution. He said the family had applied to the Charity Board every winter for the past seven or eight years for relief, and had obtained it. He thought the prisoner was young and able-bodied, and knew of no reason why he should not work. Prisoner drank to excess, and was, witness understood, blacklisted in all the Peterborough hotels. He was all right when he left liquor alone. His wife has been getting aid from the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Matthew Edwards is the prisoner's neighbour. He knew little of him. Thought he would work when there was anything for him to do. Didn't supply his family with any relief. Hector Baker, the prisoner, was a bricklayer by trade, and had been confined in the jail for three months in the fall, and therefore unable to earn any money. He had not been able to obtain work this winter. His Worship allowed him to go, warning him to let liquor alone in the future.

THE SEWING MACHINE FUND

The Sewing Machine Motor Fund is closed for the present. Two additional subscriptions were received on Saturday, as follows:—

Friends $1 50
Subscriber 2 00

This amount added to that already acknowledged in these columns, is slightly more than is required for the purchase of the motor, but there will be some small expense connected with its installation, and the extra amount will be devoted to that purpose. The generous response of the citizens to this worthy object is pleasing to those who took the matter up, and the woman for whom the subscription was taken is indeed grateful.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Editor.—I have noticed in the Examiner of Saturday last the stand Dr. Poole, the veterinary surgeon has taken in regard to mis-used horses, and I must say he has started a crusade that ought to have been started long ago and I wish him every success—and hope the people will take a hand to protect the poor dumb brute.

Mr. Pearson Has Been Re-appointed

Mr. J. J. Pearson, of Lindsay, was in the city to-day on business. He was one of the Trent Canal officials who lost his position when the Whitney Government came into power. Mr. Pearson was able to inform The Examiner to-day that he had received notice of his re-appointment to the position by the Dominion Government, and that he is now in charge of the dams on the Burnt River.

Members of St. Peter's T. A. S. Will See Production of "Eileen Oge."

The members of the dramatic section of St. Peter's T.A.S., who presented "Colleen Bawn," on Friday, will drive out to Ennismore to-night to attend the production of the Irish comedy drama, "Eileen Oge," which will be given by St. Martin's T.A.S. to-night. The play was presented on Saturday night and proved highly successful.

THE GLASS OF FASHION

The Kingly Quality and Queenly Grace of the Leading Canadian Shoe.

King Edward has been termed the "Glass of Fashion" by the ubiquitous American writers. The Slater shoe in Canada is the shoe of fashion, and this is particularly true of the Slater ladies' shoe. The kingly quality of the men's shoe is reproduced in the queenly grace and style of the new spring styles for ladies.

A Creditable Publication

With its current issue, St. Luke's Parish Church Work enters upon its 27th year, and in this connection the rector addresses the subscribers, thanking them for their support. The list of subscribers is steadily increasing, and many letters have been received, speaking in appreciative terms of this monthly paper. While soliciting again the support of the of appreciation regarding the advertisers, he also said a few words to users, whose generous help makes it possible to carry the work on.

This magazine is a credit to the church, and to the rector, who edits it. It is a bright, well edited publication, and few, if any, church papers in the Province surpass it in the excellence of its management. It is printed in The Examiner office, which is sufficient to say that it is typographically perfect.

THE EASY OIL.

Scott's Emulsion is "the easy oil"—easy to take, easy in action. Its use insures deliverance from the griping and nauseating sensation peculiar to the raw oil. Nobody who has any regard for their stomach thinks of taking cod liver oil in the old way when Scott's Emulsion is to be had. It is equally certain that no one having a regard for their health will accept a cheap emulsion or alcoholic substitute for Scott's Emulsion. It fulfills every mission of cod liver oil and more.

THE BEST STOVE CO

Douro Site Best For Purpose

Lakefield Ratepayer Writes Concerning the Site Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—Your Lakefield correspondent seems greatly troubled because "Ratepayer" and "Douro Ratepayer" have withheld their names from the public. Now as your correspondent presumes to speak for the people of Lakefield, as to the site for the House of Refuge, he should tell us his name. If he is the gentleman, I think he is, he could no be elected for a Poundkeeper in this village, but the unexpected often happens, and lo, and behold he suddenly shows great legislative ability, by getting our local option village council to pass a motion censuring Douro Ratepayer and honouring the County Councillors. It just remains for him to get this council to pass a motion censuring the British Government for introducing Chinese labour into South Africa, which he can easily do, (for if our worthy Reeve did not know enough, to know that the first resolution was out of order, he will let the last go through) and then he might aspire to be Premier of the Dominion.

The question is asked "Where does Ratepayer want the House of Refuge located?" His answer is on the best land that can be purchased, and as near the centre of the county as possible. To my mind the Douro site fills all these conditions. Every foot of it is deep rich soil, surface level, with an elevation of about 100 feet above the village and, if 100 acres were purchased, it would include as good barns as are in the county, and 6 acres of maple bush and ever living spring of water. Good sidewalks for the inmates to attend church, and electric light and telephone connection. This property was offered to the county at the request of the Reeve and ex-reeves of Lakefield, and if they from private or personal interests have changed their minds, is this any reason the county should suffer. Personally I don't think the owner cares a continental whether his property is selected or not.

This question is a serious matter to the county. The Victoria County House of Refuge cost $50,000, and the average annual deficit of the present House of Refuge in each county and to be yearly provided for is $4,000, which represents 4 per cent on $100,000. This means placing a mortgage of $150,000 on our farms for all time to come, unless our County Fathers, are not careful in selecting a property, that will yield receipts to balance expenditure. As a large taxpayer, Mr. Editor, I am justified in looking after the interests of the County even if I am sneered at by your correspondent.

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

St. Patrick's Day In Ennismore

St. Patrick's Day will be observed in Enniamore by the production, in the evening, of Edmund Falconer's celebrated Irish drama, in four acts, "Eileen Oge."

The entertainment will be given again on Monday evening, March 19. This is by far the most interesting and most difficult play the young people have ever undertaken, and it remains to be seen with what success their efforts may be crowned.

Had a Bad Leg.

"For twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was something dreadful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching, and healed up the sore." — Mr. Alex. McDougall, postmaster, Broad Cove Marsh, N. S.

OBITUARY.

HENRY SEYMOUR.

At the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. A. P. Lane, Simcoe street, on Saturday night, Henry Seymour, one of the oldest, most prominent, and most highly respected residents of Harvey, passed away after a brief illness. Just a week previous Mr. Seymour came to Peterborough on a visit to his daughters, and while at tea, at the residence of Mr. Lane, on Saturday, the 10th inst., suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he never recovered, although he remained conscious to the last, passing peacefully away on Saturday evening, March 17th, at ten o'clock, just one week from the date of his arrival in Peterborough, and seventy years from his birth, on July 12 .., 1836, in the township of Cartwright, where he lived until his removal to Harvey, 26 years ago.

Mr. Seymour for the past year had not been in his accustomed good health; his decline was quite noticeable, and not feeling very well he made up his mind to come to Peterborough to visit his daughters, taking the train at Bobcaygeon.

Mrs. Seymour predeceased her husband about four years. The deceased gentleman leaves four daughters and two sons to mourn his loss: Mrs. H. M. Moore, and Mrs. A. F. Lane of Peterborough; Mrs. T. Castore of Fenelon Falls; Mrs. Jas. Wilson of Islay; and Miss Seymour, who resides with her sister at Fenelon Falls; James, of Verulam; and Harry on the homestead.

Mr. Seymour was 70 years of age at the time of his death. He was a life-long and highly respected member of the Methodist church, a Liberal in politics, and as a citizen and neighbour possessed qualities which secured for him the high respect and esteem of all who knew him. He was well known, having resided on the farm which he occupied at the time of his death, for the past 26 years. He was one of the strongest temperance men in the county of Peterborough and his influence was always exercised in the promotion of the temperance cause. As a member of the Methodist church of Bobcaygeon he was one of the foremost and most prominent supporters of the church and his death will be sincerely regretted by not only his church associates but by every member of the community.

The funeral service at Peterborough will be private, taking place at Mr. Lane's residence, Simcoe street, at 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning. The remains will be conveyed to Bobcaygeon where the funeral will take place at one o'clock.

MRS. WM. WHITE.

The death occurred this morning of Mrs. Wm. White at her residence, 193 Dalhousie street. The deceased had been unwell for some time, and an operation was performed a short time ago, but she never fully recovered, and passed away this morning at 10.30 o'clock. Dr. Gray was called, but she had died before his arrival. The deceased had lived in Peterborough for a number of years. Her maiden name was Elma Evans and she was a daughter of Mrs. Enos Evans. She had six brothers and three sisters, Messrs. Walter, Harry, James, Wallace and George, of this city, and Russell, of Niagara Falls, and Mrs. Geo. A. Young and Mrs. P. Alexander, and another sister, who resides in Galt. She leaves a husband and four children. The funeral will take place on Tuesday funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2 o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake Cemetery.

PETER CARROL.

Peter Carroll, eldest son of Mr. Felix Carroll, of the township of Hamilton, died on Saturday last after a lingering illness of consumption. He was 41 years old, and was in the Cobourg Hospital about a year ago for five weeks. His mother died about two years ago. He is survived by his aged father, four sisters, Mrs. Patton, Grafton; Mrs. Killen Ennismore; Mrs. Hayes, Otonabee and Mrs. Corkery, Peterborough, and five brothers —John and Charles at home; Jas. at Young's Point; M. J. and Frank in Toronto. The funeral was held on Tuesday last to St. Michael's Cemetery.—Cobourg Sentenel—Star.

MRS. NATHAN TAYLOR.

Mrs. Nathan Taylor, a well known resident of Bridgenorth, passed away this morning at 8 o'clock, after an illness of about eight days with pneumonia. The deceased had been in Peterborough attending her sister, Mrs. Powell, and had just returned to her home when she was herself taken ill. Her maiden name was Miss Many Helen Bond, and she lived the greater part of her life in Cobourg. About six years ago she was married to Mr. Taylor and went to live in Bridgenorth.

Her husband and two brothers and one sister survive. They are, George and John Bond, of Cobourg, and Mrs. Geo. Powell, city.

The funeral will take place to-morrow to the G.T.R. station, city, from which the remains will be sent to Cobourg, where a second service will be held on Wednesday.

J. Lundy Assaults Mr. M. C. Tooley

After Being Refused Liquor and Ejected From Queen's Hotel.

Mr. M. C. Tooley, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, objected to selling liquor to Jos. Lundy after hours on Saturday night and as a result was hit with a large stone on the head and badly cut, by Lundy, who was enraged at Mr. Tooley both refusing to supply him with a flask of liquor and at ejecting him from the hotel. Lundy was somewhat under the influence of liquor at the time and was placed under arrest. The stone was one of considerable size and Mr. Tooley was very fortunate in not being killed outright.

At the police court this morning, Lundy was first charged with having on the 17th of March, endeavoured to obtain liquor during prohibited hours. He pleaded not guilty, and said that if he did ask for any whisky he didn't remember asking for it. On the second count he was charged with having assaulted, and done bodily harm to Mr. M. C. Tooley.

Mr. Tooley in giving evidence, said that the prisoner had come into his hotel on Saturday night between 9.30 and 10 o'clock. Should judge he was under the influence of liquor. He didn't get the whisky for which he asked. He then became abusive. Witness put him out and had to use considerable force to do so. Prisoner came back and hit the witness on the head with a big stone, which was displayed in court. (Witness had his head bound up in the court room.) A nasty gash was inflicted and it was necessary for Mr. Tooley to secure the services of a physician. "Pretty good shot for a drunken man," remarked the Court. Prisoner had not been drinking at Mr. Tooley's hotel on Saturday night.

Lundy pleaded guilty to the second charge.

In summing up His Worship told Lundy that his appetite for liquor had led him into committing a bad crime. It was fortunate, he remarked, that the victim of the assault was not killed. He remarked that while the prisoner didn't know what he was doing, being under the influence of drink, it was no excuse for his conduct. He had wounded Tooley, because the latter would not supply him with liquor. On the charge of asking for liquor during prohibited hours Lundy was fined ten dollars and costs, to be paid in ten days, and in default of payment twenty days in gaol. On the charge of assault he was given three months in the county gaol.

ADDITIONAL LIGHT ON WEDNESDAY NIGTH'S METEOR

Douro Resident Tells Something About It—Lakefield Man Picked Up Fragments of Aerolite in Lumber Yards.

Additional light of a more specific nature than previously has been thrown on the meteor question by a Lakefield man, Mr. Robt. Maniece. Mr. Maniece, who is a scaler in the Dickson Company's lumber year, saw the shooting star which the Ennismore man and others also witnessed on Wednesday night, but he disagrees in the locality.

He states that on Wednesday night about 8 o'clock he noticed a bright object traversing the sky and falling to the earth, apparently alighting in the lumber yards of the Dickson Company. He said that for a few seconds the peculiar phenomenon in its accelerated movement towards the earth, rivalled even the moon in brightness. After taking a careful observation of the spot where he considered the incandescent body had fallen, Mr. Maniece concluded to search for the remains next morning, if there happened to be any. In his investigations next day he discovered a fractured solid, composed of a number of grey spherical bodies of a gritty substance with a few yellow spots interspersed through it.

The solid which appeared to have been coated with a black crust like varnish and also to contain a large quantity of iron, was, Mr. Maniece considered, about the size of a football, and many of the residents of Lakefield have made themselves the possessors of a portion of the mysterious aerolite.

Such aerolitic bodies although rather common in the museums, are scarce phenomenona in this section and the people of the village to the north are much interested over the find.

If Maniece's account is true and there seems no doubt that it is, the Ennismore man, and the man who was going to church in Ashburnham Wednesday night, must have been badly entangled in the points of the compass as both claim the meteor fell to the south.

SENATOR COX MAKES AN OFFER TO LIQUIDATORS

On Friday next a meeting of the creditors of the Peterborough Sugar Company will be held at the Court House, when the proposition submitted to the liquidator, Ald. Adams, by Senator Cox, for the purchase of the property will be considered.

It will be remembered that The Examiner of Saturday stated that Senator Cox was interested in a proposal to secure land for the carpet factory. On Friday he was approached and asked to use his efforts to secure this industry for this city, and agreed. He at once made an offer for the property to the liquidator and this offer will be considered by the creditors at a meeting, which will be held before Judge Weller.

Mr. Cox's offer is made solely with a view of securing the property to enable the carpet factory to locate here, and for the sake of the city's interests it is to be hoped that the offer will be accepted by the creditors.

MR. THOS. J. WILSON IS NOW AN ALDERMAN

Mr. Thomas J. Wilson, who received the highest number of votes in the last municipal election of those who were not elected takes the place in the city council made vaant by the death of Alderman Kelly.

The law providing for this method of filling a vacancy was passed in 1901, and only applies to cities.

MASTER AND MAN.

The second visit to Peterborough during the present theatrical season of the celebrated Summers Stock Repertoire Company, promises to eclipse the former in the character of productions.

To-night "Master and Man" will be played and by all appearances to a crowded house. The reputation of Geo. H. Summers and Belle Stevenson are so universal in Ontario that there is no doubt of a good reception at the Grand to-night and during the rest of the week.

"Master and Man" is a production replete with sensational features and thrilling realism and has always been a favourite wherever produced. The prices for "Master and Man" are 30c, 20c, and gallery 10c.

Record Breaking One Day Wood Cut

Sixty cords in one day, is the record-breaking cut of wood. The above number of cords were cut last Wednesday by Mr. Jno. Edwards' circular saw for Mr. Alex. Turner, Keene Road, Otonabee. This record so far as is known stands first in the list and machines that can do this must be "goers" as well as the men that operate them.

The Russian Elections Are To Ae a Farce

Free Expression of Opinion Prevented By the Police.

FORBADE POPULAR MEETING

Those Called by the Priests and Other Reactionaries Were, However, Not Interfered With—Peasants Afraid to Vote—Hundreds of Representatives of Liberal Parties Were Arrested—Hostility Intense.

St. Petersburg, March 19.—Charges of interference on the part of the local police officials to prevent a free expression of will by the peasants in the preliminary elections in the county conventions are increasing. The Nasha Shisn says it has investigated the rural elections in St. Petersburg Province, and alleges that the authorities everywhere forbade popular meetings, called by Liberals, but did not interfere with meetings called by priests and other reactionaries. In many places the peasants were afraid to vote on account of the police at the polls.

Hundreds of representatives of Liberal parties were arrested, and, in many cases, there were military demonstrations. The Government agents openly threatened the peasants with repressions if certain persons were elected. The peasants from three districts have sent telegrams of protest to Emperor Nicholas. One of the peasant districts drew up instructions to its delegates to vote for the expropriation of crown and state lands and a portion of the private lands.

The Nasha Shisn charges that the conservative results of the elections were due solely to repression. While the returns generally show a large proportion of priest and village elders elected, in some of the provinces, especially in the west, the peasants displayed great independence at their meetings and talked only of a division of lands. Their hostility toward the noblemen and big landlords was intense, and they defeated all the priests and village officials.

Two Killed; Eight Wounded.

St. Petersburg, March 19.—The Government is using the most repressive measures to stop the agitation for a strike of railroad men and telegraphers. A meeting of the former at Rostoff-on-Don was Saturday surrounded and invaded by Cossacks, who fired into the assemblage, killing two persons and wounding eight.

At Moscow troops are now guarding all the railroad stations and several factories, including the Abrikosoff works, where the workmen are active.

The workmen in the St. Petersburg factories and mills Saturday elected delegates to the assembly, which will choose representatives to the municipal congress.

Wants Nogi to Testify.

St. Petersburg, March 19.—The evidence taken in the course of the investigation into the surrender of Port Arthur by Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, which will probably drag on for six weeks longer, will probably damage the reputation of Stoessel, who is now demanding that Gen. Nogi and other Japanese commanders be summoned as witnesses to testify to the heroic character of the defence.

Russ Captain Sentenced.

Moscow, March 19.—Capt. Shattansk, who refused to order his company to fire on the people during the riots here last autumn, has been sentenced by a court-martial to be dismissed from the service, and to be confined for 18 months in a fortress.

Rushing Into Trouble.

Tokio, March 19.—Some Russian revolutionaries who are here are asking for permission to publish a daily newspaper at Nagasaki.

Keep Up Agitation.

Helsingfors, March 19.—The Socialists are keeping up their threats of a general strike unless the Diet pronounces in favor of a single chamber Parliament and universal suffrage.

Most, Anarchist, Is Dead.

Cincinnati, March 19.—Johann Most, the anarchist, died in this city at noon Saturday, of erysipelas. Johann Most was a virulent type of the blatant anarchist. He devoted his entire life to an effort to incite others to deeds of violence which he never attempted to perform himself. When driven out of Europe he came to the United States in 1880 and in this country made speeches, edited an anarchist newspaper, and conducted a saloon and dance hall in New York. Johann Most was a Bavarian, born in 1846.

Oil Lamp Smothers Engineer.

New York, March 19.—Alexander Stewart, chief engineer of the steamship Maconomo, was smothered to death by the fumes of a big oil lamp in his cabin on the vessel last night. A big coach dog asleep in the cabin also died from the effects of the fumes. The lamp was designed to supply heat as well as light and was turned up too high.

SURPRISE SOAP

A PURE HARD SOAP

SURPRISE

Mitchell Sends His Answer To The Operators

Soft to the Operators But Will it Turn Away Wrath?

ASKS FURTHER CONFERENCE

Interests Involved Are So Great That United Mine Workers Are Unwilling to Take Responsibility Without Further Attempt to Bring Peace and Working Agreement Between Opposing Coal Forces.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 19.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, has mailed to George F. Baer, chairman of the anthracite coal operators committee his reply to the committee's communications rejecting the demands of the miners' organization, saying:

"Judging from the language employed in your answer to us it is perfectly evident that we failed to make clear or that you failed to understand the real import of the propositions submitted by us.

"The interests involved are so vast that we are not willing to break off negotiations without making further efforts to reconcile our differences.

"We, therefore, propose that further conference or conferences be held between now and the first of April."

It can be stated as authoritative that the officials of the United Mine Workers of America have decided to allow the Ryan resolution to be eliminated from consideration, and will act upon the assumption that the adoption of the report of the scale committee virtually has repealed the resolution, which prevented one district from signing an agreement with the operators until all districts had come to an agreement. The report of the scale committee was: "Resolved, that we heartily endorse the policy and action of President Mitchell in this matter, and do now hold ourselves in readiness to meet our employers for the purpose of endeavoring to effect a satisfactory settlement of the wage question."

Put Ryan Quietly Aside.

All resolutions offered to the miners' convention Saturday, which endeavored to effect action upon the scale or the Ryan resolution, were quietly sent to the resolution committee without comment. The position of the miners' leaders with reference to the Ryan resolution will enable the operators and miners to deal by districts, if there is a failure to make an agreement for the entire bituminous field. F. L. Robbins and other operators, who favor signing by districts even if an advance in wages is given, are greatly pleased over the position taken by the leaders of the mine workers.

JOHN REDMOND OPTIMISTIC.

Believes Ireland Will Now Receive Her Dues.

London, March 19.—John Redmond, addressing a St. Patrick's Day demonstration at Manchester yesterday, made the most hopeful speech yet heard from an Irish leader. He said he believed that Ireland had turned the corner, that the record of the last elections would never be reversed, and that England, in the future, would give to Ireland all that she could reasonably expect or demand.

The Government would be given time to fulfill the pledges contained in the King's speech with confidence, and the Nationalists would not contemplate the possibility of a rising, in which they would be forced to return their weapons upon the Government, as they had turned them upon previous Governments.

Loses Hands and Feet.

Brockville, March 19.—The first of a series of surgical operations on Adam Emmons, an elderly man sent from Leeds County to the Brockville General Hospital with both hands and feet frozen, was successfully performed and consisted of the amputation of one foot. The other limbs will also have to come off, owing to Emmons' exposure to the elements while drunk.

Thirty Cents on Dollar.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 19.—It was stated Saturday that the receiver of the defunct Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny will pay a dividend to the depositors early in April, and that ultimately they may receive 30 cents on the dollar. The state deposit in the bank at the time of the failure, $1,030,000, has been made good.

Unpleasant Lives For The New Cabinet

French Ministry Between Rival Thought Waves.

WHAT WILL OUTCOME BE

If It Pursues a Policy of Give and Take With Germany to Any Further Extent It Will Make the Ministry Unpopular to the Last Degree in France—There Still Is Hope—Deadlock at Algeciras.

Paris, March 19.—There was a special meeting of the Cabinet Ministers yesterday in connection with the Algeciras conference at which the situation was fully gone over, Foreign Minister Bourgeois explaining the exact standpoints of France and Germany.

Although no statement has been given out relative to France's future line of action, an announcement of M. Bourgeois that the Ministry will not participate in the debate on the Foreign Affairs budget Tuesday is regarded as a somewhat unhopeful sign. This decision coming after a conference Saturday evening between the Foreign Minister and Prince Von Radolin, the German Ambassador to France, is considered to show that the Moroccan knot has not yet been untied, and that the end of the conference is not in sight, but hopes still are undiminished that the delegates will find a solution of the difficulty.

The position of M. Bourgeois is rendered more difficult owing to the uncompromising attitude of the principal journals, which oppose concessions.

The Temps, takes the lead in this respect, saying that France has reached her utmost limit relative to both the police and bank questions, and this view has the support of an influential body of opinion.

Therefore, M. Bourgeois hesitates to show signs of willingness to compromise the matter by a give and take method, as he knows any further yielding to the German claims will render the Ministry unpopular to the last degree.

Inclined Toward Optimism.

Algeciras, March 19.—The general disposition of the delegates to the conference on Moroccan reforms continues inclined toward optimism, but no further apparent move has been made in the direction of a solution in the points at issue between France and Germany.

The French and German delegates do not discuss the situation together. Each side is vainly awaiting the sign of concession from the other and maintaining its respective standpoint. The neutral delegates do not believe the deadlock will last much longer.

FEZ TO BE ATTACKED.

Force of Pretender Have Skirmish With Moroccan Troops.

Oran, Algeria, March 19.—The forces of the pretender to the throne of Morocco have had another skirmish with the Moroccan troops, the former losing two men killed and seven wounded. It is reported that the pretender is preparing to make an attack upon Fez, the capital.

German Steamer Wrecked.

Vigo, Spain, March 19.—The German steamship Cape Roca, from Buenos Ayres, Feb. 25, for Hamburg, was wrecked on entering the harbor here Saturday night. In endeavoring to avoid an outgoing boat the steamer ran into the sea wall. The crew was saved.

Car Men Get Higher Wages.

Pittsburg, March 19.—An advance in wages of 1 per cent. per hour has been granted the employes of the Pittsburg Railways Co., operating all the traction lines in this city and Allegheny. The advance means an increase of almost 8 per cent.

THREE TRYING TIMES IN A WOMAN'S LIFE

There are three periods of a woman's life when she is in need of the heart strengthening, nerve toning, blood enriching action of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

The first of these is when the young girl is entering the portals of womanhood. At this time she is very often pale, weak and nervous, and unless her health is built up and her system strengthened she may fall a prey to consumption or be a weak woman for life.

The second period is motherhood. The drain on the system is great and the exhausted nerve force and depleted blood require replenishing. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills supply the elements needed to do this.

The third period is "change of life" and this is the period when she is most liable to heart and nerve troubles.

A tremendous change is taking place in the system, and it is at this time many chronic diseases manifest themselves. Fortify the heart and nerve system by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and thus tide over this dangerous period. Mrs. James King, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled very much with heart trouble—the cause being to a great extent due to "change of life." I have been taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for some time, and mean to continue doing so, for I can truthfully say they are the best remedy I have ever used for building up the system. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other sufferers."

Price 50 cents per box, three boxes for $1.25, all dealers, or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

$50.00 PROFIT

ONLY $25.00 INVESTED

Do you want to make $50 profit by investing only $25 in a lot in beautiful Summit Park, Port Arthur, the great lake port town of N. W. Ontario.

Port Arthur is the County Seat of all Thunder Bay District, and is the lake terminal town of the three great transcontinental railroads, which empty their immense quantities of Western freight on ships bound for the East and Europe.

Port Arthur is the only real municipal ownership town in America, and made last year over $28,000 net profit out of its Street Railway, Electric Light and Power, and Telephone Franchises.

Port Arthur has the largest grain elevator in the world.

Port Arthur doubled its population in the last 2 years and we believe it will double again in the next 3 years.

Port Arthur is the gateway between the East and the extensive West, and can have no competitor.

Summit Park is a high, level plateau, furnishing a beautiful view of Thunder Bay, and lots purchased in this park at present prices will bring big profits before many months.

The Marlboros' Easy For Local Champions

Peterborough Hockey Team Defeated the Last Year's Senior Champions Easily by 6-3—A Great Game in the Mutual Street Rink on Saturday Night—Local Team Had Little Trouble in Getting Away With Once Invincible Dukes.

The Peterborough hockey team achieved fresh honours on Saturday night when they trimmed the undefeatable Marlboro team of 1905 in the Mutual street rink, Toronto, quite handily by a score of 6—3. It was a terrible body blow to the doughty Dukes after having gathered together the team which won the Senior O.H.A. championship of 1905, with the exception of one man, and his place was filled by a better player, to have them trimmed by a bunch of intermediates like the Peterborough team. But the fact remains that the trick was done, and the Marlboros are no longer looked upon as the fastest team in the O.H.A. as they were in 1905, when they defeated Smith's Falls here for the Senior championship.

There is little doubt that they expected to make the Peterborough team look like two and sixpence. They gathered all the old invincibles together for one last effort to demonstrate that the Marlboros were strictly it. Harold Armstrong was brought up from Smith's Falls, Rolly Young was hunted out from the corridors of McMaster University, and Gee, the man who in the All Stars game on Saturday, a week ago, was looked upon as the best man on the ice, and whom all the Toronto teams are already after for 1907, was brought down from Barrie. It was thought that with this line-up the Peterborough team would have no chance. But they fooled themselves. The score after an hour of the fastest hockey seen in Toronto this season, was 6—3, and at half time 5—1 both in Peterborough's favour. The local team gave the Toronto public a great exhibition of hockey, and the opinion was freely expressed that the Peterborough team could easily defeat Berlin, the Senior champions.

The game was seen by as large a crowd as that of a week ago, when the All Stars played, and that was given as the largest crowd of the season.

The Peterborough team set the pace from the start, and the lead which they gained was never lost. The checking was very close, and as was to be expected under such conditions, some penalties were handed out, but the game was not rough by any means. There was the best of feeling between the two teams, and what few bumps were given were purely accidental, and there was no deliberate attempt at rough work. The combination of the Peterborough team, coupled with the grand defence work, won the game. The Marlboro forwards were fast, and on different occasions got away from their checks but they were up against it when they ran into the defence. On the other hand the Peterborough forwards depended largely on their combination, and this proved to be the best course to pursue. Had it not been for the great work of Tyner in goal the score would have been much larger. He stopped scores of shots which were almost impossible. The Peterborough forwards certainly had their shooting eye open Saturday night, and they kept Tyner pretty busy. In the first half Armstrong played point, and Gee was at cover, and in the second half they reversed their positions, with good effect, the change working to advantage. Armstrong was able to get in some of his rushes. Gee, the only man on the team who was not a member of the Dukes, was superior to Charlton, whom he replaced. But he was not good enough. Of the work of the individual members of the team little need be said. It is sufficient to record the fact that every man played a good game—good enough to win from the Marlboros without much trouble. After the teams had been playing ten minutes no one who saw the game had any doubt of the result. It was a foregone conclusion that the visitors would win. They were the better team, and deserved to win.

The Toronto Globe, the only one of the Toronto morning papers which gives anything like a fair report of the game says in part:

Peterborough, winners of the Intermediate championship, did not win the honours in their section without some trouble, but they had a comparatively easy time of it on Saturday night at the Mutual street rink, when they beat the Marlboros, twice winners of the O.H.A. senior championship by 6 to 3. The Marlboros had practically their championship line up on the ice, the only absentee being Charlton, whose place was taken by Gee of Barrie, considered to be even a better man than the redoubtable Pete. Harold Armstrong, this season with Smiths Falls, played at point; Rolly Young was at rover; and Ridpath was at left wing. The team on paper looked strong enough to win from the Intermediate champions, who on the form displayed on Saturday, apparently travelled under false pretences all season. They have no right to be mixing with Intermediates. Where they belong is in senior company, and had they been in their proper section this year, the "Dutch Companie," would in all probability not have had an opportunity to celebrate their defeat of the Argos by sending out childish post cards. Peterborough played all 'round their opponents, and at no stage of the game was their any doubt as to the outcome. The visitors jumped into the game with very little diffidence, showing a decided inclination towards the strenuous kind of hockey. Gee and Armstrong played disappointingly. The former was thrown into the boards early in the contest, and was of little use afterwards. Armstrong was not in shape apparently, and except for an occasional rush failed to shine. Tyner, in goal, was the real star of the team. His work was superb. Birmingham and Ridpath did well at times but failed to play up to their old form on the whole. Young's rushes were a feature. Winchester ably assisted him. The Marlboros had little combination and it was only seldom that the forwards got together. The Peterborough team played a hard fast aggressive game, checking hard and following up fast. They let up a little in the second half and but for that would have won further off. Whitcroft was the best man on the ice. His rushes were almost irresistible, and nearly all the effective rushes were started by him. All three forwards showed fine form. The defence was strong, Crowley at cover having both the speed and the weight.

There were a couple of casualties, Graham and Tyner being compelled to retire in the second half.

Teams and officials:

Referee — F. C. Waghorne; timekeepers, W. Breen and T. Welsh; penalty, R. Pringle; umpires, Jos. O'Grady and J. Smith.

Not For The Championship

Happy Thoughts Say the Pill Pounders Game Was an Exhibition.

The Examiner has been handed the following for publication:—

Saturday's paper stated that the game between the Happy Thoughts and Pill Pounders was playing for the championship of the Mercantile League. The game was played with the understanding that it be an exhibition game on account of the Pill Pounders having Grose and Miller on the line-up and that another game be arranged for with a strictly Pill Pounder team and not an all star aggregation.

Lakefield Won From Trinity

Lakefield Preparatory School defeated Trinity College Juniors on St. Patrick's Day in a fast game of hockey by the score of 6-4. The half-time score was two all. This is an annual game between the two schools and is always looked forward to with much interest. C. Bloomfield, brother of Reggie made a very satisfactory referee.

The "Ontario" Goes Astray

The Belleville Ontario says that Harry Brown was the star of the Smith Falls team in the Ottawa games. But the Belleville paper is away off colour. Armstrong was easily the best individual player of either the Falls team or the cup holders and the Ottawa press gave him more space in praising his wonderful work than Brown has got all season. Brown is certainly a pretty fair defence man, but is about four grades lower than Armstrong both in the matter of speed and effectiveness.

The TERRIBLE PANGS OF DYSPEPSIA CAN BE CURED

To be dyspeptic is to be miserable, hopeless, confused and depressed in mind, forgetful, irresolute, drowsy, languid and useless.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, faintness, and fullness and distention of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weary dyspeptic.

Dyspepsia is a disease that in one way or another resembles nearly every other disease, and the only way to get rid of it is to tone up the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. This will be quickly done by the use of

It regulates the stomach, stimulates the secretion of the saliva and gastric juice to facilitate digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood, and tones up the entire system.

Mrs. M. A. McNeil, Brook Village, N.S., writes: "Last winter I was very thin and was fast loosing flesh owing to the run down state of my system. I suffered from dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get but to no purpose. I finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and from the first day I felt the good effects of the medicine and am strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

Special Services At The Tabernacle Were Profitable

Earnest and Impressive Meetings Conducted Yesterday by Evangelist Stephens—Many Professed Conversion During the Day and the Exercises Were of Great Help and Benefit to the Large Congregations Present.

CONVERTED GAMBLER ADDRESSED MEETING

The special revival services at the Bethany Tabernacle continue to grow in interest, and the attendance at the meetings is increasing daily.

Yesterday three profitable meetings, conducted by Evangelist Stephens, were held, and large congregations were present at all three. During the day many came forward, and professed conversion. The evangelist was assisted yesterday by a younger brother, a former gambler, who had been converted at the Torrey-Alexander meetings in Toronto, in January last.

At the morning service Evangelist Stephens delivered a very spirited and impressive address, taking as the foundation for his remarks Phil. iii, 3.

The speaker emphasized the need of worshipping in the spirit. Everybody worshipped in the spirit of something, but many worshipped in the spirit of the Devil, instead of in the Holy Ghost. That was why so many people went to church, listened indifferently, and received no benefit; they did not worship in the right way. In Chicago there was a church known as the Church of Man, where man alone was worshipped. It was not, however, necessary to go to Chicago, to find such a church; there were many of them in other places. The Holy Ghost was looking for people who would worship in the Spirit. Denominationalism, said the speaker, was all right, in its right place. People who felt that they could not worship in a church because it was not their own, were going far below God's purpose. He believed that it was possible to go to any church, and worship God. There was lots of human worship. What God wanted was Divine worship. He would rather be called a fool for Christ, and a wise man for the Devil. In some churches many people were connected with the choir and other places, who did not love God, and yet they wondered why the work was not blessed.

If people worshipped in the Spirit they would rejoice in Jesus Christ; that followed as a natural consequence.

In closing the speaker said that their were many people who had not the spiritual conception of what the cross meant. They spoke of it as if it were a real cross. The evangelist explained the cross by pointing out that the tendency of man was downward, and the way of God was upward. Hence the cross meant self-denial—turning from the downward way of man and going upward with God.

The converted gambler also addressed the meeting for a few minutes at the morning service, and his remarks had a most impressive effect on his hearers. He spoke with a simple earnestness that told of a conviction that he was leading a righteous life, and that all was right with his soul. He told of the call that had come to him, and how he had given up his former evil life to do what he could for God. The benefits he had received were also referred to. Since his conversion on January 21st last he had not had a pain or ache in his body, and he had been able to turn out better work in his business than ever before. He had had frequent opportunities in his business of saying a word for God, and felt that they had not been wanted.

At the conclusion of this service several people professed acceptance of Christ as their Saviour.

In the afternoon there was a children's service which was well attended, and proved to be of a most interesting and profitable character.

In the evening the seating accommodation was insufficient for the many who desired to attend. The evangelist and his brother conducted the service, the latter telling a pathetic story of his wayward life, the disruption of the home circle, and of the beginning of a new life at the Torrey-Alexander meetings in Massey Hall. His address was very touching. At the close of the service several scores of penitents sought forgiveness.

The Messrs. Stephens have returned to Toronto, but the evangelistic meetings will be continued nightly this week.

A report of the afternoon and evening services was supplied the Examiner as follows:—

Bethany Tabernacle was thronged last evening with eager listeners anxious to hear the remarkable experience of the converted gambler. The subject happens to be a Mr. Frank Stephens, brother of the evangelist. Though blest with a godly mother, now in Heaven, Mr. Stephens proudly rejected Christ thinking that his own morality would ultimately save him. But as time wore on he became a tobacconist, swearer and gambler. As a gambler he was at first very successful, affording him sufficient means to secure a fine residence and enjoy all the comforts and even luxuries of life. But a year or so ago, his brother, and others realising his condition, began praying for him; and from that time he declares he did not win a bet. "No matter how much I put up, whether ten dollars or a thousand, I always lost it." Everything soon went. He lost his reputation, his home, his health, in a large measure, and become separated from his wife, and spent his days dragging out a lonely wretched existence, so miserable at times that he wished he might get sick and die, and at one time actually determined to end life by suicide. During this period he spent much of his time at the theatre, but this also lost its charm. Then the Torrey-Alexander meetings commenced in Massey Hall. Being passionately fond of music, he attended the meetings to hear Mr. Alexander and others sing. Night after night the spirit worked, and his wretchedness became more and more intense, often times giving vent to copious tears. Finally becoming so wretched that he could hardly live, he wrote a letter to Mr. Torrey describing his condition and requesting prayers. The following evening in his own room he knelt and solemnly promised to surrender all to Christ and serve Him faithfully if God would give him peace. Then the struggle ceased and he slept like a babe. The following evening after a considerable struggle he arose declaring his decision for Christ. It was in response to the singing of the "Pilot Song" "Is He Yours," by Mr. Harkness, every note seemed to penetrate his inmost being and demanded the fullest response. A night or two afterwards he publicly told the story of his conversion before many who had known his former life. He also publicly asked the forgiveness of those whom he had wronged. After this everything turned in his favour. He soon secured a fine position and become reunited to his wife. Before his conversion he never weighed more than 150 pounds and sometimes dropped down to 145. But after his conversion the rest of mind, and peace of heart, caused him to gain 22 pounds more than he had ever weighed before. The reporter also learned the interesting fact that one of his former employers whom he owed $500, called him in and said: "Stephens, we really believe in your conversion and to prove it, I will give you a receipt for the whole amount."

Mr. Stephens tells his story in such a simple, direct, forceful, unassuming manner, as to inspire the utmost confidence. The effect upon the audience may be seen from the fact that some 15 or 18 responded to the call to accept Christ in a similar manner. The services at the Tabernacle are reported as the most impressive and successful held for years. Yesterday's services are said to bear all the marks of a genuine revival. In the afternoon service many were sobbing aloud as the knelt in recognition of Jesus as their Lord. The pastor believes that 35 is a conservative estimate of the number of those who were converted during the day.

The meetings will be continued every night this week. This evening the pastor will give a short talk on "Christ on Trial." He desires as as many as possible, including the new converts, to be present and give a brief testimony for Christ and His saving power. Special singing will be provided for each service. The public generally is invited.

New York Church After Dr. Symonds

Will Rev. Dr. Symonds be the next rector of St. George's church, New York? There is a rumour, apparently well founded, that he has been asked to accept the rectorship of this church, which was formerly held by Rev. Dr. Rainsford.

It is stated that when the Archbishop of Canterbury was in this country last year, he visited Montreal, in company with Mr. J. P. Morgan, and Rev. Dr. Symonds was seen then. Last week Dr. Symonds went to New York, and it is believed by his friends that there is a probability of his accepting, what it is said he has been offered, the rectorship of this, in some respects, the most prominent Anglican church in New York.

The salary attached to the rectorship is fifteen thousand dollars.

Mr. J. P. Morgan is a member of the church, as well as a number of other very wealthy New York men.

Yesterday in City's Churches

ST. JOHN'S.

The services at St. John's church yesterday, were conducted by Rev. Provost Macklem of Trinity College, Toronto, in the absence of the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson. Provost Macklem is a forcible speaker, and one who lucidly presents in an impressive manner the thoughts he wishes to set forth.

For the subject of the evening discourse he chose the following words from the first verse of the 25th chapter of Genesis, "And God said unto Jacob, 'Arise, go up to Bethel, and dwell there.'" In considering the well known Biblical character, Jacob, whose conversion is so often held up as an example, he depicted clearly those things which raised him from a low and base character to the Israel, with the lofty moral and religious majesty. First of all, God revealed Jacob to himself; He showed him his vices and his baseness. God stripped him of all human props on which he might have leaned, and he was left without friends and home. Lastly, God revealed Himself to Jacob, showing him the divine love that wrought so much for the morality of the world. The lives of men in this age are marked with just such extremes as Jacob's, and the precious moments of a life are when the Spirit of God is wrestling with the soul of that life, as the angel wrestled with Jacob. In reference to these moments in our lives the speaker impressed the necessity of cherishing them, and recognizing clearly that they they are God's revelation of the higher life, and glimpses of the promises He has given.

Rev. Mr. Macklem's address was a most profitable one and could not fail to produce a clearer conception among his hearers of the necessities which tend to improve the moral natures of men.

MURRAY STREET.

To-night in Murray street Baptist church the Young People's Society will hold its regular weekly meeting, when a social evening will be given. The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday night. On Thursday at 8 o'clock the deacons will meet.

ST. PAUL'S.

Presbyterian and Guild meeting to-night.

Rev. Arthur Bright, a graduate of McGill University, preached in St. Paul's church yesterday morning and in Knox church at night. He is a fluent, earnest speaker, possesses a quiet but thoughtful style and created a decidedly favourable impression. He uses no notes and his discourses are well thought out. In the morning he spoke from Jeremiah, 18th chap., and 6th verse: "O, House of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter?" saith the Lord. "Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in Mine hand, O House of Israel."

The special preacher at the Lenten Service on Wednesday at 8 o'clock will be the Rev. Wm. Major, Rector of All Saints' church. After the service, choir practice will be held. All members are requested to be present to practice the Easter music.

The W. A. meets on Thursday at 2.30.

At the Friday evening Lenten service the Rector will give an illustrated lecture on "English Cathedrals."

PARK STREET.

The third of the March sermony was given last night by the Rev. A. H. Brace on "Is There a Hell, and Is it Everlasting Fire?" It drew an immense crowd. The last of the series for next Sunday is "Heaven; Do We Enter at Death, and Shall We Recognize Friends Long Dead?"

The young people's session to-night at 8.

A public service will be held on Wednesday night, at which the pastor will preside.—Com.

Didn't Mean it That Way.

THERE WOULD APPEAR to be very doubtful comfort in the subjoined candid statement that appears in the "Agony" column of a London daily.

"Notice. If B——, who is supposed to be in C——, will communicate with his friends at home he will hear of something to his advantage. His wife is dead."

CASUALTIES IN TRAIN WRECK.

Twenty-Two Dead and Twenty-Two Injured Is Latest Estimate.

Pueblo, Colo., March 19.—Twenty-two dead and 22 injured make up the latest estimate of the casualties in the wreck of the two Denver & Rio Grande passenger trains at Adobe, Colo., Friday morning.

Only seven of the dead bodies have been positively identified on account of the mutilation of the victims by fire.

Two telegraph operators are held responsible for the disaster. Both have been discharged from the service of the road. A coroner will begin an investigation of the accident on Monday.

Trains Bewildered Him.

Philadelphia, March 19.—Becoming confused by the shrill blasts of a locomotive whistle, Brother Peter (John O'Leary) of the Order of Christian Brothers, an instructor of the Catholic protectory for boys, near Norristown, Pa., was killed by a freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad Saturday.

Killed in Collision.

Shreveport, La., March 19.—In a head-on collision between two freight trains of the Louisiana & Kansas Railroad at Long Springs, La., Saturday, one trainman was killed and four others injured, two fatally.

Killed at Crossing.

Middletown, N. Y., March 19.—Regina Tascano, 13 years of age, was instantly killed, and B. ry Gliden, 45, probably was fatally injured at a grade crossing on the Erie Railroad at Port Jervis yesterday. They were driving across the tracks.

Boy Killed on Track.

Little Falls, N. Y., March 19.—Raymond Bradford, 11 years of age, while playing on a railroad track here Saturday, was run over by a train and killed.

A STALLION'S FRENZY.

Well-Known Horseman Nearly Killed by Star Hal.

Wellsville, N. Y., March 19.—Myron D. Walsh, a well known horseman and business man, was nearly killed Saturday afternoon by the famous stallion Star Hal, which was recently bought at the Madison Square sale by Wellsville sportsmen.

Star Hal attacked a visitor at the stables. When Walsh attempted to drive off the horse it turned upon him. He was terribly injured by the animal's teeth and hoofs before a hostler dragged him from the stall.

His right arm was lacerated and broken in two places; his right leg broken in two places and he was internally injured.

THE FORMOSAN QUAKE.

Official Despatch of Kagi Earthquake Cuts Deaths Down to 60.

London, March 19.—The Daily Telegraph's Tokio correspondent telegraphing concerning the earthquake on Saturday morning in the vicinity of Kagi, Island of Formosa, says that the railway lines were twisted, telegraph poles thrown down and houses destroyed.

The correspondent says that The Nichi Shimbun states that the casualties exceed one hundred, and that The Jiji Shimpo places them as high as eight hundred.

An official despatch he adds, reports 60 deaths and many more persons injured and 800 houses destroyed.

Kagi is on the railroad line, about 80 miles north of Tainan. On some maps the town is given as Kiayi.

BEYOND GRAVE HELPS CAUSE.

Susan B. Anthony Bequeaths Estate to Woman's Suffrage.

Rochester, N. Y., March 19.—The will of Miss Susan B. Anthony was offered for probate Saturday afternoon. The estate amounts to about $10,000, all of which is left to the woman's suffrage cause.

Rev. Dr. Anna Shaw of Philadelphia and Lucy E. Anthony of Philadelphia and Mary S. Anthony of this city are the trustees.

Big Steamer Burned.

Lachine, Que., March 19.—The Ottawa River Navigation Co.'s steamer Sovereign was burned to the ice edge late Saturday night, while lying in winter quarters, in the Lachine Canal, opposite St. Anne's Convent. The fire was discovered at 11 o'clock, in the sleeping quarters of the men by B. Roy. He aroused the others sleeping on board. The steamer, which was completely burned, was valued at $50,000, with insurance of $40,000.

Isolation Hospital Matters Advanced

A Committee Appointed to Interview Heads of Local Hospitals—Will They Accept Responsibility of Attending to Patients?—Inspector Will Also be Asked for Plans of a Cheap Hospital.

Isolation Hospital matters were advanced a stage last night when the joint committee of the Board of Health and the Finance Committee of the City Council met to discuss matters in connection with the hospital. The members of the deputation which waited on Inspector Smith in Toronto last week reported verbally to the effect that the Government had decided that the Peterborough hospitals were to be allowed to accept no more contagious disease cases and draw the Government grant. This was accepted as an intimation that the city would have to take steps at once to provide a hospital in which to treat these diseases.

Practically the only business done last night was the appointment of a committee to interview the authorities of the two hospitals to see if arrangements could be made for either or both of these to undertake the care of the patients who might be confined to the contagious disease hospital. This committee will report to the Board of Health, when that body will deal with the matter, and likely send a formal recommendation to the Council.

Those present at the meeting last night were Mr. W. Eyres, chairman of Board of Health; Dr. Burnham, Dr. McNulty, Ald. Adams, Elliott, Ball and Hicks.

Ald. Adams, reporting the visit of the deputation which waited on the Inspector, Dr. Smith, said that he had informed them that the city had been breaking the law for some time, and that the department could not wink at it any longer. He stated that the city would be obliged to erect a hospital at once to treat contagious diseases, and that the present hospitals would not be allowed to continue to treat these patients and draw their grants. Ald. Adams said that Dr. Smith was of the opinion that the contagious disease hospital need not cost much, as a cheap building could be erected.

Ald. Ball referred to the opinion offered by Dr. McNulty that the better way to treat contagious diseases was by home treatment, and stated that this was advocated by the best medical authorities in England.

Mr. Eyres, speaking for the Board of Health, said it was unanimous in its opinion that an Isolation Hospital should be erected, and the Board would troll the burden of responsibility off their shoulders and on to that of the Council.

Ald. Mason was of the opinion that it was decided that a hospital should be erected, and the question, as he understood, was to decide where it should be erected.

The suggestion was made that the recommendation should come from the Board of Health to have the hospital erected, when the Council would refer it to a committee to deal with. This, Mr. Eyres promised to do, including in the recommendation the site of the hospital and character.

Dr. McNulty, who came into the meeting at this stage, said that he was opposed to spending a large sum of money for an Isolation Hospital, but he was of the opinion that some place should be provided. He presumed that the Council would be guided largely by the recommendation of the Board of Health.

Dr. Burnham moved that a committee, composed of the chairman of the Board, Dr. McNulty and Dr. Bingham, be appointed to interview the two hospitals in reference to the operation and maangement of the hospital and to consider the site.

This was carried and a suggestion made that the inspector should be communicated with and asked to submit plans for the building was approved by the meeting, also on motion of Dr. Burnham, seconded by Dr. McNulty.

This was the only business done by the committee.

Surveying Party Will Commence Operations Soon

On the Proposed C. P. R. Grain Route to Victoria Harbor.

A C. P. R. survey party left the city this afternoon under the supervision of Chief D. Hillman, of Ottawa, and will camp near here. It will make a survey of part of the proposed grain route between Peterborough and Victoria Harbour, commencing in this vicinity. The party consists of 18, all told. They will follow along the same line as the party that left the city previously, this winter. The surveying instruments, tools, etc., arrived in the city to-day from Central Ontario.

Among those in the party besides Chief Hillman, are, A. Warren, H. Starr, W. E. Stilwell, J. Clarke, Milton Weese, J. Gordon, C. Whitaker, R. Reynolds, W. Robinson and A. McCharles.

House Of Refuge Site Question Is Re-opened

Report of Inspector Dr. R. Bruce Smith on the Preston Site is Considered—Is Not Favourable to the Twenty-five Acres Across the Road—Councillor Moloney Wants to Change His Vote—Says He Was Misinformed—Believes Preston Site is Not Suitable.

The question of the County House of Refuge was tackled by the County Council again this morning, in the special session called by the Warden to consider the report of Dr. R. Bruce Smith, on the Preston site, already selected by the council.

This report, which the Warden received, and which he handed in for publication some days ago, stated that the seventy-five acres of the farm on the one side of the road were suitable for the House of Refuge, but he would not endorse the selection of the other twenty-five acres. In the main, this was the report, and it was read by the Warden at the sessions this morning.

The council deliberated on the question for some time this morning, but no action was taken, no member making a motion to rescind the former motion selecting the site, and a opinion that such a course was not necessary, because the Inspector's report condemned the site selected.

The matter had not been decided when the council adjourned for lunch.

Present were Warden Johnston, in the chair, County Councillors Andrews, Buck, Carey, Menogue, Shaw, Garbutt Stinson, Moloney and Webster.

The minutes of the last meeting of the council were read and confirmed.

The report of the Inspector on the selection of the site, was read by the Warden, who asked for the opinion of the Council.

Mr. Moloney said that since giving his vote for the Preston farm, he had learned that it was not suitable, and he would have to withdraw that vote. He was of the opinion that the county should purchase a farm in which the soil was good, and thought that other farms might be bought which would serve the purpose better.

Mr. Garbutt asked Mr. Moloney if he did not express his opinion after the vote was taken that the Preston site was the best available, before he was dictated to by other ratepayers?

Mr. Moloney thought that he had not, and that his impression on the day the council visited the farm was not very favourable to it.

Mr. Shaw thought it did not look very well for him to change his mind so quickly.

Mr. Garbutt was inclined to think that Mr. Moloney was willing to stand or fall by the judgment of other men and not to rely on his own judgment.

Mr. Stinson was still strongly of the opinion that the Preston farm was the better farm by far for the purposes of a House of Refuge, and was superior to the Strickland farm.

Mr. Buck thought that it was a great pity that the council found itself in the position it was in to-day. His opinion before the tour of inspection was that the Robb site, situated near Norwood, and the Braden farm at Lakefield were the better. After the trip, however, he had changed his opinion, and since the other counties had selected large sites, he was of the opinion that the Grove property was the better, in which, however, he had no personal interest, but thought that it was in the interests of the county. He did not know much about the Preston property, but his impression was that it was not very good land. He felt that the Council should select the very best property without any other consideration. Mr. Shaw remarked that when it was stated that the Braden property was to be selected, "Douro Ratepayer" attacked it in the same way as he did the Preston site later.

The warden informed the Council that he had received a letter from the clerk of Lakefield enclosing a resolution of the Council endorsing the action of the County Council in selecting the Preston site.

Mr. Moloney rejoined that letters in the papers had said now that this resolution should not have been passed. Mr. Shaw remarked that if the Council paid attention to all that was said in the papers they would never make up their minds. The people had elected them to represent them, and if they were not satisfied with their action they had the remedy in their own hands.

Mr. Carey thought that it was impossible to judge the question of the land in the winter, and had to accept the advice of other men who know the property.

County Clerk Elliott informed the Council that if the matter was reopened the former motion was rescinded, and while the inspector did condemn the 25 acres, by doing this he turned down the factory inspectors, who had reported that the vicinity was sanitary.

As one of the Building Committee, Mr. Andrews said that the Committee had nothing to do with the site, their work being simply to erect the building. He would not feel like building the House of Refuge on the Preston site after the report of the inspector. He was inclined to think that there were better sites than any of those which had been offered.

Mr. Garbutt stated that the inspector's report inferred that 75 acres were all right. Mr. Andrews said that what the Council wanted was 100 acres all right.

The action of the warden in giving the report of the inspector for publication before the meeting at which the report was presented to the Council, came in for some criticism, Mr. Garbutt asking if it was customary for the warden to issue reports before the Council dealt with them. The warden replied that he was not aware that he had done anything indiscreet, but that if so he alone was to blame.

After some further discussion without any decision being reached the Council adjourned for lunch.

Committees Named For The Grand Lodge

To Complete Arrangements to Entertain Oddfellows.

Last night a meeting of the committee appointed by the Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges I. O. O. F. took place to arrange for the Grand Lodge meeting here in August. The principal business transacted last night was the appointment of sub-committee to complete arrangements. Col. J. W. Miller, P.D.D. G. M., was elected chairman, and Mr. M. W. Matchett, P.D.D. G.M., secretary.

The following committees were appointed:

Printing—L. Wallis, R. Glover, G. B. Van Blaricom, J. T. C. Laing, W. J. Green.

Correspondence—M. W. Matchett, W. Hill, W. S. Robinson.

Entertainment—A. A. Fowler, E. P. Mason, G. G. Pratley, S. Clegg, J. Jordan, G. B. Van Blaricom, F. Wills.

Finance—D. H. Moore, R. F. Morrow, S. R. Armstrong, W. H. Hill, J. M. White.

Billeting—W. R. G. Higgins, S. Sharpe, W. Comstock, D. H. Hooper, W. J. McCallum, J. H. Smith, H. W. Morgan.

Reception—D. M. McKercher, G. Maitland, R. J. Matchett, G. H. Duncan, W. J. Johnston, T. C. Elliott, M. Breckenridge, R. M. Roy, A. McFarlane, T. M. McFadden, F. J. Might, John Nugent, G. Payne, J. Kilcumbe, W. H. Roberts, W. Mason, T. B. Clegg, John Mathieson, J. Brownlee, W. H. Dayman, W. Cowle, W. H. White, E. M. Best, Thos. Duncan, R. M. Beach.

The committees will report progress at a joint meeting to be held on Tuesday, April 10, at 8 sharp, in the lodge room. It is understood that all committee meetings will begin promptly on time, and each member is urged to be on hand. The local Oddfellows are making extensive preparations for the coming Grand Lodge meeting, and there is little doubt that the event will be one of the greatest in the history of Oddfellowship in the Province.

C. P. R. Route Is Not Yet Decided Upon

When the city representatives were in Toronto last week Ald. McWilliams and City Solicitor Hall were in Leonard's office to see that gentleman in connection with the route of the new C.P.R. line to the city.

They were anxious that the company should not pass through the centre of the city.

They were informed that this route had not been decided on yet, and that the plan in detail would have to be submitted to the Railway Commission before it could be ratified. The city would be notified when the plan was to be presented and they would have an opportunity of appearing before the commission.

Another Circular On Trent Canal Deputation

The Finance Committee met last night when matters in connection with the big Trent Canal deputation were considered. The chairman, Ald. Mason, will, in a short time issue a new circular in which the final instructions as to rates of fare, time of leaving, etc., will be given. And it was in connection with this matter that the meeting last night was held. Ald. Mason has received from the Board of Trade, the rates which that body has arranged with the railway companies.

Peterborough Orator Heard At Montreal

Mr. D. O'Connell Responded to Toast to Ireland at St. Patrick's Day Banquet on Saturday—The Present Position of Emerald Isle Referred To—Mr. O'Connell Makes a Brilliant Speech.

On Saturday night in Montreal a banquet in honour of St. Patrick, Ireland's Patron Saint, was given. Among those who sat at the table of honour were:—Sir William Hingston, Mr. Justice Doherty, Dr. J. J. Guerin, Ald. W. J. White, K.C., Mr. F. H McGuigan, Lieut.-Col. Gardner, representing St. Andrew's Society; Mr. Robert Roberts, representing St. David's Society; Mr. Thomas Gilday, Protestant Benevolent Society; Sir Alexandre Lacoste, Sir Melbourne Tait, Mr. R. L. Borden, M.P.; Rev. Father Martin Callaghan; Mr. G. V. McInerney, K. C.; St. John, N.B.; Mr. Daniel O'Connell, Peterborough; Rev. Father Burke, Prince Edward Island; Capt. Clift, St. George's Society; Mr. J. J. Beauchamp, St. Jean Baptiste Society; Mr. William McNab, Caledonian Society; Mr. Patrick Wright, Rev. Father Donnelly, Dr. E. J. C. Kennedy, Mr. M. Fitzgibbon, and Rev. Father O'Meara.

To Mr. D. O'Connell, fell the honour of responding to the toast to Ireland, and, speaking of it the Gazette says:

Mr. Daniel O'Connell responded to the toast, remarking that Ireland was a country which had been fruitful in great events. She had a history which began in the dim and misty past, and came down to us in romance and story rather than in records of authentic history. It would seem as if in the wonderful Irish melodies a strain of melancholy and sadness permeated it all. It would seem as if it was a nation whose glory had departed and whose national greatness had gone into the darkness of the night. Authentic records showed that Ireland had a history for upwards of 150 years before the dawn of the Christian era. Before the governments of Europe existed, Ireland was ruled by one continuous and unbroken legitimate dynasty, and down to the dawn of the Christian era the greatness of Ireland had established a certain national status among the countries of the world.

MR. D. O'CONNELL,

Who Responded to Toast to Ireland at Montreal on Saturday.

It seemed to him that the one great characteristic which distinguished the Irish people from all other nations was their devotion and attachment to their faith, as they understood it. It might be in other countries, owing to the stress of circumstances, that the faith of the fathers was forgotten, but in the hearts of the Irish people their faith remained, whether at home or abroad; whether Protestants or Roman Catholics, they remained attached to the faith. And when we saw a spirit of conciliation being manifested between the Celtic and the Saxon races, with a better administration of the law and a better understanding between the two peoples, there was reason to hope that a better day would dawn for Ireland than ever before. The prosperity of Ireland would never be established until she had constitutional government, similar to what was enjoyed in Canada.

He recounted some of the services rendered by Irishmen to the Empire, and said that if the Empire was such as we found it to-day, it was to a great extent due to the valour, prudence and sagacity of the Irish people. That being so, it was due to the Irish, out of gratitude, that some measure of self-government, which had long since been accorded to other parts of the British Empire, should be granted to that country which had done so much for the Empire itself. (Applause.)

In proposing the toast of "Canada," Rev. Farther Donnelly said it had been remarked that the nineteenth century was the century of the United States but that the twentieth century would belong to Canada. When their fore-fathers were obliged to leave the home of their ancestors and go into the broad world to seek an abiding place, they allowed their barque to drift towards Canada; and, for his part, he said: "Thank God, when my father came to Canada." (Applause.)

Get Religious Freedom.

He spoke of the immense resources of the Dominion, but said that to him, a clergyman, there was something in the atmosphere of Canada which appealed to him more than all else. Here was found that spirit of religious freedom for which men had sacrificed their lives, and it was had for the mere asking. Any young man who would leave Canada to-day to seek a home elsewhere was making a great mistake. His only limit would be the limit of his capabilities. To a man of energy and capability Canada offered every chance of preferment.

We found here a land of religious liberty, and in the light of recent events, although God was his witness that they were not unmindful of past favours, they almost blessed the day when the banner of St. George was substituted for the fleur-de-lis on the Gibraltar of America. (Applause.) They forgot none of the favours the sons of good old France had done them in the past, but, nevertheless, he asserted that under the British flag they possessed more religious liberty than would be the case if Canada happened to be a French colony at the present time. (Loud applause.)

Sir Alexander Lacoste responded to the toast, and, in speaking of the unity that exists between the different races in this country, he said the reason of it was found in the fact that we were all Canadians, all members of the same family, and to us had been given the mission to settle this country and raise it to the rank of a nation. (Applause.) It would be treachery, we would be responsible to God if, through narrowness of mind, prejudices or provincialisms, we endangered the future of our country.

It was our duty to go hand in hand, shoulder to shoulder, with one heart, one love, to try, and make Canada as great as possible. The whole world would then know what men of goodwill could do under the help of God, and our sons would remember the work of our forefathers, who made Canada so great. (Loud applause.)

The toast was also acknowledged by Sir Melbourne Tait, who expressed his pleasure at being a guest of St. Patrick's Society on the celebration of its fiftieth anniversary, and offered his hearty congratulations. He then went on to say that when he saw, as he had that night, the deep affection which the members of the society had for the land of their forefathers, and for the memories and traditions attached to it, he was not surprised that the society had prospered during the 50 years that had elapsed since its organization. But however strong the affection of its members for the old land might be, they had been doing their full share towards developing and building up this new country, which claimed, and had, a large part in their affections. (Applause.) It must be to many of those present the land of their birth and the probable home of their children.

He reminded the gathering that October 22 next would be the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the Grand Trunk Railway to Toronto. It then also had a line running on the boundary to Vermont. To-day the country had over 20,000 miles of railway in operation. Our ocean traffic had increased by leaps and bounds, and an enormous tide of immigration was pouring in upon us. And the immigrants should be satisfied with what they found—a country governed under just laws, well administered; a soil in which could be grown all varieties of vegetables, grain, fruit and timber, and we possessed a mineral wealth of which it was impossible at the present time to form any conception. "He who tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread." To the man who was willing to do a good day's work the country offered inducements equal to any other in the world.

Canada a Great Country.

Truly, this was a great country, free as the air we breathed, and there was no position to which a man might not aspire. He trusted that there were many young men present who were determined to take an honourable and important part in the affairs of the Dominion, and that in years to come their names might at like banquets, be mentioned with pride.

He expressed the hope that the good and philanthropic work the society was doing might grow as the years rolled by, and be an inspiration for Irishmen to be sons of Canada, the country they had so heartily toasted. (Loud applause.)

The Montreal Star and the Herald, both publish cuts of Mr. O'Connell, while the latter paper introduces his address in the following terms:

"Mr. Daniel O'Connell of Peterborough, a descendant of the family of the great Liberator, responded to the toast in a speech that did ample justice to the theme. Very humorously he declared that he sometimes, when called upon to speak, wished that his illustrious predecessor had not possessed the qualities that were his in so eminent a degree, for he was too big a man, his intellectual gifts were of too high an order for anyone to follow with comfort bearing the same name."

New Citizens Were Honoured By Warm Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Northey Presented With Clock and Address.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Northey, who have recently removed to Peterborough, and who are now residing at 619 Aylmer street, were waited on at their home prior to their removal, and presented on behalf of the Selwyn Methodist church, and Sunday School, with both of which they were identified, with a handsome clock, accompanied by an address, which follows:—

To Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Northey and Family—

Dear Friends, — It is the wish of the members of the Selwyn Methodist church and Sunday school to express to you our regret at your leaving our community. We feel in your going away we are losing a faithful worker, both in the church and Sunday school. You have for some time been our superintendent, and we feel that your going away will leave a vacancy which will be hard to fill. We all join in wishing you and your family a happy and prosperous life in your new home. We pray that God will spare you for a long and active life in the work of our Master. We believe that through your good work many souls have been brought to see their need of a Saviour. We wish to present to you this clock as a remembrance of the many days we have spent together at Selwyn. In conclusion we pray that the Lord may watch between us and you while we are absent one from the other. Signed on behalf of the church and Sunday school.

F. McIlmoyle,
B. W. Manning.

In acknowledging the gift Mr. Northey said that he and Mrs. Northey felt keenly their departure from the neighbourhood in which they had spent their lives up to the present time. The gift, which they would hold dear, would always remind them of home, and of the kind friends which they had left behind. While they had lived there they had only tried to do their duty, and would always cherish kindly feelings for the people of Selwyn.

After the presentation an enjoyable evening was spent. Music and dialogues were given, and games were played. Lunch was provided by the members of the church. Before dispersing all sang "God be with you till we Met Again."

A LONDON MOTHER
WRITES ABOUT
Lactated Food

SAVED THE BABY GIRL. — A London, Ont., mother, grateful for the preservation of her baby's life, writes thus: "My baby girl was sick during the summer and the doctor said that it was almost impossible to save her. Diarrhoea had reduced her very much and for days she lay in her cot helpless and weak, I fortunately read about your Lactated Food and determined to try one can for the baby. Two or three days after feeding it to baby I noticed an improvement, gained strength and slept naturally. The food agreed with her stomach and she seemed to like it. For about a month Lactated Food was the only nourishment I gave baby. To-day I am happy to say that my child is bright, strong and in good health. I wish I could talk to every mother in Canada who has a sick infant; I would certainly advise the use of Lactated Food." Ask your druggist for it.

Grand Concert At Victoria Road

The congregation of St. Mary's, at Victoria Road, held a grand concert on Saturday, March 17th, which was a most successful affair. Especial mention might be made of the numbers given by Misses McGee and McDonald. Masters Thomas Walsh, Clarence Dryden and Luke Keneally, also took their parts in the dialogue very well.

Ticket No. 2,294, held by J. Rule, near Sudbury, drew the silver set.

Can Consumption be Cured?

There is plenty of indisputable evidence to prove that Consumption has been cured even after the symptoms were well defined and the lungs actually involved.

On the other hand, there has always been a point beyond which the disease has been considered incurable. Until a comparatively recent date this point had a place at a very early stage of the malady, but modern scientific discovery and common-sense methods of treatment have gradually moved the hopeless point further and further back, until now the Consumptive is not "given up" until the very last stage of the disease is reached.

Nothing in recent years has done so much to improve the chances of Consumptives as the advent of

FERROL

In fact, it is claimed that, with plenty of fresh air, sunlight and comfortable surroundings, FERROL has pushed the hopeless point to the limit, that is to say, where these fail the chances of cure are very slim indeed.

FERROL does not kill the germs of Consumption (anything that will do that will kill the patient), but FERROL does the work by repairing the waste tissue, enriching the blood, toning the nerves, in short, by building up the whole system and thus enabling nature to expel the disease.

The only possible chance of curing Consumption is by proper nutrition, and FERROL is the only perfect nutrient, because it combines in palatable and easily digested form the very essentials of life—Oil, Iron and Phosphorus.

We feel some diffidence in claiming that FERROL will cure Consumption, lest we be misunderstood, but we have not the slightest hesitation in stating that it is an infallible cure for BRONCHITIS, CHRONIC COUGHS, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, NERVOUS EXHAUSTION, SCROFULA and all wasting diseases.

For restoring lost weight and building up the run-down system FERROL is absolutely without an equal.

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in the prominent Hospitals, Sanitoriums, etc.

Make Your Money Earn More

Don't you want to invest your money to the best possible advantage?

Why put it in a bank or a mortage at 3½, 4, 5 or even 6. p c. when we can make it earn 20 p. c. for you.

No, this is no fake, neither is it a mining scheme.

It's simply a straight, legitimate business proposition—a copper refinery.

And the only one in Canada.

Perhaps you don't know that copper is one of the most valuable metals used.

Well, it is and the demand far exceeds the supply.

But we can get all we want, if we can only secure capital to increase our plant.

To do this, we're selling a limited number of shares of The Stock of the Montreal Copper Co., Ltd., at $100 each.

Send for circular, it explains how 17⅓ p. c. was paid on the capital invested last year.

Season Has Been Good One For The Lumbermen

Mr. Hugh Regan, walking-boss for the Turner Lumber Company, has just returned to the city, having completed his winter's work in the woods near South River, Ont. This Company got out the usual number of logs and they are now all piled along the river ready for the drive. The statement made by many to the effect that this has been an unfavourable winter for lumbering, is discredited by Mr. Regan, who states that the past winter has been absolutely the best he ever saw for lumbering operations. There has been just enough snow and not too much, to make it unnecessary to employ extra men to shovel snow. Mr. Regan is authority for the statement that if a lumberman could not get his logs out this winter he should never go into the woods. At one time Mr. Regan was employed with the Dickson Company, and is a lumberman of many years' experience.

Many Are Seeking New Homes In The Northwest

Horace Greeley's advice, "Go West, young man, go West," is being freely followed by the young men of this district, judging by the numbers who leave each Tuesday on the C. P. R. settlers' excursions to Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. This morning a large number left Peterborough to seek homes in the West. The majority of those who left today were young men with no one to look after, but there were several families who took all their household effects with them. Among them was Miss Stewart, of Otonabee, and her brothers, Frank, Walter and Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Kerr, of Beasfort.

Among those who left to-day were H. Thompson, to Scotis, Man.; H. Whittington, to Arcola, Sask.; Russel Thompson, Arcola, Sask.; K. Wilson, Kirkallen, Man.; H. P. Fogerty, Kirkallen; W. O. Smith, Gainsboro, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. C. Middleton, to Alameda, Sask.

Mr. W. Wesley Opens Business

Will Manufacture Tents and Awnings in Lindsay.

The Lindsay Post says:—Our business men, and indeed citizens in general, will be glad to learn that in the future, when in need of new awnings and lawn tents, they will be able to secure the same in Lindsay instead of going to outside firms to purchase. Mr. W. E. Wesley, of the Turner Company, Peterborough, intends to establish himself in some suitable rooms in the Shier Block, Lindsay street, where he will be prepared to manufacture all kinds of tents, awnings and water-proof goods, and various kinds of flags. Mr. Wesley solicits the patronage of our citizens in making the business a success in Lindsay.

Humanity Tells Of Inhumanity

Peterborough, March 20.

Dear Sir,—As a resident of North Monaghan a terrible case of inhumanity and callous heartedness has come to my notice. I am informed that a farmer residing in North Monaghan not far from town has allowed seven head of cattle that were chained to their stalls in the stble absolutely starve and rot for want of food, although there was an abundance of turnips in the barn and a large quantity of hay as well. This is a horrible state of affairs and the owners of the cattle should have no mercy shown him by the authorities, who I believe, have been notified, but who, as far as I can learn have taken no definite steps towards the prosecution of the guilty party. And to make matters worse it is said three or four pigs have been running over and devouring the carcases of the dead animals. What excuse does the man give for his infamous conduct? That he was sick, and I understand the authorities have accepted this excuse and simply ordered him to clean up the remains of the cows and nothing more. It is inconceivable that in an enlightened country like Canada such cruelty should be tolerated for a moment. If the humane society wish to strike a telling blow in favour of dumb brutes who have no other protectors than their masters, they have a splendid opportunity to make their good offices appreciated in this instance.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space and hoping this matter will receive the consideration it deserves.

Yours truly,
HUMANITY.

Bride and Groom Bid Good-Bye

On Eve of Their Departure for the Northwest.

A very pleasing event occurred on Monday evening last at Hawthorne Cottage, the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mann, Smith, when a reception was given to his eldest son, James and his bride. From seven till ten the large rooms were thronged with friends and relatives who had called to bid the happy couple good-bye.

A short programme of music, recitations and a short address by the Rev. Mr. McKinnon was given, after which refreshments were served.

One very pleasing feature of the evening was the presence of five Mrs. James Manns: Mrs. James Mann, Sr., eighty-seven years of age; Mrs. J. H. Mann, Oakwood, Bridgenorth; Mrs. J. N. Mann, Bridgenorth; Mrs. James Gordon Mann and Mrs. James A. Mann, the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann left Tuesday on the noon train for Elgin, Man. A number of friends gathered at the station to wish them God speed on their journey.

By Regulating The Food System

NEARLY ALL THE MOST COMMON ILLS OF HUMANITY ARE PREVENTED AND CURED BY

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

"When our food is properly digested and assimilated, the waste matter promptly excreted and all the organs working in harmony we are well. When any derangements of these functions occur we are sick.

If we wait to consider for a moment what a large proportion of such derangements arise from constipation of the bowels, torpidity of the liver and sluggish action of the kidneys it is not difficult to understand the far-reaching effects of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a means of preventing and curing disease.

One of the results of our artificial modern life, and more especially that of winter, is too much eating and too little exercise. The liver and kidneys are overworked in their effort to remove the excess of waste matter, and when they fail in this work disorders of some kind are bound to arise.

It is usually with the liver that trouble begins. The bile which should be poured into the intestines to aid digestion and insure healthful action of the bowels is left in the blood to poison the system.

Headache, biliousness, liver complaint and constipation are followed by uric acid poisoning, kidney disease and rheumatism when the kidneys play out.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills begin by enlivening the action of the liver and bowels, and thereby effecting a thorough cleansing of the whole filtering and excretory systems. By this means constipation, biliousness, indigestion and all their accompanying symptoms are removed.

Then by their direct action on the Kidneys they purify the blood of uric acid poison, which is the cause of rheumatism, backache, lumbago and all the dreadful painful and fatal diseases of the kidneys.

In the newspapers have appeared from time to time thousands of letters from persons who have been cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In the majority of the homes of Canada this great family medicine is constantly kept on hand as a preventive and cure for these common ills of life. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

A LUSTY OLD AGE.

A maliciously false story, industriously circulated, will often injure a virtuous man's or woman's reputation, but the persistent and perennial cry that rises from the wish that is father to the thought, that Britain is decaying into decrepitude, has no effect. Like good wine, Britain grows better with age. Tail-twisting American journals, which appeal to the prejudice of their readers, in dense ignorance of the facts, insist upon the statement that Great Britain is tottering to her fall into national senility.

The St. Joseph, Missouri, News-Press, has the following remarkable condensation of compressed misstatement:

"England is no longer going forward. And not to go forward is to go backward. She has had her day as a world conqueror. Her dream of empire is fading. Her people are confronted with the problem of holding their own industrially, and, being unable to solve it they see their property slipping from them, and poverty creeping upon them."

It is folly to talk in this wise, for the fact is that Great Britain and the Empire — which cannot be separated in thought — was never in a sounder, more virile, or more prosperous and progressive condition than at the present time. Last year the trade of the mother country showed a marvellous growth over that of the preceding year, and the greatest in Britain's thousand years of history; and the immense wealth of Great Britain is growing larger every year. It might be thought that the unemployed disturbances in London, are a sign of depression. We however, have the authority of Mr. B. E. Walker that times are good, but there is lack of demand for unskilled workmen, owing to labour conditions, by which apprentices to trades are discouraged, and the tendency of the unemployed to seek population centres. The tail-twisters might also remember that Great Britain, with a population about half of that of the United States, has three times the foreign trade of the latter country, and that this disparity of trade is increased by the fact that even the lesser ocean-borne trade done by the United States, is done largely by British bottoms.

But responsible American journals with more honesty and more knowledge, rebuke the vanity of the inflated tail-twisting journals. The following from the New York Sun, is well calculated to chasten Yankee brag and conceit:

"Whenever an enthusiastic American feels like letting the eagle scream he ought to read the reports of what other countries, particularly Great Britain, are doing in the way of shipbuilding for ocean trade and naval protection. He ought to compare the exhibit with what we are not doing along the same lines. Take Lloyd's annual summary of British shipbuilding in 1905, for instance. Half an hour's perusal of that document, and there will not be much eagle-screaming. Here is the British record for 1905:

	Number.	Tonnage.
"Merchant steamers	737	1,604,696
"Merchant sailers	59	18,372
"Total merchant additions	795	1,623,068
"Warships	28	129,801
"Total ships built	823	1,752,869

"The mere increase of the output of merchant ships in 1905 over 1904 was 418,000 tons, nearly half as much as the entire American ocean-going merchant fleet, and the highest on record.

Why, even Canada, with about one-twelfth of the population of the United States, has about three times as large an aggregate trade per head as the United States, and, besides, in Canada, when a man goes to his home from his business, at night, he has no fear that during the afternoon the divorce court will have spirited away his wife and made him a widower and his children orphans.

The Ennismore Performance Was Great Success

Local T. A. S. Members Contributed to the Programme Last Night.

The members of the dramatic section of St. Peter's T. A. S., who played "Colleen Bawn" on Friday, last night drove out to Ennismore, where they witnessed the presentation of the Irish comedy drama, "Eileen Oge," by St. Martin's T.A.S. This play was given on St. Patrick's night, to an audience of 500 people, and proved a great success, the various artists taking their parts in very clever fashion.

The Peterborough people who saw the repetition of the drama last night were delighted with the production, and were loud in their praises of the manner in which it was presented by the young people of Ennismore. Local people contributed to the programme last night and were warmly received. Miss Lavina Hallihan and Messrs. Geo. Lynch, T. J. Begley and C. Donovan sang the songs that were so successful in the "Colleen Bawn" production, and were given an ovation.

Rev. Father McGuire, of Downeyville, was present and gave an inspiring address, congratulating Ennismore on having such clever people as their acting had shown the performers of the evening to be. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore, made a capable chairman.

The Peterborough people present report a very enjoyable evening.

Y.M.C.A. Athletes Held Contest

The athletic contest of the Senior School Boys, was held on Saturday morning in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium. The first honours of the contest, which proved a very interesting one, were carried off by Ed. Mann, who was just one point ahead of Arthur Dawe. In all fifteen contestants took part and the athletic work accomplished by the boys was exceedingly interesting.

More Meteor Mentionings

Seen From Several Points of View.

In the Examiner lately there have appeared many references to a very bright meteor which was seen in the heavens one evening last week. "But what is a meteor?" some have asked, and we have noticed that the ideas of quite a number are hazy on that point. And though the Examiner is first, and last, and all the time, a "news"-paper, yet a little science occasionally will not go amiss.

Meteoric stones, or what are generally termed aerolites, are stones which sometimes fall from the upper regions of the atmosphere upon the earth. The substance of which they are composed is, for the most part, metallic, but the ore of which it is composed is not generally found in the same constituent proportions in any known substance upon the earth. Iron and nickel are the principal constituents, with sometimes traces of the more precious metals, but no substances have yet been found unfamiliar to the chemist of this little planet we call the earth. Their fall is generally preceded by a luminous appearance, a hissing noise, and sometimes a loud explosion, should the meteor burst before it reaches the earth. Some years ago the writer while walking down the old Grand Junction track in Ashburnham observed a particularly bright one. Though the sun had not yet set, the path of the meteor was plainly visible from the zenith to the horizon in the west, where it burst, with a brilliant pyrotechnic display. Between 25 and 30 seconds afterwards the loud, heavy boom, as of the discharge of a cannon, in the distance was heard.

When found immediately after their descent, they are always hot, and usually covered with a black crust, indicating a state of exterior fusion. Their size varies from that of small fragments to ponderous masses. One of the largest yet discovered was that brought down from Greenland by Explorer Peary, to be deposited at the National Museum, Washington, D.C., though, at last accounts the great mass had not reached its destination, but was lying in one of the Government navy yards. This aerolite weighs several hundred tons.

Some have supposed that meteors were projected from volcanoes in the moon, before the latter became extinct; others that they proceed from volcanoes in the earth; while others imagine that they are generated in the regions of the atmosphere; but the truth probably is that they are fragments of another world that has met with disaster in past ages. That there has been such a convulsion in our own solar system, astronomers are generally agreed, and cite the case of the asteroids. As is well known, these are small bodies, comparatively, revolving around our sun between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter, and are believed to be the remnants of a once mighty planet. Some of these smaller fragments sometimes come within the attractive power of the earth on her journey around the sun, and rush towards us, impelled by the force of gravitation. The first portion of their fall is not impeded, but immediately on entering the atmosphere the friction generated causes them to become intensely hot, and the smaller ones become entirely consumed. Only the larger ones survive the state of fusion, and reach terra firma in diminished bulk.

Whether aerolites and what are commonly known as "falling stars," are of the same class, is not definitely known, but is generally believed they are.

A few years ago a very bright meteor was observed one evening travelling across the sky. It was seen by parties in Sarnia on the west, to Kingston on the east, and also by persons in New York State. All who saw it thought it fell but a short distance from them. The Meteorological Department at Toronto, (though the matter was a little out of its line, strange as it may appear) sent letters, with a list of questions, to all points where the meteor had been seen, with a view of discovering, if possible, its exact course, and final destination. It was found that its first appearance was over Sackett's Harbour, N.Y., and that it travelled northwest, finally dropping in the neighbourhood of Collingwood, or into the waters of Georgian Bay. So that settled the stories of the many farmers who were positive it dropped behind their barn, or at the rear of their farm.

The number of shooting stars observed in a single night, though variable, is commonly very small. There are, however, instances of their falling in "showers." About Nov. 13 of each year, it is noticed that the earth in her orbit, comes into conjunction with a position in space where these bodies are apparently most plentiful, and we have the well known November display.

Mr. William Saxby reports that his sons, Masters Ernie, Willie and Norman Saxby, from the top of the Smithtown hill saw the meteor as they were on their way to the hockey match. It went southwards and presented to them the same appearance as described by others. Mr. Manicce's meteor seems to be a branch concern, as all who have reported a view of the meteor saw it from points south of Lakefield, and said it direction was southward.

The meteor whose appearance on Wednesday night last, was recorded in the Examiner, was traced from Ennismore to Peterborough, and now comes another record of its appearance farther east. Mr. P. G. Towns, of Douro, informs the Examiner, that on Wednesday night his sister, Miss Towns, was driving home from Peterborough, and when about two or three miles west of St. Joseph's church, saw the meteor, like a globe of fire, about the size of a foot-ball in the southern sky flashing earthwards. As it appeared to near the earth a tail developed. Mr. Towns' family at Douro post office, also saw the meteor after the tail had developed. It plunged earthwards and seemed to disappear before it reached the ground.

A Resolution Of Condolence

Was Passed by City Council to Late Ald. Kelly's Family.

At the special meeting of the City Council yesterday morning, the following resolution was unanimously passed:—

"That this Council has learned of the death of Alderman Thomas Kelly, a member of the Council, with deep regret and wishes to places on record the keen sense of loss that is felt by the members. Although Alderman Kelly was only able since his election, to attend very few meetings, he has in previous years given long, faithful and able services in the interest of the community, and his return after an absence of some years to a seat in the Council Chamber where he had given such good service, was highly appreciated by us and by the people of the City. We know that in expressing our profound sorrow on account of his lamented death, we are voicing the feeling of the whole community when it was learned that he had passed away, for he was not only valued in his public capacity, but as a man his fidelity, integrity and large-heartedness won him the esteem of the community and the affection of those who had the privilege of closer acquaintanceship with him. To Mrs. Kelly and the other members of his family who mourn the loss of a husband and father who was tender and true, we desire to extend our earnest sympathy and to assure them that they have in their great bereavement the deep sympathy of the whole community."

Annual Banquet Of Eko Camp Was Enjoyable

Members Gathered Around the Festive Board Last Night—Delicious Repast and Bright, Witty Speeches Made the Event One Long to be Remembered—Toast List Was a Fine One and Was Much Appreciated.

LONG'S PALM GARDEN WAS SCENE OF EVENT

A most enjoyable affair in every way was the annual banquet of Eko Camp held last night at Hasty Long's Palm Gardens. This organization has achieved an enviable reputation in connection with social events held under its auspices, and the event of last night was fully up to the standard established by Eko Camp. Those present were, Messrs. L. B. Ramsden, President; R. H. Bradburn, Hon. President; J. M. Gemmell, W. C. Ackerman, R. P. Watt, W. A. Smith, R. M. Glover, W. G. Cochrane, T. H. Glover, B. McCollum, E. M. Best, L. McCaughey, T. J. Wallace, W. Hillhouse, A. Weeks, L. Roy, M. Comstock, S. Cassiff, W. R. G. Higgins, F. McClosky, J. W. Kelly, W. H. Warram.

Mr. Long had prepared one of those delightful repasts for which he is noted and full justice was done to the good things. The toast list was a good one and the bright, witty speeches were greatly enjoyed. The toast to the "King" proposed by President Ramsden, was honoured in the customary manner, after which came that to "Canada." This was proposed by Mr. W. A. Smith, in an eloquent speech, and replied to in an equally able and patriotic manner by Mr. J. W. Kelly. "Peterborough" was the next toast honoured, Mr. W. R. G. Higgins was the proposer, and Mr. M. Comstock responded in a neat speech.

A toast that was very heartily drunk was that to Eko Camp, proposed by Mr. W. C. Ackerman, and responded to by Mr. J. M. Gemmell. "The Peterborough Hockey Club" Club" was enthusiastically received. Mr. A. Weeks in a bright speech referred to the honours brought to Peterborough by the Intermediate Champions. Mr. T. J. Wallace made an effective reply. "Peterborough Industries" were next honoured, the toast being proposed by Mr. W. H. Warram, suitable and telling replies were made by Messrs. W. Hillhouse, of the Canadian Cordage Company, and Mr. L. McCaughey, of the C.G.E. Mr. W. C. Cochrane, in a witty speech, proposed the health of the married men of Eko Camp. Messrs. T. J. Wallace and R. P. Watt, replied in a humourous strain on behalf of the benedicts of the Club. The toast to "The Ladies" was proposed by Mr. W. A. Smith, and the fair sex found worthy champions in Messrs. W. Cochrane, E. M. Best and T. Glover.

The occasion was most enjoyable and one that will long be remembered by the members of Eko Camp.

FORT FRANCES, ONTARIO.

On the Main Line of the Canadian Northern.

The most progressive town in Canada, with a great future, as it will have direct railway communication with Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago this year. The Grand Trunk Pacific branch to the north-east and main line passing through a rich mineral country, and near the greatest gold mine in the world will be commenced this year. Steamboats navigate the immense area of water in Rainy Lake, Rainy River and Lake of the Woods. Forty thousand horse power being developed in the centre of the town. Lumber, minerals and the best farming land in Ontario. This great country is unknown to the eastern people, but from all the Western States are coming, daily, people investing in town lots and farm lands. Prices are doubling and trebling in a few months. There are only two towns between Port Arthur and Winnipeg, a distance of 500 miles, they are Fort Frances and Rainy River.

Ninety-eight lots in Fort Frances, surveyed August 1905, for sale at $20 each, until April 1st, not less than five lots to one buyer. Buyer of 30 lots in one block will get a discount. Blue print on view, George Stethem. 1d

Rev. F. J. Scott Gave Address

Mr. John Miller Dies In Calgary

A Former Well Known Native of Otonabee, and Resident of Peterboro' Passes Away.

The many friends of Mr. John Miller and of his family will learn with deep regret, but with no surprise, of his death, which took place at Calgary, Alta., on Sunday, March 18th. Mr. Miller, "Johnny," as he was almost universally called, has for some time—two or three years—been under doom with the dreaful disease, tuberculosis, and the end was not unexpected, for his only sister, Mrs. Wm. Campbell, of Keene, was recently called west to be with him at the last. Mr. Miller, about three years ago, went west for the benefit of his health, and his last visit to his native home was made last summer, when he was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Campbell, of Keene.

Mr. Miller, who was 45 years of age, was born in the Township of Otonabee—son of the late James Miller — on the old Miller homestead, near Mather's Corners, by the way, one of the most beautiful farm homes in the Province. He was a graduate of Queen's University, Kingston, and subsequently entered upon the study of the law, but he did not follow up that profession. During his course of study Mr. Miller spent some time in the law office of Mr. D. W. Dumble, Peterborough, and it was during this time that he became so well known in Peterborough, where his genuine qualities of character attached to him a numerous band of friends. Mr. Miller, while here, developed the peculiar faculty of mind-reading, by direct thought transference, which was then more of a mystery than at the present time. He also was an expert amateur photographer, and had perhaps the finest private collection of photographs in the country. He was a travelled and well read man, and by drawing upon his stores of knowledge and observations he made a charming conversationalist.

Mr. Miller found great delight in travelling. He made three pilgrimages to the Holy Land, Egypt and Morocco, besides frequent visits to Great Britain, France and Switzerland. He was also an enthusiastic canoeist, and in his well-known craft, "Micawber," made many long trips, chief among them being one down the St. Lawrence, from Montreal to Quebec, up the Richelieu, and down the Saguenay. He was also well acquainted with the Bay of Quinte, and paid several visits to the New Ontario district.

Possessing abundant means, Mr. Miller could command all the leisure he chose, but he preferred occupation, and entered upon journalism, but more as a pastime than a means of livelihood. He was, however, well adapted for the work, and was a clear, forcible writer. He was for some time connected with the Mail and Empire, Toronto, and later with the Toronto News. However, failing health led to his retirement from this work, and three years ago he went to the Northwest for the betterment of his health, with only temporary improvement.

Mr. Miller leaves behind him one living brother and two sisters, Dr. T. Miller, of Wisconsin; Mrs. Wm. Campbell, of Keene, and Mrs. Harry Cruikshanks, of Calgary, Alberta. Two brothers are deceased, the late William Miller and James Miller, of Keene. Mrs. T. J. Wallace, of this city, 27 Homewood avenue, is a niece, and other nieces are Misses Emeline Florence and Willena Miller, and Mrs. Bryce, of Toronto. Mr. John Miller, of Gleichen, is a nephew.

The remains will be brought east for interment, accompanied by Mrs. William Campbell and Mr. Harry Cruikshanks, the brother-in-law, and on their arrival interment will take place in Little Lake Cemetery.

An Important Meeting Held Last Night

Five Members Advanced to High Degrees at Diamond Orange Loge.

A meeting of Diamond Lodge, No. 80, was held in the lodge room, Simcoe street, last night, when two members were advanced to the Purple Degree, and three to the Royal Arch Degree. The ceremonies in connection with the elevation of the members were presided over by Geo. Barcliffe, Grand Master of Lodge No. 80. The meeting was a rather long one and the proceedings were not completed until after midnight. After the promotions had taken place and the degrees had been conferred, Rev. A. H. Brace delivered an eloquent address on matters pertaining to Orange matters. Immediately after Mr. Brace's address the meeting adjourned.

THE STORY Is MISLEADING and FALSE

Some manufacturers of weak and almost worthless package dyes, now advertising their common products, and advising the ladies to use them, make the false and misleading claim that their crude dyes will colour all kinds of materials—wool, silk, cotton and mixed goods—equally well. This false claim has deceived many women in Canada, and to-day, disappointed women and girls deplore the loss of good garments and materials as well as hard-earned money.

MORAL:—Carefully avoid all adulterated, weak and common package dyes that may be offered to you by dealers looking for large profits and caring little for the comfort and welfare of our thrifty and economical women.

DIAMOND DYES, the world's favourites for successful home colouring, have scientifically prepared dyes for wool and silk, and for cotton and mixed goods, giving the best and most profitable results—bright, full and everlasting colours that never fade in sun or washing. Each colour of the DIAMOND DYES sells for 10 cents per package, same price that is demanded for the imitation and worthless dyes which destroy your goods and ruin your hands. Ask for the DIAMOND DYES and refuse all others.

Send your name and address to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, P.Q., and you will receive free of cost new Dye Book, Card of Dyed Cloth Samples and Booklet in verse, entitled "The Long Johns' Trip to the Klondike."

Educational Bills Will Be Introduced

Two of Them Will Be Brought Down Next Week.

BILLS READ AND WITHDRAWN.

Government License Bill to Be Brought Down To-day—Budget Speech to Be Delivered This Afternoon — Mr. Preston of Brant Presents a Petition From Brantford Regarding the Bell Memorial.

Toronto, March 20.—Several public bills were dealt with during yesterday's session of the Legislature, some being read a second time and others withdrawn. Hon. Mr. Pyne, replying to Hon. Mr. Ross, said the new education act and the act making changes in the Department of Education would, he hoped, be introduced early next week. The latter will, it is understood, include provision for the advisory educational Council, on which it is expected all classes of the teaching profession will be represented, and for the office of Superintendent of Education, a new position. The former will deal with general reform in education, particularly in respect to the public schools.

The Budget.

Hon. Mr. Matheson delivers the budget speech this afternoon. He will be followed for the Opposition by Mr. Harcourt.

In reply to Dr. Jessop, the Attorney-General gave the figures of the receipts of Brock's Monument at Queenston Heights, from Jan. 1, 1895, to Dec. 31, 1905. In 1895 the figures were $308.75; 1896, $175; 1902, $269; 1904, $887; 1905, $203. Ransome Goring was the caretaker up to June, 1905, when James McGeachie was appointed.

Mr. Neeley introduced a bill to amend the High School Act, so as to regulate the attendance of pupils from adjacent or contiguous countries, and to fix the amount to be paid by them.

A bill submitted by Dr. Jamieson would amend the Municipal Act so as to place cement and concrete buildings on the same footing as brick and stone in all municipalities where buildings of certain materials only are allowed within the fire limits.

Mr. McCowan introduced a bill respecting cemetery companies, and Mr. Carnegie another relative to the County of Haliburton.

Mr. Crawford Withdraws.

Mr. Crawford at Hon. Mr. Hanna's request withdrew his bill to amend the Liquor License Act.

Mr. Craig moved the second reading of his assessment Act amendment, providing that where municipalities are lax in paying their county rates interest at six per cent. may be charged. It was referred to the assessment committee.

Mr. Gamey asked for a second reading of his bill to provide for additional polling places in his constituency.

Hon. Mr. Foy said it was the desire that polling places should be fixed by statute rather than by order-in-council.

On the second reading of Mr. Gamey's bill to place the assessment of a storekeeper upon the stock he carried, and not upon the rental value of the building, as is the present system, at Mr. Hanna's request he withdrew the bill.

Subjects of Foreign Country.

Mr. McGarry's separate bills to amend the Ontario Election Act, the Manhood Suffrage Act and the Municipal Act, so as to exclude from the voting privilege Canadians temporarily resident in Canada, after having become naturalized subjects of a foreign country, received second readings.

A bill by Mr. Preston (Brant) to allow municipalities to buy fire fighting appliances without getting a vote of the ratepayers also got through the second reading stage.

Hon. Mr. Hanna suggested that the fire appliance companies were behind the request, and intimated hostility to the bill should it again come up before the House.

Mr. Bradburn's bill to give municipalities power to hold official meetings in convenient centres in adjoining municipalities, also got its second reading.

Education Bills Next Week.

In reply to Hon. Mr. Ross, who asked when the education bills would be brought down, the Minister of Education said they would be ready next week.

Mr. Preston (Brant) presented a petition on behalf of the Graham Bell Memorial Association, seeking power to erect in Brantford a suitable monument in memory of the originator of the telephone. Power is also asked to collect fees from subscribers who may be in default, and for the municipality to contribute without getting a vote of the ratepayers.

Among the honorary officers are the Prince of Wales, Earl Minto, Earl Stamford, Lieut.-Governor Clark, Premier Whitney, Hon. G. W. Ross and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy.

This Election As Conducted But a Farce

Russian Proletariat Are Given No Freedom of Choice.

TROOPS DO OPEN VIOLENCE

Only a Fraction of the Working Classes Are Voting—Complaints of Interference Are Increasing—Flagrant Instances of Terrorism by Local Officials Are Cited—Troops Attack Workmen—Man Wounded.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—As the elections proceed there is more and more evidence of the virtual exclusion from participation of the radical elements of the population. The preliminary stage of the elections will rob the National Assembly of much of its national character. Its authority to speak will be absolutely denied by the proletariat organizations which bore the brunt of the fight for liberty.

Complaints of interference in the country districts are increasing. Many flagrant instances are cited of the terrorism of local officials in preventing a free expression of the peasants, and often practically compelling the selection of priests and village elders.

Elections a Farce.

Carefully collected information from the outlying industrial districts of yesterday's voting shows that the elections were a mere farce. Nominally eleven out of the 39 working groups entitled to participate elected 20 out of 57 delegates to the convention, which will select 18 representatives for the city to the convention. The latter convention in turn elects for St. Petersburg six members of the National Assembly. In reality the number of workmen participating was very small.

Where the elections were ostensibly held only 569 out of 21,730 workmen voted, and they almost invariably chose reactionists. There was an overwhelming display of troops and police in the districts and places where the men were assembled. Some of the men held meetings and discussed the advisability of participating, but the great mass simply withdrew, declaring that during the present reign of terror the designation of their real choice was equivalent to turning the men over to the police. In the big Okhta and Moscow districts not a single man has been elected. The railroad employes unanimously refused to vote until the imprisoned members of their organization are released from jail.

Attacked by Troops.

At the Kolpino works the men were hotly discussing the question of participation in the election, when they were surrounded and dispersed by troops, who mortally wounded a workman.

At Moscow yesterday, where the workmen delegates met for the second election stage, to select representatives to the city conference, and no result was attained, the delegates insisting on being allowed time to get acquainted, as the choices were limited to the membership, there were 102 candidates, although only eighteen qualified for election.

In the meantime the leaders of the rival parties in the fight for supremacy in the National Assembly are concentrating their efforts for the final struggle in the provincial and city conventions, the National Assembly. Little attention is paid by the Liberals to the new Council of the Empire, which is foredoomed to be controlled by the Government.

Expelled From Odessa.

Odessa, March 20.—A nephew of the late Interior Minister Sipiaguine and a leading candidate for the constitutional Democrats for election to the national assembly has been expelled from Odessa.

Prompt Suppression.

Petrograd, Russia, March 20.—A proclamation has been issued by the Governor-General announcing that any attempts against the property or lives of Jews will be mercilessly suppressed.

The Door Of The Dominion Now Stands Open

For the Colony of Newfoundland to Enter the Dominion.

NOT YET FOR WEST INDIES

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Reply on the Question of Confederation—Government to Redeem Worn Silver and Recoin It—Germany Anxious to Improve Her Trade Relations—Telephone Grievances.

Ottawa, March 20.—Several interesting announcements were made by the Government and much useful information was given in reply to questions by members, of which there were in all 65 upon the order paper yesterday. The Premier stated that the Government of Newfoundland were aware that the Dominion Government were ready at any time to take up the subject of the island colony coming into confederation. While prepared to extend our relations with the West Indies, the Government were not, Sir Wilfrid intimated, prepared at this time to invite or encourage political union.

To Redeem Worn Silver.

Holders of worn Canadian silver currency, who have found difficulty in passing it, will be glad to learn that the Government contemplate legislation providing for the redemption of worn silver, the cost of recoining which is small.

Hon. Wm. Paterson stated that representations by an agent of the German Government, with a view to improving trade relations between Canada and Germany, will be taken into consideration by the Ministers in revising the tariff.

Telephone Grievances.

That a remedy for some of the grievances complained of by the independent telephone companies will be provided in the Government's bill amending the railway act was the gratifying intimation conveyed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in reply to a letter from the Secretary of the Canadian Independent Telephone Association, read by Mr. Maclean.

The presentation of a bushel or so of petitions for Lord's Day legislation occupied the first half-hour of yesterday's sitting.

To Rescind Indemnity Increases.

Mr. W. F. Maclean introduced his bill to repeal chapter 39 of the statutes of 1905, intituled an act respecting annuities for certain Privy Councillors, and chapter 43 of the statutes of 1905, intituled an act to amend the act respecting the Senate and House of Commons.

The bill was seconded by Dr. Barr.

"Explain," was the general request, varied by cries of "lost."

Mr. Maclean said that, in a word, the bill was designed to repeal the legislation of last session dealing with the indemnity and pensions. It was now in the hands of the House, and it rested with them to deal with it.

Senator Miller Was Angry.

Ottawa, March 20.—There was a sensational scene in the Senate last night when Senator Miller of Nova Scotia made a savage attack upon Senator Ross of Halifax, for whom he said that he entertained a "most profound contempt." He also called him a "toothless viper" and "Base, pernicious traitor." Senator Ross defended himself. Mr. Ross is 84 and Mr. Miller well past 75.

Kincardine, March 20.—John Sellery of Kincardine, one of the pioneers of Bruce County, died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ira J. Fisher, at the age of 88. He came to Canada from Glasgow with a wife and three children in 1842. He leaves a family of seven sons, three daughters, 47 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

Cockfighters Fined.

Montreal, March 20.—The city cockfighters were mustered at the Recorder's Court yesterday. All the accused pleaded guilty. Daniel Donelly was fined $50, two men, a father and son, who instigated resistance to the police, were fined $10 each, and the others were called upon to lay down $5 a piece. The fines will aggregate over $600.

Hypnotized Into Suicide.

Victoria, B. C., March 20.—The body of Maud Newbury, missing for six weeks, was found in the miniature lake at Beacon Hill Park yesterday. The supposition is suicide while under hypnotic conditions, she having acted as a sensitive for a traveling exponent of the art and was never fully herself afterwards.

THREE TRYING TIMES IN A WOMAN'S LIFE

There are three periods of a woman's life when she is in need of the heart strengthening, nerve toning, blood enriching action of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

The first of these is when the young girl is entering the portals of womanhood. At this time she is very often pale, weak and nervous, and unless her health is built up and her system strengthened she may fall a prey to consumption or be a weak woman for life.

The second period is motherhood. The drain on the system is great and the exhausted nerve force and depleted blood require replenishing. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills supply the elements needed to do this.

The third period is "change of life" and this is the period when she is most liable to heart and nerve troubles.

A tremendous change is taking place in the system, and it is at this time many chronic diseases manifest themselves. Fortify the heart and nerve system by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and then ride over this dangerous period. Mrs. James King, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled very much with heart trouble—the usual lot being to a great extent due to "change of life." I have been taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for some time, and mean to continue doing so, for I can truthfully say they are the best remedy I have ever used for building up the system. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other sufferers."

Peterboro' Team Best In Toronto This Year

This is What The Telegram Says—Some Comments on Saturday's Game From the Toronto Papers—The Marlboros Were Beaten at Every Stage of the Game—Some Bouquets for the Local Seven.

The Toronto papers last night hand out some bouquets—and some other things for the Peterborough hockey team. They all admit that the better team won, and that the Marlboros were not one, two, three with the locals. The Telegram pays its respects in the following terms:

Peterborough are really first-class seniors and would in all probability have won that series had they been in it. They are big and fast and know the game to the ground. As individuals the Marlboros far outshone the visitors, but their work was confined largely to centre ice. All were more or less rovers and some were not anxious to come within striking distance of the Peterborough, warriors.

• • •

As individuals the locals made a great showing, but as to effectiveness they failed, precisely because they stacked up against seven men playing as one. The Marlboro defence was great on paper, but on the ice it was found that both belonged to the cover-point class and left big, gaping spaces. Besides they were closely blocked.

• • •

'And when all's said and done Peterborough has the fastest, snappiest little hockey team that has appeared on Toronto ice this winter. They trimmed the heads of the Marlboros' carefully selected seven on Saturday night, beating them individually and collectively. They were faster, more aggressive and naturally more of a team than the Dukes. In obstruction tactics they could give pointers to the Irish party in the Imperial Parliament.

• • •

And the consensus of opinion was that Peterborough would make Berlin look like the remains of a dollar that had been used up trying to treat a crowd.

• • •

That chap Whitcroft is a great player. He seems to put ginger into the whole line. When he was occupying a box by request of the referee the Dukes made a few shots they thought necessary during the evening. Tyner's great work in goal saved the Dukes from an awful walloping.

Billy" Hewitt, of The Star, was at the game, too, and on his sporting page says a few things about the Peterborough team:

Peterborough showed a decided superiority at playing hockey, and also in roughing it up. The Marlboros started the trouble by slashing and tripping, and the intermediate champions came back at them and beat them at their own style of play.

• • • •

Long acquaintance made Armstrong an easy mark for the Peterborough team, and he usually backed up when he approached the danger zone. In the second half he made a couple of his old-time rushes, one of which resulted in a goal. Young died away early in the game and his work was spasmodic, to say the least. Birmingham was in the same boat. Winchester and Ridpath worked hard throughout, but the latter's rough-house tactics did not help his team any. It was a mistake in judgment to lay off Winchester when Graham was hurt. He could skate and carry the puck, which was more than could be said about some of the other forwards.

• • • •

The star of the game—when he was on the ice—was Whitcroft, of the All-Star team. He was most aggressive on the attack, and his great rushes were in a measure responsible for the victory of the intermediates. He simply toyed with the Marlboro forwards, and they gave him plenty of room as the game progressed. His wonderful checking back, skating two men and the puck off at a time, helped the Peterborough defence mightily.

Cavanah, Morgan and Graham were always better than their checks, and Crowley, Glover and Wasson made a very effective defence, the former being particularly ferocious. Wasson's coolness in clearing took the crowd by storm. It is worthy of note that when the whole Peterborough team were on the ice the Marlboros could not score at all. They got their three goals when Peterborough was playing one man shy.

• • • •

The News was represented by W. J. Morrison, and he says: The Peterborough hockey players finished up their season on Saturday night, in a most creditable manner by defeating a team of stars by a score of 6 to 3. The Marlboros had the same team that won the championship for the club last year without a defeat, with the exception of Charlton, whose place was filled by Gee, of Barrie.

The local players were no match for the intermediate champions, who outplayed them in every style of the game.

The result of this match stamps the Easterners as one of the best teams in the O.H.A. this season, and goes to show what a soft spot they were in playing intermediate, when they could have held them own against any of the teams in the senior ranks.

• • • •

If some of those sporting writers in Toronto want to see what a rough game of hockey looks like, they should take a day off and go to Ottawa for one of the Stanley Cup games. Saturday's match in Toronto was a parlour game compared to the hockey they play around Bytown.

Centrals Lost To The Victors

Last night at the Brock street rink the Victors and Centrals played off a tie game, which was played about a week ago. The score was 3-1 in favour of the Victors. Half-time score 1-0 in favour of Centrals. The players were a little inclined to rough it, but no one was seriously hurt. Among the penalties were:—Victors,—O. Giroux, C. Giroux, 2, H. Harrison. Centrals—G. Long, S. Long, E. Fox, 2, L. Borrdale, A. Hall, 3.

The line-up was as follows:—

Victors.		Centrals.
H. O'Rielly	Goal.	A. Meldrum
P. Porter	Point.	L. Borrdale
W. Pratt	Cover Point.	E. Fox
L. Giroux	Rover	G. Long
C. Giroux	Centre	S. Lang
H. Harrison	Right Wing	A. Hall
I. Wade	Left Wing	H. Crane

Goal umpires—Sanderson, L. Giroux. Referee—C. Lech.

The total score on the round was. Victors 8; Centrals, 6.

Bouquet For Central Star

The following bouquet from a Central School supporter has been received at this office:—

During the Victor-Central game last night at the Brock street rink some star hockey was exhibited. The frequent rushes of "Bill" Pratt, the favourite, caused the spectators to proclaim him a Whitcroft. He skates fast, shoots well and is an excellent stick-handler and check. It was no doubt through him the Victors are not mourning over the loss of the championship. Pratt is a dandy and in time will be captured by a professional bunch.

HOCKEY

The Barbers' Apprentices have secured the Brock street rink for Wednesday night when they will play the Grocery Drivers in what should be the most scientific and fastest games of the season.

• • • •

A meeting of the City Hockey League will be held on Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Oriental Hotel for the purpose of closing up this season's business.

• • • •

All the Toronto players are of the opinion that Peteroorough were easily the superiors of the Marlboros. Now that's a pleasing admission.

ONLY A Common Cold

BUT IT BECOMES A SERIOUS MATTER IF NEGLECTED. PNEUMONIA, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, CATARRH or CONSUMPTION IS THE RESULT.

Get rid of it at once by taking

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Obstinate coughs yield to its grateful soothing action, and in the racking, persistent cough, often present in Consumptive cases, it gives prompt and sure relief. In Asthma and Bronchitis it is a successful remedy, rendering breathing easy and natural, enabling the sufferer to enjoy refreshing sleep, and often effecting a permanent cure.

We do not claim that it will cure Consumption in the advanced stages, but if taken in time it will prevent it reaching that stage, and will give the greatest relief to the poor sufferer from this terrible malady.

Be careful when purchasing to see that you get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark.

Mr. Wm. O. Jenkins, Spring Lake, Alta., writes: "I had a very bad cold settled on my lungs. I bought two bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup but it only required one to cure me. I have never met with any other medicine as good."

A Splendid Set Of Shoes

Mr. John Elmhirst Receives Useful Gift From Calgary Blacksmith.

Mr. John Elmhirst, of Otonabee, has received from Mr. John Page, a well known Calgary blacksmith, a very fine set of nine-ounce steel shoes for his fast young mare "Little Girl". The shoes are perfect in every detail, being fast, light and strong and each having four never-slip calks. They are particularly adopted for ice use and may also be used on moderately hard turf. It is the unanimous opinion of experts who have examined the shoes that they are par excellence.

An Invitation to Hockey Team to Attend To-night's Performance at the Grand.

Mr. George H. Summers, proprietor of the Summers Stock Company, has invited the Peterborough team to be present to-night at the production of "Why Women Divorce." The pictures of the Queens and Peterborough sevens, individually and in groups will be thrown upon the canvas, and those of the local septette will undoubtedly create much enthusiasm. The kindness of Mr. Summers is much appreciated by the members of the team and by the hockey club as well.

WITH THE YOUNG PEOPLE

MURRAY STREET.

The B.Y.P.U., of the Murray street Baptist church held their regular meeting last night in the Sunday School with a large attendance. The evening, however, was marked by an unusually interesting programme. The chair was occupied by Mr. Jas. Ellis, the President of the Union, and the different numbers were of a delightful character.

The opening number, a piano solo, by Miss Bessie Etcome, was charmingly rendered and formed an excellent beginning for such a pleasing programme. Mr. John Hardwicke's reading, the second number, was an interesting one and cleverly read.

A vocal duet by Miss Jackson and Miss Clara Kidd, formed one of the most pleasing features of the evening. Mrs. Dunoombe next gave a recitation in her usual clever style and was followed by an enjoyable violin solo by Miss Miller. A recitation by Mr. Roe and a piano solo by Miss Janet Quinn, concluded the exceedingly interesting and appreciative concert.

After the programme the social portion of the meeting took place when refreshments prepared by the ladies were partaken of. Altogether the event proved one of the most delightful held this season by the Young People's Union of Murray street.

ST. JOHN'S.

At the regular meeting of St. John's Anglican Young People's Association held last night in the Guild Room, there was an especially interesting programme presented.

After the usual routine of business had been transacted Mr. R. J. Doty rendered a highly appreciated instrumental solo which was followed by a chorus, sung by the choir boys, and which was appropriate to an address on the works of Charles Dickens given by Mr. F. D. Kerr. Mr. Thos. Dawson also sang and by request rendered "Irish Molly" as an encore.

Then followed Mr. Kerr's address, which proved to be a most instructive and entertaining discourse. Mr. Kerr spoke for some forty-five minutes, during which time his usual good humour prevailed and which kept his audience in good spirits throughout. The speaker possesses the happy faculty of entertaining and at the same time instructing. He dealt in a broad and general sense with his subject, explaining the methods adopted by the author in depicting the different characters of human life and telling of the poet's wide range of thought as expressed in his different works, from that of political importance to matters matrimonial. After he had given the writer due emphasis and after having cleared up many points that are stumbling blocks to the ordinary reader in the study of Dickens, the speaker displayed his abilities as a reader by reading a number of humorous selections.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the different contributors to the programme which was moved by Mr. H. Cluxton in his usual happy manner and seconded by Mr. N. A. Howard-Moore. Mr. Kerr making a brief reply.

Miss Ruth Dawson then sang in a most excellent and accomplished manner and Mr. Devy followed with another beautiful instrumental selection.

The next regular meeting of the A. Y. P. A. will be held on Monday, April 2nd, when a good programme will be given, it being the regular Biblical evening.

CHARLOTTE STREET.

Despite the disagreeable weather there was a large attendance at the regular weekly meeting of the Epworth League of Charlotte street church last night. An inspiring and eloquent address on "The Life of Christ," which could not fail to have a profitable effect upon all who heard it, was given by Mr. Isaac Richardson. The chair was occupied by Mr. Begley.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

SUMMER STOCK COMPANY.

Considering the inclement weather the big house that greeted the Summers' Stock Company last night must have, indeed, been gratifying to the management, as it was an indication that their previous performances here had met with approval. The company is a very strong one and deserve large audiences during the rest of the week.

The play last night, "Master and Man" was one that fully showed the capabilities of the company. It is full of heart interest, with a strong, well-carried out plot and enough comedy to relieve the situation. Several sensational climaxes are found in the play which held the attention of the audience from start to finish. Miss Belle Stevenson, as "Hester Thornbeck," demonstrated that she is an emotional actress of great power. She made a most favourable impression. Mr. Summers, as "Tommy Brady," the irrepressible Irish boy, was as breezy in his humour as ever, and as usual made a hit from his first appearance on the stage. He is a comedian of no mean ability. To J. J. Kennedy, to whom, as "Humpy Logan," the deformed foreman, there fell a great deal of the heavy work and his interpretation of the role left nothing to be desired. The difficult part was handled with masterly skill and true dramatic art. The other parts were taken by artists who gave the principals clever support.

The vaudeville features were away above the average. Oswald Roberts sang a couple of illustrated songs in good voice, and was warmly received. Ura Pitham, the chic little songstress and dancer, as usual, made a hit and Mr. Summers showed that among the accomplishments he possesses is that of singing a comic song well. The Valpros in their musical act showed themselves wonders with the bells and other instruments, and Tot Young sang a comic solo well and gave a banjo solo that was a winner. Pictures by the bioscope closed the bill.

To-night will be hockey night, and the members of the Peterborough team have been invited to attend as the guests of Mr. Summers. Pictures of the Queen's and Peterborough players will be shown by the bioscope during the evening. The play will be "Why Women Divorce," one of the strongest in the repertoire of this fine company.

C. G. E. Teams To Play Thursday

A Great Game at the Brock Street Rink.

On Thursday night in Brock street rink one of the most interesting games of the season will be played. The Canadian General Electric Company's Toronto office team, which is tied for the Toronto Mercantile League Championship, will play a team from the shop here. The latter team will be as follows:—

Goal—Fitzpatrick.
Point—Ford.
Cover-point—Meagher.
Rover—Whitcroft.
Centre—Crowley.
Forwards—Rose and Patterson.

Two years ago the Toronto team was defeated by 6—1 here, and ever since they have been sweating vengence upon the local septette. They have been gathering up a strong team, which they will put on the ice on Thursday and expect to wipe the snow with the local bunch.

Annual Meeting Eastern Ontario Grand Lodge

Will be Held in Lindsay To-day and To-morrow.

The Grand Orange Lodge for Eastern Ontario is holding its annual meeting at Lindsay this year and a large number of delegates from different lodges in eastern Ontario will be present. Mr. John A. McWilliams, P. C. M., left for Lindsay this morning and Messrs. Robert Wilson P. D. M., Jos Batten, P. C. M. and Past Black preceptor and —— Brenet, Deputy Master of the Black Preceptory, will leave for that town this evening. To-morrow morning Mr. George Barcliffe, Master of the Scarlet Chapter, Peterborough, will also go. The Black Preceptory opens its session this afternoon at two o'clock and the Grand Orange Lodge at two o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The meeting was held in Ottawa last year and four years ago was held in Peterborough. The event is one of the most auspicious functions in connection with the Eastern Ontario Orange organizations and is always largely attended.

They Did Not Unlawfully Sell Liquor

Calcutt B. and M. Co. Acquitted by His Worship P. M. Dumble.

The Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company, were charged at this morning's session of the police court, with unlawfully selling liquor to John Schear, the Italian boarding house keeper on Aylmer street, who was fined the other day for selling liquor without a license. Mr. J. Haverson, K. C. of Toronto, appeared for the brewing company and admitted the selling of liquor to Schear but argued that the company was within its rights in so doing. He also admitted the brewery was licensed, and that the man to whom the liquor was sold had no license. Mr. L. M. Hayes appeared for the prosecution.

Mr. Jas. Drain, bookkeeper and secretary of the company, knew John Schear, and believed that he had no license. He admitted that Schear had been sold liquor by the company and produced a book of the company recording some sales, which averaged about three kegs daily. Mr. Drain had questioned Schear on the street and at the brewery as to whether he was going to re-sell the liquor, which was lager, and was informed by the latter that he did not re-sell it. To the best of witness' knowledge Schear was never convicted on a charge of selling liquor without a license until a couple of days ago. Schear informed witness that all the men chipped in and bought the beers.

Chief Rowel said that he had warned Mr. Drain about selling to Italians. He said he had been informed that liquor was being sold by the Italians, among them Schear.

Asked by Mr. Haverson why he did not prosecute, the chief said his information was not definite enough.

His Worship said that the evidence did not prove that the brewing company knew that Schear was going to sell the liquor, and therefore dismissed the case.

Mr. Elliott Returns From Winnipeg

Mr. John Elliott, who left for Winnipeg some time ago, in charge of a carload of horses, returned this morning. Mr. Elliott reports a very successful trip only losing one animal on the road.

The weather in Winnipeg, he stated, was severely cold for a few days last week. On Tuesday last the thermometer registered 30 degrees below zero, and it was a pretty hard proposition to keep warm. Everything in the West was flourishing, he said, and present prospects point to good times in the future.

The Flag Favours Children's Aid

Mr. P. Campbell, Treasurer of the Children's Aid Society, has received from Miss Barlee, Treasurer of the 57th Colours Fund, a letter enclosing $4.65, with the statement that that was the surplus of the Colours fund, which the committee considered could not be used to better advantage or to a better purpose than by adding it to the funds of the Society. Thus the flag that stands as the symbol of protection of the oppressed is indirectly made tributary to helping on the work of a society whose aim, when it is reached, is to make of the suffering and neglected, good citizens and good subjects of the flag.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HAIR

Its Great Profusion Was Always a Cause of Wonder.

Even at the age of 80 years Queen Victoria's hair was a marvel of luxuriance. The Court physicians, following Prof. Unna's discovery, undoubtedly treated Her Majesty's scalp with a germ destroying preparation that was not made public. It is now known however that the remedy for dandruff, the germ destroying element, is embodied in Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation on the market that does destroy the dandruff germ. Without dandruff hair will grow profusely and falling hair will be stopped. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send ten cents in stamps for a sample to the Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

County Council Will ABIDE BY DECISION IN Regard To Preston Site

After an All-Day Session Yesterday It Was Decided to Erect House of Refuge on the Site Originally Selected—Much Discussion at the Special Meeting Called to Discuss the Matter—Mr. Garbutt Held Mr. Moloney Responsible for Trouble.

Despite the report of Dr. R. Bruce Smith, the County House of Refuge, unless some unforeseen contingency arises, will be erected on the Preston property at Lakefield, the site originally selected by the Council and afterwards not approved of by the inspector. The decision to adhere to their first resolution was reached by the Council yesterday afternoon after a discussion of the question which lasted all morning and continued well on in the afternoon.

When the Council met after luncheon, the argument begun in the morning was resumed, and the rest seemed to have been beneficial to the councillors, as they returned to the attack with fresh vigour. It was only after a long discussion, however, that a motion was made and the matter at last brought to a head.

Mr. Moloney, in opening the argument said that as the inspector's report had condemned 25 acres of the property the Council should select a new site.

A discussion followed as to the exact meaning of the inspector's report. Mr. Shaw said that the communication did not approve or disapprove of the Preston property, and that it was very indefinite. Mr. Moloney, on the other hand, contended that the property had been condemned by the inspector.

Mr. Moloney said that since casting his vote for the Preston property he had learned from good authority that the soil was not suitable, and this opinion had been confirmed by the inspector's report. "The Braden and Strickland properties are away ahead of it," said Mr. Moloney.

Mr. Garbutt had armed himself with a memorial signed by about 80 residents of the Lakefield section, expressing the opinion that the Preston site was the one most suitable for House of Refuge purposes. The list included names of those who lived near the Preston property, and also near the Strickland property. Mr. Garbutt also had a copy of the resolution passed by the Lakefield Council supporting the Preston site, and censuring the action of "Douro Ratepayer." In connection with the latter, Mr. Garbutt referred to the damage caused by the letter from "Douro Ratepayer."

"I don't know who he is," said Mr. Moloney.

"Well, if he remains in Peterborough until the Council adjourns I'll introduce him to you," replied Mr. Garbutt, vigourously. "There would have been no trouble," he added, "had it not been for 'Douro Ratepayer,' and, Mr. Moloney, you alone are responsible," he went on, turning to Mr. Moloney.

Mr. Garbutt, continuing, asked if it was right to call a meeting of the Council after a site had been decided upon because one member had given way.

Mr. Stinson said that since voting for the Preston property Mr. Moloney had paid more attention to the opinion of outsiders than to the councillors.

Mr. Moloney reiterated the opinion that the Strickland property was away ahead of the Preston site.

Mr. Stinson said that he had been a resident of Smith Township nearly all his life and had been a member of the Smith Township Council for seven years. He thought that his knowledge of the Preston property should be accepted by Mr. Moloney.

Thus the controversy continued. Mr. Shaw suggested that the interested parties should make a motion, but no action was taken, and the Otonabee councillor proceeded to put on his overshoes and get ready for departure, saying that there was no use staying if the Council was not going to get down to business.

Mr. Buck said that as far as he was concerned he would be satisfied with a site near Peterborough if one could be secured, and Mr. Moloney expressed the same opinion.

Mr. Buck said that he knew of a property at Norwood which he was satisfied was $1,000 better than the Preston property, and he was prepared to pay the expenses of the Council to visit the same if they did not find his statement to be true.

Mr. Moloney said that since the inspector had condemned the site another should be selected. Personally, he would be satisfied with any good site, no matter where situated.

Mr. Moloney moved that the question of the site for the House of Refuge be reconsidered.

County Solicitor Peck questioned the legality of this motion, and said that the resolution passed in the Council in reference to selecting the Preston site should first be rescinded.

A resolution to this effect, moved by Mr. Moloney, seconded by Mr. Buck, was declared lost on the following vote:

Yeas—Councillors Moloney, Buck, Andrews.

Nays—Councillors Garbutt, Stinson, Carey, Shaw, Webster and Manogue.

Mr. Buck asked if the vote meant that the Preston site would be used as the site, and was informed that such was the case.

It was moved by Mr. Garbutt, seconded by Mr. Webster, that the inspector be notified of the decision reached by the Council.—Carried.

As there was no further business the Council then adjourned.

Is Mr. Denis Daly Enriched By A Hundred Thousand?

Well Known Peterborough Resident Received Word to That Effect--Negotiations are Now Going on With Solicitors in Dublin, Ireland--If the Right Man, Mr. Daly Will be Requested to go to Ireland.

Seldom is it that a person with so few exertions meets with such luck as has Mr. Denis Daly of this city. Not very long ago Mr. Daly, who during the past has not been particularly overburdened in pecuniary matters, received a letter acquainting him of the fact that he has fallen heir to a legacy of some $100,000. The good news comes from the solicitors who are winding up the case since the death of a near relative of Mr. Daly's, who died not long ago in Dublin, Ireland.

The fortunate man states that although he has been expecting a fortune from the Old Country some time during his life, he had no idea that it would flow in so soon and in such a quantity.

Mr. Daly, if he is the rightful heir and there seems little doubt to the contrary, will probably be asked to journey to the Emerald Isle to look after the property. He is taking the matter quite philosophically as if it were natural that luck should come his way and he only deplores the fact that it did not arrive before while he was in the bloom of youth and in a position to thoroughly enjoy it.

As a corroboration of the above, a well known gentleman of the city received another communication today regarding the same fortune. The letter requested the answering of a number of questions which if satisfactory to the solicitors in Dublin will leave Mr. Daly the undisputed possessor of 20,000 pounds. As far as is known at present he is the Denis Daly being searched for as the letter stated that he was supposed to be residing in Peterborough.

Negotiations in the matter will proceed at once and it is altogether likely that Mr. Daly will leave shortly for Ireland.

Petrolia Capitalists After Oil Property

Special to The Examiner

Warsaw, March 21st. — A report has appeared in these columns before to the effect that oil had been struck on the farm of Mr. D. Forsyth. It now appears that Mr. Forsyth has had some of the mixture taken from the well, examined by an analyst, who says that, without doubt, there is petroleum there. Many visitors from Petrolia, Ont., and other places have inspected the well. Recently two gentlemen from Pittsburg, Pa., called upon Mr. Forsyth with the intention of negotiating with him, and others regarding the matter. These gentlemen will not commence operations, however, until they have secured an option on 2,000 acres of land in the vicinity.

This is the way the matter stands now, and the prospects are that in the near future something will be done to commence work on the properties upon which oil is believed to exist.

Cavan Drain Will Now Be Completed

The Cavan drain, designed to drain the great Cavan swamp, and for the completion of which the Peterborough City Council passed a resolution advocating it, has received the sanction of the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature, and will be passed at this session. The Toronto News of last night reports its passage through the Private Bills Committee as follows:—

The township of Cavan, Durham county, presented a bill asking the confirmation of a drainage bylaw, which the Drainage Referee had found technically void, through a clerical error in the matter of obtaining signatures to the initiatory petition, and recommended the course of coming to the Legislature for redress. Counsel appeared on both sides and the argument centred on the interpretation of the Drainage Referee's judgment. The bill was reported.

The completion of this work will mean considerable to this city in increased business. It will shorten the road to Peterborough for a number of residents of Cavan, who, if the drain were completed would trade here, but who at the present time go to Lindsay, because it is nearer.

Final Instructions To Trent Deputation

Circulars Issued by Ald. Mason, Chairman of Finance Committee, and T. Q. Quartermaine, Secretary Board of Trade—The Rates Have Been Arranged—$3.80 to Ottawa From Peterborough.

Circulars have been issued giving particulars in reference to the deputation to Ottawa to urge the completion of the Trent Canal. Four hundred circulars have been printed and sent out. Of these three hundred are sent out by Ald. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, and one hundred by Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine, Secretary of the Board of Trade. The circular is as follows:—

An appointment has been made by Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., with the Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, and other Cabinet Ministers, to receive the Deputation regarding the Trent Waterway on Thursday, the 29th day of March inst., at 11 a.m.

It is urged that all Municipal Councils, Boards of Trade and other public bodies along the whole line of the Canal, that all Municipalities interested in the completion of this important work appoint delegates on the deputation, and that all delegates attend; and that other gentlemen who may not be so appointed, but who feel an interest in the object of the deputation, join with them in urging upon the Government the necessity for the completion of the Waterway without any delay. It is not necessary to say anything further to point out the great importance of this work to all Municipalities between its northern and southern outlets, and a united effort should be made to impress the Minister of Railways and Canals, and the other members of the Government, with the fact that the people interested are determined that the Waterway shall be completed as soon as possible. With this object in view it is hoped that the deputation will be a large one.

The delegates are asked to meet in the rotunda of the Russell House in Ottawa, at 9.30 o'clock on the morning of the 29th day of March to complete arrangements for the presentation of the case to the Minister. A memorial will be prepared and submitted to this meeting for approval.

The following rates have been secured from the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway for the delegates:

Per C. P. R.—From points north and west to join delegation at Peterborough, to a party of 10 or more persons one fare and one-third for the return trip to Peterborough, good for three days. (See rate from Peterborough below.)

Per G.T.R.—From all points on the line north, east and west to join delegation at Peterborough, to a party of 10 or more persons, one fare and one-third for the return trip to Peterborough, good for three days. (See rate from Peterborough below.)

Above rates will apply to all places on the line to Ottawa and return for three days.

Per C. P. R.—Rate from Peterborough to Ottawa, round trip, good for three days, $3.80. Special train leaves Peterborough at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, 28th March, 1906, for Ottawa, and returning, leaves Ottawa for Peterborough on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, arriving here at midnight, or by any regular train up to and including Friday, 30th March, 1906.

Per C.P.R.—Return tickets from Indian River to Ottawa, $3.05; from Norwood, $3.45; from Havelock, $3.35; from Blairton, $3.20.

Trades And Labour Deputation To Appear

To-night the Board of Works will hold a meeting, when a deputation from the Trades and Labour Council will meet the Board to present the resolutions passed by that body, in favour of constructing sewers by day labour instead of by contract, the method employed in the past.

Ex-Ald. Crowe will head the deputation, and will be the spokesman. They will present reasons why, in their opinion, the interests of the city would be served by performing this work by day labour under the control of the city officials.

Extension Of Railway To Stony Lake Authorized

The bill of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company authorizing that company to extend its line to Stony Lake, and also to extend the time for the completion of the line for five years, was passed by the Private Bills Committee yesterday. The bill provides that the company may extend its line from Clear Lake to Stony Lake, through the townships of Douro, Dummer and Smith. The company may use compressed air, electricity or other motive power, an extension of five years for the completion of the line was asked. The committee inserted a provision that work on one of the branches must be commenced within three years.

Mr. R. M Denniston, Peterborough, appeared for the company and stated that the company had the surveys made and estimates of the cost prepared, and were considering the extension. The committee passed the bill.

57th Band At Brock Street Rink

To-night the 57th Band will be at the Brock street rink. The ice is remaining in good shape, and it is as good now as it has been all winter. Those who go to this rink to-night will be assured of first-class ice.

Zutoo

Regarding your Zutoo Tablets I beg to say: I have been a sufferer from headache since childhood and have used all, or nearly all, of the so-called "cures" on the market, till warned by my physician to discontinue their use on account of their bad effects on the heart. Some months since my attention was called to your Zutoo Tablets and I have been using them ever since with the most gratifying results. I find they cure a "sick" or "nervous" headache in a few minutes and leave no bad effect. My family use them whenever needed with equally good results. I have frequently given them to friends who were suffering from headache and they never fail to give quick relief. I find them a good remedy for "sour" stomach as well as headache. I always carry them in my grip on the road and would not be without them at any cost.

THE IDEAL WIFE

Shapes the Destiny of Men—The Influence of a Healthy Woman Cannot Be Overestimated.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes—because she has the qualities which inspire admiration, respect and love.

There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature. The influence of women glorious in the possession of perfect physical health upon men and upon the civilization of the world could never be measured. Because of them men have attained the very heights of ambition; because of them even thrones have been established and destroyed.

What a disappointment then, to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head! A sickly, half-dead-and-alive woman, especially when she is the mother of a family, is a damper to all joyousness in the home, and a drag upon her husband.

The cost of a wife's constant illness is a serious drain upon the funds of a household, and too often all the doctoring does no good.

If a woman finds her energies are flagging, and that everything tires her, dark shadows appear under her eyes, her sleep is disturbed by horrible dreams; if she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, or despondency, she should take means to build her system up at once by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This great remedy for women has done more in the way of restoring health to the women of America than all other medicines put together. It is the safeguard of woman's health.

Following we publish, by request, a letter from a young wife.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, of 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so that I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for other women who are in poor health and ailing.

Its benefits begin when its use begins. It gives strength and vigor from the start, and surely makes sick women well and robust.

Remember Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of woman's ills. This fact is attested to by the thousands of letters from grateful women which are on file in the Pinkham laboratory.

Women should remember that a cure for all female diseases actually exists, and that cure is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

CONCERNING LABOUR MATTERS

Labour Conditions Are Satisfactory

Ald. Johnston's Monthly Report Is Very Encouraging.

The report of Ald. W. J. Johnston to the Labour Gazette, which, for the month of March, is just at hand, is a change from that of other months. Ald. Johnston has reported on the district as well as on the city labour conditions, and the report is decidedly interesting. The introduction says: During February labour has been well employed, especially in the factories, some of which were working 24 hours per day to keep up with orders. The first week or two of the month being very cold, the ice men laid in a good stock of ice, which, while it will not be as large as in former years, was better than was expected on account of the long period of mild weather. This gave active employment to a number of men. The dredging of the Otonabee River along the waterfront was still in active operation. The street railway report shows that during 1905, 600,000 passengers were handled, and during January, 1906, 40 per cent. more business done than in January, 1905.

Speaking of the future, Ald. Johnston, in his report, says: Prospects for the coming season are exceptionally bright in this city. The steady influx of people who have come to work in the large industries was a favourable feature. The Canadian General Electric Works, with 1,000 hands; the American Cereal mill with 500 hands, Cordage Works with 200 hands, Auburn Woollen Co., 150 hands, and all other industries of smaller dimensions are growing in numbers and capacity.

Clarke And Raymond Were Discharged

No Evidence That They Stole Goods From Mr. R. A. Kidd's Premises.

At the Police Court this morning two junk gatherers, Chas. Clarke and H. Raymond, by name, were charged with stealing several articles from Mr. R. A. Kidd, 491 Aylmer. The prisoners were tried on the joint charge of the theft and both pleaded not guilty. Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for Clarke and Mr. Ozias De Laplante for Raymond. The alleged theft was committed on Friday, the 2nd of March. The goods were taken from the woodshed and consisted of two sheets, a blanket, a barrel full of clothing and other articles. There is no lock on the door, simply a hook on the inside. On Friday the 2nd was the first day that the goods were missed. Mr. Kidd identified one of the rubbers that were stolen, in a local junk yard. Clarke had been at his house different times. Wm. Menzies has charge of Hick's Company Woodyard near Mr. Kidd's residence. Saw the two prisoners filling a bag in Mr. Humphrey's stable two doors from Mr. Kidd's residence on Friday last. He didn't see them at Mr. Kidd's place. At this juncture Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, expressed the opinion that no case had been made out and the prisoners were discharged. His Worship remarked that junk dealers are very useful men to the community if they perform their duties honestly. He said he would deal heavily with any who took advantage of their visits to the premises of citizens of committing thefts.

AN OLD IDEA

Shown to be Absolutely False by Modern Science.

People used to think that baldness was one of those things which are handed down from generation to generation, from father to son — Just like a family heirloom.

Science has shown the falseness of this belief by proving that baldness itself is not a constitutional disease, but the result of a germ invasion of which only Herpicide can effectually rid the scalp.

Washing only cleanses the scalp of dandruff. It doesn't kill the germ.

"Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

Newbro's Herpicide will do this in every case. It is also a delightful dressing.

Lamented Death Of John Miller In Calgary, Alta.

Former Keene Resident Passed Away in the Northwest—Was Well Known in Peterborough—Annual Skaters' Dance at Keene Was an Enjoyable Affair—Fine Programme at Epworth League Social.

OTHER NEWS NOTES FROM OTONABEE

Special to The Examiner.

Keene, March 20.—Mr. William Campbell received word by telegraph on Monday morning of the death from lung trouble, of his brother-in-law, Mr. John Miller, in Calgary, Alta. on Sunday. The deceased had been in ill-health for several years, and for some time back has been gradually sinking. Two weeks ago his sister, Mrs. W. Campbell, was hastily summoned to his bedside.

Mr. Harry Cruikshanks left Monday from Calgary in charge of the corpse, and the funeral will be held in Peterborough, interment taking place in the Little Lake Cemetery on the arrival of the corpse, probably Friday.

Deceased was the youngest son of the late James Miller, for many years reeve of the Township of Otonabee. He is survived by one brother, Dr. Thomas Miller, of Medford, Wisconsin, and two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Campbell, of Keene, and Mrs. Henry Cruikshanks, of Calgary.

Mr. Miller was well known in Peterborough, having attended the Collegiate Instituto in this town, and later served as a clerk in the law office of Mr. D. W. Dumble. He was a graduate of Queen's University, but, on graduation, instead of practicing law, took up newspaper work. He was engaged at various times on the staffs of The Globe, Mail and Empire, and latterly The News. About three years ago, owing to ill-health, he was forced to give up work, and since that time had resided in Calgary, except last summer, which he spent in Keene. Deceased was 45 years of age.

Mr. Geo. Byron and family left on Tuesday for Manitoba, where Mr. Byron is taking up land.

Mr. Harry Burnham left last week for Edmonton, Alta.

Keene hockey team went to Lakefield last night to play a return match with the team of that place.

The annual skaters' dance was held in the town hall Friday evening. A large crowd attended and a very pleasant evening was spent. Messrs. Miller and Macfarlane supplied the music, and Mr. Denis Kennody acted as floor manager. Supper was served in the Council Chamber.

Mrs. (Dr.) Harold Kindred spent Sunday in Havelock the guest of her parents.

Miss Jennie Humphries is visiting friends in Cavanville.

Mr. Arthur Nelson, of Parry Sound, is visiting friends in Keene.

Miss Belle Humphries, of Hastings, who has been visiting at Mr. Robert Humphries', returned home on Monday.

Mrs. Sam. Mathers, of Toronto, spent a few days in Keene last week the guest of Mrs. Wilfred Howson.

Mrs. Hagerman, of Denver, Col., is the guest of Miss Bessie Reid.

Mr. Andrew Shearer, jr., left last week for the Northwest.

Mr. Herb. Miller is moving this week to North Monaghan, where he has rented a farm.

Master Harold Wilson, who has been visiting his parents, returned to Belleville Monday.

Misses Elizabeth and Kate McNevin, of Peterborough, were the guests of their grandmother, Mrs. P. McNeil, last week.

Miss Anderson, of Ashburnham, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Jennie Renwick.

Mr. Wilfred Howson was in Norwood on Monday attending the funeral of the late Thomas Howson.

Owing to the inclement weather on Monday the Epworth League social, held in the town hall that night, was not as well patronized as it might otherwise have been. However, quite a number managed to get out through the storm and were well repaid for their daring. The programme was as follows:

Recitation, Miss Edna Wedlock.
Recitation, Percy Puc.
Song, Richard Wedlock.
Duet, Misses Fern and Belle Howson.
Duet, Misses Amy and Marion Macfarlane.
Recitation, Miss Lola Kempt.
Recitation, Miss Flora Maclachlan.
Accompanists, Misses Mabel Harrison and Mabel McCann.

Dr. W. T. Harrison acted as chairman. After the programme refreshments were served.

PILES Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and guaranteed cure for each and every form of Itching, bleeding and protruding piles. See testimonials in the press and ask your neighbors about it. Now Knows That

CONSTIPATION

Can Be Cured

"Fruit-a-tives" also look away that severe pain in the kidneys.

No cathartic, purgative, pill, powder or salt will cure Constipation. "Fruit-a-tives" will. Cathartics and purgatives do not act on the liver. They irritate the lining of the bowels. This irritation does make the bowels move, but it so tires and inflames the muscles that they won't act again until irritated by another dose of purgative.

Bile from the liver is the only thing that makes the bowels move naturally. "Fruit-a-tives" don't act on the bowels at all. They tone up and invigorate the liver—enable the liver to send more bile into the bowels—and make the liver so strong that it will do this regularly every day. And bile is nature's only purgative.

Testimonial of A. McBain, Ottawa, Ontario.

Chronic Constipation and Kidney disease Cured by "Fruit-a-tives."

To Fruit-a-tives Limited, Bank St., Ottawa, Ont.)

OTTAWA, Aug. 24th, 1905.

"I was a great sufferer for years with what seemed to be incurable constipation, and I tried every known remedy and several physicians but all the pills and medicine I took seemed to do me harm. I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I can truthfully say they have absolutely cured me. I was also affected with a nasty pain over my kidneys while the constipation lasted and "Fruit-a-tives" have entirely cured that pain also. My stomach also was in bad shape, my digestion was poor, with sour eructations and belching wind and "Fruit-a-tives" cured my stomach, for now I have no trouble in that way. I cannot say too much in favor of "Fruit-a-tives" and I wish to recommend them to any one suffering with constipation and stomach trouble, and also to any one with constant pains over the back or kidneys."

(Sgd) A. McBAIN,
76 Victoria St., Ottawa.

This is what "Fruit-a-tives" are doing all the time. Not a day passes in which someone, who has tried pills and tablets and salts in vain, does not have the same experience with "Fruit-a-tives" that Mr. McBain had.

"Fruit-a-tives" are a concentrated combination of fruit juices in tablet form. They contain no calomel, cascara, senna, jalap. They are nature's laxative and liver tonic. They cure Constipation in the only way that it can be cured—by making the liver healthy and causing the bowels to receive their daily supply of bile.

Druggists everywhere have "Fruit-a-tives." If, for any reason, your druggist has none, send direct to the company. 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Mailed postpaid on receipt of price.

Make Your Money Earn More

Don't you want to invest your money to the best possible advantage?

Why put it in a bank or a mortage at 3½, 4, 5 or even 6. p c. when we can make it earn 20 p. c. for you.

No, this is no fake, neither is it a mining scheme.

It's simply a straight, legitimate business proposition—a copper refinery.

And the only one in Canada.

Perhaps you don't know that copper is one of the most valuable metals used.

Well, it is and the demand far exceeds the supply.

But we can get all we want, if we can only secure capital to increase our plant.

To do this, we're selling a limited number of shares of The Stock of the Montreal Copper Co., Ltd., at $100 each.

Send for circular, it explains how 17⅔ p. c. was paid on the capital invested last year.

Educative Talk On "Cathedrals"

Given by Rev. Mr. Major of All Saints.

At All Saints' church last night the rector, Rev. Mr. Major, gave the third of a series of addresses and stereopticon views, illustrating each portion of the talk.

The subject last night was "The Cathedrals," and it was very ably undertaken by Rev. Mr. Major, assisted by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of St. Luke's, who looked after the presentation of the pictures.

Mr. Major's address was both an interesting and educative one and was eagerly listened to by a large congregation, who were more than delighted with the speaker's lucid description and information in connection with each picture.

Photographs of about 50 cathedrals in all were thrown on the canvas, interior and exterior views being produced, and an idea of the architecture of each was given. Also any special features, curiosities or historic events regarding any of them were told, which produced much interest among his hearers.

Among the stereopticon pictures of the cathedrals reproduced on the screen were the following: Canterbury, Chichester, Winchester, Salisbury, Exeter, Truro, Hereford, Gloucester, Bath, Wells, St. David, St. Asaph, Bangor, Chester, Manchester, Carlyle, Durham, Ripon, York, Lincoln, Lichfield, Ely, Peterborough, St. Alban's, Norwich, Oxford, Worchester, Rochester, and St. Paul's (London).

Rev. Mr. Major will give the fourth address in this interesting series next week. The subject will be "Greenland," and no doubt will be a very profitable one.

Burleigh Falls Power Development Plans

Mr. Culverwell Says That Work Will be Commenced May First—Main Line to Pass Through Peterborough—7,000 Horse Power to be Generated—Says He Was Opposed by Peterborough Power Owners.

An interview is reported with Mr. J. A. Culverwell in the Lindsay Post, as follows:—

Mr. J. Culverwell, managing director of the Central Ontario Power Co., was in town yesterday. He stated that he is satisfied that work and development will be started at the Company's property at Burleigh Falls before May 1st. The main line will pass through Peterborough, Millbrook, Bowmanville and Oshawa; the two last places have applied for some 1800 horse power. It is also the intention to run a branch line from a point north of Millbrook up to Omemee and Lindsay. There is ample power, as Buckhorn Falls power will be tied to Burleigh Falls circuit together giving a capacity of some 7,000 horse power in the dry season—that is according to the estimates of competing power owners at Peterborough. Mr. Culverwell referred to the strong opposition he had always been up against by Peterborough power owners and interested Toronto people—that was always the trouble of the delayed development.

Mr. Culverwell hoped to see more Lindsay people show a disposition to help forward the entry of Burleigh and Buckhorn power to this district. Incidentally he spoke of the great deputation going to Ottawa on the 29th to press for the completion of the Trent Canal, the question of outlet to be forbidden. He hoped that Lindsay was alive to the needs of water communication and would also send a deputation.

Warsaw Citizens In A Disturbance

Special to The Examiner.

Warsaw, March 21.—A dispute arising between two prominent business men over an account, was (the cause of a little disturbance here yesterday morning. The mix-up which resulted did not prove satisfactory to both parties, so the case will be heard before Magistrate Watts at 10 o'clock on Friday in the town hall.

MINISTERS OF THE GOSPEL SPEAK OUT

TELL THE PUBLIC OF THE GREAT WORK PSYCHINE IS DOING.

Psychine in its great work of healing those diseases that lead to consumption, and even consumption itself, has naturally come under the notice of a large number of the clergy, and many of them have felt it their duty to let the public know what splendid results come from its use. Here are a few instances of what clergymen say:

REV. JOS. ODERY, formerly of Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto.

"I have found Psychine to be one of the best remedies for throat and chest trouble that I know. It is prompt, efficacious and reliable."

Rev. Wm. H. Stevens, Paisley, Ont.

"Psychine seemed just the stimulant my system needed. I shall add my testimony as to its efficacy at every opportunity."

Rev. R. M. Browne, Amherst Head, N. S.

"I have often recommended Psychine since taking it myself, for I believe it is a cure for the troubles you specify."

Rev. J. J. Rice, 51 Walker Ave., Toronto.

"My wife suffered two very severe attacks of La Grippe, one of which threatened rapid consumption, there being a hereditary tendency in that direction. They were speedily corrected by Psychine, leaving no trace of the disease."

Rev. Chas. Stirling, Bath, N. B.

"I have used Psychine in my family; the results were marvelous. I have visited people who state they never used its equal. I have no hesitation in recommending it."

Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, Markdale, Ont.

"I have taken two bottles of Psychine, and am pleased to say that I am greatly improved in health. I was troubled with my throat, but now I find it about restored to its normal condition. I find my work very much less taxing. I have reason to believe Psychine is all that is claimed for it."

Where sickness is there the minister of the gospel is found. His is the opportunity to note how the sufferer got relief, what furnished the relief, and what caused the cure. Large numbers of the clergy of Canada recommend Psychine. They know, out of their experience, that it is the greatest preventive of consumption, the greatest builder-up of weak men and women, science has given to the world. Psychine is 50c per bottle. Larger sizes $1 and $2. At all druggists.

Lasswade Couple's Narrow Escape

Mr. R. Knox and Sister Almost Met Death.

Special to the Examiner

Lasswade, March 16th.—Mr. G. Woodbeck is expected home from New Ontario this week.

Mr. J. B. Owen has returned with his family from Ridgetown.

Mr. R. Knox and his sister, Mrs. W. Hawley, had a narrow escape during the past week. They were driving on Loon Lake, when their horse broke through the ice, but they succeeded in getting the animal out.

Mr. J. B. Owen is busy repainting the Brooks House, preparing to occupying it for the summer.

Miss E. McCutcheon was the guest of Miss V. Prouty on Friday evening.

A number of the young people from Glenelda and Fordyswills, spent a very enjoyable evening at Mr. W. Whitney's on Friday, the 9th. The evening was spent playing cards and in dancing.

Lakefield Won A Close Game

Defeated Young's Point by 5-4 —Other Young's Point News.

Special to The Examiner.

Young's Point, March 17th.—On Friday evening the 13th, inst., our boys drove down to Lakefield and played an exciting game with a team there. The play was very close, the first half ending in favour of the Point by three goals to two. In the second half Lakefield scored three goals to their opponents' one, the game ending 5-4 in favour of Lakefield. The following are the teams:—

Lakefield—Goal, McInnes; point, Lewis; cover, Tanner; forwards, Ridpath, Simpson, Crawford, Pullen.

Young's Point—Goal, W. Walsh; point, W. Young; cover, Ellis; forwards, Fitzgerald, Delaney, Walker and P. Young.

Referee—W. Hurl.

Our boys do very well at hockey considering some of them never had skates on until this winter.

We are sorry to learn of Mr. and Mrs. Battersby's departure from here. Rev. Mr. Battersby who was the rector of the Church of England here the past year is called to the parish of Pickering near Toronto. We extend to them our best wishes in their new home.

Some of our people drove over to Ennismore on the 17th and attended an entertainment there in the town hall.

Mr. Fred. Young was visiting friends in Peterborough this week.

Mr. Frank Leiter of the Rathbun Co. paid us a visit last week.

Extremely cold weather on the 17th and hard on the fall wheat.

Miss May McPherson, of Peterborough, is visiting with Mrs. Jas. Carrol here.

Mr. Jas. Carrol attended his brother's funeral (Mr. Peter Carrol) near Cobourg last week. The deceased died very suddenly and his death was not expected by the family. We extend our sympathy to Mr. Carrol in his sad loss.

Resolution Of Condolence

At the regular monthly meeting of Royal Scarlet Chapter of West Peterborough, held on March 14th, the following letter of condolence was passed:

"Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, to remove from the scene of earth a loving and devoted father, one who has stood up for the rights of his country and his God;

"Be it therefore resolved, that this Scarlet Chapter extend to Comp. Kindred and the members of the family circle, our heartfelt sympathy in the loss you have sustained.

"Ties on earth are severed, only to be cemented more strongly together in the heaven in which we hope to meet with loved ones gone before.

"Signed on behalf of the Scarlet Chapter.

A REAL PREFERENCE.

Those who seek to discredit the loyal action of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in giving a preference to British goods coming into this country, assert that it is in practice, no preference, but a mere high-sounding name. But there is evidence available to show that the preference really prefers, and that its offer without huckstering conditions, was not only a loyal but a patriotic action on the part of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, inasmuch as it not only represents a dutiful attitude towards the Mother Country, but also means increased respect on the part of the latter for Canada, with solid advantages arising out of such conditions. That the preference is really a preference is shown by the report of the Chamberlain Tariff Commission. This Commission, after taking the evidence of thousands of British manufacturers concerned with the textile trade, in in concluding the report sizes up the matter as follows:

"That, largely as the result of keen United States and German competition in the Canadian market, the export of British manufactures to Canada declined rapidly and steadily until about 1897, when the Preference was first adopted, and that since 1897 this decline has been turned into a substantial and continuous increase."

CANADA'S MINERAL WEALTH.

The report of the Geological Survey of Canada for 1905, has not been published yet, but the officials have issued a preliminary statement of the mineral production which is highly encouraging. The value of the yield for the past year was the highest on record, being over $68,000,000, as compared with $60,343,165 in 1904. The gold output of the Yukon decreased by $2,000,000, so that the total increase in the production of other minerals was $10,000,000, a most substantial showing. The figures in a series of years demonstrate the wonderful development of the mineral industry in Canada:

1905	(over) $68,000,000
1904	60,343,165
1903	62,800,434
1902	63,885,999
1901	60,339,158
1900	64,618,268
1899	49,584,027
1898	38,697,021
1897	28,661,430
1896	22,584,513
1895	20,648,964
1894	19,931,158
1893	20,035,082
1892	16,623,417
1891	18,976,616
1890	16,763,353
1889	14,013,113
1888	12,518,894
1887	11,321,331
1886	10,221,255

The influence of the Yukon gold discoveries began to be felt in 1897. The output of this region reached its highest point in 1900, or 1901, and has since been declining owing to the exhaustion of placer mining. It is believed that the decline is only temporary, and that more scientific methods, and the installation of modern machinery, will prove that the Klondyke is a permanent producer, on an increasing scale.

Notwithstanding the considerable reduction in the gold output, the aggregate mineral production of the country was greater last year than in the palmiest year of the Klondyke. The principal increases in 1905 over the preceding year were: Copper, $2,117,875; lead, $1,016,863; nickel, $3,331,373; silver, $1,558,862; and corundum, $1,068,384.

Coal maintains its position as the leading industry, with 2577 of the total mineral production — a drop, however, from 27.62 in 1904. Gold shows a greater proportional decrease from 27.40 to 21.14, while nickel which was fifth in 1904, with 7.02 per cent., is now third, with 11.02. Copper remains fourth, but has risen from 8.86 to 10.83, but brick, stone and lime, from third on the list have dropped to fifth, the percentage being 9.67 and 8.62.

The Cobalt discoveries account for the large increase in silver, but it is satisfactory to learn that the development is an all-round one, nearly every mineral showing an advance over the previous year. Yet only the surface of Canadian mineral wealth has been scratched. The silver deposits in the Cobalt district were stumbled upon by workers on the new Temiscaming Railway. Great mineral wealth may also be brought to light by the construction of the new Transcontinental Railway, which is to traverse thousands of miles of an almost unexplored country

Thirty-Five Thousand
SCHOOL GRANT IN RELATION To The City Taxpayers

High-Handed Action of the City Council—Unnecessarily Large Grant Made for School Building in an Undesirable Section of the City, Without Consent of Ratepayers.

The ratepayers of the good city of Peterborough have a smaller rate of taxation than last year, but they cannot count on any extra extravagant expenditure on account of the saving of taxes, for the people will pay considerably more taxes than in 1905, for the amount of assessment has been largely increased—by nearly a million of dollars. If the rate of taxation had been reduced in proportion it would have been 15 or 16 mills this year instead of 18.

The fancied reduction of taxation represented by a lower rate should not justify any extravagance in expenditure, but it has led to it.

There is a larger amount put in the estimates. As a rule the tendency in corporations, as in individuals, is to spend more the more they have, and if this tendency is not checked in regard to our City Fathers, civic expenditures and our rate of taxation will soon be exorbitant.

We have the city threatened with an unnecessarily great expenditure for a public school building in a part of the city where so large and expensive a building is not at present needed.

There is no doubt that additional public school accommodation is needed in the southern part of the city, and must be provided.

But, in reference to all the other demands—in many cases equally urgent—the expenditure for this accommodation should be gauged to our requirements and to the other demands upon our financial resources.

The ratepayers do not see the necessity of expending $35,000 for a site and building when ample accommodation can be provided for, at most, $20,000, or perhaps even less.

While the South Ward Central is overcrowded, it is not so much overcrowded as to need the construction of a twelve-roomed school at the extravagant figure of $35,000.

There is not the school population district to draw from tributary to a school of the size mentioned in the place selected.

To the south, with the Township of North Monaghan 300 or 400 feet distant, there is no school population. To the east there will be found some children.

To the west, near the western boundary, there will be fewer still. To the north there is considerable school population, but a large proportion of it is not public school population.

At one time it was thought that the erection of large manufacturing establishments on the Sugar Company property would result in a large increase in population tributary to a new school, but that expectation is disappointed, at least, is much less hopeful.

So that, everything considered, the expenditure of $35,000 on a site and school building for this part of the city seems to be extravagant—because it is not needed — a smaller sum would be ample—and ill-advised, especially in view of the fact that the ratepayers have not been, and are not to be, consulted in the matter.

There is much reason to believe that, if the people who pay were consulted, they would not sanction such an expenditure. Ratepayers are surprised at the easy compliance of the City Council with the demands of the School Board.

The City Council took it upon themselves to sanction the expenditure—to hand out $35,000 of the people's money for a school building of a size in excess of present requirements—without hesitation, and also without taking any heed of the people's wishes in the matter.

The City Council did a good deal of cheese-paring to reduce the cost of a firehall which the people sanctioned. The plans were revised, altered and cut down to save a few hundred dollars upon a building to cost only $10,000, and not considered in excess of the present requirements of the city.

But we have them voting without a wink, $35,000, without an effort to modify the cost, and without a thought of the consent of the ratepayers, or rather, rushing the grant through by exercise of the power vested in them by the statute, without the consent of the taxpayers, who have to furnish the money.

There should be some means to make the School Board and the City Council realize their responsibility to the ratepayers.

We have had too much high-handed disregard of the people's will.

The mayor, the head of the corporation, opposed the carrying out of the people's will, expressed deliberately at the polls in favour of the union of Ashburnham and Peterborough.

The people voted in favour of paying for pavement construction by general tax. The City Council ignored this vote, and the mode of payment against which the people voted is maintained in defiance of the popular will.

In regard to the $35,000 grant for a school in the south part of the city—an expenditure clearly in excess of the requirements of the locality, the City Council evidently felt it superfluous to ask the consent of the people, for if the people opposed the expenditure of so large an amount, there was a good precedent for defying the people and acting in opposition to what they had decided they wanted.

If the City Council had had reason to think that the people would approve of the expenditure, then their course would be more defensible.

But when they had reason to know that there was great disapproval, not only of so large an expenditure, but of the site, they might have shown some deference to the wishes of the people—some respect to their masters and their makers.

There is great need for more school accommodation in the south part of the city—but there should be reasonable expenditure in providing it, and moreover, a site should be provided which will be more central and, as far as the distribution of school population is concerned, more convenient.

Though the mayor and Council, in regard to the vote on the general tax form of payment for pavements, may have thought that the people "didn't know what they wanted," yet they will find that the matter of granting the large sum of $35,000 for an excessively large school building will not be so easily disposed of.

All the people won't be defied all the time.

Invitation Is Extended To Rev. Mr. Bright

Unanimous Decision Reached by Office Bearers of St. Paul's.

The office-bearers of St. Paul's church met in the lecture room last night for the purpose of considering the advisability of extending a call to Rev. Alfred Bright, B.A., of Montreal. The meeting was unanimous in its agreement, and endorsed the decision of the special committee appointed for this purpose, and have decided to extend an invitation to Rev. Mr. Bright.

Those who were fortunate in hearing Mr. Bright on Sunday last were very much pleased with him. He is a young man and is a forcible and very fluent speaker, and the choice of the church officers is no doubt in harmony with that of the congregation.

Mr. Bright has attended Queen's College, Kingston, where he received his degree. He has since been in Montreal studying theology. His duties will commence here about the middle of April.

Rev. Dr. Symonds Will Remain In Montreal

Says There is no Foundation for Rumour of Removal.

Readers of The Examiner will remember that a few days ago a report was published to the effect that Rev. Dr. Symonds was a probable successor of Rev. Dr. Rainsford, rector of St. George's church, New York. To-day a representative of The Examiner in Montreal called on Rev. Dr. Symonds, and the latter said there was absolutely no foundation for the rumour. He was in Plainfield, N. J., preaching for an old college friend, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, formerly of Peterborough, and was not in New York, as rumoured. He did not speak to Mr. J. P. Morgan when he was in Montreal, but simply saw him in the Cathedral.

Swaisland, son of Mr. Swaisland, Port Hope, in St. Mark's, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Cobb, the rector. There was a large attendance at the wedding. The bride wore a wedding dress of ivory Louisine, with satin ribbon trimmings and point lace yoke. She also wore a cream chiffon hat with ostrich plumes. The maid of honour, Miss Marguerite Metcalfe, sister of the bride, wore a dress of cream voile, embroidered with green and pink, accordeon pleated chiffon blouse, with bolero on the embroidered voile. She wore a large cream hat with green plumes, and carried a large bouquet of pink roses. The best man was Dr. W. W. McKinley, of Port Hope. The ushers were Messrs. B. Hemmick, of Port Hope, and Mr. McLean of Newcastle. After a bridal tour to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Swaisland will reside in Toronto.

Easy to Let A Cold Run On

UNTIL IT DEVELOPS INTO PNEUMONIA OR CONSUMPTION—EASY TO CURE A COLD IF YOU USE

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

It is easy to let a cold run on. You may say with others that you always let a cold take care of itself. There is a danger of following this plan once too often. At this season of the year the lungs seem to be unusually susceptible to disease, and before you suspect it pneumonia or consumption has seated itself in your system. It is possible that you have tried the cough mixtures which druggists offer to their customers. These may do well enough for slight colds, or tickling in the throat, but they are powerless in the presence of serious disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is far more than a cough remedy. It cures the cold as well as loosening and easing the cough. It takes the pains out of the bones, and reaches the very seat of disease when there is pain and tightness in the chest. It would not be too much to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has saved thousands of people from pneumonia and consumption. There is not a village or hamlet in Ontario where this famous family treatment is not recognized as a most unusually effective cure for croup, bronchitis, asthma, coughs and colds.

Mrs. R. D. Turner, Broadview, N. W. T., writes: "We have seven children and have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for every one of them and with good results. We get four bottles at a time and find it a good remedy to break up a cold on the lungs."

Don't take anything said to be just as good. There is no throat and lung remedy just as good as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Remember this when buying and insist on having Dr. Chase's; 25 cents a bottle. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. J. Tully of Bobcaygeon, is in the city to-day.

The Companies Writing Up Their Stocks

Insurance Companies Methods of Balancing Losses.

CAPITAL WAS IMPAIRED

Companies That Did Business at a Loss —Stock That Cost Nothing Valued an Asset—Subscriptions to Charities, Etc., Illegal — Insurance Companies Which Figured In Insurance Investigation.

Ottawa, March 21.—Mr. Blackadar, Chief Actuary in the Insurance Department, had with him yesterday a basket of note books, containing memoranda of inspecting officers covering inspections of different companies for a period of years.

Mr. Shepley picked out a notebook at random and briefly questioned witness on methods of inspection as revealed therein.

Several companies had given grants for charities and the Department, he said, took the ground that it was ultra vires of the companies to do this. The companies justified the grants, but they were charged to shareholders' account and the matter had been allowed to rest.

The Royal Victoria.

The Royal Victoria was the first company considered. After considering briefly the items in the company's statement, Mr. Shepley read extracts from Mr. Blackadar's report. The report said that the commissions paid were about 5 per cent. for renewal policies, and 40 per cent. for new policies. This was, in Mr. Blackadar's opinion, an average rate. The salaries paid were considered too large, being 16 2-3 per cent. of the total premium income.

Witness could not say what he would consider a fair proportion of premium income to be paid in salaries. Witness said that 5 per cent. was the figure which renewal premiums usually cost the companies.

The report said that the business of the Royal Victoria had been carried on at a loss. The capital had been much impaired and if methods were not improved the whole capital would soon be wiped out and a new call for capital would be necessary. The death rate had been abnormally high and this called for strict attention. The superintendent had had the report for eight months, but had had no communication with the company. A letter from Mr. MacKay, one of the presidents, had eventually put the superintendent in motion and he sent a copy of the report to the company.

Mr. Blackadar did not feel competent to answer the question of what the superintendent's course had been after receiving the report.

The Home Life.

The Home Life was considered briefly in the same manner. The building in Toronto had been entered in the assets at a good increase over cost price. Without this appreciation the last statement showed capital payments of $103,-592.00.

The inspector's report said that the cost of management had been excessively high. The building had cost them $26,000 in cash, and a mortgage for $150,000. At the end of 1905 this building was entered in the assets as $325,-000. That is, they wrote up their equity in the building from $26,000 to $175,000.

The Home Life held $44,000 bonds of the Grand Valley Railway Co.) which cost them $37,110. These bonds carried 50 per cent. bonus stock. The Home Life had lent the railway company $18,-000 over and above the amount of the bonds during the year. This had been made on no security and repaid on Dec. 31st in cash. Other loans had been made since without security.

Several items in the assets were considered in detail. For instance, they held $30,500, stock or bonds in the Ontario Electric Light, Heat & Power Co., valued at $11,350. This is a stock company, formed from among the officers of the Home Life, which company acquired Ontario Electric property in endeavoring to redeem a loss. The property is being operated by the Home Life until an opportunity arises of disposing of it. An independent valuation of the Home Life building had set the value over and above the mortgage, as $125,-000 instead of $175,000, and the superintendent had reduced this item in assets by $50,000.

Certain correspondence was read from the Department to the Home Life, advising the company of irregularities discovered in the course of inspection. Witness did not know what had been done, as the company had not been inspected since.

The Central Company.

Mr. Shepley read Mr. Blackadar's report on the Central Insurance Co. dated in February, 1905. This company had not been licensed, and the examination was made before granting a license, because it was not regarded as a very strong company, and this is not customary. Witness had not struck an exact balance, as he had not corrected several trivial errors which were unimportant. A recent statement of the company showed a total income, with premium on capital stock as $60,707, with disbursements of $70,802. Premium income was $42,000, and expenses had been $60,000. Other had features of the statement were commented on by examining counsel. This company, though with a capital impaired, was granted a Dominion license on condition that the company called in for cash, their capital stock.

The Sun Life Co.

To Mr. Shepley, Mr. Blackadar said that in examining the affairs of the Sun Life Insurance Co., he found an asset approximating $500,000, consisting of Illinois Traction common stock.

The books of the company itself showed that this stock was a mere bonus that accompanied some $350,000 of preferred stock and cost their insurance company nothing. Witness had expressed a doubt as to its "written up" value of $473,739, but his doubts were soon resolved. He said that he consulted an "individual" who was familiar with this security, and learned from him that the Sun Co.'s appraisement was quite conservative. He did not know the name of the man, nor had he seen him since, but he said the officers of the Sun Co. sent him. The Sun Co. had invested largely in Ohio Radials; these and other United States securities shrunk enormously. There was a deficit of $553,000. This deficit was promptly covered by writing up or affixing an arbitrary value to silent assets, or stock in the way of business that had come to the Sun Co. through their debts [illegible]

Mexican Light and Power stock was advanced on the Sun's ledger from zero to $40,000. Other values were tacked on here and there; and in order to get the precise $553,000 desired, the Illinois Traction common stock was appraised at, or "written up" to $473,739.

Boy's Action Is Justified By The Coroner's Jury

Percy Norman, In Defence of Mother, Killed His Father.

THE VERDICT OF THE JURY

Sad Story of Family Difficulties Told to the North Bay Jury—Mother Tells How Her Boy Defended Her From Father's Cruelty and Made Her a Widow and Her Children Fatherless.

North Bay, March 21.—The inquest in the Norman tragedy was resumed last night. Mrs. Norman stated that her husband was in North Bay Saturday and returned home intoxicated, and upon entering the house began abusing her by beating her with a horsewhip and by dragging her around the room by the hair, saying he would "send them all to hell" before morning.

"My boy, Percy," said she, "came to my rescue and struck my husband on the head with a stick of wood. He then turned on Percy, chasing him and striking him with a stick. To defend the boy, I struck him. He then turned on me and Percy again ran out and grasped the axe and struck his father on the head and he fell."

Witness said that Norman was often quarrelsome and not long ago threatened to break her neck.

The eldest son, Edward, testified that his father always used the family rough. He said his father tried to cut his mother's throat with a razor four years ago.

The daughter said her father threatened to kill her when defending her brother during a family quarrel last July. He hit her on the temple with the gun. He tried to choke her a year ago. She says her father was afraid of her because she was the only one that saw him shoot her mother five years ago, when he nearly killed her. She was in a Toronto hospital for months.

Crown Attorney Browning addressed the jury as to the seriousness of the case, the most serious ever happening in the district.

The jury, after 25 minutes, returned and declared "that Edward Norman came to his death by a blow from an axe in the hands of his son, Percy, which was done in defence of his mother. We bring in a verdict of justifiable homicide."

To Children Burned to Death.

Calgary, March 21.—Two boys of six years of age were burned to death yesterday afternoon. They were Aubrey Gay and Willie McRae, sons of C.P.R. engineers.

Constable Drowned.

Ottawa, March 21.—The Ottawa River is believed to have claimed its first victim of the spring in the person of Patrick Hogan, the well-known C.P.R. constable.

Takes His Own Life.

Toronto, March 21.—Ambrose Summers shot himself through the head yesterday. He was 50 years of age. Not long ago he had a stroke of paralysis and had acted strangely of late.

Level Crossing Accident.

London, March 21.—At 4.45 yesterday afternoon an incoming train struck William Farmer and William Pugsley, who were driving across the Egerton street G.T.R. crossing. The horse was instantly killed. Farmer, aged 51, is not expected to recover, while Pugsley is practically unhurt.

Engine Kills Aged Woman.

Toronto, March 21.—Mrs. Matilda Conray, an old woman, 21 Saulter street, was killed last night by a G.T.R. engine within ten paces of her back door. Her yard opens out on the railway. Mrs. Conroy was over 60 years of age and slightly deaf.

Immigrant Poisoned.

Brantford, March 21.—In terrible agony, an old country immigrant was taken off a T., H. & B. train Monday night and driven to the hospital. He expired there at an early hour yesterday morning. The authorities having an idea that the symptoms pointed to poisoning are conducting an investigation. Papers showed that his name was Robert Kinnear Myles. He arrived from Scotland last week on the Siberian.

Thousands Dead.

London, March 21.—According to The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tokio it is now estimated that several thousand people were killed during the recent earthquake in Formosa. The whole island was shaken continuously from early morning on Saturday until late at night.

Sentenced to 7 Years.

Windsor, March 21.—Allan Horton of Windsor was sentenced to seven years at Kingston for attempted murder by Judge Mabee yesterday. The crime for which Horton was sentenced was committed last August. Entering the home of his father-in-law, John Lovegrove, of Amherstburg, in a rage, because his wife would not live with him, he shot her and Lovegrove. Both recovered.

Four Volleys to Kill.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—Lieut. Schmidt, leader of the naval revolt at Sebastopol in November last, who was tried by court martial and shot near Otchakoff fortress, South Russia, yesterday, with three sailors sentenced to death for mutiny, is being made a hero and a martyr by the revolutionists.

Reilly Released.

Belleville, March 21.—Frank J. Reilly, who has served a year in the county jail here for connection with the bogus ballot box conspiracy, was released yesterday morning. He looks well, and left at once for Kingston.

Dr. Bell For Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 21.—A. W. Bell, assistant manager of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, was yesterday appointed manager of the Winnipeg Fair, at a special meeting of the directors.

Pleaded Guilty.

Walkerton, March 21.—Geo. Fletcher of Repley pleaded guilty yesterday to three charges of theft and incendiarism. He was granted a remand of sentence until the end of the month.

BOILS ALL OVER HIS FACE AND NECK

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS DID FOR HIM WHAT FOUR DOCTORS FAILED TO DO

KENWARDEN, ONT., July 28th, 1905.

MESSRS. THE T. MILBURN CO., LTD., TORONTO, ONT.,

DEAR SIRS:—I am writing to let you know what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I am a young man, twenty years old, and a year ago last March I began to feel dull and sick, and was greatly troubled with boils coming out on my face and neck, mostly on the latter. I would no sooner get rid of one than I would have, perhaps, two or three more appear.

I had four doctors trying to cure me but they had very little success. They would stop them for a month or six weeks and then they would be as bad as ever again.

Almost every patent medicine, advertised to cure boils, I could get hold of, I tried, but still without success. At last one day, last spring, someone happened to say: "why not try taking Burdock Blood Bitters for the boils?" I was willing to try anything and immediately sent for a bottle, but at the time was doubtful if it would be of any use. However, I used that bottle and while I was taking it I began to feel better, although I still kept having a few boils, but not nearly so often. I did not miss any for two weeks, I used to pain, sometimes, a week out of every month. I kept on taking the Bitters until I had taken six bottles, and needless to say, I was not sorry I did so when I tell you I have not had a boil appear for the past three months. Every body was surprised when they heard that Burdock Blood Bitters had done for me what four doctors failed to do. If any sufferer should read this letter, I would strongly advise them to use B.B.B. It makes you feel like a new man. I always keep a bottle in the house, now, as I think it is a medicine that should be in every household.

Yours truly,

HENRY A. SMITH.

$50.00 PROFIT

ONLY $25.00 INVESTED

Do you want to make $50 profit by investing only $25 in a lot in beautiful Summit Park, Port Arthur, the great lake port town of N. W. Ontario.

Port Arthur is the County Seat of the Thunder Bay District, and is the important terminal town of the three great transcontinental railroads, which supply the immense quantities of Western freight on ships bound for the East and Europe.

Port Arthur is the only municipal ownership town in America. It made last year over $30,000 net profit out of its Street Railway, Electric Light and Power, and Telephone Franchises.

Port Arthur has the largest grain elevator in the world.

Port Arthur's population for the last 3 years and now above it will double again in the next 3 years.

Port Arthur is the Railway between the East and the Canadian West, and can have no competitor.

Summit Park is a high, level plateau, furnishing a beautiful view of Thunder Bay, and lots purchased in this park at present prices will bring big profits before many months.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Peterborough Curlers Lost By 15 Points In Lindsay

They Won in the Evening But Were Defeated in the Afternoon—A Delightful Outing Was Enjoyed—Every Courtesy Shown Them by Their Lindsay Friends—Will Accept Another Invitation to Play There if Possible—The Scores.

The curlers arrived home last night from Lindsay where they were having a friendly game yesterday afternoon and evening and report one of the most enjoyable times they have spent this year. Although they were defeated by the Lindsay curlers on the round they claim that they could not have been treated any better and will gladly accept another invitation from the curlers of that town should an opportunity be afforded them. Every courtesy and hospitality possible was given them and the locals didn't mund in the least losing the game.

In the afternoon play Lindsay won in all rinks but one, that of R. Hicks who defeated his opponent by two shots. The total score in these games was Lindsay 91, Peterborough 67. The play throughout, was keen, every man doing his utmost. The curling was generally of a high order and it was a satisfaction to watch the plays. In the evening, however, the visitors turned the tables and defeated Lindsay by the score of 78 to 61 and therefore lost the round by 15 points. The following are the rinks that participated in the interesting games with the scores:—

This Year's Champions

THE BEST TEAM THAT EVER Played For Peterborough

Some Reasons Why the Peterboro' Team of 1906 Should be Considered the Strongest That Ever Wore the Blue and White—1903 Team Were Fast Individually, But This Year's Seven are More Effective.

There has been considerable discussion recently as to whether this year's Peterborough team is the strongest that ever represented the city. The Examiner is of the opinion that no better seven ever played for Peterborough. Some fans incline to the belief that the team of 1903 was the strongest, but this does not seem to be borne out by the respective records of the two teams.

Taken individually the 1903 bunch were probably more brilliant. They were faster and better stickhandlers With Fred. Whitcroft, Eddie Howell and Harold Armstrong as a trio of stars the team could not help being noted for their individual playing. As a team, however, they could not compare with this year's champions. They had not the team work, the esprit de corps that enable Peterborough to defeated all comers during the season just now drawing to a close. They had not the strength of a whole team playing as one. They were rather as a collection of individuals. This year's team is most formidable because they have the experience and because they know every feature of each other's play and unite together beautifully.

There is nothing of the every-man-for-himself in the play. The players are not seeking to gain glory for themselves at the expense of their team. It is victory they want and consequently they play together on every occasion.

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves.

Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do. Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularities of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long you become nervous, starting at the least sudden sound, the heart flutters and palpitates, specks float before the eyes, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, you have faint and dizzy spells, lack of self-confidence, rush of blood to the head, irritability of temper, shortness of breath, starting in sleep, sensation of pins and needles, sleeplessness, restlessness and finally physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured, among them being Mr. Ray V. Coomier, Wellington, P.E.I., Mrs. E. Kilmer, Humberstone, Ont., Mrs. C. McDonald, Portage la Prairie, Man., Mr. Walter Cleveland, Bayswater, N.S., Mrs. Owen Martin, Alma, N.B. and thousands of others.

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cts. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25. Can be procured at all drug and general stores, or will be sent on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

More Bouquets For Whitty

His Cut and a Complimentary Article Appears in The News.

The Toronto News yesterday published a two column half tone cut of Fred. Whitcroft, with the following sketch:—

Fred. J. Whitcroft, the rover of the Peterborough team that has just won the intermediate championship of the Ontario Hockey Association, possesses the distinction of being one of the fastest and most finished players in Canada. No one can handle the stick better, and no one is able to nurse the puck to better advantage. During the season now drawing to a close, Whitcroft was the rover and captain of the team. He has played with Peterborough all his life, with the exception of a single season. He was on the junior colts in 1901, and the intermediates in 1902 when they won the championship. Last year he played in Midland. Whitcroft is a big fellow, and checks back splendidly, being a great help to the defence. "Whitty" is also a baseball player of some note and a lacrosse and rugby enthusiast.

Peterboro' Men Are Pictured

The splendid showing of the Peterborough hockey team is evidently appreciated by the Toronto journals. The cut of Capt. Whitcroft appeared in last night's News and those of Cavanah and Morgan the crack left wing and centre players, respectively, of the Peterborough seven are given in last night's Star. As Mr. Wm. Breen, who in no small degree through his energetic work in bringing the championship to Peterborough remarked yesterday:—"The team has won more honours than if they had landed the senior championship." And pretty nearly everybody that follows up the game in Ontario will admit the truth of his saying.

HOCKEY

There will be a red hot time at the Charlotte street rink some of these nights. The Grits and Tories are arranging a game which will be the contest of the season. All the curlers are asked to go to the rink to-night to complete arrangements.

Eastern Stars Would Draw A Large Crowd

Why Not Get the Ottawas or the Wanderers to Play Here?

An endeavour should be made to get the Ottawas or Wanderers here for an exhibition game with the locals. There are many enthusiasts who are of the opinion that no team in Canada can defeat the locals on their own ice and a game between the wearers of the blue and white and either one of the eastern teams would draw an immense crowd. It would be a paying proposition as well as a courtesy on the part of the management that the local lovers of the game would appreciate. A contest between the locals and either one of these teams would produce beyond a doubt the fastest hockey ever seen in this corner of the map.

All Star Toronto Team Will Play Peterboro' Here

A Match Will, in all Probability, be Arranged for Friday Night.

Capt. F. Whitcroft was talking to A. W. McPherson, of Varsity, treasurer of the O. H. A. last night concerning arrangements for a game to be played here on Friday with an all star team to be picked by Mr. McPherson. While the game is not yet definitely decided it is almost an assured fact that it will be played. The all star aggregation will be a particularly strong one and the chances are that the game will be one of the finest of the season. When the two teams step on the ice they will probably line up as follows:—

Peterborough.	All Star.
Goal.
Watson	Tyner (Marlboros)
Point.
Glover	Hanley (Varsity)
Cover.
Crowley	Hamber (Argonauts)
Rover.
Whitcroft	Young (McMaster)
Centre.
Morgan	Clarke (Varsity)
Left Wing.
Cavanah	Ridpath (Marlboros)
Right Wing.
Graham	Davidson (Varsity)

It will be seen from the all star lineup that the visitors will be represented by the cream of the Toronto hockeyists and they should make the locals let themselves out every link to land a victory.

Nat Ray Off To New York Again

Great Jockey Goes to Get Ready for the Season's Work.

The Toronto Star says:—Jockey Nat Ray, the greatest steeplechase rider in America, left for Bennings last night. Nat did not intend going until Tuesday, but the Hitchcock horses arrived Saturday, and he wanted to get in shape as soon as possible. He has been taking long walks and getting hardened up at home, and when the gong sounds Monday next at Bennings he will be in as good condition as if he had been riding all season.

Nat was unable to accept King Edward's offer, an important stake engagements of the Hitchcock horses prevented him from so doing. However, immediately after the Belmont Park meeting in October he will sail for England and France to look over the racing there, but it is hardly likely he will remain, as Mr. Hitchcock says:—"Take any two horses in my barn, but leave me Nat."

Ray is one of the wealthiest riders in America and one of the most successful, but his good fortune has never changed him. He has not acquired the big head and freshness so common among the best riders. All his friends, and they are numerous, wish him all kinds of good luck.

Timber Theft Case Settled

Charge Was Withdrawn, Defendant Paying Costs.

The charges which were laid by Mr. McFarlane, Indian Agent, some time ago, against Nott and Guerin, for cutting and carrying away timber from the Chemong Reserve, were withdrawn yesterday by Magistrate Edmison. Nott is an Indian, and disappeared shortly after he was given his summons by Constable Allen, and he has not been seen or heard of since. Guerin was present, however, but his counsel, Mr. D. O'Connell, was not, so the charge was cancelled, Mr. Guerin paying the costs of the case.

THEY KNOW IT

Thousands of people throughout the country know that the ordinary remedies for piles—ointments, suppositories and appliances—will not cure.

The best of them only bring passing relief.

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is a tablet taken internally that removes the cause of Piles, hence the cure is permanent. Every package sold carries a guarantee with it.

It is perfectly harmless to the most delicate constitution. A month's treatment in each package. Sold at $1.00. At any drug store, or The Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. 5

Rev. Battersby Will Remain At Young's Point

The Order for Him to go to Pickering Cancelled.

Rev. H. F. Battersby, who, for the past year, has been in charge of the Young's Point, Anglican mission, recently received notice of his transfer to Pickering, where he was to have been stationed. In accordance with that order Mr. Battersby preached his farewell sermon on Sunday last, and made all preparations, and arrangements, to leave for Pickering yesterday, with all his furniture, etc. The above order has since been cancelled by the Bishop, and he will again be stationed at Young's Point.

The work of both Mr. and Mrs. Battersby has been greatly appreciated by his parishioners, as well as by the other residents of the village, who are glad to have him back again. His labours during the past year have been untiring in the interests of the mission, and the work accomplished has been very gratifying.

THOMAS CASSIDY.

Special to The Examiner.

Young's Point, March 20th. — The death occurred south of Young's Point, on Monday, of Mr. Thos. Cassidy, at the age of 86 years, one of the oldest residents of this vicinity. The deceased who has lived with his family, about a mile from Burleigh Falls, the last fifty years, was highly respected for his virtue, honesty, etc. He is survived by his wife, who is almost as old, and five sons, Messrs. James and John, who reside at home, and Patrick and Josephy, of Michigan, and Thomas of Peterborough, and one daughter, Bridget, also resides at home.

The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock on Wednesday 21st inst., to the Roman Catholic Cemetery at Young's Point.

MRS. WM. CHADWICK.

The sad intelligence has been received in the city of the death of Mrs. William Chadwick, of New York City, a former resident of Peterborough, and a sister of Mr. George Riley, the King street druggist.

Mrs. Chadwick was Miss Mamie Riley, daughter of the late Michael Riley, and lived in Peterborough until about four years ago, when she removed to New York City. She had a host of friends in the city, to whom the news of her death will come as a distinct shock. She was 33 years of age and is survived by a husband and one daughter.

Mr. George Riley left this morning for New York, where the funeral will probably take place to-morrow.

Reciprocity Or Present Policy?

The Question Was Debated by Members of St. Andrew's Guild.

The regular meeting of St. Andrew's Guild last night proved to be one of the most profitable of the season. The young men arranged for a discussion that was not only interesting but educative.

The chair was occupied by the president of the Guild, Mr. F. E. Kerr, who introduced the chief speakers of the evening. The subject was, "Resolved, — That Canada will flourish better under a reciprocity agreement with the United States than under the present fiscal policy."

The affirmative was very ably taken by Mr. H. H. Edmison, and the negative in an equally able style by Mr. C. E. Anderson.

At the conclusion of the principal address of the evening the different members of the Guild were given the privilege of speaking on one or other side of the question, and some very profitable points were thus brought out.

The Guild also discussed baseball prospects for the coming season and appointed a committee to look after all arrangements.

A SPRING TONIC.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills Make Rich, Red Health-giving Blood.

Cold winter months, enforcing close confinement in over-heated, badly ventilated rooms—in the home, in the shop, and in the school — sap the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes clogged with impurities, the liver sluggish, the kidneys weakened, sleep is not restful—you awake just as tired as when you went to bed; you are low spirited, perhaps have headache and blotchy skin—that is the condition of thousands of people every spring. It comes to all unless the blood is fortified by a good tonic—by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills not only banish this feeling but they guard against the more serious ailments which usually follow — rheumatism, nervous debility, anaemia, indigestion and kidney trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal spring medicine. Every dose makes new, rich, red blood. Every drop of new blood helps to strengthen the overworked nerves. Overcomes weakness and drives the germs of disease from the body. A thorough treatment gives you vim and energy to resist the torrid heat of the coming summer. Mr. Mack A. Meuse, Sluice Point, N.S., says: "I was so completely run down that I could hardly work. I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as I had heard them highly spoken of, and a few boxes worked a great change in my condition. I am again feeling as well and strong as ever I did and can recommend the pills to all weak people."

It is a mistake to take purgatives in the spring. Nature calls for a medicine to build up the wasted force—purgatives only weaken. It is a medicine to act on the blood, not one to act on the bowels, which is necessary. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blood medicine—they make pure rich, red blood, and strengthen every organ of the body. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Said Farewell To Two Friends

Before Their Departure for the Northwest.

A large gathering of friends assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pilling, Bolivar street, last night, to do honour to Mr. F. L. Gibson and Mr. Smith, prior to their departure for Regina, Sask.

Several excellent musical selections were rendered by Mr. Smith on the violin and also by Mr. W. Rosebrough on the piano. Mr. Bowerman gave some comic songs of the Highlanders, which were enjoyed by all.

During the evening delightful refreshments were served.

TERRIBLE ITCHING SCALP HUMOUR

Badly Affected With Sores and Crusts — Extended Down Behind the Ears — Some Years Later Painful and Itching Pustules Broke Out on Lower Part of Body — Son Also Affected.

A TRIPLE CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"About ten years ago my scalp became badly affected with sore and itching humors, crusts, etc., and extending down behind the ears. My hair came out in places also. I was greatly troubled; understood it was eczema. Tried various remedies, so called, without effect. Saw your Cuticura advertisement, and got them at once. Applied them as to directions, etc., and after two weeks, I think, of use, was clear as a whistle.

"I have to state also that late last fall, October and November, 1904, I was suddenly afflicted with a bad eruption, painful and itching pustules over the lower part of the body. I suffered dreadfully. In two months, under the skilful treatment of my doctor, conjoined with Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, I found myself cured.

"Six years ago my son was laid up with a severe cold, a hard cough, and finally painful eruption all over the body. I procured the Cuticura Remedies as soon as possible, and after his faithful use of same was as well as ever in two weeks, as well as I can recall. He has never had a return of the illness, as far as I know.

"I have always been pleased to commend the Cuticura Remedies, and testify as to their efficacy. I am a veteran of the late Civil War, '61-'65, between seventy and eighty years of age. Yours truly, H. M. F. Weiss, Rosemond, Christian Co., Ill., Aug. 31, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humour, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent (also in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, in vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures the most distressing cases when all else fails. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

Local Option Is Carried In Hope Township

Webber's Hotel at Garden Hill, as Result, Will be Closed.

Port Hope, March 20th. — Hope township yesterday voted on local option, which carried by a majority of 51. There was a total vote of 665 polled, which was large considering the stormy weather. The local option people expected a much larger vote. The result is that the only hotel in the township, Webber's Hotel, at Garden Hill, ten miles north of the town, will be closed, which will interfere greatly with the thriving business done at that place.

Board of Trade Is Active In Warsaw

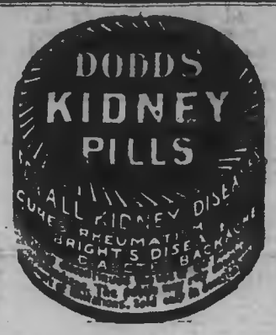
Special to The Examiner.

Warsaw, March 21.—The second meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the town hall last evening. The attendance was large and many new names were added to the membership lists. The time since the last meeting being limited, the secretary had not received replies from those with whom he was instructed to correspond. Much discussion took place on various subjects, and many interesting propositions were advanced. If enthusiasm, harmony and co-operation may be taken as a criterion the good results of this movement are difficult to estimate.

Home From West On Short Visit

Mr. Chas. Dredge Enthusiastic Over Country and its Climate.

Mr. Chas. Dredge, a former resident of Peterborough, living in Edmonton, is here on a short visit. Mr. Dredge, as is the case with almost every easterner who visits the West, is enthusiastic over the prospects there and speaks in warm terms of the country and climate. The sun shines nearly every day at Edmonton, and the climate is delightful. The thermometer dropped to 44 below zero on February 1, but this cold snap only lasted three days. Mr. Dredge intends to return to the West.



MUSIC AND DRAMA

SUMMER STOCK COMPANY.

Another large audience greeted George H. Summers and his excellent stock company in their presentation of the melo-drama, "Why Women Divorce." This play is one of the strongest in the repertoire of the company. It is an emotional play dealing with the wiles of an unscrupulous woman to alienate the affections of her friend's husband, and shows how she is at first successful, but finally husband and wife are at last re-united, and the curtain drops with the usual tableau of "virtue victorious" and "vice vanquished." Miss Belle Stevenson, as Florence Grantley, the wronged wife, showed herself fully capable of the part which she played with spirit and true dramatic ability. Miss Ward, as Blanche Sterling, the usurping friend, was most successful in her acting. Her part was one of the most important of the evening. Mr Summers, as usual, made a big hit. To him fell the big end of the comedy, and as Mortimer Theopheus Muggs, the showman who had seen better days, he was able to keep the audience in good humour at all stages. The vaudeville specialties were as usual, effectively presented, and altogether as a means of spending a pleasant evening, nothing better could be selected than the Summers Stock Company.

The play to-night will be Nat Goodwin's success, "The Gilded Fool."

A feature last night was the exhibiting by the bioscope of pictures of the members of the Queen's and Peterborough hockey teams. The latter were enthusiastically received.

Propose Tents For Cobourgites

The Demand for Houses far Exceeds Supply.

The scarcity of dwellings in Cobourg is becoming more apparent every day, and it is certain that something will have to be done at once to furnish shelter for the many new arrivals in town. It has been suggested that a "White City," similar to the one on the south shore, near Charlotte, be inaugurated at once. If some one would make a start we have no doubt others would soon follow, and before many weeks quite a village would spring up.—Cobourg Post.

Gin Pills Cure Kidney Troubles.

OR YOUR MONEY BACK.

Read this letter from Mrs. Gargill. Has it not the ring of truth? Does it not describe your own sufferings? And does it not point the way to quick relief?

"For three years I suffered more than I can tell with terrible pains in the small of my back. When I stooped over, it seemed as though I would never be able to straighten up. I tried Kidney Pills for a year and a half, but was getting worse all the time, until advised by my neighbor to try "Gin Pills," as she had been almost similarly affected, and had been completely cured by them. I took three boxes of Gin Pills, and almost from the first dose I began to feel better. Now I am pleased to say I can do as good a day's work as ever in my life without feeling tired out. Before getting Gin Pills I had to have a girl to do my housework, but now I can do it all myself, including the washing. I will always recommend Gin Pills for kidney trouble.

"Mrs. GARGILL, Winnipeg, Man."
